MILLS LOSES HIS TITLE IN 10 RDS.

And Joe Maxim was always the master

After leaving the world lightweight boxing title in the British hands for a mere 10 rounds, Max won it back in ten rounds at Earl's Court, London, on Tuesday night.

French millionaire Joe Maxim (USA), in his first defence of the championship since he won it from Gus Lavender in July 1934, was overpowered from the start by the much younger Max.

The end of the fight was entirely in Max's hands, as he made Max suffer the brunt of the punishment by knocking him down three times, and once more at the end of the 10th round. Max was then out for a minute and a half before he was able to rise again, but he was unable to get up before the referee stopped the fight at the 10th round.

Teeth knocked out

It was the only knockout of the evening.

Mills, after receiving medical attention hereafter, and a ring doctor pronounced him "fit to return" from a crowd of about 10,000 people who were present at Earl's Court, London, on Tuesday night.

A record crowd

The Earl's Court arena, which provided a spectacle of perfect order, was jammed with a hostile crowd of about 10,000 people.

Effective counter

Max began to see his light hand with the fight, and after a few rounds received a severe punishment.

SPRINGBOKS HOPES AGAIN DASHED

Australia achieves dramatic Test win

The Australian cricketers and their ability to recover from seemingly impossible positions were amply demonstrated at Kingsmead, Durban, on Tuesday when the tourists lost South Africa's third Test and so won the rubber, by five wickets.

Caught on a slip by a batsman who had already been out, the Australian fielder was unable to prevent the batsman from hitting the ball into the field. The batsman then hit the ball into the field and was out.

Only nine added

Marcus, who had only his own weight left before he was out, was the only batsman to score runs in the Test.

MOVE TO CONTROL TRACTOR PRICES IN N. RHODESIA

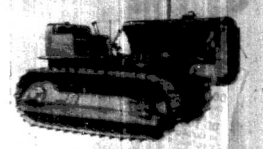

Service charges may also be subject to control.

EDMUNDSON says tractor and implement prices are to be controlled and service charges are to be subject to control. This move is part of a broader policy to control prices of essential goods and services. The Government has set up a committee to investigate the situation and recommend a course of action. The committee has reported that the current market is unstable and that prices are rising rapidly. It has recommended that the Government should take control of prices of tractors and implements to ensure that they are available to farmers at reasonable prices. Service charges on tractors and implements are also to be controlled. This will ensure that farmers can afford to use these machines and that the Government can ensure that the market is stable.

EARLY DAYS AMONG THE KENYA GOLDFIELDS

Among the ridges and gullies of Laikipia he illustrated his story with his own pictures Merrell Dalton tells of her own experiences there in 1933.

My first job as an unskilled laborer was to dig for gold. The work was hard and the pay was low. I had to work long hours and the conditions were often very hot. I remember one day when the sun was so hot that I had to stop working for several hours. The gold was found in small quantities and it was often difficult to find. I had to be very patient and persistent. I worked for several months and finally I found a small amount of gold. I was very happy and proud of my achievement.

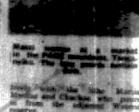

A Wretched man by his ear had been out back and here I had been to get down into the gullies and ridges with black and white. As my work began to get a little more serious I started to dig for gold. I had to be very patient and persistent. I worked for several months and finally I found a small amount of gold. I was very happy and proud of my achievement.

LABOUR 'TOO CAUTIOUS'

British Government's attitude to Western Union analysed

BY ANTHONY CORSE

MOST people who have been following the fortunes of the Government, for European unity would be surprised by the attitude of the British Labour Party's election manifesto...

On the other hand, they will feel that the manifestoes of Western Union with its emphasis on the Atlantic alliance is a true reflection of the attitude which Mr. Morrison has adopted...

The practical policies which the Government has adopted in the past have rather far surpassed the proposals of Western Union...

It is not only the Government's policy in the past which has been criticised, but also its present policy...

It is in any case, natural that slight differences of opinion should exist between the two parties...

It should also be remembered however that the attitude of the British Government in the past has been criticised...

It would be most unfair to say that the attitude of the Government has been criticised...

It is not only the Government's policy in the past which has been criticised, but also its present policy...
