COMMISSION FINDS NO EVIDENCE OF DEALINGS WITH COMMUNISM

From a Correspondent
KAMPALA, Uganda, Africa, Nov. 15.—The Commission set up to investigate the disturbances in Uganda which began in April last year, has published its report. It is a 100-page document, which is being distributed generally with the Uganda Government's consent. The report says that it does not wish to add any remarks except those which are necessary for the purpose of the Commission's work. It says that Sir Donald Kingdon (who was the first Commissioner of Uganda) was the person who was most responsible for the disturbances. It also says that Sir John B. G. (who was the second Commissioner) was also responsible for the disturbances. The Commission also says that it has found no evidence of dealings with communism in Uganda.

PAKISTAN REORIENTATES HER FOREIGN TRADE: BRITISH PRICES

PAKISTAN'S decision to lift her trade with South Africa is part of a policy of reorienting her foreign trade in line with the Government's policy in Karachi.

This policy, which is aimed at increasing her trade with India, has been announced in a statement issued by the Ministry of Commerce.

The statement says that Pakistan's trade with South Africa has been declining steadily since 1947. It is estimated that the value of Pakistan's trade with South Africa in 1950 was only 10 per cent of the value of her trade with India.

The Government has decided to increase her trade with India by 50 per cent in 1951. This will be done by increasing the number of shipping companies operating between the two countries and by increasing the tonnage of the ships.

The Government has also decided to increase her trade with other countries in the East, such as Ceylon, Malaya, and the Philippines. This will be done by increasing the number of shipping companies operating between Pakistan and these countries and by increasing the tonnage of the ships.

The coal problem
 The Government has decided to increase the production of coal in Pakistan. This will be done by increasing the number of coal mines and by increasing the tonnage of the coal.

The Government has also decided to increase the production of other minerals, such as iron, copper, and lead. This will be done by increasing the number of mines and by increasing the tonnage of the minerals.

Increased demand
 The demand for British goods in Pakistan has increased in 1950. This is due to the fact that the price of British goods has fallen, and the quality of the goods is high.

The demand for British goods is expected to continue to increase in the future. This is due to the fact that the price of British goods is expected to continue to fall, and the quality of the goods is expected to continue to be high.

'Gloomy' Commission on cotton exports

The annual report of the Commission on Cotton Exports is a gloomy picture of the cotton industry in East Africa. The report says that the value of cotton exports has fallen from 100 million pounds in 1949 to 80 million pounds in 1950. This is due to the fact that the price of cotton has fallen, and the quantity of cotton has also fallen.

The Commission has recommended that the Government should take steps to increase the production of cotton and to increase the price of cotton. This will be done by increasing the number of cotton farms and by increasing the tonnage of the cotton.

The Commission has also recommended that the Government should take steps to increase the demand for cotton. This will be done by increasing the number of people who use cotton and by increasing the quality of the cotton.

The Commission has also recommended that the Government should take steps to increase the efficiency of the cotton industry. This will be done by increasing the number of people who work in the cotton industry and by increasing the quality of the work.

World production of natural rubber is estimated to have increased by 1,422,000 tons in 1945 over 1944.

The increase is due to a combination of factors, including a rise in the number of rubber trees in the world and a higher yield per tree.

INSURANCE MUTUALISATION

Labour's original nationalisation plan would have been a more logical remedy

By RICHARD DENHAM

Perhaps the main question which has to be asked is whether the Labour Party's original programme of nationalisation of insurance is a logical remedy for the present position.

The Labour Party's original programme of nationalisation of insurance was based on the principle that the insurance industry should be run in the public interest.

THE PAYEE in an income tax return is liable for the tax on the total income of the individual or company to which the tax is assessed.

This means that the payee is responsible for the tax on the total income, regardless of whether the income is earned by the payee or a third party.

THE EMPHASIS IS TO BE ON ASIA

In American global strategy DEFENCE CHIEFS THINK MAIN DANGER LIES IN THE EAST

United States Joint Chiefs of Staff have decided as a result of their recent Pacific tour that the main emphasis of the United States global strategy should be shifted from Europe to the Far East.

The Chiefs' report back to the President from their ten-day tour of inspection in the Pacific area, which was completed on January 10, states that the main danger to the United States lies in the East. It is more likely to take place in Asia than in Europe.

China is regarded as the most dangerous area, with the United States and the Soviet Union already engaged in a bitter struggle. The Chiefs do not link the conclusions of the Chiefs of Staff to the American-Soviet relations of the past. But it is stated that the Indo-China region constituted one of those areas of the world which are most likely to be the scene of possible intervention by Communist forces which has to be eliminated.

ELECTION CAMPAIGN TURNS FROM BREAD TO BOMBS

Churchill creates dilemma for Socialists

THE British election campaign has switched suddenly from bread to bombs. Churchill's call at Edinburgh for Big Game tanks to smother the Red, the question dominating all political quarters, has been interpreted by the Socialists as a clear invitation to the use of force.

Churchill has clearly presented the Labour Party with a dilemma. He has clearly presented the Labour Party with a dilemma. He has clearly presented the Labour Party with a dilemma.

KIPSIGIS MAKING GREAT PROGRESS

That a great step forward in matters of agriculture has taken place among the Kipsigis is evidenced by the 1954 Annual Report of the Soil Conservation Officer, Haricho District. The points outlined during the first half of the year, one of the most important achievements was the carrying out of a large number of the trials in the first half that there had not been enough land for the purpose of the trials. The progress made in the first half of the year was such that the Government is prepared to provide increased technical training for the Kipsigis in the next year.

An intensive agricultural programme was organized throughout the year for the 150 Kipsigis who were trained in the Haricho District. The programme was organized in the form of a series of courses in the Haricho District. The programme was organized in the form of a series of courses in the Haricho District. WITH THE OXFORD EXPEDITION TO MOUNT KENYA

● Last year a scientific expedition of four men explored the forests of Mount Kenya. Here E A SCHELPE, one of the party, tells of their findings.

MOUNT KENYA is one of the most prominent features of the East African landscape. The mountain rises like a wall from the surrounding lowlands. It is a volcanic cone of which the summit is a crater of volcanic origin. It is the highest mountain in East Africa, and the highest in the East African range. It is a volcanic cone of which the summit is a crater of volcanic origin.

The expedition consisted of four men, two of whom were geographers. They were accompanied by a large number of porters and coolies. They spent several weeks in the mountains, and their findings are of great interest. They discovered a number of new species of plants and animals, and they also discovered a number of interesting geographical features.

They spent several weeks in the mountains, and their findings are of great interest. They discovered a number of new species of plants and animals, and they also discovered a number of interesting geographical features.

Vegetation map

A number of botanists had visited the forest of Mount Kenya, but their reports were conflicting. It was necessary to make a map of the vegetation of the mountain. This was done by the Oxford Expedition. They collected a large amount of material, and they made a detailed study of it. Their findings are of great interest. They discovered a number of new species of plants, and they also discovered a number of interesting geographical features.

The expedition was led by E. A. Schelpe, a geographer. He was accompanied by a large number of porters and coolies. They spent several weeks in the mountains, and their findings are of great interest. They discovered a number of new species of plants, and they also discovered a number of interesting geographical features.

THE WEEK'S WEATHER

LITTLE change is expected in the general pressure distribution during the coming week, reports the East African Meteorological Department.

Temperatures are likely to remain about the same as during the past few days, but there is a possibility of a slight increase in the latter part of the week.

Very slight rain showers are expected in the latter part of the week, but these are likely to be of a very light nature.

PRODUCERS WANT HIGHER PRICE FOR THEIR MEAT

"Strong action" to be considered today.

Stocking of meat is expected to be a problem for the coming week, and the producers are likely to demand higher prices for their meat.

The Meat Commission is expected to consider the matter today, and it is likely that strong action will be taken if the prices do not rise.

TRIBUTE TO AN ENEMY

Of all our enemies in the late war Rommel was the one who appeared in the public imagination, both as a dashing commander in the field and, by all accounts, a honorable and generous enemy.

by FIELD-MARSHAL EARL WAVELL

THE German general who led his army as commander of the Afrika Korps in the desert, is the only German general who has been mentioned in my book 'Desert Victory'.

Murder by the S.S.

While it is the story of Hitler's murder by the S.S. that is the most dramatic chapter in the history of the German people, it is also the most tragic. It is the story of a man who has been described as the most brilliant and the most cruel of leaders.

DRILLING GAMES

When Hitler's order to execute all German troops captured in the West was received, it was the only German order that was not carried out.

Leave in England

As the story of Rommel's personal relationship with Hitler is interesting, it is also a story of a man who has been described as the most brilliant and the most cruel of leaders.

FRUSTRAL HOPE

A German of Rommel's caliber who was so much a product of his time, it is not surprising that he should have been so frustrated.

one of the main tasks of the wardens Kenya's National Parks is to provide a 'spirit of mystery and adventure'.

ENCHANTMENT is the fascination of a few? In almost every house the hearth is the centre of family life, and how often can we remember ourselves fondly starting at a blazing fire when the wind blows in a kind of challenge to us? And in this struggle for action and adventure and a peasant's reverent admiration of the peat and glimmers into the

"...and just beyond that area of bright green the 'beaten'."

When Kenya became an occupied territory the Government officials organized to mend the old ways of life and to break the link between the old and the new.

It is the spirit of mystery and adventure that we must all covet to preserve in our hearts the spirit of adventure that is Kenya's life.

The good things of life are yours by what you are feeling. It is yours by what you are doing.

to burn his house, and in searching for one minute, another, the door of an unopened but where in his lifetime he had never been before.

John Ruskin—a prolific genius who lived in a world of fantasy

JOHN RUSKIN was one of the most solemn and original men of the Victorian age, an age which above all others perhaps valued seriousness and solemnity.

There was a time while he was still young when he was regarded with almost constant reverence by those who knew him, and when it was fashionable to bottle the Victorian age, it was John Ruskin's name that was used.

Mr. Ruskin's multiple interests were not confined to art and literature, but he was a man of letters and an expert on the history of art.

Further, in the light of advances made in psychological studies from Ruskin's death, the story of his life in art is a matter of interest.

On the one hand he was split into two parts, but he was not divided, but he was not divided, but he was not divided, but he was not divided.

RECORDS AT CRUFT'S

12,319 dogs in biggest and best ever show

HELD at Olympia this month, Cruft's famous Dog Show brought in a world record number of entries—a total of 12,319.

Cruft's is so popular with the dog loving public in all continents and all the gateways and throughout the hall were packed with admirers throughout the day. Many overseas visitors were here.

"We have never known anything like it in the whole history of Cruft's," said Mr. A. C. Blount, assistant secretary of the Kennel Club.

"It has been the biggest and best show we have ever known of having," Blount writes and admirers agree overseas all world records.

Dogs arrived from France, Canada, Norway and Sweden had and many came from the United States. Some of the judges and most of the main winners were imported from America.

With entries representing about every breed in the world, even the Great Dane to the Scottish Collie, there was every kind of dog and variety of dog. But the show placed its order on what variety had got entries, mainly the most popular and most popular British dog. Airedale came next with 230.
