Sultan's farewell to Nairobi

BEFORE leaving Nairobi yesterday morning on his return flight to Zanzibar, His Highness the Sultan expressed the deepest regret that he had not been able to see more of Nairobi and said he would not be back.

The Sultan arrived in Nairobi for the first time on 22, and on the following day he had a luncheon at Government House with the Governor, Sir John Anderson, and other members of the staff. He was staying with the Sultan's household in the Victoria Hotel, Nairobi.

The Sultan's visit to Nairobi was the first since he had been crowned in Zanzibar in 1936, and he had been in the country for a total of 10 days.

300 DEAD; STILL 900 MISSING

Cabinet committee meets; Lord Mayor opens fund

As rescue workers searched through shattered homes and abandoned towns yesterday the death toll rose to 300, with more than 900 still missing and 24,000 homeless.

As dawn broke in the worst-hit area of all—Canvey Island at the mouth of the Thames—rescue workers in boats still rowed from bungalows to bungalows looking for victims. They found bodies in gardens, inside houses, in tangled ruins of houses.

The last of those who will consent to leave the island have been brought across the causeway by bus, lorry and ambulance to a mainland reception centre at South Benfleet. Many are stricken with disease and many are old people injured in the fight to free themselves from homes that became death traps.

But 3,000 of Canvey's original 12,000 inhabitants still refuse to leave. Some are in quarantine surrounded by water; others are holed up in houses where the flood has not reached.

The local council now proposes to discuss a new danger—of the danger of disease caused by contamination of the estuary drain. It is possible they may order compulsory evacuation.

All along the 16-mile stretch of the East Coast a great army of workers kept time to great music. In the spring tides surge up a foot from sea level.

In Holland: 633 known deaths, 250 more feared

Over 2,000 people were killed in the Netherlands in the last 24 hours, according to a report from the Dutch Government. It is feared that the total number of deaths will reach 633.

Mr. Somerville alleged that the charges which were made by Kenneth's translation of the letter to the Government were untrue.

MR THACKER TO SEE DENTIST, SO TRIAL ADJOURNED

Mr. Thacker is expected to see his dentist today, and his trial is adjourned until a later date.

PROCEEDINGS in the trial at Kapenguria of John Kenyatta, Peter Kariuki and five other defendants on Mau Mau charges, were yesterday adjourned for the sixth time since the opening at the beginning of December.

Mr. R. S. Thacker, C.I.A.I., the specially appointed Magistrate hearing the case, made the adjournment because he could not travel to Nairobi for trial.

The hearing will resume again on 11th February.

It is understood that for some time past the Government has been suffering from an absence of the services of Mr. R. S. Thacker, C.I.A.I., who has been in Nairobi lately.

A few minutes earlier, Kenneth's translation of the letter to the Government was strongly demanded by Mr. C. I. A. I., the specially appointed Magistrate's clerk.

Mr. Kenyatta's defence counsel, Mr. J. M. M. M. M., said that the letter was a translation of the letter to the Government.

IS THERE A STRIPE IN YOUR LIFE?

Is there a stripe in your life? There should be, for the fast spring collections stress that the stripe, be it Regency style or based on a butcher's apron, is back in fashion.

The latest exponent of the stripe is Australian hair designer Hubert Parloe, who features it in a hair collection there were a sane grade.

Hubert there 22 years ago, when he first introduced the stripe in his designs. He has since then been a pioneer in the use of the stripe in his designs. He has since then been a pioneer in the use of the stripe in his designs.

The stripe appears again in the collection of a Londoner, who has a stripe in his collection. He has a stripe in his collection. He has a stripe in his collection.

Robina Wright says NAIROBI ISN'T SUBURBIA

Ms. Muriel Parloe right? We have merely exchanged one piece of suburbia for another by coming to Nairobi.

Ms. Muriel Parloe, who has been in Nairobi for five years and out-of-the-city, says that Nairobi is not a suburbia. She says that Nairobi is a city, and she says that Nairobi is a city.

Even a flat

A DMITTED, there are people in Nairobi these days who would like to make it suburbia. As Muriel Parloe says, it is not a suburbia. It is a city, and it is a city.

More than names

NAIROBI has an atmosphere of its own, which has made it a city. It is not a suburbia. It is a city, and it is a city.

This article is a reply to the one written two weeks ago by Muriel Parloe who, asking 'Who says there is no atmosphere?' contended that many people come from one suburbia to another.

It is not even suburbia. It is a city, and it is a city. It is not even suburbia. It is a city, and it is a city.

No excuse

THE real test of the heart is not the hand. It is not the hand. It is not the hand.

Call of the road

TO prove that glasses can be an attractive accessory instead of something to cover the face, just thought I would mention to you my new pair of glasses.

It is not even suburbia. It is a city, and it is a city. It is not even suburbia. It is a city, and it is a city.

Britain's economy suffers from 'capital erosion'

THE economists have diagnosed a new disease in Britain's economy. Having suffered for years from supposed deficiencies and having had its manufacturing production lowered for years by the lack of raw materials, the British people are now suffering from 'capital erosion'.

It may be said that the finger on our feet for years, but in fact, the complaint is fatal. The reason is that the country is losing its capital assets at an alarming rate. It is estimated that the country has lost over £1,000,000,000 in the last five years. This is a staggering figure, and it is a clear indication that the country is in a state of financial collapse.

The cause of this capital erosion is the heavy taxation imposed on the wealthy classes. The Government has raised the rates of income tax, and has introduced a new tax on the inheritance of property. These measures have had the effect of driving the wealthy classes to other countries, where they can enjoy a more comfortable life. This has resulted in a steady loss of capital to the country, and has led to the present state of financial collapse.

The Government has tried to deal with this problem by increasing the rates of taxation, but this has only made the situation worse. The wealthy classes are now being driven to other countries, and the country is losing its capital assets at an ever-increasing rate. This is a serious situation, and it is one that the Government must deal with as a matter of urgency.

S. Rhodesia loan MORE THAN HALF HAS BEEN LEFT

IT is learned in the City that the Southern Rhodesian £1,000,000 loan has been left with the underwriters. The extent of the loan has been £500,000. The balance of the loan has been left with the underwriters, and is expected to be placed in the market in the near future.

The loan was issued to finance the development of the Rhodesia railway system. It is a long-term loan, and is expected to be repaid over a period of 25 years. The interest rate on the loan is 6 per cent. The loan is a significant addition to the Rhodesia government's resources, and is expected to play a major role in the development of the country.

Exception

The results of such a condition are not only a matter of national importance, but also a matter of individual interest. The Government has a duty to ensure that the country's resources are used in the most efficient and effective manner possible.

The Government has taken a number of steps to deal with this problem, but it is clear that more must be done. The Government must take a more active role in the management of the country's resources, and must ensure that the country's resources are used in the most efficient and effective manner possible.

Three ways

To put things right again, the Government has three courses of action available to it. The first is to increase the rates of taxation, the second is to reduce the rates of taxation, and the third is to do nothing. Each of these courses of action has its own advantages and disadvantages, and the Government must choose the course of action that is best for the country.

The Government has a duty to ensure that the country's resources are used in the most efficient and effective manner possible. The Government must take a more active role in the management of the country's resources, and must ensure that the country's resources are used in the most efficient and effective manner possible.

Advantage

The advantage of such a condition is that it allows the Government to raise the rates of taxation without increasing the rates of taxation. This is a significant advantage, and it is one that the Government should take full advantage of.

The Government has a duty to ensure that the country's resources are used in the most efficient and effective manner possible. The Government must take a more active role in the management of the country's resources, and must ensure that the country's resources are used in the most efficient and effective manner possible.

TOO LITTLE, TOO MUCH RUGBY TALENT

Scottish and Welsh contrasts

By Derek John

WHAT happens when one country has too many fine players and another does not have enough is clearly illustrated in the selections of the Scottish and Welsh teams for the international at Murrayfield on Saturday afternoon. This match, incidentally, is the 57th in the series, which Wales have won 28 and Scotland 29 times.

The players who will hold the memorable "mudspoon"?

Scotland's Welsh begins with a defeat in the international Rugby match in Paris on January 15, 1953. The result of the match is a 10-10 draw.

The other news from Wales is that the Welsh Rugby Union has decided to postpone the match with Scotland until after the end of the season.

Halves recalled

The former Wales captain, Roy Stephen, the great scrum half, has been recalled to the Welsh team for the match with Scotland on Saturday afternoon.

Only two changes

Accordingly, they have made only two changes from the team which played in Paris on January 15, 1953. The changes are in the back row and in the scrum.

Looks easy... but

The match appears on paper to be a foregone conclusion. However, it is not so simple as it looks. The Welsh team has a number of players who are in excellent form.

Bold experiment

Robins was selected for the early season Wales trials. He is considered a second row, but he has been selected as a scrum half.

South Africa's cricket

The South African cricket team is held to a draw by England in the first of the three Tests which ended at Melbourne yesterday. The 11th drawn game was the 11th drawn game in the series.

Pakistan side in exhibition hockey today

The Pakistan touring hockey team will play a test match today at the Park Stadium, Bombay. The match will be an exhibition match.

Debut as bat

Although Keith has been playing for a long time, he has only recently made his debut as a batsman. He has scored a number of runs in the few matches he has played.

McClure out of the fifth Test

Jackie McClure, the South African touring cricketer, will not play in the fifth Test against England at Johannesburg. He has been dropped from the team.

St. Bart's win in Hospitals Cup tie

In the first round of the London Hospitals Cup tie, St. Bart's Hospital has won against St. George's Hospital. The match was a close one.

Gold Cup hockey

In the first of the Gold Cup hockey matches in London, the Welsh team has won against the Scottish team. The match was a hard-fought one.

Welsh FA tour

The Welsh Football Association is sending a tour party to South Africa. The tour will include matches against the South African national team.

Aussies win last tour game

The Australian Rugby League team has won their last game of the tour. They defeated the South African team.

England batsmen should hit out

A call for a more offensive Test team is being made in England. The batsmen are urged to hit out more frequently.

FOREST ON FIRE: MAU MAU BLAMED

3,000 acres of cedar already destroyed

HUNDREDS of Mau Mau guerrillas yesterday attacked a forest fire near Thomson's Falls and Rumuruti which, in the words of the Conservator of Forests, Mr. R. M. Graham, is definitely case of Mau Mau incendiary. The fire has already destroyed over 3,000 acres of cedar.

An attempt is now being made to set up a defensive line some distance in advance of the flames, which have already enveloped the Kampyva Simba area centre of the Lushui civilian some weeks ago.

Early yesterday morning, it was discovered that the flames had reached the main Thomson's Falls-Rumuruti Road. A large labour force was rushed to the spot and soon had this section of the blaze under control. Traffic on the road was not interrupted.

A police officer at Rumuruti said that a reconnaissance aircraft had spotted seven men near the source of the fire soon after it broke out. The police, he said, were working on the theory that it was a case of arson.

In Nairobi, Mr. Graham commented: "It is a definite case of Mau Mau incendiary, as evidence that they have started incendiarism in the Thomson's Falls and Rumuruti areas. It is a deliberate attempt to burn for a long time."

Forest Department officials have issued an appeal for transport to take farm guard volunteers to areas where they are needed.

Newer, faster Comet soon

First production model of a new and faster Comet jetliner will be delivered to BOAC a few months time.

The aircraft, a Comet Mark II, will have an improved standard speed of 4,000 m.p.h. and will be the fastest jetliner in the world.

It is understood that BOAC will be the first to receive the new aircraft.

CHURCH NEXT WEEK
—whether there are steps or not

THE Greek Orthodox Church in Valley Road, Nairobi — a gift to the Hellenic community from its Honorary Council in East Africa, Mr. A. Mounias—will be completed ahead of schedule. When the foundation stone was laid last May, the contractors, Messrs. Vigar, Scott and Ansell, were asked to make a special effort to have the church ready by March 25—the National Day of Greece. If the time of removal, which are needed to finish the building, arrive in time, the church, which is modified on the Anzenoths of Athens, will be completed in a fortnight's time. Part of the door and the outside steps are missing, but whether they are there or not a young Greek couple will be married there tomorrow week.

By moonlight
The general foreman on the site, Mr. F. J. Hewitt, said that the entire building was the work of an average of 30 workers in the evening, working in moonlight. The work was being done in the moonlight. The work was being done in the moonlight. The work was being done in the moonlight.

Second pattern.

The second pattern of Kikuyu religious belief is represented by the three distinct religious concepts which sometimes overlap and sometimes are interlocked.

First, there is the belief in Muranga or as he is also called, Muho, who is God, Supreme Ancestor, Creator, All-wise, All-powerful, and the ruler of the four sacred mountains of the Mau Mau, the Mt. Aberdare Range, the Ngiru and Mt. Kenia.

Second pattern.

The second pattern of Kikuyu religious belief is represented by the three distinct religious concepts which sometimes overlap and sometimes are interlocked.

from the earliest days of contact with the white man, the Kikuyu, like other natives all over Africa, had been both mystified and highly interested in the methods of communicating with another world by writing and by being able to read the writing of some other person.

They had seen that strange practices carried out by some of their own people on the missions, and through many of their own people to the mission for this reason, many of them were interested in the problems of the Christian religion as it had been professed by those who had been converted to Christianity when at least they did not know where they had come from.

It will be readily understood, then, that the Kikuyu was a deeply religious people. It was to such a people that the Christian missionaries, Protestant and Catholic alike, came to evangelize and to win converts.

The danger

THE danger of this policy, however, for our missionaries present in Africa was the danger which lay in the fact that the Kikuyu was a deeply religious people.
