CHURCH EXTENSION IN EAST AFRICA
By the Rev. DAVID STEEL
Member of St. Andrew's and of the Parish of Kenya and Uganda

In this article the REVEREND DAVID STEEL describes the history of parish work in East Africa and the necessity of further, in particular, observations which are shared by both the Scottish and Anglican Churches. The mission statement which concerns how to proceed would make the best use of the resources of the A.S.C. with the best of the other churches.

It is a pleasure to be able to describe the history of the Church of Scotland in East Africa. The mission statement which concerns how to proceed would make the best use of the resources of the A.S.C. with the best of the other churches.

The Church of Scotland in East Africa has a long and distinguished history. It was first established in the early days of the settlement in the region of the Victoria Nile. The mission statement which concerns how to proceed would make the best use of the resources of the A.S.C. with the best of the other churches.

COMPTON STANDS FIRM AS WICKETS TUMBLE

Rot hits England's middle batsmen

THE second day of the Fifth and final Test match between England and South Africa at the Oval yesterday was marked by a return to Test form for Denis Compton. When a slight collapse occurred in the middle of the day, Compton, who has been playing as a specialist batsman in the first-class cricket, stepped into the breach to assist in the recovery of the team. He was out for 77 runs in the first innings, and 51 runs in the second.

Light rain was falling but no harm was done to the play. The afternoon session was interrupted by rain for about 15 minutes, but the rain cleared away and the match resumed at 2.30.

UNITED NATIONS REPORT ON COLONIAL EDUCATION

Expansion of higher opportunities urged

The Secretary-General of the United Nations, Dag Hammarskjöld, has issued a report on the progress of education in the colonies. The report, which was presented to the General Assembly, states that the United Nations is committed to the principle of self-determination for all peoples, and that education is a key factor in the achievement of this goal. The report calls for an expansion of higher education opportunities in the colonies, and for the provision of technical and vocational training to the youth of these areas.

The report also points out that the United Nations is committed to the principle of equal opportunity for all, and that education is a key factor in the achievement of this goal. The report calls for an expansion of higher education opportunities in the colonies, and for the provision of technical and vocational training to the youth of these areas.

BRITAIN'S EXPORTS IMPROVE - BUT IMPORTS STILL HIGH

PROFESSOR GEORGE published his report on the state of the British economy in his report to the House of Commons. He stated that the trade deficit had narrowed to £23 million in the first half of 1951, compared with £33 million in the corresponding period of 1950. This was due to an increase in exports to £2,225 million, while imports fell to £2,195 million. The improvement was due to a rise in the value of exports to £225 million in the first half of 1951, compared with £200 million in the corresponding period of 1950. The value of imports fell to £1,975 million in the first half of 1951, compared with £2,000 million in the corresponding period of 1950. The trade deficit was £23 million in the first half of 1951, compared with £33 million in the corresponding period of 1950.

Weekend football round-up

New season starts with two real surprises

ENGLAND'S football season opened on Saturday and with it the increased advertising charge... minimum charge. This appeared to mean little difference to the fans, but will cost a million people looking in to give the season a rousing send-off.

Major surprises were the defeat of champions, Tottenham Hotspur, and the victory of a weakened Chelsea team at Blackpool. Last season Chelsea only won one game in the league.

On a day when goals were fairly fast, the Cupholders, Blackburn, seem the likeliest to bring off the desired result. The home of Chelsea... Blackburn... Chelsea... Blackburn... Chelsea... Blackburn...

ENGLAND WIN FINAL TEST AND 1951 SERIES

Broken the master at a crucial stage

ENGLAND won the 1951 Test series against South Africa at the 5th Oval, on Saturday by three wickets in one, with one dramatic run, they won the 5th and final Test by four wickets on the third day.

Dismissing the Springboks for 104 in their second innings, England left themselves with the comparatively easy task of scoring 103 for victory without having to worry about the close finish. They reached their 103 for the loss of six wickets. Fred Brown, England's captain, scored 50 runs, while the batsmen showed the master at a crucial stage. Brown was dismissed on the first day, but he was not out of the field for 100 runs. He was dismissed on the first day, but he was not out of the field for 100 runs. Premiers will not meet over Kashmir

Mr. NEHRU, Prime Minister of India, has declared that he will oppose in most Palastian's Prime Minister in the course of a meeting in the course of the week ending over Kashmir.

In the course of a long talk with Neheru's representative in Delhi, he said that he did not think it would be possible to get to the bottom of the matter in the course of the week ending over Kashmir. He said that he would like to see the matter settled in the course of the week ending over Kashmir.

These views, however, little in the line of the British Government's policy in the course of the week ending over Kashmir.

CALEDONIANS RETAIN CUP

Three of seven goals from penalties

FOR the fourth year running Caledonians won the John Boyes Cup. They defeated Bellary by four goals to three in the final at the Services Sports ground on Sunday.

Of the seven goals scored, three came from penalties. Bellary missed one spot kick which might, at the time, have won them the match.

Played in excellent conditions, rain did make the pitch heavy and made the game a bit sticky. Judiciously given players on both sides. The winner never came to any danger and Caledonians were able to run down the field at the will of their own volition.

Bellary, from the head there, tried to get the ball into the goal but was held by the goalkeeper. Caledonians were able to run down the field at the will of their own volition.

REARMAMENT WILL MEAN INDUSTRIAL AND SOCIAL STRAIN, SAY UNION CHIEFS

TRADE UNION LEADERS declared yesterday that Britain's rearmament programme would mean "enormous social and industrial strain" if it were fully implemented. They said that the Government's plan to increase defence expenditure to £1,000 million a year would mean a "massive increase in the cost of living" and a "serious strain on the industrial system".

Higher taxes on profits and other controls and subsidies to help to reduce the cost of consumer goods were also suggested. The union leaders said that the Government's plan to increase defence expenditure to £1,000 million a year would mean a "massive increase in the cost of living" and a "serious strain on the industrial system".

MR. CHURCHILL'S 'FREEDOMS' ARE STILL MOUNTING: NOW 45

MR. CHURCHILL'S 'FREEDOMS' ARE STILL MOUNTING: NOW 45. The Conservative Party has today announced that it has secured the support of 45 Members of Parliament for its proposed 'Freedom of Information Bill'.

The bill, which is now being considered by the House of Commons, would require the Government to disclose to the public any information held by it which is not already in the public domain.

Mr. Churchill, who introduced the bill, said that it was a necessary step towards the establishment of a free society. He said that the Government had a duty to disclose to the people the facts of its own actions.

The bill has been supported by a wide range of Members of Parliament, including several of the Government's own Members. It is expected that the bill will be passed by the House of Commons in the near future.

The bill is a landmark piece of legislation in the history of the United Kingdom. It will ensure that the people have the right to know what their Government is doing.

Zanzibar riots: five sentenced to hard labour

Zanzibar riots: five sentenced to hard labour. Five men were found guilty of taking part in the recent riots in Zanzibar and were sentenced to a term of hard labour in prison.

The men were found guilty of taking part in the riots which broke out in Zanzibar in the early part of the year. The riots were a result of the Government's policy of land reform.

The five men were sentenced to a term of hard labour in prison. The sentences were handed down by a court in Zanzibar. The men were found guilty of taking part in the riots and of causing damage to property.

The riots in Zanzibar were a result of the Government's policy of land reform. The Government had taken steps to redistribute land in Zanzibar, and this had led to the riots.

The Government has taken steps to prevent further riots in Zanzibar. It has increased the number of police in Zanzibar and has taken other measures to maintain law and order.

KENYA'S ATHLETES TROUNCE UGANDA

Score greatest victory in driving rain

UNDER conditions made difficult by driving rain Kenya's athletes put up some great performances at Kampala at the weekend to keep intact their run of successes in the international meetings with Uganda. By 21 points in 28 they registered their fourth successive victory—and their most convincing since the series was inaugurated in 1954.

Outstanding in a class of great performances on a wet, slippery track was the 400-metre runner, the 100 yards in 19.2 seconds, but the 100 yards race was won by the Kenyan, who in a time of 9.6 seconds bettered his own record for the steeplechase made in 1954, when he clocked 14 minutes 52.2 seconds.

Kenya fell to the second and the Ugandan, instead of being a runner's race, was won by the Kenyan, who in a time of 10.8 seconds, bettered his own record for the 100 yards race.

PERSIAN CABINET DRAFTS REPLY

Mr. Stokes extends time-limit

DEBT-POINT PLAN REPLACED BY SINGLE-CLAUSE PROPOSAL

Persian Cabinet met yesterday night to draft a reply to an anti-clause proposal by Mr. Richard Stokes, the British MP, for setting the oil dispute.

The Cabinet, which had already rejected the British proposal to set up a Parliamtary Commission to investigate the oil dispute, was expected to have replied to Mr. Stokes' proposal last night. Mr. Stokes will have a further debate on the subject on Monday.

The Cabinet met at 10.30 p.m. and was expected to have finished its work by midnight. It was expected to have approved a reply to Mr. Stokes' proposal by midnight. The Cabinet was expected to have approved a reply to Mr. Stokes' proposal by midnight.

COMMUNISTS REGAIN LOST GROUND IN KOREA

New battles develop on Eastern front

NEW large-scale battles appeared to be developing along the strong frontiers in Korea yesterday as the Communists pushed their offensive for possession of important hill-crests. The Communists, in regional strength, have forced some Allied withdrawal from ground won in five days of their offensive for fortified objectives.

With fresh troops being pushed to their attack, the Communists have fought the South Korean soldiers from three hills on the Eastern front.
