WHY BRYLCREEM is the perfect Hair Dressing.

BECAUSE Brylcreem has the hair building up and as smart. Brylcreem puts new life into Dry Hair. Brylcreem contains no gum, soap, spirit or starch. The average head of hair is 120,000 strong. So a healthy head depends on 120,000 good cells—such as a busy hair growing fast. When Dandruff and Dry Hair appear you know that something is wrong with the works—the machinery has become clogged. That's why for this to happen, Dandruff through your hair cut give the roots a chance. The pure natural oil removes restriction to hair growth by treating the mouth of the hair follicles, allowing the growth of the hair to function properly. Keep your hair in perfect order—naturally and tastefully—use Brylcreem the perfect hair dressing. BRYLCREEM is the perfect Hair Dressing.

General Manager of the Kenya Farmers' Association makes a full statement

Fresh terms sought for future operations: big reorganisation plan

Referring to an article from our correspondent last week, stating that on 15th of this month the East African Standard published the full statement of Mr. R. Calvert-Link, the General Manager of the Kenya Farmers' Association, the General Manager said that he was not yet in possession of full figures, but he was confident that the profits of the Association would be very considerably curtailed during the financial year recently closed.

It is explained that this fall in profits had been largely caused by a variety of circumstances over the past two years.

Firstly, the late General Manager, Mr. J. W. Bennett, suffered in his health some two years ago, and as a result of the treatment some work he undertook for the Association during the year. In spite of ill health Mr. Bennett remained at the post the year round, which resulted in his ill health when he was forced to leave some on sick-leave and eventually to resign his post.

On the instruction of his members in General Meeting the K.F.A. decided to enter the field of general trading, and in the year was set on foot a new department.

During the year the Association has been engaged in a very important project, and in the year has been engaged in a very important project, and in the year has been engaged in a very important project.

Government with a view to arranging with the Government a reorganisation plan, which will enable the Association to have a more complete control over the operations of the Association.

In connection with the general trading activities of the K.F.A., the Government has been asked to consider the possibility of planning the operations of the Association in a more complete manner.

General Trading was commenced in the year, and the results of the operations have been very satisfactory. It is expected that the operations will be continued in the year, and that the results will be very satisfactory.

Mr. Calvert-Link said that the Association had a full statement of its operations for the year, and that the results were very satisfactory. He said that the Association had a full statement of its operations for the year, and that the results were very satisfactory.

BEWARE OF MASTITIS.

You must have constant vigilance against mastitis. Prevention is the only cure for this terrible scourge that always demands your dairy stock. Therefore, those farmers who have mastitis spread from the teats of infected cows to those of healthy ones during the milking operation. In the early stages of infection a few drops of milk will be seen on the teat. BUT THE DISEASE HAS TAKEN HOLD AND SPREADING ALL THE TIME.

Unless you take care to eliminate this risk you are always in danger of losing mastitis firmly established in your herd.

The Doosan Dairy Institute provides safe, sure protection against milk-borne mastitis and other infections. Ask your dealer for details.

BOOKS: Authors range over time and space to provide varied bag

THE CHIEF Librarian has just announced statistics of the books borrowed from the Madras Memorial Library last year. It appears that out of a total of 121,510 books borrowed some 97,800 were novels, that is to say, about 80% of the books issued.

It is a fact to be borne in mind by the reader who is faced with the temptation, in the vast majority of new books, to wander off down some far away which leads to please his personal fancy.

On this week the rate is high but there have been a number of books arriving during the past month which are worth something more than a flick to be thrown away.

The barrel combines a very high quality and is available in a variety of sizes, colors and finishes.

Robert Standish is a writer who has made any connection with the literary world. His latest novel, "The Man Who Came Back," is a story which is set in the period of the 1910-1920.

How South Africa fought the scourge of rinderpest on three battle fronts

Experts from all over the world will meet in conference at Nairobi on October 19 to examine the rinderpest situation in Africa, and the problems of rinderpest in its various points of view. They will consider the various methods of immunisation in use and determine whether a campaign can be launched for the complete eradication of the scourge that has afflicted cattle districts in South Africa.

Who people know that in the early days of the last war, rinderpest from the South African Veterinary Research Institute at Onderstepoort, near Pretoria, were already fighting the dreaded cattle disease of rinderpest upon the battlefields of Northern Tanganyika, the borders of Northern Rhodesia and Nyasaland. The stakes were the lives of all cattle and most of the game throughout Southern Africa.

The contracting features of the disease were studied by the outbreak in C. P. T. in 1917 in Africa were the immunisation of cattle in Southern Tanganyika and the building of a 200-mile rinderpest fence between Lake Nyasa and Tanganyika. Spanish allies were the students from Tanganyika, Kenya and Northern Rhodesia whose cooperation was valuable in the fight. Onderstepoort was the base of operations and South Africa provided three fifths of the cost.

Central Africa is the breeding ground of rinderpest. Last year 200,000 head of stock were imported to Kenya, Tanganyika and Northern Rhodesia. It is a practical impossibility to eliminate rinderpest from the life cycle of the disease.

Mass immunisation
After a series of conferences on the subject, it was decided in January 1946, to carry out mass immunisation campaigns in Southern Tanganyika and along the borders of Northern Rhodesia and Nyasaland. After two hectic days of organization, including the rapid purchase of 10,000 Johanneburg heavy equipment, including pumps and milk cans, and the raising of British Rail on January 2, 1946 and on the same day personnel and light equipment left Onderstepoort for the field.

They were met by a commander-in-chief who was well known as the "Big Game" and slaughterhouse were built, laboratories were established, and the cattle were vaccinated and the British Army sent to the swelter "hot" region. This is a recent giant virus injection in number of cattle, and then five days later slaughtering them and removing their organs, which were buried through immolation machines for the benefit of the soil.

The operations entailed strict precautions. The animals were kept in the field and the spread of the disease was prevented. The cooked meat was buried, and the bones were buried in a trench for firewood and fuel.

Another 1,200 head of cattle were slaughtered and more than 1,000,000 doses of vaccine produced.

Huge task
Next came the huge task of immunising all the remaining cattle in Southern Tanganyika. A special immunisation with long-acting vaccine was used. The vaccine was also used. Long distances had to be covered on foot and "crabs" for the cattle erected at each camp.

Subsequently research work was carried on for two years at Shiba, a village in Northern Rhodesia isolated from the rest of the continent. It was made certain of no further infection being carried south by game. It was also made certain of no game fence across the 200-mile gap between Lake Nyasa and Tanganyika. This was built of timber, 20 feet high, 20 feet wide, and 20 feet deep on either side of the fence. It was also made certain of no game fence across the 200-mile gap between Lake Nyasa and Tanganyika.

WAGE ADJUSTMENTS

This was a very generous increase in the wages of their own "public employees," and very deserving indeed. Bridger, that if this rate continued, the housing situation would be accelerated owing to the limited building resources. Demands for accommodation could be met at the end of two years.

WHISKY OFFERS 'BUSINESS DEAL' WITHOUT 'FOOLING'

He says: We will put our true cards on the table

YESTERDAY the United Nations Political Committee met in Paris in the somewhat more hopeful atmosphere inspired by Andre Vinsky's offer that the General Assembly would approve the Soviet proposals for a one-third reduction in armaments and simultaneous control of atomic energy. His offer would supply full information about her armed forces and other details of her military and naval armaments.

Declaring that the Soviet Union is anxious to co-operate on the basis of mutual trust and respect, he gave the Political Committee an assurance that his country would accept all measures of international control which were found necessary to prevent aggression.

His offer was made after Mr. Warren Austin, of the United States, had called upon the Soviet Union to produce real evidence of its sincerity and Sir Stanley Shawcross, for Britain, had complained that the Russian offer branch has to be mistrusted because it is ill-fiducious and shows a lack of desire to deal with the issue in a practical manner.

'Designed to get under our skins'

But before the offer came criticism of Sir Hartley's speech as being lacking in decency and balance, designed to get under our skins and make us lose our poise.

In reply to the objection that the original Soviet proposal deserved to be thrown in the wastepaper basket, Mr. Vinsky replied: "None of you has dealt with it in detail; you just reject it outright. We want to reject the proposal to ban the atom-bomb because we are not able to do so because of the people of the world, to make them think that you don't want the atom-bomb."

Rejecting the idea that co-operation was not possible because of the existing social systems and ideologies, Mr. Vinsky replied: "I believe that you were unable to reach agreement with us because of your 'fear' but in spite of this, I made a secret agreement with him while you were at the table. As we know that you have already put our cards on the table, I have done the same."

Modest proposal

Declaring his present proposal as a modest one, he said that the United Nations could not agree to disarmament, as the five big powers have enormous stocks of arms which have not been disclosed. He said that the Soviet Union has already agreed to reduce its armaments to a level which would be acceptable to the other four big powers.

On equal terms

He reiterating that the Soviet Union could not afford to do so, he said that the Soviet Union would be prepared to accept the same terms as the other four big powers. He said that the Soviet Union would be prepared to accept the same terms as the other four big powers.

Every single card

He said the Committee that if it decided to prohibit the atom-bomb and to control atomic energy, it would have to do so on equal terms with the other four big powers. He said that the Soviet Union would be prepared to accept the same terms as the other four big powers.

RIVAL BID?

At the Cabinet, it is believed that the Government will consider a Soviet offer to reduce its armaments to a level which would be acceptable to the other four big powers. He said that the Soviet Union would be prepared to accept the same terms as the other four big powers.

'NO MYSTERY ABOUT OUR FORCES'

WHILE Mr. Andre Shestakov has made his own proposals for a one-third reduction in armaments, he has also made his own proposals for a one-third reduction in armaments. He said that the Soviet Union would be prepared to accept the same terms as the other four big powers.

'We must reduce'

To say for ourselves we must reduce our military and naval armaments to a level which would be acceptable to the other four big powers. He said that the Soviet Union would be prepared to accept the same terms as the other four big powers.

Conference on Africa

The African Colonial Conference held in London has more than justified its title as the most important of its kind since the war. It was the first time that the African peoples themselves were consulted in their own affairs.

AFRICANS SENTENCED FOR SEDITION

FIVE Africans, all connected with the Native newspaper, Embury, have recently been sentenced to varying terms of imprisonment and/or fines on four counts of printing and publishing a seditious publication in connection with the Embury. The publication was a copy of a letter which was sent in English to the Government from a group of Africans in the Colony. The letter was signed by the editor, Mr. G. L. M. M., and was published in the Embury on September 1st, 1948.

Two will wait

The remaining two accused, Erna K. Lwanga and Abduqadir Kapiga, are still in custody. They were arrested on September 1st, 1948, and were charged with the same offence as the other three. They are being held in the same cell as the other three.

'No problem'

On the question of staff for the new boarding school, the Director of Education has stated that there is no problem. He has stated that the staff for the school will be recruited from the various schools in the Colony. He has also stated that the school will be opened in the next few months.

Today's Weather

There will be patches of rain today in the extreme north and south. The temperature will be in the high 70s and low 80s. The wind will be from the north-west.

Consensus to sueve

I know that years ago, it was considered somewhat odd to risk one's life for a cause. But now it is considered a duty. It is a duty to risk one's life for a cause that is just and noble.

The intention

"Adding doubt and established facts to the publication in question is the intention of the author. The author is trying to create a false impression of the situation in the Colony. He is trying to make the people believe that the situation is worse than it really is."

KENYA PLANS MORE SCHOOL ACCOMMODATION

To meet the great increase in European children of primary school age, the Government has projected a big building programme which it hopes will be completed in the next few years. The programme envisages the construction of three new primary schools in the Colony.

Certain plants can now be imported

FOR some time past the Department of Agriculture has, in the interests of the country's agriculture and horticulture, limited the importation of certain ornamental plants in a vegetative condition owing to the danger of introducing the serious tomato spotted wilt disease. The possibility of allowing limited importation of such plants has been discussed at an interdepartmental conference on plant protection held in Nairobi and subsequently at London, when the Ministry of Agriculture and Fisheries has agreed to permit the importation of certain plants.

NOW! CINEMA AUDIENCES "Feel for FOAM COMFORT" like this

It's getting to be a habit with film-goers to feel for the unusual soft but resilient Dunlopillo Latex Foam when they sit for today, they will expect tomorrow. But Dunlopillo doesn't merely tender to persons, it thinks upon cases as well! Thinkers upon cushioning for vehicles and ordinary upholstery, but also upon sag or sagging chairs, down or bed-room couches and vermin. To be modern tomorrow, equip with Dunlopillo today.

Oratorio to be sung in Nairobi shortly

From A Correspondent

A FURTHER chapter in Kenya's musical history will be written on November 16 and 17 at the Empire Theatre when Nairobi Oratorio will perform in combination with Nairobi and staff of the Kenya High School and Prince of Wales School.

In the first half of the programme the orchestra—20 musicians—conducted by Jean de Midway, Director of the East Africa Conservatory of Music, play Mendelssohn's well known overture "Penguin" and the famous violin concerto in D minor which will be played by Elizabeth Hunt.

Mr. Hunt will remember the curtain in July and the Theatre concert will conclude at 10.30 p.m. with the oratorio which will last 100 years.

The second half of the programme, Nairobi Oratorio will be played by the orchestra of the conservatory from the two schools, and will include the first of the Oratorio—Bach's "St. Matthew's Passion" which was first performed in the city in 1858. The Oratorio is derived from families in the days of which the music was written. The Oratorio is from the book "The Oratorio" by Carl Schubert, who writes the history of the oratorio from the days of the Renaissance to the present.

THEATRE ROYAL
"The Barber of Seville" is the first complete grand opera to be performed in Nairobi. Produced in Italy by Tripi and now in London with sets and costumes designed by Ferruccio Tagliavini, the production of the Metropolitan Opera House is hailed as the greatest opera since Caruso, Tito Gobbi, Italy's most romantic singer, Lily Corradi, Tito Taramia and Tito Tosti, the famous orchestra of the Royal Opera House, Rome, are presented by Giuseppe Moriani.

 With Russia so much in the news, it is not surprising that the Playhouse screen that old-time film—Minskoff's "The Czar and the Czarina" which got its first run from the Iron Curtain. The film tells the story of the Czar and his wife, Catherine, who were executed in 1918. The film is a masterpiece of direction and acting, and is a must for all who love the screen.

EMPIRE
 In Hollywood Gordon Benoit and his wife, Betty, are making themselves in an exact duplicate of the original film company when almost five million spectators were entertained during the year.

It can be surmised from the title "Hollywood Castles" is packed with nothing but the old-time film—Minskoff's "The Czar and the Czarina" which got its first run from the Iron Curtain. The film tells the story of the Czar and his wife, Catherine, who were executed in 1918. The film is a masterpiece of direction and acting, and is a must for all who love the screen.

CONTRACT BRIDGE Deceptive play

By JOSEPH CULBERTSON

"EXCEPTION" was the quality that declarer needed in today's deal.

West's opening bid should have been a diamond, not a spade. East's game was correct as the least of evils.

The best play for declarer is to lead the ace of spades. If West has a high honor, he will take it. If not, declarer can make the most of his hand. If West has a high honor, he will take it. If not, declarer can make the most of his hand.

EXCELLENT EXAMPLE OF THE QUEEN'S INDIAN DEFENCE

By BARTON-ECKETT

The following game was played in the Greening International Tournament of 1934. It is an excellent example of the Queen's Indian Defence, one of the popular and satisfactory methods of meeting White's first move of 1-P-Q4.

As the time control at move thirty is approached both players were in serious difficulty with the clock and therefore were played on both sides.

Black's play was convincing, however, is an extremely pretty one and the result is a very interesting performance of a post-war game.
