BANK RATE RISE CAUSES CONCERN IN WORLD MARKETS

CRITICISM Fears over U.K. pressure

Archie Moore wants another title tilt

ARCHE MOORE, boxing's latest world champion, will seek another tilt at Floyd Patterson's crown if he successfully defends his light-heavyweight title against Tony Anthony.

His next starter will be the 28-year-old contender who defeated Moore in 1953 and Patterson last year. Moore says he would like to have another title tilt with "Old Moore" who has the distinction of having won a world title in boxing.

First defeat for Charlton

Highlights of Thursday's League football saw the first defeat of the season for Charlton Athletic, beaten from Division 1 last season in an away game by Luton Oval.

Charlton lost Division 11 but received compensation points in seven games and a reserve team was left with five points from the first of the season.

Charlton's record was excellent in the early part of the season. They had won 12 games and drawn 10, but they were unable to maintain this record.

They were beaten in the first game of the season, but they managed to win the next two games. They were then drawn in their third game.

SAILING SHIP DISABLED BY

130 M.P.H. HURRICANE

Air and sea search by Cape 50 CADETS ON BOARD

SHIPS and planes continued to search the Atlantic yesterday for the West German mailer Passat—21 hours after she had sunk on 21st that she was listing badly and in danger of sinking to a 130 m.p.h. hurricane which tore off her masts. She had a crew of about 90, including about 50 sea cadets. In another message believed to have been received by the 32-year-old, four-masted baroque ship, her foremast had been broken by heavy seas. Flares were reported to have been sighted in the area, about 600 miles south-west of the Azores, during the night. Galas still raged as five ships sought contact with the Passat on the last transatlantic voyage. The Italian Tommaso Star and the American steamship President Taylor went to her aid. Also searching were the Canadian Stovroeg to Brasilia, a Liberian ship and a large Dutch schooner.

Olympic team may be eliminated

THE 35-nation International Olympic Committee will begin its work in Sofia, Bulgaria, today and will have some highly controversial points of particular interest to Kenya.

The program of events to be included in the 1956 Olympic Games will be decided at the meeting. It is expected that the United States will be the only country to have a large number of athletes. Protection of industry in Kenya

I CANNOT allow Mr. Lush's letter to go unchallenged. I must wish to advise the firm and industry in Kenya which is asked for the retention of import duty on certain goods. The following are the facts:

When the duty was first imposed, the Government was of the opinion that it was a necessary measure to protect the infant industry in Kenya. At that time, the industry was in its infancy and it was necessary to protect it from foreign competition. The Government was of the opinion that the duty was a necessary measure to protect the infant industry in Kenya. At that time, the industry was in its infancy and it was necessary to protect it from foreign competition.

The Government is now of the opinion that the industry has become established and it is no longer necessary to protect it from foreign competition. The Government is now of the opinion that the industry has become established and it is no longer necessary to protect it from foreign competition. OLD LONDON BRIDGE

More than fifteen hundred years of service & colourful history

Edward's wooden bridge built in 994 was destroyed together with 80 houses during the great storm of 1282 and during Stephen's reign the medieval stone bridge was built between the old and the new. The first stone bridge was laid down in 1381 and took thirty-three years to complete— it was 200 feet by 40 feet, had sixteen arches and a wooden drawbridge.

In 1510 four galleys were wrecked by the three-foot that destroyed the old bridge and the new bridge was built in 1520. The new bridge was built in 1520. The new bridge was built in 1520. The new bridge was built in 1520.

Just as London Bridge has played an important role in London's history and development, so have TUSKER PRODUCTS become part of the tradition of East Africa. TUSKER PRODUCTS sustained and made relaxation enjoyable for the old pioneers and today are still East Africa's favourite Beers.

CAPITALISM THRIVES UNDERGROUND IN COMMUNIST CHINA

By David Chapp
PRIVATE ENTERPRISE, which the Chinese Communists have tried to eliminate by a slow process of absorption and through the political education of "memberships" of capitalists is not dying fast. There are reports from all over the country of peasants and small traders and even formerly capitalists who have managed to prosper in spite of the "reforms" being carried out in the cities.

What huge profit

Some of the private factories are producing goods which are sold in the cities. The Communist Government has tried to suppress private enterprise and has tried to force the private factories to produce goods which are sold in the cities. Tuesday Corner tells a cautionary tale

Who would catch the eye of the artist? These possible results had an air of menace.

THIS MAKES THE ORDEAL BY FIRE LOOK SO SIMPLE

I had taken the wrong way to screw up sufficient coverage to come to the place at all. Excuses have tumbled on one another into my mind. I'm usually too busy, perhaps it is not really necessary, I shall only do the wrong thing.

This my husband's story, and not my own. A startling revelation of some of our activities failed to give me confidence. It was no use telling me that I was over-protective, that some women do not do these things but that they do why should I care? I am over-protective of my life.

OUT OF PLACE

So he became really brutal. He catalogued some of the things I had said, and I know who he was and where he was. The particular occasion when he knew what I was doing was in the dining room.

It was a very sophisticated party. The very sophisticated party. I was sitting in the middle of the room and I was looking at the man who was sitting next to me. He was looking at me and I was looking at him. I was looking at him and he was looking at me. I was looking at him and he was looking at me.

I think my husband is a very sophisticated party. I was sitting in the middle of the room and I was looking at the man who was sitting next to me. He was looking at me and I was looking at him. I was looking at him and he was looking at me. I was looking at him and he was looking at me.

'Oh! My Poor Legs'

Having very delicate feet, I find it difficult to wear shoes. I have tried many different styles but I cannot find one that is comfortable. I have heard of Elasto Tablets and I have decided to try them. I have taken them for a few days and I can tell you that they are really in there! I can now wear my shoes without any pain or discomfort. I am so glad that I found a solution to my problem.

INDIA TELLS PORTUGAL TO GO PEACEFULLY

Two days to take Goa

Indian Attorney-General, B. K. Chatterjee, told the International Court of Justice today that India would not withdraw the Portuguese Government in Goa. He said that India would accept a peaceful settlement and Portugal would have a voluntary withdrawal from India. GREECE SET FAIR TO RECOVER HER STABILITY

GREECE seems to be on the way to stability and political democracy. The Prime Minister, Mr. Karamanlis, in a radio broadcast last night, announced that the government would be prepared to accept the terms of the London Conference on Greece in the past five years.

The London Conference, which was held in London from July 1945 to July 1946, was a series of meetings between the British and Greek governments and the representatives of the Greek people. The conference was held to discuss the future of Greece and to reach an agreement on the terms of a new constitution.

Mr. Karamanlis' announcement was a significant step towards the restoration of stability in Greece. It showed that the government was willing to accept the terms of the London Conference, which were seen as a fair and reasonable basis for a new constitution.

British search for oil in the Oman desert

TACT IN KEEPING FRIENDSHIPS
SURROUNDED by a society going back almost unchanged to the times of Christ and the Prophet Mohammed, there live a tiny remnant of the people of the Oman desert. They are the last of the nomadic Bedouins who once roamed the vast, empty desert.

The British have been searching for oil in the Oman desert for many years. They have discovered several promising oil fields, but they have been unable to develop them because of the nomadic lifestyle of the Bedouins.

The British are now trying to persuade the Bedouins to settle down and to accept a more modern way of life. They are offering them money and other incentives to do so. The Bedouins are reluctant to do so, but they are slowly changing their minds.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

WHILE the Government is to be congratulated for its policy of maintaining the independence of the judiciary, it is to be regretted that the Government has not taken any steps to ensure that the judiciary is not influenced by the Executive.

The Government should take steps to ensure that the judiciary is not influenced by the Executive. This can be done by ensuring that the judges are appointed on merit, and that they are not subject to any form of political interference.

PROMISE OF GOVERNMENT HELP IN PROMOTING FARM PRODUCTS

Sir Evelyn at Royal Show opening

Efforts by private enterprise to further the marketing of Kenya products should receive every possible support and encouragement from the Government, the Governor of Kenya, Sir Evelyn Baring, said when he officially opened the Royal Show at Mileford Park, Nairobi, yesterday.

For Sir Evelyn said the Government would be glad to have any of the numerous different farm products brought before it by any of the various unaffiliated sales organizations created by the producers, but that the Government was concerned with assisting the needs of the industry in which the sales took place, rather than a Central Board of Control staffed with Government nominees who possibly even acting local representatives.

A good example of the value of the Government's assistance in the promotion of the industry was the fact that the Government was the partner of the Agricultural Association, which is now the partner of the Government to carry out the necessary marketing assistance in a number of ways, and it was possible to even acting local representatives.

IMPROVED STANDARD OF Partial Farms ban brought

ROYAL SHOW

'British gap' narrowing

THE Foreign Secretary, Mr. Selwyn Lloyd, announced British intentions to improve the standard of partial farms in a "national" show, to be held in London, from November 1955 to January 1956, at the Royal Agricultural Society's showground at Stoneleigh Park, Warwickshire.

Mr. Lloyd said that the Government was determined to make progress in the improvement of partial farms, and that the show would be a "national" one, involving all the countries of the Commonwealth.

CATTLE came into their own at Mitchell Park, Nairobi, yesterday, the second day of the 1957 Kenya Royal Show. From 9 a.m. when judging began, until all classes had been decided, the rings were crowded with Kenya's leading breeders and many spectators.

Many comments by Kenya people and visitors alike were heard on the great improvement in standard and presentation compared with previous shows. The Minister for Agriculture, Mr. Hunsdon, was among them. Having been at the Royal Show at Norwich this year, he had a good opportunity of making comparisons. It was obvious that the gap between British and Kenya cattle was steadily narrowing, he said.

Yesterday was Member Day, with a 100 per cent increase in admission charges and the organisers expressed themselves satisfied with the general public attendance—about 20,000 people had paid at the gates by lunch-time.

The showground, however, was

Support for the G.C.E. in Kenya

A PAGE OF LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

My recent editorial on the General Certificate of Education was quite interesting and undoubtedly stirred up all the points in connection with the statement made by the Education Department.

My article was written in the light of the present position of the Education Department in Kenya. It is not my intention to discuss the merits of the G.C.E. in Kenya, but to point out the need for a more realistic approach to the problem of education in Kenya.

The Education Department in Kenya is faced with a serious problem. It is not only the quality of education that is being questioned, but also the quantity. The Government is spending a large amount of money on education, but the results are not what one would expect.

MAN-POSTS: GRAVE, CREEPY OR FATUOUS?

A "MAN-POST" is a man who stands in a doorway or in a narrow passage, holding a sign or a placard, and addressing the public. It is a common sight in many parts of the world, and it has become a subject of considerable interest and controversy.

Some people regard it as a necessary and useful form of public information, while others see it as a nuisance and an intrusion on privacy. The question of whether a man-post is a grave, creepy or fatuous sight depends on many factors, including the context in which it is used and the manner in which it is carried out.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Honourable Members

YOUR committee on the subject of man-posting in the City of London has held a number of meetings, and it is now in the process of reporting to the Council. I am sure that you will have been able to hear a number of views on the subject, and I am sure that you will have been able to take account of them in your report.

I am sure that your report will be a most interesting and useful one, and I am sure that you will have done your best to give a fair and balanced account of the views that have been expressed to you.

Peace shattered

SOME months ago there was a period of relative peace in the world. It was a time when people were beginning to feel that the war was over, and that a new era of peace and prosperity was about to begin.

But that peace was shattered in a moment. It was shattered by the attack on Pearl Harbor, and by the outbreak of the Second World War. Since then, the world has been in a state of constant conflict, and the peace that we had hoped for has never been restored.

Barbers' poles

I AM afraid my observation of the barbers' poles in the streets of London has led me to a number of conclusions. I believe that the poles are a relic of a bygone era, and that they should be removed from the streets.

The poles are a nuisance and an eyesore, and they do not serve any useful purpose. They are a relic of a time when barbers were considered to be a necessary and useful profession, and when their shops were a common sight in every town and village.

Rent Control

I HAVE a number of suggestions for the improvement of the Rent Control Act. I believe that the Act should be amended so that it will be more effective and more fair.

One of the main problems is the definition of "rent". It should be broadened to include all forms of payments made by the tenant to the landlord. This would include payments for repairs, insurance, and other services.

Roed hogs

THE Roed hogs are a nuisance and a danger to the public. They are a pest that should be eradicated from the streets of London.

The hogs are a nuisance because they are dirty and they are a source of infection. They are a danger because they are wild and they can attack people. They are a pest because they are a source of annoyance to the public.
