

COFFEE PLANTERS OVER TAX PROPOSALS Demand for meeting with Mr. Vasey 'INIQUITOUS' CLAIM

ALARM of the Minister for Finance's Budget proposals for redistributed income tax has been expressed by coffee planters in the Albion district. At a meeting on Wednesday night, attended by about 60 planters, a resolution was adopted inviting the Coffee Board of Kenya to seek its interview with Mr. Vasey to tell him of their concern.

It was claimed that, with the 'iniquitous' proposals for redistributed profits tax, coupled with the elimination of the six-year average, declining coffee prices and rising labour costs, it was difficult to see how coffee planters could make 'adequate' returns.

Sledgehammer to hit a tack

It was agreed that the sledge should have particular reference to—

1. The rate of tax, which it was claimed should not be 5.50 in that 1.0.
2. Percentage of unredistributed profit.
3. The Second Schedule items to be allowed for development expenditure in the calculation.

A second attack on the redistributed income tax proposals has been made by the president of the Association of Chambers of Commerce and Industry of Eastern Province, Mr. R. E. Anderson, who said Mr. Vasey had used a sledgehammer to drive in a tack.

FARMS PAID FOR OUT OF PROFITS

Mr. J. A. J. Marston, who proposed the redistribution of income tax, said that the Government was 'very anxious' to see that the purchase of land in the rural areas was not hampered by the heavy tax payable for the farms and agricultural land.

My life

What a life I have led. To add to my troubles, I have been attacked by influenza. I know that I am innocent, as in spite of this terrible onslaught I continue to live, albeit in different form. When the bacteria attack me, my body releases hydrocarbons—light, medium, and heavy. The corresponding physical signs I then see are gas, liquid petroleum and wax. The petroleum part of me is separated into its constituent parts—gasoline, usually used as kerosene, when it reaches itself some every drop from an Oil Company dealer to look for me.

SIX MEN IN A BOAT FIGHT POACHERS ON LAKE VICTORIA

STORY John Batten PICTURES Duncan Wickham

THROUGH the still and shallow waters of the Kavirondo bay—the 25-mile-long inlet of Lake Victoria where some 2,000 African fishermen live and earn a living from the lake—the motor fishing vessel Poitania got off on patrol at 2.30 a.m. An hour later, seven miles from Kisumu, four men had searched and found a 100-yard seine net, worth £50, hidden in the scrub close to the shore. Yet another patrol had yielded dividends.

For the motor net is illegal in the Kenya waters of this great lake, the nearest inland water in the world, and it is the job of the Lake Victoria Fisheries Service, a wing of the East Africa High Commission, to stamp out illicit fishing, to track offenders and their boats and nets, and take them before the courts.

The early morning operation of Poitania was the eighth of its kind since January, when the motor net was first used in the 11th B.I. of the Kenya Fisheries Service, and a further seven since in the Port of Kisumu between 1955 and 1956.

WITHOUT PUSS

At 5 a.m. Mr. Pat Wilson, District Fisheries Officer and Captain of the motor net, was at the Poitania, his headquarters. He was in the command of the motor net, which was being used to search for motor nets hidden in the scrub close to the shore of the lake.

Each man knew from experience what his job was, and the 25-hp. Poitania took off from her moorings without fuss into the rough night—cutting a deep channel in the water as she headed west across the bay.

HOW THE GIRAFFE LOST HIS VOICE

By WILLIAM M. HAYES

It is a well-known fact that the giraffe has lost its voice. This is due to the fact that the giraffe has a very long neck, and the vocal cords are stretched so tight that they cannot vibrate. This is why the giraffe has a very low-pitched, rumbling sound when it communicates.

The giraffe had a very long neck, and the vocal cords were stretched so tight that they could not vibrate. This is why the giraffe has a very low-pitched, rumbling sound when it communicates.

There is only one thing that I should have to see whether I can take it more away from your position. The giraffe's neck is so long that it can't see over its own back. This is why the giraffe has a very low-pitched, rumbling sound when it communicates.

"Why, you haven't given me your reasons for coming," said the lion. "Let us hear what you have to say."

"Oh, what's that? What's that?" asked the lion. "The giraffe brought out a string of pearls for me. He said he had never seen anything so beautiful and valuable as these pearls."

All the animals started laughing heartily. "That is no use at all," said the lion. "The giraffe brought out a string of pearls for me. He said he had never seen anything so beautiful and valuable as these pearls."

"So the giraffe had to give it up to the monkey," said the lion. "The monkey took it and sold it for a large sum of money. He said he had never seen anything so beautiful and valuable as these pearls."

As soon as the lion had finished talking the giraffe opened his mouth to say "Why? What's that? What's that?"

He looked so silly, speaking his words in such a foolish way, that the monkey began to laugh heartily. "The giraffe has a very long neck, and the vocal cords are stretched so tight that they cannot vibrate. This is why the giraffe has a very low-pitched, rumbling sound when it communicates."

Robert meets the Daffodil Elves

By ELIZABETH PALFREY

ROBERT had the impression that he had just stepped into a fairyland. He was standing in a field of daffodils, and the air was filled with the sound of tiny bells.

He looked around him, and saw a group of small, elf-like creatures. They were dressed in green and yellow, and they were holding tiny bells. "Hello, Robert," they said. "We are the Daffodil Elves, and we are glad to see you."

Robert was very surprised. He had never seen anything like this before. "What are you doing here?" he asked. "I am here to see you," said one of the elves. "We are the Daffodil Elves, and we are glad to see you."

'MY MAN GODFREY' ON SCREEN AGAIN

The platinum-plated romantic comedy My Man Godfrey, starring Humphrey Bogart and Charles Laughton, comes to the screen again next week. It is a remake of the 1936 success about a born poverty gentleman's return to the tony set as a handsome society family. The original script has been slightly altered in its practice sparkle.

The romantic and supporting players are unchanged and the dialogue is reworked. The film should track the success of the first and old of both years. It is expected to be a big winner since it is a new comedy with a new twist. Mr. Bogart, who played the role of the "born poverty gentleman" in the first film, has a new role as a handsome society family member.

PEGGY CURRIEN, who is recurring for "Harbor Nights" in a new role, is seen in the picture above.

THEATRE ROYAL
 A sociological drama, Crime in the Streets, is staged in a new production at the Theatre Royal.

The new film director, My Man Godfrey, is a remake of the 1936 success about a born poverty gentleman's return to the tony set as a handsome society family member.

Mr. Osborne avoids anger over filming of play

JOHN OSBORNE has made it plain that the film version of his play Portrait of a Lady will not suffer the fate of Portrait of a Lady. The play, which was produced by the Theatre Royal, was a success. Mr. Osborne is a playwright and a director. He has written several plays and has directed several films. He is a member of the Royal Society of Authors and the Royal Society of Dramatists.

IRON HELPS BUDGET GIRL WHER, YOUNG ST

By FRANKLIN BRIMMER
 When the budget girl has to choose between the necessities of life and the pleasures of fashion, she often finds herself in a predicament. One of the ways in which she can solve this problem is by wearing iron. Iron is not only a necessary element for the human body, but it is also an essential part of a woman's wardrobe. Iron can be found in many different forms, such as iron ore, iron filings, and iron dust. Each of these forms has its own unique properties and uses. For example, iron ore is used to make iron and steel, while iron filings are used to make iron powder. Iron dust is used for many different purposes, including the production of iron-based pigments and the manufacture of certain types of paint.

TRENDS IN BEAUTY

The trend in beauty is toward simplicity and naturalness. Women are looking for products that will enhance their natural beauty without looking overdone. This is reflected in the popularity of iron-based pigments and powders, which provide a soft, natural-looking finish to the skin.

SMART COMFORT

When the weather is hot and humid, it is important to choose clothing that is both smart and comfortable. Cotton and linen are ideal for these conditions, as they are breathable and absorbent. Iron-based pigments can also be used to create smart and comfortable clothing, as they are durable and resistant to fading.

MAKE-UP

Make-up should be applied in a way that is subtle and natural. Iron-based pigments are ideal for this purpose, as they provide a soft, natural-looking finish to the skin. Women should avoid heavy, overdone make-up, as this is not in vogue.

SCHOOL AGE

When it comes to school-age children, it is important to choose clothing that is both smart and comfortable. Iron-based pigments can be used to create clothing that is both stylish and practical for school. This is especially true for young girls, who are often looking for clothing that is both fashionable and functional.

ANDREWS

Andrews' Cream Cleanser is a gentle yet effective cleanser for the face. It helps to remove dirt and makeup, leaving the skin clean and fresh. This is an essential part of a woman's daily beauty routine.

WELL WASHABLE
 This dress is made of a material that is not only stylish and comfortable, but it is also very washable. This makes it an ideal choice for women who want a dress that is both beautiful and practical. The material used in the dress is iron-based, which gives it its unique properties and makes it easy to care for.

WESTWARD MOVE
 The trend in fashion is toward simple, elegant designs. This is reflected in the popularity of iron-based pigments and powders, which provide a soft, natural-looking finish to the skin. Women are looking for products that will enhance their natural beauty without looking overdone.

EGYPT'S AIDS

WESTERN BEAUTIES OWEN MUCH TO EAST

LAND-ROVER's 10-year lead

The 4-wheel drive Land-Rover was introduced in 1948. Today, available in two chassis-lengths with a variety of body styles, it lead is unquestioned.

An immensely strong chassis, corrosion-proof alloy bodywork, all-weather passenger comfort, optional power take-off — these features, backed by the reputation of Rover engineering, have firmly established the Land-Rover in the world's markets. Since 1948, over 70% of the total production has gone overseas.

Land-Rover performance, endurance and reliability have been proved over millions of miles. No other vehicle has given such valuable and versatile service to agriculture and industry, to government departments and the armed forces of the free world.

When better Land-Rovers are made, the Rover Company will make them.

Even the way you walked...

In the old days they used to say... "you can tell a gentleman of quality by the way he walks". Possibly our Sanitizers know what they were talking about for the proud and upright bearing of a man and his fine clothes clearly showed him to be "of the quality". But the preference of discriminating people today for articles that are reliable, strong and long-lasting gives the word "quality" an altogether new significance. It no longer has a snob meaning. It means first and foremost, something which is well made and which has a reputation. The name of Prestofol is synonymous with quality for their refrigerators have become renowned for good service. C.R.F. are proud to have held the Prestofol agency in East Africa for over ten years and invite you to share their faith in this fine British product.

New initiatives to Western economy

PROGRESS IN TALKS

DEMANDS for greater economic interdependence among Western nations, made by Mr. Macmillan during his talks with President Eisenhower in Washington this week, are believed to have won powerful support from the American Secretary of State, Mr. Dulles.

This was indicated at Mr. Dulles's weekly press conference, at which he stated that new trade, stimulus the flow of investment capital to under-developed countries and generally improve the "health" of the non-Communist world.

Vices 'rammed home' vigorously

The Prime Minister is reported to have expressed himself satisfied with the progress made on main issues. Macmillan expects some positive results this year. Mr. Dulles in Washington commented that the Government might be encouraged by the vigorous nature of the views on how to improve the Administration had expected to receive.

He also outlined in speeches that he wants to see the economic and financial institutions of the West rally to each other and it reported to have proposed that resources of the International Monetary Fund should be substantially increased. The idea of Western interdependence was first put forward by the President and Mr. Macmillan has also repeated in Washington as having proposed that the Government should be looking for a more positive approach to the problem of economic interdependence.

The talks are also reported to have been going well in Washington as having proposed that the Government should be looking for a more positive approach to the problem of economic interdependence.

The girl doomed to be sad

By ROSAMUND WOODRUFF

ONCE upon a time there was a Princess called Dora. She was a happy girl, always laughing and singing. And the day she had to die. For a king much older than the king's pet lion—just like that.

The king's son was very tall and very brave. He had a lion at his house. The lion was the king's pet lion. The king's pet lion was the king's pet lion.

Bridal ring an age-old symbol of security and happiness

By DUNCAN NEISH

WHEN they choose a ring, how many bride-to-be give a thought to the antiquity and the origin of the custom they are following? For that matter, why should they think of anything but the future? For that matter, why should they think of anything but the future? For that matter, why should they think of anything but the future? For that matter, why should they think of anything but the future?

The latest style in overall rings and the most secure working ring for the bride, with its own 'wedding' ring.

ANCIENT CUSTOM

In ancient times, the bride-to-be would wear a ring on her finger as a symbol of security and happiness. This custom has persisted through the centuries, with the ring becoming a symbol of love and commitment.

CURIOSITIES

The diamond ring, with its sparkling facets and brilliant light, has long been a symbol of luxury and status. In some cultures, the ring is believed to have magical properties that can protect the wearer from evil spirits and bring good fortune.

HINTS FOR THE YOUNG HOUSEWIFE

A LACK of good housekeeping hints is a common complaint among young housewives. Here are some practical tips to help you manage your household more efficiently and save money.

1. Plan your meals. Before you go to the grocery store, make a list of what you need for the week. This will help you avoid impulse purchases and ensure you have everything you need.

2. Clean regularly. Don't let dirt and grime build up. Regular cleaning, even if it's just a few minutes a day, will keep your home looking fresh and hygienic.

3. Save water. Fix any leaks immediately and use water-saving devices like showerheads and faucet aerators. This can significantly reduce your water bill.

4. Organize your space. A cluttered home is a stressful home. Take time to declutter and organize your belongings. This will make it easier to find what you need and keep your home looking tidy.

We hammered 3 NAILS into a FIRESTONE TUBELESS TYRE

... THEN DROVE THE CAR AT 75 M.P.H.!

WHAT HAPPENED? Nothing at all! Thanks to the Firestone Safety Liner. Not an ounce of air leaked from the tyre, which was placed by no less than three large nails, three and a half inches long, in a parking, that Firestone Tubeless Tyres cannot be harmed under the worst conditions. FIRESTONE.

The Firestone Tubeless Tyre is so called because it does not need a separate tube to hold air. The function of the tube is filled by the Firestone Safety Liner which is actually built into the tyre - built inseparably to the cord body. This patent inner tube is made of a soft rubber compound impervious and non-porous. It is an ordinary inflated tube. When the outer tyre is punctured the soft, compressed rubber closes itself around the object. You can normally drive your car for hundreds of miles without even stopping that the tyre has been punctured.

WHAT ABOUT REPAIRS? You Firestone Tubeless Tyres can be repaired on the wheel, by means of a self-repairing plug or seal, or the wheel, by means of a patch. It's much easier than repairing a tube.

HOME FOR WOMEN PIONEERS—FIRST PAGE IN WEAL HOUSE PROJECT COMPLETED

In pleasant setting

By Jean Vaughan

HOUSE, the recently opened first part of the East Africa Women's League's first project, is designed to provide elderly pioneer women with a home whom they could call their own. It is a pleasant building with a quiet residential district not far from the centre of Nairobi.

The E.A.W.L. council meeting two and a half years ago that a proposal was made to build a home for elderly pioneer women had come when the League should consider a home for the pioneer women of Kenya and that the grounds surrounding such a home should be developed as a memorial garden in memory of the men of the Kenya Regiment who gave their lives in the Emergency.

In 1954, the scheme, named "Weal House", was taking definite shape. The League's address and stands for hapless property and the welfare of the people. It was decided that the first project was the most urgent need and should be the first stage of the project.

The grounds for the scheme were offered by the eminent Mrs. Ethel Harrison, who had lived on 3rd Moringa Avenue, Nairobi, with its grounds, as a gift, to become a home for pioneer women. Mrs. Harrison was herself a pioneer, for she came to Kenya in 1888 and the house she had built on the site had been her home since 1911. Her husband had died in 1950 and she decided to return to England to be near her daughter.

The scheme was taken up by the Government and the Kenya Housing Corporation. The first part of the scheme was completed in 1957 and the first part of the scheme was completed in 1957.

A small and homely stone for all events... the completion of the original Harrison House, the first part of the East Africa Women's League West House Scheme, which has progressed a stage further with the new scheme.

The old house has been left intact in its original condition. It is a fine example of early colonial architecture and is now a museum for the League. The new house is built on the same site and is a fine example of modern architecture.

Glittering stone that lures millionaires and fortune-hunters

By A. GARNEY

LIKE culture, learning civilization itself, the world's most sought-after stone began in East Africa. That precious stone, the diamond, was first mined in India, from which in ancient times all the great diamonds came.

Diamonds were mined but once the capital of a large and powerful kingdom, was ravaged for the wood and there.

The East has long been the world's diamond market, the country of South Africa, the Transvaal Valley in which the world's greatest diamonds are mined.

But natural wealth in the world's richest countries is not always as plentiful as it once was. The world's diamond supply is now being replenished by the discovery of diamonds in South Africa, in the Transvaal Valley.

ADAPT AND MODIFY TO MAKE NEW FASHIONS YOUR OWN

By EILEEN ANDERSON

LOTS of women are in revolt at this year's startling fashion changes. They will not show a leg. They will not go around looking like walking triangles and they will not hobble in sock dresses gathered tightly round the knees. They say they will not be a slave to a new fashion. They will adapt and modify to make new fashions their own.

It is a solid fact with them. I believe that extreme fashions are not only silly but they are also a waste of money. They are a waste of money because they are so short-lived. They are a waste of money because they are so expensive. They are a waste of money because they are so uncomfortable.

The clever woman adapts and modifies to make new fashions her own. She does not follow the fashion blindly. She does not buy a dress because it is the latest. She buys a dress because it is the one that she likes. She buys a dress because it is the one that she can wear with confidence.

NO WAIST-LINE

For her - and even more - she will adapt and modify to make new fashions her own. She does not follow the fashion blindly. She does not buy a dress because it is the latest. She buys a dress because it is the one that she likes. She buys a dress because it is the one that she can wear with confidence.

AND AT ALL PRINCIPAL PORTS OF THE WORLD

Even the way you walked...

In the old days they used to say - "you can tell a gentleman's quality by the way he walks". Possibly our forefathers knew what they were talking about, for the proud and upright bearing of a man and his fine clothes clearly showed him to be "of the quality". But the preference of discriminating people today for articles that are reliable, strong and long-lasting gives the word "quality" an altogether new significance. It no longer has a snob meaning. It means, first and foremost, something which is well made and which has a reputation.

The name of Prestolite is synonymous with quality, for their designs have become renowned for good service. C.B.V. are proud to have held the Prestolite agency in East Africa for over ten years and invite you to share their faith in this fine British product.

An Advertiser
They tell me that once I have been found, I take up to 30 years for those who have spent their time, money and energy to support their investment. What an important person I appear to be!

So enormous structure called a Drilling Rig is now the cause of all attention, and the operation of Drilling commences. They say that drilling oil wells is a highly technical business requiring complex expensive machinery and men of specialized skills.

They say, and later by how the oil-finders come nearer to me, and by in scope... but these men are persevering and I am channelled into a mass of pipe-lines as they find that I should now be "Refined," in other word, become a Gasoline. So, I undertake a journey to a specific structure called an Oil Refinery.

FIRST COMMUNICATIVE STAMPS MARK DISCOVERY OF EAST AFRICAN GREAT LAKES

These extracts from the journal of the discovery of Lake Tanganyika in East Africa. Next month stamps will mark the discovery.

LAKE TANGANYIKA was discovered through a series of long, grueling marches through dense forest and through many rivers. On reaching the spot, the expedition, led by Burton, found the lake. It is the largest of the great lakes of Africa, and a broad expanse of water, some 200 miles long and 100 miles wide. A SERIES OF ADVERTISEMENTS TELLING THE STORY OF OIL EXPLORATION.

In my new home

regions Adjacent (pronounced Ad-ju-vent)

I came from the earth, buried there for centuries. Oil-men drilled me out and took me to a Refinery. You may wonder what goes on in that strange looking place called a Refinery. In simple language, this is where I get "refined". In the Refinery, coal, crack, and still gas appear under all sorts of various different oil products such as the high quality gasoline that powers your car. But, before I go through the process of "refinement", I am stored in huge storage tanks which are drilled in a special area called a "well field".

There I lie in expectation of what is to happen. Through a Pipe-line I am transferred to a furnace where I finally get the heat on... from here I go to a "mill". I am told that this is only the beginning of my new life...
