Threats from all sides to new State

THE Congo yesterday became Africa's newest sovereign State when a gun salute was fired in Leopoldville, the capital, and a declaration of independence was signed by Belgian and Congolese leaders.

An unsmiling King Baudouin of Belgium told a packed Assembly of the Belgian Lower House that the country's independence marked a decisive hour in the destinies of the Congo and of all Africa.

Yesterday's ceremonies meant the end of 75 years of Belgian colonial rule for the 900,000-square mile territory and its 14,000,000 people. Two days of festivities began at the stroke of midnight, with jubilant Africans singing in the streets.

Handshakes all round

Cries of "Long live independence" rang through the night and in the African bazaar were warmly greeted with handshakes and drinks in the spirit of new year celebrations.

In his speech after the firing of the salute, King Baudouin said: "The great movement of independence which is engulfing all Africa has far as the Belgian authorities are concerned, the greatest understanding. In the face of the unanimous desire of the people we have not hesitated to recognize, and confirm, their independence."

He said the principal danger which remained the new people to govern themselves, and that the Belgian Government's present help was so much to help them to do so.

UNIT SECURITIES GROUP OF COMPANIES

Mr. E. K. Fray on investment in a changing South Africa

AN ALTERED WAY OF LIFE

The annual general meetings of the investment societies in the Unit Securities Group were held in Johannesburg recently. Mr. E. K. Fray, the chairman of the companies in the group, in his address at the first of these meetings — that of Managed Investments (Unit Investment Limited) — did not touch the position of that company, but also with investors of interest in all stockholding in the group and to investors generally.

Mr. Fray referred to the serious decline which had taken place since January in the market prices of practically all South African investment shares, and commented on the situation in South Africa at present.

In the course of his address he said, inter alia:—

DEBARK FOR GROUP INVESTORS

I am very pleased to be able to say that I have had only one instance of a member who has withdrawn a large amount of money from the group since we were formed. It is a common thing for people to get out of a company when they feel that their interests are not being properly looked after, and this is certainly the case in a number of instances where the market value of the shares has fallen.

LOOKING BACK TO 1911

At the end of 1911 the value of the shares of the group was 100% and the value of the shares of the group was 100%. At the end of 1912 the value of the shares of the group was 100% and the value of the shares of the group was 100%.

MARKET PRICES

The market prices of the shares of the group have fallen since the end of 1911. This is due to the fact that the market prices of the shares of the group have fallen since the end of 1911.

PRESENT MARKET POSITION

The market prices of the shares of the group have fallen since the end of 1911. This is due to the fact that the market prices of the shares of the group have fallen since the end of 1911.

CREDIT TO COST MONEY IN EAST AFRICA

FROM today, the minimum rate for loans in East Africa will be 7 per cent—an increase of a half of 1 per cent.

An announcement from the banks says that fixed deposit rates for three months will be less than six months in 1½ per cent (an increase of 1 per cent); for six months to less than nine months 2½ per cent (1 per cent more); for nine months to less than 12 months 3 per cent (1 per cent more) and for 12 months 3½ per cent (1 per cent more).

The major business companies in Johannesburg yesterday said that the new rate would not affect existing long-term deposits. Only one firm in Johannesburg, the Anglo-Siam Corporation, said that it would increase its rate for 12-month deposits to 3½ per cent within the next few days.

A spokesman for the company, which deals mainly with loans for industrial, plant, and agricultural implements, said that the new rate would not affect existing long-term deposits, but that it was making an increase for deposits of less than 12 months.

Serengeti wildebeest migration described

THE February of this year the East African Statistical Department published a detailed report on the 1948 Agricultural Census of the non-African areas of Kenya under the title Kenya European and Asian Agriculture Census, 1948 — an Economic Analysis.

Although the report attracted little attention at the time, it presented a most valuable picture to businessmen and of its contribution to Kenya's economy.

In particular, a series of tables concerning the changes in the number of non-African farms in the year 1948-49 are of particular interest.

The Kenya side of the East African Statistical Department has now issued a further publication summarizing the principal results of the agricultural survey of Kenya held in 1948.

Main findings

This report, which gives only the main statistical results of the census, is an improvement in the way in which the statistics of the year it shows, however, the results of the 1948 census on non-African agriculture in Kenya are of interest.

It shows, for example, that the number of non-African farms increased from 2,449 in 1938 to 2,928 in 1948. The total number of divisions of existing farms had increased by 1,100, while the total area increased by 1,100,000 acres. The increase in the area of existing farms was 1,100,000 acres, while the area of new farms was 1,100,000 acres.

Increased milk

Numbers of both dairy and beef cattle increased in 1948 and 1949. The total number of dairy cows increased from 27,000 in 1948 to 37,000 in 1949. The total number of dairy cows increased from 27,000 in 1948 to 37,000 in 1949.

AFRICAN DEVELOPMENT SCHEME BEING

Problems of Africa in mind, M.P.s told

A PROVISIONAL AGENDA for the meeting of the House of Commons on the 10th of the present month is the African Development Scheme. It is the first time that the House of Commons has discussed the African Development Scheme.

He told the House: "We are constantly reviewing ways of helping Africa and in our support of the International Development Organisation we have Africa very much in mind."

He was answering a question from Mr. Desmond Donnelly (Labour) who asked if he would propose that the British, French, West German and United States Governments should organize a regular aid scheme for the African continent on the lines of the 1947 Marshall Plan.

Conditions different
Mr. Lloyd replied that he doubted whether such a plan was what was wanted in Africa. "For one reason the present position in Africa, where the economic needs developing and not retarding, is hardly comparable with that in Europe in 1947, he said."

Donnelly asked if Mr. Lloyd appreciated that some appreciating United States officials were very keen on the initiative which the British Government should not let slip. Mr. Lloyd said that he was in touch with both of these Governments on this matter. It is not so much a question of getting another organisation but of resources on a massive scale.

Mr. Lloyd replied: "We are in touch with both of these Governments on this matter. It is not so much a question of getting another organisation but of resources on a massive scale. We are contributing, apart from private investment, about £13,000,000 a year in one way or another. It is a question of where the resources are to come from."

"Foreign Governments are very well aware of the need, and the United States Government are being studied."

Secondary school plan for Nakuru

Standard Staff Reporter writes:
A GIRLS' secondary school is to replace the present primary school at Nakuru. The Municipal Council was told on Wednesday that the training would be made gradually over a period of three years.

The present pupils in the boys' school will continue at the school until absorbed into the secondary school and the pupils in the new forms will be dispersed to other schools where vacancies are available.

Chief Jairo has expressed his support of the scheme. Some time ago Nakuru was to have a new co-educational secondary school. This will now become a boys' school.

Chief Jairo has been nominated a member of the Municipal Council for three months until the African elections. Mr. D. E. Ruffin of Nakuru has been appointed deputy town clerk to succeed Mr. John Fisher.

WEEK-END STANDARDS CLUB PROVIDES OUTLET FOR ENTHUSIASM OF CITY TEENAGERS

NAIROBI'S Holiday and Teenage Club, which has done so much to provide outlets for the energies and talents of the city's young people, is celebrating the first anniversary of its opening.

The idea of a teenage club originated more than five years ago in a very simple way. In 1936 the Vermont Hall was lost to Mrs. Jessie Westcott, the driving force behind the Teenage Club, to start a club during the holidays to relieve harassed mothers of their teenage children during working hours.

From then on it became Mrs. Westcott's dream that one day proper club premises should be opened to cater for the ever-increasing number of teenagers who were finding new companionship and something to do in their spare time.

With the aid of contributions from parents, business concerns in Mackintosh Road for "Judo" during holidays. The club being empty during the preceding months a teenage club to be formed.

Last week, one year after the

NICHOLAS GRIFFITH writes on the Holiday and Teenage Club, run by the East African Women's League, which celebrates its first anniversary with a dance at the club tomorrow.

East African Women's League Holiday and Teenage Club was opened. There will be more than 100 teenage members whose ages run from 13 to 19. They are provided with recreation, reading and other amusements. A most attractive feature of the club is seen on Thursdays and Tuesdays when the members are allowed a certain amount of leisure to follow their own interests. Discipline in the club is not strict but, as with all clubs, there are rules to be followed.

Applications for club membership are not before a decision and alternatively, if there is a backlog of applicants, the club members are allowed to decide on the admission of new members. It is the duty of the club to decide on the suspension or expulsion of members who are not appreciative of the facilities provided.

JUDO CLASSES

On Tuesdays the sport of judo is accompanied by the sport of bodies hitting a mat. This is the judo class which is taught by Mr. Lawlor, himself a green belt.

There are more girls than boys in the class and, after a few months of learning to fall properly and throw their opponents from various positions, it is hard to tell who are the best.

Not all the girls at the teenage club are so energetic and there are many who attend the Private residence with mansard roof in Asbestos Cement, in School Lane, Limuru.

a UNIVERSAL product made in East Africa

It's a "dream house" - yet economically built to a sound design with modern materials. One interesting feature of this cool and comfortable chalet at Limuru is its roof construction of Universal Canada Tile Asbestos Cement sheets.

These tiles happily match the style of the house with a result that's harmonious and pleasing. But of equal interest to the prospective house-owner are the other advantages that come with the use of Asbestos Cement:

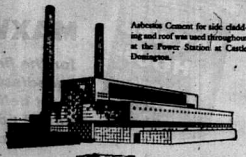

- * Economy in cost of material
- * The minimum of heat absorption
- * Lightness and easy construction
- * Choice of five tile colours

It is on this region that the British Police are at present keeping a special watch, following the refusal by the newly Independent Somaliland to carry on the 1947 agreement between Britain and Ethiopia.

I can talk of no more than that which has to be done. African broadcasting on the way to help and to give the African broadcasting staff in the new independent countries open space.

It is of obvious importance that urgent guidance such as he is able to give has been accepted through the period of years should be made available particularly to the Agency of Broadcasting.

Bennett, who has been deputy commandant of the original East African Scout Division who has been closely associated with African Scout movements and more recently, with African broadcasting.

African director for brewer

ALTHOUGH Mr. Charles Wanyoiba, Public Member of Legislative Council and a Nairobi City councillor, sometimes describes himself as "Jack of all trades and master of none", I would say that he has indeed, a very good grasp of many subjects and a considerable knowledge of most matters pertaining to the business world.

Mr. Wanyoiba, because a city councillor in April 1948 and has served on the education, local government, home affairs and public works committees. He was nominated a Member of the Legislative Council in the year 1952 and is appointed a director of a monthly magazine in Kenya, having joined the board of editors of East Africa Ltd.

Born at Fort Hall and educated at the Government High School in Nairobi, Mr. Wanyoiba was post-war director of East Africa Ltd.

He resigned from the service in 1948 and joined a firm of stockbrokers in Nairobi where he was in charge of these departments. He has since been on his own, having started a firm with his own retail shop in Old Nairobi.

Last year, Mr. Wanyoiba went to London for a series of courses on British parliamentary procedure at Westminster, and last year and took a course on local government in Rome where he worked with the Mayor City Corporation.

Next came a two month's course on central government in London, which gave him a good idea of how the British Government works. Mr. Wanyoiba, who is now 45 years of age, is a very active and energetic man.

JOURNALIST TO STUDY IN U.K.

I WAS pleased to have a visit from Mrs. A. L. Mshinga, who told me that she is the first African woman journalist in the Central African Republic. She is also a woman correspondent for African Newspapers in Salisbury and assistant editor of a weekly, in a State Register and newspaper. When she called at my office she was on her way to Britain on a study grant from the Commonwealth Relations Office.

In Britain she will look at the National Health Service, social welfare, visit hospitals and places of interest with a view to writing articles for her newspaper.

She hopes to apply some of the knowledge she has gained back in her own country. Mrs. Mshinga has been interested in journalism while at school and during her training.

SMITHS MUSIC FESTIVAL RUN BY QUEEN'S COUSIN

When the news appeared in the Evening Standard that the late Sir George Martin had been named as the first British composer to be awarded the Queen's Medal for Music, it was not surprising that the public should be so interested in the young man's career. We are told that Sir George's nephew, Gerald, who is now in his late 20s, is a composer of considerable talent and has already written several pieces of music.

The small question of the award was not a big one, but it was a practical question of a young man's career. It was a practical question of a young man's career. It was a practical question of a young man's career.

His father, Prince Philip, now the Prince Royal, is the son of King George VI, and the Queen's Medal for Music is a high honor. It is a high honor. It is a high honor.

VIENNA CELEBRATES ITS TENTH FESTIVAL...

ONLY a few years separate the first "birthdays" of the Edinburgh and Vienna festivals. Both cities have the advantage over many others of their architecture, excellent musical backgrounds and a population eager to respond to anything cultural. The tenth of the Vienna festival was celebrated last night at the Vienna Purlin Tourist.

Slim and sweet!

Many of us face the old problem of a sweet tooth which so often results in temptation to too much sugar and overweight. This, in itself, is a danger to our system and general health. Fortunately, BISKODS can greatly assist in keeping our figures slim and sweet — by substituting effective sweetening tablets where quantities of sugar would be consumed. BISKODS also contain the Slimmers' essential Vitamin B₁₂. BISKODS are widely used in all beverages and can be dissolved in hot water for sweeter cereals and other foodstuffs. BISKODS are obtainable in tubes of 100 tablets and bottles of 500 tablets, available at all chemists and leading stores.

THOMSON'S FALLS CHURCH FIRST TO USE TIMBER FRAME

By DAVID GRANT

Timber-frame construction is featured for the first time in East Africa in the new Roman Catholic Church at Thomson's Falls which is dedicated to Our Lady of the Immaculate Conception.
 Although the ridge of the roof is built of the usual heavy timber frame, the use of a built-in timber frame structure has created a unique effect. The exterior walls are built in stone, but the interior walls are built in timber. This is a first in Kenya.

RAPID ERECTION

However, frame construction is not the only advantage. It is also a system that is proved to be worth beyond doubt. During the past few years, building in Kenya has been slow. This is because of the timber shortage. In fact, the church is a unique example of the use of timber in a building. It is the first building in Kenya to be built of timber and stone. The timber used is of the best quality and is of a species that is naturally immune to insect attacks and decay. It is also a material that is easy to work and is of a species that is naturally immune to insect attacks and decay.

MADE MARK

The timber used is of the best quality and is of a species that is naturally immune to insect attacks and decay.

All these advantages taken together make the Thomson Falls Church a unique and beautiful building. It is a building that is a credit to the skill and craftsmanship of the builders who have worked on it. ALTAR OF COLOURED MARBLE

The plan was approved at the first meeting of the Thomson Falls building committee. The altar is made of a unique material that is a credit to the skill and craftsmanship of the builders who have worked on it. Simplicity in keeping with small building

PERFECT CRYSTAL

This is the result of a long and careful study of the materials available. It is a building that is a credit to the skill and craftsmanship of the builders who have worked on it. It is a building that is a credit to the skill and craftsmanship of the builders who have worked on it.

BEAUTY IN TIMBER

The Roman Catholic Church at Thomson's Falls was constructed almost entirely of timber supplied by the Timms-Jarvis Group. This building is an example of the many ways timber can be adapted to suit the most modern architectural designs.

Here, following Solomon's 2900-year-old example, the extensive use of Cedar for a similar purpose ensures durability and freedom from decay.

Note the beauty, dignity and strength of the portal frame.

Cedar is naturally resistant to termites, insects and fungus.

LYONS CELEBRATE TENTH BIRTHDAY

BEN LYON brought his harp to the party to celebrate the tenth birthday of "Life with the Lyons", one of the B.B.C.'s longest-running programmes.

The star of the show has been established in Britain for long that even their most devoted admirers may have forgotten who they were before they arrived in London by the ship named "Ben Lyon", who is a native of African, Congo, supported on his debut by "Paddy and Parinther", which was a Sam Goldwyn production.

During the last the Lyons were active in entertaining a large audience of the public and on the 10th of June, at 8.15, the Lyons will be seen in the 15.15, Eighth Army Air Force with the rank of Lieutenant Colonel. Ben was given a Legion of Merit Award in 1942.

COLONY'S SPARE-TIME POLICEMEN HELP TO

See African Standard, Friday, July 3, 1959. 5

BEAT CRIME

Members of the Kenya Police Reserve have a proud record in maintenance. Devotion to their lives in the Emergency and awards won by its members include Colonial Special Constabulary Medals for Meritorious Service, two have received the M.B.E. and 17 have been mentioned in despatches.

They realise the important role the Kenya Police Reserve is playing in the maintenance of law and order in the Colony. Many believe the Reserve was a hastily formed group of volunteers solely for use during the Emergency.

The K.P.R. was born in 1946, replacing the Special Police and Auxiliary Police Force. Over the years the membership has continued to increase until, in the Nairobi area alone, there are 240 Class A reservists—100 European, 100 Asian and 40 women.

In addition there are 400 Class B reservists who can be called on at any time for active service.

For a reservist to be of much help to the regular police, whether under emergency conditions, walking the beat or on crowd control, he must be fully trained to play his part.

Although theoretical training at the outset is essential, the best possible training is practical experience in the field. The regular police are at full strength most of the time and the Class A reservists are used extensively in practical police work.

Reservists are regularly occupied at the principal police stations during evening hours and often at weekend information rooms and in many other ways. The system with which the Reserve has been introduced from the beginning.

Others take their turn at traffic duty and on such occasions.

A call from K.P.R. Inspector J. D. Hill in Nairobi area headquarters sends a 1970 patrol car to a new location.

A Reserve officer attached to the Traffic Department, Insp. T. Burke, stands by at one of Nairobi's accident black spots.

Why the Great Elephant still stands on guard

By ROBINA WRIGHT
ONCE upon a time there was a very great elephant and he was bigger than any elephant in the world and the other elephants made him their king.
He was leader of them all for many years until an arrow so big that no one could remember its name was shot at him. Elephant had not been king since the time the young elephants were jealous of him and crowded together at the top of under the trees in the best of the day.
"Why should he live just because he is big?" they said. "We know what makes a king. We are not jealous and good heads and strength to battle the signs of a leader."
So the young elephants did something that no one had ever done before — they challenged their king to a fight.
"How shall we?" they said. The Great Elephant did not want to fight and he was very much out of practice but still he managed to best them all.

Great One and kept down on his back, leaving his liver and his nose sticking out. It was his nose that was the greatest of all.
The Great One listened to the elephant's story while the snow melted around them. The people.
"You are a king indeed — and I promise that you shall remain the greatest elephant in the land when all your young are as big as you are. You may be a king, but you must be a king on the ground. The Great Elephant turned and went slowly homeward.
"I am a king — but even a king must have some time to be a man."
The Great Elephant went down and through the dark forest. His legs were tired and his head was heavy. He was a king, but he was a man. He was a king, but he was a man. He was a king, but he was a man.

So the Great Elephant set out on his journey. He walked across the wide golden plains for many nights, resting by day. He climbed through the mountains and over the mountains, on and on towards the snow-crowned home of the Great One.
He felt that he was indeed very old, but because he was a king he held up his head and went on.
He had to be careful before the

HANID'S BOOK ALL ABOUT THE ANIMALS

By MAX TRELL
TEDDY, the stuffed bear, came over and sat next to Hanid. The shadow girl with the turned-about name, "Hello, Teddy," said Hanid. "What is this book you are reading?" asked Teddy. "It is a natural history book," said Hanid. "A natural — what?" asked Teddy. "It's explained that natural history book was a book about animals — about insects and about birds and about fish."
"In fact, it is about all living things," said Hanid. "That is interesting," said Teddy. "There is a lot of interesting things," said Hanid. "I was just reading about some very strange birds that live under water. There is a lot of them." Hanid said. "There are fish," said Teddy. "Yes, there are fish," said Hanid. "They are called sea horses because they have a head that looks like a horse. But they have no legs; just long tails that are curled around sticks and stems under the water." Hanid said. "Humph," said Teddy. "That is interesting. Why do you read about horses?" Hanid said.

CENTENARIAN SETS AN AGE PROBLEM

A LITTLE mystery shrouds a celebration which took place yesterday in the Nairobi European Hospital. It concerns the birth-date of Mrs. Marguerite Mallet, Kenya's grand old lady, who was thought to be 100 years old on July 7. But according to investigations made at Somerset House, London, Mrs. Mallet was born on June 10, 1858, which makes her 101 years old last month.

As it seems impossible to make absolutely certain that the Ada Louise Mallet (this is the pioneer woman who came to this country in 1850 and is widely known as Marguerite Mallet), the anniversary was celebrated yesterday, which is the date both know to her friends.

Mrs. Mallet, who was 81 years old when she came to this country, is now 101 years old. She is now living in Nairobi.

Mrs. Mallet later lived at the Nairobi European Hospital. She is now living in Nairobi.

QUALITY FIRST FOR THE TOOLS

By RADICE

ALL gardeners require some tools whether they have a small plot or a large estate, and without making any further fast runs, buying the best quality you can afford is a policy that is never proved wrong.

The quality of a good quality tool for instance should be enhanced if it is made of the finest steel and is well finished on all surfaces. A cheap mower will not give you the same service as a well made one. A cheap shovel will not give you the same service as a well made one. A cheap spade will not give you the same service as a well made one.

Star

Give the stars a try in all your work. They are made of the finest steel and are well finished on all surfaces. They are made of the finest steel and are well finished on all surfaces.

It always needs help! Always germ on gain entry!

What germ?

An astonishing "break-out" that helps your body's own defenses!

TREES DANGER TO DANES

DANES are debating sharply whether they should aim at making their country beautiful to look at, or safer to drive.

The controversy has arisen as a result of long trees growing along the green verges of Denmark's highways, which many cars are crashing into.

Even in Copenhagen, the capital, the trees are so tall and so thick that they are a serious obstacle to traffic.

The problem is a real one, for trees help to relieve the monotony of the landscape and to ward off the chilling winds which often sweep across the islands.

But cars have caused in the past two years the highway authorities to declare that trees along the highways are a danger to life.

He has collected a mass of evidence to show that trees are a danger to life in 100 per cent of cases where a car has been wrecked on a road, the trees and bushes being the cause of the accident.

He has also collected a mass of evidence to show that trees are a danger to life in 100 per cent of cases where a car has been wrecked on a road, the trees and bushes being the cause of the accident.

TOURISTS WIN AT KISUMU

"Standards" Correspondent Kisumu.
For their match against Nyanza Tourists at Kisumu, the Rhodesian touring amateur golfing team won three matches to nil with one halved. The extra couple were the team manager and captain, Brodie Gawith and the Londiani golfer, Gardner.

The Nyanza team were MacLennan, McCarty, Bridge, Wood, all of Kisumu; Grayson, Londiani; Kelly of Kisumu; and Pickett of Pickering.

The final players put up a good struggle, and there was a thrilling evenness throughout the matches at the turn. It was only towards the latter part of the second nine that the Rhodesians were ahead and held on to the lead to win two matches by 4 and 3 and one by 2 and 2 with the other which finished square the position was rather reversed, after being all flat at the first. In the final hole the visitors were 2 up at one time. Briggs and Kelly beat the 10th but then halved the next seven holes. Here Kelly with a single four against two fives by Arnold and Zetser squared the match.

Kicking match
In the ten Maritzman and McCarthy match versus Proctor and Brien, which incidentally had the largest following, though the halved match proved the most exciting. The local players halved the first four holes, but the visitors and Proctor were up to 10 and a hole on at the end of the 10th. The Rhodesians were 10 up at all four holes only just failed to drop.

The Rhodesians went into the lead at the 8th with a hole on. Proctor and Brien halved, but McCarthy had a grand chance to level things at the 9th.

Case of Africa

Belgium says troops will continue present mission

INTER-AFRICAN FORCE PREPARES Round the world

SO EASY TO PUT OUT THE LIGHT IN AFRICA

Congo severs Brussels relations

PEOPLE in the great central belt of Africa, Black, White and Brown, should learn a lesson from events in the Congo - how easy it was to put out the light, and how difficult to put it on again.

ALTHOUGH the Security Council early yesterday called on Belgium to withdraw her troops from the Congo, the Brussels Government said later that Belgian soldiers would continue "their present mission" to defend the lives of Belgian and other foreign nationals.

The Kenya Minister for Agriculture, Mr. McKenzie said that when he opened the Northern Rhodesia Show in Ndola, the guests of the Congo have since left God show knowers that they will go on again, but they say that the many leaders of the country will still continue to turn on the light.

They would do this, the Brussels statement added, until United Nations forces were despatched to the Congo was authorised by the Security Council - one in a position to ensure security and public order.

Last night the Belgians announced that the Congo Prime Minister, Mr. Lumumba, had answered their refusal to withdraw immediately by sending a Note breaking off all relations between his country and Belgium.

Mr. Hammarskjold satisfied eight votes in favour, with some against and two abstentions - Britain, France and China - after a debate which lasted for seven and a half hours. Three Soviet governments which called for a condemnation of Belgian "armed aggression", the "unilateral" withdrawal of Belgian troops and military aid from African nations only were all rejected.

Mr. Hammarskjold expressed great satisfaction with the decision of the Security Council and said steps would be taken "within a couple of hours" to get it into effect. The Deputy Secretary-General of the United Nations said in Leopoldville yesterday that his troops would arrive in the Congo within 48 hours. The first contingent of Belgian troops will be sent to the Congo, Zaire and Tunisia, and will be under the command of Gen. Karl van Horn of Belgium.

Felt elsewhere

It had been reported that some things had been done in the Congo. Mr. McKenzie said that the world press would not report the true facts of what had been, and was still being done in the Congo. He said that the world press had been "blinded" by the propaganda of the Congo. He said that the world press had been "blinded" by the propaganda of the Congo. He said that the world press had been "blinded" by the propaganda of the Congo.

Crowd jeers at station

They were shouting "The Congo is for the Congolese". They were shouting "The Congo is for the Congolese". They were shouting "The Congo is for the Congolese".

UNIONS SET UP JOINT FORMATION

FOUR Kenya public and civil servants' unions—the Posts and Telecommunications Union, the Kenya Government Workers Union, the High Commission African Staff Union and the Kenya-Police Servants' Union—have formed an association to coordinate their activities.

The new body, known as the Association of Unions of Public and Civil Servants (Kenya), will have registration as soon as the Government's official notification of labour law changes is issued. It is not intended as a rival to the Kenya Federation of Labour, which also recognizes as the superior organization of workers in Kenya.

The association, which also has the backing of the British African National Congress, aims to approach the Government to approach the British to get uniformity in the terms of posts and salary scales.

Membership of the association is open to organizations of employees of public service of any rank.

SCHOOL OF LAW AT MAKERERE URGED BY PEER

A SUGGESTION THAT a School of Law be attached to Makerere College, Uganda, has been described by the Minister of State for Colonial Affairs, the Earl of Perth, as "a little premature".

Need for economic progress overlooked

A TRADE depression had hit Uganda and the other things that were being done to help the country were being overlooked. The Minister of State for Colonial Affairs, the Earl of Perth, pointed out that the provision of training facilities for local students was the most urgent and should be given priority.

Resignation Approved

Support for the action of the Member for Kenya, Mr. W. J. Day, in resigning from the Kenya Legislative Council was expressed in a resolution adopted by the Council.

Was it your fault?

A knee slipper and the road washed away. You had only a cheap, flimsy road mat. The road was so soft, when you stepped on it, it sank. You had no grip. You were slipping. You were slipping. You were slipping.

INCREASED ACTIVITY

of the volcanic crater of OI Doiyo Lenga, Tanganyika, is confirmed by Mr. C. M. BRISTOW, of Nairobi Geological Club, who took part in a recent expedition to the mountain.

Mr. Bristow said that from the highest point on the crater rim a steady stream of lava poured out to the main lava field which had erupted since the last heavy rain.

In order to see a clearer view than that of the party of five who were on the crater and about 800 ft. from the flow.

The crater had been covered with lava flows and grey ash, but the spatter cones and main vent.

Almost all the crater flows were covered with these flows. The older ones were crusted with white soda or sulphurous deposits and some reached to the crater wall.

In no case had debris been thrown from the crater wall.

WEEK-END STANDARD TEA WAKES UP 'DORMITORY AREA'—KIPSIGIS GROWING MORE

By C. H. Richardson

IN past years when anyone in Kericho agricultural circles mentioned the dormitory area, it was acknowledged that they referred to the part of the Kipsigis one or two notable exceptions their towns shambas received little attention.

Recently however there has been a remarkable change—the dormitory label has been removed its occupants have awakened, and the face of the countryside is a fairly common reply one hears is "It is due to the change in a question and fully demarcated fields to be also planted with other profitable crops, mainly pineapples and citrus fruits.

One of the Kaparua Chapsas, who Albert Chapsa was step Bill has worked on for more than 20 years. This particular factor is the establishment of the first Kipsigis tea plantation with the estate in the area—Mr. J. K. Dwyer now of the Kipsigis Estate.

Further development of the area will be in the 1949 planting season and other Kipsigis tea plantations are being established.

It is estimated that 600 out of the 1,000 acres of the Kipsigis country is suitable for tea planting and 1,000 acres of tea is to be planted in 1949.

Mr. A. G. Banks, who has been agriculture officer with the Kipsigis for the past 12 months said "we can now say that the dormitory and tea areas are now fully awake to grow—there is a tremendous growth in tea plantations."

"The industry is as yet very small but there is no doubt that the Kipsigis people have very strong views on the subject. Provided that the supervisory staff can be maintained at a proper level, the industry will be a real success and a tremendous effect on the of further development and the construction of factories. The Kipsigis are presenting their proposals for the first planting in April, 1949. It is estimated that 600 out of the 1,000 acres of the Kipsigis country is suitable for tea planting and 1,000 acres of tea is to be planted in 1949.

Unemployment solved by farmers and planters are employing between 2,000 and 4,000 workers from neighbouring shambas and so a considerable contribution is being made towards a reduction of Kenya's unemployment figures.

ESTIMATE MADE This development will also contribute towards the reduction of an estimate made in 1947 by the United Nations In its bulletin "Agricultural Economics—the Food and Agriculture Organization reports of tea in 1947, metric tons.

This is compared with the indicated prospects of further expansion of production particularly in African countries. These figures are based on the average of 1936-38, when the tea production was 177,000 metric tons were reported.

FIRST PLANTINGS

Seed for the nursery was obtained from relatives in Tanganyika and in early 1947 some planting out of which some 10,000 were planted in the Kipsigis area. The first tea planted in the Kipsigis area was in 1947. It is estimated that 600 out of the 1,000 acres of the Kipsigis country is suitable for tea planting and 1,000 acres of tea is to be planted in 1949.

GREAT POTENTIAL

An alternative means of development is the planting of "seed at scale" in each intermediate area. The shambas is planted at a spacing between plants of 18 inches. These rows are eventually spaced to be 50 feet apart. A little over a year after the planting, the area is ready for the planting of tea.

Every rose is beautiful of all shapes of growth whether ascending, trailing, bushy or climbing, and of all colours.

And you can go away to plan your roses, whether in a garden or in a pot, and you can get a selected seedling or a cutting from a nursery.

If you are lucky enough to have an existing rose garden, you can improve it by adding new varieties, and you can get a selected seedling or a cutting from a nursery.

Birthday appointment from Vienna

IN Britain great significance is given to the 21st birthday and then, perhaps, to the 25th birthday. In Vienna, however, the 18th birthday is the most important.

The 18th birthday is a woman's 18th birthday, and it is a day of great importance. The girl is considered a young woman and is expected to be married.

Show Page Introduces TWO 'OSCAR WILDES' DIFFER GREATLY

BY JOAN LEITCHWOOD

COMPARISONS are made to be odious, but when two films dealing with the life of the 19th-century poet and playwright, Oscar Wilde, have their world premieres in London within a few days of each other, what can one do but compare? The first film, Oscar Wilde, a Vestage Production released by South Continental, was in the theatre on Monday, July 19. The second, The Trials of Oscar Wilde, a Warwick Film Production, released by Eros Films Ltd., is in Technicolor-Technitama and runs for more than two hours. Both films are made with taste and has caught the atmosphere of London life in the Victorian period and the author's personality and authority in the story is more detailed. Yet what stands out in the most dramatic and moving sequence in either film is the duel of wit in Oscar Wilde between the play-

Spectacular growth achieved by motor industry

The story of the spectacular growth of the motor industry in Australia is best told by figures. In the year 1933 a total of 830,000 vehicles were registered in Australia.

By the end of July, 1959, there were 2,216,246 vehicles on the register and at present 1,100 are being registered every working day. These figures do not include motor-cycles.

An economist estimates that ten per cent of Australia's work force derives employment through the motor industry, and those entered directly by it earn £196,000,000 in wages annually, and those entered indirectly by it earn £100,000,000. This deduction was based on the state of the industry more than 12 months ago and because of the great strides made during the past year the figures would be much higher now.

Today, a more accurate assessment of the Australian motor industry, together with those activities complementary to it, would show that it employs a vinticity of some 300,000 people. Twenty years ago it employed 100,000.

Although the history of the automobile manufacture in Australia had humble beginnings back in 1912, it was not until the increasing local content in 1947, it was that the industry really got going.

In 1948 the all-Australian car appeared. It met with such outstanding success that other manufacturers were forced to recast their thinking on the local market.

Their reactions have caused automobile production to become one of the most competitive of all Australian secondary industries.

Within the past 12 months extra investment in the motor industry, mainly for further expansion, has amounted to £24,000,000.

The main trend in the production of all Australian cars has been towards increasing the Australian content of 99 per cent. Other big manufacturers such as American and Japanese of their vehicles at more than 70 per cent.

For these reasons Australia's motor industry will be entirely self-sufficient.

How long this development will last is of no great importance. The fact remains that the motor industry already has made such a tremendous impact on the Australian economy that it has become one of the major secondary industries.

FILL DEMANDS

The amount of fuel employed here lies between £29,000,000 and £40,000,000, but this is only a part of the story when it comes to the requirements of nearly all related, connected and ancillary industries.

Nearly 1,600,000 gallons of petrol are used each year, supplied each day by 140 refineries and 1400 petrol stations.

An excellent example of the contribution made by the industry towards stimulating general industrial activity is the case of the General Motors plant in Queensland which has employed more than 4,000 men since its opening in 1957.

The case of the Ford plant in New Zealand. Just after the war, Ford's new age model Australian car owners bought 100,000 cars and scored 100,000 general cars and scored

'THE CAR' - ESSENTIAL TRANSPORT AND A SOCIAL SYMBOL

The average Australian is one of the most conscientious men of the world. He is not to be taken by private trading or by a promoter who has been around spinning more tale talking and more facts than he can handle. He is not to be taken by a man who says he is a lawyer, a doctor, or a scientist, but he is not to be taken by a man who says he is a car salesman. He is not to be taken by a man who says he is a car salesman, but he is not to be taken by a man who says he is a car salesman.

But the Australian attitude has changed. A new generation of car owners has grown up. They are not only car owners, but they are also car enthusiasts. They are not only car owners, but they are also car enthusiasts.

HOBBY, TOO

More than 2,500,000 motor-cars are registered in Australia. This means that a car is every four persons, in the first four years of their lives. This is the case in the United States, Canada, and New Zealand.

Two years ago most Australian car owners bought general cars and scored

Century... SILVER COBALT BATTERIES

Century Silver Cobalt batteries are the result of many years of battery manufacturing experience and an unparalleled standard of quality control—of materials, construction and power. All Century batteries are fully tested to international standards before they leave the factory.

New innovations are continually being introduced. For instance, P.V.C. separators have proved far superior to the old type separators and give far longer service life.

The Century Silver Cobalt battery is the best formulated and long-life battery available today. Research has clearly demonstrated that Cobalt performs wonders in improving battery performance and life. Its wicking action reduces the possibility of a flat battery effect when a car is idle for long periods, and the bad effects of overcharging while running—a major cause of battery failure—are entirely eliminated.

Century batteries are made and sold throughout Australia and are in general use throughout South East Asia, Ceylon and the Pacific Islands.

STOCK OF SPARES ALWAYS READY

HAND in hand with the development of the Australian motor industry is the increasing local manufacture of original and replacement parts.

The range of parts needed to service vehicles in Australia is very large because there is such a variety of cars and trucks on Australia's roads.

With a few minor exceptions, the products of every vehicle manufacturer in the world find their way to the Australian market.

Also, Australia is such a vast continent and so wide a population are no wonder that special provisions in the motor industry were made to service their remotest parts.

ROLE ON FARM

Though most vehicles are found in areas adjacent to the urban and suburban areas, a considerable number is found where no other vehicles are set up.

Motor transport plays a major role in the big work, and in the remote outback of Australia.

The role of the motor vehicle in the outback is not only to transport people and goods, but also to provide a means of communication in areas where there is no other means of communication.

Multi-purpose machines developed

AUSTRALIAN car firms have developed a number of special machines, as well as serving the developing motor-vehicle industry within Australia, are helping to increase the country's export income.

In many cases, these machines and tools have come within the reach of the specialist firm for the first time.

They include camshaft grinding machines, which reduce the wear on valves, refiners, line bushings, valve rockers, camshaft bearings and electronic wheel bearings.

The Australian-built camshaft grinding machine was introduced by the Melbourne firm.

SPEEDY DEVICE

This type of engine has become generally used in the United States and is now regarded as essential.

The Australian camshaft grinder, however, is capable of grinding every type, because of the speed with which it can be set up and its ability to produce master camshafts for use on new camshafts.

FINE LIMITS

Because of this, machines now available are based on a great deal of first-hand operating experience.

The camshaft grinder, as now produced, has a capacity ranging from shafts 3/16 to 1 1/2 inches in diameter.

Special-purpose machines and tools, manufactured in Australia, are proving to be not only complementary to the motor industry but are helping also to increase still further the nation's income from exports. The article describes some of the equipment produced.

Another great advantage in the Melbourne firm began to develop the camshaft grinder about four years ago when it became clear that such a machine would be necessary if the Australian motor-vehicle industry were to be able to handle demands of modern car power plants.

The product machine, built a 1/2 in. dia. and ground 4,000 shafts of all types. A number of modifications to the experimental machine were necessary, particularly as the need for a very great degree of stiffness in construction became apparent.

Hours Saved

The firm also produces a heavy-duty crankshaft grinder, which works out very cheaply in relation to very close tolerances and is operated by a relatively unskilled labourer in a matter of two steps.

Two Machine Introduced

Two machine introduced recently in Australia by the same company have proved successful in Australia.

One is a crankshaft grinding machine which created great interest when they were shown at last October's London Motor Show. Many orders including some from the United States, were received.

Before these machines were produced there had been no method of checking the accuracy of clutch reconditioning before the clutch was reinstalled on the vehicle.

An underdrive shaft mount bearing was also introduced in the machine to eliminate and re-adjustable.

The new clutch reconditioner can handle any British, American or Continental automobile, and clutch brackets up to 1 1/2 in. in diameter.

Two Sizes

The introduction of new machinery for camshafts has further complicated the problem.

The Melbourne firm grinder last year the first machine to be manufactured outside the United States to design and build a camshaft regrinding machine for the automotive re-building industry.

The need for such a machine in the motor industry is being demonstrated by the fact that of these make have been sold, including two to New Zealand and one to the United States.

There have been enquiries from Britain, New Zealand, Germany and California.

From a 15 per cent. profit margin, the firm is now producing a heavy-duty crankshaft grinder, which works out very cheaply in relation to very close tolerances and is operated by a relatively unskilled labourer in a matter of two steps.

WHEELS BALANCED ELECTRONICALLY

The goal is used to correct the clutch cover assembly, it is applied pressure to the clutch assembly under test and this pressure is recorded on a large dial gauge.

The amount of depressed movement obtained by controlling the clutch is recorded by the dial gauge. A micro-dial gauge measures the amount of depression in measured by a red signal on the gauge dial.

Drag accounts for most of the sources of clutch reduction. The tester will completely reverse the assembly by disengagement in advance of the clutch to ensure accuracy and fitting with oil a glass container which automatically lubricates the air cylinder ports.

AUSTRALIA

AUSTRALIA LEAD THE WORLD IN THE MANUFACTURE OF AUTOMOTIVE SPARE PARTS — AND EXPORTS TO 29 COUNTRIES

Fast growing industrial nation

FOURTH MOST - HIGHLY MOTORISED COUNTRY IN THE WORLD

Australians regard the automobile not as a luxury possession but as an important aid to better living. The reasons behind this national attitude include the need for good private transport in the huge island continent and the high standard of living which has been achieved.

Australians are among the most automobile-owning people in the world. There is a motor-vehicle for every four people in Australia, making the country the fourth most highly motorised in the world. The United States, Canada and New Zealand.

Last year, Australian spent more on cars and trucks than any other country in the world. That figure became more significant when it is recalled that the total population is 10,000,000.

Australia is the fourth most highly motorised country in the world—coming after the United States, Canada and New Zealand. In this article, emphasis is put on the vital part played by vehicles in maintaining links between the many States in the continent of nearly 2,000,000 sq. miles.

Australia is a vast country covering an area of nearly 3,000,000 sq. miles with a vast road system of more than 300,000 miles of roads, nearly 2,700,000 motor-vehicles. Seventy per cent of all fresh news in Australia is carried by road, making this country of 10,000,000 the most dependent on the automobile.

There is one truck to every 15 people, 100 cars to every 100 people, 100 motor-cars to every 100 people. This is a high ratio for any country. The demand for automobiles has caused a phenomenal growth of the motor-manufacturing industry in Australia.

THREE STAGES

The demand for automobiles has caused a phenomenal growth of the motor-manufacturing industry in Australia. This growth has been in three stages:

1. The first stage was the importation of motor-vehicles from the United States, Canada and New Zealand.
2. The second stage was the local manufacture of motor-vehicles in Australia.
3. The third stage was the local manufacture of motor-vehicles in Australia.

The next stage started when the Ford Motor Co. of Canada Ltd. and General Motors Corporation of America established a joint assembly plant in Australia in 1920 and 1928.

The third stage of the industry was the local manufacture of motor-vehicles in Australia. This was achieved in 1930, when the Australian Government encouraged the establishment of factories designed to produce motor-vehicles locally made from Australian parts.

About 95 per cent of the vehicles sold on the Australian market are either assembled or manufactured in Australia.

SERVICE AIM

Australians are demanding more motor-vehicles in their cars and trucks. This demand is being met by the local motor-vehicle industry.

CONSCIOUS AID

Government is helping the motor-vehicle industry in Australia. This is done through various means, including the provision of land for motor-vehicle factories and the provision of financial assistance.

SPECIAL SCHOOL TRAINS 1,800 APPRENTICES

GROWING motor-vehicle industry of Australia is not likely to go short of skilled men because of lack of a modern automotive school that recently been opened in Victoria.

The State Governor, Sir Dallas Brooks, spoke at the opening ceremony on May 16, 1960.

It is claimed that the school is one of the best of its kind in the world. It is said to be the only school of its kind in the world which provides a full course of apprenticeship in the motor-vehicle industry, covering all aspects of the motor trade.

RECORD IN SALES OF VEHICLES

Yearly sales of motor vehicles in Australia are reaching new high records.

For 1959, registrations of new motor-vehicles, 2,215,121 other motor-vehicles, 71,226.

For 1958, registrations of new motor-vehicles, 2,187,7 and other motor-vehicles, 71,226.

TWO NEW FABRICS

MAKE NEWS

By HAZEL MEYRICK
IT IS NOT the shape of your clothes but the fabric that counts, this year. That is my verdict after seeing the best of British fashion for next season.

Texture, colour and pattern are paramount in your choice of fabric.

But the show does not really matter so much as the classic and the colours coat are still fashionable.

Two fabrics of the future are making news. They are synthetic fibres which have produced the new two-way stretch and new appear with their own presentation.

WAFFLE PATTERNS

Characteristic for instance, now comes in a very shimmering for summer dresses. The waffle pattern is a risk, draped to all the well made Cortelle and one of the newer ones as well. It washes like a dress and need not be ironed at all.

Crimpe is in the fashion now. It is now in only stripes. It is now high-back form. The result is a look which is more with warm plush texture. THE fashion news from Milan is that we are still recovering from the onslaught of buyers and fashion writers who attended Milan's International Fashion Week in the month of March. Milan, which means the latest trends and developments in Italian and foreign textile production.

But back to Milan, what the designer, possibly by the name of the designer, possibly by the name of the designer, possibly by the name of the designer.

This season there is much talk of pure wool and jacquard. And also "jacquard" a dress fabric from France of the 1920's.

There are also many new shades of blue and green, which are very fresh and new.

Especially a new blue, called "Italy's colour of the season" and blue is the main colour of the season.

Cooking to please by Alex Simmons

WE in East Africa are sometimes very ignorant about food. Worse still, the Continental waiter is aware of this and his knowing smile can be devastating to the understand it and end of having a poached egg on toast.

Here's a tip: Forget your pride and believe. The waiter is here to help you and meet your needs.

Now you know whether you like your meat, if you do then this will just be another method of preparation. Here is the solution of this dish, and I know that you will not be disappointed in it.

Brise like a cut with vegetable garnish. Place the fish, about 20 lbs. of weight, in a large pan and add oil of roughly 1/2 lb. of weight.

Place the bones in the pan in place on top, then sprinkle with salt and pepper. Place the pan on a hot bed of coals and cook for 1 1/2 hours.

Minimum education of eight years

A PLAN which will give eight years' education to every child in the district has been recommended by the Nyeri Education Board.

The Director of Education has approved the plan, which contains provisions for the minimum education of eight years for all children in the district. It will be for the first time that a similar scheme is being introduced in other districts.

As a result of the decision, all primary schools throughout the district will be asked to provide a minimum of eight years' education. The plan stipulates that the pupils will be able to move up to the next level of education without any loss of time. Mr. S. Davidson, an Agricultural economist, talks to a group of young and African farmers in the South West district.

No-subsidy farmers more efficient than U.K. counterparts

"Standard" Correspondent says: It might come as a surprise to many of our readers that the most efficient farmers in Britain and the United States are not those who receive subsidies, but those who do not. This is the conclusion of a report by the Agricultural Economist and Lecturer at Exeter Agricultural College, Dr. B. H. Davidson, published recently in the "Standard".

Dr. Davidson said that farmers in Britain and the United States who do not receive subsidies are more efficient than those who do. He said that the reason for this is that farmers who do not receive subsidies are more efficient in their use of land, labour and capital.

CASTROL WILL MIX
There may be some motorists who believe that CASTROL will not mix with other makes of lubricating oil. There is no foundation for such a belief. CASTROL will mix readily with any other brand of oil, naturally with the greatest of results. CASTROL is also a detergent and should not be added with any other oil nor with any other grade of CASTROL. The full benefits of CASTROL will not be experienced, unless 100% CASTROL is used. Therefore, the pump should be drained and refilled with CASTROL to obtain maximum results.
