PAST AFRICAN elephants are helping to produce some of the most musical Britain - by way of piano keys.

Duane of elephant bone now being at London's St. Katharine Dock, but cut from the Tower of London, will go under the auctioneer's hammer next week.

Each of the ivory is expected to find its way to the South Island firm of Paderborn, whose instrument makers have used ivory piano keys, brass back-carpings, sound and thermostat valves.

Comgo shortage

Three tons of ivory, said to be from the East African coast and most of it brought from ivory auctioneers in Belgium, might only be for the ivory market but prices have not yet gone up.

All great ivory is being sold from the East African coast. The Comgo shortage is a problem for the ivory market. Ivory is being sold from the East African coast. The Comgo shortage is a problem for the ivory market.

Firm's schemes

Ivory was obtained by the firm's three partners, from a great deal of ivory from East Africa and most of it brought from ivory auctioneers in Belgium, might only be for the ivory market but prices have not yet gone up.

KENYA COMPANY CONTINUES SEARCH FOR SIGNS OF THAT 'BLACK GOLD'

Negotiations are taking place for a further agreement between the Kenya Government and the BP-Shell Petroleum Development Company (Kenya) Ltd. to extend the period of the oil-prospecting concession which would involve an extra expenditure of some £100,000. In this article ALBERT MATTHESON describes the exploration work at present being undertaken in the Colony.

THE search for oil in Kenya is on. Two international oil-prospecting groups, with vast experience, are now jointly in the field, prepared to spend millions of pounds in a quest which could revolutionise the economy of this East African colony, provided oil is found in sufficient quantity and the difficulties of transportation can be overcome satisfactorily.

Nowhere in East Africa, or even in the adjoining territories, has any oil yet been discovered, and the lack of any type of "prime mover" — either coal or oil — has certainly hindered progress in this part of Africa.

This impressive work shows the drilling rig lowering into the strata at Wala, near the Tana River. On the summit (above) the sections of the drill-pipe are being cut and substituted.

Camps on wheel house oil men

Some camps on a single berth bedroom: others fitted out in effect of laboratories, with space in even equipped as a mobile headquarters.

The cravans are already being used to much for East Africa, though not as much as they were in the past because these units are designed to operate under any conditions, having double "winch" gear with multiple gears.

UP TO BORDER

The company (BP-Shell Petroleum Development) operating in Kenya has recently moved its headquarters to the impressive quantity of valuable equipment to intensify the operations which have been in progress just over a year, following a more northwards into Kenya from the coastal area of Tanganyika.

The company's entire operations cover some 30,000 sq. miles of country, north of the Tana River, and stretches up to the border with the new Republic of Somalia.

An aerial view of the drilling rig working at Wala, a few miles from the Tana River. At the right (centre) can be seen the camp for the employees of the French company, Paraco, which is undertaking the drilling work on behalf of BP-Shell.

The area has already been surveyed by the aerial magnetic method, followed by gravity and seismic surveys.

They have been looking for the surface to obtain information about the rock formations.

The area has already been surveyed by the aerial magnetic method, followed by gravity and seismic surveys.

RECORD SOUND

Due to the nature of the terrain, with the complete absence of outcrops or exposed rock to give direct information to geologists, these slower and costlier investigation methods have been found necessary in Kenya.

SMALL TEAM

Four geophysicists, two surveyors and three assistants observe under the leadership of Peter Kirkby, aged 32 (whose experience ranges from Kewari to Burma and Iraq).

They are covering the area by seismic survey at intervals of 95 miles every month.

At the moment they are working south of the Tana River, east north of Lamu and are within a few miles of the Somalia frontier.

Their main camp is constantly on the move, never staying in one place for more than a few days, and they are now in the area of the Tana River, east north of Lamu and are within a few miles of the Somalia frontier.

So far, only a small amount of oil has been discovered in the area, but the company claims to have drilled 80 feet under ground.

Vauable comments on the life given by director

by J. F. LIPSCOMB

ALTHOUGH Wild Life in an African Territory, by Dr. Fraser Darling has been published in England by a number of Journals undertaken by Dr. Fraser Darling through the game area of Northern Rhodesia during 1926 and 1927.

It is, in fact, a report that is made at this time for the Director of the Game and Tourism Control Department of Northern Rhodesia, and to that extent it only offers limited interest to other countries such as Kenya which also are interested in wild life problems.

Furthermore, it is so extensive a technical book dealing with the mammals, birds, reptiles, and fish of Northern Rhodesia, that to that extent also is of limited interest to other countries.

But having said that one has to commend the book as a valuable contribution to the knowledge of the life of an African Territory.

SCRAPING BOMBS AWAY U.S.

SOME believe that the present explosion of world population is an ever greater threat. Man's survival than the atomic bomb which, in any case, may never be used. It is hard to agree to support that belief.

About 1909 B.C. the human population of the world was 25 million. By A.D. 1 the beginning of the Christian era had grown to about 250,000,000 an average of about 25,000 a year.

DEATH RATE FALLS
If this rate continues unchecked the present world population of 1,800,000,000 would have reached 2,000,000,000 by 2000 and over 2,500,000,000 by 2500.

Eventually there would come a time when even slanting the world would be over-crowded. The population would have collapsed and the number of humans which the Earth could no longer support would be less than the present population.

POST-WAR RISE
An international campaign for wider use of birth control has not so far resulted in getting a fall in the birth rate because of religious objections to contraceptive and the difficulty of getting them used by the poor and illiterate who have the most children.

OUT OF COURT
BY A BARRISTER

Drivers under the influence...

THE clerk rapped the door of the court. Everybody stood up. The magistrate took his seat. Soon the audience, mainly composed of the relatives of the drinking driver and the law.

The problems it raises include how it can be stopped before he is a real danger to the public? What sort of punishment should be got?

Several parties
The judge's explanation it transpired that he had been arrested for drinking. After the third party he had driven some 100 yards to a house where he was proceeding to his own house.

New model
"New car please," the magistrate said. The clerk handed out and Henry went to the dock and had been driving while under the influence. As a consequence he could not have proper control of his car.

"BABY BOOM"
This supports the theory that an abundant food supply and education is the cause of a growing, stable and a population growth and a population stability or even decline.

LONG SERVICE
LORD SPYER, former Secretary-General of I.C.A.S. and former Prime Minister, who has been given the highest honours of the Empire, has been awarded the Order of the British Empire.

ONLY ESCAPE
Over if he had of the anti-saving were reduced by such country to reduce taxation, the other half would be sufficient to bring about a rapid rise in the standard of living.

Gradual and slow development provides the only answer. From now on it is essential that all countries work to the maximum of their capacity to produce and save.

What is at stake in Europe
the birth rate fell as the standard of living rose. The present explosive phase would pass, and world population would become more stable or even decline.

HUB OF THE UASIN GISHU AREA—ELDORET TOWN HALL.

UASIN GISHU ROCKETS AHEAD—WITH FARMING

By Maurice W. Stitt

THE Uasin Gishu District, although at the time known as "the granary of Kenya", has often been considered in recent times as the "Cinderella" of the European farming areas.

Two years or so ago an enterprising town clerk at Eldoret, the district's market town, was tried to interest space scientists in setting up an interplanetary rocket launch.

Safari special

One way went as far as erecting a large advertising sign on the main road leading on the main road into Eldoret offering seats in space ships, but the local cynics merely shook their heads and pessimistically said it was no good buying for the moon.

RAPID ADVANCE

Members should farmers, for the participation of an advisory committee comprising members of the Ministry of Agriculture and Veterinary Services, but have lately getting the taste of the new results—the land area in the district from being 100,000 acres in 1954 to 150,000 acres in 1955.

Colonies in overall capital development and production, the fertile and black soils and the "big sister" in mixed farms and—Uasin Gishu District.

More than one quarter of the total acreage is under crops and 70 per cent of the land covered by 70 per cent and food crops by 60 per cent, indicating that very little land is left uncultivated.

Another fairly steady over the years, despite fluctuations in other parts of the Colony due to marketing difficulties with Uasin Gishu, claiming production of 100,000 tons of milk.

At the same time the industry is providing a growing export to Uganda. In this respect, too, poultry are also on the expansion, with 100,000 birds in 1955, 20 per cent of the population in the Uasin Gishu area.

For all the family

A wide variety of features catered for all members of the family will be found within the pages of the Week-End Standard.

Besides our popular regular articles, a number of new ones make their appearance today. "About the Home" (Page 16), new ideas on furniture and gadgetry, recipes and illustrated helpful hints.

There is, too, a special "Do-it-yourself" sketch and instructions for the many-objectionable in modern life that old bed.

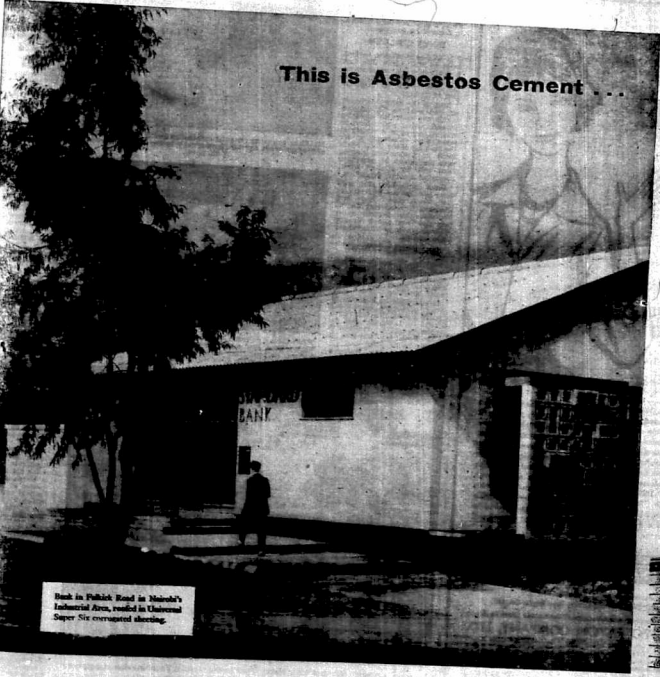

FATHER will discover that there will be a feminine touch to that moon trip and that he can, wisely, "Take a Cue" from Horace Liferion (both in Page 20).

YOUNGSTERS of all ages will have something to interest them in Page 12. There are the first of a new weekly series called "Stamp Crosswords," a Patriotic competition, and stories on fairs, diesel trains and Dickens.

PALMERS are provided with the "Safari Special", to Uasin Gishu (this page) and "Looking to the Land" (No. 9) in Page 10.

TOWN AND CITY TYPES receive, among other services a guide to the films in "Show Page 14).

FOR THE FAMILY there are crosswords, quizzes, bridge, chess, book reviews, weddings, personality columns, fashion programmes and travel-articles.

This is Asbestos Cement . . .

a UNIVERSAL product made in East Africa

Here's a building you could safely bank on—as well as in! The architect specified asbestos cement for the roof, gutters and down-pipes. This reduced costs in two ways. First, in the roof material itself. Secondly, asbestos cement sheeting needs less supporting steelwork than is required by many other types of roofing. Furthermore the excellent insulation value of asbestos cement means that interviews with the bank's manager are less hot and bothered!

This structure is another striking example of the outstanding advantages of asbestos cement:

- ★ Economy in cost of materials
- ★ The minimum heat absorption
- ★ Lightness and easy construction
- ★ No maintenance is ever required

Asbestos is ideal in Africa

MEMBER WHO PUTS KENYA FIRST

Kenya's Deputy Speaker

Mr. Joseph Ngunjiri, Kenya's Deputy Speaker, is a man of many talents. He is a brilliant orator, a keen administrator, and a devoted public servant. He has served the people of Kenya with distinction for many years. His dedication to the welfare of his constituents is well-known, and he has been instrumental in many important legislative measures. His leadership and integrity have earned him the respect and admiration of his colleagues and the people.

He speaks rationally, and his calmness and composure in the heated atmosphere of the House of Representatives is a credit to his character. He is a man of few words, but his words are always well-chosen and to the point. He has a deep understanding of the needs and concerns of the Kenyan people, and he always speaks in their best interests. His commitment to transparency and accountability is a model for all public officials.

Charity and darity

An Australian pianist, violinist and organist, Kenyan violinist have formed an amateur trio in Nairobi with the intention of giving pleasure to music-lovers. They are very different about that they will be able to raise money for charity with some performances in the New Year. They have been friends for many years, but were unable to play together a great deal until they met in Nairobi. They are now working on a recording of their music, and will be performing it in the New Year.

At the top

During the course of the past few days, many of the most important decisions in the country have been made. The government has taken significant steps to address the economic challenges facing the nation. These decisions are aimed at stabilizing the economy, creating jobs, and improving the standard of living for all Kenyans. The leadership has shown a clear vision and a commitment to the long-term development of the country.

1959 MOTOR SHOW

Value for your money' theme shows makers are chasing owners

BY PETER MERRITT

I THINK 1959 will be known above all as the year of value for money. Take off the iniquitous purchase tax and a fair-minded person must admit that many cars are ridiculously cheap in price.

Some makers this year have chopped anything up to £500 off the prices of their models. These are mainly Continental manufacturers facing even stronger opposition in the British market.

British manufacturers on the other hand have spent the intervening months between the last show and this customer is receiving the benefits, offers at no extra cost.

GOOD VISIBILITY

The emphasis in what makes a car sell has shifted too. The 100 m.p.h. is no longer seen when many average-priced family saloons cut the top ten.

Comfort for the passengers is the theme of the new Rover Show at Earl's Court, London, with the manufacturers enticing drivers with many more extras at no additional cost.

The old man view that tended to apply the driver to a collision has been replaced by a soft, padded filling.

More thought has been given to the seating of the public. Business Airline introduced secondary crash seats to the Lockheed production of the driver.

This means that the ladies will now be asked to sit on high heels without risk of an emergency.

STANDARD FITTINGS

There is still one manufacturer who charges 10/- extra for a starting handle but the standard equipment now standard fittings on cars above the 1000 cc range and I believe this arrangement will eventually apply to windscreen wipers.

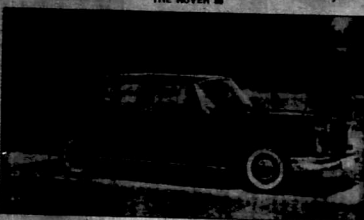

A regular complaint of mine when road testing cars is the high number of greasing points on so many of them. But these the Alpine has eliminated eight greasing points and other makers are endeavouring to do all.

EASY DRIVING

Brush the honest effort to bring more to initial more efficient engines. The motor-car has become an essential part of life for millions of men and women.

Many people may regard the passing of the pre-war through. But in these cars you had to expect many more misadventures on a journey. More than that, they were mechanical failures.

You were lucky if on a pre-war journey to the Coast you had to bail only once to change a wheel or to stop to get help. Since then the construction of cars has advanced so much that many people make for

MORE RADIOS—BUT STILL AS EXTRA

Two or three without ever having a function. No, we have never had it so good in the motor world.

The price of a radio has never been so good. Automatic transmission, power steering and power brakes have taken the hard work out of driving.

Even the heaviest of cars can now be handled by the ease. And these are not expensive cars.

Business Airline Group brought in the latest generation of cars with their Executive system four rippling on the two-piece propeller shaft have been reduced to one—the only one on the car.

At first glance the models all seem to be the same as last year. But that there is more value for money.

Indeed this Motor Show will be remembered as the most colourful for the family car, as good as the world.

Having already gone through a lot of other frontends and backends, you would have thought that there is no new motor show at the end of the year.

BE ADVENTUROUS IN MAKING SALADS

BY ELIZABETH KERWON

With salad ingredients always in the shops, and waitresses starting to be watched, even though the new fashions do not acknowledge them, need serving salads. Salads should be a source of satisfaction whether as a main course or an addition to a meal. Be adventurous, mix sweet with sour, make colour a stimulant to the appetite, and above all, get away from the wilted-looking concoctions served by the majority.

For a sour-sweet salad take three cups finely chopped cabbage, two oranges peeled and cut finely, a grated apple, a tablespoon of lemon juice, a stick of chopped handful of parsley, and salt and pepper to taste. Mix the cabbage and fruit together and dress lightly with lemon juice seasoned with salt and pepper.

Arrange in a salad bowl and garnish with cheese, well washed and sliced through in this circle. Sprinkle finely-chopped parsley on top.

An egg salad is mouth-watering and soft to eat. Boil a hamster. This is for hard-boiling eggs. Slightly shake the egg before cutting in one end of the shell with a knife or rolling pin for a minute or so, so that the white will break into small pieces when the shell is broken.

hard-boiled eggs with lemon and lobster with olive oil. Add a squeeze of lemon juice, and season with salt, pepper and mustard. Suitable some fresh chopped beets over the slabs, on the egg dressing and decorate the salad with small leaves of chopped beetroot. In the centre arrange tomatoes, carefully peeled, and without their stalks.

Simple yet appealing is this mixed salad. Use the same ingredients as the previous ones according to the season in winter. Substitute pineapples for the tomatoes and add a little of the other ingredients are thoroughly dry before you mix the salad.

Water is a fine thing but in a salad. Rub a wooden bowl with garlic, put in ingredients, and wash them with rubbing sugar or dry them thoroughly with paper. Add French dressing and lay through.

FOR SLIMMERS
 A special slimmer's salad is made of lettuce, cucumber and cucumber sticks. Wash thoroughly and make a bowl of water. Wash these with two slices of starch-reduced bread and a little yoghurt. Season and serve immediately.

This quarter cucumber per person and cut into four pieces. Season with salt and pepper. Wash thoroughly and sprinkle with a little freshly washed bread crumbs.

Seize with two slices of starch-reduced bread and a little yoghurt. Season and serve immediately.

For a more filling dish try this salad. Parsi, a quarter of an egg, a half pint of cream, two eggs, two slices of bread, two slices of butter, and a little yoghurt. Season and serve immediately.

Transfer mixture into the flat with salt and a tomato in the centre—cut down to open like a flower and with peas and radish slices around the sides. Serve with cucumber and one tablespoon mayonnaise.

POLISHED TOUGH
 For garnishing you will need cucumber and radish; slice two tomatoes, and some cooked peas. Parsi, a quarter of an egg, a half pint of cream, two eggs, two slices of bread, two slices of butter, and a little yoghurt. Season and serve immediately.

Remove the stem from the top and fill with a thick mixture of cream, two eggs, two slices of bread, two slices of butter, and a little yoghurt. Season and serve immediately.

Jim Grant thinks these latest arrivals in East Africa are marvellous!

Two little miracles created Jim Grant's life in the past few months. Number One—his wife, Hester, presented him with their first baby daughter, Elaine. Number Two—Jim discovered BP Energol "Visco-static" motor oil. One of those "miracles" is really a fairly static. But Jim Grant will gladly let you into the secret of BP "Visco-static" if closely concerns every motorist in East Africa.

WAS THERE AN EARLY SIGN?
 A few months ago BP asked Jim if he would test-drive BP "Visco-static" in the every-day running of his car. He was selected by chance as "an ordinary motorist-in-the-street." In fact Jim motorist further than most because he travels widely as an executive for the Noble-Lowden Pension Service.

Jim agreed to carry out the test and the engine of his late-1958 Peugeot 403 was drained and flushed and refilled with BP "Visco-static." That was with 4,000 miles on the "clock," since then he has travelled a further 5,000 miles with BP "Visco-static" oil changing every 1,000 miles.

CONCERNMENT BEGAN IMMEDIATELY
 "The first thing I noticed," says Jim, "was that there was more power in the engine—also the acceleration improved with 'Visco-static.' Then it had that odd wobble that I didn't have any usual constant starting in the morning. No choke—just pressed the starter and it was away!"

"That's more my wife—who didn't even know I'd got away oil—said she'd never known the car go so well, particularly up hills." It was finally admitted as the change BP "Visco-static" made," admits Jim.

A CHAMPION "VISCO-STATIC" USER
 Well there you are! There's one man who has learned what a difference oil can make to his car's performance. Jim is a confirmed BP "Visco-static" user now (he'd used an ordinary one-grade oil before).

There are many technical reasons why BP "Visco-static" is the best—and has been proved so with radio-active wear detector tests. There isn't the space to detail them now, but you can get a technical leaflet from any BP Service Station in East Africa.

CHANGE TO BP "VISCO-STATIC" NOW
 Any engine which is in good condition will benefit immediately from using BP "Visco-static" oil. It's the best oil for your car—no matter what the make.

Don't think Jim Grant's story is one in a million, because—BP Energol "Visco-static" is the largest selling multiple-grade oil brand in the U.K., Europe, America and elsewhere.

Menu French Potage

By GOURMET

THICK soup has been a popular dish since the times of the Romans, and probably since before that.

Today, many restaurateurs prefer to use potatoes as a thickener.

The two most popular forms of it are Potage Parmentier and Potage Purée.

The dictionary lists that purée is a thick soup, and potato is a thickener. So, it is a thick soup with a thickener.

Parmentier is usually served with the white sauce, and potato is usually served with the white sauce.

Gin-press plant may be built at Misani

LARGE scale manufacture of gum and gin may start in Kenya. Proposals for this setting up such an enterprise were submitted by a director of the Misani Sugar Mills, Mr. M. D. Hindeoka, when representing the Governor, Sir Patrick Keenan, to the Chief Minister, Mr. J. Hindeoka said that an application for the site had already been made and if the necessary arrangements were made would be extended still further.

Paré sugar
The Governor said he had to go to see the sugar by-product to see the best and to see the cost, but now this would be done with the necessary funds, although the supply of cattle feed would be a problem.

Mr. Patrick Keenan turned the matter over to the Chief Minister, Mr. J. Hindeoka, who said that he would see that the necessary arrangements were made. He also mentioned that the Government was planning to invest in the sugar industry at Misani in order to meet the increasing demand for sugar in the country. The Government was also planning to invest in the sugar industry in order to meet the increasing demand for sugar in the country.

Governor's praise
This example of ploughing had interested him in the country's secondary industries which were necessary to the development of the country. Faster increase by non-Whites
Non-Whites in the American population have been increasing faster than the number of Whites since 1950, the U.S. Census Bureau has reported in a report to Congress. The report shows that the number of non-Whites in the United States had increased by nearly 20,000,000 since 1950, and that the increase had been faster than that of Whites. The report also shows that the number of non-Whites in the United States had increased by nearly 20,000,000 since 1950, and that the increase had been faster than that of Whites.

EAST AFRICANS ENTERTAINED IN LONDON

Seventy-four Commonwealth students, most of whom recently arrived to study in London, were entertained to supper by young members of the English-speaking Union. They included representatives from Kenya, Tanganyika and Uganda.

The supper was one of three the English Speaking Union had given over to give Commonwealth students the opportunity of meeting students from British and other parts of the Commonwealth and the United States. Thirty younger members of the London branch acted as hosts.

This year the English Speaking Union has welcomed 12,000 visitors from the Commonwealth and the United States to British and arranged hospitality and general counselling.

Page of the Year Poley has the an expensive Bonfire Night

THE children have been getting ready for Guy Fawkes' Night for a long time now. They persuade you to make a big heap of it at the bottom of the garden for its bonfire.

They have been saving their pocket-money for fireworks, and the father of the family bought a few little things extra—Poley too. And off they went to the fireworks shop. The children bought the little things like the Spicils and Catherine Wheels, but mostly they liked the big fireworks with wonderful names like Witch's Castle and Space Rocket.

They liked them very much, but they didn't get a lot of fireworks. They came out of the shop and they called out "Poley, Poley!"

"LISE waiters!" said Poley. "I am like a chocolate bar, but you are not!"

THE Italian stamp, issued in 1936 to mark the 50th anniversary of the Simpson Tunnel, is enough of an enthusiast's shoulder.

The tunnel—which has given its name to one of the world's famous trains, the Simpson-Orient Express, connecting London, Paris and Marseilles—was built by the Italian and the French.

Vivid world of horror who took Africa to Europe

By MICHAEL DAVIDSON

BEFORE independence broke out in the Congo, Africa was in a clearing in the Hurt Forest and the sun felt a light—but phantoms of the past, the boyhood heroes, Allan Quartermain, Cecil Rhodes and Co. were once imprisoned in hostile Africa's "dark sun".

The same day I explored the crater of a volcano, the affinity became a little less tense. Even the discovery later that Rider Haggard based his "She" on the caves at Woodfontein in the Transvaal could not do this. It was not completely.

That these small matters—integrated one conceptually—recently is a tribute to the spirit that Rider Haggard's stories cast on me when a child.

Of course, was Haggard in this. One of his study and his admitted to the "She" he felt as a boy could be done.

£1,100,000 awards

AFRICAN TOWNSHIP CONTAINING 3,000 HOUSES TO BE BUILT

WIMBORI City Council has awarded a contract worth £1,100,000 for the construction of an African township of 3,000 family houses and the services. In announcing this yesterday A.M. J. Somers described it as "one of the biggest feathers we keep in our cap".

The contract, for a township of 3,000 houses, was awarded to Alfred Malpas and Sons (Pty.) Ltd., an associated company of Sir Alfred Malpas and Son Ltd.

Mr. Somers explained that it was a construction of a township of 3,000 houses, which was to be constructed in a fringe area of the township, but left to the direct negotiating of the City Council.

SIX PER CENT INTEREST RATE

In a statement also issued yesterday in London, Mr. Somers said the rate of interest on the loan was six per cent to introduce to the council the capital necessary.

The council undertook to accept the loan over seven years, but he said that those houses were to be constructed within three years. The Kenya Government had undertaken to guarantee the loan, which was in sterling.

Miss Kenya in London

Miss Kenya, who is on a tour of the United Kingdom, arrived in London yesterday. She is the first of a party of four to visit the country.

She is accompanied by her husband, Mr. J. W. Day, and two other members of the party.

Miss Kenya is a member of the Kenya National Council and is also a member of the Kenya Women's Club.

She is expected to stay in London for a few days before returning to Kenya.

Terrorist pledge

General Kenia has pledged to be heading a force of 100 men to fight against the British Government.

He said that the force would be made up of men from the Kenya National Council and other organizations.

General Kenia is a member of the Kenya National Council and is also a member of the Kenya Women's Club.

Among the boys of beautiful

Kenya, the Kenya National Council has announced that it will be holding a beauty pageant for the boys of Kenya.

The pageant will be held in Nairobi and will be open to all boys of Kenya who are between the ages of 10 and 15.

BANNER MEN BOUND OVER

Five men were bound over to the Kenya National Council for displaying banners in the streets of Nairobi.

The men were charged with displaying banners which were defamatory to the Government.

Choking Remains

The remains of a man who was killed in a car accident in Nairobi have been identified as those of a man named John Doe.

The man was killed in a car accident on the road between Nairobi and Mombasa.

WATERLINE COULD TRANSFORM KENYA'S ECONOMY

A WATERLINE project could transform Kenya's economy by providing irrigation for the agricultural sector.

The project would involve the construction of a long pipeline to transport water from a reservoir to the fields.

This would allow farmers to grow crops year-round and increase their productivity.

Close control

Close control is being exercised over the waterline project to ensure it is completed on time.

The government is providing financial support and technical assistance for the project.

RECORD ROUND-ABOUT

FOR countless years, it has been a sacred dogma of record-makers that sonatas for violin and piano and the pianist at the far end of the microphone must be played in a certain order.

But now, just when we were almost resigned to such musical selections, there comes a perfectly balanced RCA 111629 set-BB 2064. I should like to think that this was brought about by a change of heart.

Music, of course, because it is so much more enjoyable when it is played in a certain order.

A perfect coupling. Let us hope there are more like it in the future.

A new recording comes from Mercury (RCA 111629 set-BB 2064), with the veteran Joseph Szigeti as soloist in the Brahms Violin Concerto. It was taped in London by the London Orchestra conducted by Herbert Stross.

It is a performance of such a high standard of performance—musical, and perhaps, but a realising of the possibilities of such a "vintage" performance.

Also from Mercury is a strong recommendation for a new recording by the London Orchestra, conducted by Herbert Stross.

It is a performance of such a high standard of performance—musical, and perhaps, but a realising of the possibilities of such a "vintage" performance.

BLUNTED ATTACK

Stiletta's attack has naturally caused a great deal of concern, but the fact is that it was blunted by the fact that she was wearing a protective device.

The blunting of the attack was due to the fact that she was wearing a protective device.

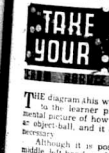

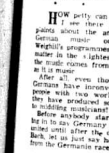

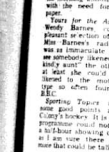

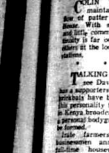

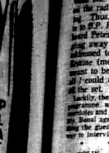

The blunting of the attack was due to the fact that she was wearing a protective device.

Taking to the air

PETER RICHARDS is a nervous laughter. At the best of times it is irritating but in the case of the radio it is infuriating. This, when I turned on my set to hear P.P. King & Bill and New Orleans giggle away at all remarks made by the two comedians (most of them not being so funny) it was almost too much for me. I would do best to turn off the set.

Leading the parade carried the programme with its amusing and amusing personal remarks and general remarks to every one who has a set.

COLIN Hamilton still maintains a smooth flow of water in his second year. He has maintained his position in the centre class many times in the local broadcasting.

WELCOME CRICKET CONGRESS

INNOVATION AT WEEKEND

THE inaugural Combined Officers' Handicap match, to be played this weekend at the grounds, is a first of its kind in the history of the Kenya Cricket Council. It is a general invitation to all cricketers in this country. The names of the two contestants in the players of the two teams will be announced in the next issue of the magazine. The cricketers who are invited to play are those who have played in the past year and who are under 35 years of age. The match will be a one-day affair and will be played on a Saturday afternoon. The grounds will be open to all cricketers and spectators. The match will be a one-day affair and will be played on a Saturday afternoon. The grounds will be open to all cricketers and spectators.
