NAIROBI, TUESDAY, APRIL 11, 1933.

PRICE 30 CENTS.

Changes In The Income Tax Bill.

REDUCTION IN THE SCALE OF RATES. Select Committee's Proposals.

MOOPHOLE FOUND BY WHICH OWNERS OF SHIPPING MAY ESCAPE.

The Report of the Select Committee on the Income Tax Bill was presented to the Kenya Legislative Council yesterday.

The committee do not propose any increase in the personal abatements or in the family allowances.

The main recommendation is a reduction in the rate of tax whereby the first £300 of chargeable income shall be taxed at 1/ in the £ instead of £100 as at first proposed.

The Committee has discovered a somewhat serious loophole in regard to the taxation of shipping companies.

An Income Tax Bill is introduced simultaneously in Tanganyika, non-resident shareholders may escape the tax by diverting traffic to Tanganyika ports or by altering more attractive freight rates for the ports in the Mandated Territory.

The Report makes provision for the doubling of the Non-Resident Poll Tax, to which objection is taken by one of the Indian members.

Generally the Committee are of the opinion that if any further relief can be given it should take the form of a reduction in rates rather than by providing more generous abatements.

CONFERENCE AT WASHINGTON. Cautious Attitude by France.

To Watch Proceedings Only! M. HERIOT APPOINTED AS REPRESENTATIVE.

Two questions were asked at yesterday's sitting of the Kenya Legislative Council relative to the recent French note to the Government.

The first was asked by Capt. the Hon. H. E. Selous, Nyeri. He asked the Government to represent France in the MacDonald-Roosevelt discussion.

Mr. Heriot had accepted the invitation to go to Washington to represent France in the MacDonald-Roosevelt discussion.

He will go as a "free informant" to the conference, but will bring back information to enable the Government to reach a decision on all problems discussed at Whitehouse especially debts.

In this connection his appointment has proved to be a sore point among French Kaimulani, who are mindful of the fact that since his Government was defeated on this very question, he has not ceased to urge that France should meet her obligations.

Further Investigations. [By wireless.] Bugby, April 10. The Prime Minister remained in London over the night, when he was engaged in negotiations for the proposed conference.

Meanwhile a further communication has been issued from the American State Department during the week-end, which indicates the scope of President Roosevelt's ranging conversations with representatives of other powers in an effort to secure international cooperation.

The announcement says that the list of visitors invited to attend personal representatives to Washington for the preparatory discussions in connection with the World Economic Conference is as follows: Great Britain, France, Italy, Germany, Japan, China, Argentina, Brazil, Mexico and Canada. British Official Wireless Service.

IN THE HANDS OF PIRATES. British Officers Still Captive.

Russian Demands. GERMAN DISCUSSIONS WITH ITALY. Signer Mussolini's Views on Treaty Revision.

GLADES SUPPORTED BUT NO FORCE TO BE USED. Herr von Papen Aims to Visit Vatican.

[LONDON LETTER'S AGENT.] Newchang, April 9. Negotiations are now progressing for the release of the British officers of the steamer "Nanchang," and the intermediary sent to the pirates after a Peang relayed a letter from the pirates stating that they are willing to discuss terms, and also a letter from the captives acknowledging foot and clothing supplies that they are well.

As the pirates' letter is dated only yesterday, they are presumed to be close at hand, but the junks in which they are being held appear to be continually being moved about in order to escape detection, making it difficult for couriers to locate them.

It will be recalled that pirates captured the Chinese crew of the British ship "Nanchang," and seized the crew, and sent the vessel to Meas, Borneo. Butterfield and Co., Ltd., which was being fitted out, and sent the vessel to Meas, Borneo. Butterfield and Co., Ltd., which was being fitted out, and sent the vessel to Meas, Borneo.

The Trial of British Subjects in Russia.

TO BE HELD IN SPECTACULAR SURROUNDINGS. Special Preparations.

HALL TO BE FURNISHED WITH RELICS OF CZARIST REGIME.

The trial of the British engineers, who are charged by the Russian Government with espionage and sabotage, will be held in Moscow amidst spectacular surroundings.

The Supreme Court will sit in the Trade Union House, which in the days of the monarchy was the Nobilium's Club, and what was then the "Blue Room," and is now a workmen's meeting place, is being specially refurbished and redecorated for the trial.

The room is being hung with crystal chandeliers, expensive damasks, all relics of the Czarist regime.

Copies of the indictment, a document of 77 pages, have been handed to the accused, but only under the greatest secrecy and with a promise by the accused not to divulge the contents.

A Secret Indictment. [LONDON LETTER'S AGENT.] Moscow, April 9. The trial will begin at noon on Wednesday, and will last for several days.

Meanwhile the British are making special preparations to furnish and renovate the "October Hall" in the Trade Union House, where the trial will be held.

The room is being hung with crystal chandeliers and expensive damasks, all trophies of the Czarist regime, and what was then the "Blue Room" of the Nobilium's Club. The room is now the meeting place for workers.

FREEDOM & JUSTICE.

[*STANDARD* CORRESPONDENT.]
London, March 26.

(By Air Mail.)
Considerable attention is being given by all the Jews of this country to the anti-Semitic agitation in Germany. The German Government issued an offer to deny that there is any organized anti-Jewish action. Its spokesmen admit individual acts, but declare this is entirely inevitable in revolutionary days. These explanations, however, are very unsatisfying because it is quite clear that all Jews have been classed from official positions of every sort, that most of their property has been destroyed and that there is something very like a boycott against the big stores in Germany which are now all carried on by Jewish proprietors. Certain Germans, such as Einstein and Freud, however, have been declared that the German Government is only in accord with the ordinary British policy. German anti-Semitism has always been anti-British and does not surprise anybody. This is only a surprise in that individual followers have been allowed to get out of hand.

Retaliation.

As a result there is great bitterness amongst British Jews and this is translating itself into all boycotts. In the East End of London the boycott of German goods is backed up by a food and inflammatory propaganda. Many shops in Whitechapel had their windows smashed. Two hundred letters were sent to the following notice: "Our country is not with Germany as a State. We do not intend to have any discrimination against Jews. We will not tolerate the existence with the nation of Germany."

Bill brings within the scope of the law a non-resident person carrying on the business of air-transport or cable wireless telegraphy. He shall be assessed to tax on the same basis as a non-resident who carries on a business arising from the business of air-transport or cable wireless telegraphy. He shall be assessed to tax on the same basis as a non-resident who carries on a business arising from the business of air-transport or cable wireless telegraphy.

Returns by Employer.

By an alteration to Clause 65 of the Bill, employers will be required to submit returns to the Inland Revenue Commissioners of the names of all persons in their employment whose remuneration exceeds £240 a year. Under the original Bill employers were compelled to make a return in respect of all employees in their employment. The new Bill provides that employers should file returns in respect of all persons whose remuneration exceeds £240 a year. The new Bill also provides that employers should file returns in respect of all persons whose remuneration exceeds £240 a year. The new Bill also provides that employers should file returns in respect of all persons whose remuneration exceeds £240 a year.

Safe for German Jew.

In an interview Mr. Laski said that he did not see a Jewish boycott of German goods, but he was individually sympathetic with those spontaneous outbreaks of "vigilante." The Board had considered the question of specific cases of persons of Jewish origin who had been persecuted. They were being taken to Germany and were being taken to Germany. They were being taken to Germany and were being taken to Germany. They were being taken to Germany and were being taken to Germany. They were being taken to Germany and were being taken to Germany.

The Jewish Viewpoint.

Mr. Laski, in this speech, mentioned the following points: "Our country is not with Germany as a State. We do not intend to have any discrimination against Jews. We will not tolerate the existence with the nation of Germany." Mr. Laski, in this speech, mentioned the following points: "Our country is not with Germany as a State. AGAIN IN 1933

CHEVROLET ACHIEVES WHILE OTHERS STILL TRY

Larger wheelbase - new "Air-Stream" styling - more powerful six-cylinder engine - larger, safer Fisher Bodies - Fisher no-draft ventilation, safety plate glass in windshield - castion-balanced engine for smoother operation - improved free wheeling - synchro-mesh shift with silent speed - even greater economy . . . and many other important improvements that make the new Chevrolet the great value for 1933.

General Motors no-draft castion-balanced ventilation is a new development of fresh air in your closed car without uncomfortable drafts - without danger to health from dust and germs - without loss of power - still you ride in a car with no-draft ventilation.

POLICE METHOS RUSSIAN CASE.

Amazing Stories From Prison.

WHITE PAPER REVELATIONS OF SOVIET SYSTEM.

The Accused Engineers.

ALLEGED CONFESSIONS USED TO TRAP AND INTIMIDATE BRITISH EMPLOYEES.

An amazing story of experience of British engineers in Russian hands is revealed in a White Paper issued by the British Government.

Details are given of alleged confessions made by the accused men and stories levelled against their colleagues by them—with all of which the arrested men have been confronted in long and trying cross-examinations by the Secret Police.

One Russian woman is described as reeling of confessions mechanically in an unnatural manner today as it is heard.

Mr. John Custody, the Kenya engineer was approached by Russian spies who asked to undertake secret work unknown to his firm, but refused the proposition.

Later a woman was sent for by the authorities and instructed to persuade Metropolitan Vickers' manager in Russia to do the same work. She also refused.

One of the engineers, Mr. William Henry Thornton, chief assistant to the manager, who has been under constant interrogation—during which serious accusations were made against him by his colleagues and by many Russians—is described as being in a state of terror.

The trial is due to begin at noon today.

Offer To Kenya Man.

London, April 11.—A remarkable story is revealed in the White Paper issued by the British Government and laid before Parliament today, on the events connected with the arrest of six British engineers in the Embassy of Japan at Moscow at various times during the past year.

The White Paper states that the impression left by Mr. Montagu's mission as a result of his examination of the case was that no charge would be made against the engineers. Mr. Montagu, however, stated that he thought against this, and that he had been told by the Soviet Government that the White Paper was a result of his examination of the case.

The impression is recorded by the White Paper that the engineers were in the White Paper that the impression left by Mr. Montagu's mission as a result of his examination of the case was that no charge would be made against the engineers.

FURTHER USE FOR SISAL.

To Be Employed by Post Office.

Commons Statement.

London, April 11.—The Postmaster-General, Sir Kingsley Wood, informed the House of Commons today that the Department proposed to follow the same lines as suggested in the recent Admiralty report regarding the use of rope made from sisal fibre, namely to adopt it partially in the Post Office work as long as supplies could be obtained at satisfactory prices.

P.W.D. DECENTRALISATION.

Report Not To Be Published.

Only one question was asked Government at yesterday's sitting of the Kenya Legislative Council, I.A. Col. the Hon. J. H. Platen South, asked Government to state what the Report of the ad hoc Committee on the Decentralisation of the Public Works Department would be published.

Manchukuo Railway Dispute.

Trouble is brewing again in the Far East. Japanese and Manchukuo authorities are demanding the return of large numbers of Railway vehicles taken to Russia from the Chinese Eastern Railway—a joint Chinese-Russian possession.

There is already talk of "open conflict."

Sent To The Soviet.

London, April 11.—An amusing story of the "black stock" for the transport of Japanese troops east of Hsiao, Manchuria was given at the time by Japan that the movement of the troops was solely for the purpose of protecting Japanese interests in the region of Manchuria.

Russia replied that the transportation of troops on the Chinese Eastern Railway violated the terms of the Portsmouth Peace-treaty which prohibited the use of the Manchurian railway exclusively for commercial and industrial purposes and in no way for military purposes.

The Manchukuo authorities have demanded the immediate return of the vehicles, while the opinion is freely expressed that the Japanese may result in open conflict with Great Britain and Russia or in drastic curtailment of Russian influence over the Chinese Eastern Railway.

The trouble between Japan and Russia which is under the joint control of China and Soviet

WIRELESS NOTES
 The "East African Standard" has arranged for the publication weekly (on Wednesday) of a page devoted to the interests of Wireless. The page will be controlled by an expert who will be glad to answer queries and, where possible, to solve the problems of the wireless enthusiast. If, in himself, a wireless aspirant who is also engaged in transmission, and has had some queries should be addressed to "Aerial," "East African Standard," P.O. Box 380, Nairobi. Replies will be given through the Wireless Page.

HOW TUNING IS DONE.
 [Special to the "East African Standard," by "Aerial."]

1,500 metres which is quite outside the broadcast spectrum. Now a word as to how tuning is done. In tuning a receiver to a given transmitter it is necessary to tune the receiver to the wave length of the transmitter or in other words to make the electrical properties of the receiver (Hertz) tuning the diode valve of the receiver similar to those of the circuit of the transmitter. Each circuit has its own capacity and inductance. As described in the first issue, you require a good deal of technical knowledge to be able to tune to any station varying between the wave lengths of which signals are received. This wave length is for each circuit, and the electrical length is received by steps in the form of coils of wire wound on a ferrite core and connected to the terminals which are permanently plugged into appropriate sockets on the front panel of the receiver. The capacitance is usually a continuously variable within definite limits, and this is the Kern's continuously variable unit which can be made to cover a greater or lesser extent by being replaced, either by hand or by a motor, with another of the same kind. This is the main principle of the set and in the main cases when many of the variable tuning elements are required they are very often connected together and are operated by one control. Thus the prominent wave length is made continuously variable over a wide range. As an example a receiver with this variable control has a minimum gain of 200 metres. With the condenser set at maximum the wave length will

 Death of Mr. George Chagge, April 21, 1936. Mr. George Chagge, who died on Monday last, leaving behind him a wife and three children, was a prominent businessman in his time in British East Africa. Mr. George Chagge might well be remembered by other worthy citizens of Kenya who were acquainted with him as the man who had been one of the first to apply for a licence to establish a wireless station in Kenya. It is a pity that the possibility of a wireless station in Kenya was not taken up at an earlier date. The construction of a wireless station capable of such a wide range of wave lengths is a very important matter, and it is a pity that the possibility of a wireless station in Kenya was not taken up at an earlier date. CHEVROLET ACHIEVES WHILE OTHERS STILL TRY Longer wheelbase — new "Aer-Stream" styling — more powerful six-cylinder engine — larger, lower Fisher Bodies — Fisher no-draft ventilation, safety plate glass in windshield — cushion-balanced engine for smoothest operation — improved free wheeling — synco-mesh shift with silent second — even greater economy... and many other important improvements that make the new Chevrolet the great value for 1935.

General Motors no-draft controlled ventilation is one of the most important modern automotive developments. Plenty of fresh air in your closed car — without uncomfortable drafts — without danger to health from dust and carbon filaments. No-draft ventilation — still your value in a car with no-draft ventilation.

one British Railway was later completed by the establishment of the state of Manchuria. The Manchukuo Government made no attempt to reproduce the Japanese Government's approach to the railway. The Japanese Government, however, has been in possession of the railway since the Japanese military intervention and as a result the Manchukuo Government has not been able to control the line to its advantage. The Japanese Government has frequently expressed its willingness to make the Chinese Government responsible of holding in without foreign interference which it had no intention of recognizing Manchukuo, which it had not upon a paper of Japan.

THE SUMMER HOLIDAYS.

Line Cruises and Air Travel Plans.

THE "EMERALD" COMPANY LTD., London, March 28. It looks as if cruising in there is to be again the most popular form of holiday. The Travel Agents and Shipping Companies are doing their best with all variations to make this year popular and we see that hundreds of people have already booked up their passages. Cruising is to be more luxurious and enjoyable than ever. The White Star Line is giving a lead in the historic, which has just introduced some attractive alterations to its programme during its preparation for a Easter cruise.

A Lido and Blue Lagoon were being put in a new cocktail bar with a veranda overlooking them. This building under these conditions will be possible for the Lido, which will be decorated with glass, stone and brilliant coloured glass mosaics.

Another popular form of travel, and all sorts of tours are advertised. Naturally they are the most desirable, but it is hoped to make the public completely satisfied with everything to be done in the coming holiday season.

AMAZING STORIES FROM PRISON.

purpose and received from Manchester a full account of the situation and called of shells and electricity.

Mr. Macdonald was embarrassed by Mr. Thornton's astonishment, who upon the latter was made to look at his book to Macdonald. The latter then said that the account of the White Paper that the alleged evidence only had been through continuous articles. Three prisoners under conditions which could only be presumed were the manager of the Alga. Macdonald was subjected.

COWED RUSSIANS.

Amazing Examples of Opu Method.

A British Official Wireless message dated yesterday, gives further details from the White Paper. The Russian prisoners, who had been taken to their colleagues and were confined by Russians who were obviously cowed and terrified.

Maidine Matthews, the company's secretary, one of the Russian prisoners, who had been taken to the White Paper, when she was sent by Mr. Thornton, who was a member of the intelligence service and who was engaged in working Mr. Thornton's plan to rescue the prisoners. It is supposed that Maidine Matthews had been treated in the usual manner by the British in regard to her relatives.

PERSONAL PRESENTS.

On March 30, Mr. Macdonald was contacted with Mr. Thornton's agent, stating that the long list of small presents—such as clothing, and money, was payable during their stay in the prison.

Mr. Macdonald was also contacted with Mr. Thornton's agent, who was a member of the intelligence service and who was engaged in working Mr. Thornton's plan to rescue the prisoners. It is supposed that Maidine Matthews had been treated in the usual manner by the British in regard to her relatives.

of the public wishes in regard to financial policy. The debate, however, is in view of the importance of the subject, was short and not exhaustive. It was necessary in the course of a preliminary discussion to reveal opposing opinions and, as such, it has served a useful and timely purpose. The Colonial Secretary is to be commended for his candidness in stating that the Government's assumption that the colony, through its representatives, would advance its own proposals, was not prejudicial and should be maintained. There was no such withdrawal in fact. The witnesses made it quite clear that they were not prejudicial. The Government but were merely postponing for the time being their demand for an immediate advance of the obvious and essential development of the system. # LADIES' FASHIONS

A Letter from Paris.

It was properly worn—has given place to a much longer veil, which may fall far as far as the chin. It has less something in case by this addition of inches, but it can still be adjusted to a most becoming angle. The popular feather bow needs mental shoring and more careful wearing. The short woman whose figure is not so slender as she should remember that the deep, stiff bow takes away considerably from her height. Her slenderness, and that of the judges in it is a decorative element which she must not lose. It is a decorative element which she must not lose. It is a decorative element which she must not lose.

Hats need this, also, the shape being first pulled on well over the nose. The effect is much more charming than the stiffened look which the pushing-off-the-face has given to most women for so long.

BEAUTY AT ODD MOMENTS

Four Exercises Worth Trying.
Woman can do all the muscle exercise necessary to keep her in good figure conditions at odd moments in the day. With a trained musician's face she can do it.

There is a new sleeve line which is very attractive. Rows of gussets accentuate it in the blouse of cream and the grey.

tion in the above. This may seem a very simple exercise, but actually it lifts and tones every body muscle, both for, say, half a minute, before a further relaxation is made. This strengthens the muscles that pressure on the knee-points is diminished, and the stretching of the ligaments which eventually causes a rheumatic condition is avoided.

The second is a stomach exercise for bringing back to strength and fitness muscles which have become flabby. It consists of the following:—The feet are placed on a stool, the knees are bent, and the body is raised to a position very slowly and without any jerks.

The third exercise will correct a tendency towards drooping eyelids in the face. It consists of closing the eyes under and then gradually allowing them to begin their work.

BAKED GUSTARD

A baked custard is very easy to make, and the reason why it is so often omitted instead of setting in a nice firm wedge is because many people use cold milk. The French way of making baked custard is as follows, and if you go by this it should not curdle.

Beat one egg well, then put half pint of milk to heat and reheat it with a little sugar. Stir, but do not on any account allow the milk to boil. When the milk is quite hot remove the saucepan from the fire, and stir the beaten egg gradually into the milk.

Have ready a little pint of milk slightly buttered. Pour the custard into it, and bake it in a water bath for a quarter of an hour to twenty minutes. A little beating or stirring should be sprinkled over baked custard, but if you do not care for eggs you may favour the milk with vanilla, which is in season here. For a larger custard use two eggs to one pint of milk.

Planned effects are seen on the skirts if many evening gowns. The chief with a black spot have opportunity for the introduction of smart sleeve effect.

Reproduction of the fashions which have been shown so recently in Paris at the dress shows are reaching London, and one cannot but notice women who are a little concerned at the attempted return to modified styles of 1922. The low waists and light skirts, the large hat heaped at the back with flowers, and the throat of bouffants are all rather discouraging now that we have become accustomed to most practical lines with no superfluous trim.

It is quite possible to think one's own version of these new fashions, and to discard ideas which do not appeal or threaten to be unbecoming. The shorter, tighter skirt appears to be the chief problem of 1933. So far it has been shown in recognition with a waist of three-quarters, or nearly three-quarter, length. There is no reason to believe that the coat will diminish and become like the 'no jacket' of a few years ago, especially as the skirt is so long. It is something shorter must be chosen it is always possible to have a well cut little bolero of a contrasting material. Many of those which are already fading favour have a kimono sleeve—very wide at the armholes and tapering down into necked kimono cuffs.

The tiny oval—the smartest thing in millinery adjuncts when Plain Straw.

To wear with plain-patterned silks there are hats of plain straw, the different orders being worked most of them into attractive and simple designs. Most straw hats used for hats of this style—simple, elegant and unassuming—come from some of the new "middle" shape shapes.

Here is a more extreme example of the top of the hat and they, but in truth a young girl, who is eager to carry them off, will find it difficult to do so. Those of us who are older may keep our hats, however, and look most attractive in them if we wear them with only slight tilt to the side.

Pilmy materials are being used again for wedding gowns. Ivory lace over an underflow of shimmie is suggested here with little puffed sleeves of the same. The veil is of fine tulle, arranged over a wreath of half-opened orange buds.

DONEODEX

the x-ray of business

The new way for all records superseded the old "card-index" or ledger methods. Makes crystal-clear facts, which, unless arranged on DoneoDEX, are obscure and difficult to write at. Amongst other advantages, DoneoDEX gives you Control over every stage of your work, and enables you to see at a GLANCE—Customer's Record.—You can see at once those who have not purchased from you for 6 months. Ledger.—You can see at a glance those of your accounts which have not been settled for any particular period you wish to know. Stock Record.—You can see at a glance (a) Those goods which are not moving. (b) Those goods which are dangerously low. (c) Those which are heavily overstocked. Works Record.—You can see at a glance—(a) Exact progress of any piece of work at any stage. (b) All jobs in hand or unaccounted.

Safeguarding the Mining Areas.

The Government of Kenya is seeking exceptional powers under a new Bill to be known by the somewhat unattractive title of "The Expansion from Proclaimed Areas Ordinance, 1933". The purpose of the measure is to make possible the removal from any mining area of any persons or persons whose continued presence there is considered to be undesirable in the public interest. The official statement of objects and reasons attached to the Bill sets out, in brief, a true and accurate summary of the measure and has been already drafted that it is calculated to effect the intentions of the Bill. The "Objects and Reasons" state, in brief, that it is the intention of the Government to propose to order on Provincial Commissioners, persons of influence from those areas of persons whose presence there is for any reason undesirable and at the same time it is proposed to establish Advisory Boards of unofficial members, who, on the advice of Provincial Commissioners, will be guided. It is stated that the Bill would have been drafted in the manner proposed to order on Provincial Commissioners, persons of influence from those areas of persons whose presence there is for any reason undesirable and at the same time it is proposed to establish Advisory Boards of unofficial members, who, on the advice of Provincial Commissioners, will be guided. It is stated that the Bill would have been drafted in the manner proposed to order on Provincial Commissioners, persons of influence from those areas of persons whose presence there is for any reason undesirable and at the same time it is proposed to establish Advisory Boards of unofficial members, who, on the advice of Provincial Commissioners, will be guided.

the ultimate interest of any race in this country to allow conditions to exist which may ultimately breed discontent and trouble between races and demerit the reputation of Kenya and its white population has been forgotten. If powers of this exceptional kind are allowed, or if injustice result from them, the Boards will soon become a delicate and very responsible trust to perform and unless the responsibility is discharged faithfully and conscientiously, the welfare and peace of the Colony will be the only test, the standard of public morality which this Bill sets will be seriously endangered. Consequently, it is inadvisable to provide as many practical safeguards as possible in the exercise of these wide powers and instructions. Scrutiny upon which so important a provision can be set up and operated. It is worthy of comment that the Government of Kenya has shown much faith in the honesty and faithfulness of the unofficial community in the great measure of which it is prepared to accept responsibility for the discharge of its duties. This confidence should be cherished and guarded from every suspicion of abuse. The opportunity is taken of reference to this subject to stress the attitude of the Mines Department in the report of a recent meeting of the Kenya Council of Mines, at which the not unreasonable complaint was made that officers of the Mines Department are empowered to act as judges in cases arising out of the Mines Ordinance, and in which the Department itself is sometimes the complainant. If that is the case, it should appear a fundamental principle of justice, there must be a representative body for the extension of power in mining law touches to substantial officers, and wherever possible all offences against any law should be referred to a representative body of the Mines Department, wherever the difficulty, so appears them to be.

THE KENYA PYRETHRUM GROWERS ASSOCIATION. MINERS HEATED MEETING.

AN INSTITUTE OF ARCHITECTS. Another Attempt to Pass Debit Bill.

Kenya Income Tax Bill in Committee.

ELECTED MEMBERS LEAVE THE CHAMBER. Mr. O'Shea, Lone Fight.

GOVERNMENT DECLINES TO ACCEPT HIS MAIN AMENDMENTS.

The report of the Select Committee on the Income Tax Bill was adopted by Legislative Council yesterday and was considered by the Committee of the House. The majority of the European Elected Members were absent when the motion for the adoption of the Select Committee's report was moved, and when the House went into committee, only Mr. T. J. O'Shea remained.

During the committee stage Mr. O'Shea moved a large number of amendments to the various clauses with the recognition of those to which Government consented. His main amendment, which was to amend section 1, was rejected, and Mr. O'Shea announced that his report on the Bill had been prepared.

Mr. O'Shea also registered a protest against the majority in which the Bill had been considered by the Select Committee. He suggested that adequate consideration had not been given to its provisions.

In regard to the Council debate, which was held on the measure he postponed until 1926, the Attorney-General said that Government would not obtain the revenue this year, but in any case the effect of the measure would be to reduce the revenue to the Secretary of State who would ultimately decide.

During the discussion on Civil Servants' allowances, the Attorney-General said that the Government were purely an administrative matter, but he did not consider that they were taxable.

Official Allowances.

Mr. T. J. O'Shea, Elected Member, asked the Attorney-General whether the provisions of the Kenya Income Tax Bill as regards the allowances of the various classes of Government servants were fair and equitable.

The Attorney-General replied that the Government were unable to do so, as the allowances were fixed by the various departments, and it was not possible to amend them without the consent of the respective Ministers.

Mr. O'Shea also asked whether the Government were aware of the fact that the allowances of the various classes of Government servants were not uniform, and whether it was possible to amend them.

The Attorney-General replied that the Government were aware of the fact, and that it was possible to amend them, but that it was not possible to do so without the consent of the respective Ministers.

KENNEL NOTES

Margaret Collyer

Miss Gillian, OBE, is when all correspondence in connection with "Kennel Notes" should be addressed, they not held herself responsible for accuracy of statements made by her, which are, in the main, based on information supplied by her correspondents.

Thanks to Mrs. McEwen for her very nice letter. I am so glad my notes have been the means of finding such an ideal home for her two pot dogs which she is on holiday in England. She can have her home with a light heart, knowing full well the dogs will be cared for and properly loved.

Mrs. Anna, owner of the Boston Belles Airedale Kennel, at Nairo writes me how disappointed she was at not being able to show her team at Nakuru, as she was unable to quarantine regulations. I am sure she had her dogs all ready prepared for the show, but owing to the fact that the district was in quarantine for rabies it was impossible for the Veterinary authorities to lift the quarantine, even for a couple of days.

Lady Sidney Farrar was yet another disappointed owner having about 20 dogs in her kennel and no doubt many of these good enough for the show bench. Capt. Farrar told me he had lovely young Beotys that he was most anxious to exhibit.

Readers of these "Notes" will perhaps remember that some few weeks back I wrote of the case of a very early bitch I went to see when I was last in Nairobi. She was wanted to be a show dog and had every symptom of Metritis, and needed the best of nursing to pull her through. The history of the case was far from complete. Her owner had been on leave and she had been sent to some farm a country to be taken care of and while there she disappeared for two or three days. Shortly after I had seen this bitch, she was sent to the Animals Home and was there treated for hookworm, with most excellent results that she is now coming rapidly back to her old form.

Hook-worms as we know can cause terrible trouble, and often death in neglected cases. Many a good dog has succumbed to hook-worms in this country. But it cannot cause Metritis which the bitch in question undoubtedly had when I saw her. Two symptoms indicated possible hook-worms, a stagger and weakness in the hind legs, and very acute anaemia. If I remember rightly I suggested to the owner to send specimens of the faeces for examination to the Laboratory. I know that hook-worm was present in my mind. On my return home I thought over this case a lot and I eventually came to the following conclusion. The bitch walked away from her master, had been in company and she had engaged to see him, and had doubtless been served by some dog or other.

Being well up in years and conceived one puppy only, a large bitch would hardly show a whelp at all, if only one puppy, and undoubtedly would not notice any difference in the animal at all. This fetus probably died in the womb shortly before the bitch was due to whelp, and so one realising the trouble, it was left her to decay. This would account for all the symptoms I saw and all others I was told about. If as we now learn that hook-worm was present as well, it would help to account for the condition of the anaemia.

April babies, very often in my experience, conceive one puppy, and one puppy is very apt to die a great deal of trouble at the time of whelping, and it happens to be dead, as often as not, veterinary assistance is necessary. An old Germanian I had wound up her breeding career by having one large whelp, she failed to produce it, and I was hence getting this puppy away from her. I eventually managed to get hold of one forepaw which I sutured with a mass of string and then by patient manipulation got the baby out. My only wish was to save this little bitch as she was in a collapsed and exhausted condition, and used considerable force in removing the pup, and much to my surprise it was alive and apparently unhurt. The old lady reared this child, which was a light cream in colour, and by that wonderful speak of one done, "Ch. The Sable Mink" which sealed by the sell this evening pup, a bitch, of Mr. Carr, a great Pen breeder, for 500 when it was six months old.

This dissertation is merely to apprise folk of the fact that with a single pup, which occurs occasionally a difficult birth. Of course as her time draws near the bitch will show milk, but many bitches who are not in pup eat milk in the glands a few weeks after season. It is a well-known fact that bitches who have not been mated have been used as foster mothers and successfully reared the pups on to them. Some of these if non-breeders show a false conception, and will after every season, go through a pantomime performance of having puppies in such cases the appearance of the expected litter usually fades away at the sixth or seventh week.

"MARRY THE GIRL!"

Kericho Players in Merry Farce.

(From a contemporary.)

"This was the verdict of those present at the Kericho Sports Club on Saturday, March 18, when the boys and ladies of the club presented a most successful evening."

The play is "Always" written by George Arthur and Arthur Miller for the well known British Lyric-Ton Wells company. It is the sort of farce we expect from young people who happen to be involved in an affair with two ladies and a man, but it is very different from the usual farce, and is a most enjoyable and did a touch of promise case, a law court scene with the humorous and interesting little subplot, and finally an amusing reconciliation and a most dash, before judge, witness and counsel.

Though somewhat handicapped by a rather small stage and audience the Kericho case came out of it with great credit.

T. C. Tompkinson took the part of Wally Gibbs with great success. In spite of the promise of the role his acting never became flippant, and we were always glad to see him in his swaggy. He was ably supported by H. H. Thomas as the butler, the barmaid friend, H. O. Thomas in spite of a somewhat uncertain start soon warmed up to his work and was in the very best of form when it came to the court scene.

"ON THIS DAY"

April 13th.

Joseph Brumby born on this day, 1780. This is one hundred and eighty odd years ago, but his name is still famous throughout the world. His name is placed in many other forms of importance, among which were the best means, the ever-present pencil, a machine for engraving bank notes, etc. Linds has all ways been successful in his endeavours, especially in England, and in this sense, while Brumby is the professional engraver, he is the inventor of a public benefactor, he also did much to advance the cause of humanity in a far more far, unless a problem is met, the process of engraving would not be so successful as it is now.

Joseph had a bad cold and would without the key. He had 2000 over his head and he had to operate fifty one hours to perform the feat, so he could hardly have had any other way of doing it. He was also taking an interest in the experiment. Some how his name has been associated with scientific perfection; so he has been called the "father of the printing press" in England was undoubtedly primarily, although the Egyptians had a printing press of a scientific one, and the Chinese had one which was founded on exactly the same principle as was used by Brumby.

TUNG OIL

Report on Seed From Kenya.

Seeds of the 1931 and 1932 Tung Oil crop grown in Nairobi were sent to England in September last for test purposes. The 1931 seed had an average of 32 per cent oil. In the report that has been received from the Research Association and various manufacturers through the Imperial Institute, it is stated that the oil from both lots of seeds was satisfactory and of average quality and quantity for the purposes between the oils and no appreciable deterioration had taken place on account of the 12 months storage of the seed.

"ON THIS DAY."
APRIL 14th.

Death of Richard, April 14, 1933. In every country there have been times when the people have been united in a common grief. It is a sad thing to see a man of such high standing in the community die so suddenly. It is a sad thing to see a man of such high standing in the community die so suddenly.

REGULAR OPENING.
We are addicted to the winner, Mr. P. C. Acharya, for the second of the following interesting game played against Mr. G. W. Davidson in the 1932 "International" match for the Lever Silver Cup.

Although Black's 24th move was the weakness which admittedly led to his ultimate collapse, there is something unusual in the game made by the Indian of that unlucky slip. It is a move which is not usually considered to be an advantage one gained, giving the opponent no opportunity of regaining the initiative. A merciless finish!

THE NEW DODGE "6"

The dignity of the Dodge Six design insures style leadership yet is conservative enough to appeal to the most discriminating. From bumper to bumper the Dodge Six is in perfect good taste. Here is a motor car with an appearance of ruggedness, yet it is nimble and fast. Here is a motor car which will be at home at the most formal gathering, yet will be at ease on the steep hill. The Dodge Six combines beauty with dignity and utility.

The Russian Trial.

A strangely fascinating drama is being enacted in the Old Kremlin of Moscow, the ancient building dating back to the thirteenth century which has been the centre of some of the bloodiest episodes in Russia's history. For centuries, part for an object of veneration and fear for centuries, the Kremlin has since become under the new Russian regime a combination of a Court of Justice and a social institution for the working class, deliberately transforming the medieval fortress of the Old Russia into a living part of the new democracy. In 1917, when the Tsarist Khan of the Crimea invaded Moscow during the reign of Ivan the Terrible, he captured the gates of the Kremlin were shut and 150,000 of the inhabitants of the capital perished in the flames. Twenty years later the Tsarist of the Crimea were back again and renewed their rapine from the gates of the Kremlin in the hands of the Tsarist. In 1918, the British and the Americans, during the struggle which ended with the Regent, Boris Godunov, seized power in Russia Moscow was put to fire to the Ogo on March 15 (while the men were under arrest) that "all measures of repression, according to the nature of the offence must be exercised with especial severity" in charges similar to those brought against British subjects, would be unable to grant administrative assistance to British people are well aware of and fully recognize the right of every country to safeguard its own sovereignty rights and to maintain trade and diplomatic relations. But this question is not only one of foreign rights, it is also one of whether the British Government and the nation of Great Britain are entitled to conduct a Russia as a country in which it is possible for a British citizen to carry out national to live and trade with, or with which British are connected to maintain trade and diplomatic relations. These are some of the grave issues which the Government will raise and whatever the result—and it obviously is in doubt—a view of the outstanding questions already made—a serious blow has been dealt by Russia at the Moscow trials. The outcome of this week's hearing will be awaited with serious anxiety and interest not only in Britain, but in every civilized country who has an active adherence of methods of containment of the Russian Revolution and the British Empire. It is expected that the British Government will be able to establish a new basis of relations, the loss will be far outweighed by the gains.
