PARIS FEARS INVASION BY REBELS

Military coup takes Algeria back to chaos

FRANCE'S new Algerian crisis took a further dramatic turn last night when reports reached Paris that the military junta which has taken over control in Algeria might go to storm Paris by launching paratroops on or across the capital.

President de Gaulle announced last night that assumed emergency powers, making him joint dictator of France, after the entire nation had stood by in hourly expectation of his televised broadcast.

The President de Gaulle spent most of the weekend in conference with the Prime Minister, Hubert de Villiers, and other national officials. He also received a report on the newly-appointed commander-in-Chief for Algeria, who returned to Paris yesterday.

By last night the 'rebel' paratroops in Algeria numbered about the three chief cities — Algiers, Oran and Constantine, and all districts in the country. Algeria Radio, the second largest city — and Constantine, which had earlier seized Algiers itself in a bloodless coup, now seemed President de Gaulle's policy towards Algeria.

KADU SUBMITS PROPOSALS

Possible names for Council of Ministers

NEGOTIATIONS towards the formation of a new Government continued at the weekend between the Government and the Kadu.

The Governor, Sir Patrick Henton, has been believed to be working on the composition of the new Council of Ministers. This followed the presentation to him by Mr. Ngala, the Kadu leader, of the party's views on the distribution of posts to be filled by Kadu.

It is likely that the following posts will be filled by Kadu:

- Africans
Education and Leader of Government Business: Mr. H. Ngala
Agriculture and Forestry: Mr. M. M. Njiru
Home Affairs and Industry: Mr. T. T. T. T.
- Europeans
Agriculture: Mr. M. MacLean
Education: Mr. W. W. W. W.
Home Affairs, Finance, and Industry: Mr. M. M. M. M.

Common Market plea to U.K.

JOIN US, SAYS DR. ADENAUER - BUT HE SETS CONDITION

DR. ADENAUER at the weekend urged Britain to join the Common Market but added that such a step should not be allowed to weaken "political and institutional forces" in the national economic community. The West German Chancellor said he spoke with President Eisenhower in the White House last week.

He said his talks with President Eisenhower in the White House last week. He said his talks with President Eisenhower in the White House last week. He said his talks with President Eisenhower in the White House last week. He said his talks with President Eisenhower in the White House last week.

Slim chance

British, 500,000 citizens have been warned by the National Farmers' Union that they stand to lose everything they have invested in the Common Market on the day it is set up.

LOOKING for a spring in his step, the Chancellor's programme, which is now under study, is expected to be completed before the end of the year.

MAIN MARKET

But the chief officers were the farmers. They would lose the advantages of Agricultural Act and instead of guaranteed prices being paid to an individual farmer, they would be paid to the Government body which would be responsible for distribution.

THE CONTRIBUTION OF COMMERCE AND INDUSTRY

In a recent editorial you are again drawn to the increasingly important role of commerce and industry in the economy of Kenya. It is for the future well-being and continued growth of the country that some assistance and co-operation are needed. The Government's policy of self-reliance can only be given to the aid of the business of the country.

Family planning

A FRENCH physician has stated that the best method of family planning is to have a vasectomy. This is a surgical operation in which the sperm ducts are cut, preventing the sperm from reaching the egg. The physician, Dr. J. P. L. de la Roche, is a member of the French Society for Family Planning. He has written a book on the subject, 'Family Planning: The New Method', which is available in French and English.

Letters to the Editor

points out that my committee has been set up to study the health of the people in Africa. It is a very important task, and I am sure that you will be interested in the results of our work. We are currently conducting a survey of the health of the people in the various provinces of Kenya, and we are hoping to publish our findings in the near future.

Early last February I showed a copy of your article on the subject of the 'K' incident' to a friend of mine, Mr. H. Nakuru, who was more than keen to express his views on the subject. He pointed out that the article was a very good one, and that it was a pity that it was not published in your magazine. He also pointed out that the article was a very good one, and that it was a pity that it was not published in your magazine.

Sense of identity

IT is the middle of my second year of my secondary school education. I have been thinking a great deal about the sense of identity of the African people. I have been thinking about the fact that we are a young nation, and that we are still in the process of building up our country. FRONTIER CLASHES: ETHIOPIA BLAMES SOMALIA

ETHIOPIA yesterday accused Somalia of stirring up the Somali Republic of sending "armed saboteurs" into the Ethiopian territory to instigate the "ignomy" of the local population.

The charge was made in a statement issued in Addis Ababa by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

It was Ethiopia's answer to a charge by President Omar of Somalia that the Somali Republic had sent saboteurs to Ethiopia.

'Armed infiltrators'

It accused the Somali Republic of sending "armed infiltrators" into Ethiopia to stir up the Somali Republic of sending "armed saboteurs" into the Ethiopian territory to instigate the "ignomy" of the local population.

FIVE-YEAR PLAN SOUGHT
SIERRA LEONE'S NEW DAM

Questions will be put to Minister
WHEN the new Legislative Council meets in session the Member for Sierra Leone, Mr. S. Alexander, will ask the Minister for Finance and Development about a five-year economic plan for Sierra Leone.

This question will be "Does the Government intend to present a five-year economic plan embracing investment in both private and public sectors and, if so, when it will be put into effect? It will be approved and approved?"

WORK is in progress on the construction of the Gunge Valley Dam, near Freetown, Sierra Leone...

THE NEW GOVERNMENT

NO provision for a Chief Minister is made in the Kenya Council of Ministers envisaged under the Lancaster House constitution, but it is possible that the Government will be able to gain the experience required for a Chief Minister in the near future.

Following the election of the new Government, the Kenya Government will be able to gain the experience required for a Chief Minister in the near future. The Council of Ministers envisaged under the Lancaster House constitution, but it is possible that the Government will be able to gain the experience required for a Chief Minister in the near future.

Yes, as the months elapse it may well be desirable that Kenya should consider the possibility of electing a Chief Minister. This would be a step towards the establishment of a more fully developed Government.

Sewing can be learned by post

FOR every woman who does a pretty dress material and gets mad at herself because she can barely thread a needle there are several who with grim determination and bitterness have taught themselves to sew. One of the best paid ways of acquiring this ability is to take a correspondence course of instruction. The postcard-Solomon runs a correspondence course in sewing, covering dressmaking, designing and tailoring. The course has been revised for the sake of the illustrations which are included.

IN OWN TIME
At present there are more than 100 students on the books in East Africa. Most of them are women, ranging in age from 16 to 40. They take to the course for their children and for their own enjoyment. The course is a full-time course in itself, but can be done in your own time. It is a correspondence course in sewing, covering dressmaking, designing and tailoring. The course has been revised for the sake of the illustrations which are included.

GOOD RESULTS
Results seem to dispose of the argument that one cannot learn dressmaking by post. People who have failed to complete the course in any other way, have succeeded in doing so by this method. The course is a full-time course in itself, but can be done in your own time. It is a correspondence course in sewing, covering dressmaking, designing and tailoring. The course has been revised for the sake of the illustrations which are included.

AS EVERY DOCTOR KNOWS, some of the greatest problems of child health in East Africa stem from a deficiency of protein in the average daily diet. The paramount need is for a protein-rich food acceptable to the people, easily given to children and costing relatively little.

To supply this need, Glaxo have introduced AMAMA, a high protein food supplement fortified also with balanced amounts of minerals, trace elements and vitamins. When added to a child's normal food, it ensures complete nourishment. AMAMA has been designed specifically with East Africa's problem of protein malnutrition in mind and in close co-operation with local medical knowledge. This is backed by the experience of Glaxo research which establishes them as leaders in keeping children healthy, happy and strong.

Appetizing pink in colour, Amama is obtainable in 8 oz. cartons - one child's supply for one week - and 32 oz. cartons - one child's supply for one month.

21 PLAYERS TO MAKE EAST AFRICA TOUR

WITH the announcement of the full London Harlequins touring team yesterday it was confirmed that East Africa will be seeing Brian Hussey at its very best early next month.

Missing from the Quins party are the club's four Oxford or Cambridge blues who have been refused time off from their studies. But any 15 of the 21 players arriving can be regarded as a full strength Quins team.

Two Springbok trials, six internationals and the remainder of at least county championship players look formidable for any opposition East African Rugby can produce.

The tour will start in East Africa on April 30 and will be the longest ever undertaken by a British team. It will last for a period of six months.

Freddie Brown to bring 'far stronger' team

ONE of England's top cricketers will probably be in East Africa on a tour organised by the Kenya Konigons C.C. in September.

The Indian bowling twins, Alec and Eric the former England opener, Peter Richardson, and the Hampshire captain, Colin Ingleby-McKenzie, are almost certain to come.

Other possibilities are Tom Gravely, Ted Dexter, Colin Cooney, Mike Smith, Ian Sedford and Tony Lock.

In a letter to the Konigons this week, Freddie Brown makes it clear that his team will be far stronger than the one he brought over in 1956.

It will certainly include more 'big name' players.

But the final constitution of the tourists depends on whom the MCC select for their tour of Pakistan, which is the next Test cricket tour after the county championship play.

There will also be five games in Nairobi between the Quins and the Kenya Konigons. The Kenya team has been named as follows: Alec and Eric, Peter Richardson, Colin Ingleby-McKenzie, and five others.

British help keeps down increase

THE importance of the East African economic community stressed by the Financial Secretary to the High Commission, Mr. J. Hinchey, when he presented his Budget to the Central Legislative Assembly in Nairobi yesterday.

He said that although expenditure was expected to increase by £70,000 compared with the original estimate for the current year, he had been able to work on the basis of reduced contributions from the territorial Governments through the remarkable generosity of the British Government.

Sir Amar becomes Assembly Speaker

Puncture problem answered

A SECRET formula made available in a pocket-size cylinder is the new answer to the puncture problem. It is a British invention which is now being distributed in Africa.

The product, known as 'Puncture Guard', is a liquid which is poured into the tyre of a motor vehicle. It forms a protective film on the inner surface of the tyre, preventing it from being punctured by sharp objects.

The inventor, Mr. J. C. Thomas of London, claims that his invention will save millions of dollars by preventing the loss of motor vehicles and the inconvenience of stoppage.

PLAN WINS COMMONS APPROVAL

THE House of Commons has endorsed the British Government's decision to create a new department to deal with the problem of technical aid to overseas countries.

It gave an unopposed vote to an agreement in principle to set up a department to deal with the problem of technical aid to overseas countries.

The Financial Secretary to the Treasury, Sir Edward Heigham, said the Bill would bring together technical responsibilities and financial resources now divided between the Foreign Office, the Colonial Office and the Commonwealth Relations Office.

Upsurge is the keynote

THERE was an optimistic trend in stockmarkets yesterday, and a fairly widespread advance in interest rates.

But no one was over-optimistic. The market was a study in caution. It would not be concerned with capital aid which would remain the responsibility of the overseas departments.

Dogs abandoned by owners who go overseas

The Inspector-General of the S.A.P.P.A.'s Member Inspector, Mr. Philip Boucher, yesterday set out the reasons why he has issued a special alarm and in recent months there have been an alarming number of cases in which people had gone on their annual holiday leaving their dogs from the streets without food or shelter. One dog taken in the streets was found wandering on the beach at Bamburi in search of food.

The animal was seized, examined and taken to the hospital where it was unable to eat. Mr. Boucher said that many people who go overseas do not think of their dogs when they go overseas.

STERILE REVOLUTION

Messages received yesterday from Algeria and today from Tunisia, with few exceptions, are all concerned with the sterile revolution...

At the same time, there still remain serious and real concerns of Algerians... The sterile revolution is a complete stand-still of security...

It is Algeria's general belief that the sterile revolution is not a healthy revolution... The sterile revolution is a complete stand-still of security...

Another subject worth to be mentioned is that it appears in all these affairs it is the tremendous importance of safeguarding the country's national status... The sterile revolution is a complete stand-still of security...

ROCKWELL BRINGS OFF CLASSIC SURPRISE
Favourite comes close up fourth
Benaud tries out bowlers at Worcester

ROCKWELL, a 55-1 outsider from Scotland, brought off a surprise, when he led the field to a narrow escape of the 1967 Kenyan trial season, at Harroweday yesterday. This weather was excellent but dry and the going firm to good.

The colt by Rockefella, not stung in any of the other classics, took the field in the 2000 Guineas easily by two lengths from another 60-1 outsider, Prince Tudor, with the latter showing some resistance as he started to stride away third. Patsburgok, one of the best bred favourites to have ever appeared, finished fourth, a 22 runner. He started at 24-1.

Rockwell is owned by a newcomer to the turf, Tom Veall, is trained by George Boyd and was bred by Norman Sturt, who was a last manufacturer. The trainer, Boyd, was not present to see his untried colt win the first prize of nearly £2,000 from the 2000 Guineas.

It was one of the greatest shocks in the old classic first race of 1967. Rockwell, who had finished fourth in a moderate race this season, was not even known by many of the large crowd present. He had had to have his eyes treated with very little success, but he was able to overcome a sore eye at the start of the race. The two reds were looked like winners until the last 100 yards when the Derby in spite of his handicap of 15 lb, finished on the outside of the half back in the Galileo race.

Yesterday's results
1.80 1000 Guineas, 11.40. 1.80 1000 Guineas, 11.40. 1.80 1000 Guineas, 11.40. 1.80 1000 Guineas, 11.40. 1.80 1000 Guineas, 11.40.

RUGBY TRIAL
Should Please Selectors
The Probables set the Probables to five points (six goals, a try and a penalty goal) to 30 points (six goals) in the Central Province Rugby trial held on the Nondeddo grounds, Nairobi, last night.

After a scrappy first half when the Probables led 15-0, they piled on the pressure and added another five tries, three of them scored by Wigley of Poona City, during the second half. The Probables were the Central Province selectors should feel satisfied with the performance of most of the Probables, with one or two changes, this club could be picked to meet the two touring Harlequin clubs next month.

Harlequins' tourist has polio
JOHN SCOTT, who played fullback for England against France in 1968 and was included on the provisional London Harlequins team to tour East Africa next month, is suffering from a serious infection of the poliovirus, the family and may never play Rugby again.

COMMON SERVICES PLEDGE

Tanganyika will make sacrifices for federation

ASSURANCES by the Minister for Finance, Sir Ernest East, that Tanganyika pledged that common services had to be maintained for the good of all people in East Africa were welcomed by Members of the Central Legislative Council in Nairobi, yesterday.

Sir Ernest, who was speaking in the Budget debate on the High Commission's self-contained services, said that Tanganyika had certain advantages to offer its people. This was the measure of importance.

COMMISSIONER AT THE HEAD OF HIS HORSE COL. GROGAN AT THE REINS OF PAGE OF LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Praise for the Police

VERY many of you will be glad to read the report of the Police Commissioner in his report on the work of the Police during the year 1950. The Commissioner's report is a most interesting and valuable document. It shows the progress made by the Police during the year and the work which is planned for the year 1951. The Commissioner's report is a most interesting and valuable document. It shows the progress made by the Police during the year and the work which is planned for the year 1951.

As I said in your published letter to Col. Ewart Grogan which appeared in the Standard of April 15th, I am glad to see that the Commissioner's report is a most interesting and valuable document. It shows the progress made by the Police during the year and the work which is planned for the year 1951.

Normally, I would not have written to you about the Commissioner's report. It is a most interesting and valuable document. It shows the progress made by the Police during the year and the work which is planned for the year 1951.

Societies' Ordinance

WILLIAMS do not dispute the need for the Government to apply some measures of control on societies. I should like to see the Ordinance which is being introduced. It is a most interesting and valuable document. It shows the progress made by the Police during the year and the work which is planned for the year 1951.

Just a minute...

On a hot morning, it is a bit of a nuisance to have to get up and make a cup of tea. But now you can get up and make a cup of tea in just a minute. The new electric kettle is a most interesting and valuable document. It shows the progress made by the Police during the year and the work which is planned for the year 1951.

Overseas aid needed in running estates

Standard Correspondent
The Seychelles agricultural position has been described as "very somber" in a report by Capt. A. W. T. Webb. He emphasises the heavy incidence of fragmentation of estates and the diminishing number of workers employed on the land. Referring to a proposal made in 1953 that overseas firms used to handling agricultural business projects should be induced to float companies to finance and manage properly the larger estates in the Seychelles, Capt. Webb says that "since such a scheme seems to merit consideration".

Tanganyika can take lesson from Indonesia

Standard Staff Reporter, Dar es Salaam
TANGANYIKA had two things to learn from Indonesia, Tanganyika's publicity secretary Mr. R. Mwanuzi, said in his address from the Afro-Asian Solidarity Conference in Bandung. The first is to learn from the Indonesian Government's policy of land reform, which has been successful in making the country self-sufficient in food. The second is to learn from the Indonesian Government's policy of land reform, which has been successful in making the country self-sufficient in food.

2 patterns

You may have noticed these two imprints on the ground. Actually they can be seen throughout the country, in town, on the road, and on tracks. In spite of their appearance they are not like any other imprint: they are two signatures of one and the same tyre technique... the X technique.

MICHELIN X

Only 1 technique

This is what is behind these two patterns. The tread—braced by 3 layers of steel cords—remains in intimate contact with the road surface, which means that road grip is increased and that shuffling—one of the main causes of tread wear—is eliminated. The casing cords—laid radially—give great flexibility to the tyre and that increases road grip still further.

BIRD LIFE HIT BY BABOON MENACE

Standard Correspondent, Arusha
MANY ornithologists who have visited the Lake Manyara National Park have commented on the comparative lack of bird life in the forest area. The Park Warden reports that in recent years he has observed that the large population of baboons which he says appear to have increased considerably during the past year may be a cause.

Canned hyena

Standard Correspondent, Serengeti
The large number of Serengeti National Park have just one doubt. The fact is that it was only appearing at spots in the distance. A hyena looked on the head of a hyena.

Rhino survey

As a result of routine surveys in Masaya the staff has undertaken a detailed survey of the rhino population. This appears to be the first time that the number of rhinos in the park has been surveyed.

Kongoni herd

For the first time since the herd was established in 1952, the Kongoni herd has been seen. The herd was established in 1952 and has since been seen in various parts of the park.

COALITION GOVERNMENT

AFTER an anxious delay for negotiations necessitated by changes of mind on the part of some who were offered membership, and in the face of Kanu fulmination, the anti-Communist Kenya new Government has been announced yesterday.

The statements were made by Mr. Kariuki Njiru and Mr. Njiru, who were Ministers in the Government. Mr. Njiru said that the Government had been formed after a long period of negotiations.

ZANZIBAR PLAYS ART IN SPACE PLAN

PROJECT Mercury is to put a scientific satellite into orbit around the earth and then recover alive.

The fact that the Russians have placed their satellite in orbit around the earth and then recovered it alive is a major achievement.

The actual orbital period of several years' experience has shown that the satellite can be recovered alive.

Always a successful trajectory has been achieved, in which the satellite has been recovered alive.

On the occasion of the manned trajectory that is one of the top of a long list of achievements.

At this point the capsule will be launched into orbit around the earth and then recovered alive.

Hitler foretold 'Cold War' between East and Russians

By JAMES DOW

DURING his last few months inside the Chancellery in Berlin, Adolf Hitler, waiting in vain for the miracle which would save the German people from their own amazing predicament. He predicted the other war which is now plunging the world — the cold war between East and West, which the United States and Russia as the protagonists — revealed in the Testament of Adolf Hitler, February-April 1945, which are the Hitler-Bormann documents edited by Friedrich Panzer and translated from the German by Col. E. H. Simmons.

REVIEW

He continued: "The German people will be able to survive only if they are united in a common front against the common enemy, the Soviet Union and the United States."

Feared peace

He also said that the German people would not accept a peace which would leave them in a state of inferiority to the victors.

ACCESSORIES BRIGHTEN PARIS LOOK

By PEGGY MASBIN

BRIGHTLY adorned accessories go with the fashion in the Paris spring collection.

Fastidious about accessories, the Parisienne continues to emphasize her accessories in her wardrobe.

Parisian accessories have become so important that they have become a fashion in themselves.

Parisian accessories are not only a fashion in themselves, but they are also a fashion in the eyes of the rest of the world.

To please in Alex Simons

AS with any other meat joint, there is more to cooking a roast than merely getting a good cut from your butcher and putting it in the oven. Even the most tolerant eater can get weary of repetition! The secret — and this applies to any cooking — is to use some imagination. Have several different ways of preparing the same "raw product."

But before we go on to the cooking, here are a few general tips about roasting. First, the meat should be cooked in a pan covered with water. This is the best way to keep the meat moist and tender. Second, the meat should be cooked in a pan covered with water. This is the best way to keep the meat moist and tender.

Third, the meat should be cooked in a pan covered with water. This is the best way to keep the meat moist and tender. Fourth, the meat should be cooked in a pan covered with water. This is the best way to keep the meat moist and tender.

Fifth, the meat should be cooked in a pan covered with water. This is the best way to keep the meat moist and tender. Sixth, the meat should be cooked in a pan covered with water. This is the best way to keep the meat moist and tender.

Seventh, the meat should be cooked in a pan covered with water. This is the best way to keep the meat moist and tender. Eighth, the meat should be cooked in a pan covered with water. This is the best way to keep the meat moist and tender.

Ninth, the meat should be cooked in a pan covered with water. This is the best way to keep the meat moist and tender. Tenth, the meat should be cooked in a pan covered with water. This is the best way to keep the meat moist and tender.

Eleventh, the meat should be cooked in a pan covered with water. This is the best way to keep the meat moist and tender. Twelfth, the meat should be cooked in a pan covered with water. This is the best way to keep the meat moist and tender.

Thirteenth, the meat should be cooked in a pan covered with water. This is the best way to keep the meat moist and tender. Fourteenth, the meat should be cooked in a pan covered with water. This is the best way to keep the meat moist and tender.

Fifteenth, the meat should be cooked in a pan covered with water. This is the best way to keep the meat moist and tender. Sixteenth, the meat should be cooked in a pan covered with water. This is the best way to keep the meat moist and tender.

Seventeenth, the meat should be cooked in a pan covered with water. This is the best way to keep the meat moist and tender. Eighteenth, the meat should be cooked in a pan covered with water. This is the best way to keep the meat moist and tender.

Nineteenth, the meat should be cooked in a pan covered with water. This is the best way to keep the meat moist and tender. Twentieth, the meat should be cooked in a pan covered with water. This is the best way to keep the meat moist and tender.

Twenty-first, the meat should be cooked in a pan covered with water. This is the best way to keep the meat moist and tender. Twenty-second, the meat should be cooked in a pan covered with water. This is the best way to keep the meat moist and tender.

Twenty-third, the meat should be cooked in a pan covered with water. This is the best way to keep the meat moist and tender. Twenty-fourth, the meat should be cooked in a pan covered with water. This is the best way to keep the meat moist and tender.

Railways in financial straits need their own revenue increased more than expenditure

IN spite of unenviable economic trends, the financial position of the East African Railways and Harbours was, according to the Acting Commissioner for Transport, Sir James Farquharson, says in the Railway annual report.

Revenue was £24,000,000—£215,000 more than in 1959; expenditure was £17,579,000 (£2,661,000 more). The revenue increase was achieved in spite of a further reduction in the higher rates to counteract competition. Various economies led to the increase in expenditure down 10 per cent, while there were salary increases for the three lowest grades of subordinate staff during the year.

The report said that the formation of the East African Community in 1961 was responsible in part for the increase in revenue. It was also noted that the revenue per ton of freight and ton miles of passenger traffic in Tanganyika, over the period, and a decrease in revenue was suggested by the overall figure in the budget speech.

Certain demands
There had been a fall in the price of mastic asphalt from 1957, but in 1960 a small steady increase was noted. It was noted that this would continue in 1961.

In 1957 Tanganyika imported 129,240 tons of asphalt, and in 1960 141,000 tons. Through the East African Community, the value of visible trade had increased 10 per cent. In 1960, the value of exports had increased 10 per cent, and the value of imports had increased 10 per cent.

Turning to national income, the report said that the figure of £215 million had been reached in 1960. It was noted that the revenue per ton of freight and ton miles of passenger traffic in Tanganyika, over the period, and a decrease in revenue was suggested by the overall figure in the budget speech.

AUSTRALIAN TRADE Fresh Fruit

East African markets offered produce in all seasons

MESSAGE from the Australian Government Trade Commissioner, Mr. G. W. S. Tandy.

Australian fresh fruit, particularly apples, have been popular in many overseas countries for a long time, but it is only in recent years that a sizeable demand has been developing in East Africa.

It is those of you who have not yet discovered Australian fruit who are recommended that you purchase by a sample. The fruit is of such quality that you will be sure to repeat your purchases by the next season. The fruit is of such quality that you will be sure to repeat your purchases by the next season.

The Australian continent can grow practically every fruit known to man. The climate and soil in different regions of Australia favour both tropical and temperate zone fruits alike.

Australia supplies many tropical countries including East Africa, Ceylon and Singapore, with temperate zone fresh fruit. Australian apples, pears, oranges and grapes, with temperate zone fresh fruit, are popular in those countries. The grapes are adding variety and colour to the fruit shops in those countries. They have been found to be a particularly good way to offset the spicy richness of some tropical meats.

Australia exports close to 3,000,000 cases of apples a year. Of these, in 1955-56, and 1,000,000 cases of pears a year. East African countries purchased some 50,000 bushels of apples and 1,200 bushels of pears, over half of which were taken by Kenya. The apple and pear packing season starts in the State of Queensland in January, and ends with the Province of Victoria in the first week of next month.

The Australian Apple and Pear Exporters' Association, which represents the interests of growers, while the Australian Government controls the conditions of export. Apples and pears are individually wrapped in special tissue paper and packed into special containers. Government inspectors examine the consignments and the fruit, certifying them for export.

MOST POPULAR

Orange, are another popular temperate-zone fruit. Australians eat most of the oranges they grow, but a quantity each year, about 500,000 cases, is exported overseas, now familiar in many climates, are grown mainly in the irrigation areas of the eastern Australian States. Apples are the most popular fruit for export. Apples and pears are the most popular fruit for export. Apples and pears are the most popular fruit for export.

His father might be picking the apples, but this young boy is concentrating on eating them. He is in the River Valley of Tasmania. Australia's foremost apple-producing area.

NEW CHEMICAL ENSURES BIGGER GRAPES

Australian farmers are using a new chemical, gibberellic acid, to produce bigger grapes. Vine growers began using the chemical in October, 1960, as early as 1958. The chemical has the unique property of increasing the size of bunches. With vines that produce a large increase in yield (one weight increase in bunches) and berries of uniform size, table grapes such as Thompson Seedling and Ruby Malheur, and increased length of berries, the grape bunches which result are larger and more uniform in size. Gibberellic acid is applied at concentrations as low as one gram in 100 gallons of water sprayed on bunches. Its use for increasing grape yields was investigated by the State of Queensland, Australia's Commonwealth Scientific and Industrial Research Organisation and State Department of Agriculture. ## Industry guards crops

HIGH efficiency is a modern method in the demanded of Australia fresh fruit and vegetable exporters. Australia's ability to overcome the high cost of modern methods is due to the strict attention to detail by the chemical fertilizers, insecticides, fungicides and weed killers have played a large part in the success of the industry. Vegetable and fruit growing are widespread in Australia. Total value of production in 1955-56 was estimated at more than £1,000,000,000. While the largest amount of these products is consumed in Australia, export is amounting to some £50,000,000. Last year Australia exported more than 4,000,000 tons of apples, oranges and lemons. Some 1,000,000 cases of pears is produced throughout the world.

TOP EXPORTER

Australia is also the largest exporter of canned fruit in the 'hot' United Kingdom market. The success achieved by Australian fresh fruit and vegetable to export trade over the past few years is due to a considerable part to the new methods of modern agriculture. Twenty years ago an Australian grower would have been confined for themselves but chemical treatments in the past few years have opened up new markets for fruit and vegetables. The use of DDT and the later organophosphorus compounds have transformed the picture.

Trucks with crates of apples (above) on the way to the ports. Left, staff work on crates in warehouse. 30,000 crates a year are packed and packed by the fruit growers' co-operative. The packing produces a net profit of 100,000.

Students work as pickers. Fresh Australian fruit is that finding its way to the tables of Asian families may have been picked by Asian students attending Australian universities and colleges.

Recently an Indonesian student spent his vacation picking fruit in the Sunland district of Victoria. He was the first major irrigation project in the world. The student, Abdul Fatah, had been working in the Sunland district of Victoria for several years.

Exports by air. Fresh fruit and vegetables is a comparatively new trade in air cargo which is only now being developed, but which is one of the most important of its great potential.

Swift delivery. The timing of exports follows a similar pattern for instance from February to June apples and pears are exported from South-November to South-November to South-November.
