Scores of suspects held in Pumwani and Shauri Moyo

More than 37,000 Africans—men, women and children—were arrested in house-to-house searches after both areas had been sealed off. No unwarranted incident was reported during the operation—code-named 'Hatchback'—which was the most thorough clearance of the city since the Emergency began last October. In the outskirts of the city complementary operations, including checks on vehicles, were undertaken with the object of cutting possible 'seep routes' and securing the city's 'demerits'.

The Regular Police were reinforced by members of the Kenya Police Reserve, troops of the Nairobi Garrison and Home Guard units of all races concentrated in the two localities and a similar number were engaged elsewhere in the city and elsewhere.

First punch
The first search was aimed at Pumwani, which has an estimated population of 11,000. A search party of 200 men was sent out at 5.30 on Saturday afternoon and by 6.30 the area was being netted by men armed with tommy guns and shotguns. SOME SOUND BATTING IN LOCAL MATCHES

Parklands fail to beat the clock

There was some bright batting, including centuries by three Asian players, in Sunday's cricket matches in Nairobi and district. At Parklands, Gymkhana drew the first match of their rubber with Parklands and, on the run of the play, this was a very fair result. P. R. Morris was Civil Service's avowed mainstay, but he was not able to make a notable knock against Gaur Institute, on the Saturday.

The Parklands-Gymkhana match involved 371 runs for the first 11 wickets, with Porter (59) and Biddiss (73) leading off. Porter was 170 against Gymkhana in the first innings, but he was out for 11 in the second. Porter was out for 11 in the second. Porter was out for 11 in the second.

Good and accurate bowling by Dennis Clarke was particularly responsible for Parklands' inability to beat the clock. Harbottle (81) and Dennis Clarke (54) were the main scorers for Parklands. Clarke was 5/27 against Gymkhana in the first innings, but he was out for 11 in the second.

MBE AWARDS TO WOMEN WHO BEAT OFF GANG

THE two women who electrically felled a gang in January, by driving a trading Man Man gang out of their isolated premises in the Kariakoo district, have been appointed Members of the Order of the British Empire. The Queen has approved that the award be made immediate. The citation says that the pair, Mrs. Rhoda Hayman-Gibson and Mrs. Betty Anna Housheer, were an example of enterprise in the Colony and gave much heart to the community.

Mrs. Housheer and Mrs. Hayman-Gibson were attacked at about 4.30 on January 11. They were sitting alone in their shop in the Kariakoo district. The gang consisted of about 10 men, some of whom were armed. The women fought bravely and drove the gang off. Mrs. Housheer was severely injured but recovered after treatment at the hospital.

UGANDA EXPORT TRENDS

Figures just followed by the Ministry of Commerce in Uganda show that exports valued at £2,200,000 were shipped in the first six months of 1939. This is a decrease of £1,100,000 on the corresponding figures for 1938. The main items of export are tea, coffee, and sisal.

RELY ON RENAULT

Undated by cars of over six times its capacity, the Baby Renault again turned up triumphantly at Sunday's highly successful Coronation Race Meeting on Nairobi Racecourse. Fully justifying our faith in its ability, this fine little car finished fifth in a field of 11 which included some formidable opposition and earned the special applause of the crowd for its fine performance.

Following this achievement in the Coronation Safari, this further distinction merely emphasises the best design and anti-constructive which constitute the road value offered today in light car motoring.

Kikuyu resistance a cause for optimism BUT CARE NEEDED—Mrs Shaw

THE Kikuyu resistance to the Government's policy, which has been so far so good, but it had to be tempered by the constant danger of incidents, for a rebellion could not be suppressed without casualties. Mrs. Agnes Shaw, Member for Nyandarua in Kenya Legislative Council, when speaking to the members of the Council at a meeting in Nairobi on Tuesday.

The reason for her optimism was the steadily growing strength of the Government's position among the Kikuyu.

She said that the Government's policy was based on the fact that the Kikuyu were not a homogeneous people. Many of them were in the hands of the Government, and many were in the hands of the British. She said that the Government's policy was to bring about a settlement which would be acceptable to all sides.

"RIGIDAL" CORRUGATED ALUMINIUM SHEETS

(THE BRITISH ALUMINIUM COMPANY LIMITED)

- FIVE POINTS TO REMEMBER WHEN PURCHASING ALUMINIUM SHEETS
- DURABLE. Freedom from rust, corrosion and rain with high resistance to industrial fumes and sea air.
 - INSUPERABLE. Owing to its strength "RIGIDAL" stays in use for 20 years or more.
 - NON-FLAMMABLE. As Aluminium is not a metal, it does not burn and is not affected by acids, alkalis or solvents.
 - HIGH THERMAL EFFICIENCY. Owing to the high reflecting and low capacity of aluminium with "RIGIDAL", it is the ideal material for heat reflecting surfaces in large industrial buildings, and for the lining of hot air ducts.
 - EASY TO MAINTAIN. Polished and painted surfaces are long lasting and require no special maintenance.

THESE ARE JUST FIVE REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD ALWAYS SPECIFY "RIGIDAL" WHEN PURCHASING CORRUGATED ALUMINIUM SHEETS.

WELFARE WORK IN AN AFRICAN PRISON

MUCH HAS BEEN DONE TO ALLEVIATE THE MONOTONY AND BOREDOM OF THE AFRICAN WOMEN SERVING their sentences in prison, largely by European members of the community, whose voluntary help and assistance have brought to the attention of the authorities the importance of instruction in Mrs. J. J. (Hens), who has been teaching cooking and weaving to the prisoners, covers the whole of the welfare work in the prison. In addition, there is Mrs. Hens, wife of the African Governor. Both of these women are the wives of African coffee planters.

"Most of the equipment in use at the prison came from the Igniting and weaving centre, at one time in Nairobi town. It was found that the very fine quality of the fabric that is sent down from the Igniting and weaving centre is the more interesting as one can never be quite certain of the final shade the wool is going to be. It is almost a lottery, however, that the colours will remain fast. In the case of a red dye, the leader now has to use a vegetable that was employed in Europe for this purpose in medieval times. This is soaked in cold water, and later thrown into a cauldron of hot water, together with the wool that has already been washed. It is then stirred over the lattice range until approximately the required colour is obtained. There are many ingredients for making a yellow dye, one of which is the Mexican Marigold, while a happy few in made from different indigenous root berries.

The weaving itself is a cross needle action job, but spinning and, for the beginner, it requires a certain dexterity to get the various coloured dyes in the correct pattern.

Some excellent work, beautifully woven, was displayed when I visited the prison, and certainly the attention given to a craft as well as to the instruction and the women prisoners. Most of the work is now being kept in store for the Nairobi Show, though it is often sold through the Prisoners Aid Association.

At the moment Mrs. Hens is only able to take 15 women and these have to be drawn from the long-term prisoners as it is not worth while going in all the trouble of teaching those who will spend a comparatively short period in prison.

PERHAPS the most disconcerting feature was to see the rest of the prisoners, merely sitting down in the dust of the compound for want of anything better to do. The majority of the long-term prisoners are in fact married, though one would never have thought on judging by their pleasant, cheerful faces.

It is unfortunate that some useful forms of employment cannot be found for every female delinquent, but this is unavoidable due to both of prison staff and institutions.

However, it is expected that conditions will be greatly improved, and the problem of overcrowding solved when the prisoners are moved to Phoenix, a new prison site on the old This Road. Here at least, there will be a European woman in charge, when occupations such as agriculture and handicrafts, as well as infant welfare will be taught. A suitable woman for this post has not yet been found, and a notice required to meet this crying need.

It is hoped then, that every female prisoner, when released, will have learnt a means of earning a livelihood, and of making clothes for herself and her children—giving her great cause for pride and a sense of fulfilment.

SURREY COULD REGAIN LEAD

Kent's second win of the season

Surrey, who are the leading county in the championship, dismissed Leitchmore and the Oldham batsmen with minimum effort. Surrey with captain Algie and bowlers with figures of 32, 25, 17, dismissed the Kentis in 110 minutes.

Surrey's batting was not so good as in their previous match against Warwick, playing for 110 minutes. The batsmen were not so good as in their previous match against Warwick, playing for 110 minutes. The batsmen were not so good as in their previous match against Warwick, playing for 110 minutes.

Governor gives Nairobi Asian pupils advice

'COURTESY ENDS BUTTERNESS'

BOYS at the Duke of Gloucester School, Nairobi, should try to ensure that the three classes of Kenya could live together in amity and on their mutual advantage, said the Governor of Kenya, Sir Evelyn Baring, at the school speech day on Tuesday. The school, formerly known as the Government of Kenya High School, was re-named at the Coronation.

Mr. Baring said the boys were receiving an excellent start to working towards good citizenship, but he wished to stress that the school was not a 'bubble' which 'floats' above the world. He said that the school should be a part of the world, and that the boys should be prepared to meet the world as it is, and not as they would like it to be.

You will gain'

One of the ways they could do this, he said, was by being courteous to all the people they meet. He said that courtesy was not a weakness, but a strength, and that it was a quality which would help them to gain the respect and admiration of all the people they met.

Still not enough

He said that while it was good to be courteous, it was not enough. He said that the boys should also be prepared to stand up for their rights, and to speak out when they saw something wrong. He said that it was not enough to be a 'yes-man', but that they should be able to say 'no' when they felt that was the right thing to do.

Sports

A number of letters and extracts from the school magazine, which he had read, had given him a good idea of the school's sports activities. He said that sports were an important part of the school's life, and that they should be encouraged to take part in them.

Royal tradition

The Governor said that the school was a part of the royal tradition of Kenya, and that it should continue to uphold the values and traditions of the monarchy. He said that the school should be a place where the boys could learn about the history and traditions of their country.

EAST AFRICA AT BULAWAYO

The Standard, with Mr. Napier, for the opening of the Central African Trade Exhibition, by Her Majesty the Queen Mother went yesterday to Bulawayo to see the exhibition. The exhibition is a fine one—representing in fact the way in which East Africa is presented to the thousands of visitors to the Exhibition.

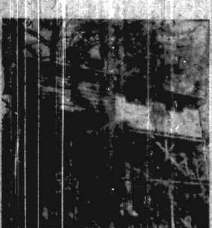

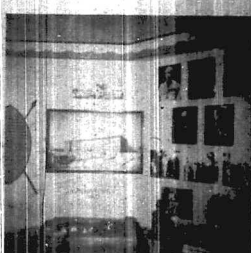

One of the greatest pleasures of the charm and grace with which the Queen Mother and Prince Maurice undertook an arduous task. The picture on the immediate right was taken at the end of a long day and shows the Royal visitors still smiling happily for the crowds. In the other picture, Princess Margaret is listening to an explanation of native dancing.

Left to right, above the bottom of the page, are the Kenya and Tanganyika pavilions, a display of Tanganyika wood-bark work, a model of the Nairobi of the future and the reproduction of the famous "Tree Top House" which has been one of the big successes of the Exhibition. Here visitors are shown a colour film of a scene from the hotel in Nyera.

The effect is almost equivalent to a visit to the High itself, and Mr. Napier considers that if the exhibits were shown in London or the United States it would be a sensation.

Immediately below are other of the East African stands including, on the extreme right, a large buffalo head on loan from the Coryndon Museum.

Another popular place was the "Kenya Garden" where visitors get samples of Kenya products. The chief, Mr. Nyman said, was good. And as a Svedee he should know.

What?
Waste my time
feeling queer?
NOT ME!

When I'm "away from it all!" I make sure I am away from depression, pain, headaches, nervousness and all the rest of it too. No "feeling queer" when I'm on holiday—time's too precious. And that's why I always have my "ASPRO" on hand.

WHERE ENERGY IS REAPING ITS REWARD

In the Kipsigis country of western Kenya, visited recently by the Governor, Sir Evelyn Baring, are some of the best small holdings in Africa.
This tribe of 150,000 people, who live on the fertile slopes of the Highlands, where there are many rivers, have made remarkable strides in agriculture during recent years. Unlike some other tribes, they have been given by their colonial advisers, and have taken advantage of the land and climatic conditions, to farm intensively with the use of modern agricultural machinery.

Transition
By tradition, the Kipsigis are a pastoral people but they have now a transition in progress. They have now a high rainfall, and raised the state of agriculture. Kipsigis farmers are now also planting other cash crops, on their large, well-tilled smallholdings.

For one acre or more in the Kipsigis, paddocks have been established with citrus and banana, and other crops. The Kipsigis have raised a reputation for their excellent progressive farming.

The direct cause of this transition is the fact that the Kipsigis are now being encouraged to plant other crops (besides black and white) on their land. This has resulted in the introduction of the Kipsigis to the modern methods of progressive farming.

Up-towards
Up-towards the dense rain forest, the Kipsigis are now planting other crops (besides black and white) on their land. This has resulted in the introduction of the Kipsigis to the modern methods of progressive farming.

These facts are due to Chief Tan's energetic initiative and leadership. He has built himself a fine house in European style, complete with tiled roof and the most modern conveniences. He has built a school, a hospital, a training centre, a dispensary, and a club for the benefit of the district.

The Problems
But like every other farmer in the world over, the Kipsigis have their problems and for those in the south the chief one is the menace of the locust.

ARTIFICIAL CONTROL OF RAIN

It is now becoming a recognized fact that the weather is not so much a matter of chance as it was once thought. It is now possible to predict the weather to a certain extent, and it is now possible to control it to a certain extent.

The artificial control of rain is now being carried out in many parts of the world. It is now possible to predict the weather to a certain extent, and it is now possible to control it to a certain extent.

After which lived in the bush country south of the Great Lakes.

Members of the tribe were invited to attend a meeting given 18 weeks ago and they are now in the process of planning for the future.

Example to others
Once all parts of the Kipsigis country are high, standardised, the Kipsigis will be able to reap the fruits of their progress.
