THE REHEARSAL SUGGESTS A WEMBLEY THRILLER

But 'Big day' atmosphere can upset form

THE FA Cup Final at Wembley, on April 28, between Blackpool and Newcastle United should be a thriller, packed match if League form is any criterion.

When the teams clashed in Division I at Blackpool on Saturday the honours were divided, each side scoring two goals. But the match did not produce a guide to the eventual winners of the Cup as apart from the fact that both sides were below strength, the tempo of the Wembley semi will upset all the League trends.

Blackpool, who have won the Cup twice, were in the form of their lives when they met Newcastle on Saturday. They had won 10 of their last 12 League games and were unbeaten in 15. Newcastle, who have won the Cup once, were in the form of their lives when they met Blackpool on Saturday. They had won 10 of their last 12 League games and were unbeaten in 15.

Calcutta Cup goes back to England

England 3 pts. Scotland 3 pts.

The match was played at Murrayfield, Edinburgh, on Saturday. England scored three tries in the first half and two in the second. Scotland scored two tries in the first half and one in the second.

THREE CUPS GIFTED TO THE COMMERCIAL LEAGUE

THREE cups have now been put up for competition in the Nairobi Commercial Football League. One from an anonymous donor will be played for on a knockout basis. The other two cups, gifted by Messrs. Queens and Charles will be contested on a points system.

Two weeks later, programmes provided some exciting football on each weekend since the Commercial League.

Is Britain forgetting how to laugh?

MANY visitors to Britain say that Britons are losing their sense of fun. The question has been put to the Gallup Poll and their investigations suggest that there is not so much fun in Britain now.

On the other hand, however, says the Gallup Poll, Britons are still having a really good time. They are still attracted to having had a good time, even if it means having a good time in a different way.

Britain and the Atom Bomb

The official announcement this week that Britain knows how to make an atom bomb and will make her own atomic weapons without direct aid from the United States, is what in the United States is called a "comforting" statement. There will be some who will say that it can only add to the dangers of the international situation, but most people taking a realistic view of the situation will be glad that at least one of the super-powers has taken the step of making its own atomic weapons. It is a comforting statement because it shows that Britain is taking a realistic view of the situation and is not relying on the United States for its atomic defence. Twice as noisy

It is a well-known fact that the noise level in the world is increasing at an alarming rate. This is due to a variety of factors, including the increasing use of motor vehicles, the expansion of industry, and the growth of cities. The noise level in the world is now twice as noisy as it was in 1950. This is a serious problem because noise is a major cause of stress and health problems. It is important to take steps to reduce noise levels in the world. This can be done by using quieter vehicles, expanding industry, and growing cities. AMERICAN OIL TOWNS IN ARABIA

WE left Kenya at the beginning of February as the guests of Air Director-General Sir James Duffell and his wife, the Americans and British workers on the Saudi Arabian Red Persian Gulf oil fields. The use of petroleum products of East Africa for travel on their well-known holidays, and the Saudi East African products to feed the large population of some five thousand Americans and some tens of thousands of other residents.

One of the things to note in the Gulf is the fact that the oil fields are now being developed at a rate which is far in excess of what was expected. This is due to the fact that the oil fields are now being developed at a rate which is far in excess of what was expected. This is due to the fact that the oil fields are now being developed at a rate which is far in excess of what was expected.

Five thousand Americans live in modern cities in the deserts of Arabia. To them Kenya is a possible holiday centre and a source of much-needed fresh produce.

Here MR. SHERBROOKE WALKER, who recently visited the oilfields with Mr. Michael Dunford, of the East Africa Tourist Travel Association, gives a glimpse of life in the oilfields.

STANDARD Agricultural Commissioner. THE present position regarding the immunisation of cattle against rinderpest in Kenya is that the disease is still present in the Elgeyo, Havelock and Mt. The expansion is expected to be completed by the end of the year. It will involve the recruitment of a large number of new recruits, as well as the retraining of existing personnel. The move is seen as a clear signal of the United States' commitment to the defense of the Western Hemisphere.

Lawless aggression

LEADS ARE A BAD INVESTMENT!

Keep water in when it's wanted. Out when it's not.

Don't risk losing the water you work through leaking tanks, troughs or pipes. Don't risk the ruin of stores and household possessions as the result of deterioration of property from leaking roofs.

Leakage prevents your property from the ravages of the weather. Amiable to room cooling, it will prevent a disastrous outside coating of constantly reapplying insecticides ...

At the close, New Zealand had lost three of their second innings for 46 runs. All through the evening rain had been at a furious pace and yesterday's day produced no great change of tactics.

Bailey who had played Surinam first before he was offered an England contract, in his first Test match was substituted at the end of the sixth hour.

When play resumed at 10.15 a.m. on the seventh day, the rain was still falling and the day's play produced no great change of tactics.

Boat Race crews probably best since war

REUTERS AND STRAIGHTS CORRESPONDENT
CAMBRIDGE are favourites to gain their fifth successive victory in the University boat race which will be rowed upstream on a flowing tide today over the 4½-mile Putney-Mortlake course.

Had the race been rowed last Saturday, odds of 10-1 would have been laid against Oxford. But today it is a very different story and the improvement of the Oxford crew has been considerably shortened the odds against them.

The Oxford crew, who were personal winners last year, have a new skipper, David Brown, who was in the 1954 team. They were rowed by the same crew last year. The crew was rowed by the same crew last year. The crew was rowed by the same crew last year.

Second of three testing days for league

TODAY'S matches come in the midst of the very strenuous Easter programme and it will be a strange Easter Saturday if a few shocks are not forthcoming. On the other hand, there do not appear to be any startling immediate changes in the championship leadership.

President Truman's speech to the opening meeting of the 4th Foreign Ministers of American Republics was assembled in Washington is an important one. It is important because he has in addressing the representatives of the peoples of a complete continent, set in the past have had this say in Whitehall. He made clear the position of the American and the rest of the world.

Mr. Truman has since he assumed the mantle of the law. The speech, however, was not intended in its efforts to persuade the peoples of the continent that the changes in which he was concerned and the policy of the United States were in the interest of the continent.

He has also stated that the United States will support the United Nations in its efforts to bring about a settlement of the Arab-Israeli dispute. He has also stated that the United States will support the United Nations in its efforts to bring about a settlement of the Arab-Israeli dispute.

BRITISH FOREIGN POLICY

Mr. Morrison may bring changes
 By ANTHONY DORSET

THE debate on the House of Commons on the proposed financial agreement with Egypt showed that in some quarters of the House there is a feeling that it is desirable to bring the British position in the Middle East to a new basis. It is not clear whether this feeling is based on a desire to bring the British position in the Middle East to a new basis, or whether it is based on a desire to bring the British position in the Middle East to a new basis.
