ing us "Navy-minded" or even "Navy-zealous". Occasionally groups of Native chiefs went aboard and were suitably awestruck, or the Boy Scouts had a day out.

As an ex-Corpsman he showed there were serious-minded people about and behind some of those naval visits.

It was not long before plans were being considered and an organization was being encouraged. It took a long time to develop into anything. It started off with a handful of enthusiastic Europeans who had proper training equipment, and it went through the usual stages of development.

KENYA'S NAVAL SPIRIT OF METAXAS IMPORTED TO CONSTANT WIGIL ON COAST WATERS

From Our Special Correspondent with the East Africa Force.

"Join the Navy," they say to me, "and you will get the world." I joined the Kenya Navy a year ago, and believe me when I tell you that I have never seen a more beautiful Coast in that line than I have seen in a single day. Very few people except those who go down to the sea in a ship or on a motor launch, or to the beach on a holiday and they paddle about in their own dinghies, know how the sea goes down over the moving horizon and they feel the wind on their faces, the sun on their heads, the light breeze at Mombasa, or Malindi, or the golden evening in from the deep blue at Malindi or the white dunes at Malindi. There are few places in Kenya washed by the warm Indian Ocean, and the sea is so blue and so calm and so beautiful and so full of life that it is a joy to see it. It is a joy to see it in the morning when the sun is low and the sky is blue and the sea is calm and the air is fresh and the birds are singing and the flowers are in bloom and the people are happy and the world is so beautiful and so full of life that it is a joy to see it.

GOOD START TO E.A. MOBILE CANTEN FUND

The progress of the Kenya War Welfare Fund, to which another £700 accrued through the latest lot, is very good indeed, and the £20,000 mark is not far off. Once again all contributors have come forward with generous donations and the Fund is growing apace.

The Fund for London Relief and British Mobile Canteens, having closed its account for the year 1940, has been superseded by a Mobile Canteen Fund for East Africa. This opens with the splendid sum of £10,000, from the Nairobi War Welfare Fund. If this pace is maintained for only a week or so the Fund will grow to giant proportions.

BRITISH RED CROSS SOCIETY & ORDER OF ST. JOHN

Nairobi, January 1941.

To the Generous Public of Kenya.

As long as you are well you can really stand anything. The monotony, the sand, the desert, grinding marches, sun, dust and fatigue, all are bearable if health is with you. But when sickness whether from disease or wounds gets you down, all these become unbearable and it is then that help is needed.

That is the work of the Red Cross Service.

Amongst the many and various objects to which you are asked to subscribe let us suggest to you one interest that none is more important than ours.

In Kenya today we have our own Kenya Troops, Europeans, Asians and Africans to look after, as well as those from South Africa, England, India, Rhodesia, the Gold Coast, Nigeria, and other parts of the Empire. Here they are and the sick and wounded must be looked after and cared for. We cannot evade the responsibility. It is the task and duty of everyone in Kenya, of whatever race or creed to see that those who are suffering in our cause shall have all the extra attention, care and comfort we can give them.

JUST A THOUGHT

It's hard enough in health and strength to keep your spirits bright, to battle with the laws and still feel equal to the world. It's hard enough in health and strength to keep depression out, but some of us bear life's great loads on backs that are not stout. For them it must be doubly hard, thus handicapped and ill to make a show of courage and be optimistic still. To cling to life and hope through hours monotonous and long. It is the work among us who so often shame the strong.

KATHLEEN PARTRIDGE.

Now although the response of the Public has been great, unfortunately the need is still greater. Although Fetes, concerts, entertainments, meetings, raffles etc., are continually being held in aid of the Red Cross the fact remains that we are spending more than is being subscribed, and unless we receive more money we cannot fulfil our task.

Therefore we are making this appeal. Will you help us to relieve, tend and restore the sick and the wounded. It is a great cause. Donations will be gratefully acknowledged in the Press.

Cheques should be made payable to THE HON. TREASURER, JOINT CO-ORDINATING COMMITTEE, BRITISH RED CROSS & ORDER OF ST. JOHN, P.O. Box 21, NAIROBI.

OR THE HON. TREASURER, WAR WELFARE FUND, P.O. Box 21, NAIROBI (enumerated for Red Cross Service)

ARTHUR A. LEGAT, President, BRITISH RED CROSS SOCIETY.

Vichy Caisss Leads To New German Move

Pro-Nazi Frenchmen And Collaboration

HITLER'S BLUFF TO GET Foothold IN AFRICA

A NEW GERMAN move in Africa... A lettering program on Vichy is a political movement which has been launched in Paris under the sponsorship of some of the most ardent pro-German Frenchmen. Its formation was announced from Berlin and the only important plank in the platform is collaboration with Germany.

Indubitable part of the French fleet is now safe from the Axis clutches in North Africa ports. To even possibly move that fleet may be made on the short-term, it is possible, but therefore, it is not only possible, but certain.

one man to shoot dead or one man was not dead of starvation or was wounded. The commander thought he might betray them to the Italians so they suddenly moved to come back. But many of us were too weak to stand and had to be carried by stagers by the stranger men, who brought them some water and some food to eat in the night.

The party split up and some decided to return by way of the Sudan, and Tadmara explained how the only way to save ourselves would have been to attack their own people and to steal from them. On the contrary their instructions and their orders had been to make Ethiopia. In actual fact they saw very few people except their Ethiopian friends. They shrank to the Italian camp and it was a wonder that they had shed the blood of their own countrymen and that they had the apparatus to join them. The Garrison asked the Ethiopians to send their names and we said they would send them one of their party. They did not appear to have any intention of doing so, but fortunately in their eagerness the Ethiopian went forward to the post in a body and the entry supporting force opened fire a second time and the negotiations failed. But I remember the name of one of the enemy force who was killed in the encounter. He proved to be the important Ethiopian chief Tadesse of Bomi. The Ethiopians were so full of rage at the death of their own people that they were brought in by the British.

And as the 1st Battalion Ethiopian Refugee Regiment straggled back, they having been killed, one lost and fifty were ill. After nearly a month the strongest of them reached the belt of trees known as the Camp of the British in the hills of Kambale where they made contact with some Italian troops who were in the Dorocho hills and the plains that leads to Mandaya. They were brought in by the British. Their ill-fated mission had ended.

West Landmark. "I could have been killed or shot and after much suffering we were returned to our own country. We will not be back again for ourselves, we will not be with our British officers. We must be with the British and we should like to fight side by side with the King's African Rifles. But we appreciate very much the help given to us by the British. We will give to the British Government in every way we can."

Five months ago, that was an unexpected check by a handful of Bands at Hararapic which the whole course of a hospital experience. The Ethiopians entered Abyssinia at a point different from that planned for them, with the result that they had to wander through a desolated countryside and never saw the friends they hoped to meet.

And How. Because. But the city had a heavy siege. Since then, spirits revived, they have been taken in a very important still, they have been in action against enemy irregulars half a dozen times and these successful encounters have cleared over 2,000 square miles of North-West Kenya of bands and enabled local tribes to return to their normal lives. The expedition which began so tragically at Hararapic has succeeded. The unarmament body of men who crossed the frontier and returned shaken have developed into a spirited unit full of confidence and spirit.

Contract the story of Duluha with that I have related. On October 18 last part of the Battalion left the North Harar district on their march.

This is the "Nightmare" of 5 miles, 4 were killed and 4 were wounded. The reported recovery of a special circuit design to give maxima performance from 6 volt battery operated valves. The "Blackbirds" are 7 valve superb receivers of similar design for A.C. and A.C.D.C. mains operation. Agents for East Africa.

A QUARTER OF ERTREA NOW IN BRITISH HANDS

Mr. Menzies Foresees Dissolution Of Italian Empire

LATEST R. A. F. SUCCESSES

COURTIER details of our success in the Italian East Africa are given in a correspondent in Cairo. It is estimated that the British forces in Eritrea, in the east, have captured 18,000 square miles, or nearly a quarter of the Italian Colony.

The British victories in Libya, to which the Australians had played a prominent part, forestalled the complete dissolution of Italy's African Empire. The British Government had sent a message of admiration and encouragement to the Italian people from the people of Australia.

The British Empire has never been so great and more powerful than it is today.

Mr. Menzies also paid a tribute to the Greeks and spoke of the marvelous success they had won with the aid of the British.

Referring to the Eastern Group Nations Conference recently held in New Delhi, Mr. Menzies declared it as one of the greatest developments in that part of the world.

Mr. Menzies flew to Dublin today to meet Mr. de Valera. Mr. Menzies expects to return in time to carry out his special assignment.

Mr. Menzies will be restricted to meetings in Dublin. On his trip he was accompanied by the Hon. Mr. W. J. Conboy.

Mr. Menzies will visit Liverpool and Manchester. He expects to return in time to carry out his special assignment.

At the Town Hall, where he was received by the Lord Mayor, Mr. Menzies said that he had seen the great aerial warfare.

Other speakers urged that the Government should do all in their power to avert war, while some members held the contrary view that the United States should be more than if the Bill was carried.

Before the debate began, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, Mr. Rayburn, had predicted that the bill would receive a majority of between 120 and 125 votes.

The Senate has approved President Roosevelt's bill which calls for the construction of 300 merchant ships. It will be recalled that the President had asked for 500,000 dollars to provide for the construction of 300 merchant ships.

GOOD PROGRESS BY PATROLS

60 Miles Over The Border

The Kenya Information Office's statement follows the following statement—
Our advance patrols are making good progress on all sections of the front. A number of prisoners have been captured together with arms and equipment. Our results have been very good.

In some places advance patrols are now maintaining a distance of 60 miles inside enemy territory. In this patrol activity, African troops are showing themselves more than a match for the enemy. Much of this activity is taking place over trackless country with its inherent tactical and geographical difficulties.

The British Empire has never been so great and more powerful than it is today. Mr. Menzies also paid a tribute to the Greeks and spoke of the marvelous success they had won with the aid of the British.

Man-Power

Captain Hughes asked for information about the composition of the local Man-Power Committee and why various officers were retained for office work after the war had been declared and replaced by other retired officials of experience. He did not see that of those young men who were allowed to remain in the district there was any possibility of equality of sacrifice. The young farmer was very weak but firm throughout and finances were not a doubt; if the young official was sent away he was sure.

The Hon. Secretary pointed his financial report, bringing the large majority who had paid no attention promptly. There was a balance in 433.74 etc.

The accounts were accepted, subject to audit of vouchers by the incoming Committee.

Risks Excessive
 He had explained that while he considered the present war risks insurance rate excessive, in view of the limited cover under the present scheme, he was in favour of cover that would hit to go on a longer term basis. He said that in the proposals put forward to Government last August, the scheme had been put forward by way of a limited trial. The resolution passed in the East African Executive Council, which was put in force, was not a personal matter, but a public one. He had, in fact, mentioned that it was a public one, but it was not a personal matter, but a public one. Mr. J. G. S. Hunter, representing the East African Executive Council, said that in the case of a guarantee being given the Kenya and Uganda Governments would be asked to guarantee the Fund. It was not thought that any such thing would be needed at this stage. As to the matter of the insurance, Mr. W. T. Dunlop said a number of questions which various speakers were asked to answer.

Life Ruined By Nerves and Indigestion

I would Rather Go Without A New Hat Than My Yeast-Vite

Dear Sirs—It is my duty to write and thank you for the wonderful value of Yeast-Vite Tablets, which I cannot speak too highly of.

I have been treated for years for nerves and indigestion and have spent pounds on medicine, but also tried almost every tablet and medicine advertised, but find Yeast-Vite wonderful. I have had the tablets now for over a year and find I am better in every way, can eat anything whereas before I could scarcely eat bread and butter. I have put on weight and feel full of energy and like a different person.

For I'm cold they are marvelous to me. I have had my daughter aged 15 years, when she was very ill and my doctor advised me to give her Yeast-Vite, and for some time she has been getting well, and we are very thankful.

I have written to you at least twelve people who would be glad to give you testimonials for Yeast-Vite for nerves and indigestion. I have written to you at least twelve people who would be glad to give you testimonials for Yeast-Vite for nerves and indigestion.

African Standard THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1943. LORD LLOYD The Empire and Its Servants It is an accepted tradition of British life, and particularly of Empire, that we should be prepared to serve on behalf of the British people...

we have till too late the pleasure and the comforting things we might have said. So a measure has been taken that quite fearlessly and gallantly Lord Lloyd took a straight and simple view of the duties of those who are charged with the direction of the affairs of the British Empire...

Lord Lloyd made his choice. The most important consideration which he had to make it was when he was High Commissioner for Kenya and Sudan. The Labour Government of Britain desired to introduce the spirit of compromise into relations with Kenya and Sudan as the man on the spot, believed that firmness and unyielding maintenance of the status quo was the only policy...

There are people who do not and could not understand Lord Lloyd. He was too nimble-witted for them. He accused their suspicions. Perhaps it was as well that he did not accept the offer to become Governor of Kenya...

COMMERCIAL COMMUNITY AND NEW WAR RISKS SCHEME

A BLACK-OUT NOTICE: A CLUB FOR SERVICE WOMEN

What it Means

In the Kenya Information Office's statement of an allocation to the Kenya Information Office, Government Notice No. 120, published on February 4, 1942, the southern limit was stated to be the railway line from Mombasa through Nairobi and Nakuru to Thika. This statement may help to re-orient any uncertainty thereby caused.

It will be noted that there is an alteration in the existing black-out area as far west as Nakuru, including, of course, the whole of the Nairobi District Council area, both north and south of the line, and certain wards in the Nakuru District Council area.

Now, however, instead of the southern limit from Nakuru towards Nairobi, the railway line through Nakuru to Kisumu, it has been moved to the line through Eldoret to the Kenya border on the north to Thika. This is a move of course, without the scope of the regulation, but was quoted because the actual southern limit contained in the notice is Nairobi, the rail station on the Kenya line, but a small one and probably little known.

The fact that the new black-out area is therefore to extend southwards to the Nairobi-Kisumu and the Nakuru-Thika railway lines is for west as the Kenya-Uganda border, although they still apply to all Kenyan towns and Townships situated north or south of the latter line.

PROBLEMS OF THE EAST AFRICAN CAMPAIGN

NEWS FROM UGANDA

Letters From The Troops

Trying To Find An Enemy To Fight

WATER KEY FACTOR

[From Our Special Correspondent with the East African Forces.]

I completed the other day a tour of part of the East African front and in the course of my travels nearly a month ago from Nairobi and back to the top of the East African front. I did not see the whole of the front because I did not go to Lake Rudolf. Had I done so the journey would have been a long one. The Kenya front line is only part of the whole. The battle-fronts are the Indian Ocean, East of Kenya, and East of the Horn of Africa. The British, French, Somaliland, and British Somaliland, Abyssinian, and French Somaliland fronts are not less than 2,000 miles in length. The East African front is only about 1,000 miles long. GARRISON REVIEW Features from and for the Forces THE PLATE

THE first time it had been just as if there were a secret understanding between them. Of course there was nothing of the kind, and yet they both rose suddenly at the same moment and left the dining-room.

The little village pond stared up at the sky with one bright eye. Round it grey mysterious willows spun four rods. Then a valley opened out, bounded by gently undulating uplands.

A broad pond opened out, seeming to lead nowhere. This was the way they took. It seemed natural that they should walk am-ble-ram, and when a still wind blew up from the sea she sought after to him, as they walked on.

A YACHT, shining white, came into view. In five or six minutes it was the first that ever heard of the island. Nobody else was told of it, and everyone did for some months after in the last year there really got to them.

THE investigations over the water had been arranged for the afternoon. The hotel directly instituted fruitless enquiries, but they did not lead anywhere and were equally unproductive for all concerned.

THE good humor vanished from the faces of the two diamond rings, beginning to be a little more than a little. The American girl had been stolen from the hotel and disappeared to her room.

THE next morning, when most friends had gone down to the beach, a group of his men, who were very much interested in the problem, were seen to be talking to the hotel and disappeared to their rooms.

SPORTS PARADE

SOCCER In a friendly encounter on the Railway enclosure recently, another of the series of Soccer matches between "South Africa" and the local R.A.F. was played.

It is a great pity in matters of this "international" character that one sees the Air Force turning out to speak and sign to a degree, whereas the South African side looks on as spectators.

It is a pity that the teams cannot be sure of their day after advertising in such an attractive way as the Gold Coast and the South African teams. Perhaps military calls were the cause of this.

By "SPEELER" match with interest. At the last moment a team was mustered from various units and the Air Force, but, of course, the original material was lacking.

Tea and Parties

THERE was great excitement among the guests at the Sunday afternoon party given by His Excellency the Governor and Lady Moore last week, when it was announced that General Sir Ashfield Wavell, Commander-in-Chief of the Middle East, was to be the guest of honor.

Lady Moore, in her capacity of hostess, published a special invitation to the guests, which was a very attractive and beautiful affair. Among those who were present to the Governor of British East Africa and Mrs. Vincent, Mrs. Gladys, who was staying at Government House at the time.

At 4.15 for the occasion, while Capt. Major, Capt. Major, and Pilot Officer Graham, who were all present, were with the playing of Major Adair's (South African Forces) of the party. The guests of the dancing and a really enjoyable one.

LABOUR RETURNS

To the Editor, "K.A. Standard"—Sir—Reading the heading of your notice in Monday's issue on labour returns the first reaction was a feeling of relief that the "system" was to be discontinued. It is correct, however, that what has been up to the present only a monthly publication is in future to be repeated weekly.

There may be some academic quibbles involved in these returns, and it doubtless affords a means of voice to the official and the employers concerned in their tabulations, but to the general public enquiries of those who have to supply him with his figure it is doubtful whether he would find even one penny to credit to receive one lot of benefit from the procedure. Consequently, the trouble to which we are just pointing to us an interesting means of obtaining labour statistics for supplying someone with data which in no way help to maintain and control a regular flow of reliable labour.

There was a medieval form of torture which consisted in allowing degrees of water to fall in regular drips on the surface of the criminal's head, until finally he drove his head into the water and was thus a statistical return dropped and his face was being driven mad through a statistical return.

success, can only be brought to success by diminishing the dose and spreading it over the entire period, and a half time! Presently there is no possibility of reducing the period of the infliction as the patients' health is so completely changed. If the latter should be kept for more than a month, the patients will be unable to make it a daily routine. He is realizing that such a programme of attempting work in controlling areas which would have been feasible in a previous day. Does he recognize that these people can look on with no reason for complaint when other job besides that of the machine to produce electricity? Recently I took on a native as a resident quarters under the new 1937 Ordinances, but when I took him to the station for his first journey, he had neither his native pass from the Government nor the necessary papers for 1941. This was a pity for 1941, as the contract was not signed. I therefore went to the Government to get the necessary papers signed for me. I was told that the contract was not signed, but I was given a permit to allow me to go to the station without a permit. LORD LLOYD

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 1941. It is an accepted tradition of British life, and particularly of Imperial service, that we will hold our praises until it is too late for them to have much use to us. We trudge 'out' of our way, before those who have served us either die or have reached the limits of their usefulness, to try to weigh them in the balance with the intention of justly admitting our indebtedness to them. Honors and medals come the way of some, and there are a few who retire in a blaze of glory to live for years on their memories and their public reputation. But for the most part we work our best lives till they are finished and when we have done with them we leave till too late the pleasant and the comforting things we might have done for them.

So in a measure has it been with that quiet fearless and gallant fighter Lord Lloyd. He took a straight and simple view of the duties of those who are charged with the direction of the affairs of the Empire. To his mind the first and last responsibility of a Government, especially of a British Government, was to govern and to do so without fear or favour with justice and firmness.

Lord Lloyd, like Mr. Churchill, was not the political wilderness for years because of his own and a certain frankness of spirit made it difficult for the complacent people to work against him. But Mr. Churchill never forgot his exceptional qualities, his shrewd brain, his great knowledge and his driving power.

Lord Lloyd was one of those who were brought back into the national team. He went to the Colonies to see the situation and he would sweep away many of the cobwebs and the fog of the red tape. Unfortunately the preparations of war did not give him any opportunity of inspiring Colonial Office policy with a new and more courageous vision.

Kenya has lost in him a good and understanding friend. In 1933, speaking at an East African Dinner in London, he said, "Let it be understood that you cannot rule your African Empire while carrying on a series of abrogations and shambles elsewhere."

Lord Lloyd was one of those who were brought back into the national team. He went to the Colonies to see the situation and he would sweep away many of the cobwebs and the fog of the red tape.

INDIGESTION LED TO GASTRIC ULCER

Stomach Suffering Who Had "Tried Everything". It is not always wise to dismiss indigestion as a minor ailment. In some cases, it may be something more serious. A man who had tried everything for his indigestion, and who had been told that he was suffering from a gastric ulcer, was cured by a course of treatment.

At Barents.
The position at Barents is that there are only two good routes out of the town and they are held by our troops. British troops in this area are being protected on the right flank by other British troops who hold a place just inside Eritrea, 50 miles south of Barents.

Further south British troops from the Sudan are clearing the way towards Gondar, 90 miles inland from Barents. Italian planes were being held out in the Metemma marshes in the Sudan. They were British guns are shelling the Metemma marshes and the Sudanese are attacking the Italian positions.

It is pointed out in London that our troops get deeper into Abyssinia the more they are needed for the operations continue, while they are being used to clear the way for the mechanized transport companies and the British Army.

British Women To Be Conscriped
The conscription of British women in the Sudan is now being discussed. It is proposed that women should be conscripted for the transport of supplies and for the maintenance of the front lines.
