MORE VICTORIES

This has been a great week for the Allies and whatever difficulties the future may have in store—there will doubtless be many more before it. It is to be rejoiced at the practical demonstrations during the last few days of the increasing effectiveness of our forces on the land and in the air. This week, too, has witnessed one of our biggest diplomatic triumphs with the revolt by the people of Yugoslavia against enslavement to the Axis and the establishment of a government pledged to maintain at all costs the freedom and independence of their country.

Admiral Cunningham On The Victor

BATTLESHIP ALSO SUNK?

ADMIRAL Sir Andrew C. Cunningham, Commander-in-Chief of the Mediterranean Fleet, has himself given the figures of damage inflicted on the Italian navy by the ships and planes under his command.

He was questioned about the action of the ships on his return to Alexandria yesterday in great detail. He estimates that the Italian fleet lost one-third of its battleships more than a half of its destroyers and a quarter of its cruisers. He also estimated that about one-third of its submarines were destroyed.

It is now thought probable that the Italian fleet has been reduced to a few destroyers, apart from damaged ships.

BattleShip Lost?

At Matruh, evidence is accumulating that the Italian battleship Vittorio Veneto, which was reported to have been sunk on the 23rd, is still in the sea.

According to an agency message from Alexandria there are reports that the battleship was not sunk. It is believed that she is in the sea.

Fooley

It is reported that on January 10, the Italian newspaper Avanti! described a fearful sea attack that it predicted Germany would launch against Britain within the next 90 days.

The article appeared today and today is April 1 (Heater).

While reports of the day after yesterday reported that several Italian ships were on a raft in the Mediterranean, it is believed that they have formed part of the battleship wreck.

The vessel's log was reduced from 10 to 15 knots per hour and several hydrophones to search for the wrecked ship. It is believed that it is the possibility that the wrecked ship is the Italian battleship Vittorio Veneto, which was sunk on the 23rd.

Model for Students
The full account of the triumph shows that the conduct of the campaign was a model for students of the conduct of a war.

It is the first time that the Italian fleet has been shown down by air attack and completely without any land works.

The success of the attack by the First Air Arm is a landmark in the history of the most modern type of warfare.

It is a landmark because, since the First Air Arm was formed, it has been the only one to have been used in a major battle.

Among the units of the British forces were the Warships, a veteran unit of the Royal Navy, and the Harlem and Valiant, the aircraft carrier Formidable, the York, the Devonshire and Hayes, the latter the largest of the British fleet.

Shipping Losses Lower

British shipping losses are down 40 per cent, it is revealed in today's Admiralty report. The report shows that the shipping losses to enemy action in the week ended March 21 were 1,316 tons, including 2,200 tons of oil, and one neutral of 6,000 tons.

The report also shows that the shipping losses to enemy action in the week ended March 21 were 1,316 tons, including 2,200 tons of oil, and one neutral of 6,000 tons.

ALONE IN BRAVA

The Art of Occupation

(From a contemporary)

We are up to a quite sudden. A map appeared in the rich morning news with the headline: "Italy alone in Brava". The white, attractive stucco Italian buildings on the right caught the eye that it was a long time before we noticed the dark misty shadows which lay to their left and completed the city. A pier ran into orthodox white columns and blue sea. What sort of occupation was it, we asked, that from this non-toothy emaciated town that had no recently taken from the Italian?

They might know the answer. The British Consul, the British British Political Officer, no British Consul. On the main road, five miles away, across might or might not pass. The twenty miles away, or perhaps even as far as the sea, there was a road. There were only three or so. Yet all around there was such that we could feel so far. We had walked in the bush with laughing Somali boys. By friendly Avies we had been conducted to the old Governor's house which the Governor had said to Rome.

There we had received first a Public Officer, who had returned from the front, and who had been in the office and who still were responsible for the orderly behaviour of the British Blockade.

Second, we had received the young local general, who was intending to stand up to her bay to a bottle of champagne, and who was intending to stand up to her bay to a bottle of champagne, and who was intending to stand up to her bay to a bottle of champagne.

MAIZE AID COFFEE PRICES

To the Editor, "E.A. Standard"

The maize and coffee prices have been so low that the Government has had to intervene to stabilize the market. The maize price is now at a level which is not only below the cost of production, but also below the cost of transport. This is a situation which is not only a hardship on the producer, but also a hardship on the consumer. The Government should take steps to stabilize the market and to ensure that the producer is able to cover his costs and to make a reasonable profit. This can be done by increasing the maize price to a level which is above the cost of production and transport, and by increasing the coffee price to a level which is above the cost of production and transport.

THE COMPLETE SOCIALIST

The complete socialist (or even communist) of Kenya has been offered. This can be done by increasing the maize price to a level which is above the cost of production and transport, and by increasing the coffee price to a level which is above the cost of production and transport.

Making Good Citizens

Valuable Work Of Zanzibar "Watoto" Club

As many provincial experiments have already proved conclusively the best way to produce good citizens is to "take 'em young," and this applies to all races and communities with equal force.

The Zanzibar "Watoto" Club has been carrying out work of this description since the beginning of 1939 and the annual report for 1939 has just been published.

The Club is under the patronage of H.H. the Sultan of Zanzibar and H.E. the British Resident and L.L. Col. A. T. Sheringham, Commissioner of Police in Zanzibar. It had its origin in the mind of a former Police Commissioner who preferred to prevent the commission of petty offences and the offenders a chance to become useful citizens rather than to continue to receive such juvenile delinquents with a view to subsequent punishment by the Courts.

The scheme has been an unqualified success and on an external scale Government and public donations to the Club have been plentiful. Mr. A. bin Salim was a supporter of the Club and it suffered a great loss by his death.

The Club deals with Arab and African boys between the ages of 1 and 16 years who do not come within the scope of any other government organization and who but for the Club could drift into vice by the streets.

Entertainment and Recreation

The Club gives neither and providing food, makes arrangements for the obtaining of meals at nearby, approved eating houses and for the use of the facilities in its premises. Four of the original members, when the Club was founded in 1939, are still members and attend the Club regularly for education and recreation, and are doing well. The membership at December 31, 1940 was twenty-three boys.

The Club has adopted new and simple rules and the subscription from members is 2/- each monthly. The Club is open daily from 8.15 to 8.45 a.m. 10.30 to 10.45 a.m. and 5.0 to 10.0 p.m. lights-out being at 10.0 p.m.

It objects are to inculcate self-responsibility and generally to give education, recreation and instruction and principally to instil regular work for its members. It is in line with the report that "few things breed a sense of self-respect more than regular employment."

It is in the report that "few things breed a sense of self-respect more than regular employment." It is in the report that "few things breed a sense of self-respect more than regular employment." It is in the report that "few things breed a sense of self-respect more than regular employment."

Bitter Premises

The members have also rendered useful service in local defence work. The Club provides ping pong and draughts among its recreations and suitable illustrated papers. It has a football team which plays in the recent division of the Zanzibar League. Members are encouraged to take up boxing and a qualified Police instructor attends the Club twice weekly.

A more spacious and better-ventilated Club building has been leased from the municipality and plans have been laid out in front of the Club. The question of a building has also been considered and some members in regular employment have been counted in the P.O. Savings Bank.

The Medical Dept. has arranged to attend to sick members of the Club, who are now affiliated to the British Street Boys' Club of Colombo and the National Association of Boys' Clubs of London.

The Club's winter review was held during the year under review was held at the Chief Justice's Club, John's House, Mr. Justice John's House. What he had to say of the Club summarizes its usefulness. He said: "I have been most interested in the conditions under which this most useful work is being done. It appears to provide a nucleus for excellent re-educative and reformative work among the boys, the utility of which might well be extended with greater public support."

PENSIONS TO DEPENDENTS

Position In East Africa

With regard to the rate of pensions payable to dependents of members of the E. A. Force, the following statement from an official quarter has been given to the East African Standard.

All death and disability awards previously on the "old" scales, provided in the Royal Warrant for Pensions of June 1940. This warrant applies to all ranks of the British Army.

The whole question of its applicability to local British personnel normally resident in East Africa is at present under examination to an inter-territorial committee, presided by an officer of the Ministry of Pensions who arrived in East Africa recently.

In the case of a widow of a private in which two children are dependent upon her, the pension payable is Shs. 37/6 a week on the Royal Warrant scale, and not Shs. 22/50 as has been stated.

Any complaints or enquiries relating to these awards should be addressed to the Pensions Assessment Board, c/o the Accountant-General, Nairobi.

Every effort is being made to secure prompt payment in all cases on the provisional basis explained above.

Technique Of War Finance BRITAIN'S RECORD CREDITABLE

The following article by Geoffrey Crowther, Editor of "The Economist," is quoted from "Britain Today":

War is by far the most expensive business that Man has ever discovered. The cost of the operations of the general public is increased largely by reducing those of its supplies.

Other Methods The three ways of doing this are taxation, loans and indirect taxation. Taxes require very little explanation: every pound paid in tax is one pound's worth of command over the citizen to the State.

Peace and War Finance The object of all war economies is to transfer the productive resources of the country from their present purpose of serving the community's welfare to their war-time task of producing the means of war.

These are three main methods by which the State can increase its own command over labour and materials and diminish that of the

Traffic Offences Magistrate's Busy Day

A long series of traffic offences were dealt with by the Resident Magistrate on Tuesday, while ten cases were withdrawn for prosecution.

Among other cases dealt with was a number for parking chiefly drawing up within 30 feet of a street intersection, but also for driving on footpaths.

Offences in connection with public service vehicles were dealt with by the Resident Magistrate on Tuesday, while ten cases were withdrawn for prosecution.

A similar fine was imposed on K. C. P. O'Brien for driving a lorry licensed for a maximum speed of 25 m.p.h. at a speed of 40 m.p.h.

For drawing up P.V. vehicles on a footpath, four cases were actually under three—two cases taken on the 16th—each were imposed on Charles Kagwa.

Parking Offences Parking offences also resulted in a number of fines. For drawing up opposite to a traffic island, the case of Mrs. M. N. M. was fined Shs. 10/- and for a similar offence, Mrs. A. Archer, a bridge warden, was fined Shs. 10/-.

EUROPEAN CHILDREN'S HOLIDAY CAMP.
To the Editor, "E.A. Standard"
Sir—The Management Committee of the European Children's Holiday Camp will be glad to hear from you if you will give publicity in your paper to the annual Holiday Camp for the Fund. The Committee feel that the camp is the most important thing that has happened in East Africa since the war and is even greater this year than last. Many more parents and children are taking part than ever before. The camp is held in a beautiful spot in the mountains and is held from August to September. It is especially during the long holidays in August and September that the children are in the camp. We are able to take their children in the camp and to see them during the camp. It is a great joy to see the children and to see them in the camp. It is a great joy to see the children and to see them in the camp. SOUTH AFRICAN SCENE

DIKTATORSHIP NOT THE UNION

political interest in South Africa continues to centre in what is happening outside and not inside the country.
The struggle in the Opposition... between Mr. Pirow with his "New Order" and the Official Opposition with its policy of "A Republic in Our Time"...

These people who speak so superficially about the destruction of democracy apparently do not realise that there is but one thing that can replace it—dictatorship—which means the destruction of all personal freedoms...

Voluntary War Insurance

So far the debate on the budget has been very hazy.
The Budget Minister and revolutionaries are now engaged in the present with the technicalities of the proposed Bill, which is designed to improve as far as possible the conditions in industry...

WAIT, MAYBE I DON'T GO. I AIN'T SO SLEEPY.

The Cape Murderer?

Great interest is being aroused by the arrest of a young Malaya in connection with the Cape Murders.
On Friday night, March 14, the boy, accompanied by a bushy police dog, was taken to the Cape Town jail before the police...

Engineering Control

The Government has taken steps to exercise the power to control the Engineering Industry of South Africa.
The Minister of Defence and Armaments, Mr. J. G. van der Stoep, has announced that he will issue orders to the industry...

COVERTION BECE

It matters not how meanly skilled a writer is if he hath knowing and communicative friends.—Cicero.

THE NEW ANGLE

Once more one of those events in International affairs has occurred, which could not have been foreseen.
There has been persistent reports that Hitler intended to break into the Balkans...

SLEEPING CAR

But to starve Hitler he has to have a clear field at the Atlantic for his U-boats and his long distance bombers, and to do this he must somehow reduce our naval forces in the Atlantic (and also prevent it in patrolling or convoys the Atlantic)...

COVERTION IN GREAT BRITAIN

One imagines for this of course, is all purely theoretical) that both objects might be achieved, in his view, if he could create a powerful diversion in the Mediterranean.
But France has proved unadministrative, Spain has proved recalcitrant; Italy a liability. There remained the Balkans...

COVERTION IN GREAT BRITAIN

Thus will not go too smoothly in the Balkans.
don't think that; but it is also some comfort to realize that neither are they going too smoothly for Hitler.
But even with Mouskouri out of it, we must not think that it will be one long triumphal march to the end of the war...

BASIL CARDEW

Hailo, O. D., what's the invasion news down at Hell Fire Corner.
O. D. Gallagher: Well, they're waiting for it, just as in any other place, but when people talk to you know your "Magnon Line" as they call it...

Two experts talk it over

O. D. Gallagher, the war reporter, and Basil Cardew, the air reporter, met in London recently.
Gallagher, veteran of China, Abyssinia, Spain and France, talked to Cardew, who has lived with the fighter and bomber pilots through the battles of autumn and winter. This is what they said.

GARRISON REVIEW Features from and for the Forces A HERO IN CHIEF

Can you give me a job? The foreman of the bricklayers looked down from the scaffold to the speaker below.

Hezekiah moved on. Presently he stepped in front of a policeman. "Sir," he said, "can you tell me the way to..."

The policeman struck him across the side of the head. "I'll learn you," he said, "to ask damn good questions..."

Hezekiah looked for work in it. He had no money. He was exhausted. He had not had any money any more.

Hezekiah turned and shot the chair across the room. He was a man sitting at a desk under a reading lamp.

"What are you doing?" "I'm counting my money," said Hezekiah. "What are you doing?"

"I'm counting my money," said Hezekiah. "What are you doing?" "I'm counting my money," said Hezekiah.

By STEPHEN LEACOCK There was a roar and hubbub to the street below.

"The police," Hezekiah muttered. "I must get up to the house and escape in the confusion."

"Fire!" Fire was the cry. Hezekiah ran along the top of the building.

"What are you doing?" "I'm counting my money," said Hezekiah. "What are you doing?"

"I'm counting my money," said Hezekiah. "What are you doing?" "I'm counting my money," said Hezekiah.

"I'm counting my money," said Hezekiah. "What are you doing?" "I'm counting my money," said Hezekiah.

Haylett realized that a new life had opened before him. He had earned a despised outcast. He had earned the American citizenship.

At the police station the chief asked Hezekiah to his room. "I hope you will like this room," he said.

"I hope you will like this room," he said. "I hope you will like this room," he said.

STORY OF E.A. ARMOUR'D CAR DREAM THAT'S COMING TRUE

Remarkable Scenes On Way To Berbera

(From Our Special Correspondent, George Kincaid, with the East Africa Force)

Luiga, Algeria, March 27.—Four Sunday mornings ago, the only motor of Berbera was a truck carrying a group of three Italian aircraft which came over the Marfa Pass and dropped some bombs somewhere (and were seen several days later) by ground force a number of weeks ago heading down the road from the coast to the interior. They had come from Berbera, the capital of British Somaliland, and had a half day before they had set out from their base. They were through and on their way to the interior. It was a trouble-free trip. No Italian fighter was seen on the East Africa Armoured Car Regiment—the old Italian—until they were met by British Somaliland. MOSQUITO REPELLENT

A chemical preparation which will save Southern African soldiers from infection by malaria-carrying mosquitoes has been produced by Dr. Boho de Meillon, entomologist of the South African Institute of Medical Research. It is already available.

The United Department of Defence has considered, would meet me to test the efficacy of a mosquito repellent. This was a substance to be rubbed on the body. It was claimed, would keep away mosquitoes. Dr. de Meillon investigated the components and claims of the repellent, but found them not entirely satisfactory. After considerable research he made a preparation which he called "Malaria Repellent". It is a mixture of various chemicals in good condition and attractively and.

All that evening and next morning the British troops were busy about the surrounding village and they were advised to wear their hats. Hundreds of flies, which were flying about the camp, were being driven away by the repellent. The British troops were busy about the surrounding village and they were advised to wear their hats. MAKING HISTORY IN AFRICA:

Keren Falls After 21 Weeks' Fierce Fighting

HARAR AND ASABABA FALL

The Retreat To Addis Ababa

OUR OCCUPATION OF DIREDAWA CUTS THE RAILWAY

(From Our Special Correspondent, George Kinross, with the East Africa File)

Jijiga, Abyssinia, March 23.—A week ago Italian forces re-occupied Berbera, the capital of Somaliland. When Mussolini first had set two divisions into it eight months ago and five Italian battalions had been killed until the evacuation could be carried out successfully, an American journalist wrote that the Italians had added another nail to the collection of African disasters which he considered the greatest in the world. He was not wrong. It is a sad thing to see the greater part of a once important African country under a foreign yoke.
