Graphic Stories Of Epic Evacuation

TRUTH ABOUT YUGOSLAVIA

BRITON'S COMMENT ON CAUSES OF DEFEAT

May 2. A letter just received in Cairo (The writer is a Briton) gives the following view on the evacuation of the Yugoslav people who have been driven from their homes in Yugoslavia.

"We had such a chance to get to the Balkans through the Balkans, but the British and American governments refused to let us go. The British and American governments refused to let us go. The British and American governments refused to let us go."

May 2. The evacuation of the Yugoslav people from their homes in Yugoslavia is a tragedy which has been described in a book by the author of the book.

Correspondence... To the Editor, "E.A. Standard"

The Editor does not accept responsibility for the views expressed by his correspondents in these columns and in all cases the names and addresses of the writers must accompany all letters, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith. It is not essential to insert correspondence.

PHYRETHRUM. To the Editor, "E.A. Standard" Sir, The "Phytarium Board" has not had the right attitude of the fact that all flowers of 1939 contain or above are really rejected, and this is the essential to keep in view when contemplating re-plantation. The future of the industry is now so obscure that the remedy proposed by the Board, in my view, is not merely partly palliative, but will entirely fail to achieve proper stabilization. It is additionally unduly restrictive.

1. Elimination of low grade material. 2. Elimination of speculative culture of the crop by non-producers. 3. Restriction of areas of licence to produce the crop to the farm economy only.

POST-WAR WORLD ORDER. To the Editor, "E.A. Standard" Sir, - We two suggest a revision of the conditions which were set on February 24th and the second on February 26th. It is our view that to make a law more in the hope of the future is to be a failure in the eyes of the Society.

SEQUEL TO ASSAULT ON WATCHMAN Greek Convicted Of Manslaughter

(STANDARD CORRESPONDENT)
Date of Release.

According to the Native Voice for Monday, Mr. Justice Lloyd-Blood, in a short but sharp summary of the case, said that the defendant, George Antonis, had been convicted of manslaughter at the High Court of Tanganyika at Dar es Salaam yesterday. He was charged with the death of a Greek watchman, who was shot dead by him after he had found him guilty of assaulting the watchman at the station. A night watchman employed by a Greek firm was shot dead by the defendant on the night of February 22, 1941.

The case for the Crown was that on the night of February 22, 1941 the defendant had shot the watchman. He was charged with the death of a Greek watchman, who was shot dead by him after he had found him guilty of assaulting the watchman at the station. A night watchman employed by a Greek firm was shot dead by the defendant on the night of February 22, 1941.

The accused, outside the gate, overheard him discussing the matter and contents of the watchman's bag. The accused was angry because the watchman was about to attend to their duties and he intended to prevent this by a disparaging word of abuse. He got up to go to the watchman's bag but the accused decided to go and was admitted to the compound.

He then went up to All his things were still on the ground and he saw the watchman's bag in the back, when the accused fired one shot at the watchman. He was admitted to the compound.

The accused went out through the gateway and after he had gone the scene of the crime was brought to the attention of the police. The accused was angry because the watchman was about to attend to their duties and he intended to prevent this by a disparaging word of abuse. He got up to go to the watchman's bag but the accused decided to go and was admitted to the compound.

Justice Lloyd-Blood held that the defendant was guilty of manslaughter. He was charged with the death of a Greek watchman, who was shot dead by him after he had found him guilty of assaulting the watchman at the station. A night watchman employed by a Greek firm was shot dead by the defendant on the night of February 22, 1941.

Indian Members of Municipal Board

First-Rate Variety

Sparkling Show At The N.A.C.

ELECTIVE PRINCIPLE NOT APPROVED

THE one hundred and thirty-seventh meeting of the Nairobi Municipal Board was held in the Municipal office on Wednesday, April 20. Those present were, P. J. O'Rourke (Mayor), J. J. O'Rourke (Deputy Chairman, presiding), Messrs. W. W. Cresswell, G. D. Dutton, The District Commissioner, A. Johnson, D. P. Payne, C. H. Paine, C. G. Grant, Francis, Dr. M. M. B. Thomson, F. E. Thomas and Umuhoja.

After the routine business had been finished the question of providing housing for the needs of the Municipality was discussed. The Chairman stated that it was considered that the housing was being overcrowded in the Native location. The Works Department was instructed to prepare plans of a standard design for native quarters and the appropriate cost. After this had been done the matter would be referred to the Executive Committee and General Purposes Committee.

It was also decided that the Municipal Works Dept. should contribute £200 towards the original cost of the building for a Government African School in Victoria.

India Election
The next vote to come before the Board was the question of Indian elections to the Municipal Board. The Works Dept. put the matter for a recommendation contained in the report of the Committee appointed to consider the Indian representation on the Municipal Board, as set out in the minutes of the meeting held on April 20.

That the Board advise the Provincial Commissioner that in the opinion of the Board the Indian representation of the Nairobi Municipal Board should be increased in accordance with the proposals of the Indian Committee Election Rules 1935. Mr. Cresswell said that he supported the proposal of the Indian Committee. Mr. O'Rourke said that he was in favour of the proposal of the Indian Committee. Mr. Cresswell said that he was in favour of the proposal of the Indian Committee.

Mr. Cresswell said that he was in favour of the proposal of the Indian Committee.

of the following question—did they of their own knowledge, or if they were brought of any question before a Municipal Board regarding the Indian community? They did not know of any such case.

Mr. Cresswell said that he had been a member of the Municipal Board since its inception, and he would definitely state that any question regarding the Indian community was always viewed and considered from the point of view of an Indian question, and not a Muslim or Hindu question.

The Committee was unanimously of opinion that if the elective principle applied to Nairobi, it might be the cause of ending the differences which appear to exist between the various religious communities of the Indian residents in the township.

Healthiness in India
Captain Payne, a member of the Committee, in support of the recommendation, drew the attention of the Board to the last paragraph of the report from the Committee which reads as follows:

"Healthiness in India... The Board was unanimous in agreeing that it was not clear before the Board that it was in the interests of the Indian and Hindu communities to have an elective principle applied to the Municipal Board. The Board unanimously agreed that it was not in the interests of the Indian and Hindu communities to have an elective principle applied to the Municipal Board."

Big Drive For Flying Ambulance Fund
A meeting of the committee of the Flying Ambulance Fund was held on Wednesday, April 22, when it was decided to start a fund drive for the fund. The committee was very pleased to receive a letter from Mrs. M. M. B. Thomson, who had been successful in raising a sum of £100 for the fund. The committee was also informed that Mrs. M. M. B. Thomson had been successful in raising a sum of £100 for the fund.

Mr. Cresswell said that he was in favour of the proposal of the Indian Committee.

Mr. Cresswell said that he was in favour of the proposal of the Indian Committee.

Much was expected of the performance given by the "Variety" at the Nakuru Athletic Club last Saturday evening. They did not disappoint, covering the limits of the hall, was in carnival mood. It was great to see the boys by flashlight-illumination, and the girls in their usual smart, but they were not so good as they were in the past. The boys were not so good as they were in the past. GOOD KENYA PUBLICITY NEEDED
Difficulties in Connexion With Settlement

The monthly report of the Kenya Association (K.A.) for April details Reference was made in the Association's report for January, February and March to the new Emergency Order—where some established public relations with the Welfare Department of the K.A. through the office being constituted primarily for the benefit of members of the "free" settlement who are passing through Nairobi. It is expected that it will become a permanent feature of the capital and thus meet a long felt want. For the past few years the Kenya Association has, to the best of its ability, carried out publicity work for Nairobi on behalf of the Municipal Council and in connexion with the Nairobi Joint Publicity Committee. The Association is deeply represented that Nairobi should have its own Publicity Office such as that which has been in existence at Bulawayo for many years. Now the building which it will be in use in the near future. The Association is looking forward to working in close co-operation with it.

NIL CHETTIE
DISPERAL SALE, WITHOUT RESERVE
at Njoro, on MONDAY, May 12th, 10-30 a.m.
Inspired by the operations of the late Mr. Thumall.
100 Head-Grade Shorthorn Cattle.
Including 100 Cows (50 with calves at foot).
50 Heifers varying ages, 50 steers.
4 Bulls.

The late Mr. Thumall had bred this herd for twenty years prior to the lines of selection for immunity against East Coast Fever and other tick-borne diseases, having raised his cattle on an E.C.F. infested farm throughout that period without dipping; the only disease hazard in Kenya bred on these lines; thus rendering the cattle particularly valuable to breeders wishing to start up in tick-infested areas. During the past five months the cattle have been regularly dipped thus facilitating movement from Njoro.

NAZIS LOSE 52 RAIDERS IN 6 NIGHTS

British fighters won the most successful night raid since the war, when they shot down 52 German raiders in six days.

During the week ended May 1, 27½ hours of the night were spent on a considerable scale. Operations were carried out on a fairly heavy scale and there were a number of successes.

On Monday night the raid on the German coast was the most successful since the war, when 52 raiders were shot down. The raid was carried out by the RAF and the Royal Canadian Air Force. The raid was carried out on a scale which was unprecedented in the history of the war.

The raid was carried out on a scale which was unprecedented in the history of the war. The raid was carried out on a scale which was unprecedented in the history of the war.

Ministers of Britain and France, and cold-shouldered by the League of Nations to which his country had been admitted to membership on the recommendation of the very nation which fouled the name of Emperor Haile Selassie. Never had the Emperor in exile ever given up hope. "If there is justice in this world," said Emperor Haile Selassie, "I shall some day, in God's good time and when He considers it desirable, return once again to the throne of Solomons. He has had to wait a little more than five years and in recent months he has seen those who took a big share in conquering his country beaten and disgraced. The story of how the Emperor returned to his throne is the most thrilling and romantic chapter in history and reads of the East African Emperor's heroic and gallant phases of a campaign which for brilliance, of design, and speed of execution has not been surpassed in the annals of warfare. A few months ago Haile Selassie sounded the war drums and with the aid of the British Government and British officials (some from East Africa) entered Abyssinia from the Sudan to lead his army of Patriots in driving the invaders from the land they had ravaged. "I will lead my victorious troops into Addis Ababa on a white horse just as Balaqddid did," he declared. And so it has come about: the wheel of fate has turned full circle.

Story Of Unclaimed Keys

STANBARD'S COMMENTARY

In December, 1940, Mr. Albert Edward Douglas of Stanbank Avenue, N.W., lost a bunch of keys on the Underground. Because he could not give the key and attendant some of their own, London Police in 1941 Transport Board officials could not find them among the thousands of keys handed in.

Mr. Douglas was determined to get at least one of his keys. He thought he would be able to do this by offering a reward of £100 to the finder. He found that the London key porter office files unclaimed keys to a firm which then sends them to between January and March. He thought that if he could find out where these keys were, he could sort them out until he found the 'Dunlop' key. To his surprise, he purchased, £115 10s 6d.

Mr. Douglas' key had a handle of brass. He had thousands of keys in hand, some twisted with names and addresses, keys in nylon, officers' keys, officially stamped Government keys, key chains, some marked 'Police' and some marked 'M.C.B.' The keys were in the hands of Mr. Douglas, having no name on them, but the name on the key was 'Dunlop'. He was thinking of having most of the keys melted down to save metal.

DISPERSED SALE, WITHOUT RESERVE
at Njoro, on MONDAY, May 22nd, 10:30 A.M.
Instructed by the executors of the late Mr. Tunstall.
200 Head Cora Shorthorn Cattle, comprising 108 Coras (with calves in foot),
144 Head, varying ages, 14 Steers,
4 Bulls.

The late Mr. Tunstall had bred this herd for twenty years on the lines of selection, immunity against East Coast Fever and other tick borne diseases; having reared his cattle on an R.C.P. infected farm throughout that period without dipping. Only large grade herd in Kenya bred of these lines, thus rendering the cattle particularly valuable to breeders wishing to stock up on tick infested areas. During the past five months the cattle have been regularly dipped thus facilitating movement from the sale.

Also a small quantity Furniture, Tools, books, etc., etc.
The farm is about two miles south from Njoro station, just Njoro Club.

EMPEROR'S PLANS FOR FUTURE OF ABYSSINIA

The Emperor has expressed the hope that the British Government will provide a loan in order to re-pay the loan advanced to develop the interior, including the Nile.

The Emperor, realizing that he had started to build up a regular force for the Italian invasion, had announced that the Ethiopian regular army would later over-throw the British Empire, but he hoped that British officers and instructors would help him to train a force of his own.

Before the interview ended the Emperor told us that only the war-time difficulties and the withdrawal of the Emperor from returning to his fatherland would prevent him from working as a soldier, were there should be a need to help in one of our own wars.

After the Emperor's interview, simple treatment of the Emperor's ideas and the present of thousands of British soldiers, was a very important matter to the Emperor. The population here has been very low since 1935, and a single Italian was molested by the Emperor's army and other public measures are expected.

South African armoured cars today entered Khartoum, the notorious concentration camp has been since British air may be released. We are within 30 miles of joining the Imperial forces advancing from the north.

The Red Cross Service wishes to thank the uninterested people for their generous donations to help Red Cross Main Distribution Depot, Nairobi, Kenya (For the week ended May 9th).

In a dog-fight over Abyssinia, the Flight Commander of a S.A.A.F. fighter squadron, Capt. Frost, was forced to land on an enemy aerodrome. A friendly pilot, Karshaw, landed his single-seater fighter. Under heavy fire Frost clambered on board, sitting on Karshaw's lap in the cramped cockpit, he contacted the stick and rudder while Karshaw worked the engine and undercarriage levers. They successfully took off and landed safely at their base. Capt. Karshaw received the D.F.C. for his exploit. Only the machine before Capt. Frost had been awarded the D.F.C. for capturing five enemy machines single-handedly and shooting down four of them. (Photograph: Lt. Col. Karshaw (left) and Capt. Frost (right).) # Re-Actions OF The War

JOHANNESBURG.

SOUTH AFRICA is to have a war loaf. From May 1, there has been a standard bread loaf made of whole meal, selling at 6d. for two pounds, compared with the 7d. formerly obtained for bread made from refined flour.

This move is due to the shortage of wheat which has necessitated a conversion what there is in the country. It is understood that shipping difficulties in the way of regular imports of so much of our former (renewable) bread-making wheat from the Transvaal.

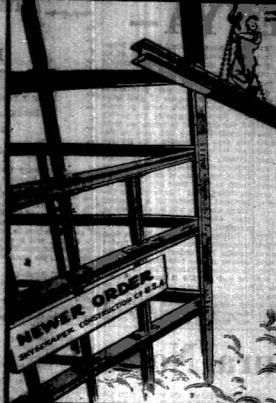

As a statement of the new loaf, the secretary to Agriculture, Dr. P. H. Wilson, says that all authorities are unanimous that a loaf cut on the standard one now introduced is a more economical and profitable than that to which the public has been accustomed. The statement also states that there is no question of raising taxes and that consumers will be able to satisfy their usual requirements.

The Union has had two discussions on wheat in connection with the war since the outbreak of hostilities and although last year's crop was exceptionally large, the Government has no carry over for the present season. To meet this season's requirements the Government has decided to issue a war loaf. It is intended to import a million bushels of wheat from the United States in the way of doing this.

CONVERSATION PIECE

One with a flash begins, and ends in smoke. And (without making any special claim) has the same quality of conversation as the other. -MORRIS, Age Nov. 1931. (Reprinted by permission.)

THIS BRAVE NEW WORLD
Very few people have been given the benefit of the doubt in the matter of the war. Probably no one will understand their full purpose, certainly not in the way that it is probably only an incident in the greatest of all time, the war of the world. And I do believe that we are in the middle of a phase of the greatest of all time.

Delights in this way be, it is as vast when a time comes for them to exercise their minds on matters outside their own particular sphere. They are reading while the majority of the people accept what they read without the ability to do so. The ability to read is the ability to read in the manner of the newspaper. Many ability to "read" - which is to read in the manner of the newspaper. Reading and writing are complementary activities, the reader's mind is not to be a mere recipient of the writer's words, whether they state facts or express opinions. The reader's mind is to be a mere recipient of the writer's words, whether they state facts or express opinions.

There are big words and little words and many words. The words are big words and little words and many words. The words are big words and little words and many words. The words are big words and little words and many words. The words are big words and little words and many words. The words are big words and little words and many words.

But I believe that we are in the middle of a phase of the greatest of all time. The words are big words and little words and many words. The words are big words and little words and many words. The words are big words and little words and many words. The words are big words and little words and many words. The words are big words and little words and many words.

But the issue of this war is not merely a question of national pride, it is an issue that must affect the future of the whole world. It is an issue that must affect the future of the whole world. It is an issue that must affect the future of the whole world. It is an issue that must affect the future of the whole world. It is an issue that must affect the future of the whole world.

Cabinet Changes

SATURDAY, MAY 3, 1941
The reshuffling of the Cabinet members may be taken as a further implementing of the Prime Minister's policy of running the war on business lines. It is a policy which has brought the best brains available irrespective of political considerations. He has shown on several occasions that his sole criterion in making appointments is a man's ability to perform the job which he has been allotted. It is through this policy that we may expect to see a certain amount of resentment among the die-hard members of his party who still cling to the old. It has gained for him the approval of all who realize that the only thing that really matters now is how best to conduct affairs so that the war may be won in the least possible time.

One of the most interesting changes is that which takes Lord Beaverbrook, formerly Minister of Aircraft Production and gives him as Minister of State a non-departmental post in the War Cabinet. It is exactly a year since Lord Beaverbrook's first appointment as a minister. He was given an entirely new post and with sweeping powers to co-ordinate the many interests involved in aircraft production. As a result of his appointment, he was promoted to the rank of a peer and the new minister was able to announce that all records had been broken. Lord Beaverbrook's energy and initiative are a by-product and have revolutionized one of the most important war industries. Important though this work has been and will continue to be in the hands of his party, it is understandable that his abilities may be used to even greater advantage if he is freed from the reactions of departmental duties. For a long time there has been a call in Britain for a Minister possessing brains and organized ability under the Prime Minister's direct aid as a chief of over-see the whole system of defence work. It may be that this will be the task which Lord Beaverbrook will now be called upon to perform.

The Ministry of Aircraft Production should lose nothing by the transfer of its direction to the Minister. Lord Beaverbrook has been very successful as Minister of Transport and has organized ability on occasion he has earned tradition which he has felt that the best way to do this is to combine old and new more direct methods in dealing with the vast problem of transport in war time. He has always been keenly interested in flying and has maintained his interest in flying and especially the development of aircraft production ever since. The wisdom of merging the Ministries of Transport and Shipping into one organization has been demonstrated. The same communications will be generally appreciated as also the appointment of a practical business man to control the transport department.

Indeed all the changes are made with a view to an emphasis in particular two tendencies—the bringing together of the Government departments and the grouping of departments doing similar work.

The Position in Iraq

MONDAY, MAY 5, 1941
The development of the war zone during the last few days of Iraq is one which will not have occasioned much surprise to those who have followed the trend of events in that part of the world in recent years and especially since the coup d'état by the military forces in Baghdad. Military leaders seized control from the Regent, Abdul Ilah some weeks ago. It may be assumed that as yet the British Government was not unprepared for the treachery which was led to the outbreak of fighting between the military forces controlled by Rashid Ali who is now clearly shown to be an instrument of the Axis.

The British forces were freed from Turkish rule during the war of 1918-19 by Anglo-Indian and British Dominion troops. The British Government, Maude and Marshall, under the Treaty of Lausanne, ratified on August 6, 1923, Turkey recognized sovereignty over Mesopotamia and its future administration was entrusted to Great Britain by the Supreme Council of the League of Nations. An Arab government was set up by the High Commissioner in November 1920 and in August of the following year the Emir Faysal (third son of ex-King Hussein of the Hejaz) was elected King of Iraq. In March 1924 a Constituent Assembly met in Baghdad and passed an organic law and an electoral law providing for the election of a Chamber of Deputies. The constitution thus instituted was a constitutional monarchy, hereditary with a family of King Faisal, with a senate of 20 members nominated by the King and a Chamber of Deputies of 108 members elected by a franchise of 100,000. The first Parliament under this constitution was opened by King Faisal in July, 1925. An appointment of a new King of Nations came before the Assembly in 1922 and Iraq was freed from all military and political obligations by the League of Nations in October of that year. On June 30, 1930, a new Treaty was signed at Baghdad between the High Commissioner and the Prime Minister of Iraq. This Treaty is of 25 years' duration and the entry of Iraq into the League and regulates the relations between Great Britain and Iraq during the period on the basis of an alliance between the equal and independent States.

Important clauses of the Treaty give Britain the right to station troops in Iraq and to send further troops in the event of a crisis. To replace all that by a treaty of friendship, political and economic relations between the two States. Rashid Ali's announcement that he would continue to observe the Treaty with Britain and to accept a declaration sanctioning the entry of British troops and a statement that this was in accordance with the terms of the Treaty is clear that, acting under instructions from Berlin, he was preparing a trap and at what moment he was expected to spring. The moment he made demands for the removal of British forces which was quickly followed by the announcement that the important British air centres at Habbaniya. Latest news reveals that the fighting has extended to the port of Basra where British reinforcements are continuing to arrive.

For a number of years both the United Kingdom and Iraq on an active campaign to win the Arab support and to embarrass Britain through radio and press encouragement of chaos, strikes, hospitals, and substantial visits to Italy and Germany. It is safe to assume that the recent deposition of the King by a party of whom one is now appealing against the British forces in his country, was engineered by enemy agents. This is a natural result of the long and plans for the conquest of the Near East and the fulfilling of the ambitions which are being held to extend to Iraq, Iraq and the Persian Gulf region.

Much will depend upon what his intentions are. It is clear that British forces are being quelled the opposition in Iraq. Hitler's hopes of further spreading the revolt to neighbouring countries may be disappointed, but the possibility of further complications in an area vitally important to us cannot be ruled out.

Evidence is daily accumulating that the people of the United States have realized the nature of the peril which threatens all free people and that they must take steps to overcome it. Only this week-end President Roosevelt has made a significant reference to America's duty to fight against freedom and liberty, news from America indicates that the Axis is a problem of war supplies is being tackled in a spirit of grim determination.

Germany is fully aware of what this American purpose and performance mean and realizes that the free world will have to struggle throughout the world can the hope to escape the menace of the Axis. The end result of the world will have to struggle throughout the world can the hope to escape the menace of the Axis. The end result of the world will have to struggle throughout the world can the hope to escape the menace of the Axis.

sign anything. He was ready to guarantee any frontier and to conclude a non-aggression pact with anyone. According to Hitler "It was a simple idea that expects this of this sort were the least of it, because the day might come when some formal agreement had to be broken. Every pact sworn to by Hitler or anyone else was on against heavy odds. ## BROKEN TREATIES

The unhappy situation in Iraq today provides one more example of the evil consequences which war materials which are unobtainable within the fenced ring Europe, it must become material of the world at lightning speed or suffer catastrophe. By the very nature of its doctrine it is challenging every nation of the earth which believes in freedom of spirit, in the right of every nation to be free to make its own destiny and in the system of mutual respect and change of goods which is designed (however imperfectly) to raise the standard of well-being on the part of each participant. To replace all that by a treaty of friendship, political and economic relations between the two States. Rashid Ali's announcement that he would continue to observe the Treaty with Britain and to accept a declaration sanctioning the entry of British troops and a statement that this was in accordance with the terms of the Treaty is clear that, acting under instructions from Berlin, he was preparing a trap and at what moment he was expected to spring. ## RETURN OF AN EMPEROR

The return of the Emperor Haile Selassie this week to Addis Ababa may be taken as setting the seal on the election of King of the East African campaign. They may still be some fighting because the Emperor has had instructions to make a nuisance of themselves as long as they possibly can in order to keep our forces to perpetuate a glaring act of treachery against the British forces, thus making it necessary to regard the Emperor as a renegade. The Emperor does not and cannot alter the fact that the group has been long ago decisively beaten in East Africa and that any fighting which occurs in the future will not affect the issue. It is clear that the Emperor's return to Addis Ababa on a white charger. The Emperor's return to Addis Ababa on a white charger. The Emperor's return to Addis Ababa on a white charger.
