CONGO SEES 'DAYS OF PEACE'

Good for Africa says Mr. Tshombe

The Congo's Prime Minister, Mr. Tshombe, said yesterday that admission of the Congo into the Afro-Malagasy Common Organisation (Ocam) marked the start of "a collaboration which can only benefit all Africa."

Speaking at the end of an Ocam summit conference in Abidjan which voted to admit the Congo, he said that after five years of "chaos and anarchy, after a long rebellion which has plunged many families into mourning, the Congo at last sees the dawn of a future of peace, good fortune and prosperity."

Decisions taken by the nine French-speaking African States at their meeting are likely to have major repercussions on the African political scene, diplomatic observers said.

The meeting gathered nine of the 23 members of Ocam — Ivory Coast, Senegal, Madagascar, Niger, Gabon, Nigeria, Chad, Upper Volta and Dahomey.

Boycott on Accra

The nine States represented agreed not to attend the Organisation for African Unity conference in September if a major obstacle to the way of OAU plans, Mr. Tshombe said.

The Congo has urged not to give its location, but now has announced that it will participate in the OAU summit.

President Leon Mbo of Gabon said: "The results of the conference are most hopeful."

He stressed that "the Economic Council for Central Africa is the Organisation for African Unity. On the contrary, we are its pillars."

Ethiopia, Zambia want Flying Doctor Service

They could be flying Doctor Service more likely to be expanded in the future. The African Medical and Research Foundation, Dr. Wood, said Nairobi, September 27.

Speakers at a club luncheon, Dr. Wood said that the service, which were run as a charitable organization and depended entirely on voluntary contributions from local and overseas sources, were in great demand in Ethiopia, Somalia and Zambia.

Agreements were already under way to establish the Foundation to cover the country. Dr. Wood said that the Foundation was offering the Zambia Government an estimate of the service which the Ethiopian and Somali had also applied for the service.

Provision was very thankful for the service. About £2,000 had been obtained since the start, though the target was between £2,000 and £20,000.

SELF-HELP ATTRACTION

This money was needed to operate the service more effectively and would be a tremendous help in surrounding areas that they were trying to help themselves.

These services, started in East Africa in 1961, were operating from the headquarters in Nairobi.

Farewell to Kenya

I AM writing to you with a heavy and sorrowful heart. I have to leave Kenya for the land of my birth, Motherland. My beloved, this beautiful land of Kenya in which I received my education and where I spent the first 15 years of my life. I am sure that you will be interested in the survey of manpower in Kenya which is being carried out by the Government.

After completing education I had to leave Kenya for the land of my birth, Motherland. My beloved, this beautiful land of Kenya in which I received my education and where I spent the first 15 years of my life. I am sure that you will be interested in the survey of manpower in Kenya which is being carried out by the Government.

and secondly to the fact that the Government should have more regard for the manpower survey. I am sure that you will be interested in the survey of manpower in Kenya which is being carried out by the Government.

The Government should have more regard for the manpower survey. I am sure that you will be interested in the survey of manpower in Kenya which is being carried out by the Government.

I would like to express my views on the manpower survey. I am sure that you will be interested in the survey of manpower in Kenya which is being carried out by the Government.

Asian 'Hamlet' is outstanding film of week

The British reworking of Shakespeare's Hamlet is the most outstanding film of the week. It is a masterpiece of direction and acting, and it is a pity that it is not shown in more theatres. The film is a study in the psychology of a young man who is torn between duty and passion. It is a film that should be seen by all who are interested in the art of cinema.

TV'S MOST FLAGRANT ANOMALY—COST OF RENTING A SET

BEFORE considering the latest success at the failure of the Voices of Kenya to be put down to the cost of the most glaring anomalies of Kenya television compared with that of many other countries—the continuing high cost of renting a set.

These and other points were made in a report by the Kenya Television Commission. The report states that the cost of renting a set for a single programme is as high as £100. This is a staggering amount, especially when compared with the cost of renting a set in other countries.

The report also points out that the cost of renting a set is a major factor in the high cost of television programmes. It is a problem that needs to be solved if television is to become a more widely available service.

High turnover
 Naturally, this is made possible to some extent by the vast number of sets in use and the fact that the cost of the sets is not too high. This means that the turnover is high, and the service is more efficient.

Strange choice
 For the various critics, the main talking point on both the BBC and the new Kenya radio and television stations is the choice of programmes. It is a strange choice, and it is one that needs to be explained.

Major investments being boom in vehicle output

The Australian automotive industry, which has expanded remarkably in recent years, is making an even greater demand place of increasing production. Australian automobile manufacturers have projected to hand orders worth $A100,000,000 and in the next year alone about $A100,000,000 was spent on expanding manufacturing plants.

General Motors-Holden's and the Ford and Volkswagen organisations plan to lift production capacity by more than 20 per cent in the next three years, while increasing the total output of vehicles manufactured in Australia.

Chevrolet Australia Ltd. recently announced a $A10,000,000 plant in Adelaide, South Australia, and is planning one further expansion to bring its total expenditure to $A15,000,000.

In the last year General Motors-Holden's spent about $A10,000,000 on plant expansion. Between now and next year the company's total expansion will amount to $A15,000,000. This will bring total expenditure of $A10,000,000 since the company's Adelaide plant began in 1958.

AUSTRALIA MAKES MOTOR SPARES THAT WILL LAST

The Australian Government Trade Commissioner is first officer, Mr. J. W. KEDDIE, writes the following message—

PROJECT COMPLETED
The Ford Company spent over $A10,000,000 in the past year to complete a programme it began in 1958. Completion of Ford's latest projects, which included establishment of an apprenticeship training centre and a technical engineering division, brought the company's total expenditure on new works since 1958 to $A20,000,000. Further expansion is planned.

The Volkswagen organisation's factory also spent about $A10,000,000 in the past year. This will lift its expenditure in Australia to the end of 1957 to $A10,000,000. Further expansion is planned.

Perhaps the most important feature of Australian automotive spare parts and equipment is their outstanding durability at competitive quality prices. Some of these Australian-made products are increasing rapidly throughout East Africa.

The next time you want a spare part or accessory, ask for one "Made in Australia."

Record new order for Falcons

The Ford Motor Co. of Australia has won the biggest private order for cars ever given to one manufacturer in Australia.

The order, 1,900 Falcon sedans, was placed by Australia's largest government organisation.

All to go of the vehicles will be of the 175 Fordist automatic type.

The government firm has had about 1,000 Australian-made Ford Falcons on the strength for the past few years.

The company, by far the biggest recreational organisation in Australia, was founded in 1950 when it operated 60 cars.

At the time of placing the 1,900-car order with the Ford organisation, it had about 1,500 cars on its strength.

The company operates throughout Australia and also in New Guinea.

ONE OF MOST CAR-MINDED NATIONS IN THE WORLD

PROGRESS: in Australia bought more than 100,000 cars last year, a 10 per cent increase on 92,115 in 1957.

NEW EMPLOYER: The new employer of the car is the Australian Government.

The Government of Australia's motor industry is more remarkable because it is more than 10 years old. It was founded in 1947 when the first Australian-made car, the Holden, came off the assembly line—an innovation.

The first motor vehicle was built in 1902 by the Australian firm of J. B. Holden.

When it was first introduced in 1947, the Holden was a small car, but it was designed to last with the intention of being a firm commercial basis for other nations achieving 100 up to 1000 miles.

The Holden was built in Australia by the Holden Motor Co. of Australia, Pty. Ltd. and General Motors (Australia) Pty. Ltd. Holden in 1948 had 100 cars in production.

Other firms setting up in Australia included Standard Cars in 1949, Rover in 1949, and the British Motor Corporation in 1949.

BRITISH INTEREST
The British Motor Corporation (BMC) of Australia Pty. Ltd. and General Motors (Australia) Pty. Ltd. were merged in 1948 to form Holden Motors Pty. Ltd. of Australia.

Other firms setting up in Australia included Standard Cars in 1949, Rover in 1949, and the British Motor Corporation in 1949.

As one of the results of the British Motor Corp. there was a shortage of the type of motor vehicles which the Australian public requires—passenger cars, and in 1949 the Australian Government offered aid to manufacturing companies to establish a motor industry in Australia. The industry is now a Government-owned enterprise.

BIRTH OF A MOTOR CAR ENGINE...

Five-Arrow Standard, Holden, May 21, 1952

THE world knows Holden car engines are made at the rate of about 20 an hour at Holden Motors' engine plant in Melbourne.

There are 100,000 vehicles assembled annually at Holden's plant in Melbourne, and the Holden engine plant is the largest in the State of Victoria.

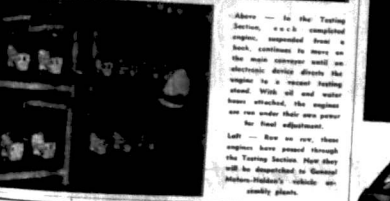

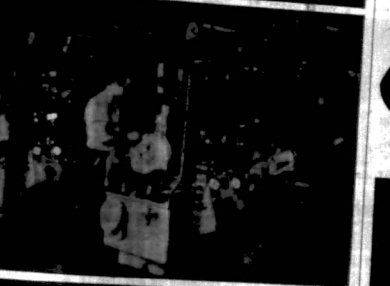

At 2 1/2 feet of metal than 2,111,000,000 the production of the motor industry in the world. Holden's engine plant is the largest in the world. Holden's engine plant is the largest in the world.

In the heavy metal shop has in ground floor an engine plant. The worker is seen here, from the left, being operated by the motor in ground floor metal. It takes 100,000 of metal to gear an engine block.

Working on 'raw' block

A worker (left) begins work on a 'raw' engine block here. The metal block is honed off before further processing, after which an inspection is made to ensure settings are correct and solid before further steps in production. In the machine of the plant, mechanical adjustments are prepared before being taken on the assembly system to join the main assembly line.

— Above — In the Testing Section, each completed engine, compressed down a back, continues to move on the main conveyor until the electric device directs the engine to a special testing stand. With oil and water hoses attached, the engine can run under their own power for final adjustment.

— Left — Run to see, these engines have passed through the Testing Section. Now they will be distributed to Holden's Melbourne plants for assembly plants.

New Falcons sleeker and stronger

COMpletely redesigned and manufactured in Australia, the 1968 Ford Falcons, in all three of the production line, combine the best in appearance with strength.

The new Falcons are responsive, easy to manoeuvre, safe, easy to drive and maintain better than previous models. And there is a new leader performance like each of the three engines in the Falcon range.

Maximum economy in operating is derived from a new engine, long running only 1000 revs or less every 1000 miles. Only changes are required every 10,000 miles.

The 1968 models comprise three new models.

A system of road transport is being developed in Australia which will be a major contribution to the country's economic growth and to the well-being of its people.

MELBOURNE FACES TRAFFIC PROBLEM

Peak hour traffic peaks at a busy intersection in Melbourne. As more and more cars pour on to Australian roads, freeways and expressways are being built to remove back-ups such as this.

MASSIVE ROAD TRAINS'

AUSTRALIAN AUTOMOTIVE SUPPLEMENT

Transportation is one of the keys to successful development of remote areas. "Road train" line this operates for more than 800 miles between Alice Springs and Darwin, the terminus of the railway from Darwin, some 300 miles to the north-west. Forty tons can be loaded into the freight containers for the two-day journey.

Eight handy hints for the motorist

- ★ FOR the best results wind-screen glass should be polished regularly — not necessarily on roads and not. And if you get grime and grit on your windscreen be careful not to remove it. Washing is the best method.
- ★ Make sure the grit is "washed" off and not rubbed in a way that could scratch the wind-screen. It is surprising how many motorists neglect this precaution.
- ★ Heavy knocking inside an engine can be due to long-worn big-end bearings. Such knocking occurs each time the crank is pushed up or pulled down by the crankshaft, and an oil-squirting effect will be noticeable. The bearings should be replaced to prevent damage to the crankshaft.
- ★ All electrical systems in motor vehicles use the metal of the chassis and body for the return circuit. Therefore the engine earth will be affected if the "earth" cuts from the factory to the car structure in any way.
- ★ In addition, bad functioning of a car's electrical system is often caused by poor contacts between the metal of the car
- ★ body and fixtures such as lamps, accessories and the starter motor.
- ★ Look for loose or rusty mounting which may be causing poor contacts.
- ★ If your car needs distilled water more than once every six months, the battery could be overcharging. Have the voltage regulator checked.
- ★ Home mechanics sometimes bury a bolt and think all is lost because they lack the die to remove it. The problem can be overcome by taking a nut of the same size and thread, and cutting a slot across the top of it. Making sure the slotted face goes on first, screw this nut on to the bolt and it will cut a new thread.
- ★ When cars are used in extremely rugged conditions, the external jacking points sometimes are damaged by contact with stones.
- ★ This can be avoided by having a strip of tin sheet metal welded in an area where the jacking points. The tin will protect the metal and prevent it from being damaged.
- ★ If hand-pumping of water has to be used in a hot climate, it can be saved by using a pump. However, the fire risk is great. Pumping the water into the tank will remove the pump and over the valve hole, a thin thread is removed. This restores the valve.
- ★ The right use of car components is important. For example, the task involves much better purposes.
- ★ Never replace oil glands whenever they leak as the tapered seat of the plug of the fitting gets over the nut and seal has again.
- ★ New plastics should always be used. They should be lighter in weight than the old plastics. When they are used, the plastic should be kept away from the engine and the plastic should be protected from the sun.

WOMEN'S TRAINING CENTRE OPENED

KENYA women were no longer regarded as people whose place was in the home, but as the backbone of the Kenya Social Community Development Office, Mr. E. M. Ombia, said when he opened the Good Training Centre at Kisumu College, Kisumu, on Monday.

Pilot plan to breed Kenya fat lambs

A BREEDING scheme of Duroc-Dorset crosses for pilot breeding with sheep, to produce fat lambs, will be imported to Kenya tomorrow by the Livestock Manager of the East African Training Institute, Nairobi.

The Dorset Duroc is now being bred in Kenya, but the characteristics will be particularly suited to East African conditions.

The scheme is to keep the main flock of Dorset-Duroc crosses in Kenya, and to use the surplus for production of purebred Duroc-Dorset crosses for export to other parts of Kenya.

The Dorset Duroc, with its compact body, is well suited to the conditions of Kenya, and is being bred in Kenya for export to other parts of Kenya.

Mr. Ombia said that when the lambs are born, they will be kept in Kenya, and the surplus will be exported to other parts of Kenya.

Two for training in New Zealand

The Ministry for Natural Resources and Wild Life, Mr. Arnold, has sent two Forest Department employees, Mr. E. Robert Ombia, and Mr. Joseph Ombia, to New Zealand for further training during a tour of the Rift Valley.

WESTERN Schools threatened by fee defaulters

If parents in the Western Province do not come forward and pay their primary and secondary school fees, the repercussions would be far-reaching, the Acting Provincial Education Officer, Mr. Jeremiah Marika, has warned in Kenya.

NYANZA WEEDS MAY SMOTHER COTTON

All farmers in South Nyanza District have been asked by the District Agricultural Officer, Mr. E. E. Sinda, to get down to weeding their cotton plots without delay.

Prognosticators with the weather service of the district were sceptical about the present outlook, but would deprecate their views if the cotton and maize crops were to be ruined.

Living Kenya forests from disease

It might be that of a forest of diseased pines, with their branches and dead twigs instead of the living ones that you get where you drive through the forest of Mt Kenya.

NORMAL OR FORWARD CONTROL

... petrol or diesel, basis of the most versatile and hardworking range of commercial vehicles in the world

BEDFORD LEADS IN DIESEL ENGINE DESIGN

End-to-end waterflow design solves all diesel gasketing problems

High-speed motorway work and heavy duty operations impose extra stress on the gas seal of modern diesels. End-to-end waterflow design solves this by eliminating all waterway between cylinder block and head. Instead, the cooling water passes from block to head through two special ports at the rear of the engine, outside the gasket area. Now the cylinder head gasket has only one function: to serve as a gas seal to the cylinder bores. This means that gas seals are absolutely gasketless; gas-to-water blow-by is impossible.

Compare the D40 against any other tractor... even another D4

The D40's 165 torque rise makes its 65 HP seem like a lot more. That's why it pulls through hard spots or climbs steeper grades without downshifting—to keep your productivity up. Compare the D40 to an older D4, say a 63 HP 7U Series, and you'll see other changes that add still more dependability and reduce your maintenance. For instance, new Sealed Tractor locks entry of abrasives into the pin and bushing joints to prolong undercarriage life. Lifetime Lubricated Rollers and Hammers need no attention until they require re-lubing. The dry-type air cleaner is 99.95% effective and takes only 5 minutes to service. If you're operating an older machine, come in and see how you can move up to more production and dependability.

What suits me is my motto of business girls...

WHILE the Western world continues to wonder between right and the wrong, would Victorian girls which is probably the fashionably young in another couple of years — women in Africa today to be called into fashionable style because they are "fashionable".

A lot of African business women would say that African girls have more attraction of character when they are in the hands of their business men than their Western counterparts. They know just what they are doing and they are a normal, unpretentious, and I think a very nice people. Many African women go to the business meetings and they are not afraid to be seen in the company of their men. They are not afraid of the "lady look" or the "womanly look".

The new city styles which are fashionable in Europe have not yet been adopted in Africa — mostly because there is no return to the light-skinned women of the days before the war.

In East Africa we tend to know our own style in dress and business. We are not afraid to wear our own clothes and we are not afraid to wear our own hats. We are always changing the face and figure of women generally to suit their own products.

Best style for a business girl — shown by Miss
June Nguyo of the Panic Hotel,
Nairobi.

...like June Nguyo

MISS JUNE NGUYO models the most popular hairstyle for the business girl. It is short, straightened and curled neatly back, and sets off her attractive features. Miss Nguyo, who works at the Panic Hotel in Nairobi, was lucky to get a job there before the official opening of the hotel last December.

She started her career in 1962 as a teacher, having completed a teacher training course at Tussocks. Training schools after her schooling there. "I think the fact that I started teaching at the same school where I had studied myself, was the wrong beginning," she says. But her father wanted her to stay in Nairobi, the family home. Already the rest of the family had split up and her sisters and brothers were working in Nairobi.

She also cannot do anything so much as make a mistake at home, where her father is. The father is a very strict man. He is not very strict with his children, but he is very strict with his staff. He is very strict with his staff. He is very strict with his staff.

A complete hotel training course for her, the study of all branches of hotel work as it applies to women. This would provide another string to her bow.

IMPROVEMENT IN KENYA'S FISCAL POSITION

The Government's financial position has improved considerably since the start of the year. This is due to a number of factors, including a reduction in expenditure and an increase in revenue.

The Minister of Finance, Mr. J. M. L. M., announced that the Government had achieved a surplus of £1,000,000 for the first time in its history. This was a significant achievement, given the economic challenges the country has faced in the past.

The Minister stated that the Government had managed to reduce its expenditure by 10% compared to the previous year. This was achieved through a combination of cost-cutting measures and a more efficient use of resources.

In addition, the Government had managed to increase its revenue by 15%. This was primarily due to an increase in tax receipts, which were boosted by a number of new tax measures introduced over the past year.

The Minister expressed confidence that the Government's financial position would continue to improve in the coming years. He noted that the Government was committed to maintaining its fiscal discipline and ensuring that the country's finances remained sound.

M.P.s cry 'shame' at Tanzania decision to coin own money

Members of the House of Commons expressed their disappointment at the decision of the Government to allow Tanzania to issue its own currency. They felt that this was a sign of weakness and a failure to stand up for the interests of the Commonwealth.

The Minister of Finance, Mr. J. M. L. M., defended the decision, stating that it was necessary to support the economic development of Tanzania. He argued that the issuance of a local currency would allow Tanzania to manage its own economy more effectively and to attract foreign investment.

The M.P.s argued that the decision would undermine the value of the pound sterling and would have a negative impact on the British economy. They called for a more robust approach to the situation, one that would demonstrate the strength of the Commonwealth.

The Minister responded to their criticisms, stating that the Government was committed to the principles of the Commonwealth and that it would continue to work closely with Tanzania to ensure its economic success. He noted that the Government was confident that the decision would be a positive one for both countries.

President arrives

The President of Kenya, Mr. J. M. L. M., is seen here with other officials upon his arrival in Nairobi. The President is wearing a dark suit and a white shirt, and is being greeted by a group of men in suits.

The President of Kenya, Mr. J. M. L. M., arrived in Nairobi today to a warm reception. He is expected to meet with other government officials and to discuss the current state of the country's economy and politics.

The President's arrival was a significant event, as he is the head of state and the highest authority in the country. His presence in Nairobi is a sign of the Government's commitment to transparency and accountability.

The President is expected to stay in Nairobi for several days before traveling to other parts of the country. He will be accompanied by a large entourage, including members of his family and other officials.

The Government is confident that the President's visit will be a success and that it will lead to a number of important decisions for the country. The President is expected to play a key role in the country's development and in the promotion of the Commonwealth.

Bank plans would not work

The Government's proposed bank plan is unlikely to succeed, according to critics. They argue that the plan is too restrictive and that it would have a negative impact on the economy.

The Minister of Finance, Mr. J. M. L. M., defended the plan, stating that it was necessary to ensure the stability of the financial system. He argued that the plan would allow the Government to better manage the country's finances and to attract foreign investment.

Critics argued that the plan would limit the ability of banks to provide services to their customers and that it would lead to a loss of confidence in the financial system. They called for a more flexible approach to the situation, one that would allow banks to operate more freely.

The Minister responded to their criticisms, stating that the Government was committed to the stability of the financial system and that it would continue to work closely with the banks to ensure their success. He noted that the Government was confident that the plan would be a positive one for the country.

New Stateside recording from Cliff Richard

A NOVELTY song recorded in the States. On his first visit to the States Cliff challenges from Cliff Richard. Considerably longer than The Minute You're Gone. It is set to a simple rhythm with a subtle Low-register, which contrasts effectively with the humming beat.

THE TOYS' NIGHT OUT

By SUSAN CARROLL

It was a beautiful night, but very cold. In fact, it was freezing and the ground was hard as ice. In the nursery, all the toys had been put away for the night but when the family were out, the toys jumped out of their beds and began to play. When Gollwing saw what he had done, he was so shocked that he ran to the window and pressed their little bodies down against the glass. "Oh, my goodness," he said. "I've done it! I've done it! I've done it!"

Local discs show new spirit in solo work

THE unobtrusive adoption of elements of Chicago styles into Kenyan music is speeding up, as the new records show. Another indicator which is increasing is towards a gentler and more melodic style in songs and presentation. At the same time, the standards of musicianship are going up, especially as far as guitar work is concerned. Whereas once used to be little more than a rhythmic scratch of melody repeated as necessary, now true solo - self-accompanied - is the same time adding to the performance as a whole - see far more common. Illustrative of all these new trends is the new record by Kenya's Yvonne. This is what the Stateside recorders of it were a degree or two sweeter to the ear than the original. It has a very pretty tune with nice modulation, introduced by a beautiful guitar and which does not get the throat as a singer but has the right touch for this sort of style. Christmas, which backs it, is a gentler than usual, this.

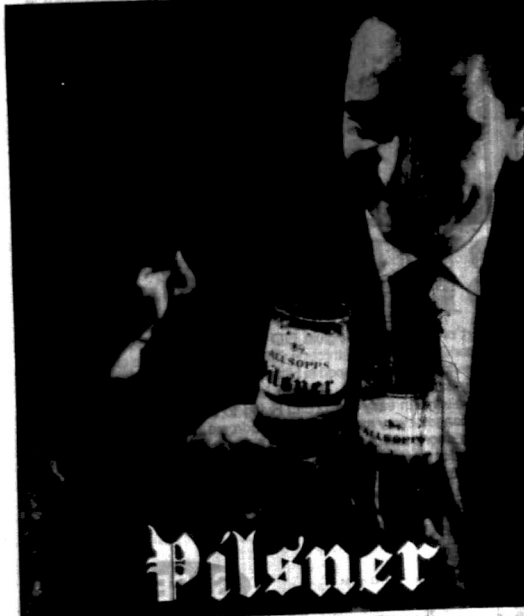

SWAHILI POP REVIEW BY JOHN ROBERTS

Swahili tone (sounds) depreciable, but it's there. Again, what makes me record is a simple guitar playing. From the intro, which the lead and bass guitars take in a dignified harmony, to a second matched-dio half-note, to an even better solo solo guitar has it all the way - and then for good measure a bit of a solo some nice grouped six-note riffs from the fingers to ride the tune out.

FOOD SHORTAGE CAUSED BY DROUGHT

PLEASE allow me to comment on the statement headed "No excuse for food shortage" which appeared in the Standard on 27th May. It is true that there were several food crops such as maize, beans, peas, potatoes, onions and peas which, if properly tinned, could not fall even with the drought which is ravaging Kenya.

This is very far from correct. It is not true that there will be no shortage of food in Kenya until the next year. It is true that the Government has done a great deal to help the people of Kenya who are suffering from drought. # OUR TIME IS HOLIDAY WAS A HOLIDAY ALL THE WAY

The Victoria Falls was something we knew we had to see some day—and it surpassed our wildest imaginings. Kariba Dam: we read lots about it but never realised what a breathtaking experience we had in store. The enormous Chobe Game Reserve was truly thrilling and Salisbury, with lots of lovely shops and restaurants and plenty of things to do, day and night, was tremendous fun. Do what we did—send to the Tourist Office, P.O. Box 2479, Nairobi, for the fascinating full colour folder on Flame Lily Holidays.
