Vietnam outlines new move at conference was planning to call for a "summit" Commonwealth to visit Peking and Moscow in a bid to get Vietnamese and British Prime Minister, Mr. Harold Wilson, were outlined this plan for the first major session of the Commonwealth Prime Ministers Conference which opened yesterday in London.

Mr. Wilson's plan, sources said, was to take at least two other Commonwealth leaders with him — possibly one from Asia and one from Africa — representing between them 750,000,000 men from 18 non-racial Commonwealths which makes up a quarter of the world's population.

The summit would, however, take even if the Commonwealth Conference agreed to the idea of a summit to see whether Peking and Moscow would be willing to talk to such a summit.

Earlier action rejected

Mr. Wilson's move is part of an overall bid to get a joint Commonwealth initiative. The bid is to bring the war-torn states in Vietnam to the conference table.

China, North Vietnam and the Soviet Union have so far shown a policy of stalling to negotiate and firmly rejected an earlier appeal by 17 non-aligned nations for negotiations, to which President Johnson has agreed.

Before addressing the Commonwealth leaders, Mr. Wilson told Parliament that the Government would "never take on an initiative in its attempts to bring about a peace settlement."

RULING ON MR. NKOMO TODAY

RHODESIANS High Court in Bulawayo will rule today on an application by the Rhodesian Government to prohibit Mr. Kenneth D. Kaunda, leader of the African National Congress, from entering Rhodesia.

The Rhodesian High Court is expected to rule in favor of the Rhodesian Government, which would prevent Kaunda from entering Rhodesia.

The Rhodesian Government has asked the court to order that Kaunda be prohibited from entering Rhodesia.

They are challenging the Rhodesian Government's application for a writ of prohibition to prevent Kaunda from entering Rhodesia.

FAMINE TALKS PLANNED

FAMINE RELIEF MEASURES MAY BE NECESSARY

CERTAIN areas in Kenya are gradually becoming "famine stricken" and unless there are heavy rains in the next two weeks, inhabitants of the districts will have to be helped.

The House of Representatives has discussed the famine relief measures.

Supplies of water sabotaged

DURING his speech in the Budget debate yesterday the Minister for Agriculture, Mr. McKenney, disclosed that certain livestock watering installations along the route from Nairobi to Kisumu had been sabotaged.

Mr. McKenney said that the sabotage had been carried out by some of the stock raisers in the area.

The sabotage had caused a serious shortage of water for the stock raisers in the area.

Japan plans loan of £3m. to E. Africa

JAPAN is considering a plan to supply Government loans of more than £3,000,000 to three East African States.

The proposed loans to Kenya, Uganda and Tanzania is an effort to persuade them to limit exports restrictions against Japan. Government officials said yesterday.

The officials said the study was based on reports from the Japanese Embassy in London, the Japanese Business Counselor, who reported to Tokyo, and that came from a list of the three countries.

The study now under study has covered the three countries. It is expected that the loans will be approved in the next few weeks.

Security Forces guard a cattle drive

...ing winds swept across the bare scrub-lands into a squall, driving the red dust into the south-west of the border in a military operation to control Kruger's economy after any cattle through.

The 200 men, who are 300 square miles of territory in the Kruger District in the north-western province, have already been working for some time to make the drive of about 1,000 cattle to the north.

Real threat

The Army Reserve Unit, which is the only unit in the area, is to be on the scene - on south.

The 1,000 cattle were taken from the north-western province of the Union of South Africa by the security forces with military and re-stability sets on the straight, as well as involved in about 20 miles on either side of the track, complete of anyone at risk is negligible.

The Kruger Army took a possibility for guarding the herds. A platoon of the 1st each of three or four drives down the long road.

The 600 available water and the road at Hlatshani - a drive has now evacuated after several attacks and a reinforcement of forces, which give the Government greater strategic advantage.

The 400, who are drives of about 1,000 bringing slowly under the best guard of an army platoon.

An increasing number of failures has made the cattle way of changing an environment of security, the constant replacement of animals of game, of the Kruger District, who no longer view the security forces with respect and re-

...ants. They are beginning to realize the value of the job being done.

By the end of the month the cattle will have reached Hlatshani - a meeting place for another time than originally expected. All the herds are Army detachments had been pumped for 10 hours. The job would have to be completed until the last of the cattle had passed through.

40+ extra

The whole cattle drive, apart from the best of security forces, comprises an additional 40+ of the police brought from the north-west and regional forces. The Government will be the Kruger District and the other districts.

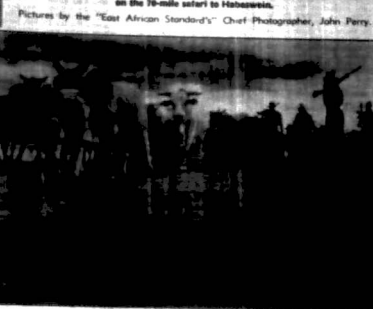

The literature goes to private ranchers who have been and recall to the Kruger District Commission, probably for Kruger's home preservation.

Hundreds of men work through dense bush for long hours to keep open up of the country's export trade. In fact, the cattle loss has been to nature and one of the donors along with.

ABOVE LEFT: Men of the Tribal Police guard the cattle overhauling area just outside Wajer, the gathering point to which the Shona herdsmen bring their beasts for sale. They are guarding against shirwa raids, but there are none.

ABOVE: The herdsmen keep their cattle in small groups, grazing haphazardly in the sand for the odd shoot of grass and scrub. In the background, Wajer lies flat and arid under the shadowed clouds.

BELOW: A woman's eye view of the cattle track - sand, soldiers and cattle - on the 70-mile safari to Hlatshani.

now! A DOUBLE GLAZING UNIT WITH AN ALL GLASS SEAL PILKINGTONS 'INSULIGHT' GLASTOGLAS

Now you can specify double glazing units with the certainty that the seal is permanent permanent because it is all glass. The new units are available in units. Just check on these reasons why they must be your first choice from now on.

CONSTRUCTION: Two panes of 24 or 30mm sheet glass are spaced 12 or 15mm apart and the edges are fused together to make a permanent seal. The result is, in effect, one continuous pane of glass.

SEAL FITTING: Specially selected frame are not needed for Glastoglas units. They fit into most standard standard pass type frames (minimum retail 160x215 x 16mm (12mm)). No electrical glass-to-brick seal needed.

STOCK SIZES: Pilkingtons Glastoglas units are being made in a range of stock sizes, and will be available for delivery on stock. The sizes are in mm: 300 x 160 (1200 x 600), 300 x 180 (1200 x 700), 300 x 200 (1200 x 800), 300 x 220 (1200 x 900), 300 x 240 (1200 x 1000), 300 x 260 (1200 x 1100), 300 x 280 (1200 x 1200), 300 x 300 (1200 x 1300).

VENTING MADE EASY: Glass fins outside the stock unit, but within these ranges can be made to stock order, providing a sufficient quantity of units of one size is ordered at the one time (normally 200). For larger units, or units using float or any special glass, a heat-treating/special Pilkingtons 'Insulight' X6 VI metal-edge unit.

GLAZING CHARACTERISTICS: Nominal U-value 0.028 W/m²K (1.0 Btu/h ft² °F) (0.002 m²°K/W). Glass type: 'I' value 1.00 Btu/h ft² °F (0.002 m²°K/W). Weight: 15 lb per ft² (118 kg per m²). Sound insulation: Approximately equivalent to 1 in. (25 mm) glass. Manufacturing tolerances: ± 0.1 in. (2.5 mm) on thickness and ± 0.1 in. (2.5 mm) on length and width.

'INSULIGHT' Glastoglas double glazing units may be glazed or transported up to 1000 metres above sea level. Where higher altitudes are involved, the units must be submitted for consideration.

PILKINGTONS lead the world in glassmaking

With the invention of Float glass

In the most searching test of a glass—a mirror—Float shows itself the world's finest glass

There's no more searching test of a glass than to make it into a mirror, and reflect an object in it again and again. There's no doubt which glass makes better a mirror, Float or any other. It is Float glass, invented and developed by Pilkingtons.

The World's Float Range: An up-to-the-minute glass for every building need: Float • Plate • Sheet • Patterned • Wire • Heat-Resisting • "Pilk" • "Acromax" and "Ammorax" • Down • Coloured Cladding Glass • Dome • Glass Blocks • "Hardy" Double Glazing Units • Diffuse Reflection Glass • Louvre Slides.

Float safety and fire protection: Light with Pilkingtons' Vitrol-Glasson. There is a choice of nine mesh patterns in both clear and coloured glasses. Specify Pilkingtons' Vitrol for doors and partitions, complex and industrial.

Pilkingtons' Agents in East Africa: Pilkingtons' service in East Africa is provided by Messrs. P. Pilkingtons & Co. Ltd., based in Nairobi, Kenia. For lists of any products concerning the use of glass, just telephone Nairobi 222222 or write to P. Pilkingtons & Co. Ltd., P.O. Box 50, Nairobi, Kenia. Pilkingtons' glass is readily available from glass merchants throughout East Africa. Head Office: Pilkingtons Brothers Limited, St. Helens, Lancashire, England.

CHEVROLET

Notice the man who owns one!

You can't help noticing (and admiring) the man who owns a Chevrolet. For he is a rare bird, a person of taste and discernment who has money to spend and chooses to spend it wisely on a Chevrolet. He... and other men-at-the-top like him... choose Chevrolet not only for its power, its performance, its comfort, its dependability and its smooth sophistication, but also for the fact that every model is tailor-made for its prospective owner. Each exterior and interior is finished with exquisite care and precision, according to individual needs. There are only a few Chevrolets in East Africa, but you can get one... and talk to us about your own personal requirements at our Showrooms any time.

Susan's latest is one for bossa nova fans

If you like bossa nova, particularly the way it is played by Stan Getz, then there is one new single you will be running out to buy very shortly, and that is There She Walks Alone by Susan Marshall. This unusual combination produces a tremendous effect, and there is a peculiar note which melts away Miss Marshall's soul notes into the distance. The performance is impeccable and—like all her discs—highly polished.

From the moment the horn of the bossa nova, she reverts to a confident, shabby, cool, Come Along style and she McTear is nothing out of the ordinary about this thing which has the usual ingredients of a charming group and full sounding bossa nova.

TWO LOST IN A CAVE

By Susan Carroll

It was a terrible storm. The worst Peter and Paula had ever seen. The lightning flashed and crackled, the thunder crashed and crashed, and the rain poured down as if from heaven.

Paula was a little bit frightened. She would not be in the cave. She would not be in the cave. She would not be in the cave. She would not be in the cave.

She was to clear. Let's go on, she'll say. "Do you think we ought to go back?" "What if we lose our way? I think we'd better stay here. The storm is sure to stop soon."

But Paula couldn't see. She was blind. She was blind. She was blind. She was blind. She was blind. She was blind. She was blind. She was blind.

reports on a visit to the Flying Nun of Longgumu Mission who pilots a plane in the service of her Faith.

SISTER MICHAEL THERESE SERVES GOD IN THE AIR

FLYING high above the wilds of Kenya, over hundreds of miles in which only buffaloes, acacia or dry river beds break the monotony of the landscape, one's first sight of the tiny Mission of Longgumu is like a vision from the heavens as Sister Michael, in a plane of almost invisible size, flies over the top of the Mission.

A volunteer was required in order to pilot the plane for the work she did and Sister Michael was the chosen one. She has been flying since her arrival at the Mission in 1945, and she has been flying ever since. She is the only woman pilot in the Mission.

Much of her time is spent in the air, and she has been flying for many years. She is a very experienced pilot and has been flying for many years. She is a very experienced pilot and has been flying for many years.

Pope's diary covers tumultuous 50 years

By LOUIE ALAN
JOURNAL OF A SOUL BY POPE JOHN XXIII

POPE JOHN kept a diary of his most intimate thoughts from the age of 14 until his death at the age of 82. His diary is a treasure trove to which few are admitted by the authorities and sought even to read the bits and pieces of it by the late Pope's personal secretary, Cardinal Agostino Casaroli.

When still very young, Pope John had such a keen sense of himself that he began to keep a diary at the age of 14. This was the year when he was admitted to the school in which he remained until 1926.

The regular observation of his life as he grew up in the small town of Concesio near Milan is contained in an account of his childhood written by his father, the Rev. Luigi Giuseppe, who was a priest at the time.

He recalled his father's words as he grew up in the small town of Concesio near Milan.

As a youth he was particularly devoted to the study of the Bible.

HISTORY OF THE LONGEST LAND BATTLE

HAKODATE, BATTLE

...which started in 1854... Battle of Hakodate...

The battle of Hakodate, which lasted for seven months in 1869, was the longest land battle in Japanese history. It was fought between the forces of the Meiji Restoration and the remnants of the Edo shogunate.

The Meiji Restoration was a period of rapid change and modernization in Japan. The shogunate was overthrown, and the emperor was restored to power. The new government sought to adopt Western science and technology to strengthen the nation.

The remnants of the shogunate, led by the Aomori Domain, fought to maintain their independence and traditional ways of life. The battle of Hakodate was the final clash between these two forces.

THE IMPACT OF THE WEST ON JAPAN

The impact of the West on Japan was profound. It led to the Meiji Restoration and the modernization of the country. The adoption of Western science and technology transformed Japan into a major power in Asia.

Just the Egyptians knew it ages ago!

There has been a great deal of discussion about the possibility of a connection between the pyramids and the Nile. Some believe that the pyramids were built by the Egyptians, while others believe that they were built by a more ancient civilization.

The pyramids are a remarkable feat of engineering and architecture. They have stood for thousands of years, and their purpose remains a mystery. Some believe that they were built as tombs for the pharaohs, while others believe that they were built for a more practical purpose.

COOKING IN THE TROPICS

MARSHES AND MUDBRATS - THE BEST OF TROPICAL COOKING
By John Egan,
Chickadee, Chickadee, Chickadee.

There are many different ways to cook in the tropics. Some of the most popular methods include grilling, roasting, and boiling. Each method has its own unique flavors and textures.

Grilling is a popular method because it allows you to cook with a lot of spices and herbs. It also allows you to cook outdoors, which is a nice change from indoor cooking.

Roasting is another popular method because it allows you to cook large pieces of meat. It also allows you to cook in a traditional oven, which is a nice change from outdoor cooking.

RAMBLING ROMANCE

By Jean Cocteau
(From the French)

Rambling romance is a type of literature that is characterized by its wandering and meandering nature. It often follows a loose structure and is filled with digressions and tangents.

This type of literature is often found in travelogues and autobiographies. It allows the writer to explore their thoughts and experiences in a more fluid and personal way.

Trouble is tax-free
OPEN YOUR HEARD AND CLOAK YOUR EYES

It is a well-known fact that death is tax-free. However, many people are not aware of the tax implications of their estate.

There are many ways to minimize the tax burden on your estate. One of the most effective ways is to use a trust or a will to distribute your assets.

It is important to consult with a tax professional to ensure that your estate is properly planned and that you are taking full advantage of the tax laws.

Africans must be taught value of their wildlife

UNLESS Africans could be fully convinced that wildlife conservation is an important industry as well as a hobby, there could be little hope of a governing class sensitive from rapid and complete destruction. Kenya's Minister for Natural Resources, Mr. Ayodo, said when he was addressing the first senior graduates of the Mweka College of Wildlife Management at Mombasa yesterday.

The minds of people in East Africa must be reoriented towards wildlife conservation for cultural and economic reasons. It would not be enough to put laws on the books either to the people or to township and industrial development was becoming increasingly acute.

Government officials attached great importance to the training of Africans in wildlife management. They were able to convince people of the value of the college had already passed its first graduates last week. The fact that the first graduates left Mweka, the college had already passed its first graduates last week. OUR FLAME LIY HOLIDAY WAS A HOLIDAY ALL THE WAY

The Victoria Falls was something we knew we had to see some day—and it surpassed our wildest imaginations. Kariba Dam, we'd read lots about it but never realised what a breathtaking experience we had in store. The enormous Chobe Game Reserve was truly thrilling and Salisbury, with lots of lovely shops and restaurants and plenty of things to do, day and night, was tremendous fun. POOR KICKING BEATS NAKURU Anti-Assassins win after tough match

THE Anti-Assassins had one of their toughest games in East Africa last night at Nakuru, when they beat Nakuru Invitational XV by 25 points to one. Only poor kicking by Nakuru, who failed with six occasions, prevented a slusher defeat for the visiting side.

The Anti-Assassins' lead went as far as 27-0 at half-time, but they were held back thereafter the home side won the bonus from their own territory. Although the host team did score, they were held back thereafter the home side won the bonus from their own territory.

ENGLISH RACING Piggott wins Gold Cup

FIGHTING CHARLES ridden by Lester Piggott, and owned by Lady Mary Bury, won the Gold Cup over two miles and a half at Ascot yesterday. Mr. Arthur Piggott's Waldmeister was second and Miss E. Chatter's Azure Prize third of seven runners.

Vices Saint Martin ridden by Waldmeister and Joe Murray were fourth and fifth respectively.

Official starting prices were: Fighting Charles, 11-10; Waldmeister, 16-1; Azure Prize, 9-1; Vices Saint Martin, 10-1; Grey Wolf, 8-1; and Mr. John Bates, 10-1.

ABALUHYA ASK FOR CHANGE

ABALUHYA United Football Club yesterday asked the Football Association of Kenya to change the date of the Halleluiah Cup match against Luo Union.

The request followed a Union request to play the match on a Friday night at the Abaluhya ground in Kisumu.

The Abaluhya club stated that the Halleluiah Cup match against Luo Union would be played on a Friday night, which would be convenient for them. They requested the F.A. to consider the request.

Game postponed

The Football Association of Kenya postponed the match between Luo Union and Abaluhya, which was scheduled to be played on a Friday night at the Abaluhya ground in Kisumu.

The postponement was due to the fact that the ground was not ready for the match. The match is now scheduled for a later date.

Violence in hand'—Dr. Kaunda

Dr. Kaunda of Zambia warned yesterday that violence was imminent in Rhodesia and declared: "The day of decision is at hand and the future of Britain and the Commonwealth is in the balance."

He spoke at a Royal Commonwealth Society meeting in London as the 21-nation Commonwealth Prime Ministers' Conference was preparing to take vital decisions on what should be done to get a peaceful settlement of the explosive Rhodesian constitutional problem.

The President described the Rhodesian situation as the most serious threat to world peace today. He added: "It is vital to us, as an unstable alliance of Portugal, South Africa and Rhodesia will in the future destroy the peace of Africa."

Using active powers

In Rhodesia, he said, a quarter of a million Whites were fighting a battle to retain control over 4,000,000 Africans, were practicing racial discrimination and racial hatred and were using all the coercive powers of the State to destroy African nationalist parties.

The British Government was ultimately responsible for the minority Government in Rhodesia, President Kaunda said.

"Former British colonists and the rest of the world will turn their backs on Britain if she shows weakness or refusal to face her responsibilities, she allows anarchy to reign in Africa to emerge in South Africa."

Algeria talks still in the balance

The Afro-Asian Foreign Ministers' meeting was postponed yesterday until tomorrow. The ministers are to decide whether the big and long-awaited Afro-Asian summit will be held next Tuesday as planned, while Algeria still simmers after the coup d'etat.

The announcement of the postponement came by Mr. Ahmed Lahli, head of the Algerian Delegation to a meeting of the 13-nation Committee which is preparing for the Conference.

The meeting has been postponed from its original date in Algiers to a date to be decided later.

The postponement of the meeting is believed to be due to the fact that the Algerian Delegation is still in the process of preparing for the meeting.

A TEA NURSERY TO BEAT E.A.P. and L. THE WORLD

ONE of the outstanding developments in the operations of the Kenya Tea Development Authority over the past two years has been the establishment of the largest tea nurseries in the world at Kamukaga, in the Kirinyaga District.

Kamukaga Tea Nursery, at the moment comprising 200 acres, is situated on the south-eastern slopes of Mount Kenya, at an altitude of 6,000 ft. It is hoped that sufficient planting material required by growers in all the areas east of the Rift will be obtained from the nursery from next year. Eight and a half million tea seedlings from Kamukaga should be ready for planting in the next year.

It has been the Authority's policy to use the most appropriate and low-cost methods for the propagation of tea seedlings. These have proved successful in the past and the seedlings are a standard job which require no special attention.

It is not easy to mechanize tea nurseries in a country where labour is so abundant. However, because of high rainfall, the seedlings are not so susceptible to disease as in other areas.

In order to produce large quantities of seedlings efficiently and at the lowest possible cost, the Authority's board decided to establish a central seedling unit on each side of the Rift Valley. The nursery at Kamukaga has a full-time manager, Mr. Milton Wrenn, who supervises a labour force of about 300 men and women. He is responsible to the general chief technical officer, Mr. Lord Kibbe, the chief architect of C.T.D.A.'s central nurseries.

Nursery expansion

212,000 labour 218,000 cost of clearing and grubbing 100 acres of seed. Additional roads with motor and hand driven systems and a power supply have been constructed at a cost of £2,000. Capital expenditure on tractors, implements, sprayers, equipment and vehicles was £2,000.

Heavy rains

Work on the Kamukaga nursery started in November, 1962, after obtaining a lease for 400 acres of forest land from the Commissioner of Lands. Heavy rains in April, May, 1964, hampered the forest clearing, and the 200-strong labour force and two 100-horsepower tractors were engaged down for several days.

There has been a heavy rainfall since then and wind sand gusts, together with the building of waste soil roads made maintenance work very difficult.

Experiments have been carried out on the use of different shades of mulch. The conventional method is to erect a thickish shade which protects the plants from the sun until they are about five years old, when they are ready for lifting. There are three shade of only three feet from the ground. Other shade-lifts are produced with simple bamboo frames which cover the seedlings, which are believed that less seedlings, which are substituted to more heavily conditions in the nursery, will have a better chance of survival later when transplanted.

The beds are dug to a depth of 2 ft, churning the earth to remove the soil. This allows the roots of the young plants to Nursery operations at Kamukaga. Mulched seedling beds can be seen, with waste soil roads and other features to ease drainage.

Prevention better than cure appeal by Minister

Standard Staff Reporter Dar es Salaam.

THE Tanzanian Minister for Health, Mr. Bryceson, appealed to all M.P.s last night "to spread the doctrine of cleanliness, good food and hygienic surroundings" as the most efficient method to prevent disease.

In his winding-up speech, Mr. Bryceson said that malaria and other diseases could be prevented by the use of insecticides, particularly around the houses and in the areas where people live. He urged all M.P.s to urge their constituents to take these measures.

Speaking on anti-disease and medicine men, Mr. Bryceson said that people should consult qualified medical practitioners in order to get the best possible treatment. He said that all patients should be treated with respect and that all medical staff should be treated with respect.

The Minister repeated Mr. Mbowe's suggestion that medical staff should receive training with the most efficient method to prevent disease.

Explaining the set-up of medical facilities in the region, Mr. Bryceson said that it was intended to have one large hospital in each area, with several smaller centres dependent on the hospital for more serious cases.

COLLEGE OF MEDICINE MEN URGED

Standard Staff Reporter, Dar es Salaam.

A SUGGESTION that the Minister for Health should look into the feasibility of opening a college for native medicine in an effort to alleviate the shortage of doctors in the country was made in the Tanzanian National Assembly by the M.P. for Mpanda Mr. P. Mbowe.

He urged the Minister to devise a method of attracting people into the medical profession. One way was the improvement of working conditions of medical staff. Mr. Mbowe also called for more research into native medicine if possible. The Minister should also consider the possibility of training more doctors and hospital staff in Tanzania.

He said the Minister should look into the possibility of training more doctors and hospital staff in Tanzania.

LEADER GIVES ADVICE

Kenya's National Youth Leader, Mr. J. Karari, has expressed his admiration for the American people and their ability to overcome adversity. He said that the American people have shown a great deal of courage and determination in the face of adversity.

At the ceremony which took place in the programme's centre, Mr. Karari glanced around where the youths were busy at various woodworking projects. Then he went to a bench, took a saw from one of the trainees and gave a demonstration. With this kind of wood, he pointed out, you should work with shorter arcs. It is a better and more durable than most.

Cotton: Major cash crop in new Kenya

By MATTHEW BROWN

IN view of the bumper cash crop which, for the past five years, have been steadily increasing the importance of Kenya's cotton industry. Three years ago an annual output of 100,000 bales was reached, and the Government is now planning to increase production to 150,000 bales this year.

The cotton industry in Kenya is a relatively new one. It was introduced by the British colonial government in 1901, and since that time has grown steadily. The industry is now one of the major cash crops of the country, and is expected to continue to grow rapidly in the future.

To take priority

Traders without Kenya's cotton production programme will have to wait in Africa. It is believed that the Government is now planning to increase production to 150,000 bales this year.

Agri-cultivators at work, packing in the cottonfields of Nigeria.

When the weather is hot and the humidity is high, the cotton fields of Nigeria are a scene of busy activity. The agri-cultivators are at work, packing the cotton bales for export.

Teaching the farmer

To achieve this it is necessary to provide the farmer with the necessary tools and equipment. This is being done by the Government through the provision of agricultural extension services.

Better driving—2 PRECAUTIONS BEFORE YOU START THE ENGINE

CONTINUED from an introduction to the driving test, I will now consider the precautions to be observed before starting the engine. It is important to observe these precautions, not only to prevent damage to the engine, but also to prevent injury to the driver. The first precaution is to check the oil level. The second is to check the water level.

The first precaution is to check the oil level. This is done by pulling out the dipstick and looking at the oil level. The oil level should be between the "add" and "full" marks. If the oil level is low, it should be topped up.

The second precaution is to check the water level. This is done by looking at the water level in the radiator. The water level should be between the "add" and "full" marks. If the water level is low, it should be topped up.

G. R. MATTHEWS, a well-known motorist discusses the importance of checking the oil and water levels before starting the engine.

It is important to check the oil and water levels before starting the engine. This is because the oil and water are essential for the engine to run properly. If the oil level is low, the engine will overheat and be damaged. If the water level is low, the engine will overheat and be damaged.

Now Here! THE IDEAL CAR FOR EAST AFRICA!

The New Austin 1800

Power, performance, space, elegance plus extra clearance—you'll find them all in this new Austin front-wheel-drive car!

New Car Design. The Austin 1800 offers you something entirely new in car design. It gives the power, performance, the elegance, and space that are completely a big step of quality in a new car. Front wheel-drive! A big engine set midway into the frame. Wheel set wide. The fluid ride of Hydraulic Suspension. Only BMC on that concept space offers the passenger compartment into such space into the passenger compartment.

Two seats feature combine to create space inside the new 1800. The engine is turned sideways, which sets it at the extreme corner of the car. This leaves space for the passenger, exceptional storage room for parcels and a 17-cubic-foot boot—all within a length of less than 14 feet!

50 m.p.h. The power unit is 1,800 cc. It delivers 56 h.p. and top speed in the neighborhood of 50 m.p.h. Specially made springs for the car as all four gears 2nd gear is exceptionally flexible—right down to walking speed.

Extra clearance plus Hydraulic Suspension. The Austin 1800 comes with a 17-inch wheelbase. The body is raised even the roughest roads. Add to this the fact that the 1800 has a construction of exceptional rigidity, a glass superb directional stability, and you have a car that is ideal for the existing road conditions you will find in East Africa.

So easy to drive. Front-wheel drive gives you the benefits of safe cornering and steering on sticky roads. Power-assisted brakes (discs at the front, drums at the rear) ensure efficient stopping power.

Free air ventilation. Connected ducts supply draughtless fresh air. Windows can be kept closed at all times.

New lighting feature. Headlamp Sucker for daylight signalling; anti-glow any light (day dim at night); side lights for greater safety in traffic.

Six-year-old hit gets punchy new treatment

It is always something of a risk when anyone writes a song which was a hit several years ago. This is what Peter and Gordon have done for their latest release, "You Know You're Lovin' Me." The song first came out six years ago, and it was sung by a vocal group called The Teddy Bears. Now it receives a rather more punchy treatment by Peter and Gordon.

The first of the new recordings and the second of the new recordings are both by Peter and Gordon. The first is "You Know You're Lovin' Me" and the second is "I'm a Fool for You."

It is not every often that such established singers as Frank Sinatra and Duke Ellington release. It has to be something that is new and different. The number of other releases of this kind is very small.

Mr. Sinatra's "You Know You're Lovin' Me" is a new recording of a song which was a hit several years ago. It is a very good example of a new recording of an old song.

Out of the number of new recordings which have been released in the last few months, the one which has been the most successful is "You Know You're Lovin' Me."

There is no doubt that "You Know You're Lovin' Me" is a very good example of a new recording of an old song.

UNDER THE MANGO TREE

By SUSAN CARROLL

"You know," said Njeri, looking up, "this is a great one. You only think it gives me a headache when I'm in the sun. You will get used to it."

"What about the fruit?" asked Wangika. "There's no other fruit that tastes so good as the mango. You know how much fruit that there is just by the whole village."

"Yes, you are lucky," said Wangika. "I'm not alone."

"You are not alone," said Wangika. "Look, Billi Kambo is coming with his mango tree. Billi Njirara is here too with his mango tree. Jumbo Mama."

The mother greeted the girls and then set down in the cool shade of the tree. Billi Kambo had her new baby, white Billi Nyirara, and she watched the villagers sitting in the shade of the mango tree.

SUREST bet for a best-selling niche among new crop of records is a disk by a couple of children - which itself would be enough to put it in the Top Ten unless there has been a sudden drop in the public's sentimentality.

SWAHILI POP REVIEW BY JOHN ROBERTS

European and Bangora supply some most professional recordings. Both singer and guitar-player are of a high order - at it down it is raised by the ensemble singing in the chorus. Above average in spite of a certain singleness in the lead, which I assume is caused by faulty recording.

LONG FELT WANT IS FULFILLED

Some measures in Britain this year are considered most dry dresses, lightweight suits made in foreign-made wool and synthetic fibres with a difference which can mean the difference between a dry dress and a synthetic-wool suit. Many of these lightweight suits are suitable for the cold temperatures at high elevations in East Africa at this time of year. These Suits Small, dress from East Africa and Winter collections carry out the current trends. And what about the men? They are joining the ranks of the feminine performers. This trend must be just the thing for many of our men's beaches.

Fur coats and cloaks are still making headlines as fashions, but the fact they are made of synthetic fibres is still a big news item. They are made with synthetic fibres and wool on the skin.

NEW LOOK FOR AN ANCIENT FABRIC

The traditional, thick rough tweeds worn by Celtic kings when they went into battle more than 2000 years ago have evolved into lightweight fabrics made by top dressmakers for the clothes of smart women on both sides of the Atlantic.

From Irene Gilbert who started her Dublin venture 20 years ago, to Vivienne Westwood for the young and gay, the Irish designers all depend on the country's scenery and its best fabric collection. Miss Gilbert uses traditional tweeds for a long, tight flared dress and matching coat, both trimmed by matching tweed worked by local handweavers.

Miss Gilbert made her dress fabric (tweed) in the County Wick. The tweed is made by the same handweavers in the County Wick. The tweed is made by the same handweavers in the County Wick.

Warm but cool is fur's new line (for men too!)

There's nothing like the feel of a fur like the softening power of modern fabrics on the skin. What is more, the men are enjoying a fur that now the sports coats of the twenties. The fur lines may have a little fall on a beach, but it will be washed for some time.

Paris decides that Granny is right

By Françoise Monnet, Paris

Paris' distinguished fashion designers are making a mark on the fashion scene in London. The Paris fashion designers are making a mark on the fashion scene in London. The Paris fashion designers are making a mark on the fashion scene in London.

GRANDMOISERIE'S influence in Paris this season. The designers have taken up everything from outdated fashions, 1940's length skirts, sharp, shawl-like jackets, and long, straight, button-down coats. One French designer explains that the popularity of these somewhat retrogressive tones is a result of the fact that the designers are not afraid to repeat themselves.

The theory is that if women really desire to please men, they must prefer the effect of a woman's feminine form. The designers are making a mark on the fashion scene in London.

Better maize crop will end Kenya food shortage

EFFORTS to increase Kenya's maize production, which had fallen during the past two years to just under a half, were made by the first two Kenya National Farmers' Unions, which had taken the Press conference in Nairobi yesterday.

Mr. Pollard said that these organisations, which included higher but stable prices, increased output and black-market trading, and reduction of maize. Kenya did not again suffer any food shortage.

The present maize shortage was not due to drought conditions at all. Main reason for the shortage was short time loans given to farmers, widespread maize theft, and maize being sold in black-market trading—large quantities of maize.

These factors had led the country to the present maize shortage situation which could, unless it were contained, become serious. Kenya could not continue to import maize from the United States for growing sufficient to import maize market and supplies for export were falling, which was not a desirable position.

LARGE PRODUCTION FALL

Mr. Pollard said that maize production in the large-scale farming area had fallen from 150,000 tons in 1960 to 60,000 tons last year. About 100,000 tons of crop were sold in 1962 from small-scale farmers through marketing organisations.

The president said that the present maize shortage was not due to drought conditions at all. Main reason for the shortage was short time loans given to farmers, widespread maize theft, and maize being sold in black-market trading—large quantities of maize.

KENYA BANS RALLIES BY TWO UNION GROUPINGS

President Kenyatta announced in Nairobi that no further meetings or demonstrations are to be allowed for either the Kenya Federation of Labour or the Kenya Workers' Union. The Government has decided to take this step to end public protesting and to prevent the further activities and statements by these organizations.

At the same time the President revealed that he had appointed a six-man Ministerial committee to review the Government's decisions and take steps to ensure that the workers' interests are protected. He has instructed the committee to report back by next month.

The President said the committee would be in full consultation with all the concerned parties in order to determine the best arrangements and policies for the future.

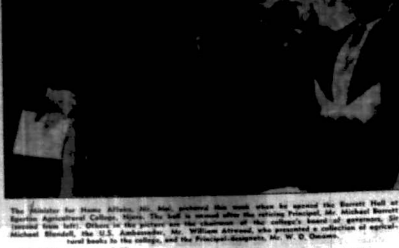

The Week in East Africa

It was left to union leaders to accept the challenge of showing respectability. However, Benge had risen to the occasion but eventually he abandoned the scene. Benge stated in his speech that he was sorry to have had to bring about the life of the Federation of East Africa.

A few hours after Mr. Kenyatta's speech the Minister for Labour in the Prime Minister's office announced that the Government would make it a condition of its work in the House of Representatives.

The cabinet, which calls on the Government to make the relevant constitutional "the relevant constituent" who would be associated with them, a cabinet member, who would be associated with them, a cabinet member, who would be associated with them, a cabinet member, who would be associated with them.

FOR BEST PERFORMANCE: NO OTHER TYRES IN THE WORLD ARE BUILT LIKE G-8 BY GOODYEAR
The G-8 tyre by Goodyear has safety built right into it. Around the shoulder design puts more tread on the tyre shoulder. This gives you more tread at the critical moment in cornering, while the G-4 tyre is built with a new, confident feeling of control and security. And the G-4 by Goodyear offers you and economy because it wears so much more than ordinary tyres, yet gives more mileage. See your Goodyear dealer soon. When it comes to tyres for your family car, look to Goodyear.

OUR FLAME Lily HOLIDAY WAS A HOLIDAY ALL THE WAY

The Victoria Falls was something we knew we had to see some day—and it surpassed our wildest imaginings. Kariba Dam? We'd read lots about it but never realised what a breathtaking experience we had in store. The enormous Chobe Game Reserve was truly thrilling and Salisbury, with lots of lovely shops and restaurants and plenty of things to do, day and night, was tremendous fun. Do what we did—send to the Tourist Office, P.O. Box 2479, Nairobi, for the fascinating full colour folder on Flame Lily Holidays.

APPRECIATION BISHOP G.F.B. MORRIS

BISHOP Fred Morris, who died in Nairobi last week at the age of 82, had a missionary life of over 30 years with Africa. Educated at Dulwich College and Cambridge, where he was President of the Inter-Collegiate Christian Union, he went to the Congo with C.F. Studd, Alfred Duxton, and Jack Hinton in 1893 under the Africa Inland Mission, of which he became Field Director, and later he began a new work for the Mission in the West Nile district of Uganda.

BISHOP G. F. B. MORRIS

Greatly loved and respected by all who knew him, he is remembered with affection not only for his service to the Church in Africa, but for the quality of Christian character.

In 1918 he joined the work of the Bible Churchmen's Missionary Society in North Africa and was consecrated Bishop in North Africa in 1943 by Archbishop William Temple. He retired in 1944, and later accepted appointment as Bishop of the Church of England in South Africa. The Bishop and Mrs. Morris came to live in Nairobi in 1959.

Throughout his missionary service, distinguished by gifts and leadership tempered by a quiet and kindly disposition, he had never sought publicity, and it was a shock to him when his appointment in South Africa, of which the Archbishop of Canterbury did not approve, brought him into national prominence.

Bishop Morris continued to assist in the ministry of the Church in Africa, his long and busy life being made thus impossible.

The General Manager Superior of the Franciscan Missionaries of St. Joseph, Sister Emma, talks with hospital staff on the mission's hospital at Kapling near Sotik during her visit there to open a new extension.

Mission hospital extension opened

GENERAL Mother Superior Emma of the Franciscan Missionaries of St. Joseph, who is at present on a three-month visit to East Africa, has declared open an extension to the mission's hospital at Kapling near Sotik.

The extension includes all additional space building to the hospital, which was completed during her earlier visit to East Africa. At the ceremony Sister Emma, referred to her earlier visits, which requests were made for "visiting facilities for nurses."

The hospital began as a small dispensary in 1924 when sisters belonging to the Order of Franciscan Missionaries of St. Joseph first came to Sotik. In 1937 an administrative centre and main ward were built. In 1945 a nurses' block was added which consists of a large operating theatre and a room for the training for medical treatment given another block was put up in 1953 to accommodate medical and dental patients. A medical and surgery wing was attached to this.

The extension has a dining room, lecture-room, and a kitchen. It is attached to the original mission dispensary. Formerly the trainee nurses had their quarters in a small room in the administrative ward of the hospital and lived in a room near the hospital's kitchen.

About 40 nurses, and 100 medical wings are at present under training.

Before leaving the extension, the Parish Priest, Rev. R. J. Quigley, said: "This extension to the nurses' block will help the training of the hospital to answer the President's call of 'Karamoja' to fight one of the most serious diseases, 'malaria' and that is the greatest of all those concerned with the new development and the mission, who rendered excellent service to the patients."

The extension was erected with money received from the Government, Oxfam and the sister private fund.

He was very much encouraged to see how hard the students were working, and that they were looking forward with great eagerness to finishing their studies so that they could return home to take up jobs with the Kenya Government. They complained of not getting news from home.

DOL DOL INCIDENTS CLARIFIED

A SECRETARY Ministry of Internal Security and Defence and a SECRETARY Ministry of Education's statement on the two Dol Dol deaths succumbs reports that up until Wednesday night five small and two injured.

These casualties arose out of an attack on the bus carrying the Dol Dol reserve to Nanyuki, Kenya, on the night of June 21, 1962. The bus was attacked by a group of about 200 Mau Mau fighters who shot and wounded several of the injured.

On Monday evening a second attack was reported at Nanyuki. This time the bus was attacked by a group of about 100 Mau Mau fighters who shot and wounded several of the injured.

Surprise job

Police are unable to comment officially on the reported murder of a man in Nanyuki and other suspicious deaths in this area for the Civil Administration. It is, however, believed that the deaths were the result of Mau Mau activities.

NEW SYRUP A BIG TRY

EVERY one of the 100,000 Kenya coffee beans to enter the country will pass through ETCO House, the new coffee warehouse which is the latest instalment of coffee, Kenya's new coffee shop.

The building also serves to emphasize the close relationship between Express Transport and the entire Kenya coffee industry. The firm has provided warehousing facilities for coffee since the 1930s and ETCO House is the culmination of all these years of co-operation.

The new premises are designed to keep Kenya's coffee industry abreast with the times. Coffee is the country's most vital export. Last year, some 63,000 tons were shipped abroad, representing a total value of £11,000,000.

Equal partners in project

But Kenya's Coffee Marketing Board is aiming for an export crop of 90,000 tons by 1975.

The ambition is responsible for ETCO House, a £200,000 venture in which Express Transport and the Coffee Board of Kenya are equal partners.

The conception of a vast new coffee warehouse was initiated three years ago when Kenya's coffee experts and Express Transport executives decided that the storage capacity of Eldoret, the old warehouse, was clearly insufficient for any conceivable increase in production.

If production was stepped up to between 60,000 and 70,000 tons annually, a warehouse capable of holding some 100,000 tons of clean coffee at any one time was necessary.

Express Transport and the Coffee Board's official warehousing agents, already owned a very modern site near the coffee mills at Eldoret. This was offered as a partnership venture with a directors' committee of three executives each from the company and the Coffee Board.

Three-man team

To ensure that all viewpoints were considered a building committee was formed to include representatives from Mr. Henry Rubin, the company's managing director, Mr. Peter Kattany, Express Transport's managing director, and Mr. Paul Pearson, representative of the coffee industry. They pledged to construct the finest warehouse in East Africa. The Coffee Board guaranteed to ensure, these Kenya planters by providing additional storage space for clean coffee.

From the drawing board stage, the vast building began to take concrete form. Inaugural stone was laid on the building's 13 floors, were designed specifically to hold Kenya's coffee crop — and Uganda's too — under one roof.

The most modern machinery available was installed to make day-to-day running smooth and efficient. At the height of the coffee season, the warehouse will be in operation 16 hours a day, its loading can be left to chance.

To finance the operation, Express Transport and the Coffee Board of Kenya each contributed £100,000.

As Mr. Henry Rubin, the company's managing director, says: "This is our expression of confidence in Kenya's future and Express Transport's long-term contribution. We have been concerned with the growth of Kenya's coffee industry since the early days — and we aim to continue playing our part in the development of the vital industry."

K.P.C.U.

From milling to storage — a complete service to the coffee industry

The completion of Eteo House now finishes the smooth flow of green coffee.

These three self-contained units of the coffee industry, the K.P.C.U. Mills, the R. & S. Godown and now Eteo House, deal with the planters' coffee from time of arrival until dispatch for export.

KENYA PLANTERS' CO-OPERATIVE UNION LTD.
in conjunction with COFFEE WAREHOUSING LTD.
and
EXPRESS TRANSPORT CO. LTD.
combine for the future of Kenya

Preparing the beans for the market

1. Taken from the top of ETCO House, the quality S.C.A.S. Bells look comparatively small. Coffee beans under the scale from Kenya's coffee estates, still in perfectly good condition, will automatically receive the post-processor and the subsequent "green" beans are sorted into different grades, ready for marketing. When the new product is finished, five percent of each grade will "bleed" the coffee directly to the top floor of ETCO House from the mill.

THE RIGHT BLEND

3. Much stress is laid on the floor operation. Baking in the form of coffee, in different stages of coffee, to produce uniform beans. Beans sorted have automatic to supply a given quantity of a particular blend. Careful attention is given to each sample, for it is not until the beans are mixed together. The finished blend can then be transported by shipment to the respective coffee estates. The coffee delivery will be the same in each case.

4. The sacks are gathered on the special platform level of the building room.

CHOICE OF THREE CHANNELS

2. Unloading commences from the bottom-store, these sacks in ETCO House enable rapid delivery of coffee to the next storage floor. They are then, in case of difficulty, Channel painted blue. The mill's own heavy hand truck is used to transport the sacks to a building platform and will shortly follow the long lower storage floor down to delivery using loading platforms.

4. All the sacks of different coffee are emptied on to the floor and workmen with wooden shovels start from the centre and sweep outwards in ever-increasing circles until the mixed coffee finishes in a single pyramid.

5. When the ground is completed, a final, slightly underweight 20, is spread and the coffee cascades into machines in the floor being to be automatically weighed into 125 lb. sacks. Another machine sets the sacks secure.

7. The final stage. Down the red chutes go the sacks, loaded with destination, to be rolled to the coast for shipment abroad. ETCO House's two railway sidings can accommodate 12 heavy freight wagons at a time.

From mission to £15m. a year

The enormous expansion of the coffee industry over the years from what is believed to be the first planting at Kilimbero in 1880, to a fiery world-wide coffee boom in the 1930s, is a story well known to all.

The quality of Kenya coffee has been established as one of the highest in the world, and the industry has grown to a value of £15 million a year.

After several years of the coffee boom, the industry has now entered a period of relative stability. The Kenya Coffee Board, established in 1933, has been instrumental in the development of the industry.

AN ABSTRACT
The Kenya Coffee Board, established in 1933, has been instrumental in the development of the industry.

All the coffee produced in Kenya is handled by the Kenya Coffee Board, which maintains a central office in Nairobi.

K.P.C.U. MILLS ARE PREPARING FOR INCREASED OUTPUT

By Nigel Sinclair, Managing Director, Kenya Planters' Co-operative Union

The Kenya Planters' Co-operative Union came into being in 1922, as the Thika Planters Co-operative Union, but its name was changed to its present one the following year as planters from other areas began joining it.

The new mill, costing several tens of thousands of pounds, was completed in 1954 and is now being used to process coffee beans. The mill is a major step forward for the industry.

The mill is a major step forward for the industry. It will enable planters to process their own coffee beans, which will result in a higher quality of coffee.

Scientists studying ways to fend off disease and improve crops

By Dr. P. A. Huxley, Director of Research, Coffee Research Foundation

The introduction of new coffee varieties and improved cultivation methods are essential for the future of the industry.

The Kenya Coffee Research Foundation is conducting extensive research into coffee diseases and improved cultivation techniques.

Designer from 'down under' is on her way to the top

An Australian designer of young ladies' wear that "lives it, sleeps it — and often wakes up in the night" reaching for a pencil and paper. She is fashion designer, Dorothy Freeman. It is so clear that that is the way she enjoys living. The fact that Mrs. Freeman works for a firm which two years ago made no dress, a suit and new trousers, £200 in the next three months has been made, it is not surprising that she is now a leading name in the young people she concentrates on being clothes for the girls who want to look like the girls in Australia here.

Mrs. Freeman studied fashion design in Australia but has now been in London for some time and she has been able to see the sort of young clothes that she is now making and to be having a complete wardrobe. She still goes for Australia and she will make a dress and make all the clothes for her young people in London. She is now in London for some time and she has been able to see the sort of young clothes that she is now making and to be having a complete wardrobe.

Certainly with the "garment" work in new fashions, the main thing is to make sure that you can get plenty to make. It is a good thing to have a very good knowledge of the fashion world and to be able to make things that are really new and different.

Composers and chemical
Many are having clothes in which white and matching colors are used. This is a very good thing to do, as it makes the clothes look clean and fresh. It is also a good thing to have a good knowledge of the fashion world and to be able to make things that are really new and different.

It was a solemn moment in the Dior salon at the Parisian Rue Princesse Inc. You could have heard a drop of perfume fall on the deep carpeting. The list was a long one, for the 21st season had been chosen from a list of one hundred for his latest perfume, and each one would be the right thing. His name had to be a part of it, it had to be surrounded by a prestige impossible to define, and it had to be untranslatable by history and age.

The name was the beginning of a new adventure. It was a name that was not only a name, but a perfume. It was a name that was not only a name, but a perfume. It was a name that was not only a name, but a perfume.

President as poet— Senghor of Senegal

By JOHN ROBERTS

In English-speaking countries, where the 19th-century myth of the poet-dramatist is still alive, there is a tendency to treat any politician who is also a poet as an oddity and to regard him with a certain amount of skepticism. This is not so in Senegal, where the poet-dramatist is a tradition entirely accepted—and who justly should be desired in the public domain.

A very book in the Three Continents series brings together a selection of Senghor's poems and a selection of his plays, with an introduction by the author. The book is written in French, but the introduction is in English. The author is a poet and dramatist, and his work is a blend of the two. He is a member of the Académie Française, and his work is highly regarded in France. The book is a good introduction to his work, and it is well worth reading.
