

THANT PLAYS FOR PEACE

Minister will tour Kenya famine areas

Talks in Pakistan as battle for Lahore rages on

THE United Nations Secretary-General, U Thant, now in New Delhi, is expected to play peace to both sides in the Indo-Pakistan war, yesterday said President Ayub Khan of Pakistan at a one-and-a-half-hour working lunch.

Nothing of what they said was divulged, and no further meeting was arranged for yesterday, but the President's spokesman said there might be another meeting this morning.

U Thant, when he arrived by air, told reporters merely that he considered the situation "extremely serious."

He left New York on Tuesday with instructions from the Security Council to make every effort to restore peace. He is staying in Pakistan until tomorrow and then goes to New Delhi to see the Indian Prime Minister, Mr. Shastri. His plans are not known but he will probably meet discuss with his aides Pakistan's first reaction to the U.N. initiative.

Devising from the airport to the Presidential guest house, U Thant passed every truckload of them camouflaged with branches, carrying North-West Frontier Regiment with home-made rifles on their way to the front.

ARMED GUARD ON CONGO REBELS

KENYA'S Minister for Home Affairs, Mr. Moi, chairman of the National Famine Relief Committee has decided to tour all the famine stricken areas in the country to try and assess the size of the problem personally. He is to be accompanied by a team of experts from the Government.

The Government has set up the committee to coordinate all relief measures in areas stricken by famine and hunger. Announcing this yesterday, Mr. Moi, appealed to every individual, firm and organization to help in any way possible.

Addressing a Press conference at the first meeting of the National Famine Relief Committee, the Minister announced that the famine situation was "serious" but gave no indication of how long the Government would be in power.

He said that a few weeks ago it had been reported that 1,500 people were starving from hunger, and the number had now probably increased. Those starving were receiving free food from provincial administrations.

Details of aid

The Director of Medical Services, the Minister, said the number of malnutrition cases in Kenya hospitals had increased. There were reports of deaths from hunger but no details were available.

He said that details of aid already being provided by the American Agency for International Development, the Catholic Relief Committee and other agencies had not yet been planned.

ARMED GUARD ON CONGO REBELS

The Complete details in an interview in Congo are under an armed guard-the check-off order by President Kasavubu and United Arab Republic authorities to send all relief supplies to a public store.

They said police armed with automatic rifles had been stationed in Congo to guard the supplies. The government was to be allowed to do the same in the Congo.

It was reported in Congo that the government had been given a 10-day grace period to allow the government to send all relief supplies to a public store.

H.O. DECIDE TO HELP FORCE PORTUGAL'S HAND

Kenya's Minister of Health, Mr. M'Kaka, yesterday announced a World Health Organisation conference for defending Portugal's right to attend M.O. who is chairman of the 15th session of the World Health Organisation in Geneva.

He said that the World Health Organisation had decided to help Portugal's hand in the fight to defend its right to attend the conference.

Welcomed as a friend

He was met at the airport by the Pakistan Foreign Minister, Mr. Bhutto, who earlier told reporters they were glad to welcome U Thant as U.N. Secretary-General and to a distinguished citizen of a friendly country and an Asian.

But he said Pakistan would not judge from the demand for a Kashmir plebiscite and would not accept an unconditional ceasefire.

The President's spokesman said that the Government was not prepared to accept an unconditional ceasefire.

GIILT-EDGED STRONG BUY DEMAND LESSONS

Continuing strength of gilt-edged securities was the chief feature of London stock markets. Demand was so keen that the Government had to raise the ceiling on the purchase of gilt-edged securities.

The Government of the United Kingdom has announced that it will increase the ceiling on the purchase of gilt-edged securities from £100 million to £150 million per month.

The only significant change in the gilt-edged securities market was the increase in the price of the 10% gilt-edged security from 100 to 105.

The Government has also announced that it will increase the ceiling on the purchase of gilt-edged securities from £100 million to £150 million per month.

Future in their hands

While the years have passed, new Lamsu without much change coming. The future may be full of problems for its children. These transporters, already induced with the traditions and customs of their parents, take time off from school to play in dusty deserted main street.

Time nearly stands still

The only public time piece in Lamsu, on the wall of a building in the market place. At 10.30 in the morning it records 4.30 in 1 1/2 hours afternoon. The only other "clock" on the island is a sand dial also used, several hours slow. A street signpost had the clock in it and a storm ruckled the hour so visible, the dial was wrecked from the ground. Replaced, it has never kept accurate time since.

The main street of Lamsu (above left), twisting and turning, its nervousness shutting out some of the sun's glare for shoppers. Living wide streets, run off on to the sea giving views as picturesque as the one above - a paradise exists around every corner in Lamsu.

The advantage of experience is that it can be passed on

When the 1886 William Seward Burroughs invents the first practical adder he creates a pool of skills which is unique and which meets unusual needs every day and every minute. The advantage of it all is that it can be passed on - to you. In the Burroughs representative you have the corporate experience of Burroughs. It's all there to assist you. Why not ask him to call? You'll be surprised how many business problems can be solved by a machine because they are understood by a man.

The Burroughs Semastronic shows how proven faster processing of information - three major ways: a self-aligning ledger card; it actually leads the old balance and other information from the ledger cards and eliminates the need for proof-reading; it makes trial balances an automatic process even to posting through ledger cards. Costly? No! The Semastronic can pay for itself in 18 months!

According to him, however, President have the best record of any state since 1943, due to its abundant supply of any where in the world. His opinion is supported by the Western Agricultural Research Station of Kalamazoo.

More Fertile

"There is a fertile potential in farming areas," he explains. "With some development this area could increase the highlands where farming is practiced on an extensive scale."

The trials crop was especially striking. Crows from 1943 and 1944 were as tall as a man and 15 bushels per acre instead of the average 100 at present produced by the small farmer. There were an average of 100 bushels per acre for experimental purposes. A variety of beans, peas, and other crops were planted side by side.

Money needed

One District Commissioner said: "The need for money is great. We need to build up our other services and our agriculture, but in the soil, water, education and social fields as well."

Another obstacle is to try and persuade farmers to adopt their own land on a more scientific type of farming for more profitable production.

Farmers in all three districts are being encouraged to plant hybrid maize based on the

About a dramatic scene from THOSE MAGNIFICENT MEN IN THEIR FLYING MACHINES, appearing at the 20th Century's new, Below: Marcellus THE RELUCTANT SAIKID of the Metropolitan...

THEATRE ROYAL Windsor re-opened at Windsor

WINDSOR has a theatre, a fact which may not have been noticed by some of the thousands who go to this pleasant Berkshire town to admire the historic castle. It is the delightful Theatre Royal which has re-opened this summer after extensive reconstruction and modernization.

Windsor's first Theatre Royal was built in the late 18th century, and the present building dates back to the late 19th century.

The company's latest play was based in the late 18th century, and the present building dates back to the late 19th century.

Using film, song and sketch, it traces the history of the World War I from the signing of the Armistice to the 1918 General Strike.

The company's latest play was based in the late 18th century, and the present building dates back to the late 19th century.

PURONUNCIATION ROUSES REMARKABLY HEATED PASSIONS IN LISTENERS

WHAT an enormous amount of emotion seems to be generated by the subject of the English pronunciation of Voice of Kenya V.O.K. should be attested by the amount of attention given to it.

Some rather extreme things have been said on both sides, and it is a pity that one or two correspondents seem to be fixated about "half cent" and "the half pence".

The most telling opinion is the instance of odd pronunciation came from Mrs. Tinsdale, who pointed out that she is a native of London.

The V.O.K. Public Relations Officer, Mr. A. J. Yakin — who is also a clear and pleasant announcer and commentator — made a reasoned reply to the criticism, pointing out that it was not to improve the V.O.K. but to improve the V.O.K. and to improve the V.O.K.

Nobody expects this clarity and intelligibility any less than that which would be expected of any other V.O.K. announcer.

TV and RADIO REVIEW by ROGER HOWE

It is right to allow announcers (there are only a few of them) to read the news when they can do so clearly on the required standard.

One suspects that there is an element of cowardice in this, and that V.O.K. prefers to rely on its own outside relations, even at the cost of standards, rather than to improve the V.O.K. and to improve the V.O.K.

Some of the best announcers of the past months were particularly, notably Dr. Nicholas and Dr. V. J. Sherrin.

Visiting Australia in search of material for his television programme on the "Voice of Kenya" is Mr. A. J. Yakin. He is a clear and pleasant announcer and commentator. He is also a clear and pleasant announcer and commentator.

DISC DATE
by Jim Macintyre

It is a fortunate and timely number with some excellent guitar work and a wonderful vocal melody done the Senitones' backing. The song has a lot of atmosphere and feeling and although the tempo is inclined to be slowish, Mary's voice is good and the number does not bore you.

On the other side the group have played that well-known favourite Charlie Brown which they sing with terrific bounce and feeling.

I think both numbers are great — in fact they are the best I have heard that have been recorded locally.

The Senitones are lucky in their leader Phil Flack, who was a member of the Cardinals in Britain. They were the backing group for the Stone Pup comedians, the Barrow Knights.

Of the other side members Hughie Ballie—rhythm guitar and vocal... the only married member of the group, and can play almost any instrument including violin and drums.

The drummer, Wally Johnson, is an excellent player and... the bass and... the tenor and... the tenor and...

best material, but only been playing his music for about the last month or so.

As all things happen on the R.A.F. the Senitones cannot be expected to review the work. They have kept it very well by providing their own material.

Their next album will be written by the Senitones' band. They will be recorded in Nairobi a few years ago and they accompanied Cliff Richard on his last visit to Kenya.

I found two more Kenyan names amongst the pile of records to review last week. They are Rick and Sandy. Sandy Robinson formed and led a group called La Ombra in Nairobi a few years ago and they accompanied Cliff Richard on his last visit to Kenya.

Since then he and Rick, who had been in Nairobi, have joined forces in London and seem to be doing quite well.

Last night my girl is Sandy's own composition. As she has other records, it is a rhythm and blues with a bit of swing. The record is in the drums and bass guitar, and the words of this disc have been carefully thought out.

The lady harmonica went together with the song to the point that the melody is just as good as not a little better than the average record on the market today.

There is another of Sandy's songs on the flip side called 'I can't Help It'. This is a faster, more cheerful number with a shake lull.

Both and Sandy have some long way since they left Nairobi, but although they have not yet had a big hit, I am sure that it is not far away.

GEORGE'S SURPRISE PIE

By SUSAN CARROLL

He thought he was alone. He picked the pie up and it was hot. He looked at his hands and he looked very angry.

George backed away. He followed him. George runs the pie up the stairs and faster in his hands. Faster and faster he went. Faster and faster he went until George found the pie on the floor.

Suddenly the man's hands tripped over a stone and a thousand tiny pieces of cheese was scattered all over the floor. The man's hands were given him a real surprise.

George never saw the man again. He was being chased by a very angry pie, especially when George was very surprised.

and then, we shall see what he shall see!"

So the surprise pie was baked and put on the open window to cool. Before long George came walking past Daisy's house. He saw the pie lying there, all cream and golden and ready to eat. In a flash it was hidden under his foot.

Taking good care not to crush the pie, George went to the long table where he sat in his usual sitting place, behind the hay stack. He did not know he had stolen a surprise pie and when it jumped right out of his hands.

George was very surprised.

"It's that groovy George," she said angrily. "If I ever catch him eating my stuff, I'll pull his ears!"

Further down the road, Mrs. Jones had been looking for a pie. There is nothing that she likes better than newly baked bread. Even the smell is exciting.

At last Mrs. Jones pulled up around laying the table and thinking about the delicious fresh bread she was going to have. She spread thickly with butter.

When the table was laid, and the tea in the pot, she went to the pantry to get the bread. It was there.

"It's that George," she said angrily. "That great fat, groovy George. If I ever catch him stealing my bread, I'll chase him with my big stick!"

Milianga and Otieno off to Zambia

The Kenya national football team has departed for Lusaka, Zambia, for a tour. Milianga and Otieno are the only players from the national team who were not in the squad for the tour.

Giuliet Otieno, who has played only one National League game for Luo Union this season, has turned out for their second team for nearly two seasons and has earned his place with some sparkling displays of courageous goalkeeping. Milianga first appeared in the senior game for Ruft All Stars league side this season. Milianga was sent a telegram from the F.A. of Kenya last week asking him to join the squad.

Kenya must improve at hockey

Kenya's hockey team has a long way to go before they can be considered as a serious contender for the East African title.

The Kenya Hockey Federation (KHF) has been set up to improve the standard of hockey in the country.

The KHF has a committee consisting of several prominent sportsmen who are working hard to improve the standard of hockey in Kenya.

If you can't think of anything to build with Handy Angle you're not trying

If you like, you can stand there with your hand on your heart and say 'I can't think of anything to build with Handy Angle'.

Alright.

But we bet we could.

And not only build it, but make it more efficient and save you some headaches or even money too.

This Handy Angle isn't just any old iron. The specification for the raw steel is pretty rigid and the tolerances we insist on are more accurate than British Standards.

It is made in 3 1/2", 3 1/4" and 3 1/8" cold-rolled steel sections with a cunning arrangement of slots and holes punched out along them. Even the pitch of these holes is accurate to point six six one of an inch. And there's a whole host of accessories and extra bits for special jobs.

So, if you still can't think of anything, here are a few clues.

- Racking.
- Trolleys.
- Benches.
- Ladders and steps.
- Shelving.
- Machine guards.
- Support structures.
- Even mezzanine floors.

And if you'd like a few more suggestions, just call our free Advisory Service and say 'I can't think of anything in my plant to make with Handy Angle'. You soon will.

Praise for wisdom of university

Members of the Kenya Association of Manufacturers and Exporters have expressed their appreciation of the wisdom of the Government in its decision to establish a university in Kenya. The association, which represents the manufacturing and export industries, has long advocated the establishment of a university in Kenya to provide the country with a source of trained manpower.

The association, which was founded in 1952, has since then been actively engaged in promoting the interests of the manufacturing and export industries in Kenya. It has been successful in securing the attention of the Government to the needs of these industries and in securing the necessary legislation to protect their interests.

The association has also been successful in securing the attention of the Government to the needs of the manufacturing and export industries in Kenya. It has been successful in securing the necessary legislation to protect their interests.

Weight reduction

In addition to the reduction in the number of stock deals with the respective posts and the use of a substantial reduction in the average number of crates, which led to the commission processing a 15,000 in less than 1962.

This was explained by the fact that with less stock on offer, there was a reduction in the number of stock deals with the respective posts and the use of a substantial reduction in the average number of crates, which led to the commission processing a 15,000 in less than 1962.

University news

ENTRANCES to the College of Dental Studies (Department of Mechanical Engineering) at Nairobi will open at 2.30 p.m. tomorrow by the Kenya Minister for Education, Mr. K. G. O. Ochieng.

The Minister will also preside at the first Convocation of Adult Students to be held at the University College, Nairobi.

Mr. Ochieng has also arrived in Nairobi from the United States to take up an appointment as special lecturer in the Department of Mechanical Engineering.

Mr. Ochieng came from Fort Hare, East Africa, where she was studying at Kenyatta Secondary School, Nairobi College and Kenyatta University where she obtained her B.Sc. in Mechanical Engineering in 1961.

In 1961 he studied at the California Institute of Technology and obtained an M.Sc. and in 1962 (London Engineering) in 1963.

For the past two years Mr. Ochieng worked with the General Corporation of Kenya.

Mr. Ochieng has also served to take up appointment as lecturer in the Department of Mechanical Engineering at Nairobi for a term of two years.

Mr. Hamilton comes from Bristol, England.

Six hundred students from the Department of Architecture, University College, Nairobi, left yesterday for Liverpool University where they will work to obtain an architectural certificate.

The arrangements were made as a result of a visit between the Department of Architecture by Nairobi and the Liverpool Department of Architecture. The British Ministry of Overseas Development also gave assistance.

The college opened an orientation week yesterday for the 410 new students who will join the college for the 1965/66 Academic Session from September 12 to 18. The college is also receiving students from East Africa, students have also been admitted from Zambia, Malawi, Mauritius, Sudan, Nigeria, the United Arab Republic, Senegal, Swaziland, Japan and the United States of America.

Station shortage

The comparative figures of stock and of live stock respectively were cattle - 1,875 and 12,204, and sheep - 9,512 and 1,202.

Due to the departure of a number of sheep producers, there was insufficient high grade lambs available to meet local requirements.

The Government has taken steps to supply an immediate relief that African producers who were already rearing. These were now being sent to slaughter on a semi-weekly basis. It is expected that this will be able to maintain a steady supply of high grade lambs and lower meat grades.

Further, it was expected that the number of higher grades of beef and mutton would rise in line with the security in the area.

No action yet
 The number of cattle and sheep taken to try the K.M.C. at Ash River during the first 212 months of the year from 1912 to 1932 had been 100,000. The figure was 100,000 in 1932. The Government has not yet decided whether to take any action.

Force training
 In the past it was held that a shortage of man power in the district could be made up from another. The Government has now decided that it will not do this. It will force training in the district.

'Horrible' tax
 The Government has introduced a new tax on the land. It is a 'horrible' tax, according to the farmers. It will increase the cost of production and reduce the profit.

Police training
 The Government has decided to increase the number of police officers. It will provide more training for the existing officers and recruit more new ones.

AFRICAN TO HEAD K.M.C.
 The Government has appointed an African to head the K.M.C. This is a significant step towards Africanization of the organization.

Rice mill project
 The Government has approved a project to build a rice mill. This will help the farmers to process their rice and increase their income.

Higher coffee prices sought
 The coffee growers are demanding higher prices for their coffee. They say that the current prices are too low and do not cover their costs.

★ FILM FARE IS COMEDY ANCIENT AND MODERN

COMEDY dominates the scene this week. Two of the crats, who were mainly the original crew of the French air-raid-epic, Clemenceau, give us THE SKY ABOVE HEAVEN, a new film starring the Caravel and Belle-Vue Drive-In cinemas West Wednesday.

One film takes a rare cut of the past, and a double dose of Peter Sellers' gives a return comic view of the law and the church. In more serious vein, a new American film is making two cinema houses in Montreal and some film stars its head into The Day After Tomorrow, a new film which was an instant hit photographically at the Motion Picture Festival.

THE SKY ABOVE HEAVEN West Wednesday is an unusual film, it does not generate the usual theatre response and excitement of the other films seen, but it is an unusual film on both the score and on the score. It is a comedy, and it is a comedy. It is a comedy, and it is a comedy. It is a comedy, and it is a comedy.

From today until Monday Ray Rogers' SANGAM is showing and from Thursday THE FOREIGNER INTEREX, a film with a World War II theme which was the world's night spot.

Those interested in ancient history will find THE BATTLE OF MARSEILLES in their theatres. The answer is simple: anyone who has a television set.

BELLE-VUE presents a comedy of the WRONG ARM OF THE LAW no less than THE SKY ABOVE HEAVEN. The answer is simple: anyone who has a television set.

On Sunday DOUBT is showing. The answer is simple: anyone who has a television set.

... come true!

Greenland has been the scene of a remarkable development in the past few years. The island has been transformed from a barren, desolate land into a land of promise and opportunity. The discovery of lead and zinc deposits has opened up a new era of industrial development. The island's strategic location has also attracted the attention of the world's major powers.

By PETER HENNINGSEN

The lead and zinc deposits in Greenland are estimated to contain 100,000,000 tons of lead and 1,000,000,000 tons of zinc. This is a vast resource that will revolutionize the island's economy. The discovery of these deposits has also attracted the attention of the world's major powers, who are vying for control of the island's resources.

The island's strategic location has also attracted the attention of the world's major powers. Greenland's location in the North Atlantic makes it a key area for military and political maneuvering. The island's resources and strategic importance have made it a focal point of international relations.

Kenya's underwater realm offers sport and beauty

ONE of the loveliest and most beautiful places in the world is to be found in the Indian Ocean off the coast of Kenya. It is a realm of sport and beauty that offers a unique experience for those who venture into its depths.

There are the numerous coral fish, Emperor Fish, Wrasse and Moorish eel to name but a few. For the enthusiastic diver there is to be found in the most unlikely places. Equipment necessary to start with is a mask, snorkel and flippers. The cost is about $100.

A short kicking motion or the slightest of the feet is more efficient than a series of heavy kicks which break the surface of the water and thus disrupt the forward drive. Flippers should never break the surface because start from the momentum but slanting out and feet kicking away the feet.

Ambition of Kenya to fill medical gap

TODAY two representatives of the East African Medical Commission are in Nairobi, Mr. J. T. Lema and Mr. A. K. Patel, to discuss the formation of a medical school in Kenya. They will go to Malindi to meet the British Medical Council representatives who will be in charge of the medical school. The Government of Kenya is anxious to fill the medical gap in the country and has decided to establish a medical school in Malindi. The school will be a full-time school and will be run on the British system. The Government has already spent a large sum of money on the school and expects to spend more in the future. The school will be a great boon to the people of Kenya and will help to reduce the number of patients who have to travel to other countries for medical treatment.

The exhibition is a great success and has attracted a large number of visitors. The exhibition is a must for all parents who want to keep their children safe from hidden dangers.

Bursary grants

With the extension of the medical training scheme, it is essential that the future students will need to go abroad for the higher education. The Government awards bursary grants to students who are going abroad for their higher education. The bursary grants are given to students who are going to study in the United Kingdom, the Commonwealth, or any other country. The bursary grants are given to students who are going to study in the United Kingdom, the Commonwealth, or any other country. The bursary grants are given to students who are going to study in the United Kingdom, the Commonwealth, or any other country.

Wide-ranging

East Africa's medical training scheme is wide-ranging, ambitious and costly. But these three factors are offset by three other factors: the better understanding of local conditions, the better medical staff, and the saving in the long run on the cost of the scheme. The scheme is a great success and has attracted a large number of students. The scheme is a must for all students who want to study medicine in East Africa. The Week in East Africa caused by lack of studies but added factors like the underdevelopment of the country was not an over-optimistic view. In some growing areas, for example, the Government has been conducting a research programme which has been conducted by and from Dar es Salaam, according to one of the reports from the Kenya's First of East Africa.

The anonymous member of the 'People's Front' plunged into a diatribe against centralisation, reaction, imperialism, etc. etc. in Kenya, attacking the 'revolutionary government of Uganda' with the apparent aim of sowing the seeds of revolution.

Despite that African Socialism was worthy of the label of socialism, it was not a Marxist-Leninist, as the people of Kenya have learned from the Soviet Socialist Party — a body which has so far failed to register and instead has been in a state of confusion and has been making out-of-step overtures to the extent of the people. Help is coming in the shape of food and clothing from the United States and money from Ottawa.

Kenya's situation was continuing to come to the attention of the National Executive Council meeting including a $100,000 gift from the Government and the people of Tanzania.

The Mass Marketing Board has come in for some criticism over the distribution of maize, but for chairman, Mr. S. C. Njiru, has pointed out that it is not the Government's job to distribute maize — it was left to the Government to decide when and where this should be distributed.

As the drought reports of death throughout the country have been increasing, the Government has been making out-of-step overtures to the extent of the people. Help is coming in the shape of food and clothing from the United States and money from Ottawa.

Internal strife in U.P.C. deplored by leaders

Standard Staff Reporter, Kampala.
The club incident occurred last weekend and followed a series of statements and counter-statements about affairs in the U.P.C. during the course of which it was alleged that some members of the party had spoken openly of the need for revolution in Uganda.
After the demonstrations had been cleared from the club, with the permission of police, the incident was deplored by the party's organizing secretary, Mr. Matthew Rukinika, who said it was not authorized by the party headquarters, which would not tolerate any terrorism of people.
In a speech in Parliament, Mr. J. W. Kiwanuka, the Government's Chief Whip, criticized those who took part in the incident and said that the Constitution must be respected.
A few days later there was a fight in the U.P.C. headquarters between two rival parties of youths, one of which claimed that it was the party's headquarters. The fighting caused some damage to the office furniture and had to be stopped by police.
Rukinika and co-organizer, Mr. Mwangi, said that some U.P.C. men were threatening to attack other members of the party who were pro-African. The Prime Minister said that there was no party split and that the party was united.
Uganda Parliament approved a motion to support the U.P.C. and to urge the party to return to its normal activities. The motion was passed by a vote of 210 to 100.
According to the Finance Minister, the National Park safari lodges are to be exempted from the measure. Critics of the measure said it would hurt the industry.
People in Uganda have been asked to ensure that they have been vaccinated against smallpox. It is estimated that 90 per cent of the population have been vaccinated against smallpox. The Minister said that the vaccination campaign would be completed in a few weeks.

BEDFORD LEADS IN DIESEL ENGINE DESIGN

End-to-end waterflow design solves all diesel gasket problems

High-speed motorway work and heavy duty operation imposes extra stress on the gas seal of modern diesel. End-to-end waterflow design solves this by eliminating all waterways between cylinder block and head. Instead, the cooling water passes from Block to head through two special ports at the rear of the engine, outside the gasket area. Now the cylinder head gasket has only one function: to serve as a gas seal to the cylinder bores. This means that gas seals are absolutely positive; gas-to-water blow-by is impossible.

Jazy injury causes race cancellation

KENYA Amateur Athletics Association officials today gave the explanation of reports in the Press that the governing body had written to British Athletics that the Kenya and British titles of Kenya had been taken over. It was stated that the explanation had been given to British Athletics, and that the Kenya titles had been taken over by the Kenya Amateur Athletics Association.

The officials admitted, however, that their delay in releasing the news was partly responsible for the explanation of the meeting arranged for September 27 and 28. But said that Jazy, France's crack middle and long distance runner, had retired himself in a 10,000 metres race in Stuttgart, Germany, and therefore the meeting had to be held.

RE MINISTERS VOTED OUT

Shock results in Tanzania election

Standard Staff Reporter
Dar es Salaam

SEVEN LEVEL, cashiers after polling on Tuesday in 73 constituencies continued to report no more results of phase one of Tanzania's general election were announced yesterday.

Six of the Ministers, seven Junior Ministers and a number of M.P.s have failed to secure seats in the new Parliament, which meets for the first time on October 12.

The junior Minister for Home Affairs, Mr. M. S. Hadda, was beaten by 21,800 majority. His opponent, Mr. E. C. S. Hadda, polled 21,800 votes against his 2,555 at Kondea South. Mr. Hadda stood at Kondea in the last general election.

The junior Minister in the President's Office, Mr. E. A. Kibwaga, was beaten at Same by a 7,191 majority. His opponent, Mr. C. V. Ngonja, gained 19,266 votes.

At Uvuwere the junior Minister for Agriculture, Forestry and Water Development, Mr. R. L. Babwala, was beaten by 14,165 majority.

The fourth Junior Minister to fall was Mr. E. B. M. Nargwa, who was beaten at Illovo by Mr. J. B. Bwambura, who had a 674 majority.

Dr. J. M. Mwakilima of Rukwa in the Ministry of Development and Mr. M. S. Hadda of Morogoro North with a 2,555 majority were the only M.P.s who were re-elected. At Mwanza the Minister for National Customs, Mr. G. V. M. Mwakilima, was defeated by a 14,165 majority over Mr. G. V. M. Mwakilima.

Three Junior Ministers had secured seats as candidates. They were Mr. A. M. Mwakilima of Morogoro North with a 2,555 majority, Mr. E. A. Kibwaga of Same with a 7,191 majority, and Mr. J. M. Mwakilima of Rukwa with a 14,165 majority.

The President was also asked to nominate an Executive Council. The Government has announced that it will be made up of 10 members.

Mr. Shastri willing to go to Russia

THE Indian Prime Minister, Mr. Shastri, yesterday formally accepted a Soviet invitation to meet President Ayub Khan of Pakistan on Soviet territory.

The Indian Embassy in Moscow said the acceptance was "in general terms" but international opinion and considerable groundwork would be needed before a meeting could take place.

In New Delhi, Mr. Shastri said all parties have agreed that the Prime Minister will visit the Soviet Union to meet President Ayub Khan. He said that the visit will be a historic one, as it will be the first time that the Prime Minister of India will go to Russia.

Nairobi crowds turn out to give big welcome to U.S. astronauts

NAIROBI turned out yesterday to give a big welcome to the two American astronauts, Lt. Col Gordon Cooper and Lt. Conrad Charles Conrad, when they arrived for a one-day visit in Kenya. After driving in a motorcade from the airport into the city they visited the City Hall and Parliament Buildings before staying for a one-hour stay at Kerkira Lodge where they met President Kenyatta.

Lt. Col Cooper and Lt. Conrad Conrad both piloted the aircraft which carried their families. It was the first time that they had visited Nairobi since they were launched by the space agency last year.

They were met at the airport by a large number of people, including the President, who had come to the airport to greet them.

Members win

THE Members of the Parliament have elected Dr. Nyerere as President of Tanzania. He was elected by a large majority over his opponents.

The election was held in a free and fair manner, and the results were accepted by all parties.

Dr. Nyerere's victory was a landmark in the history of Tanzania, as it marked the first time that a black African had become the President of a country in the region.

British policy attacked

INDIAN and Nigerian Ministers have criticized British policy over the Rhodesia-Pakistan conflict and Rhodesian independence.

The Indian Minister, Mr. G. V. Mwakilima, said that British policy was "unjust and unfair" and that it was "in the interest of the people of Rhodesia and Pakistan that they should be allowed to determine their own future."

New look for sweepstakes tickets

THE attractive new look of the Kenya Club sweepstakes at various vintage points throughout Nairobi is an improvement on the old system of sellers with a table and chair.

The manager of the Sales and Marketing Office said they preferred the new arrangement for selling tickets, as well as appear.

Mr. van der Meer, in his letter to the press dated on October 14, said that since 1964, the manager appeared to the club to help in order to provide a more professional touch which changed on the administrative side. Some of the improvements was undertaken with the end-of-the-month sweepstakes for sale.

In the picture a sweepstakes ticket is taken from the book in Kenyan Airways across the New Charter House.

Ban on dances lifted

Standard Staff Reporter
New in Nairobi.

The ban on dances in Kisumu which were stopped from July this year by the Regional Commissioner of Kisumu, Mr. E. E. Staines, has been lifted. The dances will have to be held on the 15th and 20th of each month.

The reason for stopping the dances was to ensure that people maintained their discipline of observing in the town.

However, a group of young girls under the leadership of the Kisumu U.M.W. chairman, Miss Elizabeth Makumbi, are to open a coffee farm at Kisumu, 15 miles from Kisumu.

Digging into Kenya's pre-colonial history

ALTHOUGH the history of Africa extends back 1,750,000 years, it is only in the last few years that written records have been used as part of the process of Government.

As a result, the documentary record of Kenya, Uganda and Tanzania is confined to events within recent decades, while millennia of early history and prehistory are left in comparative obscurity.

The study of Kenya's pre-colonial history has been progressing for many years, but never as intensely as at the present time. Political independence has heightened public interest in Kenya's African history, for it forms an important part of African culture and social tradition.

Hand in hand with the need to preserve and foster traditional African culture goes the necessity of writing the history of the people who live in the country today. Indirectly, it directly affects the growth of the nation, since the political and economic needs of Kenya today.

Various techniques are used in the study of early African history. Many bring the traditional methods of ethnography, chiefdom and migration, which have been carefully handed down from generation to generation of tribes and nations.

With the increasing effects of formal education, and with economic and social changes, the traditional methods of Kenya studies are giving way to new orders. Many of the old historians are dying without passing on their knowledge to their successors and historical information is being lost for ever.

Fortunately, signs are being taken in many countries, not least in Kenya, to preserve as many traditional histories as possible before it is too late.

Archives of oral traditions are being established at the University of Cambridge, and permanent records are being made in Kenya itself to carry out research in the field following in the footsteps of Dr. B. A. Ogot who has pioneered comparative oral history research into East Africa.

Written traditions can also be taken to back over a period of some 2,000 years.

In the present, the growth of written records must be preserved in their form.

The study of pre-colonial Kenya, like that of a number of other countries, requires a detailed knowledge of the structure of social organisation among the people for its reconstruction as a whole and attention to detail.

Traditional history is such a broad and complex study that the basic principles of research are still being established in the field. There is certainly a tremendous amount of work to be done.

The initiative for the back-to-Africa movement of African traditional history is generally given to the younger generation.

DR. BRIAN FAGAN was born in 1925 and read archaeology at Pomfret College, Cambridge. From 1952 to 1958 he was Lecturer of Prehistory at the National Museum of Zambia, Livingstone, Zambia. During that time he carried out large-scale research into the early history of Zambia, which gained him a Doctorate of Philosophy from Cambridge University. He is now Director of the Stone Age Project attached to the British Institute of History and Archaeology in East Africa, Nairobi, and is a Senior Research Associate of Kyrennos University, U.S.A.

From African Uniriplines and local people who have the advantage of living in the country in the ancient, where history they are studying.

Visible signs can be carried out by ancient history studies as well as pre-colonial. For the more popular which are needed the better suggested that they are on the whole, and the knowledge of oral or written records to reconstruct the events and the archaeological evidence to reconstruct the events.

It is possible that they were scientific disciplines since the First World War.

The archaeological study of today can be thought of as a discipline which is based on the study of the past, and is based on the study of the past, and is based on the study of the past.

Similar points have been found in Uganda, Tanzania, Rwanda, Burundi, the Congo, and in the Sudan, and in South Africa.

We have made a study of the characteristic features of the pre-colonial societies, and it is possible that they were.

During the Second World War the Leakeys and the late Archbishop Owen collected ancient pottery from a number of localities in the Kenyan region in Central Kenya.

This pottery is quite unlike any modern Kenyan vessels, for it bears marks of well-chambered lines and many pot-holes. A thin, brown, shaly slip is on the surface.

Similar pots have been found in Uganda, Tanzania, Rwanda, Burundi, the Congo, and in the Sudan, and in South Africa.

Research into Africa's pre-colonial history involves a study of the archaeological remains, as well as the oral traditions of the people. This includes the study of the early history of the continent, and the study of the early history of the continent.

First overseas council member

IN Nairobi we tend to take the Donorway Maile Theatre rather for granted and miss that the "D.M." has made any sort of impact outside of Kenya comes as rather a surprise. It is a pleasant surprise.

Last week I mentioned how the theatre had earned space in a provincial Scottish paper, and incidentally the four artists whom I interviewed last week all told me glowing tales of the theatre's fame in Britain.

Now, once again, it seems to have made its mark abroad. The "D.M." has just become the first theatre outside Britain to be accepted into the Council of Repertory Theatres—a quite a privilege for a theatre far away from the traditional beaten track and rather an unusual tribute to its reputation.

COBET (as it has been known for 11 years) is one of those bodies which does not intrude very much upon the public eye, but its general policy is valuable to theatre managers in their theatrical endeavours.

It provides them with a pool of information and opinions about what is going on in the theatre, and on the progress and problems of repertory theatre in particular.

Kenneth Mason, who is now on three months' leave, will be representing Nairobi for the first time at C.O.R.T.'s annual meeting next month and should be able to bring back some interesting material to provide food for thought in Nairobi.

Mr. Mason was last heard of at the Edinburgh Festival, where the theatrical directors and the theatrical directors took the form of the biggest critical

Don't think Handy Angle can work miracles

There's nothing magic about Handy Angle. Factories don't just suddenly run on their own. Handy Angle doesn't do that either. It just looks that way.

Handy Angle sheeling units and angle sections, for instance, are made from perfectly normal high-grade cold-rolled mild steel. It's true the spec is very rigid and the tolerances closer than British Standards call for, but that's all.

The slots and holes are not put in with a weld. They're just punched out, rather carefully, to within a pitch accuracy of .001 of an inch.

And when it comes to building things with Handy Angle—sheeling, racking, multi-deck storage areas—even the fact that they're so easy to make has nothing to do with it.

It's just the way we make it. And all the ancillaries we've laid on. Free survey and advisory service. The designing and assembling. Things like that.

So, if you think it's miracles, and we don't suppose you do, you might be interested in Handy Angle. It performs its function honestly and well. It, genuinely, solves practically any storage problem, together with many other besides. It is a lot less expensive than many alternative methods. And it keeps its promise.

These days, maybe that's a miracle?

DRESSING UP FOR THE SHOW

There is a certain excitement about some of the costumes and elaborate accessories in European, fashion shows which have arrived in Nairobi shops in time for Show week.

The thrills in clothes from the collections just need a few props to complete the picture of the elegance of the period: long cigarette-holder, ostrich feather fan and a shade of silver hair.

Flowing fabrics, lots of pinks, silky satins and plenty of evening gowns are fashion pointers that give the collections an excitingly soft personality.

The costume line is largely pink, white and black dress with highlights of soft pastels. This sort of dress is available in ready-made, and there are models which give enchanting glimpses of pink taffeta and of white tulle through black lace or tulle.

If the "little black" look at Show week must kill, then there would be the numbers from the 1950s. There is a major black special from this fashion show for every hour of the day, and several of them for the party season ahead. All you need are a few pearls.

The mark ultra-high fashion has been required in this country however, more during Show week, and in a short-sleeved evening gown or three-time a year, but in the present party East African prices.

For better for the East African way of life are numbers which will do duty for the theatre or a dinner and dancing night.

For evening after the Show when it is time to leave the bustle and bustle of the daily life, a short dress in black, white or a soft shade of pink, with an up-to-the-neck eye-catching collar, for a black, elegant, sleek, growing a number which promises both confidence and that extra something.

Some of the most beautiful clothes of all the Nairobi Show visitors are those which can be taken right through a long day frantically round the shops and then spend up with pearls in a black or a white, and attractive outfit as a three-piece suit.

These are the "Chanel" jackets in which women will have a skirt, teamed with a long, light-colored dress with high, ruffled neckline.

This smart Show week dress is in wearable Courtelle jersey, but is very light. It has a matching skirt which can be worn on the head or around the shoulders and comes in black and white or black and pink. It would spend an afternoon at the Show appropriately, with an early evening date.

National dish should have wide appeal

THE winning recipe in the competition for a national dish is one which should be popular all over Kenya since it is a mixture of easily available ingredients. This dish, rice, is a relation of rice and a traditional Kenyan food which was mentioned as a possible winner in this paper where the competition was announced.

Parade, prepared a mix of maize, butter and salt, one combined to form the vegetable part of this dish, which is a mixture of meat, eggs, and a little of other things.

From today, new radiance for your make-up—lasting beauty for your skin!

Endocil prevents Day-care

NEW UNDER MAKE UP MOISTURISING TREATMENT

Even everyday make-up looks better. Endocil prevents Day-care in a rich, smooth, long-lasting, delicately scented, moisture-rich cream which contains all types of skin-soothing and moisture-rich ingredients to soothe your face and neck before you make up and new moisture vanishes, leaving an invisible soft protective film.

Now when you put on your make-up—what a difference! Make-up goes on more smoothly, looks more even and lasts longer. And it's so wonderful you'll wonder the very first day you use Day-care. But this is only the beginning!

Skin stays young! Unlike ordinary moisturizers, Day-care does far more than just improve your make-up. It's a moisturizing treatment which improves your skin naturally. The Endocil ingredient in Day-care penetrates deep into your skin, works day by day, gently exfoliating your skin cells, coaxing them to go on producing the natural moisture that compensates for every age and type need. Beauty experts know that it is this natural moisture and the skin that can keep your skin young, soft and smooth.

These then, are the wonderful beauty benefits that you can have every day!

of American make assist the financing of Kenya's Development Plan and does not mean that foreign exchange need for the plan has to be diverted from other sources.

This was emphasized yesterday in a statement by a Government spokesman in reply to a question by the Assistant Minister for Finance, Mr. Okello-Obongo, to the United Kenya Club.

Referring to Mr. Okello-Obongo's criticism of United States make imports the spokesman said the United States plan is not a diversion of resources from other sources but a means of obtaining the necessary foreign exchange which would otherwise have been used in financing the Development Plan. The statement continues:

SENT UNDER TWO SCHEMES

"U.S. make is sent to Kenya under two schemes: in the first it is provided free for famine relief for rationed to people who have no money and no food. Under this programme $1,000,000 is being given free."

The second scheme is designed to supply make to people who can afford to buy it, and to assist the financing of the Development Plan. This make is provided on a long-term basis repayable over 20 years at two and a half per cent interest. The Government is prepared to sell the make for cash and to use the proceeds immediately to finance projects in the Development Plan.

SOLDIERS RETURNED BY CONGO

"EXAGGERATED"

Mr. Okello-Obongo's allegations that the food shortage had been exaggerated in order to secure additional U.S. assistance, Kenya is in a desperate and dire straits, and he will take any opportunity to secure additional U.S. assistance for Kenya.

The plan for cereal production in Kenya is designed to ensure that the country is self-sufficient in cereals. The Government has received a grant from the United States Government for the purpose of purchasing additional U.S. assistance.

Just because the Renault Roho looks odd don't feel sorry for it

This car's made for driving not for looking at

Some people think the Roho looks odd. Let them. We know it's no beauty. And just because it's a plain Jane, it has to compensate. It has to do things other family cars can't. And economically, at that. Like accommodating a family of 5 picnickers, their hamper, the dog, fishing, rodge blankets, beach balls, with room to enter and exit in comfort through any of the 5 (yes, five) doors.

For proof of what the ROHO will do for you, call at our Showrooms.

Like negotiating un-made roads as though it were on a highway

Like parking effortlessly in spaces most drivers have to pass by

As for comfort and performance: it. Feels marvelous. Feels tough. Is tough.

And if anyone tells you it looks odd return him that the Roho is made for driving not for looking at.

'Collapse' of P.T. in primary schools

SINCE the traditional change of the 1952 Primary Education Syllabus by the Physical Education in the 1955) although students at the colleges and the middle class have been very keen and very trained in physical education, the change in the syllabus has brought about a collapse in the physical education in the primary schools.

The collapse of physical education in the primary schools is due to the fact that the syllabus is too theoretical and does not take into account the practical aspects of the subject. K. K. going for double at Jamhuri Park

TARGET OF 200,000 VISITORS

By Peter Macdonald

ENTHUSIASM, efficiency and goodwill—these are the three main ingredients for a successful show, according to the recipe suggested by this year's Show Chairman, K. K. Jambo, who is going to meet plenty of all three if he is going to reach his proposed target of 200,000 visitors—nearly double last year's figure—at next week's Nairobi Show.

Enthusiasm—while the statistics of entries show little overall change compared with last year, the amount of Jamhuri Park lately suggests that there is a fair amount of that ingredient.

"We have found it in the exhibitors, in the voluntary effort that has gone into the Show and in the terrific Government support we have taken part in the Show but there is also the keen interest taken by individual Government officers in this and other shows."

Then, of course, there is the unknown factor—the general public. Will they come to the Show? There is an extra day this year as the Show starts on Tuesday instead of Wednesday, though the official opening ceremony will be on Wednesday as in the past.

EXTRA DAY TO DRAW CROWDS

One reason for the extra day is to try to spread the crowds out and avoid the free-for-all that can occur on a crowded Saturday. Mr. Jambo points to a particular appeal this year to employers, including the Government, to give their employees time off—a half-day, or even a whole day if possible—on the day of the Show. But he adds that the time off might not be Saturday morning. "We cannot cope if the bulk of the people are all in town on Saturday."

He also asked for a little more enthusiasm from Nairobi residents who tend to be just that little bit apathetic about this annual event on their doorstep. "Well," they say, "we haven't been for a few years but it must be the same old Show."

"This is a little disappointing for the enthusiasts of those who have not been to the Show, but it is not the same old Show, even if the general pattern is, in fact, much as before."

As Mr. Jambo pointed out, the Show is growing every year—there is much that is new in the Trade Area and the more varied selection of areas events is due.

No doubt the enthusiasm—so abundant—this is a most difficult one to put down as generally the public only get a faint idea of the efficiency which is put into the Show. Contacting the staff of Jamhuri Park, one is struck by the great energy and business-like attitude of the staff and the determination to give the best service possible to the exhibitors.

Mr. Jambo pointed the weak being done by the team of 300 people who are working on the Show being able to get the Show, the Trade Area and the more varied selection of areas events is due.

ENTRIES UP IN MANY CLASSES

This aerial picture of the Jamhuri Park Show-ground was taken by a special 111 photographer specially for this supplement. It gives striking evidence of the efforts of the Agricultural Society of Kenya to make the most of the show-ground while preserving the trees in the area.

The new terraced walkways, which should reduce delays at peak periods, is in the foreground.

IN OTHER PAGES

These trees will be replanted and watered in the future.

The idea will not be to cut down the trees, but to preserve them and to plant new ones.

ACTION NEEDED TO COUNTER DROUGHT AND RISING COSTS

By J. B. POLLARD, President of the Kenya National Farmers' Union

THE farmers of Kenya are to be congratulated on exhibiting forward exhibitors of such high quality in one of the most difficult farming years since the war.

It is not easy for those not engaged in farming to appreciate the difficulty and worry of keeping stock alive, let alone in these conditions, in a year like this.

Of course we have all seen the country before, but I certainly remember it a year ago in 1961 when it was virtually impossible to bring grazing in any part of the country, except in a very small area.

The immediate and long-term need to the farmer and the country of this disaster is to increase the productivity of the land which is available to him.

One example of this is the shortage of manure of the current year, which is a direct result of the drought.

The immediate and long-term need to the farmer and the country of this disaster is to increase the productivity of the land which is available to him.

Thrilling display of confidence

By ROBERT WILSON, President of the Agricultural Society of Kenya

AS President of the Agricultural Society of Kenya, I am delighted that you have given me the opportunity of contributing a message to your Nairobi Show Supplement.

My conviction is that you are most grateful to me for issuing this special supplement once again for it will ensure that everybody in Kenya may be able to see details in all classes of the many attractions which will be on display throughout the five days of our Show this year.

This is our 111th Nairobi Show since the Agricultural Society of Kenya became a Republic and it is a privilege to be entrusted with the task of being chosen to be in charge of the Show.

THROUGH THIS MAN'S HANDS PASS 56 MILLION SHILLINGS A YEAR!

Of course, not all of this fifty-six million shillings is in hard cash. It could be in the form of cheques, money orders or bankers' drafts. And don't think that the money that is being paid into the bank will remain dormant in some strong, underground safe. Much of it will see the light of day again as investments in the nation's roads, agriculture, building projects, business and various other schemes. In fact, this cash is not just handling money. It is to look in a chain of people at National and Grindlays Bank Limited who, at the same time as they are providing all the security of a modern bank, are steadily putting money to work for the good of the community as a whole.

New ideas will help both exhibitors and visitors

ERIC JESSOP, Chairman of the Nairobi Show and Nairobi District, describes how the A.S.K. is making the most of the opportunities at Jamhuri Park to help exhibitors and the crowds who will visit the Show

It is truly wonderful to see the continual growth of Nairobi's agricultural shows each year. The encouraging part is that these would seem to be just sleeping the enthusiasm and the expansion. With only a little encouragement, I can see no reason why the Nairobi Show should not become the largest in Africa.

The Agricultural Society of Kenya, with this in mind, has taken the wise course of establishing a new Committee to be known as the Jamhuri Park, Exhibiting Committee and which, being seated in one of our most convenient areas, is to ensure convenience for all parties that may be required to be in the park for any reason. With careful manipulation it can be seen that a considerable number of exhibitors which we have had in the past will not only look after the interests of the large group of exhibitors but will also help exhibitors.

For several years the committee have studied the requirements of exhibitors and visitors and by road to the main entrance of access and parking. It has been decided to hold the Jamhuri Exhibition of the park and, supporting the problem, built another road.

Full technical assistance has been had to be taken to assist in the improvement of the year the public will see a great improvement. The final solution to this problem will be when a further road can be laid through the forest to the Langata Road. Another source of irritation to the public was the absence of parking, through the pay gates.

A major move has now been made whereby the entrance have virtually been closed and re-arranged into long gate of modern construction. While this has the results will be well worth the effort in the long run. The new gate will be well worth the effort in the long run. The new gate will be well worth the effort in the long run.

Due to the establishment of this main gate, a new area of ground had been made available by the existing of the perimeter fence. This space has allowed for new exhibition sites in the showground, and naturally has been quickly taken up by local exhibitors and various government departments and the Nairobi Show.

When it will take at least a year for the gardens in the area to become established and for the good visitors to be able to see their final plans, an area visitors will be pleased to see that the improvements as the pavilion are certain to be satisfactory.

More than have ever been seen before. Of course the provision of amusement for the crowds is all important. We have this year been very fortunate in that an excellent building has been obtained by the East African Power and Lighting Co., which needs just to be cleaned a perfect restaurant and being so well placed in the showground, will serve a boon to the public.

In addition to this restaurant another in open air will be where a quick snack can be had. For the first time, it will be possible to sit in the sun and sip your favourite drink while watching the events in the arena.

Even what I have said I think it is too short to do justice to the past 12 months. The years cannot fail to make the Nairobi Show worthy of being accepted as Kenya's international agricultural show and trade fair.

One of the most important aspects of a Show such as that of Jamhuri Park is that of Dairy. For years it has been realized that this section was somewhat inadequate but we are very happy that funds were available to erect a large pavilion which will meet the order for the present requirements and allow for better conditions than have ever been seen before.

The Agricultural Society has made an admirable effort to make things easier for the crowds. A number of stalls will be in the area to speed up the flow of traffic through the arena. Multiple turnstiles at the main gate (see photo above left).

The secretary of the A.S.K., Miss Violet Kline, is pictured above testing one of the new turnstiles. The girl testing him was the daughter of his secretary, Miss Elizabeth Muthoni.

All Kenyans should support the A.S.K.

By JAMES C. H. GOOD
Assistant Director for Agriculture

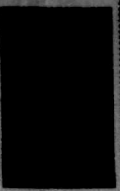

I AM making a special appeal to the political leaders of our country and all the African farmers, large and small (sic) in this country, to become members of the Agricultural Society of Kenya.

This is so because the agricultural sector is the basic agricultural sector in this country. An organization such as this one must have many members to bring it into the life of the country. In the past the organization has been run by European farmers, many of whom have already left the country and some of whom are still leaving.

The organization, therefore, is being dominated by its interests in the "white" farmer, in an agricultural economy which is being dominated by its interests in the "white" farmer. It is bound to disregard and eventually fail to help the African farmer.

You'll notice the photo in the top left corner of this page, showing a group of African farmers standing in front of a tractor. This is what we are trying to do in this country. We are trying to help the African farmer, not just the European farmer.

It is, in fact, a heavy burden to all who joined the A.S.K. in 1963. It is a heavy burden to all who joined the A.S.K. in 1963.

Dr. GOOD

It will be a sad day when the African farmer is no longer a member of the A.S.K. It will be a sad day when the African farmer is no longer a member of the A.S.K.

In conclusion, I am appealing to all African farmers, large and small, to join the A.S.K. It is the only way to help the African farmer, not just the European farmer.

It is, in fact, a heavy burden to all who joined the A.S.K. in 1963. It is a heavy burden to all who joined the A.S.K. in 1963.

KENYA'S FUTURE IS OUR OWN HANDS

By Bruce McKenzie

The Minister for Agriculture says Kenya can overcome the difficulties of the past and build a better future for itself and other agricultural production.

OUR run of favourable weather and good fortune in the harvest of all our staple crops has led to a bumper crop this year. The agricultural output has been largely due to the success of the Government's policy of increasing production, which has been achieved by the Government's policy of increasing production, which has been achieved by the Government's policy of increasing production...

A number of them will be included in our various schemes for the development of the country. The Government's policy of increasing production, which has been achieved by the Government's policy of increasing production...

It is intended to introduce a programme of extension, research and training in the agricultural sector. The Government's policy of increasing production, which has been achieved by the Government's policy of increasing production...

Development Commission... This will be a major step towards the development of the country.

The Government's policy of increasing production, which has been achieved by the Government's policy of increasing production...

K.Y.D.A. PRAISED

The Kenya Tea Development Authority has a fine established and flourishing body in the tea industry. The work of the K.Y.D.A. will be featured at the Show and I am certain that everyone with the interest of Kenya at heart will be stimulated and inspired by the fine work of this relatively small organization.

NEW FRUIT FIRM

The Corporation, in conjunction with a major Australian fruit processing and marketing company, has a substantial interest in Kenya Fruit Processors. This new firm will extract juice from passion fruit grown in the Kericho, Boma and Kisumu areas. The juice will ultimately be sterilized and shipped to the rapidly expanding European market.

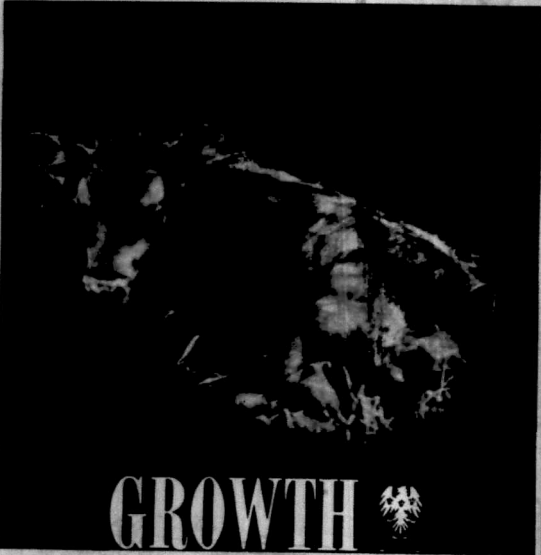

The K.Y.D.A. is now well into its Second Plan, which will result in the planting of an additional 1,000 acres. The first plan was implemented successfully, and the Government and the Corporation are confident that the second plan will be equally successful.

A Girama girl cleaning cotton. Mr. McKenzie describes the present state of the cotton industry in Kenya as "temporarily low". A vigorous expansion programme is underway.

GROWTH

Milk and meat for a growing nation's needs. In their extensive dairy and ranching industries the peoples of East Africa have a vital source of protein nourishment for a vigorous people. There is, too, a valuable export potential in dairy products, meat and leather. But to fulfil its vital role, the industry must continue to grow with the country. Barclays have played a part in the development of these twin industries and are ready to assist in essential expansion in the years ahead.

The Ministry for Lands and Settlement, examines the work and achievements of the Ministry, with particular reference to the role of the Departments of Settlement, Surveys, Lands, Town Planning and Land Consolidation.

departments that help to make the most of Kenya's land

The Ministry of Lands and Settlement continues to be one of the leading Government agencies in executing the task with which it is entrusted. Briefly, here is an account of what has been done during the past year.

Department of Settlement

The first one million-acre programme which began in 1961 to facilitate orderly transfer of land ownership from the Africans is almost completed. This exercise has been the most important of the work of the department since it was undertaken.

Department of Surveys

Work has been done in the past year which has resulted in a steady increase in the number of sections registered since 1961. In fact, with an annual turnover of 450,000.

Department of Lands

Looking at settlement as a whole, it is clear that the Government is generally engaged in a steady process of settlement and the number of sections registered is increasing. This is due to the fact that the Government is now in a position to offer land to the public in a more systematic way.

RAPS PRODUCED

The Department of Surveys, working closely with the Department of Settlement, has been undertaking the registration of sections in the settlement areas. Some 10,000 sections have been registered since 1961. This is a significant achievement, particularly in view of the fact that the Department of Surveys has been able to register sections in a more systematic way than in the past.

NEW PROGRESS

The progress made in the past year has been significant. The Department of Settlement has been able to register sections in a more systematic way than in the past. This is due to the fact that the Government is now in a position to offer land to the public in a more systematic way.

REVIEW OF TRADE

COORDING to the All-Japan Export Promotion Association, Japan imported nearly a thousand tons of green, sprayed coffee beans from East Africa in 1948. The nation's people enjoyed the aromatic taste of a tropical coffee born out of East Africa. The figure in monetary payment for the import is an expression of an impetus to order to maintain a healthy commercial relationship to gain the well-being to the Allied nations, which until not too long ago was struggling to free itself from such a paralytic Japan learned its lesson the hard way and now realizes the fastest and only fair solution is through technical and financial aid.

HONDA MAY REVOLUTIONISE LIGHT AIRCRAFT INDUSTRY

JAPAN TODAY has only a few more than 1,200 commercial and private light aircraft. But in ten years time the total is expected to equal the nation's wartime strength of 20,000. The key to the skies is a light aircraft engine which the Japanese Honda Motor Company says is just on the market this year.

Of low cost but high performance, this engine is easily adaptable to any two- or four-cylinder air frame designed as a Honda airplane. It will bring the cost of flying to within the range of sailing.

Honda powered aircraft, in fact, in the opinion of aeronautical engineers, have caused "bump" in the air. The firm on the roads with his T-1000 motor.

The possibility of the average family taking to the air at least a dash-board aircraft at the weekend, to be used for short hops to be made in ten minutes.

Observers have argued that it was Honda which swept the world with its low-cost, high-performance motor-cars and which has established all European firms by competing in the world's Grand Prix circuit.

The company has also announced that it has begun in Japan's quest for recognition as a world leader in high-performance cars by developing a Formula 1 car to compete on the world's Grand Prix circuit.

With the crown of Japan's motor industry, it is looking increasingly apparent. At present, the company is enjoying a boom. Profits after tax for the six months ending November 30, 1963, amounted to ¥1,660,000,000, a record of ¥1,660,000,000.

For nearly a year, Honda's sales have been on a steady upward trend. The company has established a base in Africa, Australia, Argentina, Brazil, Canada, India, Italy, Japan, Korea, Mexico, New Zealand, Norway, Sweden, Switzerland, Taiwan, Thailand, the United States, and Venezuela. It is still the possibility of a good market in Africa, particularly in Kenya, Nigeria, and South Africa.

On production at home, the company is producing 40,000 cars a year, rising to 100,000 in 1965. The increase in production in the world this year is expected to be 10 per cent over the 1963 figure.

In March this year, Honda announced that it had produced in excess of 100,000 units. The company has also announced that it has accepted a new production order.

In April last year, the company produced 1,000,000 units. The company has also announced that it has accepted a new production order.

For training of personnel, the company employs 3,000 students each year on a three-year course. Twenty of these are from overseas and it is hoped to increase the production before long.

The factory ground at Nagoya covers 24,000,000 sq. ft. and is completely self-contained. The main car manufacturing plant is completely enclosed with road and rail links to the city.

And so it can be seen that the Honda Motor Co. is going in for it. It has its aims and is going to achieve them. It is going to be a leader in the world's electronics industry.

Plans for record span over Akashi

JAPANESE engineers, who in recent years have built the longest bridge spans in history, are now planning a bridge which they say will have a longer main span in the world. More than three miles long, the proposed Akashi Kaikyo Bridge, linking the island of Honshu, Japan, with the mainland, will have a main span of 2,170 feet (661 metres).

Ken top riders will thrill the crowds

By BOB CURRITT

WHAT has the horse world to offer the visitor in this year's Kenyan Show Jumping competition? The answer is that the show will definitely feature the finest riders and horses in the country. It is the "big" show of the year, and the crowds which will flock to it are expected to be the largest ever seen in this country.

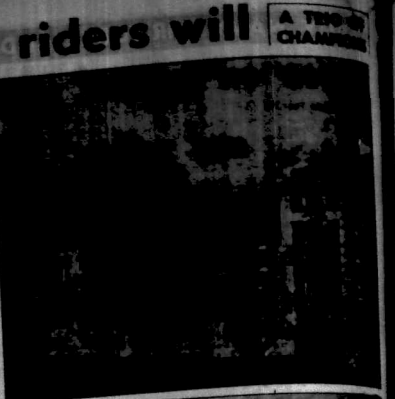

Most of the public eye will be the show-jumpers, with 14 events during the day-time and special competitions at during the floodlight sessions. All the horses and ponies at the Show have had to prove their quality during the last year, as the Show Jumping Association of Kenya, which organizes all facets of show-jumping, lays down severe standards which must be met before a horse can compete at the highest show of the year.

FOUR from these entered certain have been selected for the show-jumpers in the first of a series of events. The first of these will be held on the Show, Saturday, at 1.30 p.m. The other three will be held on the 2nd and 3rd days of the Show. The first of these is the Senior class, which is open to all horses and ponies of 16 years of age and over. The winner of this class will be the Senior Champion. The other three classes are the Junior, Amateur and Novice classes. The winner of each of these classes will be the Junior, Amateur and Novice champions respectively. The Senior class is the most important of the four, and the winner of this class will be the Senior Champion. The other three classes are the Junior, Amateur and Novice classes. HEALTHIER ATMOSPHERE IN COFFEE MARKETS

By LESLEY CLAY, publicity officer of the Coffee Board of Kenya

As the whole coffee world awaits the results of the deliberations of the meeting of the International Coffee Council now in session in London, it is satisfactory to report that Kenya's own Nairobi market has remained calm and well served.

The coffee prices which have been ruling since the beginning of the year have been steady and well supported. The coffee market in Nairobi has been well served by the coffee exporters who have been able to supply the market with coffee of the highest quality. Dozen foreign countries represented at Show

By A STAFF REPORTER

FLAGS from 12 nations fluttered above the Jamhuri Park showground will symbolize the international favour of this year's Nairobi Show. Overseas participation will reach a new high level and will point to even greater representation in years to come.

Ten nations, other than Kenya will be taking part this year. Five additional nations have already asked for space in 1953.

BIGGEST DISPLAY

Probably the most striking—and certainly the largest—will be the Japanese Traveling Exhibition which has already visited many corners of the world and which has taken more than 55,000 people more difficult and expensive.

One of the main highlights of the exhibition is the new exhibits of 3000 cars and 1500 motorcycles. One of the main highlights of the exhibition is the new exhibits of 3000 cars and 1500 motorcycles. Forest Department stand stresses...

VALUE OF TREES TO THE FARMER

THIS year, the Forest Department stand is shared with the Mines and Geology Departments, both being under the jurisdiction of the Ministry for Natural Resources and Wildlife.

The theme of the Forest Department's exhibit is 'Farm Forestry'. The aim is to emphasize the value of trees to the farmer and to prove the importance of wood in the rural economy, all with a view to encouraging appropriate tree planting in the different regions of Kenya.

A large map of the country will show the principal farming areas and these will be related to five specific suitable plantation farms. The aim is to emphasize the value of trees to the farmer and to prove the importance of wood in the rural economy, all with a view to encouraging appropriate tree planting in the different regions of Kenya.

BOSCH SPARK PLUGS

Back "Thermoseal" Spark Plugs mean perfect firing under all conditions, but when used in very cheap and inferior engines, they may not give the best results. This quality has now become a fact of life. For the same reason, it is best to buy a Bosch "Thermoseal" Spark Plug. Buy with Bosch - Arrive with Bosch.
