Against world interests AMERICA POLICISED Britain angers flag discrimination

THE Parliamentary Secretary to the British Ministry of Transport, Vice-Admiral John Hughes-Hallett, has accused the United States of acting in a way "entirely contrary to the interests of international shipping" by the introduction of flag discrimination.

He warned that it would be wrong for anyone to believe that Britain would never retaliate against such a tendency by the United States to restrict shipping to a country which was giving commercial practice.

Speaking of the United States flag discrimination, he said that the Government was not prepared to accept the policy of flag discrimination in the way in which it was being applied by the United States.

THE DIFFICULTY He said the difficulty in the way of Britain's flag discrimination was that it would be difficult to get an agreement with other national flag States.

DAUGHER Arming no part of Kanu's policy

—MR. KEANYA— A Seven-jailed for having firearms

European farmers continued to condemn the entire Kikuyu tribe as being responsible for the actions of the present Government of Kenya. Mr. Keanyia, warned at Eldburgton.

One farmer said he is going to remove all Kikuyu from his farms. They are not all bad, they are going to live together. The European should learn to respect the African and the African should learn to respect the European.

Let us respect one another because an independent Kenya will be for all citizens. If it doesn't do a wrong thing it does not mean all Europeans are bad. I ask the European farmers to help us in this way because if they do not there will not be peace but chaos.

Crowds of Kanu Youth Wing members encircled the place of grounds where the meeting was held and everybody was searched for weapons, including Freeman.

Mr. Sagini: Remember Kenya's debt to U.K.

STUDENTS leaving for Britain were advised by the Minister for Education, Mr. Sagini, to remember that Kenya is 'deeply indebted to the British Government for the financial aid which permits us to maintain our educational and other services'.

In a farewell speech yesterday at students before they left for Britain he urged them to be courteous and considerate during their stay. He said he hoped they should point a picture of their country.

Colour bar the remaining black mark against U.S.

— MR. NGALA

MR. NGALA, Kenya's Minister of State for Constitutional Affairs and Administration, said a far-reaching programme to "black mark" against the United States should be based on the fact that the country has been discriminated against in its proper social and economic relations with the United States," he said.

Mr. Ngala was addressed about 20 representatives of the United States, including businessmen and educational workers. He said the United States was a "super power" and the United States was a "super power" and the United States was a "super power".

Mr. Ngala said Kenya was committed to the principle of non-alignment and that the country was determined to improve its economic condition and to mount an all-out attack on its "black mark" programme.

It would be fighting for "democratic principles," he said. He believed in the need for self-expression without any form of worship and freedom of choice.

Emphasizing his opposition to any form of segregation, Mr. Ngala said the question of racial colour could never be solved by such a means.

The South African type of apartheid was a "black mark" against the United States.

CONSTABULARY BOOTS TEST STADIUM

Students Staff Report.
More than 200 policemen from the Uganda Police Training School, assembled and stamped on the mats which have been built on Kibuli Hill Kampala, for the independence ceremony next month.

They were testing the soundness of the structure, which has been built from de-laid uniforms and will be dismantled and sent elsewhere after independence. As the men moved from section to section of the stadia, which will accommodate an estimated 4,000 people, tests were carried out to see if there was any sign of strain. Further tests are to be carried out after the ceremony is officially accepted by the Government.

The stadia have been built in 12 weeks and a total staff of about 200.

Embargo on loans for Kivu and Machakos

A CELEBRATION from the Mid-Kenya Union yesterday celebrated the Regional Revenue Commission's decision to suspend the levy on the proceeds of the Government Road Fund.

The decision was taken at the Tana, Lamu, Malindi, Mombasa and Kisumu region. The decision included the Mid-Kenya in one region. The decision was a relief to the region, which had been suffering from the levy since the start of the year.

The decision was taken by the Mid-Kenya Union yesterday. The decision was a relief to the region, which had been suffering from the levy since the start of the year.

The Kudu linkages also recommended that the Coast boundary should be extended to include three districts of the Northern Province—Mandera, Wajir and Garissa.

They said the people in the three areas were predominantly Muslim and had strong business links with the Coast Province through the supply of beef to the Coast.

The Coast Strip should in no way be given any special status or treatment. It should be integrated with the Coast Region and treated as such.

A delegation from the Tana and Lamu African United Province of the new regions is to be formed, which would be called the North-East Region and would comprise Tana River, Lamu and the whole of the Northern Province.

Representatives from the Mombasa Uongwa Association and other people were also in origin and wanted to be included in an area in Central Nyanza with the coast. They did not want to be grouped in a region with the Abaluhya, who has always been the enemies of the Uongwa.

STUDENTS' VIEW OF THE TEACHERS' STRIKE

Letters to the Editor

The Government would do well to reflect on the views of the students in Kenya, I think, who are not only the backbone of the country but also the future of the country.

Minister and Parliamentary Secretary for Education, Mr. J. W. O. OTTINO, Nairobi, Sept. 14, 1962.

I have read with interest the article in the Standard on the 11th of September, which deals with the views of the students on the teachers' strike. It is a very interesting article and one which I think would be of great value to the Government and to the public.

Let me take over the pen of the student who writes in the article and say that the teachers' strike is a very serious matter and one which should be dealt with as a matter of urgency.

DEMAND FOR SODA ASH IS GROWING

WORLD industrial expansion is creating a growing demand for soda ash of which Kenya has tremendous stocks. Field Marshal Viscount Mountbatten was told at Magadi that the production of the mineral was ahead of the rising standard of living of people throughout the world. There was a "boom" future in the value of the commodity, experts predict.

LITTLE IMPACT

It added $2,000,000 to Kenya's revenue from exports in which it ranked as the sixth in value and fourth in weight. In addition the country extracted between 20,000 and 25,000 tons of salt from the lake each year, all of which was consumed in the East African territories.

The company could speed up its production to 200,000 tons.

Antao breaks world record in great run

By Charles Denney
I OONS after other suggestions of the 1959 Commonwealth Games Trials at Kulu, have faded from memory athletics enthusiasts will recall Seraphino Antao's fantastic flourish. He recorded what must be his finest athletic achievement and judged by the highest standards it was a performance of exceptional brilliance.

Making a perfect getaway from his starting blocks Seraphino moved, with apparent effortless ease—his rivals seeming to wobble by comparison. Fifteen yards clear of his nearest rival he breathed the tape in a scintillating 20.5 sec.—the average of three sprints—to carry four-tenths of a second off the 22.0s. world record (round a curve) of 20.5 sec. set by Peter Radford of Britain in 1950.

Second man in James Gika of Nyansa returned a time of 21.5 sec. Whether Antao's magnificent performance will be accepted as a world record by the international body is however open to question for Antao was wind-assisted over the last 90 yards or so to the extent of an estimated 10 feet per second.

But so easily was Antao running that he left every competitor behind him. That even still air he could have returned record time and not been pushed into even has pulled out a little extra.

Mombasa in great cup come-back

MOMBASA staged a magnificent come-back to force a draw with Nairobi in the semi-final of the Kenyan Cup at Northlands on Saturday. The Coast team, who were down by two goals in the first half, were inspired by a clever Jimmy Mwangi to level the score in the second half and made it 3-3 with only ten minutes to go.

Headcoach, Kenneth Ngugi, said: "I am very pleased with the team's performance. They showed great spirit and determination. The team deserves credit for their comeback."

JUVENUS TOP THE LEAGUE

The only top Double League football matches in Nairobi at the weekend were the top of the table with a 4-0 home against Impala. The game was a real test of the team's strength and the lead in both divisions was now 10 goals.

IT'S THIRD TIME LUCKY...

TWICE runners-up, Ministry of Works made sure of the honours when they scored two quick goals against East African Airways in the Anglo All Hockey Cup. E.A.A. were, however, unlucky when they failed to take the honours given them in the second half.

THRILLS IN GUAUARD

Camelians and Gordon Highlanders played an eight-goal thriller in the first round of the G.I. League. The game was a real test of the team's strength and the lead in both divisions was now 10 goals.
