OVERLORD OF LAND DEALS

THE long-awaited announcement of the chairman's appointment for Kenya's Central Land Board closes the process of investigations over the controversial advance.

One Mr Geoffrey Bourne has been named as chairman of the Central Land Board. Mr Bourne is a well-known figure in the Kenya scene. He has been a member of the Kenya Land Commission since its formation in 1959. He was also a member of the Kenya Land Commission's sub-committee on the land issue. He has been a member of the Kenya Land Commission's sub-committee on the land issue. He has been a member of the Kenya Land Commission's sub-committee on the land issue.

Key piece in the regional system

The weakness in the appointment is seen as the lack of knowledge of land legislation and his inexperience of farming. Although he is a member of the Kenya Land Commission, he has not been a member of the Kenya Land Commission's sub-committee on the land issue. He has been a member of the Kenya Land Commission's sub-committee on the land issue.

It is believed that the Board will be a key piece in the regional system. The Board will be a key piece in the regional system. The Board will be a key piece in the regional system. The Board will be a key piece in the regional system. The Board will be a key piece in the regional system.

COMEDY act all too brief

ONLY one complaint about Joan Hall, who is appearing at the New Theatre in Grail this week - we did not see enough of her.

After only one act, this excellent comedienne came on a number of times to sing one number and finish her act. It is a pity that we have not seen her in a longer act. It is a pity that we have not seen her in a longer act. It is a pity that we have not seen her in a longer act.

WOMEN MAY BE FASTER ON WHEELS THAN MEN

The speed bug has bitten the feminine sex in no uncertain way. It is now quite usual to see a woman start out on the race tracks of this world, and they race motor-cycles to their utmost speed and skill in cycling events.

As speed races are held in all parts of the world, it is not surprising to find that women are taking an increasing part in them. In fact, the speed bug has bitten the feminine sex in no uncertain way. ## Prizewinning ideas for floral decorations

Ideas for Christmas vases
IDEAS for Christmas vases or table decorations could be found in plenty in the floral arrangement classes of the Royal Kenya Horticultural Society's flower show at the city hall.

The theme for the amateur class which attracted a large number of entries was "A Christmas Fantasy" and it was interpreted with painted or dyed evergreens, grasses and ferns, with babies and confetti on most cases.

Fur and feathers fly in winter hats collection

FRENCH milliners have declared an "open season" on fur and feathers.
Almost every head and hat from the African jungles to the local zoo appears in the latest fashion collection.

MINK POMPOMS
Effective new ideas are the large mink pompons at Dior, used to trim coats and umbrellas. They are made of mink hair set on one-fitting pompons, get on top of the head like the dot over an letter.

FRUSTRATED hats and hoodies are as popular as the all-time hat. Insignificant milliners agree that almost every variety of hat is eligible for fashion.

PEGGY MASSIN writes from PARIS.
honours. Pierre Cardin leads back and white mink skins into bands, edge the skirts of felt combinations he shows a black velvet mink hat trimmed with two Chinese silk ribbons of black mink.

WEDDING CAKE
One of the most scientific, but not scientific, of the wedding cake is the wedding cake. It is a cake of wedding cake, with wedding cake.

MEDIEVAL HOODS
Hood hoods, either evolved in one piece from the back of the head, or made of two pieces, one for the head and one for the face, are still worn in some parts of the world.

DYED PLUMES
St. Laurent develops his Indian Rajah theme with dyed feathers. He uses them in his hats and in his dresses.

ENGALAND'S Game marks English F.A. Centenary

ENGLAND will play a team representing the rest of the world in a soccer inter-continental London next year, as part of the Centenary celebrations of the English Football Association.

The World team will play under the title of a F.I.F.A. XI. England last played a World XI in 1953, when the result was a 4-4 draw.

Next year's match, to be played on October 23, will be one of the first at the "new look" Wembley Stadium, which there is currently having a £200,000 facelift, after which it will be room under new covers for all the 100,000 spectators.

NON-PLAYING CAPTAIN FOR U.K. RYDER CUP TEAM

BRITAIN will have a non-playing captain in next year's Ryder Cup golf match against the U.S. at Atlanta, Georgia, on October 15-17.

This was announced in London yesterday by the British Golf Federation's Executive Committee.

Cole Wood said his committee felt that with the players, including, for the first time, the possibility of a woman in team personnel, it was asking too much of a captain to lead a team of 12 players.

Dr. Ross (South Africa) has acted as playing captain of the British Ryder Cup sides since 1955. His tenure of the post has been spread over two days and has comprised only six rounds and six days.

The ten-man British team will be selected from the leaders in the season's order of merit in professional play, with the leading tournaments and open championships to count for scoring purposes.

If a British player, however, won either the Open or match-play title, he would automatically qualify.

The £2,000 Princesly No. 1 tournament, inaugurated last year, and the first major professional event in Britain to offer a £2,000 first prize, will not be played next year, but will be reinstated again in 1962.

MOSCOW DYNAMO BEAT JAPAN

Moscow Dynamo yesterday beat the Japanese national side 2-0 in the final of the 1961 Intercontinental Cup football tournament, held in Tokyo yesterday.

The Russians have now won all three trophies played so far in their two-match Far East tour.

THAMERE VICTORS

Thamere Rovers beat Newport County 2-1 in their English Football League Division 1V match in Newport.

ROYAL TRAINER

Queen Elizabeth has appointed Capt. Peter Hastings as her fourth term son of her racehorses in addition to the present trainers, Capt. Cecil Appleby and Lord North.

The Queen also has one more two horses with Tom Massey on her staff.

NONDIES MEET

Nondescripts R.F.C. holds its annual meeting at Parklands P.O., Nairobi, on Friday (23.3.62) at 7.30 p.m.

The meeting is expected to confirm the introduction of a club rule to make the club non-racial.

TORINO FINE PLAYERS

Torino will line all their team, except the England centre-forward, Gerry Hitchens, and the goalkeeper, Giovanni Vieri, for a poor display against Fiorentina (Florence) in a league game on Sunday. Torino were beaten 4-0.

M.C.C. GAME PETERS OUT TO DRAW Coudrey's first tour 100

M.C.C.'s high-batted two-day match with a Victorian country side, in which the teams battled 12-12-0-0, petered out to a tame draw in Bendigo yesterday. M.C.C. declared at 860 for eight, a first innings lead of 250, and the home team were 129 for four at the close.

M.C.C. applying to the country team's first innings of 119 runs at 225 for four, and Colin Coudrey once again was determined to reach his first century of the tour.

DOWN FOR COUNT OF NINE, BUT BROWN WINS TITLE

JACKIE BROWN (Scotland) won the second British Empire lightweight boxing title in London when she outboxed GLEN CHALKIN (Nigeria) over 15 rounds in a 20-minute contest at the Lansdowne Road, Dublin, on Saturday.

Brown, who is 27, won the championship by a 10-3 decision. She was 10-0 in her previous 10 bouts.

Chalkin, who is 25, was knocked out in the 10th round. He was 1-0 in his previous 10 bouts.

Brown's victory was a surprise. She is a former world champion and has won several other titles.

Chalkin's defeat was a disappointment. He is a former world champion and has won several other titles.

Referee stops Winstone bout

The British featherweight champion Howard Winstone, beat Freddie Dobson (Ireland) in the third round of their scheduled eight-round bout in Manchester.

The referee stopped the fight because of a head injury to Dobson.

SKYBOLT OFFERS TO BRITAIN

But it would cost more for her to 'go it alone'

The United States Defense Secretary, Mr. Robert McNamara, has offered to let Britain have one of the Skybolt nuclear warheads if it agrees to buy the missile. This was one alternative on an American Skybolt project, which the United States now wants to drop.

'DRAINED' OF DESIRE TO SMOKE

MRS. Josephine Melior, 31, tried a novel method of curing her husband, Percy, of smoking—each time she caught him smoking a cigarette she threw half a crown down the nearest drain.

When she caught him smoking a cigar she threw it in down the drain.

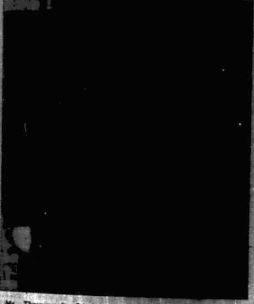

Mr. Melior, a 27-year-old chemist, was persuaded of the efficacy of his wife's method by the money-down-the-drain smoking cure and admitted that he had given up the habit of the cigar.

Chinese free prisoners

Indian Brig. Cross has released 100 Chinese prisoners, including an American, from the Chien-shan area in Malaya, near the Thai border.

Driver watched TV as well

A man was arrested at West Palm Beach, Florida, for watching television because he was driving his car at the time. The motorist was looking at a portable set installed in his dashboard, while he drove. He was arrested under a State law which makes viewing while driving a punishable offense.

Mr. Sandys, British Deputy Secretary, in the background, with Mr. McNamara's wife in the foreground.

Mr. Sandys visits West Indies

The British Commonwealth and Colonial Secretary, Mr. Sandys, is now in Bermuda for a three-week visit to the West Indies during the Christmas parliamentary recess.

Mr. Sandys will also join Mr. Macmillan, the Prime Minister, during his talks with President Kennedy.

From Bermuda, Mr. Sandys will go to the Bahamas before visiting the Caribbean islands of Jamaica, Antigua, Dominica, Barbados, Montserrat, Grenada and Trinidad.

According to political sources, the tour will give Mr. Sandys a chance to make an on-the-spot assessment of the progress of the Caribbean Community, a new West Indies Federation. At the same time, Mr. Sandys will be able to discuss with the island governments the possibility of a constitutional conference.

Some time ago of the island of Grenada — has indicated that it would prefer to be part of the already-independent Trinidad and Tobago rather than the new federation.

Curtain down

Bonham's, the exclusive Hollywood restaurant which refers to the film colony which closed down on New Year's Eve, the owner, Mr. Mike Bonham, is planning a brand towards "informally a Hollywood."

Wife will appeal to Soviet Premier

The departure for Moscow of Mrs. Sheila Wynne, wife of British businessman Mr. Neville Wynne, left Mr. Wynne in a very sorry state just before her plane was to take off from London Airport.

Airport officials said the delay was due to bad weather in Moscow. Mrs. Wynne, who had been granted a visa to go and see her husband, arrived at the airport an hour in advance but the departure was given prominence and television interviews.

Diplomat leaves Mrs. Wynne had previously been convinced of her husband's intention to return to London but had not been able to do so since she had not been able to obtain a visa to go to the Soviet Union.

Mr. Wynne was arrested in Budapest on October 13 while on a business trip and was later handed over to Russian authorities.

Mr. Wynne was taking her husband's personal effects, including a suitcase and a camera.

Mr. Rudolf P. Carlson, an American diplomat, who had contact with Mr. Wynne, said that he had been in contact with an "apparently" American Embassy spokesman.

In a Soviet Service statement, published this week, Carlson was alleged to have had contact with Mr. Wynne, who arrived in Moscow on October 13.

The statement alleged that Mr. Wynne had been another of the "big" Western contact men.

Mr. Ngala drops point on regions report

KADU leaders, including the vice-president, Mr. Muthira, issued a statement yesterday. Later Mr. Muthira said that he regarded the new Government as a challenge. Kadu would organize a major meeting in the near future.

He added that the crowd wanted to listen but they had been responsible for all this noise. He had been invited for a meeting at Mombasa, but now the town was a chaotic arrangement. Mr. Muthira told the meeting that even though the Luo might not know him, he was one of the leaders of the Kadu movement. He said that all the African regional boundaries report was published in the Daily Nation. The Kadu members for Nairobi, Mombasa, Kenya, of whatever tribe, should unite and be strong.

PEACE, PROSPERITY PLEDGE

"If you really believe in the unity of the African people, why are you shouting for me to go away," he said. It would do him no good if the country prospered. # Quicker settlement

CHAIRMAN CRITICISES SCHEME AS INADEQUATE

Kenya's five-year settlement scheme is expected to cost £27,500,000 of which the British Government will pay up to £19,500,000 in grants and loans, the Minister for Land Settlement, Mr. McKenzie, said in Nairobi yesterday.

He also announced that Government representatives would be meeting the chairman of the Central Land Board, Gen. Sir Geoffrey Bourne, in into a shorter period.

"We now feel we have enough information to concentrate on the scheme in a shorter period," he said. The buying programme was already ahead of schedule and he hoped the settlement side would also be ahead by the end of next year.

Mr. McKenzie was outlining the present situation on settlement to the Convention of Associated Group meetings given in the House of Commons yesterday by the Colonial Under-Secretary Mr. Nigel Pidgeon, in reply to a question by Mr. Victor Goodhew (Cons). This said that the British Government had agreed to provide Kenya with additional £12,000,000 for land settlement.

He recalled that the scheme, intended to settle 150,000 British high density included land in a year for five years starting at July 1, 1962, included land not already settled in existing areas. The British Government and the Colonial Development Corporation had agreed to take part in the settlement of this land under these various schemes.

He said that on extending the scheme to 1967, the economy had not suffered as much as was feared. The Government had agreed to provide Kenya with additional £12,000,000 for land settlement.

OSLO'S GIFT REFLECTED

LONDON'S own Christmas tree, its branches glittering with coloured lights, is reflected on one of the fountains of Trafalgar Square.

The switching-on ceremony had been performed by the Norwegian Ambassador, Mr. Arne Skoug — the GØL: tree is the annual gift and gesture of friendship from the city of Oslo to London, recalling the two countries' wartime association.

After the switching-on ceremony members of the Norwegian Girls' Choir, in national dress, sang carols round the tree. Left: Mr. Macmillan, the British Premier, waves cheerfully accompanied by Lady Dorothy Macmillan, leaves Northolt R.A.F. Station for his "summit" talks.

Mr. Alfred Ross of work on the brass-copper angel which is mounted on the 10ft. tower in Trafalgar Square, London. The angel, eventually to be cast in gold leaf, will be mounted on tall bearings to face with the wind. It will be dedicated to the memory of the men who were killed in the Second World War.

Choppy seas for the Dreadnought

DREADNOUGHT, Britain's first nuclear-powered submarine, last week successfully completed her sea-going trials. She is pictured, right, encountering choppy seas in Moresambé Bay.

The £20,000,000 submarine is the first of three ordered for the Royal Navy. Tests of the 3,000-ton Dreadnought were postponed for one day because of a break in the communications system between the bridge and the control room for 15 seconds while the submarine was on her way into the bay from her berth at Barrow-in-Furness.

Three things that Britain must do

First-rate power and leader of world opinion.

The tragedy is that in sharing her responsibilities towards her own people, Britain is sharing her responsibilities towards Kenya as a whole. A European-occupied and -dominated economy must be largely transferred to African hands, but this cannot be done overnight and in the meantime someone must provide the necessary foodstuffs, someone must fill the vital technical gaps and someone must pay the taxes to meet Kenya's recurrent revenue demands.

PETTIFOGGING

As a result of this pettifogging policy, Kenya is now becoming divided in the vital field of agriculture into settlement areas and depressed areas, the depressed areas being those outside the scope of the settlement schemes in which the farmers are denied a market for land but those depressed areas are the ones upon which the Government of Kenya is depending to provide the country's essential foodstuffs.

If the British Government is to emerge from the Kenya imbroglio with any credit at all, it must first and foremost try to stop measuring compensation by the length of a Third World official's foot. We are told that "the quality of mercy is not strained"—but the sort of mercy which the British Government dishes out has been filtered through a dirty army blanket. Let it remove this stinking rag from the number of cases must be treated to fit the money available.

Secondly, it must in conjunction with the Kenya Government take every possible step to restore a land market in the depressed areas. The aim should be that those who remain to carry out the vital task of farming should do so willingly and not as prisoners of circumstance.

Thirdly, it should make it quite clear that those of its own nationals who stay and accept the risks of the future do so with its support and approval, and will be the objects of its special solicitude in the future and of its practical help if things go wrong.

Lastly, it should help to clear the decks of the economic casualties who fall outside the scope of the "compassionate" list by aiding in their rehabilitation, at home or in other Commonwealth countries.

If the British Government would only understand these things, not only would it clear itself of its moral obligations but it would stimulate the economy of Kenya at a time when it is threatened with complete breakdown.

REGENERATION

It would create a class of Kenyans who would be both willing and able to work side by side with the African in the economic regeneration of Kenya without constantly having to look over his shoulder to see if his neighbour has abandoned him to his fate, or if the old lady living down the road has been handed a piece during the hours of darkness.

The Government must surely have learned that one does not get both cheaply and securely out of a commitment of this sort, and that a nation destined to spend today will spend ten times over in solving its conscience tomorrow.
