Terrible Earthquake In India

Enormous Casualties in Quetta District

DISASTROUS UPHEAVAL DURING THE NIGHT

Sleepers Trapped in Falling Houses

CITY AND SURROUNDING AREAS ALMOST COMPLETELY DESTROYED

The earthquake which occurred on Friday in the Quetta district of India, was one of the greatest disasters in history. The death toll reached enormous figures, while there was complete devastation over a very wide area.

Hardly any buildings have been standing in Quetta itself and it is feared that four-fifths of the population were killed. The police force was practically wiped out.

Aid is being rushed from all parts of India and the Government has opened a fund for the relief of districts.

Services at Standstill

Four-fifths of the population were killed in Quetta which has almost been levelled to the ground and hardly any buildings are standing. Details are lacking owing to telegraphic disruption.

The shock lasted between 30 and 60 seconds.

It is estimated that three or four million people were killed in the earthquake at Quetta. The police force was practically wiped out.

Estimated Casualties
From data available, experts have placed the total number of Quetta at 20,000.

European casualties are also 100 killed and 200 injured. The police force has been completely destroyed.

It would appear that the earthquake followed a line along the plain between Quetta, which is the principal city and an important railway centre, and Masroor, which was almost completely destroyed, about 40 miles to the south.

The railways appear to have been only slightly damaged, so that relief trains from India and elsewhere have been rushed to bring food and medical supplies to Quetta.

Quetta is situated on a hillside of 900 miles. Quetta is equipped with large food and medical supplies and the British and Indian contingents on the spot are able to organize and run the relief and distribution.

The King's Message
The King has sent a message of sympathy from the Queen and himself in which he says: "Our hearts go out in sympathy to the bereaved, injured and those whose houses and property have been destroyed," and asking the Viceroy to keep him informed of any further news.

Among other messages sent, the two Houses of Parliament, with their profound regrets and sympathy with the relief work, have passed resolutions that the Government should make the necessary arrangements to provide relief to the victims of the earthquake.

to the victims as quickly as possible with wearing caps, coats, food and clothing.

The Government of India has opened a relief fund on the very day that the Jubilee Fund for the Relief of Distress in India closed. The latter exceeds £75,000.

Hospital Destroyed
Quetta, June 1.
Martial Law has been proclaimed in the whole of the affected area. A unofficial estimate now puts the casualties at 30,000.

Observatory Demolished
Quetta, June 1.
Dr. C. W. B. Normand, Director-General of Meteorology, has been killed. Mr. Roy's children were killed and Mr. Roy himself injured.

Dr. Normand has received no word from Baluchistan since the earthquake.

NEW FRENCH CABINET

M. Bouisson Forms Ministry

Few Changes

M. Laval Remains at Foreign Office

PARIS, June 1. (REUTERS SERVICE'S AGENCY.) M. Bouisson has formed a new Cabinet, the members of which will be presented to the President early today.

The composition of the Cabinet is as follows:
Premier and Minister for the Interior: M. Bouisson.

Ministers without Portfolio: M. Louis Marin and Marshal Petain.

Foreign Affairs: M. Pierre Laval.

Justice: M. Fernand Marin.

War: General Maurin.

Air: General Dain.

Colonies: M. Louis Rollin.

Confidence Restored
Paris, June 1.
The authority of the new Government with M. Caillaux, Marshal Petain and M. Laval at the key posts of finance, defence, and foreign affairs has recreated confidence, and has caused a fresh rally sharply in terms of sterling from yesterday's close of 75 to 76.50, while the Geneva gold price advanced to the level of 100 to 101.

M. Caillaux has announced his "unshakable determination to maintain the gold parity of the franc and mercifully to combat any tendency towards devaluation."

It is believed that M. Palmade, who was originally selected the Ministry of Finance, declined owing to his inability to leave the Ministry of his mother who is ill in the provinces.

Only the post of Mercantile Marine remains to be filled and it is expected that it will be retained by M. William Dismont.

"Sommard" is at present absent on a route for New York. M. Bouisson officially took the post of Finance Minister in the first Cabinet Council room, and the first Cabinet Council will be held on June 4, followed by the Council of Ministers. The Government will meet the Chamber on the same afternoon, when it is expected that the Finance Powers Bill will be passed by a big majority.

An Omen?
There was an amusing incident when M. Caillaux, immediately after his appointment, arrived at the Elysee for presentation to the President. Caillaux tripped down on the steps of the Elysee and was injured, a fact which was an evil omen.

The most notable new appointment is that of M. Caillaux, an ex-Premier.

A number of Ministers in the Cabinet retain their positions. M. Laval remains as Minister for War; M. Rollin as Minister for the Colonies; General Dain as Minister for Air and M. Pietri as Minister for Marine.

BRITISH CABINET FORECASTS

Anticipated Changes in Portfolios

NEW SECRETARY FOR THE COLONIES?

Sir P. Cunliffe-Lister Likely to Become a Peer

["STANDARD" CORRESPONDENT.] London, May 29. (By Air Mail.) There has been a good deal of speculation recently as to the probabilities of a reshuffle of Cabinet posts, consequent upon the reported intention of Sir Ernest Bennett to resign his post of Secretary for the Colonies.

It is predicted that Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lister will be created a Peer and will take over the Air Ministry.

According to authoritative circles in London the new Cabinet is likely to be formed within the next fortnight.

The new Cabinet is likely to include:
Prime Minister: Sir Stanley Baldwin.

Foreign Secretary: Sir Anthony Eden.

Secretary of State for India: Mr. Cranley-Short.

Domestic Secretary: Mr. Malcolm MacDonald.

Colonial Secretary: Sir E. Hilton Young.

Secretary for Air: Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lister.

Secretary for Scotland: Mr. Walter Elliot.

Minister of Health: Sir Kingsley Wood.

President of the Board of Trade: Mr. Walter Runciman.

First Lord of the Admiralty: Sir Bolton Grey-Monson.

Minister of Works: Sir Philip Sassoon.

Postmaster-General: Sir Ernest Bouverie.

Minister of Education: Mr. Oliver Stanley.

Mr. Hanson MacDonald will definitely not go to the House of Lords.

Mr. Thomas has twice refused the Secretaryship. He once said to a friend: "It's the longest I don't like."

Sir John Simon does not wish to leave the Foreign Office, but there is a strong movement in favour of his resignation.

Sir Ernest Bennett, the probable Postmaster-General in the new Government, has been 67 years old and has been a member of P.M.G. since 1922 and M.P. for Cardiff (former Secretary of State for Labour). He was an Oxford man and served in the Boer War.

THE ANGLO-GERMAN NAVAL TALKS

Reception of Delegates from Berlin

ARRIVAL BY AIR

[BY WIRELESS.] Rugby, June 1. Herr von Ribbentrop and other members of the German delegation who will take part in the Anglo-German naval conversations will arrive at Croft on Sunday evening, when they will be met by Mr. R. L. Craigie, the Assistant Under-Secretary to the Foreign Office, and Captain Duckworth, of the Admiralty.

On Monday the Foreign Secretary, Sir John Simon, will introduce Herr Ribbentrop to the Prime Minister at the House of Commons, and later the chief German delegate will meet the First Lord, Sir John Simon, at the Admiralty.

Conversations will begin on Tuesday morning at the Foreign Office, and Sir John Simon will attend this first meeting. As in the case of the earlier conversations, with representatives of other Powers, their purpose will be to exchange information and views as a preliminary to any more formal negotiations that may take place later with a view to the opening of an international agreement for the limitation of naval armaments.

Whether or not he will fulfil his intention to be present at the conference of the Trooping of the Colour on the Horse Guards Parade on Monday, when his 70th birthday will be celebrated, is unlikely to be decided until that day.

The King attended the Levee at St. James' Palace yesterday morning but as he later felt slightly indisposed, he cancelled his intention to go to the reception which is being given at the London County Council hall, in London, by the County Hall, Westminster, in honour of the King's birthday.

HIS MAJESTY INDISPOSED

Suffering from Slight Chill

Unable to Attend L.C.C. Reception

ADVISED BY DOCTORS TO REMAIN INDOORS

[BY WIRELESS.] Rugby, June 1. The King is suffering from a slight chill, and his medical advisers, who saw him this morning, recommended that, as a precautionary measure, he should remain indoors to-day.

His Majesty is continuing to occupy himself with his customary work.

Whether or not he will fulfil his intention to be present at the conference of the Trooping of the Colour on the Horse Guards Parade on Monday, when his 70th birthday will be celebrated, is unlikely to be decided until that day.

ITALIAN TROOPS FOR EAST AFRICA

Four More Divisions Called Up

PRECAUTIONARY MEASURE

Owing to Mobilisation by Abyssinia

[REUTERS SERVICE'S AGENCY.] Rome, May 31. Two more army divisions of 20,000 men, commanded by General Terziani, has been called up, together with two more Blackshirt divisions, totalling 25,000 men, for service in East Africa.

An official communique states that owing to the partial mobilisation of the Abyssinian forces and the further arrival of war material in Abyssinia, it is necessary for Italy to take further measures for the defence of her colonies.

Leave for all members of the 1910 class of the navy has been suspended.

Vice-Admiral Baroni has proposed to the King that all officers and other ratings have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness.

Queen of the Royal Jubilee. The Queen and several members of the Royal Family were, however, present.

The slightness of the King's chill, and the precautionary nature of the measures taken in regard to it, are emphasised in Court circles.

Pictures and Coming Events

Miss Marie Tempest
London Films

contracted during the months spent in Central Africa six years ago while the film was being made. As a fast worker, Miss Booth's father, Dr. James Lloyd Wood, took his daughter over from New York to London where she is being treated by stonemason specialists. He attributes the trouble partly to Miss Booth's unusually white skin which in Tropical Africa, rejected any firm knowledge of Miss Tempest, and regarding her most anxiety as a genius, one would say that this lady will be brilliant, establishing well, and her complete knowledge and sense of stage craft, exemplified to the full the definition of the word genius as to infinite capacity for taking pains. Nothing short of the very best has ever been good enough for Miss Tempest, and she is of her own polished art, a most honest artist.

Battlehips in Films
THE Admiralty has given permission for the photography of the battle cruisers, "Queen Elizabeth," and "Wynton," (The Diamond), and "Wynton." The production is in very able hands, and the play will be anticipated with great pleasure.

Dance Display

Return to Legitimate Stage
MISS Madeline Carroll is re-appearing in the stage after an absence of three years. She is to play lead in J. B. Priestley's comedy, "Dad and Dave," which is to be produced by Sir Colin Hardwick. During the last three years, Miss Carroll has been engaged entirely in important film productions which have included "I Was a Spy" and "The Merry Men Stars."

MARIE TEMPEST

Fifty Years on the Stage and Still a Star
A few days ago, Miss Marie Tempest celebrated her fiftieth stage birthday. On May 30, 1885, after studying music at the B. A. M. London, and in Paris, and gaining every possible distinction, she first appeared in London in her brilliant performance as Philetia in "Bohemia," and apart from a period of eight years, 1914-22, during which she had her own company round the world long before the days of the Nazi regime, has been twice returned to the United Kingdom by the British Board of Film Censors, and is now shown only by special licence of the C.L.C.C. The film, after all these years, has something of a nostalgic quality: it is really, in subject, treatment, and make-up, the glorious mad old days of the Victorian romantic cinema, and the would-be, in Sir K. Kertner, Fritz Koenig, and Anna Stern, are the players, and from Miss Tempest's performance in this early work it is obvious why Sam Goldwyn wanted to make a Hollywood star of her, and why it is so unfortunate that she succeeded.

THE Triumph of Sherlock Holmes at the Capital is another worthy addition. The loss of the screen stars of the Sherlock Holmes, Arthur Wontner appears in a revised version of "The Valley of Fear." This latter adventure gets along nicely enough as film detective with deductive intervals, though it will not, I fear, help the reputation of the British industry. Paasgard does not do it as well as he should.

TWO-NIGHT at the New Gallery. We are to be given Walter Forde's latest, "Down on London Town." This is an adaptation of Fritz Ballou, John Mills, and Barry Kaulder covering a period of three decades, including that of the Great War, it proves a story of human, self-sacrifice and adventure, and is a most interesting and national feeling. The Admiralty have co-operated and lent the "Iron Duke" and other warships for the purpose, which has been produced with the help of the naval expert, Captain R. W. Wilkinson, O.B.E.

"LES Miserables" continues at the Lyric. Brewster a Million" at the Marble Arch, and "The Marriage of Kitty" at the Regent. "The Merry Men Stars" is going strongly.

FILMS FOR NATIVES

A Question in the House of Commons
[STANDARD CORRESPONDENT].
London, May 22. (By Air Mail).
Mr. W. G. D. Hutchinson (Unionist), in the House of Commons, asked the Secretary of State for the Colonies whether any progress has been made with the scheme for providing coloured cinema films for native consumption in the undeveloped parts of the British Empire, and if so, whether he could give any indication as to the type of such films which had been officially approved.

Sir P. Currie-Lester, I assume that my hon. Friend has in mind the committee constituted some years ago by the Secretary of State for the Colonies to assist the British United Film Producers Company, Limited, in the selection of suitable films for exhibition in the Colonies. That scheme was not specially designed to provide and cinema films for exhibition to natives in the undeveloped parts of the British Empire, and to prevent having particular objection to the censorship of films to be exhibited within its territory.

My hon. Friend may be interested to know, however, that an experimental film made by the Carnegie Corporation is about to be carried out in the British dependencies in order to show the supplies of the International Missionary Council and the British Film Institute, and with the cordial co-operation of myself and the Colonial Governments concerned, with a view to investigating and providing the types of film most suitable for exhibition to natives in these territories.

AFRO eight children are taking part in the Empire Display in which Miss Myrtle Kervin is presenting her pupils at the Empire Theatre on June 18 at 8 p.m. The dance display is in aid of the Lady Norbury Home and the Acting Governor, Mr. A. de V. Wade and Mrs. Wade have promised to be present. Among those who are helping Miss Kervin are Mr. A. J. Master and Mr. Stannard and on the musical side, Mr. Pittall and Miss Langman are working in conjunction with Sgt. Ziegler and his Band. Particulars of the ballets to be produced will appear next week, and the book is now open at the Empire Theatre.

Request to "Under Horn"
A tragic fate has overtaken Miss Edith Booth, the beautiful white-jacket goddess of the film "Under Horn." In an article written for the "Daily Mail," Miss Margaret Lane described Miss Booth's sufferings caused by some mysterious tropical disease

CALLIES GREAT DISPLAY AGAINST POLICE
Best Match of Season
BOOTS WIN BY TWO CLEAR GOALS

There was a very fine crowd on the Police ground on Saturday for to see the meeting of Callies and the Scots in the Dobbie's game match. The Scots were by two goals to nil. It was the best match since this season, and one of the best seen in Nairobi for several seasons. Callies fully deserved their win; they played fine combined football and every department of the game. The shining light was Bell, the Scotch centre half, who was the best man on the field. But little credit went to Brooks (Poley) and Chalmers.

Callies included Thorne as right half and this undoubtedly strengthened the middle line. The halves played sound constructive football and gave splendid support to their forwards. The forwards were not so convincing at the rest of the side, however. The wing men were disappointing. Tate worked hard in the centre. The defence of the Scots was sound.

Police played very well although beaten. Brooks did some wonderful work at fullback, while Scott was in goal. When the pivot, who was below form, and played on the defensive most of the time, but he had to be borne in mind that he had been ill for two or three days before the match. The centre half had to help the side. The forwards were well watched by the opposing half backs who gave them little scope. Pratt had few opportunities to test his both Higgins and Griffiths did well on the wing.

It was a very fast game from start to finish. Play underwent rapid changes ranging from end to end of the field. The Scots were always the more dangerous and more likely scorers. Police were always a little slower, they never seemed like getting through.

Police Win Two
 Police won the toss and elected to kick from the Sixth Avenue. The Scots were set to get on the move, and after a few minutes work on the part of Tate looked dangerous, but his shot went clear. The winger was smothered by Sinton. Another most move from the centre and the shot was wide clear in splendid style.

Play travelled up to the other end where Poley was a corner on the left, but the kick was not taken. Callies were given them the right about, and Tate scoring, cleverly tricked the defence, but his shot went past. Back it went to the other end, where Wragg defended then to Pratt, but the centre shot over. Chalmers cleared well up field to Alexander, who cut through but was blocked from the goal. Poley broke away on the left and Hargraves sent off a fine centre which went past and shot, but the ball hit the wrong side of the post and went just a minute before Griffiths scored and shot over. The throw was cleared and Callies went to the attack and a clever piece of combined play ended with Noble scoring a beauty.

The First Score
 Police got down in the neighbourhood of Mervy and Nicol sent in to Pratt, but the centre shot over. Chalmers cleared well up field to Alexander, who cut through but was blocked from the goal. Poley broke away on the left and Hargraves sent off a fine centre which went past and shot, but the ball hit the wrong side of the post and went just a minute before Griffiths scored and shot over. The throw was cleared and Callies went to the attack and a clever piece of combined play ended with Noble scoring a beauty.

Callies on Top
 Callies from this point took the game in hand, and from now to the end kept the Police on the defensive. The Scots played good combined football. Whiting had to concede a corner under pressure but not one of his. A minute later he was back in the goal and the referee had to take seeing in a shot which (Continued in next column.)

ROBU TOO GOOD FOR MUTHGA
Home Team Scores in First Five Minutes
WELFORD'S FINE GOAL KICKING

Robu were too strong for Muthga when the teams met at the Muthga ground on Saturday. The game ended in a 3-0 goal, 3 tries to 1 (1 goal) for Robu. Muthga got a penalty goal in the opening minutes of the game, they never scored again. Robu were too strong for Muthga, who were converted by Welford, gave the visitors a 2-0 victory.

Muthga were below strength, and indeed the team was not completed until five minutes in progress for five minutes, when the 15th man arrived.

The teams were:
 Muthga: Robertson; Ker, Stevens, Williams, Block; Safford, Beach; Mitchell, Ellis (capt.), Gamble, Boland, May, Bland, Blainfield, Cowell.
 Robu: Whittet (capt.); W. Miller; Terry; Wood; Shaw; Haller; J. Smith; Ramsay; Smith; Sherman; Shields; Coe; H. Smith; Williams; G. Miller; Moon.

The opening play was in the Muthga half, although it never came near enough to the line to be dangerous. Almost the first scrum in the Robu half led to a break away for Robu, the three men made progress till a Robu infringement held up play. Williams took the penalty and put the ball between the posts. Tate, who was in a strong position as an attacking force for some time, and close midfield play was on order. Tate forwards did not seem to have the legs of their opponents; they pushed and backed smartly.

A pretty three-quarter line roared down the field, the first score. The ball went down to the left and Shaw, allowing a fine run to the forwards, got to the opponents and came round to touch down on the right behind the posts. With the assist of kick, Welford made no mistake. Welford was on the left, having been converted to a muck when, with the penalty kick from just inside the Muthga kick, he took a long shot at goal. The ball fell just short, though direction was perfect and the goal.

Robu went further ahead before half time. There was a forward run on the left and the ball was dribbled across the line for Sherman to drop in at the 100-yard line. It was not a very good position, but Welford again got the ball between the posts with the help of his Muthga half. The forwards had a spell of attacking before half time, but the forwards using their feet to get over the line by Stevens looked dangerous, but they were not so effective as just in time, and a long kick into the field allowed the danger.

Final List of Prize Winners
 The following are the winners and runners-up in various sports of the Muthga and Robu tennis tournaments.
 Men's Singles: Kroyer, runner-up; Cruckshank.
 Ladies' Singles: Mrs. Harris; runner-up, Mrs. Tannahill.
 Men's Doubles: McWatt and Gray.
 Ladies' Doubles: Mrs. Colling and Mrs. Vernon; runners-up, Mrs. Johnson and Miss Turner.
 Mixed Doubles: J. English and McManera; runner-up, Miss and Mrs. Colling.
 Floating Trophy: Muthga Golf Club Tennis Section.

Match Against Magadi
 The following players have been chosen to represent Muthga Golf Club Tennis Section in a match with Magadi at Magadi on June 8. Date: Noon. Captain: William Bick. Bamey, G. Ramsey and Kroyer.

BADMINTON MATCH
 A friendly badminton match will be played by Ngara tennis and Captain's team of A. C. English, J. Costa-Fernandez (Capt.) commencing at 8.30 p.m.

Captain's team: B. Abreo and Mrs. Braganza; J. de Souza and Mrs. Porety; P. Abreo and Mrs. A. P. de Sa; J. Mascarenhas and Mrs. Porety; and D. V. Intrator and Mrs. Alves Costa-Fernandez.

Secretary's team: Captain: D'Souza and Mrs. Almeida; A. R. D'Souza and Mrs. A. C. Fernandez; A. M. de Souza and Mrs. D'Souza; and Mrs. Silva; and C. B. D'Souza (capt.) and Mrs. S. D'Souza.

In past years accurate hand-capping has resulted in many long and bitter and bitter rivalries. To any such during the coming tournament the management of the Clubhouse adjoining the tennis ground will include commodious dressing-rooms, wash and shower baths to provide a more comfortable and pleasant match. As probably more than 2000 spectators are expected to attend the tournament these facilities will doubtless be in constant demand.

NONDESCRIPTS BEAT OLD CAMBRIANS
A Close First Half
THEN PARLANDS MEN DRAW AWAY

Non-descripts beat Old Cambrians at the Scotch Harrier Rugby championship match played on the Railway ground on Saturday by 27 points to possibly goal, 3 goals, 3 tries to 1 (1 goal) for Non-descripts. The game continued for 15 minutes late, Old Cambrians were too strong for Non-descripts, all side pressing in turn, and Gledhill from a mark, missed a drop at 10.10. Play was not continued for some 10 minutes when Larry opened the scoring for Non-descripts with a penalty for hands in the scrum. Banged play, which Non-descripts had the better of matters, followed and fumbling, dropped passes and off-sides brought about a number of promising back movements by Non-descripts. Some fine work was done by the Non-descripts, but they broke away from a loose scrum, dominated, and went over near the posts, but missed the easiest of kicks. Both full backs were playing a sound game and Coetzee was an ever-present danger in the forward line to Scotch Harrier. Rugby however, were holding their own and after some time the Non-descripts were over for a try. Harrier collecting the full points after this and Old Cambrians pressed hard until they were converted.

Half-time: Old Cambrians, 5 points; Non-descripts, 6.

The Non-descripts non-descripts lined up but their combination was not so strong as they had been of good three-quarter movements gave the spectators something to watch. The Non-descripts lined up but their combination was not so strong as they had been of good three-quarter movements gave the spectators something to watch. BIRTHDAY AND JUBILEE HONOURS

Six New Peerages Included in List

MANY APPOINTMENTS TO VARIOUS ORDERS

East African Recipients

RECOGNITION OF SERVICES IN ALL SPHERES OF ACTIVITY

The honours list issued on the occasion of His Majesty's Birthday and Jubilee, is longer than usual and includes the creation of six new Peerages, nine Baronetcies and a very lengthy list of knighthoods in the various orders.

East African honours included the conferment of the G.B.E. upon the Sultan of Zanzibar, and the C.M.G. upon His Excellency Mr. A. de V. Wade, the Acting Governor of Kenya.

In Kenya a number of serving and retired officials have been awarded honours, chiefly in the Order of the British Empire, but the services of only one non-official have been recognised, namely Mr. Abdul Wahid, a prominent Indian resident of Nairobi, who receives the O.B.E.

Labour Leader Knighthood

(Through British Agency and British Official Wires)

LONDON, June 5.—The Silver Jubilee year of the King's reign also holds His Majesty's 70th Birthday. It was celebrated throughout the Empire to-day, and on this occasion the list of birthday honours conferred is more comprehensive than usual.

It contains the names of persons who have rendered eminent services in Britain and throughout the Empire in politics, industry, professional services, science, literature and social work.

The following are included in the honours list:

PEERAGES

Baron Middleton of Lydney, P.C., C.M.G., K.B.E., late Governor General and Commander-in-Chief of New Zealand, sixty-seven years of age, Lord Rodolph entered Parliament as Conservative member for Wiltshire Division of South Wilts in 1910 and was created Baron in 1918. He was appointed Governor-General of New Zealand in 1930. He is an authority on agricultural and educational questions. His first wife died in 1925 and he was married in 1928 to E. Cooper-Smith. There are two sons and one daughter. His first wife, B. L. Bathurst, who was born in 1899.

BARONETS

Sir Arthur Ballour, prominent Sheffield industrialist, who has been a member of many industrial commissions and committees and served in 1920. He was born in 1873 and married in 1909. He is a Director of the National Provincial Bank, Managing Director of Arthur Ballour and Co. Ltd., Chairman, High Speed Steel Alloy Works, and chairman of C. Meadows and Co. Ltd., Sheffield. He holds several foreign honours, and was Vice-Council for Denmark in the field since 1909, and Consul for Bohemia since 1915.

HIS MAJESTY'S 70th BIRTHDAY

King at Trooping of the Colour

Brilliant Spectacle

UNPRECEDENTED VOLUME OF CHEERING

[By WIRELESS.]

His Majesty's 70th birthday was celebrated in all parts of the British Empire, and His Majesty had sufficiently recovered from the slight chill from which he had suffered as he and his party attended the magnificent ceremony of the Trooping of the Colour on the Horse Guards' Parade in London on the first time His Majesty had attended the Parade since 1912. The event in various ways a large crowd had to-day the whole length of the Mall and the King and his party around the Parade and the adjacent buildings, even to the gates at the Queen's Guard's post.

Parade and Levée

Picture Scenes at Government House

The Ceremonial Parade and Levée at Government House, London, on the occasion of His Majesty's birthday, was a colorful and picturesque spectacle.

The King and his party were met by the Household Cavalry and the Grenadier Guards, who were dressed in their ceremonial uniforms.

The King and his party were then taken to the Royal Gallery, where they were met by the Prime Minister and other members of the Government.

NEW FRONTIER INCIDENT

Skirmish Near a River

The Casualties

ABYSSINIAN AND ITALIAN LOSSES

[By WIRELESS.]

The death occurred at the meeting of Sir John Sandeman Allen, Chairman of the Chamberlain Committee of the House of Commons, on the eve of the meeting of the Italo-Abyssinian Conciliation Committee at Milan.

The casualties included natives of Italian Somaliland and Abyssinians, both killed and wounded.

THE KING

Expecting to See the Derby

[By WIRELESS.]

The King has practically finished all the details of his recent visit to the West Derby Division of Liverpool in the Conservative campaign, he will visit Epsom tomorrow to see the Derby.

On Saturday, after his semi-official departure from the West Derby, the King will leave for Nottingham for Whitstable.

The King will be met first by Miss Amy Spence of Christchurch, New Zealand, by whom he had five sons and two daughters, and secondly by Mrs. Mary, daughter of the Duke of Devonshire.

Second Day of Nakuru Race Meeting

"PRINCE CHARMING" WINS THE JUBILEE HANDICAP

"Bracelet" a Smasher

Having opened on the second day with a Terran Handicap, race and with a victory of seven, five feet to the lead, which was disappointing for the local Executive.

In the open race of the day, the Jubilee Handicap, Merry March would not go near the start and Charming was very fast out of the gate and being the established early lead was never caught.

An Exposing Jilly... The sixth race on the card was the Open Road Challenge Cup for Three Year Olds, and the public made two mistakes in taking Warley to lead the race.

The second race provided poor sport and it was surprising that the lookers were as generous as they appeared to be. On Saturday Waterway had a narrow but opportunist in hand.

The last race of the day was a Two Year Old Handicap over a mile and a half, and was a race to watch.

Germany Looking to West Africa

WITH NEW GUINEA AS A POSSIBLE ALTERNATIVE

Attitude to Tanganyika

RETURN NOT NOW REGARDED AS A PRACTICAL POSITION

[BY WIRELESS.]

London, June 4.

The question of the return of the former German Colonies may shortly be brought up again, says the "Morning Post's" Diplomatic Correspondent.

Although Germany has not yet voiced any demand beyond the right to "mandatory status" there is reason to believe the country on which she is casting her eye is West Africa.

The Germans point out that comparatively little British money has been invested in the British portions of Togoland and the Cameroons and their transfer to Germany would be a less sacrifice than that of any other territories.

The British viewpoint that the Mandates are permanent and therefore not in the power of the League to dispose, does not preclude transfer agreement, presumably subject to the approval of ex-Allied Powers.

The Correspondent adds that a possible alternative to West Africa in German eyes is New Guinea.

In regard to Tanganyika it is now admitted in Berlin that coercion would not be a practical proposition.

56,000 DEAD IN QUETTA AREA

Wonderful Relief Organisation

Supplies by Air

EXCELLENT WORK BY BRITISH WOMEN

[BY WIRELESS.]

Quetta, June 4.

The death toll in the earthquake for Quetta and district is now estimated at 56,000, according to official figures here. Within two hours of the collapse of the city, the military had resumed from the ruins over 30,000 people.

High schools in fact in all quarters to the magnificent work of British people, particularly women, who, disregarding their own danger assumed the role of nurses.

The seven thousand survivors from Quetta are now housed in tents on the mountainside. Food and other supplies are adequate.

Further Troops

[BY WIRELESS.]

Rugby, June 5.

Further shore troops have been experienced in Quetta and those accompanying air but these have mostly been slight and no further conditions of damage have been reported.

The enormous task of relief is proceeding effectively.

The supply situation is satisfactory in the circumstances, but food and medical supplies continue to be distributed by rail and also by air with the assistance of the Royal Air Force. Twenty-five aircraft were employed yesterday in the transport of doctors and nurses, medical stores and limited milk, and a regular air freight service began today. Medical relief is also being provided to the surrounding villages. The evacuation of the inhabitants is proceeding smoothly, including those only slightly injured.—British Official Wireless Service.

NEW CRISIS IN FRANCE

Collapse of the Government

After Four Days

FOLLOWING DEFEAT OF THE FINANCIAL POWERS BILL

[BY WIRELESS.]

London, June 4.

Following the formation of the new Government, the drain of gold from France has ceased, and an early reduction of the bank rate is expected.

An official statement issued by the Ministry of Finance confirms the report that M. Caillaux's Primary International Stabilisation on the basis of the present parity of the franc, but suggests that he is too pre-occupied to deal with a stabilisation conference at present as he is absorbed in elaborating the budget and in the unimportance of the present rate of the franc.

The statement adds that M. Caillaux does not consider that he should take the initiative in calling a stabilisation conference.

The Cabinet has unanimously approved the text of the Ministerial declaration and the Finance Powers Bill which the Premier is presenting to the chamber this afternoon.

Statement of Policy

The Ministerial declaration which was presented to both Houses this morning is the Government is constituted on the basis of the widest coalition since the war. Its object is to maintain the currency, to restore finance and to assemble in economic measures as necessary. The Government will use all powers to smash the speculators and to make the franc safe. It aims at budgetary equilibrium and promises to aid agriculture, industry and commerce to reduce unemployment.

The Government will promote the policy of peace because France is peaceful. She must, however, have constant care for national defence and the collective organisation of security.

Early Defeat

Later. The Government was defeated by two votes on the Finance Powers Bill and has decided to resign.

Despite the adverse vote on the Finance Powers Bill the Chamber passed a vote of confidence in the Government by 303 votes to 102.

Tense Scenes

Paris, June 4. The Government's defeat by 304 votes to 302 was due to the combination of the Radical and Socialist votes.

The Socialist Government resigned for less than four hours. Mr. Caillaux, who was brother-in-law of Lord Joffre, leaves two sons and four daughters.—British Official Wireless Service.

PART OF FORMER GERMAN FLEET

MR. MACDONALD'S RETIREMENT

End of His Work as Prime Minister

RESIGNATION THIS WEEK

Expected to See the King on Friday

[BY WIRELESS.]

Rugby, June 5. Parliament will adjourn on Friday for the Whitstable recess, and although no official intimation has yet been given, it has for some time been understood in political circles that when the House of Commons reconvenes, ten days later Mr. Stanley Macdonald will have retired from the Premiership and his office will have been assumed by Mr. Baldwin as head of the reconstructed Government, largely constituted by the same members and on continuing the same national basis as the present Government.

It is understood that Mr. Macdonald will be received by the King on Friday and will intimate his desire to be relieved of his Premiership.

Six Years in Office

It is six years to-day since for the second time he became Premier, and he has held that post without interruption ever since. It is widely expected that Mr. Macdonald will remain in the Government but with a post which will permit him to continue his administrative work which is involved in the Premiership. The close and intimate co-operation between him and Mr. Baldwin, which has been such a notable feature of the last six years, would thus be maintained.

Mr. Macdonald, who presided over this morning's usual weekly meeting of the Cabinet, intends to spend the Whitstable recess at Lochmowrie, Scotland.—British Official Wireless Service.

The above picture is interesting in view of the Anglo-German Naval agreement now taking place in London. It shows the flagship "Bayer," one of the German warships sunk by her crew at Scapa Flow, which was recently raised, being towed to Rostock in order to be broken up.

ANGLO-GERMAN NAVAL TALKS

The Problem of Old Ships

GERMANY'S CASE

[BY WIRELESS.]

London, June 5.

Sir John Simon formally opened the Anglo-German naval talks at the Foreign Office this morning and then withdrew, leaving the talks to the experts. The British delegates in the talks are Sir R. Craigie, C.B., C.M.G., Assistant Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, Vice-Admiral C. J. C. Little, C.B., Lord Commissioner of the Admiralty and Deputy Chief of Naval Staff, and Captain Danckwerts. The German members are Herr von Ribbentrop, Admiral Schuster, and Captain Kiderlen and Wasmann.

It is understood that Herr von Ribbentrop outlined Germany's reason for claiming 35 per cent of the British tonnage, the British delegation asking questions as regards Germany's building programme and armaments personnel.

The vital issue will be reached when the delegates discuss the problem of obsolescent ships, as Germany's claim would give her a marked superiority over the British fleet in home waters because German warships would be older, while a large part of Britain's naval strength would be obsolete or dispersed in other waters.

Naval circles are discussing the possibility of Britain's utilizing the "escalator" clause of the London Treaty.

Form a new Cabinet, and advised the President to offer the Premiership to M. Jeanneney, the President of the Senate. M. Lelorgne will do so this evening, but it is expected that M. Jeanneney will decline. M. Lelorgne is expected to be then named as M. Laval's successor in the Premiership and forming a Ministry to-day to meet Parliament on Thursday.

The members of the Socialist Party, at a meeting of the latter wing group, proposed that the formation of a provisional Government in order to cope with the situation in order to prepare for dissolution. The Radicals opposed the proposal.

MORE FRONTIER INCIDENTS

Alleged Raids by Abyssinians

Troops Killed

[BY WIRELESS.]

Rugby, June 4.

Thirty Italian subjects of Eritrea were killed in the Dankali region on May 31 when an Italian native police outpost was attacked by Abyssinians, according to an official communique. Some thousand head of cattle were also captured.

The military commander of the sector has taken the necessary measures to ensure the safety of Italian subjects.

A further serious incident was reported on the same day when the Italian Somaliland frontier where 20 armed Abyssinians attacked an Italian outpost near Gubbie. It is understood that at least ten Abyssinians were killed in the second incident.

PALESTINE

Suggested Increase in Area

[BY WIRELESS.]

London, June 4.

Difficulties in the way of the development of Palestine are being discussed in a letter to "The Times," in which it is suggested that the only solution is to increase the area subject to development so as to include Transjordan. He declares that ultimately this is inevitable through their economic necessity.

"Normandie" Creates a New Record

CROSSING TO NEW YORK IN FOUR & A HALF DAYS

Beats "Bremen's" Time

FRANCE NOW HOLDS BLUE RIBBON OF THE ATLANTIC

[BY WIRELESS.]

New York, June 3.

The French liner "Normandie" has established a new record for the trans-Atlantic crossing.

It passed the Ambrose Lightship at the entrance to New York Harbour at ten o'clock this morning. Eastern time, having covered the 3,192 miles from Southampton in 107 hours and 33 minutes at an average speed of 29.68 knots.

The previous best time was the German liner "Bremen's" 110 hours and 27 minutes. The Italian liner "Ilex" established a record for 16 hours and 36 minutes for the crossing from Gibraltar.

The "Normandie's" speed on Sunday and Monday averaged 31.55 knots.

Since the days of sail when the crews of the Australian grain ships and the tea Clippers stirred half the world, no voyage has aroused more interest than the trans-Atlantic passage—and sea-venture has been more eagerly sought for by maritime nations than that of securing the fastest crossing.

The history of the trans-Atlantic steamship service began in 1837, when the British companies were organized, and the first passage was in April 1839, when a 700-ton steamship, "Sirius" chartered by the British and American Steamship Company, of London crossed from Cork to New York in 17 days. The first regular service to a well-accommodated steamer came when Mr. Samuel Cunard obtained the contract for the carrying of mails from Liverpool to Halifax and Boston, and ran a line of four steamships identical in size, power and accommodation. The first steamer, a paddle boat, made the crossing in July, 1840, taking 18 days.

In 1860 the passage time from Queenstown, had been cut down to nine days, the liner "Beaumont" making the record. The Italian line held the record until the "City of Paris" in 1907 making

The winter journey in eight days four hours, and the eastern passage record, of seven days 22 hours, was set up in 1929 by the "City of Paris," then one of the largest ships ever built, with a tonnage of 14,000 tons, and the time taken to cross the Atlantic was less than six days.
The "Lancaster," another Cunarder, of 12,500 tons, cut the time to five days eight hours in 1929.

The "Manzanita"
All these westward passages were from Queenstown, and in 1929 the Hibernian-American Line's "Deutschland" of 16,200 tons, established a five-and-a-half day record for the Cherbourg-Antwerp crossing. In 1929 the famous Cunarder, "Mauretania" (30,000 tons) staggered the world with a crossing from Queenstown with a time of 106 hours 41 minutes, and the supreme quality of her construction was demonstrated when, no fewer than 15 years later, she again established a record, this time for the eastward passage, taking 121 hours 40 minutes to Cherbourg.
The 51,650-ton Bremen established a record in 1929 by crossing from Cherbourg in 114 hours 17 minutes, and the following year her sister ship "Europa" cut the time down by 30 minutes. The "Europa" lowered her own record in 1932 with a time of 111 hours 56 minutes, and then the "Bremen" lowered the record still further by crossing in 110 hours 27 minutes, the figure which stood for the westward crossing until the "Normandie" present feat. The fastest West-East time is that of the Canadian Pacific liner, "Empress of Britain" (23,348 tons) which crossed from Quebec to Cherbourg last year in 102 hours 58 minutes.

World's Largest Ship
The new record holder is the largest ship in the world. She was re-designed in order to exceed the "Queen Mary's" dimensions. She is over 1,000 feet long and has a tonnage of 119,171. While colossal, powerful engines and the most advanced through shafting have been introduced to enable the "Normandie" to exceed the time set by her but also has put up another "world record"—that of luxury in accommodation.
The main dining room has a length of over 300 feet, and a height extending through three decks. The most modern ways of decoration are employed in the hall, which eight magnificent lounge doors open into smaller dining-rooms. There is a vast main lounge, while the main hall is done in Algerian style. There is a permanent theatre-cum-cinema and a complete country garden, with pergolas, shrubs, flower-beds, fountains and singing birds at the forward end of the promenade deck. For the sportsman there is the largest swimming pool ever installed in any ship to date, with a complete gymnasium, and another swimming pool for the tourist class.
There are 448 first-class cabins, of which 24 have a private verandah, while there are four suites de luxe of which two have a completely open private deck.
The ship is designed so that there are only 125 inside cabins and special care has been taken to have gay and cheerful rooms. All rooms have standard furnished beds with bolting-up mattresses, wardrobes, chests of drawers, arm-chairs, telephones and hot and cold ventilation which can be adjusted at the passengers' convenience. Many of the cabins can be quickly converted into sitting rooms and suites for two, three or five passengers can be arranged. The tourist class passengers, whose accommodation extends over three decks, have a complete set of public rooms, including a gymnasium, and a children's playroom, while among the features of the third class accommodation, which is situated in the after part of the ship are electric lifts and a large sun-deck.
Thirty-five thousand pigeons, worth £46,000, were released at Bournemouth Central station for a 50-mile air race to the north. Pigeon clubs staked hundreds of pounds on the race.

There is nothing better than the BEST
Indisputable Facts prove that "OVALTINE" is Supreme for Health
For giving health all day and sleep all night there is nothing so equal to "Ovaltine." Instructions may be made to food like "Ovaltine"—but they are definitely not the same. The differences serve to emphasize the superiority of "Ovaltine." Remember those indisputable facts:—
"Ovaltine" does not contain Household Sugar as given to babies and to lower the cost. Impurities contain large percentage of household sugar. Sugar is cheap and can be added in the home if required.
"Ovaltine" does not contain Starch. Owing to its perfected and exclusive processes of manufacture, "Ovaltine" is entirely free from starch—an undesirable feature in a food beverage.
New diet contains a large percentage of Cocoa. A small percentage of Cocoa is used as a flavoring only. It is not relied upon for food value, and special measures are taken to remove its starchy content.
Only the best ingredients are good enough for "Ovaltine." The standard egg used in the "Ovaltine" is an American product of the highest quality. The "Ovaltine" Dairy Farm milk is the most natural kind of creaming body ever used in the manufacture of a food of health. "Ovaltine" has the benefit of intensive research in this field and incorporates every requirement of advanced scientific thought to produce a milk substitute which is as valuable "as in milk."

The Penny Post

To one of the greatest of British Postmasters general is attributed the innovation of the penny post.
Sir Rowland Postlethwaite, who was put into active practice in 1840, when the number of letters handled by the Post Office rose from 80,000,000 to 170,000,000 in one year. He felt that it was not send a letter from London to Hampstead and 1/3d to dispatch
a message from Warwick to Dover.
Thirty years later in 1870 the number of letters carried amounted to 800,000,000 annually. But this fine achievement would mean the very end of penny post was inaugurated in and confined to the London district. An enterprising citizen named William Dobkewitz established the penny post in 1890, on the ruins of W. J.
Linn and Mar. There were eight delivers per day to residential districts and twelve to the commercial quarters. This proved to be such a profitable venture that the Government took over the service — and took Dobkewitz for some understandable reason.
This was evidently a case of a British citizen's enterprise being the methods of the White Queen in "Alice."

France Still Without a Cabinet

M. LAVAL ABANDONS TASK OF FORMING MINISTRY

Insufficient Support

REMARKABLE MANIFESTO ISSUED BY THE SOCIALISTS

France is still without a Premier and Cabinet. M. Laval, the Foreign Secretary in the late Ministries, was invited to accept the task...

The Socialists have issued a manifesto demanding the nationalisation of key industries and the Bank of France, the dissolution of the Chamber and a general election.

The President has now invited M. Pietri, late Minister of Marine to form a Cabinet, and he is now in consultation with political leaders.

The Plenary Powers Bill

Left groups participate in the Government on a very wide basis.

It is announced that M. Laval is sending for M. Herriot, who would recommend that M. Daladier be offered the Premier's post.

It is understood that M. Laval wanted the Plenary Powers Bill limited to the defence of the army and the Radicals only.

Another Attempt M. Pietri, Minister of Marine in M. Laval's Cabinet, and also the short-lived Minister under M. Daladier and a member of the Left Republican Party, has been invited to form a Government and is now consulting with political leaders.

CHAIRMAN'S STATEMENT

The following letter, addressed to the Editor of the 'East African Standard' has been received from Mr. J. Campbell, the Chairman of the Children's Holiday Resort.

Sir, I am writing on behalf of the Holiday Camp Committee to ask you to assist us, as you have done in the past, in collecting funds for the Children's Seaside Camp to be held in August.

The Committee recognise that times are hard at present but never-the-less they feel confident that the people of Kenya will do all they can to ensure the Camp being held in August.

It was at one time hoped to run two separate Camps for boys and girls but it is found that this is not feasible this year. It will therefore be run on the same lines as hitherto.

It is proposed to send the children down to the Coast about August 9 or 10 and to break up about August 27 so that they will have a full fortnight at the seaside.

Sir Ali bin Salim, with his well-known generosity, is erecting a Sports Ground which will add to the attractions of this year's Camp and in addition has carried out other improvements too numerous to mention.

Last year 85 boys and 93 girls were sent down and the cost of the Camp, including Railway fares, was over Shs. 9,000. We are starting this season with a small budget in hand so I trust that the response to the appeal will be good in order that as many children as possible may get the benefit of a holiday at the seaside.

The Girl Guides are having the use of the Camp after the parents and when the Guides break up the Camp will be available for parents with children. No charge is made to the Camp and they may, if they wish, make donations to the fund and thus help to provide for next year's camp.

Yours faithfully, J. CAMPBELL, Chairman, Children's Holiday Resort Fund.

"The inhabitants are a quick-witted, progressive and intelligent people, destined to play a prominent part in the development of Kenya. It follows that a knowledge of their customs and thoughts is indispensable to the Government officials, to the Missionary and in fact to all who come into close contact with them."

LONDON STOCK AND SHARE MARKETS

The trend of Foreign Exchanges became more favourable during the week ending May 28, and the gold share market to the gold share market. Mr. G. A. Tyson in his report. The general upward trend and business in this market has been induced to grow in volume but the pit-gained market has suffered on the uncertainty as to the near future. This sense of uncertainty has caused a fair amount of selling of the favorites in the London Stock and Share Market. The market has been a little better, but the peak prices prior to the recent trend in prices.

The expected announcement by Mr. Halden on the Air Defence of Britain had the usual effect of sending prices in this market downwards; since then a slight upward movement has occurred, but the peak prices prior to the recent trend in prices has not been equalled.

It was always the safer Soap—safer because of its wonderful antiseptic qualities, which reduce the risk of skin infection to a minimum.

WRIGHT'S COAL TAR SOAP The London Institute of Hygiene has certified Wright's Coal Tar Soap annually since 1904. Its purity, quality and merit.

Each Packet Contains 3 Tablets Packed in Cartons

"Joan Is Big for Her Age" Her's the picture of health—so bright as can be. I've been feeling her Quaker Oats ever since she was a baby.

PRESIDENT OF CARNEGIE THE KENYA ARBOR CORPORATION SOCIETY Meeting of Nairobi Branch

LIBRARY SERVICES OVERLOOKING PROBLEM Need for Free Subscription in Kenya Advertised

["STANDARD" Correspondent.] A meeting of the Nairobi Branch of the Carnegie Corporation was held at the Ball Room on Thursday last. The objects of this meeting may be described as follows: The benefit of the country for the advancement of literature and the promotion of education.

It may be remembered that Dr. Keppel has visited Kenya before, namely in 1926, and that as a result of the arrangements then made to him by the President of the East African Women's League, Mrs. Wright, the Carnegie Corporation later made a grant of £1,000 per annum for a period of five years.

Mr. Lodge remarked that as present all grant revenue realized in Kenya was credited to the general revenue, instead of to the township concerned, where it would be usefully applied to improvements.

It is being understood that draft township rules are now under consideration of Government, the Honorary Secretary was instructed to apply for a copy of the draft rules as the Society may have useful suggestions to offer before the rules are finally approved.

It was pointed out that the effects of the clearance of grassy cover and of cultivation on the slopes on the banks of streams and water courses were already visible in many places, in the form of erosion gullies in the dry weather flow of streams and increase in their flood levels.

Major Ward said he would like to go to the bush and propose the following resolution which was carried unanimously. That all uncultivated land adjacent to a forest reserve be under the control of the Forest Department until such time as it is required for some other purpose.

In regard to the bamboo forest question, fears were expressed that the clearing of the bamboo might affect the local rainfall and the flow of the rivers which rise in the forest. The possibility that the bamboo might not reproduce naturally was also considered.

THE WEATHER The following note on the weather was received yesterday from the Director of the East African Meteorological Service: 12.00 p.m. The afternoon showers anticipated at yesterday's weather report occurred generally over the Highlands. Nairobi recorded 0.82 in. rain.

The Trades have fallen light and coastal rains are improbable, but a recurrence to-day of afternoon and late evening rain in the Highlands may be expected as the upper clouds remain very variable.

Future weather reports, until the approach of the short rains will, in consequence, only refer to the heavy conditions. The heaviest rain occurred on the Coast—Lamu 1.78 in., Mombasa 1.29 in., Malindi 1.18 in., Kilifi 1.32 in.

MAINS OF THE SPECIAL JUBILEE COMPETITION The ladies' stroke competition played on June 1 resulted in a win for Mrs. S. R. Boyd with a net 81. Miss Grace Bell being the runner up with 84.

A mixed foursomes stroke competition is scheduled for the 9th inst. Members are reminded of the prize which is scheduled for the 20th inst. All playing members are urged to take part in both the match and the 15m. knock.

The Novel Breathable Cure for COUGHS BRONCHITIS and SORE THROAT

PEPS

When a Peps tablet dissolves in the mouth, the powerful healing and germicidal ingredients given off are (as the diagram shows) breathed down the windpipe (1) straight into the lungs, whereas liquid medicines are merely swallowed down the gullet (2) into the stomach.

Peps soothes the throat, strengthens the bronchials, loosens phlegm, and frees the breathing. They heal sore inflamed membranes and quickly cure chronic coughs, colds, chills, sore throats, bronchitis, and other ailments of the throat, chest and lungs. All medicine dealers sell Peps.

Indians in Kenya

AN AFRICAN CLAIM FOR EMPLOYMENT

To the Editor, "E.A. Standard," Sir—You allow Europeans and Indians to write to your paper and you print what they say. Sometimes we see letters written by Africans and I hope very much you will allow us to see them in your paper as it is the view of many of the same people as we are, and we want Natives people to know what we sometimes think.

This letter is about Municipal Council. There has been lots of talk in the Standard of declaring Europeans and replacement of some by Indians, we want if this event occurs to replace Indians by Africans.

We meet with very much regret that the one gentleman on Council, Mr. Allen, who is known to thousands of Africans, was not a great friend of Africa, was not invited to sit on Committee of Council, and that man who had chance here, we use to think of us, no one to speak for us.

We are told we do not pay the rates, every man that owns a house in Pangani or Pongwezi pays Shs. 2 per month, a sum of Shs. 24 per year, and we pay more for water than European of Indian. We know that people of other races living in the Municipal area who reside with friends pay nothing.

We must not think of us as a Committee of two Indians and two Europeans who we do not know and never will know, and say what jobs go to Indians and what jobs Europeans can have. My most sad Mr. Warship Mayor of Nairobi, to think of us when you are giving away jobs and to put our above mentioned friend on any of your committees.

We hope, Mr. Editor, that this letter will not offend you and that you will help a good cause by printing it in your good paper so it can be read by all those from many countries and by many Africans.

I type this letter to let you see that some day I may be educated and fit to be employed.

FIVE AFRICANS NOT WORKING

Nairobi, June 5, 1935.

Indo-African commercial relations may be studied in the chronicles of those times, both Asian and European.

Besides this, contemporary European activities on the West Coast of Africa coupled with the savagery of the slave trade, history shows that European history, traces quality of those hours have no right to boast of being civilized.

The Indian race did trade in slaves, but history has never accused Asians of brutal treatment of slaves or of having devised and perfected a system of human civilization. Writing in the Nineteenth Century of May 1885, Mr. Phully an authority on African affairs, recommended that the issue of slavery in Arabia should be waived "with all haste" to extend the domestic slavery of Arabia is not what it is imagined to be by those who write and talk about it most frequently. One need not refer to the intricate details of the East.

The development of Kenya commenced with no humanitarian motives. The Indian race had no urge for striking out for the conquest and usurpation of other peoples' lands. The smallest of European countries in Europe, the inconceivable of the great in western Europe, had no mechanical inventions of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries, made Europe land hungry. That was the reason why the inferior of Africa was explored, why a scramble for acquisition of African territories by usurpation occurred, and that was the development of Kenya commenced.

If the Indian race was not land hungry and if it did not acquire any territory by methods of imperialism and penetration and usurpation, the Indian race would not have been established in it. At least the hands are clean. But the Indian treatment of the East, the Indian man never were closely associated with exploration and the early defence measures of Eastern and Central Africa. The opening up of the interior regions of East Africa has been entirely due to the enterprise, trade aptitude, capital and sacrifice of the Indian race. The townships of Kenya are built, maintained and populated by Indians. It is this close association in development that entitles the Indian community to an equal and not a subordinate position in the life of the Colony. Its lands are not ruled by the rule of slave trade, imperialism and ambition to dominate. The development of Kenya has been taken over by the Indian race, however has been due to the clean association of Indians with Europeans and would have been impossible otherwise. That association is the basis of the Indian race, the basis of the Indian claim.

GEOLOGICAL SURVEY

To the Editor, "E.A. Standard," Sir—Among the various proposals made by the Tanganyika Government for the further development of that Territory, which schemes were recently submitted to the Secretary of State for the Colonies, is a proposal for the establishment of a Geological Survey. It is to be noted that the Geological Survey scheme has been approved by the Secretary of State for the Colonies, and that provision has been made for the further extension of the same work done by their existing Geological Department. Also that the Home Government has granted a sum of £27,000 for the establishment of a Geological Survey in Tanganyika.

about the building of Kenya. But it should be understood that Indian were the first to venture upon the wild continent. Seeing them do these things peacefully and prosperously the European thought that there was no danger. Even if there was any danger it was not to be the European. For no weapon but a barbed wire with dog to people with firearms. The European is not who is a brave or a conqueror, this country. To kill Africans with firearms is a child's play. To do a hundred or two a foot and butcher a whole town is sheer self-defence. The brave the European least of all, no bravery but bravado.

Mr. Davis says something about the kindness of the King of the East African Standard, but let Mr. Davis forget I remind him that Hindu civilization dates back as far as a recorded thousand years. Even before Roman came into its being, I do not want to enter into discussion about this petty matter.

Mr. Davis has the courage to say that Indians have exported their surplus to England. This statement I repeat. Take these collections from Indians for export the evidence from the English. If all Indians were to give away their surplus to England, the public institutions the banks would not be working on a grand buildings.

Take the recent example. Had no Indian surplus to give away, the Jubilee Fund organized by the Government, the Committee would not have been established to collect money. And did they collect money? They in the dream of King Lear, they could not do so without putting some portions of it in the hands of the King.

There is nothing in the Colony which does not require the full support of the Indian Community. Again I repeat that the full support of the Indian Community is forgotten and will never be forgotten till December.

lators for the provision of ways and means for the Geological Survey Department is to be carried on, with active field parties at work in the most promising sections and that such work may be started without further delay.

That gold—as well as base metals of economic importance—is to be found in many areas, other than the present known Kavirondo and Lolionge fields, can hardly be doubted. Why is it that Kenya alone, amongst the Colonies, Protectorates, Mandated Territories, and Trust Territories, has as yet no proper Geological Field Survey Department organized and at work? And this in spite of the recent important gold discoveries within her boundaries.

If Tanganyika and Uganda can support a well-organized Geological Field Survey section, which are both doing most valuable work, why may not Kenya?

To the General Manager, Kenya and Uganda Railways and Harbours, Nairobi.

Sir—We regret having been compelled to lodge a complaint now regarding the complaint irregularities of the boat service on our part. There has been so much so that the regular arrival of the boat at our port has become erratic rather than the previous correspondence in this connection.

Number of packages of fresh produce, etc., are perished due to the late arrival of the boat. The authorities aware that the southern mail boat on the 7th May arrived at our port at 6 p.m. and the one on 21st arrived at 10 p.m. Are we to understand that the authorities will hold itself responsible for all such losses, due to no fault of importers but its own, the arrival being out of scheduled time.

Would the authorities consider the undesirability of the importers, who are not able to get their mails in time and realize them to reply by the same boat?

Is the authority aware that the late arrival of the ship renders the importers of the perishable goods to clear their goods on arrival by having high carting charges to the H. M. Customs to save them from total losses of such goods?

There are a number of other difficulties that could be added to the above. But we hope that under the present uncommercial conditions in which the Government and the commercial community are doing their utmost to improve their losses and expenditure, the matter would receive your immediate attention.

Yours etc.
A. H. FANES,
Managing Director.

Road and Weather Report

Mr. Galton-Fenn writes as follows—

Again the rains have eased of this week, especially in Uganda, Kenya and Central Tanganyika. There have however been showers in the coastal area from Mikindani right up to Lango. A fair amount of rain has also fallen on the eastern borders of Lake Victoria as well as on the Usambara Mountains in the extreme south of Tanganyika.

In Kenya the heaviest rainfall this week has been at the coast, headed by Lamu with 41 inches, Mombasa 2 inches, Koro and Mtwara 11 inches, and Kericho. For Ternan 11 inches and Buni-rui four quarters of an inch. The rest of the country is dry. The Mombasa road has been reopened to traffic as it is in condition; the worst section being the 17 miles between Longido and Nanungu. The best way out of Nairobi is of course via Athi River. The road to be taken to Kapitiadi branching off before one crosses the railway line.

In Tanganyika there have been exceptionally heavy rains at Dar-es-Salaam 1.4, 62 inches in seven days. This is followed by Mwanza and Amani and Baginoyi with 41 and 40 1/2 inches. The main trunk road to Bukoba 14 inches and Mtwara 11 inches. The main trunk road to the Capa is in good condition and most roads are now going through as the season is beginning. By the way will members going south note that I have just concluded regional arrangements with the District Country Club, whereby on payment of a small fee we can become honorary members and use the club for a fortnight? I hope therefore that many people will be able to avail themselves of this.

In Uganda the rains have also eased off, the two wettest places being Mbarara and Fort Portal. Loads of course are in their usual excellent condition.

The following is the state of country roads as per telegraphic information just received—

WHITER TEETH

KOLYNOL Dental Cream is the most effective germicide-antiseptic tooth paste, contains absolutely no gratifying and is entirely free from harmful bleaching action. Yet it is unsurpassed as a cleansing and whitening agent by reason of its unusual power to remove unightly stains and wash away the germ-laden "bacteria-plaque" covering the teeth.

Because of its proved antiseptic properties, Kolynos actually kills harmful germs in a few seconds and keeps the teeth and mouth thoroughly clean and healthy.

Being highly concentrated, Kolynos is extremely economical—half-an-inch is enough. Kolynos is BEST used on a DRY toothbrush.

Birth of a New African City

NORTHERN RHODESIA'S CAPITAL

Lusaka: Its Planning and Building

Entrance to Government House, The Porte Cochere.

Residence for head of Department.

The Government Central Offices.

WORK OF A NAIROBI ARCHITECT

PROBABLY alone among all parts of the British Empire the Colony of Northern Rhodesia postponed its Jubilee Week until the period beginning May 28 and ending on His Majesty's Birthday, June 6. With the exception of the Thanksgiving Service held on May 6, in common with the rest of the Empire, there were no Jubilee Celebrations in Northern Rhodesia during the time when the people of Great Britain and Overseas possessions and Dominions were joining together in organised rejoicing. The reason why Northern Rhodesia was an exception to a world wide programme was Lusaka.

Lusaka, as most people know, is the name of the new capital of the territory. Until recently it had no claim to importance. It was merely a small wattle-roofed native village, deriving its name from an African chief, in the fertile valley it will probably rank among the great capitals of the Empire in Africa, and will certainly occupy a prominent place—probably a conspicuous place—before its inception the problems of town-ness of the mining area from the capital aided considerably by the existing administrative disadvantage. The Government of Northern Rhodesia was, therefore, compelled, though perhaps earlier than anticipated, to search for a new site. Lusaka the selected centre is on the railway, and in the middle of the developing settled area. It stands at an altitude of about 4,000 feet in plain upland country not far from the Kafue River, and has the added advantages of road connections with east and north. It is, in fact, on the Great North Road leading to Nairobi.

A project has been under consideration for a long time in Northern Rhodesia to construct a railway from Kabwe to Sinoia, and when this scheme materialises, it seems likely that Lusaka will become an important and central distributing depot for the trade from the Congo and the north passing through the port of Beira.

Health Advantages

From a health point of view Lusaka is always a very important consideration in an African colony.

Establishment of a modern town with healthy and sanitary lines. Professor Adelson produced a plan which contained all the features and amenities of a city. The various sectors of the embryonic capital were shown on the plan, physically divided by parks, a cathedral on high ground held above the capital the ideals of Christian civilisation, and all the cultural and recreational amenities—sports clubs, libraries and even a swimming bath, found their place. Not did Professor Adelson allow his vision of the future of Northern Rhodesia to lack spontaneity—he selected a site for a future University.

To plan a city on virgin land, to build the nucleus of the capital for a country is essentially an act of faith, a looking forward to the increase that the years will bring. This is the first sentence from a small and very modest booklet called "Lusaka 1952" which was prepared on behalf of the Government of Northern Rhodesia and published in limited edition for private circulation. It describes the site of the new capital as one commanding open views in all directions over undulating rural savannah country, lighted here and there by the clearings of farmstead by the Government, it is not an entirely new experience in Northern Rhodesia. The slim volume already referred to gives an interesting background of administrative history which indicates a degree of importance in administrative affairs, unique even in an African Colony. For Jameson was once the capital of Northern Rhodesia, and Kalomo the centre of the North-West. In 1907 when blackwater had become a menace, Kalomo was abandoned, and the Government removed itself to Livingstone, mainly for the reason that at that time this was the only place with an excess of accommodation over normal building requirements. It was recognised at the time that this selection was purely temporary until a more central and more suitable site could be chosen.

In 1911 the two sections of Northern Rhodesia were united with the result that Fort Jameson last its status, and Livingstone began to assume the airs of a permanent capital. Perhaps there was some reluctance to remove, because Livingstone was not without charm, and the Zambezi and the Victoria Falls were no mean natural attraction. When the decision was ultimately made to change, the Government decided to make a clean break from the half formed word and iron townships common to the early African position, but uniting to the dispersal of Government in a rapidly expanding Colony.

It must have been a wrench to part with the glories of the Zambezi, the quiet palm fringed beaches of the upper river, the ferns, the sunsets, the cool comforts of running water and green trees moving in the wind, the ever changing grandeur of the gorge, so familiar, but always a little troubling; for these there can be no substitute. Thus the writer of the official handbook on Lusaka pays tribute with regret to the past. But looking forward to the future, he has this to say of Lusaka: "Nevertheless, the Kafue some thirty miles from Lusaka is a wide and beautiful river, and no doubt before many years are past a complete and a great road will have brought it within the reach of everyone living in Lusaka. In years to come, the people of Lusaka will find in the fertile pastures, the hills of acacia and cedars and scenery of slow, extensive movement, the things that are not over. Meanwhile those who have grown to love the islands of the Zambezi must content themselves with the wide vistas the bring air and the amenities of the capital of the south and the surrounding country-side.

The Architect

In 1932 the architecture of all the Government buildings was entrusted to Mr. F. H. Hooper, F.R.I.B.A. of the firm of Messrs. Hooper and Jackson, Nairobi. Mr. Hooper was a chief assistant of Sir Herbert Baker and was associated with him in designing the world famous Administrative Buildings in Pretoria and New Delhi. He was also connected with the preparation of plans for some of the important public buildings in Kenya as a consequence of the Kenya Government's employment of Sir Herbert Baker for a short period in an advisory capacity. Sir Herbert Baker whose association with African development goes back to the personal supervision of "red Rhodes" has always believed in the psychological importance of native and well-planned buildings as an influence on the formation of public ideals in the life of a new country. In Mr. Hooper's mind an ideal pupil in his school of thought.

In the time Mr. Hooper was appointed the Public Works Department of Northern Rhodesia had begun the construction of a new capital, by concentrating a number of bungalows which had in keeping with the architectural outlook of the expert were at that time the three, stone block, viable for a considerable distance, were to be replaced by double-storied houses. Unengaged iron roofs disappeared and there was a studied avoidance of everything in the way of modern design.

It is of some interest to the people of East Africa to learn that Mr. Hooper, in addition to providing the architect, made another important contribution to the new capital of Northern Rhodesia. The bungalows available were of poor quality, and since corrugated iron on the main avenue running along the ridge, and in white stucco and for a considerable distance, were to be replaced by double-storied houses. Unengaged iron roofs disappeared and there was a studied avoidance of everything in the way of modern design.

In addition, there are hospital buildings, the Government printing works, an electric power station, the beginnings of a Gymkhana Club overlooking a cricket ground, tennis courts and a golf course. The club which includes such Another feature of the new capital is the introduction of blocks of flats for some grades of the Civil Service. There are six of these at present, each containing eight flats, with two rooms, kitchen and bathroom, and they were particularly designed for junior unattached officials of both sexes.

Lusaka already boasts with some affluence, a particular building called the Yodel House, which is the materialisation in Africa of a dream which began in the Austrian Tyrol. A feature of this house is the garage into which a door leads from the dining room to avoid the inconvenience, well-known to many residents in Africa, of staggering through mud after dinner to the car in heavy rain. In fact, a great deal of understanding of human nature in its relation to housing problems has been introduced into the design of Lusaka houses in this new Imperial capital.

The Bungalows

It may be interesting to remark at this stage, that the housing accommodation has been designed to create, by wide eaved roofs and pale plastered walls, an atmosphere reminiscent of Italy, particularly when the glow from the setting sun gives them that peculiarly attractive pink effect associated with the Mediterranean country-side. All the buildings are equipped with modern aids to house-keeping: each window has mosquito gauze, and instead of open essential features as a dance floor, billiard room and card rooms, has a flat roof for the double purpose of air fresco fans and as a hand stand.

Of course, one of the most important buildings in a capital city in a Colony, if not the most important, is Government House. It is not as big as was originally intended, but it is based on plans prepared by Mr. Walter, F.R.I.B.A., which were exhibited at the Royal Academy last year. The house is designed with what is called the Old Colonial Georgian Manor, and the sand faced bricks planning on modern principles, were studied by qualified experts. The result is a hoped to be a model capital.

Lusaka replaces Livingstone, which, since the early history of the Territory, has been the seat of Government. Livingstone, though seven miles from Victoria Falls, is in the southernmost corner of Northern Rhodesia, and nearly 1,000 miles from Abercorn at the other extremity of the Colony. Although the proposal to change the site of the capital seemed a long and often bitter controversy, it has now been generally accepted that the development of the territory would make it increasingly difficult to retain as the chief administrative centre a township clinging to the southern boundary of the country.

The factor which perhaps weighed more than any other in favour of an early decision was the development of the copper mines near the Congo border. This development attracted a large increase in European population, and the particularly in the chief administrative centre, Lusaka has important advantages over Livingstone. The old capital is in one of the least habitable in Northern Rhodesia, and is a town built literally on sand clinging to the slopes of the Zambezi valley, and suffering somewhat from the enervating climate incidentally associated with its surroundings. Lusaka, on the other hand, standing at a relatively high altitude, is far more bracing.

Before making a final selection of a site the Government consulted Professor Adelson, a well-known London town-planning expert, and also Sir Alexander Rennie, Scots and Deacon, the British firm of water engineers. These experts have become much more closely together in the country's capital.

lands and with the great of tenant hills lying low on the horizon. Town-planners, architects and engineers were not cramped for space. They had a magnificent field for the development of ideas and ideals, because, perhaps wisely, they and the Government of Northern Rhodesia recognised that here was a site quite unoccupied, and, from a land value point of view, inexpensive, based on a policy of development based on an extended plan. They also decided in contrast to Canberra and New Delhi, that Lusaka should not become merely an administrative centre, but should develop along the lines of a real capital, including commercial, professional and other usual services of a modern town. Accordingly, the spaces between the administrative buildings will be available for building purposes for the general needs of the country, and by this means the official and unofficial communities will be drawn together in the country's capital.

Changing Capitals

Incidentally, it is perhaps worth recording that although this is the greatest undertaking in the direction of creating a capital, so far

Another instalment of Gordon Shaw's Stirling Ranch Story for Boys.

A Wild West Robin Hood

(Synopsis of the center instalment.)

The How and Arrow Ranch owned by Old Man Goddard, was a whim of the owner named by Robin Hood characters. There were Bob Hood, the youngest son, Lincoln Greene, the sturdy and unpopular foreman, "Black" Fryer, Bill Scarlett, Alan Doyle, Tiny Claughton and the show-boy Mary Ann. Returning home one night with "Robin Hood," Old Man Goddard was shot by two masked highwaymen. "Robin Hood" was called upon to explain the incident.

farm and obtain a wagon. They did only to be held up by a negro cook armed with a chopper. They overpowered the negro and got away with the wagon, and returning to the ranch took the wounded men on board and set out on a thirty mile journey for safety. On the way they were suddenly held up by Ohio Ollie who emptied his pistol at the party but without effect. They managed to overpower Ollie, who was thrown from his horse. They tied him up and took him with them. On arrival at the hospital they were arrested by a deputy sheriff.

TAKEN TO PRISON

For a desperate moment both Bob Hood and Bill Scarlett felt and looked like roasting. But only for a moment. They knew it would be useless, and would prejudice Bob's case badly when it came to trial the next day. They had to put up with desperate outlaws that they were constantly tried to shed from their liberty.

"All right, then," Bob growled, and he walked on ahead of the threatening deputy, his hands held well up; Bill Scarlett, grinning his teeth with rage and justification, followed.

"Anybody," Bob muttered, "Mary Ann missed this. Tin gland of a! Shouldn't like that kid to be hauled in trouble on my account."

"There were no formalities observed when Deputy Sheriff Jones got his prisoners to the town calaboose. He just shoved them at the point where he goes into a cell at the back of his office, and a grizzled dog was chained to them.

"The deputy did not even return with food for his prisoners, but he warned them to be ready to go before the local judge the following morning.

"They were wined out and left them after taking a look round the cell. He made a slip of tongue, and the deputy of the men here that crossed the small window opening. These men would be locked into concrete blocks. The whole jail building was made of concrete blocks, and was, perhaps the most substantial building in town.

"These men Ohio Ollie couldn't break out of," chuckled the deputy.

"What an odd fete! him in and prove it," read Bill Scarlett uttering a gasp as he was ready for his father in, down out of behind the shed on one of the banks. "I guess he's ready for a little shot of the town."

Mary Ann rescues his companions.

"Then they'll learn what happened to us, and they'll—well, I don't know what they'll do. Maybe they'll give themselves up, and take what's own to them."

"They sat and talked till after midnight. They talked about everything but Bob's impending trial for murder. They did not care to talk about it. They talked about the money in that Old Man Goddard had left behind some where, leaving all to Bob. They talked over the number of the self, and Bob tried to make him feel sure as he had suspected that the two masked men who had shot the old man down that night on the trail were indeed Ohio Ollie and Lincoln Greene.

"But what does it matter? They don't see it out all on me and Bob!" "I'm just sure."

Mary Ann Returns

A soft whistle came to their ears. The sternal end looked towards the barred window. Then they heard the soft thinking of a horse's hooves on grass outside. Then I was great of you to want to help me up, but if you'd let Grandfather take me at that you'd let Grandfather save this Bill. And then they are the others.

"These they'll be getting across after a while about us," said Hill Scarlett.

"Now what's he going to do?" "Well, he's going to do his best, I seem," observed Bill Scarlett.

"You're a great kid!" said Hill Scarlett huskily, and Bob Hood felt his eyes pricking at such devotion on the part of this waif of the woods, whose proper name nobody knew.

"All right—now, you just wait and see," said Mary Ann, and he disappeared as he dropped down across the saddle.

The Escape

There was the drumming of hoofs as the dapple-grey broke into a gallop. The horse only took a few leaps over the rail, then those inside the cell heard a tremendous set of sound. A horse—

It was a tight squeeze, but Bill Scarlett just managed to force his body through the space left by the torn-out bar. Bob Hood hastened only for a second. Bob was British-born and had deeply ingrained in him a respect for the law. He had been locked up in jail, with a terrible, though false, charge to face.

As a law-abiding citizen, it was up to him to keep as quiet as possible. "He's got us out!"

"Mary Ann came back to the jail window.

"Can you get through now?" he whispered hoarsely. "Or shall I make the horse pull another bit out?"

Pattern No. 8. "NO."

Blocks No. 8 and 9 are words of the three little pigs, hurled in gaff, gibb defiance at the big bad wolf.

If you have decided to do the Wolf words in blue, we suggest red for the piggies' retort. One letter in solid colour, with the others just in outline is quite effective.

The crayon-cut process which is such fun to do is fairly practical and extremely good looking. Any naturalistic colours may be used, filling in with short sketch lines.

Blending one tint into another, or darkening for shadows as you choose. Wax & paper side down against blotting or other absorbent paper. This draws the colour through by mellowing the wax, making a finish that will not run when washed. It dries faster, lighter though, but can easily be retouched.

As a modern "Robin Hood" he realized that his pals expected him to behave as would that big bad wolf of old.

"So, after Bill Scarlett had whispered to him to hurry up, he squirmed himself through the gap and found himself standing beside Hill, pumping up and down the hand of Mary Ann, who leaned down from the saddle of the dapple-grey and fairly quivered with pleasure at the success of his jail-breaking stunt.

"We can get the track and wagon easy—the livestock at the stable where they've parked the wagon is safe, and the chowmen are asleep. And the chowmen are asleep. And the chowmen are asleep. And the chowmen are asleep.

"Oh, I don't quite get a lot of work since I got into town. Then we should just head it will be the girl's good. Gee! Too. Mia couldn't have done it better."

Next week's instalment will tell of the return of the band to their original camp.

come into the open at once and bid one spade. This may not be according to Coker, but it is one of those cases where convention may be improved with advantage.

However, having opened with two clubs, B's first and second bids are trump. It is a really discouraging bid. With diamonds as trumps it has four certain tricks, two aces and two ruffs, and he should not bid four diamonds, to which A will respond with an diamonds A/B not taking it would not be blamed for being severe in defence.

I think that in view of B's discouraging no trump bid and his being a diamond expert, A was too optimistic in bidding four hearts. There is no reason why a grand slam should not be reached with an opening no-trump bid.

How Great Men Begun

HENRY FORD

Henry Ford, the son of a Michigan farmer, was intended to follow his father's footsteps and be a farmer like his father and his grandfather and his great-grandfather.

Against parental advice he stayed in Detroit, earning $40 a dollar a month with the Detroit Electric Company and experimenting in his spare time with a home-built and hand-built car.

But Ford's ideas and his co-workers' ideas clashed. They were for an expensive car and a good work on each; he was for a cheap car and a good work on each.

The smooth striking of the ball can only be effected by keeping the club head moving in a straight line with the club head as long as possible.

The matter of judging distance is one of the most important. I find it very difficult to get my putting to within a foot or less of the hole.

Keep the right arm close to the body. The back of the left hand and the left elbow pointing to the hole.

The grip is important. Grip firmly but not tightly with both hands. The left hand should be placed on the club first.

Now an important part of the putting is in the back-swing. It should be as far as reasonably possible.

After watching the American putting I made up my mind that I would have to try to do the part of the game all over again.

Next week Leslie Cotton will deal with physical training and the good thing in your horoscope.

HOW TO REDUCE YOUR GOLF HANDICAP

No. 10

THE ART OF PUTTING.

(By W. H. Davies (Wallace), a Ryder Cup player who has made a special study of it.)

When I returned from a tour in the United States and Canada three years ago I was frequently asked my impressions of the American golf professionals as players.

It is of course my job to try to play well in addition to teaching the game and naturally I made it my business to study the methods of the best golf players in America.

Many reasons have been advanced for the superiority on the greens of the American. Some tell us that it is the texture of the grass on the greens.

After watching the American putting I made up my mind that I would have to try to do the part of the game all over again.

Earthquake in India

Enormous Casualties in Quetta District

DISASTROUS UPHEAVAL DURING THE NIGHT

Sleepers Trapped in Falling Houses

CITY AND SURROUNDING AREAS ALMOST COMPLETELY DESTROYED

The earthquake which occurred on Friday in the Quetta district of India, was one of the greatest disasters in history. The death toll reached enormous figures, and there was complete devastation over a very wide area.

Hardly any buildings have been left standing in Quetta itself and it is feared that four-fifths of the population were killed. The police force was practically wiped out.

Aid is being raised from all parts of India and the Government has opened a fund for the relief of districts.

Two Further Shocks

A severe earthquake was recorded last night on Mountbatten in England, the movement beginning at 10.45 p.m. and continuing until after midnight. It was estimated that the focus of the disturbance was 3,700 miles away.

Information regarding the loss of life and damage is meagre as telephonic and telegraphic communications with the affected area were interrupted—British Official Wireless Service.

Severe Damage

Quetta reports state that the railway station, civil station, telegraph office and the native city were all destroyed on the ground as a result of the earthquake, the first shock of which was felt at 2.45 this morning local time.

Heavy Casualties

It is reported that many people have been killed and the injured, including Government officials, while there has been extensive damage.

The Royal Air Force authorities at Quetta have asked the Punjab Government to rush up doctors and nurses.

Enormous Death Roll

Forty-three army men have been killed at Quetta which has almost been razed to the ground and many people are reported to have been killed.

The death toll in the Quetta district is estimated to be 1,000 dead and 200 injured.

Estimated Casualties

From data available, experts here place the total casualties at Quetta at 30,000.

European casualties are about 100 killed and 200 injured.

all the suburbanities and outskirts of the city. The earthquake was felt in the city.

Letters are being posted unattended, on an field service.

Two hundred soldiers who arrived before the earthquake are rendering valuable assistance.

The Government of India has opened a relief fund on the very day that the Jubilee fund for the relief of districts in India closed.

The latest accounts are that 200 patients were killed.

Another earthquake struck Quetta today, bringing a large district which is a landmark in the district.

The latest official estimate of the population was 40,000.

The bodies of about 3,000 Indians were recovered from the ruins.

The relief work is proceeding at a rapid pace.

The King is suffering from a slight chill, and his medical officers, who saw him this morning, recommended that, as a precautionary measure, he should remain indoors today.

His Majesty is continuing to occupy himself with his customary work.

The King attended the Leves at St. James' Palace yesterday morning, but as he later felt slightly indisposed, he cancelled his attendance at the reception which will be held at the London County Council.

JAPANESE WARNING TO CHINA

Invasion Threatened

STRONGLY WORDED NOTE PRESENTED AT PEIPING

A note has been presented by Japan to China protesting against the continued anti-Japanese and anti-Manchukuo activities in Northern China, and threatening invasion of the territory unless they cease.

Japan, the note states, is "tired of Chinese inactivity and double-dealing, and its failure to observe the terms of the recent truce."

Japanese troops staged a demonstration in Tientsin as a result of the Chinese Governor's alleged refusal to dismiss an anti-Japanese magistrate.

Two hundred Japanese soldiers in an armored car and a trencher moved out of the Governor's office today, following the dismissal of a magistrate who had failed to dismiss a magistrate, his blank check was first from the market.

The warning also threatens that the leaders of the movement will be included in a list of persons to be deported.

SIX NEW PEEAGES INCLUDED IN LIST

Many Appointments to Various Orders

East African Recipients

RECOGNITION OF SERVICES IN ALL SPHERES OF ACTIVITY

The honours list issued on the occasion of His Majesty's Birthday and Jubilee, is longer than usual and includes the creation of six new Peesages, nine Baronets and a very lengthy list of knight-hoods in the various orders.

East African honours included the conferment of the G.B.E. upon the Sultan of Zanzibar, and the C.M.G. upon His Excellency Mr. A. de V. Wade, the Acting Governor of Kenya.

In Kenya a number of serving and retired officials have been awarded honours, chiefly in the Order of the British Empire, but the services of only one non-official have been recognized, namely, Mr. Abdul Wahid, a prominent Indian resident of Nairobi, who receives the O.B.E.

WATCH KIDNEYS THE SAME AS THE BOWELS

Watch your kidneys. The same as the bowels. It is a common mistake to think that the kidneys are only for filtering blood. They are also for filtering the bowels. If the bowels are not working properly, the kidneys will be overworked. This can lead to kidney disease. So, watch your kidneys. The same as the bowels.
