COMMONS' ANXIOUS DEBATE ON BOMBING OF SHIPS

Government Bitterly Criticised

"BACKING FRANCO"

ROYAL VISIT TO PARIS PUT OFF

London, June 24.—A Government spokesman today said that the visit of King George VI and Queen Elizabeth to Paris had been postponed indefinitely.

Government Bitterly Criticised

IN A GRAVELY ANXIOUS HOUSE OF COMMONS, THE ATTACKS ON TWO BRITISH SHIPS AT VALENCIA ON TUESDAY WERE DEBATED ON THURSDAY NIGHT AS A MATTER OF "URGENT PUBLIC IMPORTANCE" AND GOVERNMENT SPEAKERS BITTERLY CRITICISED THE LIVES OF BRITISH SAILORS WHO WERE TAKING REFUGIAL WHEN ATTACKS HAD BEEN MADE.

The Prime Minister announced that General Franco had been asked for an immediate explanation, and he asked the House to wait for any further action until after the Government had had time to consider the reply.

The Opposition leader, Mr. Attlee, declared that the Government's inaction would never have been tolerated by any other House of Commons. He did not believe that it was through fear of war that the Government had taken this line, but that it was because it was simply because the Prime Minister was backing Franco.

The House of Commons today debated the bombing of the British ship Albatross and the Albatross at Valencia on Tuesday night. The Albatross was a transport ship carrying 100 British troops and 100 tons of supplies. The Albatross was sunk by a single bomb which fell on the ship's magazine, causing it to explode and sink. The Albatross was the only British ship to be sunk in the Mediterranean during the war.

Mr. Chamberlain, the Prime Minister, announced that the Government had received information from the Spanish Government that the Albatross had been bombed by Spanish aircraft. He said that the Government had immediately requested the Spanish Government to investigate the matter and to take steps to prevent such attacks in the future. He said that the Government had also requested the Spanish Government to take steps to ensure the safety of British ships in the Mediterranean.

Mr. Attlee, the Opposition leader, said that the Government's inaction was a disgrace. He said that the Government had allowed the lives of British sailors to be sacrificed without any attempt to identify the bombers or to take any steps to prevent such attacks in the future. He said that the Government's inaction was a clear indication that it was backing Franco.

The debate continued until late in the evening. Mr. Chamberlain made a statement at the end of the debate, in which he said that the Government would continue to work for the safety of British ships in the Mediterranean. He said that the Government would also continue to work for the safety of British sailors.

London, June 24.—The Dominion Secretary, Lord Stanley, delivered a speech in the House of Lords today and declared the Government's policy in regard to migration and settlement. Geneva, June 24.—The League of Nations Opium Advisory Committee today passed a resolution drawing the attention of the League Council to the serious situation in the Far East. The Committee requests the Governments concerned to take the necessary steps to remedy the situation.

The resolution points out that the situation in China showed that the Chinese Government had made some progress in the control of opium, but that the situation in the areas controlled by the Japanese had deteriorated.

The Committee also expressed its concern over the situation in the Far East, and requested the Governments concerned to take the necessary steps to remedy the situation.

NO RIGHTS FOR FOREIGNERS IN "JAPANESE" CHINA

Compensation For Damage Not Certain

IN FUTURE, FOREIGNERS LIVING IN THE PORTIONS OF CHINA IN JAPANESE CONTROL WILL BE UNDER JAPANESE LAW, AND EXTRA-TERRITORIAL RIGHTS ARE TO BE ABOLISHED. THIS WAS ANNOUNCED IN SHANGHAI YESTERDAY.

A Tokyo message states that foreigners who had sustained losses owing to the hostilities would not necessarily be able to obtain compensation from Japan. The Japanese authorities quote precedents for refusal to pay where a state of war does not exist, according to international law.

June 24.

Extra territorial rights for foreigners were to be abolished in all areas of China under Japanese control. This was announced in Shanghai today by a Japanese spokesman who referred to a Japanese note issued in which a Japanese entry is alleged to have struck an American missionary. Foreigners, the spokesman said, would in future be under Japanese law as if they were in Japan, and would have no special privileges.

Foreigners in China who have sustained losses owing to the war may not be able to claim compensation from Japan. The Japanese authorities in Tokyo gave several precedents for this refusal to pay in cases where a state of war does not exist, according to international law. It is pointed out that this does not necessarily mean that Japan will not pay compensation, but that she reserves the right to deal with such cases on her merits.

A STAR IS BORN

THE TROUBLE with most pictures made by Hollywood and England struggles hard to be like a story that they attempt to imitate. In our opinion they tell of exotic creatures living by the grace of God in their native-land-places without a background, without "cut" days. Their troubles are usually of the most dramatic kind that get sympathy, but the little people who peek at that to the majority of us, that make us merely irritated and hot-tempered rather than lovingly watch "Mystery understand" our heartening cry, but it finds almost everything, even the most unlikely love affairs, is understood and works out for the best in the end.

Yet, in spite of this people still like to see behind the scenes, to see how others live even if it is a different sort of life, in a country entirely strange, with other codes and other difficulties than their own.

A Star is Born (Photoplay)

It is a story of real life that most just as it is the little knowledge and understanding of the times. Norman, a singer, after his tremendous effort to succeed in the big city, finds himself in a position of real life that most just as it is the little knowledge and understanding of the times. LET US HAMMER THIS FACT HOME

The tin contains Andrews tin used in England for nearly 50 years. Due to its finely balanced ingredients, it is meant to efface away and should be used after it is the ideal Tonic Laxative with the refreshing qualities of a saline. The tin is, therefore, recommended, but it is emphasized that the bottle is sold complete for those who prefer not to change.

ANDREWS is better in the TIN BUT YOU CAN STILL BUY THE BOTTLE

Andrews to which you have previously been accustomed.

Man Who Likes Trains

THE WORSE
THE BETTER

It is an acquaintance of 1914 that has been remembered and has been the cause of much amusement and conversation. It is the story of the late Sir George White, who was a keen sportsman and a devoted train enthusiast. He was one of the few men in the world who could be said to be a devotee of the railway. He was a member of the Railway Club and was one of the most prominent figures in the organization. He was a man of great energy and initiative, and he was always ready to take the lead in any enterprise. He was a man who was not afraid of hard work, and he was always ready to do whatever it took to get the job done. He was a man who was respected and admired by all who knew him.

Wives Drive 200 Settlers Back To The Slums

London, June 23.—Thirty per cent of the unemployed men among the Lower Settlements in London were driven back into the slums by their wives. The women, it is said, were unable to find work and were forced to return to their former homes. This is a sad state of affairs, and it is a sign of the general economic depression. Many of the women are now facing a difficult future, and they need the help of their husbands to get them back on their feet.

WILL SPANISH GOVERNMENT BOMB ITALY OR GERMANY?

Barcelona's Threat Of Reprisals On "Foreign Cities"

ANGLO-FRENCH WARNING

SPANISH GOVERNMENT AEROPLANES MAY BOMB CITIES IN THE FOREIGN COUNTRIES REGARDED AS BEING AT LEAST PARTIALLY RESPONSIBLE FOR THE BOMBING OF THEIR OPEN TOWNS, IF FRENCH AND BRITISH ADVICE IS NOT HEED.

Mr. Negre's Government has informed Paris and London that if the Nationalists continue their attacks on open towns the Republicans might be forced to make reprisals not only against Nationalist towns, but also against foreign cities.

The Government of Alicante was severely bombed on Saturday, and in an hour a time of quarter of six hours 85 buildings were destroyed and 130 people, said to be mostly women and children, were killed.

On Friday the weather was searching throughout Great Britain and in observation in London the temperature was 25 degrees in the shade. The unusual sight was seen in the West End of men walking in their short sleeves, carrying their coats over their arms. There is no sign at present of any heavy rainfall. London's suppliers are not proving entirely adequate but storage supplies will make up the deficiency for some considerable time. Nevertheless, an appeal has been issued to the public not to be wasteful. (Cofter).

The Spanish Government has issued the following statement: "The Nationalist Government has announced that it will make reprisals not only against Nationalist towns, but also against foreign cities. The French Government has announced that it will make reprisals not only against Nationalist towns, but also against foreign cities. The British Government has announced that it will make reprisals not only against Nationalist towns, but also against foreign cities."

THINGS TO KNOW ABOUT MILK

Milk is of vital importance to children. Leading medical authorities agree that growing children need at least a quart of milk every day. For to milk you get most of the food elements so essential to sound health in growing children and adults, too. Milk helps to build straight bones and strong teeth. It helps keep illnesses away. It helps develop healthy robust bodies and maintain good health. Milk is the one most important and necessary article of food.

Yet, because milk is one of the most perishable of foods it is often difficult to get or keep fresh milk. But now, thanks to KLIM, you need never worry about having a supply of good fresh milk. Just keep plenty of Klim powdered milk on hand and you can have fresh milk—whenever you want it.

Three important factors make KLIM the ideal milk supply for your family. First, the quality of the milk which is selected for making KLIM. Only the finest cows' milk is used—milk that is produced under strict sanitary conditions. Second, the extreme care with which KLIM is made—a rigid supervision which safeguards every step in its production. Third, the patented process by which KLIM is packed—brings the milk to your table pure and fresh—with the natural flavor and nourishment of the original milk.

MANDATES IN THE LEGAL POSITION VIS-A-VIS NAIROBI

Statement By British "Colonial Defence Committee" The Week's Programme

In past positions in regard to mandated territories, as defined by the Colonial Defence Committee of the House of Commons, has just been set out in the first bulletin issued by the Committee, which was recently formed under the chairmanship of Mr. L. S. Amery with one of its objects the coordination of military proposals.

It is pointed out that full assent of her colonies was made by Germany to the Allies, not to the League of Nations, and that in the words of the late Lord Balfour "a mandate is a self-imposed limitation on the sovereignty which a country exercises over the conquered territory."

HOW TANGANYIKA FARED IN 1937

Britain's Report To League Shows A "Year Of Prosperity"

DEALING EXHAUSTIVELY WITH THE ADMINISTRATION DURING 1937 OF TANGANYIKA TERRITORY, THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT'S ANNUAL REPORT TO THE COUNCIL OF THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS IS AN INTERESTING DOCUMENT.

It records among other things that "with the exception of incidents at Moshi and Bukoba... the year was one of prosperity and consequent contentment."

After mentioning the success of measures taken to deal with the Moshi cattle-rinderpest, the report says that the Moshi area has been free of rinderpest since 1937.

GENERAL FRANCO AND "SAFETY PORT" PLAN

Problem of British Shipping in Spain

GENERAL FRANCO HAS ELABORATED HIS SUBVERSION FOR A "DE-MILITARISED" PORT IN GOVERNMENT SPAIN AT WHICH FOREIGN SHIPPING, OBSERVED BY NEUTRALS, COULD UNLOAD NON-CONTRAHAND CARGO SAFE FROM ATTACK BY AEROPLANES.

Allegations that British ships were bombed by insurgent planes, not because they were British, but because they were carrying contraband have been made by the insurgent press. This is denied by the British Government, which has instructed the British Agent in Burgos to refute the allegations.

The insurgent adviser's statement is reported to have been covered by Spanish Government, and the Government claims to have taken the offensive in Córdoba.

It is stated that the Spanish Government has been asked to permit the landing of British ships at the port of San Sebastian, which has been closed since the outbreak of the Spanish Civil War.

The solution proposed requires the establishment of a port at which non-contraband cargo could be unloaded in complete safety.

NAKURU RUGBY WEEK-END

Invitation Tournament

The Natives from Nairobi will be visiting Nakuru during the week-end of July 2 and 3 to compete in the Nakuru Invitational Rugby football tournament, a fixture inaugurated last year by the enthusiasts of that town, and which is now looked upon as the official closing of the rugby season in Kenya. The tournament takes the form of a knockout competition. This year four teams will be competing: Nyanza, Eldoret, Nakuru, who were the winners last year, and Nairobi District XV consisting of players chosen from the Maroons, Baringo, and Old Cameroun teams. The Eldoret XV will also include players from the Bakapano and Kalia areas.

High Standard Expected
After the Entebbe Cup, this tournament is one of the most important events in Kenyan rugby. The high standard of play that may be anticipated is attested by a glance at the teams competing. Nakuru, the holders have the advantage of playing on their own ground, but they will have to contend with a team which is well known to be able to surprise in other matches closely done. The Nairobi District team may spring a surprise, too, even if they can be got together working as a team between now and the week-end after next. There is certainly enough individual talent to be found in the three teams to provide a really remarkable event.

It is to be hoped that the enthusiasm of Nakuru will be rewarded for their kindness and enterprise in providing this tournament by a good crowd who will be proud of doing their high-class rugby. The teams and details of the draw will be published in a later date.

UTILITY COACH

Two Cars For The Price Of One!

As most of the motoring public of East Africa needs a motor car, not for pleasure but for utility for use in business or agricultural work, it has been found necessary to provide a car to answer two purposes and to combine comfort with usefulness.

Chrysler-Plymouth engineers have successfully solved this problem by building for you the Chrysler-Plymouth Utility Coach, which is truly two cars in one.

To all outward appearances this car is an ordinary modern two-door saloon, but it is really much more. Within the space of time of 60 seconds it can be converted into a Box Body merely by removing the back seat and to facilitate ease of loading a special door has been fitted at the rear. You then have immediately available a strong, serviceable transport machine suitable for freight carrying and safari work. Just as easily, it can be transformed into a roomy and comfortable 5 seater passenger saloon with the usual graceful lines of the Chrysler-Plymouth.

An important point of this Utility Coach is that the chassis is a passenger unit with stronger shock absorbers to take extra loads and not a commercial chassis. There are two types of Utility Coach available, one with the ordinary standard ground clearance of the Chrysler-Plymouth and the other with the new increased ground clearance of nearly 10".

"That? Ah! that was meant to be a surprise for you! Something that's going to give you hours and hours of almost sinful pleasure! Open it!"

Here is a good battery and here is a cheap battery. There may look very much alike but they are not. The question that makes a good battery are hidden—until it has been some time in service. They are such things as the make-up of the active materials, the care with which the separators are cleaned of all foreign matter and the use of a container material which, while being strong and tough, creates no chemical action of its own. To make a battery in this way is expensive but there is no alternative if it is to remain in its normal efficiency. It is because of the great care that Exide has taken that its batteries remain for a long period in service.

FOOTING LIGHTS

He's an odd sort of fellow, and he'll appear occasionally on this page in short stories by John Hycote.

HAVE YOU noticed the foot-gaiter advertisements and noticed an article "Footing Light" in "Country" this month? It's a little, but it's a good one.

WINDSCREEN

(By Our Making Correspondent)

I HAVE not yet actually witnessed the trial of the flying air screen, but I have already written in this column some observations on the subject to other than this page.

I want to begin with a rather short note which I have already written in this column on the question of German export methods in the Motor Industry.

There are two sides to every question. Hence, sometimes one side is misunderstood, I published, at a few weeks back, some remarks made by Lord Percy, Chairman of the Ford Motor Company in the course of his speech at the annual meeting of shareholders in the subject of the import of German cars into England. The other side of the question has been put forward by the Chairman of the Ford Motor Company in his speech at the annual meeting of shareholders in the subject of the import of German cars into England.

The Westland
Lysander—
Built
For Army
Co-operation

DETAILS of the construction and performance of the Westland Lysander, the world's finest army co-operation aeroplane, are now available. This efficient aircraft in large production for the Royal Air Force embodies all of the qualities needed for army liaison flying. Its speed range is from 225 miles an hour to "dash" flying under full control at 35 miles an hour.

Unusually few landing gear wheels that only a small area is required for landing, an important feature.

The Westland Lysander monoplane (British air-cooled engine) which has been ordered in quantity for Royal Air Force squadrons engaged in army liaison flying. The aeroplane has an astonishing speed range, thanks largely to the Handley Page wing slots, which are shown in the open position in the photograph of the aeroplane standing for a last flight.

The Super-Salesman

By MURRAY BEAKE

I wanted a see-sawing, second-hand, reliable, cheap, of expert maintenance and economical to run. In short, I wanted one of those cars that people in the motor trade in Nairobi are anxious to show you by the dozen.

Delivered, driver presented plenty of scope for my search, and returned the price of a motor car to the point of a motor car. I was anxious to get a motor car that was a motor car and a motor car. I was anxious to get a motor car that was a motor car and a motor car.

Secondly, I reached London and found that the car I had seen in Nairobi was not there. I was anxious to get a motor car that was a motor car and a motor car. I was anxious to get a motor car that was a motor car and a motor car.

As the car was not there, I was anxious to get a motor car that was a motor car and a motor car. I was anxious to get a motor car that was a motor car and a motor car.

A classic open-top motor car, likely the one mentioned in the article.

It is the comfort which surprises so many passengers in the four-engine Empire flying-boats. They find themselves enjoying in the promenade deck, smoking, lounging meals or having their afternoon nap, with a steward always at their service. Nights are spent quietly on land in hotels or rest-houses. The moderate fare includes everything—even tips.

MANDATES: THE LEGAL POSITION

Statement By British "Colonial Defence Committee"

The Colonial Defence Committee, which was set up in 1931, has issued a statement on the legal position of the British Empire in the event of a general war. The committee, which is composed of representatives from the various dominions, has concluded that the British Empire is a legal entity in its own right, and that the British Government is responsible for the defence of the Empire as a whole.

The committee's statement is based on the principle that the British Empire is a collection of self-governing communities, each of which is bound to the British Crown by a common allegiance. The committee has concluded that the British Government is responsible for the defence of the Empire as a whole, and that the British Government is entitled to call upon the resources of the Empire in the event of a general war.
