Bringing worn-out land back into economic use

The recovery and incorporation of over-cultivated land into a system of farming rotation is one of the big problems that still remains to be tackled in the Transvaal. Up to now people have shirked the issue and cleared new land, but the time is coming when this can no longer be done, and worn-out land must be brought back into economic use, said Mr. Hugh Lloyd, speaking at a Farmers' Day at the Departmental Farm.

He added that in the four years he had been in the Transvaal there had been a great deal of waste of land through the clearing of land, felling, water wastage over irrigation, and the expenditure on the land.

While the maize yield was increased in the Transvaal from 4,000 to 10,000 bushels per acre, the yield of other crops has fallen. The yield of wheat has fallen from 10 to 5 bushels per acre, and the yield of other crops has fallen from 10 to 5 bushels per acre.

Mr. Lloyd stated that the yield of other crops has fallen from 10 to 5 bushels per acre, and the yield of other crops has fallen from 10 to 5 bushels per acre.

Rotational plan

The cattle population of the year was a little under 10,000, which is about 100 per cent of the comparative figure for 1947 when it was 10,000. This represented a rise of 35,000 head to the 1947 level, and the Transvaal area covered by 100,000 was under cover. It is estimated that the Transvaal area covered by 100,000 was under cover. It is estimated that the Transvaal area covered by 100,000 was under cover.

Two leys

Mr. Lloyd enlarged on the two leys system, which is a system of farming rotation. It is a system of farming rotation. It is a system of farming rotation. It is a system of farming rotation.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN TELEPHONE HOUSE

GOES ON THE AIR ON JANUARY 1

In the early hours of New Year's operation, last night only a matter of minutes will see Nairobi's new £75,000 Telephone House, with its quarter of a million pounds' worth of equipment, become the centre of the city's telephone system.

Other buildings in the industrial area at Eastleigh, Parklands, River High, Marburton, Riverbank, and the new Ngara Road, although much smaller than Telephone House, contain similar equipment.

This equipment, with lines of miles of underground cable, containing thousands of miles of wire, has been laid during the last two years to which will provide service for Nairobi City and the surrounding Nairobi — an area extending over 40 square miles.

Telephone House is around the most modern building in Nairobi. It is a four-storey building of reinforced concrete system, with Partel Prefabricated concrete frame with panel walls.

Work on the building has been specially concentrated in carrying heavy loads, and the total floor area of 1.5 million sq ft is approximately one acre.

The interior decoration of the building is in rubber oil light and fire the maximum ventilation possible at the start.

There has been some good effect in the structure built and made sturdy. It has been used effectively and with attention to the work done in the structure provided for the start.

Special attention has been given to the fitting of Telephone House, especially the ventilation and lighting in the switchboard room. A modern system of overhead lighting has been fitted.

An automatic telephone exchange is being installed in the building. It will be the first of its kind in the East African continent. It will be a large variation from the old type of exchange. It will be a large variation from the old type of exchange.

Building's layout

The layout of the building is of the modern type, with a central corridor and service elevators on the ground floor.

The automatic exchange is a modern type of exchange. It will be the first of its kind in the East African continent. It will be a large variation from the old type of exchange.

Painting ahead

The painting work on the building is well advanced. The walls are being painted in a light and cheerful color. The ceiling is also being painted in a light color.

Practical outfits for the beach

By Dorothy Borkley

As Christmas approaches, our thoughts turn towards holidays at the Coast. Harrocks' recent collection makes beach fashion news.

THE newest way of making one outfit do the work of two in the collection was the recipe for short-sleeved blouses. The recipe ran thus: take one short-sleeved blouse, dress it in a black and white checked pattern. To adapt it for evening wear, add a very full, long-length overskirt (one in harpoon-checked organza would be new), and voilà! it provides for evening.

Another of the famous short-sleeved blouses, and down it's going to be the most useful fabric imaginable for seven years. They are soft, easy to wash, and they are made of a material that is both strong and durable. They are also very fashionable.

These are the kind of outfits that will be popular for many years to come. They are simple, practical, and stylish. They are also very easy to care for.

Jeans again. The most noticeable reason for the jeans being so popular is that they are so comfortable. They are also very durable and easy to care for.

Colic' pills are the best for children. They are safe, effective, and easy to use. They will help to relieve any discomfort your child may be experiencing.

STATE COACH GETS READY FOR NEXT JUNE'S DRIVE

BY STANLEY BERNETT
 The Chief of the State Coach by candlelight, the first time in almost five years that the State Coach was brought to the fore—by the way, always right in front of the State Coach, to try it out, to see what it was doing, to go well and to be fit.

This happened 100 years ago, when the State Coach was first introduced to the public. The State Coach was first introduced to the public in 1851, when it was first used to carry the Governor-General and his family to the State House.

The State Coach, which was first introduced to the public in 1851, was first used to carry the Governor-General and his family to the State House.

END OF A CHRISTMAS DREAM

POOR 11 months of the year 1951-52—the most miserable Christmas in the history of the State Coach. It was not only the State Coach that was in a state of despair, but the State Coach itself.

The State Coach, which was first introduced to the public in 1851, was first used to carry the Governor-General and his family to the State House.

3 Down South America Way THEY COME HERE FROM MANY LANDS

In the third and final selection of jottings from his Latin American Notebook, J. HALCRON FERGUSON writes of the people from all parts of the world who have made their homes in South American countries.

EVERY October the Republic of Latin America celebrates el día de la Raza. The Day of the Race — on the anniversary of the arrival of Christopher Columbus.

In fact, this is a reminder for there is not even the faintest idea of the Latin American race — indeed many Latin Americans are even the continuation of the race in South America.

America was not a racially homogeneous continent. The first settlers, who came from the north, were the Spaniards, who were followed by the Portuguese, Dutch, British, French, and Americans. The first land to be discovered in the Americas was by Columbus in 1492. The first land to be discovered in the Americas was by Columbus in 1492.

Chile, Southern Brazil, Argentina and Mexico. British, Dutch, and American, became an important part of the population of the Americas. The first land to be discovered in the Americas was by Columbus in 1492.

The world today. That on the whole it has not done so well as to many lands — the swelling ranks of the Catholic religion, which have a racial homogeneity of the race of the continent.

Tensions exist
Nevertheless, it cannot be denied that racial tensions and racial consciousness do exist, and that countries have to contend with their own racial tensions.

immigration to a definite prime in the case of a colour bar, though, for obvious historical reasons — slavery was not abolished until 1810 — Afro-Brazilians are in general lower down the economic scale than people of European descent.

America has practically no racial problem. When Thomas Aires was first founded the race was divided into the Indians, but for centuries the race has been divided into the Indians, but for centuries the race has been divided into the Indians.

Mixture of races
The degree of racial integration is shown by the fact that among high Argentine and high Argentine, the first land to be discovered in the Americas was by Columbus in 1492.

Feudal society
PERU, in contrast to Chile, has a problem. Along the coast there are few people of pure blood — they are a mixture of Spanish, Indian, Negro, Chinese and other — race — but in the mountainous country it is still predominantly Spanish blood.

The people of all the Latin American countries are generally of mixed blood, but the degree of racial integration is shown by the fact that among high Argentine and high Argentine, the first land to be discovered in the Americas was by Columbus in 1492.

Inca's domain

In South America the remnants of the Inca Empire are still to be seen in the Southern Cone. The Inca Empire was a powerful empire that ruled over a large part of South America.

Rule of Spain

THE Spaniards began the rule over the Americas in 1492. The Spaniards began the rule over the Americas in 1492. The Spaniards began the rule over the Americas in 1492.

RAF STRONGER THAN SINCE 1945, BUT— Still need for many more aircraft

British rearmament is being continued at a rapid pace. With an aircraft to be manufactured for the Royal Air Force every 10 days, the Government is confident that the RAF will be stronger than it has been since 1945. However, it is still necessary to produce many more aircraft to meet the demands of a modern war.

Parliamentary Statement
The Secretary of State for Air, Mr. James Dugan, announced in the House of Commons that the Royal Air Force is now producing aircraft at a rate of one every 10 days. This is a significant increase from the rate of one every 15 days in 1945. The Government is confident that this rate will be maintained and that the RAF will be able to meet the demands of a modern war.
