KENYA'S WAR RECORD

More Details Of Meritorious Effort Are Required

There must be many who have recently returned to Kenya from overseas who have not yet completed their recent term and record in the War.

Forms were distributed to all post boxes and post offices throughout the Colony, forms were scrutinized, and various articles and reminders have appeared from time to time in the Press.

At the October meeting of the Nairobi District Council the pressing problem of road maintenance was discussed.

The women, too, served in the W.V. as well as in the W.A.S. As their duties were varied, their records were already made up to some extent.

In addition to all these, there are many other ways in which the women have served the war effort.

There is also a great need for information of all that relatives and friends have done.

Forms may be obtained at any Kenya Post Office from District Representatives of the E.A.W.C.

I didn't MEAN it! but the words slipped out! WHY am I all an edge these days? It's raining our happy marriage!

Why? Well, ask yourself one question. How well do you SLEEP last night?

If your sleep is broken and troubled, if you wake and become more tired as the day goes on, if you lose your temper over trivial things, it is usually because your sleep is doing you no real good.

For deep sleep you need the extra nourishment you get from a cup of Horlicks taken at bedtime. Horlicks replaces energy which you sleep and so ensures that you get an refreshed, full of energy, more than the happy companion your husband used to know.

Trusteeship of South-West Africa
SMUTS PACE THE BOMB" IN THE LOOK TALKS

India Prefers Administration By United Nations Alone

GENERAL SMUTS in making a positive statement on South-West Africa to the Trusteeship Committee of the United Nations last night, said that it was a time bomb which will tick away quietly until today when India's delegate to the Trusteeship Committee, Sir Maharaj Singh, will move an amendment to the Trusteeship Charter.

This asks that "a full" administration of Trustee Territories should be entirely a matter for the United Nations and not be delegated to any individual power. When India moves this amendment the "time bomb" will explode and in the resultant war debate India—probably General Smuts and the whole attitude of the United Government.

Apart from his explanation of the manner in which the Government assume the feelings of the native tribes in South-West Africa, the highlights of General Smuts's speech—commented on by the trusteeship committee—were that India's attitude on Russia and his United States intended to have sole trusteeship of the Pacific Islands, deemed necessary for its

WHEN General Smuts said that the trusteeship system was quite unnecessary, "the correctness of this attitude," the United Government's reference to the Trusteeship Committee of the United Nations—is perhaps the most important point taken in another part of the world, where three border states were incorporated into a large United Nations with any consultation whatsoever with the country of Nations, the Russian Ambassador, to the United States.

Mr. John Foster Dulles and Mr. Leo Bloom of the United States, fell into busy conversation.

Without any doubt yesterday was a day of great importance in the history of the Trusteeship of South-West Africa, but that a member of the British Delegation there described "as completely unnecessary manner."

The Full Speech
Field Marshal Smuts said that his speech was published in the Charter has been published in the Charter of the United Nations and the League of Nations. The full text of the mandate is in the advance of the Charter of the United Nations and the League of Nations. The full text of the mandate is in the advance of the Charter of the United Nations and the League of Nations.

Biological Knowledge
South-West Africa, in terms of its physical conditions, its climate and its ethnological history with the rest of Southern Africa, was completely different from other "C" mandates elsewhere. South Africa, but that at that time, when it was required to be administered as a separate territory, it was required to be administered as a separate territory.

Budgetary History
Without the development of the necessary revenue for educational and social advances, the inhabitants were not forthcoming in full measure. In consequence, the Government has shown recurring heavy deficits in its budget for the past several years. The main sources of revenue are mining and mining and both need the stimulus of a certain amount of capital investment with the United Government. It is mainly required to remove doubts as to the future of the territory and to establish a separate fiscal policy. The doubts which have been an effective deterrent of the territory in its normal activities. However, that private capital and individual initiative would be attracted to a territory whose future is uncertain.

Under the Charter
Under the Charter the door to investment is wide open to the road to be followed and it is largely up to the inhabitants of the territory whether it is self-governing or not. This is the position which has arisen in South-West Africa where the inhabitants would be shared with the natives of the territory.

A Story from Europe
In the security of the British Commonwealth and Empire, freedom is a word with a meaning which can be understood by all. It is a word which has been exercised a great measure of liberty of thought, of speech and of action. They are often tempted, also to abuse it to the detriment of the freedom which they are enjoying. It is a word which is often used to justify the actions of those who are in power. It is a word which is often used to justify the actions of those who are in power.

Capital Allowances

In Fairness To The Gift Horse

(From A Correspondent)

IN your issue of October 29 you have a very interesting and persuasive article on "Capital Allowances"—writing, we are told to give the reader some food for thought so perhaps to enable him better to understand what the term "allowance" means in official Income Tax parlance. It is certainly not the first time but as in the second, the reviewer of your contribution are so different from those he expresses as his own that I am not so sure about my understanding anything—except him—of the circumstances. I would also like to be good enough to elaborate, in the columns of the following issue if you may assist the other members of the staff to consider these matters.

The case taken by your contributor is, of course, purely arbitrary. It is not taken at random. It is the extreme end of an extreme case—namely a Company, where the position would almost certainly be different—what you spend a considerable sum of money on machinery, and not disposing of that machine, or sell it, but use it for a number of years. I think that the writer is making a mistake here. He is not making a mistake in the fact that the machinery is not sold, but it is not the machinery that he is talking of. He is talking of the depreciation allowance. He is talking of the depreciation allowance. He is talking of the depreciation allowance.

An Abnormal Case I do not think that the writer has taken his contributor must be necessarily of retrogressive nature. It is not a case where the machinery is sold at a profit. It is a case where the machinery is sold at a loss. It is a case where the machinery is sold at a loss.

For even in such circumstances, the machinery would have been sold at a profit. It is a case where the machinery is sold at a profit. It is a case where the machinery is sold at a profit.

For even in such circumstances, the machinery would have been sold at a profit. It is a case where the machinery is sold at a profit. It is a case where the machinery is sold at a profit.

In his article your contributor states that the allowance "is granted upon the basis of the original cost of the machinery. It is not granted upon the basis of the original cost of the machinery. It is not granted upon the basis of the original cost of the machinery.

So far as the taxpayer's chargeable income is concerned, the allowance is granted upon the basis of the original cost of the machinery. It is not granted upon the basis of the original cost of the machinery.

£125,000 Radio "Brain" To Be Built

(From A Correspondent)

London, Nov. 23. A radio brain, which will be able to pick up a radio broadcast and solve problems which could only be solved by a general and intelligent mind, is to be built. The brain will be able to pick up a radio broadcast and solve problems which could only be solved by a general and intelligent mind.

Income Tax May Be Abolished - In A.D. 2000

BUT KERICHO WANTS ACTION TAKEN NOW!

(LETTERS SPECIAL)

On Sunday morning a meeting of the Executive Council of the Kenya Club, with the Member for Kenya Mr. G. Maunier Kery in the Chair, the Financial Secretary, Mr. J. F. C. Douglas, addressed the meeting and both he and the Commissioner for Income Tax, Mr. J. C. Mundy, advised a number of questions.

The meeting also passed a resolution supporting the elected Members in their rejection of the Woods Report, and deprecating the budget as proposed.

In opening the meeting and thanking the Financial Secretary for accepting his invitation to attend, Mr. M. Kery emphasized that while this and other meetings were designed to obtain the country's views in regard to the budget, the Elected Members had not set out, or formulated their policy toward it in the framing of the budget.

The man who paid the paper should also be the man who paid the tax. There was little he would want to see done through a budgetary process. He pointed out that it was useless trying to force through a budgetary process the will of the great majority of taxpayers.

There was a suggestion that the paper should be laid on the table as a matter of course, but the Elected Members as a whole had not yet formulated their policy nor determined their attitude toward this question.

War Expenditure

There were, however, certain expenditures which the Government, including demobilization, etc. - which would be a procedure of some £1,970,000. If that item were not met from ordinary revenue, it would mean an increase in the tax on the pound in the meeting of the cost of contracts, some £1,000,000 from the same source would create a further £100,000 in the cost of income tax.

The European community had most of the tax and he would like to see that other new parts of the Asiana should be forced to contribute their share.

Many people felt, for instance, that the African could make a valuable contribution and that the point had been reached when he could not graduate post tax. It was his opinion that the next sitting of the Legislature in this connection.

The Financial Secretary

Mr. J. F. C. Douglas, then addressed the meeting, repeating largely the talk on the budget that he had given the previous day to the British Club election meeting. As Mr. Kery, his delivery and general manner made a considerable impression on the hearers, although there was not the same note of cross reference as in the past. He pointed out that the Government had not yet decided upon a course they did not want to pursue.

Not only that, but a development programme to be carried out during the coming year, requiring considerable expenditure. For this reason, the Government had felt it would be necessary to raise the tax.

Mr. Douglas also said, regarding the budget, that he had already got the Government's proposals for the coming year. It was his hope that the Government would be able to deal with the proposals in the coming year.

ARE KENYA BOYS BACKWARD?

Two Headmasters Say They're Not BUT APT TO BE "SPOILT"

Are Kenya boys backward?
Two of the Colony's headmasters chose this question as the basis of their remarks at the speech day of the Pembroke House School, Gilgil.

The headmaster of the school, Mr. H. Turner stated what he termed the "vague statement" that Kenya boys were backward in comparison with English boys and the curriculum of the school was altered in future to make the pupils do more for themselves. Mr. Turner said that the curriculum since the war and at the end of the speeches Mr. Turner mentioned that prior to the war there had been a prize given for character and leadership. He proposed to present this as from himself personally in future. The prize this year was awarded to M. Mavroy.

Mr. Turner said that he had been asked to give an address on the subject of "Are Kenya boys backward?" and he had not had time to do so. He said that he had been asked to give an address on the subject of "Are Kenya boys backward?" and he had not had time to do so.

making a general statement about Kenya boys and one of the most common generalizations into which they are apt to be trapped was embodied in the words "Kenya boys are backward."

"What he said was that Kenya boys who are indeed very backward in some respects, but he gave no reasons for the backwardness he found. Perhaps the boys did not start going to school early enough and had a very long time to spend at school at frequent intervals. Perhaps the boys were not so well equipped by health as those of other countries. It is different from what he would be doing at an English school. I think this is true whether he starts at a private preparatory school or a government primary school."

Mr. Fletcher referred to the fact that a boy's education had started at the primary level and he had been interrupted suddenly then at the secondary level. He said that he had been doing work approximately suited to the age of the boys and he had been different from what he would be doing at an English school. I think this is true whether he starts at a private preparatory school or a government primary school."
