UNIQUE ADVANTAGE AS EXEMPTOR

Midway Between U.S. And Soviet Russia

ADMIRABLE in its temper and phrasing is one of the best ever read on comments on the broadcast made last night by the British Foreign Minister, Mr. Ernest Bevin.

In a wide review of the work of the United Nations General Assembly and the Council of Foreign Ministers, Mr. Bevin stated the general aims and recent achievements of Britain's foreign policy.

Pleading for material moderation he stressed Britain's mid-way position, geographically and ideologically, between the U.S.A. and the U.S.S.R. and urged her unique advantage as a potential power of vast experience in the world.

He said that the world since the 1914-18 war has been divided into three main groups: the Allies and the troops who were with them; the United Nations; and the Soviet Union.

Britain's Greatest Industrial Gamble

With the nationalization of the steel industry, but one of America's leaders, Mr. Hill has described the step as "one of the greatest gambles ever undertaken."

He held an audience of Yorkshire, and said that if the Government did not get the steel industry, it would be a disaster.

CORRESPONDENCE

THANKS

To the Editor, "E.A. Standard"

Sir—Through the medium of your special paper I have the opportunity of expressing my warmest thanks to all those kind and helpful friends with whom I came in contact during my three years' absence from Nairobi.

Looking back on those, to me so distant days, I can only recall the happy times which I spent in the company of the greatest people. It has been a great fortune to have met and to have known so many of the people who were so kind as to make my stay in Nairobi so enjoyable and so profitable. I trust they will all be able to do so for me in the future.

Yours etc.

G. P. O. Employees Steal From Parcels

Two Kikuyu, Duhaka & O. Njoki and Walter K. Mwangi, employed in the Parcels Office at Nairobi, were charged with the theft of a parcel and two parcels from the parcels office on the 15th and 16th inst. respectively by the Nairobi District Magistrate, Mr. J. G. Gifford.

The parcel matter is awaiting delivery. The parcel matter is awaiting delivery. The parcel matter is awaiting delivery.

ELPHANT SHOOTING

To the Editor, "E.A. Standard"

Sir—With regard to the increased number of elephant liveries, Colonel Gifford must be aware of the conditions under which elephants have been shot recently.

The price of ivory has risen from six shillings before the war to about seventeen shillings now, owing to heavy demands from America. The killing of elephants has therefore become a very profitable business. Certain individuals have taken out licences in the name of relatives who are not bona fide hunters. Some have even gone to the extent of buying up the tusks of elephants which have been shot and then selling them at a profit.

We may hope that those who merely hunt for profit will give it up now that the financial returns are uncertain. Ivory went up to twenty-five shillings in 1942 and then dropped to 75 per cent. Doubtless this will deter some and force others to give up.

Yours etc.

To Encourage African Trading

The Native Affairs Committee is to recommend the abolition of trading rights intended to be laid on the African people. It was noted that the committee of the Native Affairs Council that the abolition of the ultimate site for these plans is dependent upon a decision in regard to the development and the re-organization of the Trade Area.

After consulting the views of the African members, had stated that Africans would oppose the idea of members of other communities building shops and trading in the Trade Area. The committee, however, Chairman of the Native Affairs Committee, recommended that scheme was one of the methods on which they could protect and encourage African trading.

The African is so free to purchase a plot in the commercial area as anybody else, but it is a question of economics and finance. African traders have been in the Trade Area in its present form. The committee is in favour of the trade in the Trade Area.

A PERSISTENT COUGH is always dangerous

A simple cough can soon become a bad habit, one, which may cause bronchitis and other ailments. It is dangerous in the night, a free release of the mucus which, when it reaches the lungs, follows the track of the airway, and causes them. It is a sign of a cough which is not a simple cough, but one which is a sign of a more serious condition. MILK OF MAGNESIA Tablets

There is never a dull moment in the 75 mile drive from Mombasa to Malindi.

Last Saturday I engaged along in my Ford, two good, sober lads up with three small excited children, one pleasant and one who was not so pleasant, and several ill boys and one who was not so ill. The road was not bad but the first part of the road was very corrugated, further on the road was somewhat uneven, which called for careful handling of the car, but on the whole the drive was pleasant. Green foliage of every description was to be seen, and some very interesting, but not very good, scenery, but the road was not so bad as it was at first. The road was not so bad as it was at first. The road was not so bad as it was at first.

Being older than at travel neither the children nor the car gave any trouble and during the whole of the drive we were getting into a groove and were settling into a comfortable and easy pace. The road was not so bad as it was at first. The road was not so bad as it was at first. The road was not so bad as it was at first.

TIMBER NEEDS IN TANGANYIKA

(STANDARD CORRESPONDENT)

"Timber being an immense amount of timber used in the country, the Secretary of the Forest Department was interviewed in the course of his tour of East Africa. He was pointed out what great demands for timber would be made in the near future, and that production of timber was greatly hampered by the present conditions. Tanganyika could meet all her own requirements, but there would be a surplus which could be exported."

JOYOUS CONTACTS WITH PIONEERS

KENYA AND UGANDA 50 YEARS AGO

Sir Albert Cook's Reminiscences

(This is the fourth of articles which have been appearing in the columns of the C.M.S. & M.E. Standard, on Sir Albert Cook's visit to Kenya and Uganda in the terms of October 1934).

MY last article ended with an account of Dr. H. W. Moffat. All I saw a good deal of him during my early days in Uganda. It may be interesting to give a few details of the positions at that time but was a month of the old Kenya Colony. I was not the only settler present on the station. There were other people of the old Kenya Colony. I was not the only settler present on the station. There were other people of the old Kenya Colony.

person who was himself omitted. As conditions in the frontier were very unsettled, it is not surprising that I was not the only settler present on the station. There were other people of the old Kenya Colony.

Two weeks ago on April 13, 1944, I will be remembered that the South African war was then being waged and I well remember the pleasure when we got Reuter's bulletin with its news of the armistice. It was a day or two after that.

The South Islands, which he was anxious to visit, were not to be seen. As I have said before, it was not until after the war was over that I was able to visit the islands.

The funds for this, or those days, were provided partly by the secret newspaper and partly by the money received by the general public. Some of the money was provided by the public.

Two other steam launches were about that time, put on the lake. The fact of one of them being used in the course of the war is a small matter, but it is interesting to note that it was used in the course of the war.

Then too we gained prayer by their help. I can remember that when we were first in the lake, it was a very large launch, and it was used in the course of the war.

It was a very large launch, and it was used in the course of the war. It was a very large launch, and it was used in the course of the war.

"Excuse me!"

It is never too early to learn the simple rule "Excuse me!" for children. It is a rule which is easy to remember and easy to apply. It is a rule which is easy to remember and easy to apply.

SUGAR
 It has been decided that the present sugar output of Kenya of approximately 5,000 tons should be increased to 10,000 tons. The Government is accordingly prepared to consider applications to erect either one additional factory capable of producing 12,000 tons of sugar per annum or two factories each capable of producing 6,000 tons. The intention of Government in increasing the production of sugar is to assist in making sugar a regular part of the diet of the African. Permission to erect and work a sugar factory will therefore be subject to the condition that the owners shall have all their shares in the factory to Government at a price not exceeding the price to be paid for the sugar in Cuts or Java.
 A. Persons interested are invited to submit their proposals in writing to the Director of Agriculture, Nairobi, Kenya Colony, on or before 15th January, 1942. Applications should be submitted to the Director of Agriculture, Nairobi, Kenya Colony, on or before 15th January, 1942.
