ECONOMIC & FINANCE COMMITTEE

Interim Report Dealing with the Railway

REVISION OF PRESENT SYSTEM AN URGENT NECESSITY

LETTERS TO DIRECTOR RAILWAY AUTHORITY

The second interim report of the Economic and Finance Committee concerns the Uganda Railway and its working. The Committee has already reported in the first interim report that the revision of the present system is an urgent necessity. The report deals with the railway in its entirety, from the point of view of the general public, and is a comprehensive and detailed study of the railway as a whole, and not merely as a means of transport.

The development of the economic and financial aspects of the Uganda Railway is a matter of great importance to the Government, and it is necessary to consider the position of the railway in its entirety, from the point of view of the general public, and not merely as a means of transport.

The Committee is of the opinion that the present system of the Uganda Railway is not satisfactory, and it is necessary to consider the position of the railway in its entirety, from the point of view of the general public, and not merely as a means of transport.

Worth While

It took years of experiment to perfect the process of packing tea in vacuum, but it was well worth while. No longer need you put up with stale, tasteless tea, or find that your supply is damaged. Buy Brooke B-70 tea in the patent vacuum-packed tin, and secure a pure, refreshing cup of tea always.

Brooke B-70 gives you better value for your money than ordinary tea and costs less. The vacuum has guaranteed that it is always in perfect condition.

Interest in Public... fact should not be overlooked that the recent Municipal elections were generally a failure in the Far West. In municipal matters, a man may not be so acceptable to the public, though he may be considered satisfactory in an administrative capacity. As shown on many occasions, a noteworthy fact is the one mentioned by the Hon. Mr. P. O'Connor who has represented the Western Division of the Legislative Council in the Irish Parliament. The fact that 100,000 "Irishmen" have been so far from supporting an O'Connor as to nominate that party in the British Constitution was not so surprising as it would appear to be.

MAIZE IN KENYA
 Business of the Farmer to force a heavy Supply
 PRESSING PROBLEMS REQUIRING CONSIDERATION
 KENYA TO MAKE SHORT FOR CASH CROP
 BY E. HANCOCK
 Acting Director of Agriculture
 With reference to the maize crop in Kenya, it is necessary to consider the various factors which influence its production. The main problem is the heavy loss of the crop to insects and diseases. It is essential that the farmer should be able to identify the pests and diseases and to take the necessary steps to control them. This can be done by the use of insecticides and fungicides. It is also important that the farmer should be able to identify the different varieties of maize and to choose the best variety for his soil and climate. The Government is doing its best to help the farmer by providing him with the necessary information and by subsidizing the cost of the seed and the insecticides and fungicides. It is hoped that by these means the maize crop in Kenya will be able to meet the heavy demand for it.

NOTES ON PRODUCE.
 In the course of a fortnight's visit to the various Government stores in the Province of Uganda, I had numerous opportunities of examining the produce of the Province, and of seeing the methods of its storage and distribution.

The Government stores in the Province are situated at various points, and are of various sizes. Some are situated in the open air, and some are situated in buildings.

The produce of the Province is of various kinds, and is of various qualities. Some of the produce is of a high quality, and some is of a low quality.

It is suggested that the Government stores in the Province should be improved, and that the produce of the Province should be better stored and distributed.

LESSON

There is a lesson to be learned from the story of the blind men and an elephant. Each of the men touched a different part of the elephant and made a conclusion based on that part. One touched the ear and said it was like a fan, another the leg and said it was like a pillar, another the side and said it was like a wall, another the tail and said it was like a rope, another the back and said it was like a mat, and another the head and said it was like a tree. The lesson is that we must not judge things by a single view, but by all views.

CHAGS IN IRELAND

WANTER RESTRICTION OF IRISH PROPERTY. LORD LANSDOWNE A VICTIM

Lord Lansdowne, the British Ambassador in Dublin, is a victim of the chags in Ireland. He has been forced to sell his property in Ireland at a very low price. This is due to the fact that the Irish Government has imposed a restriction on the sale of property in Ireland. This has caused a great deal of trouble for Lord Lansdowne, who has been forced to sell his property at a very low price. This is a very sad state of affairs, and it is to be hoped that the Irish Government will soon lift this restriction.

A BITTER CAMPAIGN

MR CHAMBERLAIN AND THE PAST YEAR. THE CONSERVATIVE SPLIT.

Mr Chamberlain and the Conservative Party have had a very bitter campaign in the past year. The Conservative Party has split, and Mr Chamberlain has been forced to resign. This is a very sad state of affairs, and it is to be hoped that the Conservative Party will soon reunite. Mr Chamberlain has been a very able and successful statesman, and it is a pity that he has been forced to resign. The Conservative Party has a long and illustrious history, and it is to be hoped that it will continue to be a strong and effective party in the future.
