SEYCHELLES LEGISLATURE TO BE INCREASED

Urgent Problems Of The Islands

BY "FRUITS" CORRESPONDENT.

FIRST ARTICLE.

Problems facing the Seychelles and some of the ways in which they are being met are discussed in an article recently by the Hon. Mr. J. G. Leveson, M.P., in the Seychelles Standard.

Perhaps the most important development in the Seychelles since the formation of the Legislative Council is the increase in the number of members of the Council. The number of members of the Council is now 12, an increase from 8 members in 1928.

The Hon. Mr. J. G. Leveson, M.P., in his article, discusses the urgent problems of the islands and the ways in which they are being met. He points out that the most important problem is the shortage of labour. This is due to the fact that many of the islands are small and the population is sparse. This makes it difficult to find enough labour to work the land and to run the various services of the islands.

Another important problem is the shortage of capital. This is due to the fact that the islands are small and the population is sparse. This makes it difficult to attract capital from outside the islands. The Hon. Mr. J. G. Leveson, M.P., suggests that the Government should encourage the formation of co-operative societies and other forms of local enterprise to help to solve these problems.

The Hon. Mr. J. G. Leveson, M.P., also discusses the problem of education. He points out that the Government has made a great deal of progress in this field since 1928. The number of children attending school has increased from 1,000 in 1928 to 2,500 in 1933. This is a great achievement for a small island.

He also discusses the problem of health. He points out that the Government has made a great deal of progress in this field since 1928. The number of deaths has decreased from 1,000 in 1928 to 500 in 1933. This is a great achievement for a small island.

The Hon. Mr. J. G. Leveson, M.P., concludes his article by saying that the Government has made a great deal of progress in solving the urgent problems of the islands. He believes that the Government will continue to make progress in the future.

"Thank you, I'll have one." Dr. Grey, who had just returned from his trip to the States, said to the waiter who had just arrived with a bottle of Scotch whisky.

"I am well, I remember it." "Well, yes," said Dr. Grey, "but you don't seem to be drinking it."

THE FUTURE OF KENYA

To the Editor, "E.A. Standard"—
 Sir—Mr. Owen Jones calls for a referendum and a future and a Territory. I do not think that a referendum is the best way of settling the future of Kenya. It is a very complicated question and it is not one that can be settled by a simple vote of the people. It is a question that requires the wisdom and the foresight of those who are in a position to make decisions of this kind.

Yours etc.,
 PAUL CLARK

To the Editor, "E.A. Standard":

Mr. Anderson's article which appeared in your issue of the 12th inst. has been read with interest and has caused me to think of the National Intensive which is being organized to increase maintenance and reduce costs. There is a perfectly reasonable decision that I would again point out that in January 1943, in 18 months ago, Government appointed a Committee which had been formed of representatives of the various services and the public. The Committee's report was published in the "E.A. Standard" in the issue of the 12th inst. of 1943. The Committee's report was published in the "E.A. Standard" in the issue of the 12th inst. of 1943. There is a perfectly reasonable decision that I would again point out that in January 1943, in 18 months ago, Government appointed a Committee which had been formed of representatives of the various services and the public. His War Work Had to Go On
Rheumatism Couldn't Be Allowed to Stop It

"My work is rather important," he writes. "I am in charge of two big boilers, and work at night. I had been troubled with rheumatic pains and constipation for about three years, and it was becoming a misery to do my work. I always felt tired. I tried Kruken's Sals, and after three weeks before a new man, I do my work for better than ever. I have done better. One thing I noticed I sleep very soundly now. I thank Kruken's Sals from the bottom of my heart. I would advise all men over 40 years to get the big Kruken's Sals. — G. Greenleaf, Nairobi."

"I had rheumatism interfere with my work, rheumatism has to go. Here's how one British war worker gave his rheumatism its 'marching orders'."

"You can clear the blood-stream, you can't settle in your joints. That's how Kruken can help me. Kruken's is a balanced combination of various mineral salts. It is efficient and diuretic because of this Double Action. Kruken helps to clear the whole system thoroughly."

"Take Kruken at the first warning—don't wait for pain. The Kruken treatment is a half to one teaspoonful in a number of hot water each morning for a month. Carry on—even if the twinges vanish after a week. Hence be safe this way."

Kruken's Sals is sold by all Chemists and Stores.

Dear Mr. Gerald:
I have just written a number of American troops have been stationed in the vicinity, so that poker and crap dice have displaced crubage and shove halpenny in the British Hand, but no doubt only for a time. Constable Higgins was concerned about this, as they might have been playing for money, or money's worth, but upon investigation they informed him that they only played for potatoes. Constable Higgins says that any action necessary will have to be taken by the Ministry of Agriculture and Fisheries.

Some of the Americans offered came up to the Hall for a day's shooting, and one of them was much pleased to note the date over the porch, being 1833, the date of the foundation of his own University of Harvard. After dinner they were something of a party in the billiard room. Quite like old times, even to the Royal's time when in wartime, especially there should be no risk of a morning off.

TANGANYIKA NEEDS A CONTINUING POLICY

"A CATALOGUE OF DIFFICULTIES"

London, March 19. (Specialist Correspondent)—The Daily Express has published a report which is not generally regarded as being particularly reliable. It contains a catalogue of difficulties which the Tanganyika Government will have to face in the future. The report is based on a survey made by the Central Development Board, the Government's planning body, in May 1946. It is a very interesting and important document, and it is worth a study by all those who are interested in the future of Tanganyika.

CARS NEED TYRES

Tyres are an indispensable part of a motor car without them it merely deteriorates. And on many farms the annual dipping with Cooper's is also considered indispensable. It helps improve the quality of the wool and so increases your income.

Cooper's Sheep Dipping Powder has attained its great popularity because it has proved its worth during a century of service. It works two ways—first killing off any parasites that may already be on the sheep and then, by the fine protecting particles of dip that cling to every wool fibre, wards off parasites which try to get on after dipping.

If you have to deal with fleas use "QUICK-ACTING" POWDER. A single dipping is sufficient to eradicate fleas and their pupae.

Get rid of Scab—Dip your sheep in COOPER'S DOUBLE DIPPING POWDER.

Athi River Drain Scheme

IMPORTANCE OF WATER DISTRIBUTION

(By Major J. O. K. Delap)

WHAT Kenya needs, more than anything else, is a better distribution of its water supply. We have a rainfall here which averages at least in the highlands, as much as the rainfall in the United States. But most of our rain falls too quickly, runs off and is carried to the sea. Owing to the rapid current which washes our soils the silt carried there by our rivers causes a delta and so all this valuable soil is lost to us. More is lost every year.

There is one way in which this loss can be minimized—by catching the silt on its way to the sea. By giving the water time to deposit the silt and by using the rich silt in establishing a rich, fertile soil suitable for agriculture. This can be done by damming our rivers at suitable points. From this view this is the most important part of work by the agricultural department, to which we can apply ourselves.

The other aspect of that of water conservation. In general we submit that the principle of taking the dry weather flow of a river to fill the water mains or irrigate the land is wrong. We ought to hold on to the flood water and use that. By damming our rivers we can make the dry weather flow more constant. On some seasons, perhaps, we can have water by forcing it to flow down the main which gets water by damming it during peak flows.

There is a place on the Athi River where it runs between very rocky hills. It is situated by a dam of suitable size and height. It would be possible to flood a large area of the Athi Plains.

- (a) It is situated to prevent the light soil of Kenya from running down the river. By holding up the flood water, it carries silt and other material to sea, the soil would be abundant and the water would produce areas of rich soil on which crops could be grown (silt which is brought down by the river is very fertile).
- (b) Nairobi grows it will irrigate.

DISTRICT FARMING Kenya Farming Criticised

(STANDARD) (CONTINUED)

THIKA. Mr. C. W. Meach III, Major J. O. K. Delap, and the Thika District Council, the Kenya Farmers' Association, and the United Kenya Farmers' Association, are now being experimented with, but dairy production is still in its infancy and is hampered by many difficulties—such as East Coast fever, the time to build up profitable herds, the cost of feeding and dipping and the relative cost of shipping compared with Australian and New Zealand products.

There are few farmers in Kenya who can succeed entirely with production to maintain living expenses. No better good thing of any kind can be done than to engage half our motor-car and farm machinery. Although in some cases firms may be started by squabbling youth, but the deliberate attempt repeatedly made to start viable firms very often fail, not only because with a little sense is foolish enough to start a firm over his own hat, which would bring suspicion on him. A firm that can be traced to a particular individual is almost sure to fail.

There is general satisfaction that the Agricultural Production Commission has definitely decided not to touch the petrol ration of farm labourers this year. It will be remembered that the industries of last year not only resulted in considerable unemployment of labour, and consequently a fall in production, but also in a very serious case of unemployment.

The necessary works would of course cost some millions. It would be necessary to consult the Kenya Civil Administration and obtain consent of the Colonial Office. It is suggested that the Government should justify the use of a sum of money from the Public Revenue for the development of Crown Lands.

Such a project could much more easily be set on foot now, when there are suggestions of European money being available, than it ever likely to be the case in the future.

It is suggested that the possibility of a project would justify the employment of a surveyor and assistants to measure the area and report on the levels so as to obtain an estimate of the number of acres which would be flooded by a dam of a given height.

The flooded area would, it is thought, be used for the growing of crops. It is suggested that the Government should justify the use of a sum of money from the Public Revenue for the development of Crown Lands. starting to farm in Kenya without considerable capital and a reserve to draw upon in case of crop failures from one cause or another.

This is written by one who has engaged farming both in Kenya and England in Kenya, with married partners, but quite largely through circumstances over which the farmer has no control, and as a result of which the farmer has been ruined. The reality of this is a sad story, and it is a story which is being repeated in many parts of the country.

The effects of soil erosion were only too clearly demonstrated by the loss of animal manure could only be replaced by artificial fertilizers. The loss of animal manure could only be replaced by artificial fertilizers.

There is a notable lack of it in most of the soils, and the high level of fertility is a notable lack of it in most of the soils, and the high level of fertility is a notable lack of it in most of the soils.
