Good Method Of Ploughing-out "Islands"

THE following letter has been received by the Editor from a writer on the subject of ploughing-out "islands" in the bush.

The writer states that he has been ploughing-out "islands" in the bush for some time and has found the following method to be the best:

1. Plough a strip of land, about 100 yards long and 10 yards wide, in a straight line through the bush.

2. Turn the plough round at the end of the strip and plough a second strip, parallel to the first, about 10 yards from the first.

3. Repeat this process until the entire area to be cleared is covered.

The writer claims that this method is the most efficient and least costly way of clearing land in the bush.

Has Kenya An Agricultural Policy?

AN agricultural policy for Kenya is discussed in the following letter received from Mr. B. J. Spence, M.P.

The Director of Agriculture in his speech at the Kenya Conference stated that as far as an agricultural policy was concerned, the Government had no definite policy at present. The Director stated that the Government was aware of the country's needs in making. The Director stated that the Government was aware of the country's needs in making.

TICKS

ARE IMPOVERISHING PARASITES

Badly infested animals cannot feed profitably. And what is worse, the animals must eat a great deal of roughage, the parasites which hamper their feeding. Much of the feed must necessarily form blood and muck of the blood is continually being drained by the ticks.

To kill ticks effectively, a dip must contain wetting ingredients. The solution must spread like an uniform film and drench every tick on all sides. COOPER'S IMPROVED CATTLE DIP contains the greatest proportion of these wetting ingredients, the greatest proportion of these wetting ingredients, the greatest proportion of these wetting ingredients. It is the "kindest" dip for sensitive animals. It is shorter to the effects of arsenic. It is the ideal dip for pedigree stock and good dairy cows.

What Kenya Does To Entertain Sailors

It has been organized for over 2,000 men-a-day. The standard made for food and accommodation are very modern.

The Port Welfare Committee in Mombasa has spent just under £2,000 on a Port Welfare restaurant. These were bought in 1942 and were bought in order to provide a dining room for the sailors. The restaurant is a regular, though restricted, service for the sailors and is open in the stream. At the end of the dining room is a bar and the restaurant is in regular service. The restaurant is open for repairs and the third has been built for the purpose. The restaurant is employed in charge of these duties.

An amount of £1,000 has been spent in Mombasa on a grand Port Welfare restaurant for sailors. Until August 1942, the Port Welfare restaurant consisted of an old Italian bar which was carried away and from playing sports. Transport is also provided for the sailors. The Port Welfare restaurant is also provided for the sailors. The Port Welfare restaurant is also provided for the sailors.

A still bigger item is the expenditure of £1,000 on a Port Welfare Officers' Club and a Merchant Navy Officers' Club. Both clubs have grounds for sports and are well equipped. The Merchant Navy Officers' Club is a well equipped club and is a well equipped club. The Merchant Navy Officers' Club is a well equipped club and is a well equipped club.

An interesting incident by the report is that a large party of sailors from the Port Welfare Officers' Club has been sent from the club on the purchase of food and the provision of food. The Port Welfare Officers' Club has been sent from the club on the purchase of food and the provision of food.

Parade In The Crimea

The most remarkable feature of the Russian campaign to liberate the Crimea was the efficiency of the movement of the Red Army. Though that fact is due in large measure to the completeness of the Russian preparation and the unexpected weight of the assault, there is no doubt whatever that it is due also to demoralisation and panic among the German and Rumanian high forces.

It is very difficult to prevent the garrison from knowing that Odessa had been evacuated, and even more difficult to prevent them reaching the obvious conclusion that Hitler had left them to their fate. For them there is no hope of help, no possibility of escape. The Crimea is only one of the many disasters which have followed in the wake of Hitler's invasion of supreme military leadership. At the same time, the German, Rumanian and the Italian troops, and the German High Command may attempt to get away their senior officers and their technicians but it is certainly true that the rest will be calamity stricken whatever fate may overtake them.

What Rommel did to his Italian Allies in the western desert when he was racing back to Tunisia, so the German High Command is now doing to the forces of Hitler's erstwhile ally, Italy. The German High Command has captured Fascist army units and is now driving them back to the sea. The German High Command has captured Fascist army units and is now driving them back to the sea.
