RUSSIANS BLAMED FOR TALKS FAILURE

New forces present in Communist bloc

WEST GIVES PLEDGE TO GERMANS ON UNITY

RUSSIA was blamed for the failure of the "Big Four" conference at Geneva by the Western Foreign Ministers before they returned home yesterday to report to their Governments.

After three weeks spent in vainly trying to find a solution to the problems of German reunification and East-West security agreement and East-West contacts, the Ministers had absolutely no progress to report at their final sessions in the Palace of Nations. While an official communiqué stated that the record of the talks would be submitted to their heads of Government.

In his closing speech, the British Foreign Secretary, Mr. Macmillan, stated that the failure of the conference meant at least that East and West were locked in stalemate again and that they had taken a step backward. He said: "At worst that they had taken a step backward."

Mr. Macmillan stated that the failure of the talks had returned them from a three-day visit to Geneva which had been expected to end with "breakthroughs."

"I feel that there are many new forces operating in the Communist world and in the satellite States which they control," Mr. Macmillan continued. "All this makes me wonder whether there is not something in a phrase I heard recently which said that the Soviet Government fears our friendship more than our enmity."

Mr. Macmillan said that the Western Ministers were not in any doubt as to the need for a different strategy; they agreed that the differences were not only in the German situation but also in the German attitude to demand freedom. It has been agreed to the feeling that the Soviet Government did not want to see the East-West talks break down, but Mr. Macmillan continued:

TEAR GAS USED Major plan for Cyprus progress

Baganda ignore Riot Act: Five arrests made

TEAR GAS was used by police after a baton charge had failed to disperse a crowd of more than 200 people which yesterday threatened to attack the Gombola (Suburban) headquarters at Nyeri in Kenya County. The attack was made for the removal of the Chief.

The demonstrators, armed with sticks and stones, refused to disperse when the Riot Act was read and when the tear gas was used. Five arrests were made.

The attack occurred as a personal message from Nyeri was published, depicting Nyeri as a person of violence against chiefs and others who had already been "slighted" by him, and statements from the Uganda and Baganda Governments that his action would be taken to maintain law and order.

Annual polo tournament at Molo was well supported

SENIOR AND SUBSIDIARY CUPS WON BY KINYATTAs

From a Special Correspondent

THE annual tournament of the Mau-Molo Polo Club, played at Molo last weekend, was a most enjoyable and successful one and the appearance of teams from Machelao and Nara Maru, to challenge the longer established and stronger clubs was a most welcome feature of the event. The Molo ground is first class and the Kinyatta and Nara Maru sides were well looked in for a contest. The Kinyatta side, standing up to over 60 chukras, was the best of the match, while the Nara Maru side, standing up to over 40 chukras, was the best of the second match. This was mainly due to the fact that the Kinyatta side played the tournament got in by the Mau-Molo Polo Club, and the Nara Maru side was not so well equipped by the Mau-Molo Polo Club. The Kinyatta side played in the tournament and the Nara Maru side was not so well equipped by the Mau-Molo Polo Club.

A convincing win

The contesting and had under the direction, respectively, of Vera and Pat Lewis was at small all that could be desired. The Senior Cup of five chukras match, attracted a large number of spectators. # AROUND THE SCHOOLS OF KENYA

The great ball standing in a loose splendour in the wind in the centre of the Kenya High School playground. For a fine practice.

JOY NICHOLL introduces a new series for the schools of Kenya with a description of the KENYA HIGH SCHOOL where 500 girls — the future citizens, wives and mothers of the Colony — are receiving their education.

Rehearsing in the open-air theatre.

From the building walk, as a well-disciplined walk, a girl in school uniform, with her dark eyes, pale complexion, and straight hair, with a serious expression, they are marching in formation. They are marching in formation, they are marching in formation, they are marching in formation.

During a morning lesson at the school, the girls are seen in their classrooms. They are sitting at their desks, and the teacher is standing at the front of the room. The girls are looking towards the teacher, and the teacher is speaking to them.

As the course of construction there is a fine school library, but only a temporary room in which to house it. The Kenya High School is a boarding school, and the girls are living in dormitories. The school is a boarding school, and the girls are living in dormitories.

Space, light and air are the first impressions one gains of the school, where it stands at a considerable height above the rest of Nairobi. The House, which is the main building, is a long, narrow building, and the girls are living in dormitories.

Over the house at the word "sing." The girls are standing in a line, and they are singing. They are singing, they are singing, they are singing.

Practising the merits of ballet. The girls are in a room, and they are practicing ballet. They are practicing ballet, they are practicing ballet, they are practicing ballet.

Chief of the Festival, while out of 20 names entered, 11 girls were chosen. The girls were chosen, and they are participating in the festival. They are participating in the festival, they are participating in the festival.

Miss Start is justifiably proud of the academic success of her pupils, and the standard is exceptionally high. She is proud of the academic success of her pupils, and the standard is exceptionally high.

I was interested to see Miss Start's records, which showed more girls than boys in the many subjects. She is interested to see Miss Start's records, which showed more girls than boys in the many subjects.

There are no separate laboratories and equipment at the Kenya High School. The school is a boarding school, and the girls are living in dormitories.

There are no separate laboratories and equipment at the Kenya High School. The school is a boarding school, and the girls are living in dormitories.

All lined up and ready to take the plunge.

Girls and abilities do not go in any direct of the same. Miss Start is interested to see Miss Start's records, which showed more girls than boys in the many subjects.

Discipline in the school is largely in the girls' hands, and they have the right to impose order and discipline. They are practicing ballet, they are practicing ballet, they are practicing ballet.

School — the future citizens, wives and mothers of Kenya — look to their Headmistress for guidance and understanding during their school days. They are practicing ballet, they are practicing ballet, they are practicing ballet.

PERSONALITIES OF THE KENYA STAGE

By Lesley Clay

ALTHOUGH he has appeared many times for the Donnan Male Players, and in a wide variety of parts, dating from their very first production in the Studio Theatre—Outward Bound—Roy Cable finds that it is best remembered for his performance in The Little Hut.

In this hilarious and somewhat daring production, he had the pleasure in London by Robert Mather. But this was not until he had already endeavored to play the same part in the same play with the Donnan Male Players. He had already appeared in the same play in the same theatre. He had already appeared in the same play in the same theatre. He had already appeared in the same play in the same theatre.

—he plays tennis, and is also a voracious reader. And again, if the answer, he would never produce more than a few lines on the theatre in Kenya. Roy was somewhat appreciative of what the Donnan Male Players did for him, and believes that the standards they maintain, particularly of late, would be very hard to beat anywhere. Of the National Theatre, he feels it is not giving quite what it should, as yet but he has to be fair to the efforts of Joe Constant and Henry Haines in putting on plays which are not just purely merely for the sake of the sake.

Diagnose Pining with Cobalt

Cobalt is both a diagnostic agent and a remedy for Pining (Kokoroisi). If your stock show any of the symptoms of the deficiency diseases — listlessness, drooping ears, listless and running eyes, bloodlessness — then you can make diagnosis by administering cobalt. If the disease is Pining, and due to a shortage of cobalt, you should see a reaction within 48 hours.

IRENE MARTIN'S Story For The Children Patch And Koko Go To The Sports

PATCH was digging in the garden. It had been raining and the ground was nice and soft. Koko was in the study where the Master was telephoning.

"Yes, all right, Mrs. Giles," Koko heard the Master say. "I'll leave Patch and Koko with you."

"Where are we going?" asked Koko.

"We're going to Terry Giles's school to watch the boys' sports," replied the Master.

"Patch," squeaked Koko, "come here, quickly."

Patch came running up and Koko hid him about the sports.

"I'll fetch the basket," said Koko to the Master. "I'll take the basket and the dog to the school."

"What's the basket?" "You gave me today," said Koko. "I know you want me to make you happy."

Patch had learned this trick when Terry Giles said to him to make you happy.

About an hour later they arrived at Terry's school. The sun was shining, and all the parents were dressed in their best clothes.

"Hello," called Terry to her father. "I know you want me to make you happy."

He ran off to the sports area and Koko followed him. He saw the other children and the dogs.

"Patch is squawking," said Koko to the Master. "I think he's afraid of the other dogs."

"Koko, I know you want me to make you happy," said Koko to the Master. "I know you want me to make you happy."

Does your engine obey you unhesitatingly? Does it give you everything it's got? It should do. If you run on Shell with I.C.A. it will.

Shell motor oil gives extraordinary power at the call of your foot. This is due firstly to Shell quality and balanced blending, and then to Shell's exclusive additive I.C.A. which increases power losses caused by engine deposits — those which cause the engine to "choke" — makes these engine deposits harmless and prevents which cause. In the way Shell gives you not only more spirit with the most power, but the means to use it and keep that power in the fall.

TALKING RADIO By Henry Reuter

NEXT to multi-racialism I've a strong feeling that the widest division of opinion in Kenya results from our tastes in music. Apart from dividing racially and culturally and causing the most violent discussions between age groups, music can even prove deadly to its composers and radio stations.

This has been amply evidenced by the P.R.C. program "Hit Parade" in which the ten best-selling records are played in order of popularity. The ten best-selling records are played in order of popularity. The ten best-selling records are played in order of popularity.

For good reason, Nairobi will be screening on Wednesday the play and life of Sir Lord Linn. Illustrated with some of the original sketches an accompanied by the piano and the B.B.C. Northern Orchestra.

ZANZIBAR PLACES UGANDA acts of violence condemned by Kabaka

APPROVED IN PRINCIPLE Privy Council to be established FIRST STEPS TOWARDS FULL PARLIAMENT

GOVERNMENT has approved the development of Zanzibar has been unanimously approved in principle by the Legislative Council.

The debate took place without Arab representation on the Official side of the House, but there were no demonstrations outside the Council Chamber and the public inside maintained complete silence during the proceedings. The proposals were supported by the African Officials and also by the Asian Officials, one of whom described them as "moderate and modern, and not radical or revolutionary."
The Acting Chief Secretary, Mr. P. Nightingale, said that the proposals, which would be reviewed within not less than five years, provided for the establishment of a Privy Council to safeguard the Sultan's prerogatives and the expansion of the Executive Council and the Legislative Council.
He stated that the Bill giving effect to the proposals should be put to the Council before the end of this month or early December. The Executive Council work being developed so that it might become the basis of a Cabinet responsible to the Legislative Council or Parliament. In the early life of the newly constituted Council, in addition to the present membership, there would be one Arab, one African and one Asian, who, normally, would be drawn from the Unofficial or representative body of the Legislative Council.

Development of the Legislative Council as a step towards a full-fledged parliament of this kind, which would take part in discussing and passing laws, would be a step towards the development of a representative form of government.

ATTENTION TO RIVAL IDEALS

The effective method was one which would be consistent with the possibility of appointing members of the Council.

Mr. Nightingale disclosed that the intention of the proposal was to have a representative body of members to Legislative Council, which would be drawn from various sections of the community. The matter had not been discussed by Law but had grown up from the mind of the Chief Secretary.

WISDOM FALLING ON THE OTHERS

There had been much comment on the proposal to have a representative body of members to Legislative Council, which would be drawn from various sections of the community. The matter had not been discussed by Law but had grown up from the mind of the Chief Secretary.

Foot and mouth

First of 21 new Nairobi buses arriving soon

COMPULSORY QUEUEING URGED THE first six of 21 new buses ordered by the Kenya Bus Co. will arrive at Mombasa for Nairobi before the end of the year.

Mr. Geoffrey Wafula, a director of the company, said the buses had been on order since last December, when Africans began to ignore Mas Man warnings to boycott buses.

Twice as many Mas Man demonstrators were seen on the roads. Africans are using buses. The Nairobi buses this year will exceed those of the 1954 total of 12,590-731.

The increase in African passenger traffic has coincided with an outbreak of boycotts among people waiting to board the Harlinge Street trams.

One of the most widespread bus, operated doors, was the Kenya Bus Co. in Nairobi. A total of 102 new buses have been ordered for East Africa for delivery between December, 1955, and December, 1957.

NAIROBI WATER RESERVE BELOW NORMAL

Warning of possible restrictions in city

Nairobi City Council may be asked to impose restrictions on the use of water in the city if the rainfall continues to be below normal. The Council last night voted to refer the matter to the Nairobi Water Board for its consideration.

The Council also passed a resolution to urge the Government to improve the Nairobi water supply system. It is suggested that the Government should consider the possibility of increasing the capacity of the Nairobi water supply system by the construction of a new reservoir in the Nairobi area.

Lack of rain causes drop in level of Ruiri Dam

The level of the Ruiri Dam, which is the main source of water for Nairobi, has fallen to its lowest point since its construction. The dam is situated on the Ruiri hills, about 15 miles from Nairobi.

The dam is a concrete gravity dam, 150 feet high and 1,000 feet long. It was completed in 1935. The reservoir behind the dam has a capacity of 100,000,000 gallons.

The dam is now only about 20 per cent full. This is due to the lack of rain in the area. The rainfall in Nairobi for the year to date is only about 20 inches, which is well below the normal average of 40 inches.

PERSONALITIES OF THE KENYA STAGE

By Lesley Clay

A PRODUCER of plays who believes in "blood, sweat and tears" is Henry Holman who, in the daytime, is to be found in an executive position in the East African High Commission, and, quite often, by night, hard at work writing the best out of his craft for a current dramatic production.

Henry Holman does not care for acting, but he does care for producing. He has had no success in the production, but finds in each new specific production of his own, more than he did in Kenya in 1931. Henry has been accused of "intellectual snobbery" merely because he has chosen and intends one day to produce plays of Shakespeare, Chekov, and Shaw. But he has from behind the scenes, at least, had the play in which production he was concerned, with Joe Cresswell, will be a far more interesting one.

Henry Holman took no active interest in the theatre until he went with one of his friends to see a play. He found the job of producing himself to be a challenge and, as he says, fortunately, there were several months before the production was due and that enabled him to travel to the four corners of production through the British Drama League to which he belonged. He was in London, Paris, and New York. He was in London, Paris, and New York. He was in London, Paris, and New York.

TOWER SEARCH FOR TREASURE

AS if there were not treasure enough in the Tower of London, the members of the Speleological Society are intent on locating £250,000 worth of jewels and valuables said to have been buried near the Bell Tower by a governor of the Tower just before he was executed for extortion from prisoners.

Captive Beauty is a miraculous liquid emollient—bracing tint, contours, revivifying the tired tissues, smoothing tell-tale lines, stimulating the complexion to a glowing radiance. Captive Beauty vanishes into the skin without a trace of greasiness, and works magic for you every second of the day and night time, with his talented wife, Helen, he wrote a script for the pantomime, Cinderella, and acted in it. He produced two one-acts for the Drama Festival and first with himself and second with the first production, and first with himself and second with the first production, and first with himself and second with the first production.

Henry says he is happiest when he has his wife and Joe Cresswell in the cast. For they make rehearsals interesting and they are used to each other's ways. When he is not producing plays he is a keen theatre-goer and as a member of the audience, finds a proportion of the plays set out on the National Theatre under-rehearsed. He feels that some amateur acts and actresses do not take their job sufficiently seriously.

Family Life Is The Keystone

By JAMES RADFORD EVANS

It is all a lot of rubbish. You know, about Mormons having more than one wife. They used to practise polygamy. They don't today they have not done so for more than 80 years...

But they are urged by their leaders to have a fourth child. It is contrary to the whole idea of the family life is the keystone of the Latter Day Saints - otherwise it is not a family.

In a good Mormon home "smelly" starts suggestive words, shouting, lying, and drinking of alcohol. "Hot drinks," especially tea and coffee.

But drop in on the weekly "Family Night" and you will find the whole family - father, mother and all the children - playing the piano, singing, reciting, acting, and it won't be long before the children, although said Family Night songs and comes with some good singing.

Divorce? Hush! It's taboo. "We deplore and discourage it," says the Mormon Church.

However, temple divorce ceremonies may occur only in a temple. If they say "I do" in a temple, it is binding forever by the President of the Church in solemn vows, including infidelity.

Marriage with non-Mormons is frowned upon and is not sanctioned in the temple.

not paraded off by the congregation. But why Mormonism? The man, whose name was simply known as "A," was a member of the Church. That Christ will reign upon the earth will be renewed, and that the days of the Anointed One will be the days of the Anointed One.

Mormonism, I claim they are true to their faith. Thus a person living today must take for his life and receive baptism on his behalf. A true Mormon may find the names of great martyrs or friends in baptism and to save them from perishing.

And just as the "Book of Mormon" is a "new testament" history? How and where was it written? It is said to be a translation of a book written by an angel named Moroni in 1830.

Today its population is 2,500,000. It is a true Mormonism, as testified by the President of the Church in solemn vows, including infidelity.

Marriage with non-Mormons is frowned upon and is not sanctioned in the temple.

little education, who had confidence training and violence. As one of them he claimed to be a prophet and told his friends he had been visited by a messenger from God.

The messenger told him where he would find a book which would show the way to the Kingdom of God. Joseph Smith said the plates had been given to him by an angel. They were engraved with small characters which he could not read.

He had received a revelation which he found an instrument shaped like a pair of spectacles through which he could understand the unknown language.

At times, he said, he had a paragon for two years and directed it as he went. It was the Book of Mormon.

Winning the golden plates new? The messenger told him that the translation was completed.

The original manuscript is now in the hands of the Mormon Church. It is a duplicate manuscript.

The magic spectacles? Smith never did say what happened to them.

That was the Mormon Church was into it. It was a true Mormonism, as testified by the President of the Church in solemn vows, including infidelity.

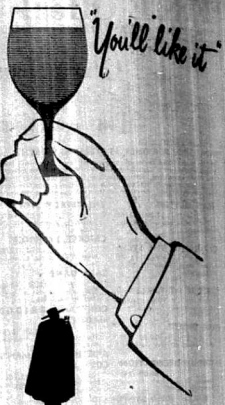

the great salt plains of Utah, the last robbery was made. On June 1844, the thousands of persecution which had occurred for so long before.

Smith and his brother Hyrum had been arrested and taken into jail at Carthage, Mo. He had a force of 300 men who had been sent to the jail to kill and shot the two men.

But the Mormon Church did not stop there. It continued to prosper and spread. It was a true Mormonism, as testified by the President of the Church in solemn vows, including infidelity.

Still the Mormonism had not ended. It was a true Mormonism, as testified by the President of the Church in solemn vows, including infidelity.

20 YEARS

THE big air raids by the Italian Air Force in Abyssinia began in earnest during this week of 1935. More than 1,000 Abyssinians were reported to have been killed in the biggest, which was on the northern war.

Marshal de Bono had been replaced by Marshal Badoglio, who did not know it at the time, this was to make a considerable difference in the campaign.

A military disaster forecast accurately that Badoglio was expected to make lightning dashes with his supporting mobile columns.

Britain lost Admiral Earl Jellicoe, who had commanded the Grand Fleet at the outbreak of the First World War and led the British fleet into the Battle of Jutland.

The notorious Stanley Baldwin names for his second cabinet. Thomas, as Colonial Secretary, had to resign as War Minister.

Lord and Lady Bessie Powell received a great welcome when they arrived in Nairobi for a tour of South and East African activities in East Africa. At the Coast, Col. Graham was defeated in his fight for a Legislative Council seat by Mr. W. C. Little, while the voting figures 24 to 31.

In Nairobi, the East African Main Show was advertised.

The show was offering an acting and dancing service for the New Topes were raised for Sir Charles Kinnear, who had been minister for Ireland, the Prime Minister of Australia, France and the United Kingdom. He was an excellent speaker and a search party was out.

You could receive a magic horseshoe from a gentleman in London for nothing, unless you felt like sending him a few shillings. His advertisement was a classic in the sense which he or his successors use today and it contained the same warning as it does today.

Write now, as this offer may not be made again.

30 YEARS

TRIBUTES from all over the world were sent to London as Britain and the Empire celebrated the death of Queen Victoria, who died on the 22nd of January, 1861.

At the Old Bather, the trial opened in 1921. It was charged with the murder of the Hon. Mrs. Williams Rust and William Giffard.

In Dublin, I.R.A. outrages were going strong. A 30-0-0 was a common sight which was a warning of a bomb about British soldiers at the Battle of The ways of newspapers were in those days. For some reason lost known to us, the names of the week's great men and women were included. Also, we assumed that our readers would remember every detail of every previous issue, because we never bother to write down what they were all about.

Thus, the sentence addressed to Mr. A. had been released. That was the way it was and what it meant is anybody's guess.

40 YEARS

ONCE again, we had long and hardy forewarned of what was going to happen next in the way - 1911 when it was going to end - by almost everyone from Edgar Wallace to Old Moore's Almanac. As usual, most of the forecasts proved to be wrong in the light of later events.

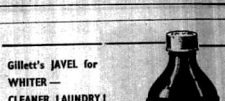

The foundation stone of Westminster Cathedral, Kampala, was laid and, by all accounts, the ceremony was extremely impressive.

And, in Nairobi, an hotel was erected during 1911-12. It was 25 stories, and ten with roof and lift and was for 600 guests.

A DREAM CARRIAGE

Born November 25, 1835, was one of the most extraordinary men of his age. Starting work in a small mill in 1848, at the age of 13, he eventually became the leader of America's steel production and amassed one of the largest fortunes possessed by any individual.
