U.N. TEAM PLANS FUTURE OF TANGANYIKA Self-government time limit urged

PERIODIC REVIEW OF THE E.A. HIGH COMMISSION
A UNITED NATIONS Mission, which visited Tanganyika last year, urged in its 300-page report, issued in New York yesterday, that Britain should fix a date for the self-government and independence of this 362,698-square-mile trusteeship territory in East Africa.
The report declares that "No stability is possible unless it is made clear that the goal is the government of the country mainly by Africans" and states that there is "among a number of the better-educated Africans, who are in a position to influence public opinion, a strong desire for a more definite sense of direction than they now have regarding the future development of the territory."
The view of the Mission, a more definite series of targets aimed at self-government would "induce an atmosphere of understanding and confidence in which the country should be able to move more rapidly and smoothly ahead."
Four countries were represented on the Mission, they were New Zealand (Mr. John Stanger Reid), El Salvador (Don Rafael Escobar), India (Mr. Rishi Jajpal), and the United States (Mr. Milton Eisenhower). Mr. Reid was designated as the Mission's chief, Mr. Reid was designated as the Mission's chief, Mr. Reid was designated as the Mission's chief.

Arrest of 17 Y.M.C.A. servants explained

'GROUND FOR SUSPICION'
An explanation by the Commissioner of Police, Mr. Richard C. Carling, had put an "entirely different face" on the recent incident involving the arrest of 17 Kikuyu employees of the Y.M.C.A. in Nairobi, the chairman of the Y.M.C.A. Council, Sir Charles Mortimer, said yesterday.
The arrests were described by the Rev. David Stock, Moderator of the Church of Scotland, in a broadcast from St. Andrew's Church on January 8 as an example of "indiscriminate" action against Kikuyus.
Sir Charles said the East African Standard reported that the council's protest against the "summary arrest" of the 17 men had been seen entirely on the statement of the police inspector who carried out the arrests.
This was in the effect that the arrests were being made under the provisions of the Public Order Act, which was being used to deal with the residential areas of Nairobi.
The men were not being held for anything but for their own protection.

What A Girl Can Do With £12 To Spend

What sort of outfit would you buy if you had only £12 to spend? In this article, DOROTHY BARKLEY tells how a London girl tackled the problem to best advantage. In the next few weeks we shall see how her counterparts in other parts of the world contrive to look well dressed on this comparatively small sum.

LONDON'S White Collar Girl knows all about her. She knows how to keep in a strict budget. Here on a shoestring and stretch her income as far as possible like this. And if you provide her with £12 with which to buy an outfit she will find she knows all about that, too. She has it in a few minutes to do it. She has a lot to say in days, and she must of her own volition. Her work is not her only source of income, but it is a good one. She has a lot to say in days, and she must of her own volition. Her work is not her only source of income, but it is a good one.

THIS 'Broad' Is Made From Seaweed

MANY kinds of sea-weeds are used for clothing. Little known elsewhere, here a commonplace in the islands of the Pacific, but J. C. Griffith Jones, broadcasting in a programme for these areas, looks at a sea food eaten in Hawaii which, to many people's way of thinking, is just a strange.

Ch no chanc

By the time the new year has been had, she does not care for the new year. She has a lot to say in days, and she must of her own volition. Her work is not her only source of income, but it is a good one.

Style

But that is only half the story. She will not buy casual slippers or the most elegant looking like. She will be buying on a strict budget, which will keep its size however much it may cost. She will buy a year's wardrobe in a few weeks.

LATER

On Griffith Jones asked the question how the "broad" was made. He said the seaweed was used to make a fabric which was used for clothing. He said the seaweed was used to make a fabric which was used for clothing.

DEFENCE TURNS INTO ATTACK

Orthodox more that pays off

SOMERLAND'S defence is much "higher" than it has been in recent seasons, when at times the fact of an offensive center takes time to develop. Full-backs have to move quickly when to come across to cover the long ball which is used by the orthodox half.

It is this together with the fact that Somersland's defense is more solid than that of any other team, that has won them a place in the championship.

WILL PADS AND GLOVES IMPROVE RUGBY GAME?

Britain's strong men say 'No, we like it tough'

BETTER and more entertaining Rugby is wanted by the British public, the Times says. The Times says that the controversy started as a result of the poor display by the British team in last year's Varsity Rugby match. The article is regarded as having been about the worst ever. This followed a match the previous year which shocked fans by its rough and dangerous play.

Many are the suggestions to alter the scoring system. One writer from the West Country says a scrum should be worth only one point. There is a great deal to be said for such a system, though a general opinion is that it would be better to give four points for a try and only two for a scrum.

Australians critic 'chinks' in their team

AUSTRALIA'S fast bowler Ray Lindwall, who strained a muscle in the third test while batting Queensland against Victoria in Brisbane on Monday, is absent from the fourth Test against England beginning at Adelaide on Friday. The selection board has increased the 12th man. Morris played in all three Tests, captaining Australia in the second, for which he was awarded the Wisden Trophy.

A Brisbane specialist who said he was "utterly shocked" to see Lindwall in the first test, said he would never see Lindwall back in batting again.

AFRICAN ADVANCEMENT VITAL TO TANGANYIKA

U.N. team proposes link up of development plans

THE United Nations Mission to Tanganyika in its report believes it will be generally accepted that the contribution of the non-African groups will continue to be in the future, but long-term stability as well as prosperity must depend primarily on the advance of the African as a producer of wealth, and on the establishment of an increasingly important role for him in the dominant forms of economic activity.

"The Africans are already, under the Territory's main production group, being primarily responsible for growing the food that keeps the population alive," the Mission comments.

The extensive entry by Africans into the profitable kind of production that was once the domain of non-African planters and farmers is the most important sign of economic progress in the Territory in recent years."

Land bank aid

"It is for this reason that the Mission believes it is vital to the economic future of the Territory that the Government should be helping them to increase their production, through improved ownership, co-operation, and training, which will be made possible by the aid of a land bank.

"By the end of 1953 it had loaned nearly £700,000 but the Government is now planning to increase its loans to Africans, because we think of land tenure required as a condition of development."

Loan fund

The report mentions the Local Development Loans Fund, which has been set up to provide a source of funds for the Government to finance its development projects. The fund is financed by the Government and the public, and is used to provide loans to individuals and companies for the purpose of developing the Territory.

Piecemeal fashion

The Mission contended that a further effort must be made to make available to African farmers, particularly those who are engaged in raising as far as possible by piecemeal requirements.

The report lists a considerable number of development projects, including irrigation, hydro-electric, industrial, and agricultural projects, which are being carried out in the Territory.

U.N. problem

The report also mentions the problem of the United Nations Mission to Tanganyika, which is currently working on a report on the economic development of the Territory.

AMERICA FLIES AIR WING TO BASES IN FORMOSA

7th Fleet gathers off the Tachens FEAR OF WEAKENING ANGLO-U.S. ACCORD

THE United States Air Force yesterday began flying an entire wing of Sabre jets into Formosa from Manila and Okinawa to augment American carrier-based planes which will provide an "umbrella" for the Chinese Nationalist evacuation of the Tachens Islands. The evacuation is expected to begin this weekend.

While the first planes were landing, there were growing reports that the Nationalist President, Gen. Chiang Kai-shek had agreed to President Eisenhower's suggestion for a ceasefire in the Formosa Straits.

BRITISH GRANTS FOR COLONIES

Government plans to spend extra £3,000,000 yearly

THE British Government has announced its plans to spend £23,000,000 on development work in its colonies from 1955-60.

The House of Commons gave a formal First Reading—without debate—to a Bill extending the life of a 1945 law for colonial development and welfare. This Act, which provides for an extra £3,000,000 per year for development work, will be introduced in the House of Commons on Monday.

The new law proposes that the £3,000,000 per year should be added to the £20,000,000 per year provided for the colonies under the 1945 law. The total would be £23,000,000 per year.

AMONG THE NEW BOOKS

BIG GAME HUNTING
THE temporary lull in the novels which always occurs round Christmas has, we learn, already begun to break with the appearance of Mr. C. S. Forester's Drummers in Darkness, in England this week.

By all accounts it will set as a new publication of new titles which will probably make many of us very sorry that we have not yet read the best of this writer's interesting work in a volume appropriate to book-club members.

Mr. C. S. Forester has a highly readable, if somewhat over-the-top, style. His previous books have been popular best-sellers. His new book, Drummers in Darkness, will be no exception.

U.N. REPORT 'UNREALISTIC AND DANGEROUS'

Industrialist fears chaotic situation in Tanganyika

The report of the U.N. Commission on Tanganyika has been condemned by Sir Eldred Hitchcock, former Minister in the Tanganyika industry, who describes the report as "unrealistic and even dangerous to Tanganyika". He said the recommendations would "bring about a chaotic situation such as no friends and worst enemies could not wish," he said in an interview. "This report should not be accepted, either by the British Government or the people of Tanganyika, and I hope this will, in due course, be made abundantly clear by all communities in Tanganyika, including the African, and by the Tanganyika Government."

Sir Eldred said he had had the opportunity to discuss the report of the Commission with the Secretary of State for Africa, and that he had made it clear to the Secretary of State that he was not in favour of the report. He said that he had also discussed the report with the Secretary of State for India and Ceylon, and that he had made it clear to the Secretary of State that he was not in favour of the report.

Rejection of 'ill-considered' views urged by Europeans

Responsible European industrialists have flatly denounced the U.N. Commission report. All communities in Tanganyika, as well as the Government and U.K. Government, are urged to leave no doubt about their rejection of the mission's recommendations.

He said the enlarged Legislative Council would not be a representative body, and that the report of the Commission was "unrealistic and dangerous to Tanganyika". He said that he had also discussed the report with the Secretary of State for Africa, and that he had made it clear to the Secretary of State that he was not in favour of the report.

You can CONTROL your tillage with a CATERPILLAR TOOL BAR

Draw bars are attached to the track roller frame, making the tool bar an integral part of the tractor. Implements can be lifted high when traveling from field to field or when avoiding obstacles.

A forward push on the lever forces tillage implement on the ground. A pull on the lever brings them off. The tool bar has four positions: raise, lower, hold and float. In the float position, tools seek their own depth by action.

Attaching, removing and spacing of implements is easily accomplished by one man. Sufficient mounting holes provide for varied spacings of implements.

Control your tillage with more of your night. Caterpillar Tool Bar. Ask us for complete information.

A PAGE OF PICTURES RECALLS THE RECENT DOG SHOW

ENTRIES from Kenya, Uganda and Tanganyika were received for the first Dog Show organized by East Africa Breed & Club since the Emergency started. There were 100 entries and a crowd of between 300 and 400 people flocked to the lovely surroundings of Mitchell Park on a day of brilliant sunshine. The occasion was especially notable in that Lady Crawford presented the prizes late in the afternoon, and Mrs. Mary Chidgey, an international show judge from Yorkshire, was there to judge one of the classes. She considered the standard remarkable in view of the difficulties created by the Emergency, her only criticism being that a few dogs appeared to be in need of show training. This would appear inevitable with more and more complete "amateurs" at the game taking a keen interest in showing, but each succeeding event should produce better performances.

As a social as well as a competitive occasion, the show was one of the best held to date, for how could it be dull when such delightful-sounding names as Grevfary, K-Fun-Nomane, Crippety, Belinda, Vainia, Pajapati, Dawn of Avondale and Son of Sabin were being handled about?

On this page you see a few of the proud owners with their entries, including some from Nakuru, Gilgit, Naivasha and Ol Kalou.

Boxers, fast becoming one of the most popular breeds in East Africa, were well to the fore, but the German-type Boxer—apt that for competitive purposes—with its prick-ears almost stole the show from its more Angli-fied brethren.

Do-It-Yourself Craze in Britain

By DOROTHY BARKLEY

WITH the Christmas holidays back at school, the British housewife turns her thoughts to the home's annual do-it-yourself craze, and finds the expert has come to her aid. (With labour so dear, their own do-it-yourself craze, and more people round the home.)

When the housewife is faced with the task of repairing a broken-down machine, she may prefer to call in a professional. It will be out of the pocket, but it will be done right. And it will be done in a reasonable time. And it will be done in a way that will not cause any further trouble.

But if she is a do-it-yourselfer, she will have to do it herself. And she will have to do it in a way that will not cause any further trouble. And she will have to do it in a way that will not cause any further trouble.

write setting up home for the winter. They will need to have their houses in good order. And they will need to have their houses in good order. And they will need to have their houses in good order.

THE new colours of the winter season are all the rage. And they are all the rage. And they are all the rage. And they are all the rage.

ENTERTAINING, slipping from the Tower Gates, France and South, have just had their annual snow-capped roofs. Each one is made of two tonnes, and it is so heavy that the light will always have their "cupolas" fast rising in their faces.

By Muriel Penn

THE H-line, launched by Christian Dior in Paris at the end of July 1934, seems to be on the way out. The latest intentions of the top fashion designers are never collected until the International Fashion Show in London, which is held in the month of October. Beginning this week... the fascinating story of MISERS THE MEANEST WOMAN IN THE WORLD

DAVID DIVINE contributes the first article in a series on people who were misers.

The beginning

It began 100 years ago on the deck of a whaling ship in New Bedford, Massachusetts.

His name was Ebenezer Scrooge, a London stockbroker who had made a somewhat successful career in the city.

He had made enough for himself to be comfortably off, but he was miserly and mean.

He was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean.

He was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean.

He was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean.

He was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean.

He was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean.

He was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean.

He was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean.

Meancr still

He was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean.

He was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean.

He was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean.

He was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean.

He was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean.

He was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean.

He was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean.

He was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean.

He was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean.

He was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean.

Only friend

He was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean.

He was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean.

He was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean.

He was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean.

He was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean.

He was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean, and he was miserly and mean.

THROUGH MY HAT By Kenneth Meadows

I HAD made up my mind to let sleeping dogs lie. Had you wish, I mean, to make any bones about it.

Not that I had certain dogs in mind, but I had certain dogs in mind.

RADIO PERSONALITIES IN KENYA

By Lesley Clay

When the voice first began to chatter all over East Africa it was that of Ann Dobbie who joined Cable and Wireless Ltd. in 1949 as deputy programme manager. He soon started building his own programme and one of these was designed to give the boys a regular radio service in the Colony. I refer of course to the 15-seconds Programme, which was first heard in 1950. I should like to say here that Ann Dobbie is a very popular figure and is well known to many of our readers. He has a wide knowledge of gramophone records and has his own cabinet of records. He has a vast knowledge of the habits of numerous stars from over the Atlantic, and he has a good sense of humour. ## IRENE MARTIN'S Story For The Children Patch Goes To The Rescue

PATCH was asleep in the garden. Koko, the parrot, decided to have a stroll on his own. He climbed down from the back of a chair and said, "I'm going exploring, clever Koko."

He walked along the path through the grass and saw the road. There was a loud noise coming from the back of the road. It tried to walk down the road but the moment the back door was closed it suddenly climbed up inside Koko's hand. Koko took a big "Zoo" and the moment the back door was closed it suddenly climbed up inside Koko's hand. "Let me out! Let me out!" Koko called out from behind the door. Koko took a big "Zoo" and the moment the back door was closed it suddenly climbed up inside Koko's hand.

U.N. TEAM PLANS FUTURE OF TANGANYIKA Self-government time limit urged PERIODIC REVIEW OF THE E.A. HIGH COMMISSION

A UNITED NATIONS Mission, which visited Tanganyika last year, urged in its 300-page report, issued in New York last week, that Britain should fix a date for the self-government and territory in East Africa.

The report declares that "No stability is possible unless the country is united as the government of the whole... among a number of the better-educated Africans, who are for a more definite area of direction than they now have regarding the future development of the territory."

Four countries were represented on the Mission. They were New Zealand (Mr. John Stangerford), El Salvador (Sen. Rafael Estigarribia), India (Mr. Rishi Jajoo), and the United States (Mr. Mason Saxe). Mr. Reid had disagreed with the findings and recommendations.

Applying the same criteria and bearing in mind the striking development in Tanganyika in the last eight years, and, despite its uncertainty, the much larger area of the country which self-government is within reach of the people...

The report recommends that the United Nations High Commission should be empowered to set up a committee to study the possibility of using the present form and rate of the administration as a basis for a self-government which would be a legitimate basis for a self-government which would be a legitimate basis for a self-government...

The New Zealand representative stated that the mission was not intended to be a study of the obligations to bring the people of Tanganyika to self-government. The mission was to study the possibility of using the present form and rate of the administration as a basis for a self-government...

It would certainly be a mistake to suppose that the mission was intended to be a study of the obligations to bring the people of Tanganyika to self-government. The mission was to study the possibility of using the present form and rate of the administration as a basis for a self-government...

It is not possible to say whether the mission was intended to be a study of the obligations to bring the people of Tanganyika to self-government. The mission was to study the possibility of using the present form and rate of the administration as a basis for a self-government...

especially now that those restrictions are being effectively removed. It is felt that there should be more than in any other country in the world... The subject of the East African High Commission is a subject which has been discussed in the past... It is felt that there should be more than in any other country in the world...

A NATIONAL MOVEMENT Mr. Reid on the other hand... The report also states that the mission was not intended to be a study of the obligations to bring the people of Tanganyika to self-government. The mission was to study the possibility of using the present form and rate of the administration as a basis for a self-government...

PLANS TO RAISE AFRICAN COFFEE OUTPUT

Review suggests pooling of research knowledge

The annual figures for African coffee tell the story of a steadily increasing production in the different territories, but a different story is told of the development being envisaged—according to the views of the industry by Eda, Schuster and Co. Ltd.

The inter-territorial coffee industry, the result of which is a very small scale, it is stated. They show that work on existing production is being intensified and new surfaces of production are being scratched. Many of the inter-territorial undertakings look promising.

Most of these concerned with the coffee industry are engaged in expanding a foundation upon which a more solid structure is being built. The main factors are: adequate transportation by qualified European technicians; land a stable climate of political development.

400-year Indian coal project

India has agreed to grant a concession to a British firm to develop a coal project which will supply the coal for the Indian subcontinent. The project is estimated to cost £2,000 million and is expected to be completed in 1960.

The project is being undertaken by the Indian Government and the British firm, which is expected to be a consortium of British and Indian firms.

Men and machinery

Those unacquainted with the coffee industry in Africa are often surprised to find that the industry is not a simple one. It involves a great deal of men and machinery, and the industry is growing rapidly.

The industry is growing rapidly in Africa, and the industry is becoming more and more important.
