BRITAIN CUTS ITS SPENDING ON DEFENCE £102,700,000 less in the next year

ATOMIC WEAPONS WILL BE USED IF WAR COMES

The British Government has announced that it will spend an estimated £1,537,200,000 on defence in the financial year 1955-56. This is a drop of £102,700,000 compared with the estimated expenditure for the current year.

A White Paper on defence states that the overall strength of the three fighting services will be 783,000 in April 1, 1956—a decrease of 35,000 on the present estimated figure.

The report makes it clear that in the event of war Britain would not hesitate to use atomic weapons. It states that the concentration of civilian nations must naturally result from the prospect of using nuclear weapons. Nevertheless, in the last resort only if no other feel that destruction to face the threat of physical devastation, even on the immense scale which must now be foreseen, is manifestly preferable to an attitude of subservience to military Communism, with the national and individual humiliation that this would inevitably bring.

The Soviet Union and Eastern European satellites had about 6,000,000 men under arms according to British estimates. It is stated that the German front divisions would have increased to well over 100 divisions within 30 days. Over the whole field of operations, it is stated, deployment, use and wear of the Soviet and satellite land forces could be raised to the level of 600 divisions.

The report continues: "Even if the Government were to carry out the 'halfhearted' modernization programme which is being put into any territory, the Government would still be facing a serious task in the event of a sudden attack by the Soviet Union and its satellites."

Development and production of atomic bombs during the year will be £1,000 million, the report states. The Government is spending £1,000 million on the development of atomic energy. The report states that the Government is spending £1,000 million on the development of atomic energy.

FIRMS REDUCES TO-GRAD COFFEE PRICE

The Nairobi Coffee Board has announced that the price of coffee in the East African region will be reduced to 1/6 shilling from 1/6 1/2 shilling per cwt. effective from the 1st of March 1955.

The board has stated that this decision is based on a number of factors, including the decline in the world coffee market and the need to maintain a fair price for the producer.

The board also stated that it will continue to monitor the market and will be prepared to adjust the price if necessary.

INTERNAL SECURITY

Receiving the power of the Executive Director in the Police Department, the report said that the Police Department has a wide range of musical instruments available for hire. This includes saxophones, trumpets, cornets, clarinets, trombones, and piano accordions.

ON SOVIET TALKS PLAN Need to reconcile East-West views DISARMAMENT PROPOSAL DISMAYS DIPLOMATS

BRITAIN would agree to a world disarmament conference, as proposed by Russia at the weekend, only if that week's meeting in London of the United Nations disarmament sub-committee made progress in reconciling East-West views, a Foreign Office spokesman announced.

He was commenting on the Russian plan, broadcast by Moscow Radio, for a world conference to be called by the United Nations this year to reduce armaments, use atomic and hydrogen bombs. Russia suggested that all nations should pledge themselves to destroy any stocks of atomic and hydrogen weapons and not to increase their stocks, armaments or military budgets after the end of January 1, 1955.

The Foreign Office spokesman declined to comment on the Soviet statement which has damaged diplomatic quarters in London on the ground that it might hamper progress on the disarmament subject. It was noted that acceptance of the Russian proposal would mean, among other things, that the West would have to abandon the Paris agreements to rearm West Germany. The Western Powers are not prepared to do this.

In his first major policy statement by the new regime since Marshal Bulganin replaced Mr. Khrushchev, Khrushchev asserted that public opinion was demanding the destruction of atomic and hydrogen weapons. He said that the United Kingdom, America and France of steps which would lead to a speeding-up of disarmament in the arms race and said the Paris agreements were evidence of this. An international plan to refuse to use atomic weapons would be an important step towards banning them.

Commenting on the disarmament sub-committee session which opened in London on Saturday, the Foreign Office spokesman said that the meeting was the first since the Paris agreements were signed. He said that the meeting was a serious attempt to bring about a settlement of the peaceful use of atomic energy.

FAILURE OF LAST CONFERENCE

Talks last June to settle the disarmament sub-committee were held in Geneva, London, Paris, and Moscow. They failed to reach an agreement on the disarmament of atomic and hydrogen weapons. The meeting was held in London on Saturday.

Bomb decision 'inevitable'

M. R. O'CONNOR, who was arrested in Paris from the French Embassy, said that the decision to drop the hydrogen bomb was inevitable. He said that the decision was made by the United Kingdom, America and France. He said that the decision was made by the United Kingdom, America and France.

Meru spending £140,000 on new town centre

Rector critic of approach to Mau Mau

The outspoken rector of the Lincolnshire village of Haint, Rev. Reginald Gant said in a sermon on Sunday that "whereas Britain had failed to find the right approach" against the Mau Mau in Kenya.

Although the village has a population of 38, the rector has made it one of the best known in Britain because of his outspoken comments on contemporary subjects.

"The right man"
He said: "The right man has been made in the death agony of white Africa set up in Kenya. The handman is man as any man ever."

"Whereas, we have failed to find the right approach, the limited intellect of those individuals have succeeded in their conquests alone would destroy, were it not for the fact that they were not alone."

"Kenya is the cradle of a new era of leadership that can be found nowhere if we have to search the world in fact. It is the right man, Lord Ken, in Kenya and give him a certificate to do what he will."
"To need the palace there might be - but not without the without end."
(Gaster)

ATTRACTION FOR TOURISTS

The 10,000 people of Meru are preparing for after the Emergency and spending £140,000 on the new town centre of the north and forestry town. Between 1945 and 1948, the town of Meru was one of the best tourist attractions in East Africa.

Nearly all the money is to go to new shopping areas which will be completed this year. The rector has said that the town will be a model of modern planning and retaining it in the town and three-quarters of a mile north-west of the town.

The new commercial centre will be 100 yards from the main road. The new town centre has been planned for the next 10 years. Although the cost is about £140,000, the town will be built, says a report of the town council, in 10 years.

Build of stone
The shape of one story, will be built of stone. The first was ready in four months.

The scheme was first put forward by a local entrepreneur in 1945. It was approved by the town council in 1948. The plan was modified and then approved. It was approved by the town council in 1948. The plan was modified and then approved. It was approved by the town council in 1948.

FOREST WORK 'CREDITABLE' DESPITE HANDICAPS

LACK of funds, shortage of manpower and the Emergency have handicapped the work of the Kenya Forest Department, but its activities have been creditable, says Mr. E. J. Hume, Director of Forests, and the Department's report for 1950 and 1951.

There was a record of maintenance of 100,000 acres of forest, says Mr. H. M. Wood, Director of Forest Development. The Forest Department, says Mr. H. M. Wood, Director of Forest Development, has been successful in maintaining the forest in the face of the Emergency.

MUSIC SOCIETY HOPES FOR 'HAPPY YEAR'
Mrs. J. Gill, president of the Musical Society, reports that the society's annual meeting was a "respectably successful year" despite the economic conditions caused by Mau Mau.

It was hoped that the coming year the society would return to more normal and happy conditions.

The society's next production will be the play "The Merchant of Venice" which will be produced by Mrs. J. Gill, vice-president.

AGA KHAN'S PLAN FOR ISMAILIS IN AFRICA

A PLAN to "turn the Ismailis of Africa from a state of shock into a healthy industrial community" was disclosed by the Aga Khan, spiritual leader of the 20,000,000 Ismailis, when he attended a luncheon at the Aga Khan Hotel in Nairobi last week. The Aga Khan, who is still confined to his wheelchair, illness which prevented him from coming to East Africa, is the spiritual leader of the Ismailis, a sect of 2,500,000—the equivalent of a gift from the Ismaili community in Africa.

It was during a luncheon which was held at the Aga Khan Hotel in Nairobi, Kenya, on Monday, February 24, that the Aga Khan, who is still confined to his wheelchair, illness which prevented him from coming to East Africa, is the spiritual leader of the Ismailis, a sect of 2,500,000—the equivalent of a gift from the Ismaili community in Africa.

FUND TO BE SPENT ON 'UTILITY' HOUSES

MR. I. ENATHO's prominent member of the Ismaili community, stated in Nairobi yesterday that the Ismaili community would be using the £200,000 gift to help the lower income groups to buy "utility" houses. The scheme would be put into operation within a few months. He said that the Ismaili community had been successful in raising the fund of £200,000—some 80 per cent of the cost. The fund is to be used to build houses for the Ismaili community in Nairobi and other parts of Kenya.

Co-operative trade

Of the industrialization plan, Mr. Enatho said that it was a co-operative trade scheme. He said that the Ismaili community was interested in the co-operative trade scheme, which would be put into operation within a few months. He said that the Ismaili community had been successful in raising the fund of £200,000—some 80 per cent of the cost.

New chairman of Elected Members on unity need

Mr. Alfred Vincent, a prominent member of the Ismaili community, stated in Nairobi yesterday that the Ismaili community was interested in the co-operative trade scheme, which would be put into operation within a few months. He said that the Ismaili community had been successful in raising the fund of £200,000—some 80 per cent of the cost.

200 cars drive through Nairobi in procession

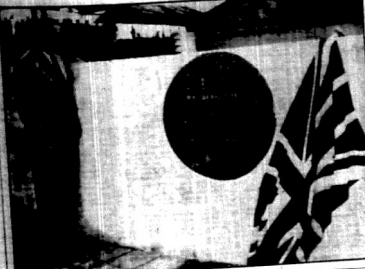

In Nairobi the Ismaili community, led by the Aga Khan, participated in a procession of 200 cars through the city. The procession was held in honor of the Aga Khan and his family. The cars were driven by members of the Ismaili community and their families.

AWARDS FOR THREE BRAVE MEN

Kikuyu recovered stolen rifle

THE Queen has approved the awards of the British Empire Medal and Queen's Commendations for Brave Conduct to two members of the Kikuyu Guard and a Kikuyu civilian as the result of an action near Murrumbidgee, in the Light division in October, in which a 300 rifle was recovered.

The B.I.M. gun to James O'Connell, a sergeant-major of the Kikuyu Guard from the same post, and Kagemba, a rifleman from the Murrumbidgee Battalion.

When a Mau Mau gang ambushed a Home Guard on Murrumbidgee, in October 1955, the three men were wounded and captured. They were held for several weeks in the Kenyan Government, but on a patrol to look for the hideouts.

Brother injured

A large crowd had gathered and the P.W. detachment used them to bring a captured rifle back to the camp. It was the rifle which had been stolen from the Home Guard. It was the brother of the injured man.

Three drown as dinghy sinks in Tanga Harbour

Prosecution warning over security breaches

HARM DONE BY RUMOURS

WHERE any flagrant breach of security was traceable to a particular origin, the Government would not hesitate to prosecute, the Minister for Internal Security, J. Chacko, stated in Kenya Legislative Council. He said the law was adequate to deal with breaches. The Minister was speaking during a debate on the new security act which was being introduced by Col. H. R. Jackson, Acting Member of the Council. Mr. Chacko said that the new act was a step towards the standard of operational security. He said that the War Council is to take instructions from the Council. The Council approved an amendment to the act which stipulated that there was no requirement for a statement of opinion to stand in lieu of evidence and urged a general security act.

'Giant' ends 850-mile rail journey

THE biggest single load ever carried to Kampala, a giant transformer weighing 30 1/2 tons, has just been unloaded from the railway after being transported from the Coast. It is the first of two transformers which will connect Kampala and the surrounding areas to the new 110,000-volt grid system built in Uganda. The transformer, from England, was loaded on to a special transport from the Coast. TAIN WILL NOT FIGHT FOR ISLANDS Premier's assurance on China NEED FOR CARE OVER EVACUATION ADVICE

SIR WINSTON CHURCHILL, gave a categorical assurance in the House of Commons that Britain would not become involved in the defence of islands off the coast of China. He was replying to questions by Socialist M.P.s.

The Prime Minister made what was thought to be an oblique reference to a statement issued a few hours earlier containing a resolution which called on Britain to use its influence with the United States Government to obtain the withdrawal of Nationalist troops from the islands.

He pointed out that, as there was no question of Britain being involved militarily in the defence of the offshore islands, they should be careful what advice they offered to the United States.

The Prime Minister, answering other questions, said that he doubted whether a suggested visit to Britain by Mr. Kuo, the Chinese Premier, would be of any benefit to the Chinese or other world problems would be "of any help".

SOVIET ATTACK NOW ALMOST IRRESISTIBLE

MR. GRENTHAM, European Commissioner in charge of the British Mission in Geneva, said in a speech to the House of Commons that the Soviet attack on Czechoslovakia was now almost irresistible.

He said that the Russian attack on Czechoslovakia was a serious threat to the stability of Europe and that the United Kingdom was doing all it could to help the Czechs.

EXPORT TAX OFF NGANYIKA

tion to trade of action by Kenya

Board of Kenya told the East Africa House of Representatives that there was no indication intended to follow suit. A meeting with the Minister for Finance, Mr. R. A. Vasey, preparatory to the abolition of the 15 per cent export tax on Kenya coffee beans was postponed last year as a Budget measure. The official recognition of Vasey estimated that the tax would add about 270,000 to the revenue. He said it was one year since the policy was announced since the estimate.

Target exceeded

The tax on Tanganyika coffee beans was expected to be in the order of 200,000 shillings, but it exceeded the target of 230,000 shillings for the first time. The Government has announced that it will continue to pay the average price of 220 shillings per ton for coffee beans in the next year. It was announced that the price of coffee beans in Nairobi was 230 shillings per ton.

Hurt from growers

It was widely expected that the coffee price would be raised to 230 shillings per ton. The Government has announced that it will continue to pay the average price of 220 shillings per ton for coffee beans in the next year. It was announced that the price of coffee beans in Nairobi was 230 shillings per ton.

Market 'sell nervous'

The lifting of the tax was expected to be a boost for the market. However, the market was described as 'sell nervous' due to the uncertainty over the future of the tax. The Government has announced that it will continue to pay the average price of 220 shillings per ton for coffee beans in the next year.

Governor tours 19 villages

DRIVE OF 50 MILES IN NYERI AREA

By the Hon. Mr. C. M. Johnston, Provincial Commissioner of Nyeri, Mr. J. M. B. Butler, District Commissioner of Nyeri, Mr. R. M. Roberts, North Ohaywa Provincial District Officer, and Mr. J. Jones Grayburn, Ohaywa District Officer. We visited 19 villages and stopped to speak to chiefs, headmen and elders and their families. In the course of the tour which lasted about three hours, with a 30-mile drive to and from the main town for a special drive to the villages, we saw many of the typical conditions there. The people were very friendly and their progress helped us to understand the situation in the villages.

Revenue—The Nyeri District has long been a revenue area. The revenue is collected by the Nyeri District Officer. The revenue is used for the development of the district. The revenue is also used for the maintenance of the district roads. The revenue is also used for the maintenance of the district schools.

Confidence in chiefs—Through an interview by the Governor and the Provincial Commissioner, we saw that there was a great deal of confidence in the chiefs. The chiefs are very respected and their decisions are followed. The chiefs are also very helpful and their decisions are followed.

Better weather hope for Britain

Snow has almost melted after another night of almost continual snowfall. But temperatures were rising slightly after the most recent nation-wide freeze-up, bringing hopes of general improvement for the week-end.

Bees stranded—An April, some were stranded with frozen hives and combs. The bees were stranded in the hives and combs. The bees were stranded in the hives and combs.

JUDGES URGE INFILTRATION INTO CATTLE CASE

African court ignores re-trial order

The Court of Appeal for Eastern Africa, sitting in Kampala, has recommended a full and independent inquiry into the actions of the British High Commissioner, Eastern Uganda, in convicting and sentencing an African for moving cattle without a licence.

'Badly treated'—The court said that the appellant was badly treated and that the trial was unfair. The court recommended a full and independent inquiry into the actions of the British High Commissioner, Eastern Uganda, in convicting and sentencing an African for moving cattle without a licence.

BANK RATE TO 4½ PER

Drastic anti-inflation

The Bank Rate was raised to 4½ per cent. This is the highest rate since 1951. The move is believed to be a further step in the Government's policy of anti-inflation. The Bank Rate is the rate at which the Bank of England lends to other banks.

You can make your Ferguson Product

No. 3 Why no wheels

Ferguson ground engaging implement has no wheels. When next you see a Ferguson plough in operation, don't think of it as a plough without wheels.

Our implements were built this way so that when they turn they form an integral part of the tractor. The tractor itself carries the full weight of the implement all the time.

Apart from the added strength obtained by cutting out extra implement parts and using only the highest quality materials the system introduces considerably more tractive power when it is needed. It also means that you have a tractor which only utilizes the power necessary to do a particular job.

The most essential point illustrated by these facts is that each implement, through the utilization of the unique hydraulic system, is tailor made and therefore economical for the job for which it is designed.

It will pay you, too, to farm with Ferguson

AT HOME WITH THE CONSULS

This week, in her series, JOY NICHOLL writes of the Ethiopian Consul-General in Kenya, Mr. Berhanou Tessema.

LOOKING at a map of the world, there do not seem many expanses of the earth's surface which Mr. Berhanou Tessema has not covered. For this tall, handsome Ethiopian Consul-General has a real passion for travel, for going places and seeing things whenever the opportunity presents itself. A part from journeys involved in his career as a diplomat, he sees every chance to be off every spot of land, as he is everywhere with his camera and his photographic hobby which he much enjoys.

Although Mr. Tessema only came to Kenya as

The Consul-General in traditional Ethiopian dress.

Consul-General last July, it is not his first visit to the Colony. As long ago as 1926, when he was in his twenty-sixth year, he took up a leave of absence from his post in order to be present at the inauguration of the Ethiopian office in Addis Ababa, and he has since then been in the Sudan. Much of his work was done in connection with the army from which he was discharged in 1928. He was also carrying on the duties of his post as secretary to the Ministry of the Interior.

In the spring of 1928 he went with the Ethiopian delegation to the United States for the Food and Agricultural Conference and to discuss the loan. During the four months he was in the States he was in Washington, New York, Chicago, St. Louis, St. Paul, and other cities. He was most impressive, and especially in the case of the United States, Virginia, where the Conference was held.

As the war in North Africa was progressing, the trip took him via Latin America to

Moscow

LATER that year came a very different experience, when on his first entry into the Foreign Service, he was appointed as second secretary to the Ethiopian mission in Moscow. He arrived in the Russian capital in the autumn of 1929, and was engaged at the time and the place for a half-year. He was not only able to see the city, but he was able to see the people, and he was able to see the things which he had heard of in the past.

It was in Moscow that he was first attracted by the art of painting, an interest which has remained with him ever since. He made many friends during his three and a half years there, and when he returned to Kenya later he was in contact with many of them. He was able to see the things which he had heard of in the past, and he was able to see the people, and he was able to see the things which he had heard of in the past.

When his appointment there was made, he had a very interesting experience. He was in London for a few days, and he was able to see the things which he had heard of in the past. He was able to see the people, and he was able to see the things which he had heard of in the past.

Among with his camera and his gun, Mr. Tessema prepares to leave on one of his many expeditions which he makes as secretary.

By Land Rover starting from London, it took him through France, Switzerland, Italy, Austria, Greece, Turkey, Syria, the Lebanon and Transjordan, then over to Cairo from where he drove down to Luxor and Assuan. From Luxor he went to Khartoum and from there to Khartoum and from there to Khartoum. He was able to see the things which he had heard of in the past, and he was able to see the people, and he was able to see the things which he had heard of in the past.

Likes London

In 1931 Mr. Tessema went to London, Sweden, Denmark, Germany, Norway, and France, where he remained for a few years as a Consul. He was able to see the things which he had heard of in the past, and he was able to see the people, and he was able to see the things which he had heard of in the past.

Motor tour

On his six-month holiday, which commenced in Kenya, Mr. Tessema did a tremendous trip.

IRENE MARTIN'S Story For The Children Patch And Koko Go For A Picnic

"Patch, the war-bred heroine and Koko, the pet monkey, are the stars of the weekly radio program, 'Patch and Koko Go for a Picnic,' which is broadcast every Sunday at 8:30 p.m. on the Kenya Broadcasting Corporation. The program is a very popular one, and the radio personalities are very much appreciated."

"We don't suppose all their young friends are carrying lunch for them to eat on the picnic. The children had to take their own lunch with them, and they were all very happy to see the radio personalities."

"The game to catch the Master," said Patch, she was very tired after all the work she had done for the children for a moment. Koko had to quickly find some fruit and take it to the basket. He was very happy.

"Koko" he exclaimed, "did you see the monkey in the basket, no wonder it was happy!"

"All the carrots eaten," stretched Koko, "I'm tired."

"All the cakes, the" replied the Master, "what a great thing you could've explained the situation."

"When they had finished all the cakes, the Master got the strawberries into the basket. 'Come along and help me give the strawberries to the children,'" he said.

"Patch was very good at giving strawberries to be sent off to the children. She was very helpful and kind."

"Time to go home now," he said. Koko climbed up onto the Master's shoulder. "I'm tired," Koko said. "I could rest here."

"Well, Koko, you weren't meant to be home very early," said the Master. "I'm very glad to see you home and I'm glad to see you home."

"I'm very glad to see you home," said the Master. "I'm very glad to see you home and I'm glad to see you home."

"I'm very glad to see you home," said the Master. "I'm very glad to see you home and I'm glad to see you home."

ON YOUR RADIO Next Week

NEW writers can match the French playwright, the brilliant comedy, fantasy and poetry with such a delicate touch that his listeners scarcely know whether to laugh or to cry.

There is plenty of laughter in the French play, which is being broadcast in London. The play will be broadcast in London on the radio on the 15th of next week.

"I'm very glad to see you home," said the Master. "I'm very glad to see you home and I'm glad to see you home."

How much fun is a dog's life?

A dog's life can be a lot of fun. It can be a very interesting life, full of excitement and adventure. Dogs are very loyal and loving animals, and they can bring a lot of joy and happiness to their owners.

But a dog's life can also be a lot of hard work. Dogs need to be exercised and trained, and they need to be kept clean and healthy. It can be a very demanding job to be a dog owner.

There's another thing about dogs that you should know. Dogs are very social animals, and they need to be around other dogs. If a dog is kept alone for a long time, it can become very lonely and depressed.

So, if you're thinking about getting a dog, you should think about all the things that you'll need to do to take care of it. It's not just a matter of buying a dog and giving it a home. It's a lot more than that.

CRAFTSMEN IN PICCADILLY

FIVE HUNDRED yards from Piccadilly Circus, in a backwater street away from the street of horse and carts, in the home of a craft that is dying in the country and growing up with the town. And if it seems odd that basket-making should be carried on in a building that is partly by the theatre and shops nearby in every reason is simple enough.

"Money was here first," says a young man, a 78-year-old man, Charles Lewis, who has been in the street since 1840. He is in the room that Master Charles set up his workshop when he was the village of St. Giles-in-the-Fields. But though the street was once a busy thoroughfare, it is now a quiet street, and the only horse and carts that pass are those of the London Police. The street is now a quiet street, and the only horse and carts that pass are those of the London Police.

Of for the Guards

Of Scott's latest student, the young man, who is the son of the late Lord Curzon, is now a member of the Guards. He is now a member of the Guards, and is now a member of the Guards.

In the family

The family of the late Lord Curzon is now a member of the Guards. He is now a member of the Guards, and is now a member of the Guards.

One of the few changes of the last year is that now of the village is now in the hands of the late Lord Curzon. He is now a member of the Guards, and is now a member of the Guards.

Exports

AND this year it will appear to be a record year for the export of British goods. The value of British exports is now a record year for the export of British goods.

His secret

It is in the hands of the late Lord Curzon. He is now a member of the Guards, and is now a member of the Guards.

Dry harbour

It is in the hands of the late Lord Curzon. He is now a member of the Guards, and is now a member of the Guards.

From the corner of a basket-making workshop in the heart of London to the African jungle, that is the journey made by the goods of the basket-makers. He is now a member of the Guards, and is now a member of the Guards.

MESSING ABOUT IN BOATS

BELIEVE ME, my boy, there is nothing half so much worth doing as messing about in boats. Until the other day I had never furnished the true importance of the remark. It was made, you may recall, by Walter Raleigh in the year 1617.

The Consuls of Kenya

The consuls of Kenya are now a member of the Guards, and is now a member of the Guards.

MODEL ship construction is a hobby that is growing in popularity. It is now a member of the Guards, and is now a member of the Guards.

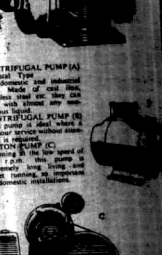

Aeronautical

THAT such an exhibition is being held in London is a sign of the progress of aeronautics. It is now a member of the Guards, and is now a member of the Guards.

Novelty

THE novelty of the day is now a member of the Guards, and is now a member of the Guards.
