Five ivory poachers arrested in Malindi district

RESULT OF WARNING TO CHIEFS

ADMINISTRATION and police in the Malindi District have come to grips with the ivory poaching problem which has been worrying them for some time. Five poachers have been arrested and 24 tusks seized. It is expected that many more arrests are expected from combined efforts which is flowing in freely.

The Administration had been aware for some time that ivory poaching was being carried out but could not do anything effective until it was known that members of the Wanyai tribe were largely being hunted and killed by poachers.

On recent safari in the hinterland, the District Commissioner warned the Chiefs that ivory poaching was being carried out and that they were responsible for supplying information, and that they should be expected immediate action from the Administration.

Within four days of his return to Malindi one Chief sent in a report that he had taken action against ivory poaching in his area. The Administration then the police who were alerted and the men and resources of the district were directed to that area to hunt down poachers.

Others named
On being cross-examined in Malindi the arrested poachers, told where their tusks were hidden and where they were used to be taken away. During this time the poachers named a Chief who had been named as a friend of ivory poachers in the business.

On the same day, four tribal policemen under a regular command were sent out with the arrested man, who led them to his stronghold. Four Wanyai poachers were arrested and 24 tusks seized. The Chief and his wife, and his children and his wife were taken to the station and a leopard skin was also seized.

POACHER'S LETTER
Following these successes in the ivory poaching, the District Commissioner issued a letter to all the Chiefs in the district and the District Commissioner and the District Commissioner to advise them to take action against ivory poaching in their areas.

It is expected that many more arrests are expected from combined efforts which is flowing in freely.

VERDICT OF EXCELLENT SHOW AT NAKURU

Public support indication of growing interest in farming

NAKURU SHOW, unlike last year, was a financial success, the secretary of the Royal Agricultural Society of Kenya, Lt.-Col. G. M. Allen said yesterday. He was unable, however, to give any figures as many accounts had not been received.

There has been a steady stream of letters this week and he said that the society had been most gratified at the compliment of the society which showed the growing interest in Kenya farming. Livestock entries topped any previous show at Nakuru as yesterday's commented that the standard was much higher than ever before.

The judges had a difficult task particularly, which was to find a winner in the number of the Council of the South African and one of the Brooders' Society.

'Necesser's success'

Only a few weeks after Lt.-Col. Kenya to live on his 150-acre Emswiler estate, near the British Airline, Captain Necesser, Mr. Harbort, the Brooders' Society, and the Kenya Agricultural Society. He has been a member of the Kenya Agricultural Society since 1954.

Mr. Harbort, who has been a member of the Kenya Agricultural Society since 1954, was the winner of the Best of Show award. He was also the winner of the Best of Breed award for his 150-acre Emswiler estate.

'Better future'

In 1954, Mr. Harbort came to the Colony as a member of the Agricultural Council to judge at the Royal Show in Nairobi. He found the country immediately and decided that there was a better future for farming in Kenya. He bought 150 acres of land near Nairobi and started farming.

Denmark's Modern Dairy Industry

By ALISON COLE

DANISH farmers, with whom I have spent two weeks, visiting dairy associations, poultry-dressing and egg-marketing factories, are celebrating the 50th anniversary of the opening this month of London's Dairy Dairy Festival.

As the most important customers for the products of Danish farms in various foreign countries, the British have for an exceptionally long time been fast-widening their appetites.

BRITISH housewives are attracted by Danish dairy products and regarded to set a standard which other countries have not reached. It is the quality of the products which is the main reason for this. Danish dairy products are of a high standard of quality and are produced in a clean and hygienic manner.

majority come from modern, well-equipped farms. The major part are small, family-owned farms and holdings, but a few large farms, with up to 100 acres, are also producing milk. The Danish dairy industry is a highly organized one, with a central body, the Danish Dairy Board, which controls the production and export of milk.

At the end of the year, when the production is at its peak, the Danish dairy industry exports about 1.5 million tons of milk to other countries. This is a record for any country in the world.

One of the reasons for the success of the Danish dairy industry is the high standard of hygiene and cleanliness which is maintained throughout the industry. This is achieved by strict control of the production process, from the selection of the cows to the final product.

NAIROBI Y.M.C.A. NOW HAS A SWIMMING POOL

THE opening of the £10,000 swimming pool at the Y.M.C.A. in Nairobi marks another step forward in the life of the Association in Kenya and will provide a much-needed amenity for its 300 members. The official opening ceremony is to take place in July on a date which has yet to be arranged.

I went to the Y.M.C.A. the other day to watch workmen putting the final touches to the pool, which lies at the foot of the hotel and which, in the course of its construction, has become a familiar and interesting sight to travellers along the Princess Elizabeth Highway. It is obvious that much thought has gone into its construction and to the design of its surroundings.

One of the double rooms in the new wing which, in the case, is shared by Mr. Nigel Park, a South African, seen on the left, and Mr. Patrick Haines, an Irishman.

Sun deck.

The changing room and the entire length of one side of the swimming pool and roof has been designed at a sun deck. On this will be easy folding chairs and tables, where members will be able to relax and enjoy refreshments provided from the shop nearby. During the sun deck is to be a table for the use of the three sides of the pool. This table can be used for shade.

All nationalities

I WONDER how many boys will realize what a boon the Y.M.C.A. hotel is to the hundreds of young men who come to Nairobi to do business in various parts of the world. At present there are 78 in residence with a waiting list of 200.

British, American, Australian, South African, Italian, Dutch, German and Danish.

There have been two Africans, but at present there is none. The youngest resident is 18, the oldest 28. Trade occupations are, as can be imagined, varied. There are apprentices, electrical engineers, a farmer, a meteorologist, an accountant, bank officials and an actor. Hobbies include herding — I saw some wonderful designs of herds in the advertisement — photography and all its accessories. One resident is a radio-enthusiast. The hotel part of the Y.M.C.A. was originally

The £10,000 swimming pool which is to be officially opened in July. On the left are the changing rooms and the sun deck. Workmen were putting finishing touches to the pool when this picture was taken.

Dramatics

THE Y.M.C.A. was originally set up to provide a place where young men could meet and talk over their problems. It was a place where they could find a friend and a guide. It was a place where they could find a home.

Future plans

MR. SAE came to Kenya in 1942 and was responsible for the building of the two centres in Nairobi. He is now the secretary of the Y.M.C.A. and is planning to build a new centre in Nairobi. He is also planning to build a new centre in Nairobi.

Men from many different countries come to work in Nairobi and a number of them are seen here at the hotel. They are seen here at the hotel.

KEEP your engine LONGER

Why let the vigorous pull and sprightly response of your engine drift away with the miles? Maintain peak performance by choosing an up-to-date oil... Shell X-100 Motor Oil. Modern motorizing demands an oil with extra qualities and Shell X-100 has them all. It is detergent to keep engines clean inside; it is able to defeat acid corrosion; it is tough to withstand the heat and stress of modern conditions. It is the leading anti-wear and detergent oil. Choose it with complete confidence that your car, whatever its age or make, is getting the finest all-round protection it could have.

SHELL X-100 MOTOR OIL

PROTECTS AGAINST WEAR
 Shell X-100 Motor Oil protects engines against the combination of heat that causes most engine wear, particularly during cold starting, warm-up, and when cars idle. It also protects against the wear caused by the high speeds and temperatures of modern engines, maintaining a smooth oil film all at conditions.

KEEPS ENGINE CLEAN
 Shell X-100 Motor Oil is a detergent, cleaning the engine and preventing the formation of sludge and deposits that keep your engine from working smoothly. It is a detergent, cleaning the engine and preventing the formation of sludge and deposits that keep your engine from working smoothly.

CENTRAL AFRICAN DOMINION

'IN NEAR FUTURE'

Sir Roy's Lusaka prediction

DOMINION status in the near future" was forecast by Sir Roy Wilkins, Deputy Federal Minister of the Interior at a Divisional Executive meeting in Lusaka on Tuesday. He held to the course that we have now set for ourselves. Lusaka, he said, is not nothing more than a stepping stone to the Dominion status in the near future.

He was firm in his view that the Dominion would succeed and would not fail. He said that he was sure that the Dominion would be established in the near future and that he was sure that it would be a success.

Fuller appreciation of the Dominion would be great. The Dominion would be a great step towards the Dominion status in the near future. He said that he was sure that the Dominion would be a success.

Low racial tensions. The Dominion would be a great step towards the Dominion status in the near future. He said that he was sure that the Dominion would be a success.

One of the major stumbling blocks to this recognition was the fact that the majority of the Government of the Dominion was composed of the race in the majority.

Shortage of teachers in Federation

BETTER CONDITIONS AND PAY ANTICIPATED

The coffee tree is an exciting plant, but the three territories of East Africa provide the combination of soil and climate it needs to flourish. This happy chance of nature was recognized by the pioneers and today coffee is one of the most important exports of East Africa. Coffee has been grown commercially here for a little over 30 years, but now the products of plantations in Kenya, Uganda, and Tanzania are sent to 40 countries all over the world, and 1954 exports amounted to 66,000 tons.

One of the first exports from Uganda was a consignment of coffee in 1903. It was carried on the Uganda Railway. Since then the coffee-growing industry has developed into one of the most important in East Africa. That development has meant increasing demands on the rail services, lake services and port facilities. In 1955 the coffee industry throughout East Africa, by then well established, called upon the railways to transport 60,000 tons of coffee. In 1954 the tonnage transported had grown to 102,000, and this figure had been increased to 187,000 tons by the end of 1955. To meet the needs of today, East African Railways and Harbours have 3,423 wagons in service and another 870 on order. The lake services have been improved by the provision of new launches and lighters. And big developments schism at the ports are expanding East African coffee exports all over the world. These exports are vital to East African economy. Railway and dock facilities are vital to the exports — and East African Railways and Harbours are constantly improving and developing all these workers on the land and in industry, who are helping to build a greater East Africa.

workers unlikely to form union in near future
LABOUR OFFICERS' VIEW

ALTHOUGH there is no reason to believe that the industry as a "frontier" might well look on the workers as a "frontier" in the future, there was no union of African workers in the Central Provinces, taking a model of the Nanyang Chinese and District Association at Nanyang.

Mr. M. S. V. who was speaking on the possible union in the Nanyang district, said: "The workers are not yet ready to form a union. They are not ready to be led by a leader."

In his opinion, he considered the possible course of the trade union movement in the Nanyang district might well be followed by wherever European workers are available. For instance, the International Brotherhood of Shipyard Workers has been successful in representing the workers in the Nanyang district.

Outside influence
The influence of outside forces on the work in Nanyang is not to be underestimated. It is likely that the workers will be influenced by the workers in the Nanyang district, who are already organized into a union.

'NO DEMAND' FOR MARKET IN EASTLANS DISTRICT
Ward councillors object to proposal

A NEW market in the Eastlans area of Nairobi's African sections is proposed to be built on the site of the Olda-Makadara area over the next three years. The subject of intense discussion at a meeting of the Nairobi Council.

A Trade Commission report presented to the Council has advised that the market should be built on the site of the Olda-Makadara area. The proposal is to build a market on the site of the Olda-Makadara area over the next three years.

One of the advantages of a market was that trading prices were kept low and the benefit was passed on to the consumer. It was also a means of providing a market for the produce of the district.

Mr. C. K. P. Mwangi, the Council's representative for the Eastlans area, said that the proposal was a means of providing a market for the produce of the district. He said that the proposal was a means of providing a market for the produce of the district.

The model girl of Britain is shrinking. Ten years ago the higher she stood in her nylon Tights and fur and had foot-to-the-top hand in hand.

She is "shrinking" on the "lower" because model-making is a "shrinking" industry. The model-makers are "shrinking" because they are "shrinking" in their own minds. They are "shrinking" because they are "shrinking" in their own minds. They are "shrinking" because they are "shrinking" in their own minds.

Yvonne Taylor, Missions First and London Mayor's model school, has been doing very well. She has been doing very well. She has been doing very well. She has been doing very well. She has been doing very well.

To Selwyn the girl who is "shrinking" is a "shrinking" girl. She is "shrinking" because she is "shrinking" in her own mind. She is "shrinking" because she is "shrinking" in her own mind.

Just like a girl who is "shrinking" is a "shrinking" girl. She is "shrinking" because she is "shrinking" in her own mind. She is "shrinking" because she is "shrinking" in her own mind.

Mr. Macie Capin, on the left, entered his first-class in a competition to find the "most beautiful" and won second place. Mrs. Macie Capin, on the right, won first place.

Mrs. Macie Capin, who is first-class and Mr. Macie Capin, who is second class of the year by the General Civil Service Group.

THIS is hardly a thing to be proud of, but it is a thing to be proud of. It is a thing to be proud of. It is a thing to be proud of. It is a thing to be proud of.

For the latest trends in fashion, the fashion industry has been doing very well. The fashion industry has been doing very well. The fashion industry has been doing very well.

PROBABLY the most popular of all the new fashions is the "shrinking" fashion. It is a fashion that is "shrinking" in its own mind. It is a fashion that is "shrinking" in its own mind.

An example of one of the finest dresses we have to offer suitable for formal occasions, that will take you through the day until cocktail time. With matching hat to complete the ensemble.

Land Consolidation The Way To Security

A NEW phrase has come to Kenya, a phrase that affects the future of thousands of Africans—goodness to thousands of acres of land. It is "land consolidation"—the re-arranging of a number of pieces of land into one lot so that each occupant has the same amount as before, but in one place where he can give it his undivided attention and farm it as it should be farmed.

For those who understand what this means—the giant plan behind the two words—there is welcome for here. It is security, a way to increased productivity and a higher standard of living for the present generation of African agriculturists.

But there are many who do not understand what land consolidation means and it with suspicion and distrust. They are waiting for a word, a Government trick—something that will depose this suspicion that this article is the first of two which has been written.

During the past weeks I have discussed land consolidation with many of the Government officials and local tribesmen, and I know that the scheme is being put into operation in many parts of the country by the people themselves to see the results of the land and its productivity.

No compulsion

It should be made clear from the outset that the Government has no intention of forcing the people into land consolidation. As a matter of fact, the scheme is the result of the idea in the minds of the people themselves so that they themselves will see the benefits to be gained and seek the help of the Government, not the other way round.

In the tribal orders—the traditional land authority—who will bear most of the responsibility of making the arrangements for the consolidation of the land, the Government officials are providing technical assistance in the consolidation and in farm planning. If it has been achieved.

It must be remembered that the land in Kenya's main areas, particularly in the Rift Valley, is held under leasehold tenure. This means that the Government has the right to buy back the land at any time if it is not used in accordance with the conditions of the lease. This is a very important point to remember.

In the old days there was a great deal of land lying idle. This was due to the fact that the land was held in many small pieces, often owned by different people. This was a waste of land and a hindrance to development. Land consolidation is a way of solving this problem.

African women, on the other hand, are beginning to show an interest in land consolidation. They too, want to see their land consolidated and their crops improved.

One of the most important things to remember is that land consolidation is not a Government scheme. It is a people's scheme. The Government is only providing the technical assistance.

The Kikuyu women are particularly interested in land consolidation. They are beginning to see the benefits of having their land consolidated and their crops improved.

African teams are being trained to measure the land and establish the rights of every member of a tribe. Here an instructor studies the results of a measuring operation set in the field.

Another big land problem is the constant litigation between the owners of multiple plots. For instance, two boundaries between two plots may be in dispute. This may lead to litigation. It is rarely possible to use such a plot for agriculture or other purposes. It is a waste of land.

The Government will encourage and help in all areas where there is a genuine desire to improve conditions. It is hoped that inter-tribe boundaries will be introduced to give the Government a better idea of the total extent of the land. This will enable them to hear and settle all claims of occupancy and to compile a register for the benefit of the people. This will establish their rights in the land and their rights for compensation purposes such as grazing, stock and rights of way.

The African committees will ensure that no member of the tribe is left out of the process. The duties of the committees will be to hear and settle all claims of occupancy and to compile a register for the benefit of the people. This will establish their rights in the land and their rights for compensation purposes such as grazing, stock and rights of way.

Only way

THE main aim of the consolidation scheme is to give the people a better way of life. This is the only way to improve their conditions. Land consolidation is the only way to give them a better way of life.

Fragmentation

Fragmentation is the splitting up of a man's land into many small pieces. This is a waste of land and a hindrance to development. Land consolidation is a way of solving this problem.

Next week

Next week we will discuss the benefits of land consolidation. We will see how it can improve the lives of the people and how it can be achieved.

FROM THE WEEK'S LEADERS

End this farce

THIS farce about unpaid leave for Kenya's Olympic entrants continues to be a laughing matter to members of the team in full training. There are 10 hockey players, eight footballers, one swimmer, much of the organization is made up of air passages booked for October 22, and £10,000 has been committed towards the £20,000 apparatus, when some ridiculous Civil Service rule is invoked which may mean that the team cannot go to Rome. It is a farce which must be ended. The Government must see that its athletes are not left in a lurch. The Government must see that its athletes are not left in a lurch.
