Staggering of polls criticised

INFLUENCE ON OTHER AREAS FEARED

SUCCESSFUL and defeated candidates, as well as those whose fate has not been decided, yesterday solemnly urged that the specific staging of polling days for the Kenya General Elections should be discontinued. They claimed that results in early elections might influence other constituencies.

But officials of the Administration contended there were several reasons why the practice had been introduced. Apart from the heavy demands on the same day, it was suggested that consideration had to be paid to particular areas where the Government was anxious to restore peace and stability for elections on specified dates.

It is understood, however, there will be an early attempt for a complete re-arrangement of the Legislative Council by the Government. It is suggested that the Government will be able to do this on the same day as all other constituencies.

It is also understood that the Government will be able to do this on the same day as all other constituencies.

Building a symbol of Chagga people's success

PRINCESS TO SEE K.N.C.U. HOME

THE Kilimanjaro Native Co-operative Union Limited (K.N.C.U.) is a symbol of the success and democratic ideals of the Chagga people. It took them 25 years of hard saving, but now they have a building and modern working premises worth £200,000. The K.N.C.U. is 24 years old and has 24 affiliated societies with more than 40,000 members.

The K.N.C.U. is an entity in itself with its own chairman, officers and staff. It has a staff of more than 100 employees. The average coffee holding is less than one acre but last year a crop of 1,500 tons of high-grade coffee was produced worth more than £2,000,000—about £200 per acre.

The Chagga people were quick to realize the advantages of co-operation, and their union was formed in 1928. It was then known as the K.N.C.U. and was headed by Mr. A. L. Mwaniki, an African who had been a teacher in Tanganyika.

Launches for Princess Elizabeth, the Queen of the Netherlands, will be held at the K.N.C.U. building in Nairobi. The Princess will be accompanied by her husband, Prince Philip, and will be the first European monarch to visit Kenya.

DANGER POINTS

AS every farmer knows, animals can receive ugly cuts and tears from a dozen different sources on the farm. And once the farm is done, wounds can all too easily become infected, with consequent adverse effects on health and productivity.

THE solution to the problem lies in keeping a set or tube of 'LOREXANE' ANTI-SEPTIC CREAM handy at all times. This safe and highly effective wound dressing combines antiseptic action with powerful insulating properties. Thus, it not only prevents infection and soothes the hurt, but also safeguards the injured animal against the secondary risk of frosty "stings".

Artist Scored With War-time Paintings

BY JEAN VAUGHAN

A PAINTER'S success is largely a matter of timing. Mr. Joyce Butler, whose career as a portrait painter was progressing well before he married in 1950 and became a Kenya housewife, is a good example of this. Butler is a Johannesburg artist who started her training in London Art School. In 1951 she went on to the Royal Academy School of Art, where she was one of the few women students. During the war years she did drawing and painting work for the A.R.C. and later for a firm under contract to the Ministry of Aircraft Production, where she produced instructional diagrams on the use of radar.

Stroke of luck
Her wartime painting was shown in a gallery and she had a stroke of luck when the attention of a collector called "The Collector" was attracted by a picture and paper bag against a bomb-damaged background.

Looking Back
The model for the picture was a woman in a uniform, the color of the sky, charging the front line. The picture was bought by the collector and came out to Kenya to be framed and hung in a house in Nairobi. Butler's work was well received and she has since painted many other pictures in the same style.

CHINA AND JAPAN AT EACH OTHER'S THROATS

By Michael Holmberg

WHILE the Spanish Civil War progress consisted mainly of China by each side, the Chinese and Japanese, who had been at each other's throats for months, finally worked up to a full-scale war by the end of the week.

THORIAN PROTEST
The war also had echoes of the Thorian protest in the East African when the Italian government insisted that Ethiopia should have a right to representation in the United Nations.

30 YEARS
As the 30th anniversary of the end of the war in Europe approached, many people in the East African were reminded of the sacrifices made during the war. The war was a time of great hardship and suffering for many people.

of Crown Prince Leopold and it was announced that he would visit the East African States in the next few months. The visit was expected to be a success and would help to strengthen the ties between the two countries.

AIR SERVICE
The last regular air service between the East African States and Europe was suspended. This was due to the lack of aircraft and the high cost of fuel.

40 YEARS
This was a great week for the East African States. It was a time of great achievement and progress. The States had made many improvements in their infrastructure and economy.

FILM IDOL
The film industry in the East African was thriving. Many new films were being produced and shown in theaters. This was a sign of the growth and development of the region.

The Archers Intervene' Will Appeal To Many

FOR those in Britain, many thousands of families have turned to a radio serial after the last things had been said in winter, with certain dates in mind and in summer with windows open to the wind. It has been expected that 10,000,000 people will hear book on the adventures of the Archers—Mr. Mason and Mrs. Mason and their children.

The book has again written a "quiet evening" story of the Archers. It is chronicled that which indicates of the story's wide appeal. The book is written in a simple, straightforward style which is easy to read. The story is set in a small village in the north of England. The Archers are a family of five, including the father, the mother, and three children. The father is a carpenter, and the mother is a dressmaker. The children are a boy and two girls. The story is a simple, straightforward story of the Archers' lives. It is a story of the Archers' lives, and it is a story that will appeal to many.

Small Princess Slumbers Peacefully

This story of H.M. Princess Alice, who perished two and a half months ago, was told to me by a woman in one of the sitting rooms of the palace at Windsor when she was passing for the portrait artist, Mrs. Ulrike Forbes, the Princess, who was suffering from a cold, rubbed her eyes and Mrs. Forbes noticed the shadow upon her face. Anne pronounced that it meant tears for which she covered her face, and she turned away. Mrs. Forbes, who was the wife of the late Mrs. Forbes, was a member of the household at which Mrs. Forbes was a member of the household, and she was the wife of the late Mrs. Forbes, who was a member of the household at which Mrs. Forbes was a member of the household.

Attempt To Salvage Wreck

A YOUNG Cape Town company director may successfully salvage a cargo ship's hull off the steamship Birkenhead, which was wrecked in February, 1915.

Mr. Iziah Trower, who dives with special equipment on a buoy, last night in touch with Mr. Trower Van Dijk, who has just formed a salvage company, and saving the wrecks that Mr. Van Dijk had in mind to salvage, which was a mile off Danger Point near Cape Town.

The ship was taking troops to fight in the eighth year of the war when she foundered, and had about £250,000 in war supplies and silver on board to pay the troops.

This money is, so far as it is known, in the hands of the Government, and it is difficult for ordinary deep sea divers to attempt to raise the heavy wreck, and bringing up the wreck is not expected in the present in the British Republic, a matter of five years.

THE THINGS THEY SAY...

My daughter has won five of a million dollars in a contest today and the other day a girl from New York had a million dollars in a contest.

THE general public has been surprised to hear that the Chief Justice of the United States has been named for a position in the State of New York.

An understanding of the value of a million dollars is not to be taken lightly.

It has been a vintage year for the general public.

It is wrong to suppose that the general public is not interested in the things they say.

X-Ray Films By Wire

THE Albert Einstein Medical Center here has received X-ray film over telephone wires from Mount Sinai Hospital in New York, about 150 miles away, in experimental transmissions, and expects predicted a useful future for the development.

Dr. Gordon Cohen, Medical Center radiologist, has been carrying out the tests over the busiest commercial telephone circuit in America, in cooperation with Dr. Bernard Wolf, head of Mount Sinai's radiology department.

Equipment used in the tests between Philadelphia and New York was designed and developed for the New York Times by the X-ray Corporation, a firm which has a transmitter line by a light beam. A photo cell picked up the light signals and re-transmitted a current amplified by the amount of light.

The current was transmitted by wire and transformed at its destination into X-rays some 150 miles from the original X-ray film.

FROM THE WEEK'S LEADERS

Symbol have been released. Third, conditions have changed so radically that the Princess can go to places which were once among the worst affected areas. He was referring principally, of course, to the Kinangop where the families on the remote farms have endured great hardships and hung on heavily until victory is in sight.

Having given his optimistic forecast, Sir Evelyn was careful to record that no specific time has been fixed for the end of the Emergency because UK Day can not come until several further aims have been accomplished. Some 600 terrorists are at large, with two leaders whose fanatic behaviour prolongs the suffering of their followers and delays the inevitable end. Until these men and their evil associates in which craft have been accused, for the Emergency cannot be considered over, because they are the root-cause of infection. The elimination of Kimathi and Mathenge, however, could well precipitate the collapse of their haggard followers.

For humane, no less than political reasons, progress must be quickened with the rehabilitation and release of the 35,000 Kikuyu and others who are detained and measures taken for the relief of hardships in reserves overcrowded by the return of so many, all of whom cannot live on the land. Finally, the Emergency cannot be ended until some of the regulations have been incorporated in the Colony's permanent legislation as necessary safeguards.

With these tasks yet to accomplish, Kenya can not "break off and relax" for a while in the charming province so radiant and serene as was observed and again at the Coast. Today she rests aboard the Britannia, sailing out to Mauritius and thence to Zanzibar, Kenya bids her good-bye, vogue and eagerly awaits her return.

Dressed overall by tapering official street decorations down to the outside streets and inner-streets roads and really "go to town in town." However, it will be regrettable if certain areas are neglected because the Princess is not expected there, and for the want of somebody to take the lead in decorating private houses and other buildings. Let Nairobi be dressed overall.

Government and City Council are responsible for street decorations and the floodlighting of public buildings (fireworks having been ruled out because of the expense and risk) while the European and Indian Chambers of Commerce are co-ordinating the efforts of business houses. There is an obvious need for liaison between neighbours to avoid repetition or the clash of colour schemes.

Armed forces a majestic motif for the white sections at Meru, Na. Something grand is needed for Nairobi, an imaginative option embodying wild game, especially the Kenya lion, will be characteristic of the city.

Experienced mountain rescue team always ready

AID IN AIRCRAFT CRASHES

Volunteer rescue teams of members of the Mountain Club of Kenya are ready at any time of the day or night to take part in searches for aircraft which may have been forced down in mountainous areas of East Africa.

Very closely with the East African Directorate of Civil Aviation, a High Commission service, the club is fully responsible for search and rescue in East Africa, and its members' readiness to take part in such operations has been noted by the British Government.

The club's rescue teams can be made ready by the Director of Civil Aviation at any time. The teams can go into action immediately.

The scheme provides for the success of close co-operation between the Mountain Club of Kenya and the British Government.

Mr. J. G. Moore, Secretary of the Mountain Club, said that the club's rescue teams are always ready to take part in searches for aircraft which may have been forced down in mountainous areas of East Africa.

M.B.E. for Portuguese and Coan

The appointment to make the Honorary Members' list of the Governor is published in the East African Gazette of September 10, 1952. The names of the two honorees are: M. J. P. Coan, a Portuguese teacher, and M. J. P. Coan, a Portuguese Government servant.

The Governor also appointed M. J. P. Coan an Officer of the Order of the British Empire by the Governor of East Africa.

Salisbury hearing

Mr. Alfred Dore, of Nairobi, is to give evidence in Salisbury on the case of the late Mr. J. G. Moore, who was a member of the Mountain Club of Kenya.

Mr. Dore was a member of the Mountain Club of Kenya and was involved in a search for the missing aircraft of the late Mr. J. G. Moore.

The hearing is expected to take place in Salisbury in the near future.

HOUSING PROBLEM FOR OVERSEAS STUDENTS

THERE are 1,277 students from East and Central Africa taking courses in Britain at universities, technical colleges and other educational institutions. This forms only a comparatively small part of the total of 13,000 students from all parts of the world studying in the London area.

In recent years the second world war has created a serious housing problem for the thousands of overseas students who require special types of accommodation. This has added to the serious shortage of lodgings available for students in the London area.

The Government has established a special committee to deal with the housing problem of overseas students. The committee has advised the Government to provide special types of accommodation for overseas students in the London area.

Fisheries Officer wins Christmas card competition

Illicit tin row

There has been a serious dispute between the Government and the tin miners of East Africa over the issue of illicit tin. The Government has issued orders requiring the tin miners to stop mining illicit tin.

The tin miners have refused to comply with the Government's orders, and the Government has threatened to take legal action against them.

JAIL FOR SORCERY IN RHODESIA

Fines imposed on headmen

A outbreak of witchcraft on the Broken Hill district of Northern Rhodesia has resulted in several sentences and severe warnings by the magistrate.

The incidents occurred at a band-stand where a man and his wife were sitting. The man was accused of sorcery and was sentenced to three months in jail.

The wife was also accused of sorcery and was fined 10 pounds. The magistrate warned that further incidents would result in more severe penalties.

Evidence was given that the man and his wife had been seen at the band-stand at the time of the incident. The man was accused of using magic to cause the death of the man's child.

The magistrate found the evidence against the man and his wife to be credible and imposed the sentences mentioned above.

WORKINGTON'S RUN MAY

END AT WREXHAM

But Manchester United can save a point at Highbury

TWO League clubs alone remained undefeated at the end of six weeks' play, but while Manchester United were the point-makers, it may be that they are the only team to have not lost a game on their own ground. Workington's fine run may come to an end in their fourth game of the season at Wrexham, writes Archie Quick.

In addition to the leaders, Manchester United, their three immediate rivals, their three immediate First Division rivals, also have to be considered.

There have not been any easy tasks, but Spurs are once again the main target. They are due to meet them at Luton, Thursday, and will be the first away of the season. England under 23's win in Copenhagen

ENGLAND scored a comfortable 3-0 victory over Denmark after a goalless first half in their Soccer international for Players under 23 at Copenhagen on Wednesday.

The England side, including six newcomers to representative football, looked being outdone in the first half, but their second half was more than good enough to see them through. Goals were scored by Stuart Pearce (1) and Stephen Ireland (2) and Ireland, who was named the Man of the Match, scored the final goal in the 80th minute.

The League of Ireland Soccer team, who participated, held the match largely in a 5-3 draw in Dublin last year by the Scottish League in a match played at Glasgow under Colin Calderhead and then scored for the Scottish League in the 1965-66 season.

Results of Wednesday's English League Games were: Celtic 2-0 Dundee; Rangers 2-0 Aberdeen; Hearts 1-0 Dundee; Hibernian 1-0 Dundee; Inverness 1-0 Dundee; Kilmarnock 1-0 Dundee; Motherwell 1-0 Dundee; St. Johnstone 1-0 Dundee; St. Mirren 1-0 Dundee; Stranraer 1-0 Dundee; Thistle 1-0 Dundee; West of Scotland 1-0 Dundee; West Ham 1-0 Dundee.

"I had our experience in this respect last year was the worst since 1950. Most of the complaints have come from West Germany, a valuable export market which is important to us."

£57,000 for centre at Kisumu
PLANS APPROVED BY BOARD

KISUMU Municipal Council has approved final plans for a £57,000 social centre to be built in four stages.

When completed the centre will include a social hall, library, cinema and games room with 15 rooms or depending on an extension or depending on an extension to be found locally in Western Province and the allocation of Government grant - to start work on the centre in 1937.

The provision of an adequate African social centre at Kisumu was approved by the Council on June 19, 1934 when Mr. G. Freese, then Mayor, and Mr. G. Freese, Municipal Engineer and a member of the Council, suggested the idea instead of making extensions from time to time, but it was not until 1935 that a complete new hall was decided to be built.

Various designs and sites were considered but a final decision was not reached until the appointment of an African Affairs Officer.

Club for women

On the recommendation of Mr. O. J. Mansfield in October, 1937, the Council was requested to provide a Working Committee which stated that it was necessary to have a Club for women. It is proposed to construct a building for a club for women in the area of the social centre.

The building will be developed in four stages. The first stage will consist of the main social hall, a library, a room and library, the cinema room and a large open air area. The second stage will consist of a hall for the purpose of a social centre for the African women.

TURKEY REACTS TO THREAT OF DICTATORSHIP

By a Special Correspondent

ATMISTMUD's attempts to prevent the advent of a military dictatorship in Turkey have been launched by the Freedom Party, which is the youngest political organization in the country. It was founded only recently by former members of the ruling Democrat Party.

It was with the intention of ending the personal régime of the Premier, Mr. Menderes, and his continuation of a dictatorial government.

The young nationalist dictatorship is growing day by day and political observers have no doubt that the Communist Section, scheduled for election, would start the ruling party, would start the ruling party, would start the ruling party.

LESLEY CLAY FOUND THESE

Garage Girls Bright And Efficient

I MEETED some petrol in a lurch at the Nyrup Road and pulled up at a filling station. Not without a little apprehension, I may say, because not all my experience of filling stations has been good.

For instance quite often the assistant who manages to take off the grill from my car radiator, in order to put it back again; in fact there was the greatest difficulty in grill dropped off when I was half-way to Mombasa—that the one of the car to see how she managed.

As she dealt with the same, another African girl put her with air and, after I had opened the bonnet, yet another person completely laid me out. I checked the oil and returned the petrol water in the radiator and the one who had put in the petrol also took away something the battery cable.

She helped them on correctly, without overlooking it. I also noticed a "handy man" for the night. He was a little bit of a professional, but for the sake of the machine service I had been given.

I drove away rather though. They were these girls? Well, since, they would they prove

Contributing to the job. The "lass" replaces the spark-plugs with precision and vigor for the tynes.

Making the experiment, she said that over the years a number of her girls had been sent in training to various parts of the country to work as mechanics. They were well versed in their work and were well known to the public. They were well liked and were well respected.

They have finished with their work, and they are well versed in their work. They are well liked and are well respected. They are well versed in their work and are well respected.

Above: Service with a smile. "When must shall I not in, you?" asked I. The girl next to me answered me with a smile.

She looks to her to be a mechanic. Here, an African girl drives her car and talks to me of the girls who are working in the garage.

possibly, later on, they may be put on a bonus incentive scheme to turn them into efficient, self-acting accessories.

The idea behind the bonus incentive scheme is to encourage the girls to work more efficiently and to take more responsibility for their work.

It was thought that the company might have to be the very necessary detail of service in the customer's hand of the men, although the men are slightly more mechanically minded.

Proficiency training was given to them to select them as the girls were taken out of the garage station to be taught in a school to give them a country education in order that they could be trained to do the same work as the men.

Tidy minded. Advantages in employing girls are many, according to Mr. Perin. They are more efficient, more reliable, and more economical than men.

A Dangerous Error

Many married people believe that, if they do without making a will, their husbands will automatically pass to their families or wives. This is often true, but not always—and, when there is no will, Letters of Administration must be taken out, often a costly and tedious matter. It is only common prudence to make a will, which you can of course alter at any time. For the important matter of insurance, you cannot do better than appoint Barclays Bank D.C.O. as your Trustee. Barclays Bank has many years' experience in this type of work. Its staff are of course discreet and impartial and they take a very real and sympathetic interest in the cases entrusted to them.

The Manager of your nearest branch will be pleased to give you details of the service. He will also give you the address given below.

Loneliest Man In The World Relaxes To Watch Television

TWO mope-would television sets have in the last two years provided Pope Pius XII with rare moments of relaxation. One set stands in a corner of his private study on the third floor of the papal palace in Vatican City. The other is in the dining-room of the Pope's private apartment in his summer palace at Caserta, near the Alban Hills south of Rome.

The letters heaped early in the year on his 'loneliest' audience there were the Vatican Radio machine. It has the job of treating the set and making sure that it was in perfect order.

The white gold-tinted, 27-inch set in his Vatican study was presented to him by an Order of American monks four years ago. The monks' music cabinet also has a built-in radio and record-player, on which the Pope sometimes listens to the music of some of his favourite composers, such as Mendelssohn, Bach, Beethoven and Wagner.

High regime

But if the television set has succeeded in giving the Pope a moment's relief from the rigid regime of prayer and meditation which he leads early in the life, he has had some time for his hobby. His doctors are afraid of them and some time ago 'forcing' Pope Pius to do what he had to do for the rest of his life. It is one of the most difficult things of the section in his life. In one of the sections while in the Vatican, the doctors were very kind and patient in their efforts to give himself a long and happy life.

He served to the extent of ordinary men's lives. He has been in the Vatican since 1950 and is now in his 60th year. He has been in the Vatican since 1950 and is now in his 60th year. Many interests

What are the Pope's favourite sports? The monks report to him, who are well known for his love of horses, that he has a stable of 100 horses and that he has a number of other interests. He is particularly fond of the Italian sports events all over the world.

Early commiseration

Repeated warning

Since Italian television has been in existence, the Pope has repeatedly warned against its influence. He has also been seen to watch it in his private study.

Looking Back INCOME TAX INTRODUCED IN THE COLONY

THE Kenya Government took an important step during this week of 1952 which has been a source of worry and trouble to everyone in the Colony ever since. Following the advice of the Financial Experts, the Government introduced a system of income tax in the past few days, which has been a source of worry and trouble to everyone in the Colony ever since.

In Kenya, a Com. Council was set up in 1950 to investigate the financial position of the colony. It was charged with the task of recommending a system of income tax for the colony. The Com. Council has now submitted its report to the Government.

The Com. Council's report is a long and detailed one. It covers the financial position of the colony in 1950 and 1951. It also makes a number of recommendations for the future. The most important of these are: to introduce a system of income tax, to increase the number of public employees, and to improve the education system.

WORLD ALTITUDE

For Britain it was a week of considerable progress. An expedition led by a British Air Force pilot, Captain H.A.P., has returned from a successful mission to the world's first high-altitude flight. The expedition was successful in its objectives and has set a new world record for altitude.

The expedition was led by Captain H.A.P., who is a well-known pilot and has many years of experience in high-altitude flying. The flight was made in a specially modified aircraft and was a great success.

FATAL

At the same time that the world was celebrating the success of the expedition, a fatal accident occurred in the air. A British aircraft crashed on landing at a small airfield in the West Indies, resulting in the death of the pilot and several passengers.

The accident occurred on October 2nd, when a British Airways aircraft was landing at a small airfield in the West Indies. The aircraft ran off the runway and crashed into a wall, resulting in the death of the pilot and several passengers.

F.U. membership for farmers

EX-POLICE RESERVIST ON SEVEN CHARGES

The Kenya National Farmers' Union has announced that it will accept into its ranks any farmer who is not a member of any other agricultural organization. This decision was made at a meeting held in Nairobi on December 10th. The Union's membership is currently about 10,000 and it is expected that this new policy will result in a significant increase in its numbers. The Union's main objectives are to improve the economic conditions of the farming community and to represent their interests to the Government.

EX-POLICE RESERVIST ON SEVEN CHARGES
A FORMER Government Reservist, David O'Connell, was yesterday indicted on seven charges of obtaining goods and cash by false pretences. The offences are alleged to have taken place over the past month period. O'Connell was arrested on August 1st, 1944, and is now being held in the District Court. He is charged with obtaining goods and cash by false pretences from various sources, including a local business and a bank. The charges are serious and carry a maximum penalty of five years imprisonment.

'Outside politics'
Opposing the executive committee of the Kenya National Farmers' Union (K.N.F.U.) has been a subject of discussion in the House of Representatives. Mr. W. W. W. stated that the Union's activities should be confined to agricultural matters and should not involve political issues. The Union's response was that its primary concern is the economic well-being of the farmers, and that it is necessary to have a say in the decisions that affect their lives.
