IMPORTANT NOTICE

TO SUNDAY MORNING CONSUMERS

On Sunday, 1st March, 1953, Parklands Generating Station will be closed down from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. so that new switchgear may be installed. This is part of the scheme to secure a better supply to our consumers during the coming months.

The only generating station feeding into the Nairobi area during this period will be Nairobi South, which can provide enough electricity to keep the most essential supplies alive only. These include hospitals, Cable and Wireless Station, Post Office and Telephone Exchange, Railway Station and Signalling system.

With the preparatory switching necessary, the earliest consumers will be disconnected from 8.30 a.m. and the latest consumers re-connected at 11.30 a.m.

The majority of consumers will, however, be interrupted from 8.45 a.m. till 12 a.m. During the period of interruption every advantage will be taken to store water at the Hydro stations in an attempt to lessen rationing later in the day.

The company hopes consumers will appreciate that the work in normal times would be carried out in the early hours of the morning.

In the interest of everyone concerned this is now felt to be undesirable.

WHY PARENTS SHOULD KNOW TWO TONGUES

BRITAIN'S NEW ANTI-SUBMARINE FRIGATE HAS ELECTRONIC BRAIN

IVOR JONES breaks out this account after a trip in H.M.S. Revenant, one of the new, fast, anti-submarine frigates. These vessels represent a marked advance and their armament includes the latest weapon for firing depth-charges.

FOR THE first time in the history of the Royal Navy's war anti-submarine frigates, the new frigates include the most deadly weapon—the depth-charge—on a new standard of combat for the sea.

The only frigate in the world which has a depth-charge launcher built into its hull is the Revenant. It is the only frigate which has a depth-charge launcher built into its hull. These vessels are built to operate in the most dangerous conditions of the sea.

THE FRIDAY MISCELLANY

W hat is the meaning of the word "sensible"? It is the word which is used to describe a person who is able to make a decision based on facts and logic, rather than on emotion or impulse. It is a quality that is highly valued in both the personal and professional spheres. A sensible person is one who is able to weigh the pros and cons of a situation and make a choice that is in their best interest. This is not to say that sensible people are cold or unfeeling, but rather that they are able to control their emotions and make decisions that are based on reason. In a world that is often filled with chaos and uncertainty, the ability to remain sensible is a true strength.

MAU MAU AND THE KIKUYU

By Dr. L. S. B. Leakey

In this final article excerpted from Dr. L. S. B. Leakey's book, "Mau Mau and The Kikuyu," the author discusses some of the things which, in his opinion, he does to improve the present position.

It would be foolish, he says, to underestimate the extent of the Kikuyu uprising of the European today. It will be a long time before this uprising can be radically subdued, but clearly, if the government can be better understood and removed, it will do much to alleviate the heaviest article of the lobe.

Legitimate need
 It is true, therefore, that the Kikuyu need more land. The fact that the Kikuyu are so numerous and so densely packed in the area which they inhabit is a fact which is not to be overlooked. It is only natural for each manufacturer to claim that his tyres give greater mileage and lower costs of operation. But the most important question is... who's right? Whose word really counts?

The unchallengeable fact that tyre users the world over have, year after year for the past thirty-eight years, purchased more Goodyears than any other make, can only be described as an overwhelming vote for Goodyear as their first choice tyre. Farmers say that Goodyears pull where other tyres won't, and last longer.

BEAUTIFUL HOMES OF KENYA

IT COMBINES CHARM, COMFORT AND BEAUTY

THE home of Brigadier and Mrs. Henderson on "D" route to Limuru, is situated in park-like grounds, near Nairobi of England, except, perhaps, for the "stately oaks," in reality very old jacaranda trees, and the orchard at the back which grows oranges and lemons and red cherries.

The house is in truly Colonial style with spacious, airy rooms, wide verandahs overlooking the house, intensive dark stone walls, "old-fashioned" and "reassuring" with dark-stained "jalousie" windows. Tiles of terrazzo and Parthenon are grouted on the verandah and black iron flower holders hang on the white walls.

Black oak is chosen for the colored decoration of window frames, the recessed columns of the chimneys and the great expanse of white walls and white paint.

The drawing-room, in all proportions, is an elegant feature of which is the pair of hand-painted and red leather bookcases containing a collection of British and Indian books. The glass table, purple lamps and two white green armchairs and one set of red chairs of the time.

A collection of notable pieces the dining room, the great columns of the dining room, the dining table and chairs of the dining room, the dining table and chairs of the dining room, the dining table and chairs of the dining room.

IN A HOME AT THE FOOT OF THE NGONG HILLS

JOHN CHERRY describes a visit to the British Lagoon Park and Hostel of Langata where it is hoped to double its existing accommodation.

For me, Kaimosi is the most beautiful spot in the world. I had a house at the foot of the Ngong Hills. It was a small building on one of the hills which was one of Kaimosi's most beautiful spots. There is a large, green and healthy...

At the end of the road, where I found the British Hostel, I was met by the manager, Mr. J. H. Cherry, who showed me the hostel and the surrounding area. The hostel is a large building with a veranda, and it is situated on a hillside. The surrounding area is a beautiful landscape with hills and a body of water.

The beauty of the Ngong hills, beneath which the Hostel stands, is caught in this picture (top left). Above and below are pictures of some of the buildings in which the first and second stages of the hostel are accommodated. Centre top, soldiers and their wives are accommodated. Centre left, bottom left: "The stone is no problem. It is on the site. But the money is."
