EAST AFRICA AT BULAWAYO

TO Bulawayo, with his camera, for the opening of the Central African Rhodes Centenary Exhibition by Her Majesty the Queen Mother went Mr. Otto Nyman of Scandinavian Airlines System. He returned with many pictures—of which these are a few—recording the ways in which East Africa is presented to the thousands of visitors to the Exhibition.

One of the greatest impressions was of the charm and grace with which the Queen Mother and Princess Margaret undertook an arduous task. The picture on the immediate right was taken at the foot of a long day and shows the Royal visitors still smiling brightly for the camera. In the other picture, Princess Margaret is listening to an explanation of native dancing.

Left in right, above the bottom of the page, are the Kenya and Tanganyika pavilions, a display of Tanganyika wood bark work, a model of the Nairobi of the future, and the reproduction of the famous Zebra Tops Hotel, which has been one of the big successes of the Exhibition. Bare windows are shown a colour film of game taken at the hotel in Nyero.

The effect is almost equivalent to a visit to Zebra Tops itself, and Mr. Nyman considers that if the exhibit were shown in London or the United States it would be a sensation.

Immediately below are other of the East African stands including, on the extreme right, a large buffalo-head on loan from the Cleydon Museum.

Another popular place was the "Kenya Garden" where visitors got samples of Kenya products. The coffee, Mr. Nyman said, was good. And as a Swede he should know.

What?
Waste my time
"feeling queer"?
NOT ME!

When I'm "away from it all" I make sure I am away from depression, pain, headaches, nervousness and all the rest of it too. No "feeling queer" when I'm on holiday—time's too precious. And that's why I always have my "ASPRO" on hand.

THE ARTIFICIAL CONTROLS OF RAINFALL

MARK TWAIN once remarked that every man has a right to be a prophet about his own country, and that it is better to be a prophet about it if he is wrong than to be a prophet about it if he is right. However, in the present case, the prophet is not a man but a machine, and the subject is not a country but the world's weather.

The writer of this article, a non-technical expert of report recently submitted to the World Meteorological Organization—MR. D. A. DAVIES, is Director of the East African Meteorological Department and also President of the Regional Association for Africa of the World Organization.

Weather-makers have been known to exist since the beginning of time, and the science of meteorology is one of the oldest and most important of the physical sciences. The study of the atmosphere and its effects on the earth's surface is a complex one, and the progress of the science has been slow and uneven. In the past, the study of the atmosphere has been largely a matter of observation and record, and the results have been largely qualitative. In the present, however, the study of the atmosphere has become a quantitative science, and the results have been largely quantitative.

Alec Butler reveals THE SECRETS OF BOWLING

THERE is nothing mysterious about being a good bowler. The essential are control of length and direction, that you get motion of those vital qualities without hard work and practice. If you desire to know how you can realize from the start that there is no easy bowling, it is just practice, practice and more practice. Bowling is hard work.

To practice I don't mean just aiming the ball down the field an hour or two a week. Concentration is as necessary to bowling as to hitting.

I've found my length and direction often immediately and concentrating. The whole thing becomes a waste of energy.

Took me hours
When I began to practice seriously I got a book of newspaper cuttings. I considered the spot for a good length. Then I tried to pick the ball on the paper and at the same time let the legs stop.

I did it for hours—but always took a little rest. I always took a little rest if I could not get it right. I was not making any progress.

In all bowling the aim must be to get the ball to the wicket without touching the ground. It is the aim of the bowler to get the ball to the wicket without touching the ground. It is the aim of the bowler to get the ball to the wicket without touching the ground. It is the aim of the bowler to get the ball to the wicket without touching the ground.

FIRST AID FOR FEET

I have been told that of each 100 people in the world at least 100 suffer from foot trouble. Foot troubles, according to a prominent chiropodist, are on the increase.

"I must know," he says, "the ordinary foot trouble is corns, blisters, bunions, chafing, itching, dryness, and aches. It is not a disease, but a condition which can be treated by simple means."

Simple matter

It is a simple matter to see whether you have a corn or a blister. When you walk, your feet should feel soft and comfortable. If you feel a sharp pain, it is a sign of a corn or a blister. The corn is a small, hard, white spot on the top or bottom of the foot. The blister is a small, clear, fluid-filled spot on the side of the foot.

Exercises

Foot exercises are very simple. They are designed to strengthen the muscles of the foot and to improve the circulation of the blood. The exercises are as follows:

1. Sit on the floor with your feet flat on the ground. Wiggle your toes for a few minutes.
2. Sit on the floor with your feet flat on the ground. Lift your right foot up and down for a few minutes.
3. Sit on the floor with your feet flat on the ground. Lift your left foot up and down for a few minutes.

Take a brief look at our feet. They are the foundation of our body. If they are not in good health, our body will not be in good health. So, take care of your feet. They are the foundation of our body.

THEY SET THE FASHION

PRINCE CHARLES and his fiancee have been already named a girl in the title of the new collection of her designs. This summer is to be the first of her designs. The designs are as follows:

- 1. A dress with a high collar and a long skirt.
- 2. A dress with a high collar and a long skirt.

Make Way For 'The Archers'

By Josephine Banks

YOU may or you may not remember that writing from England four weeks ago in this very column. (Helen Wright said that war and de-liveries came high on the list of Things That Matter to the British Inhabitant these days.)

Our new life

Well, now we're to have our chance to become in-ternationally famous. Particu-larly the up-coming Archers'. A daily chron-icle of life on an English farm, as he has been called to success-ful attention as far as Britain is concerned.

The aim is to give an archer's view of life on a small, self-sufficient farm in the British Isles. The Archers' are a group of young men and women who are living on a small farm in the British Isles. They are living on a small farm in the British Isles. They are living on a small farm in the British Isles.

Down-to-earth

There is a down-to-earth spirit of farming, both good and bad. The good is the love of the soil and the bad is the love of the soil. The good is the love of the soil and the bad is the love of the soil. The good is the love of the soil and the bad is the love of the soil.

Now they know

SOME of the people who per-ceived the programme first-ly have been writing of con-ting life. But they have now been so successful that they do not want to be called on to do so. They do not want to be called on to do so. They do not want to be called on to do so.

I wonder...

I WONDER if it is really true that the Archers' may not be come as popular and well known as the Archers' in the British Isles. I wonder if it is really true that the Archers' may not be come as popular and well known as the Archers' in the British Isles.

This story of four students—two of them from Kenya—who live in a houseboat on the River Thames is told by the mother of one of the Kenya youths, MRS. L. E. LANGMAD.

TODAY we see the start of some of the biggest "military movements" in the history of the port of Mombasa. That is, provided the weather has not intervened.

But all long-leaf trees throughout will see the beautiful Khaki Marine uniforms with their Poms and Molers. For we will be the first of our rubber comrades to return to Mombasa.

Home again
In the Pacific Power will be the men of the 1st Battalion of the Black Watch, come to Mombasa from the Mau Mau in possession of the 1st Battalion of the King's African Rifles, back from the Mau Mau.

Britain's industries show a healthy trend

THE most encouraging development in the situation on the whole of industrial production in the first six months of the year is the increase in the production of goods for the domestic and colonial markets. Butler, in his Budget statement on January 29, 1951, when he said that the production of goods for the home market had risen by 10 per cent since August 1949.

JANE IRVING Starts A New Series On

OTHER PEOPLE'S JOBS

And The First is ...

THE GIRL IN THE CONTROL TOWER

HER name is Jane Sharp. She is 22 and was born in Yorkshire. She is one of 11 girls who work in the Control Tower at Heathrow, in London. It has been only a short time having flown out from London in January to take the permanent staff of Civil Aviation in East Africa. But her knowledge of air traffic is not confined to the manual and the strange language of their job. She is a girl who has been to High School, has done her A-levels, and has taken part in the recent R.C.M. swimming competition in the Navy the summer before. She is a girl who is a member of the Girl's Guide Association and is a member of the Girl's Guide Association.

When she was 10 she was in the Navy the summer before. She is a girl who is a member of the Girl's Guide Association and is a member of the Girl's Guide Association.

On one way we found the large room very well lit. The photograph I saw, the one which was taken by the Controller, was a photograph of the Control Tower. It was a photograph of the Control Tower. It was a photograph of the Control Tower.

When she was 10 she was in the Navy the summer before. She is a girl who is a member of the Girl's Guide Association and is a member of the Girl's Guide Association.

After working out a series of figures the Controller called out: "Control clear, five five five." "Control clear, five five five," I replied. "What course order?" and to say I never heard for just the first time. The Controller then said: "The Tower on the way to you."

All around about to land at Heathrow on Heathrow. The Controller then said: "The Tower on the way to you."

After working out a series of figures the Controller called out: "Control clear, five five five." "Control clear, five five five," I replied.
