Eastern Munich AMERICAN ATTITUDE TO GENEVA CONFERENCE

From Alastair Buchan
Washington
The principal decisions reached at the Geneva Conference by the British, French, American, and Indo-China delegations were not surprising.

There had been little interest in Washington in the Geneva meeting. The Foreign Ministry would have been glad to have had so much was evident throughout last year's negotiations.

Until the European Delegation was formed in London, the American position was not clear. The possibility that the Geneva Conference would be a success was not clear.

Dr. Malan - 80 in May
RUMOURS are persistent in Cape Town, where the South African Parliament is sitting, that the Premier, Dr. Daniel P. Malan, will retire from the political arena when he is 80.

His birthday is in May. Dr. Malan's health has not been good recently. In any case, he is considered by his friends to be a suitable one for handing over office to a younger Minister.

It has always been believed that Dr. Malan, who has been Premier since the accession to power in 1948 of the National Party on the pretext of general elections, would retire at 80.

There is today a sense of frustration among the National Party members that they are unable to carry a burden which is too heavy for them to carry. The Government by retaining the office of the Premier is not a realistic one.

It must be regarded as unfortunate that the Premier is not a realistic one. The Government by retaining the office of the Premier is not a realistic one.

THE ONLY ALTERNATIVE TO COMMUNISM
The only alternative to Communism, which is the only alternative to Communism, which is the only alternative to Communism.

BACHELOR MINIMUM REMAINS BASIC WAGES
Very few witnesses to the Carpenter Committee have been heard from since the present minimum wage—52.50, exclusive of overtime—was introduced.

Many of the other hand, including witnesses who some claim to "experts" knowledge, had no hesitation in condemning it as inadequate.

The Committee was reassured that among minimum wage earners there was a feeling of satisfaction, a sense of security, and a feeling of well-being.

RESIDENT EXPOSED

Protest demonstrations were intensified in Puerto Rico yesterday when it became known that the Puerto Rican Nationalists who shot down the House of Representatives had been arrested. The House of Representatives had been arrested while the House was in session. The demonstrators in the public gallery jumped down into the Chamber. The demonstrators were hit before the group could reach the heart of the Sen. Jenson (Democratic, Alabama) received leg wounds (Democratic, Tennessee) and Mr. George Fallon (Democratic, Maryland). Tobacco boost for future of Central Africa

SIR ROBERT SINCLAIR, chairman of the giant Imperial Tobacco Company has been shareholders. "We have a considerable stake in the future of Central Africa," the company he said, had greatly extended its leaf-handling factories and timber estates in Southern Rhodesia and Nyasaland.

He was therefore glad to see the successful establishment of Federation which, under the wise and able leadership of Sir Godfrey Huggins, will surely make a good start in the task of bringing economic strength and stability and steady development to three Central African territories.

JAPANESE CLOTH WITH LANCASHIRE DESIGNS

Price competition handicap

JAPANESE cotton and rayon cloth is being offered for sale in Asian markets at anything from 10 to 20 per cent cheaper than the comparable British product, according to new information published in the Financial Times.

The price difference in the prices of a number of Japanese cloth (warp) and the identical Lancashire cloth (weft) is about 2d. a yard.

The price differential is great for cotton cloth. The cloth, printed in ordinary cotton, is of the same quality as the British cloth, printed in fast colours. It is 2 1/2 times as long.

According to the paper, Lancashire exporters and millers would be able to supply a fairly good quantity of their ordinary "and therefore effective" cloth to the labour cost account for the cloth difference.

Photographed

Manchester merchants admit that Japanese export offers are well organized and highly effective, but the overseas competition, particularly from the Far East, is a serious threat to their designs. Some of the cloth, printed in ordinary cotton, is of the same quality as the British cloth, printed in fast colours. It is 2 1/2 times as long.

The Financial Times points out in a leading article that there is no concrete evidence that Japanese export offers are lower than prices on the British home market. "Though this is known to be the case," it says.

Sales increase

"It is known that any cloth sold in the United Kingdom has been priced above that sold in other markets and that many Japanese exporters of textile goods are making a large profit in Japanese trade. According to figures given by the Japanese Ministry of Trade and Industry, this increase was equivalent to one-quarter of total British textile exports."

"What would we do without Airwork?"

Airwork is a name which is widely known and respected throughout East Africa. In the United Kingdom Airwork Ltd., established in 1928, has been recognised for many years as the leader in private enterprise air transport and all that goes with it...

When permission was granted in July 1952 by the U.K. Government for the operation of public air services by private enterprise air transport firms, it was natural that Airwork should organize the first of these services...

The comfort, efficiency and economy of the Safari Service are the expression of this experience, and of Airwork's firm hold views on the possibilities of air travel as a low-cost, every-day mode of travel for everybody.

That the Safari fares are extremely modest does not imply reduction in comfort or any other standards. The Safari Service offers, however, a rather more homely journey (5 days Nairobi to U.K.) and suitable passages to arrive fresh and relaxed, having seen the nights of their journey in comfortable hotels and having seen something of the interesting places to which night-time services are available.

All-Blacks win last match in U.K.

21 runs ahead of M.C.C. with four wickets left

THE All-Blacks beat South-Eastern Counties by 21 points (three goals two tries) to 13 points (two goals one try) in an unofficial match at Ipswich, Suffolk, on Thursday, which completed the All-Blacks' tour of Britain.

The New Zealanders were victorious in a Wednesday afternoon match at Weymouth, where they won by 20 minutes when they scored two tries and a goal.

During the first half the All-Blacks led Ipswich by 10 points to 0, but the home side scored the margin to 13 points to 11. The All-Blacks scored a try and a goal and then came back to score a try and a goal in the final 15 minutes.

Kelly converts three

C. G. Kelly, captain of D. Wilson, J. W. Kelly and M. A. McEwan were the top scorers. Kelly converted three tries including one in the 10th minute.

T. J. Sheehan, wing three-quarter, E. V. J. Hammond, forward and P. C. DeLaney, centre, were also in the line-up.

Coconut bonus planting Tanganyika advised to use more publicity

TANGANYIKA EXPERIMENT

It is expected that African planters will plant up to 700 acres of coconut palms on the Tanganyika coast this year under the bonus scheme introduced by the Government in 1951, the total area planted so far amounting to 1,276 acres.

The aim of the scheme is to encourage the planters of all communities to increase their areas and to make the most suitable types of palms. Under the scheme the Government pays in the first year 50 per cent of the cost of the palms, and in the second year 25 per cent. The minimum area which a bonus planter must plant is one acre, and the maximum is 10 acres. A planter who is undertaking eventually to increase his area to 10 acres must plant at least 200 coconuts a year, and he must maintain the number of coconuts originally planted as long as he plans to plant.

Initial response poor

The public took little interest in the scheme in the first year, but in 1952 more Africans responded, but in 1953 the acreage planted was only 161. In 1954 the acreage planted was 722 and for 1955 it is expected to be 700.

PRESSURE FOR HIGHER PAY IN THE ARMY

By VAUGHAN JONES

Britons are thinking that their soldiers may soon be hearing too many hard-earned pay rises. The army and camps have been openly acknowledged by the War Office as being the most successful in the world.

Specifically, the famous list of 100 names of the most successful in the world was described by the War Minister, Mr. Anthony Head, as being the most successful in the world.

Mr. Head referred to the army as being the most successful in the world, and he said that the army was the most successful in the world.

KINANGOP ANGER OVER

'CHINA' MOVE

Motions critical of C-in-C. and Governor

Calais—The withdrawal of the Commandant-in-Chief from East Africa, Gen. Sir George Erskine, and for resignation of the Governor of Kenya, Sir Evelyn Baring, were made on Wednesday night at the annual meeting of the Kinangop District Association at the "Brown Trout Inn."

The news of the former's departure and the latter's being used in an attempt to become known only a few hours before the meeting and strong feelings were expressed by the 40 or so settlers there.

Mr. S. Maclean, British critic of the C-in-C, for his readiness to resign with a critical letter.

Another settler attacked Gen. Erskine for his condemnation of the Mau Mau for killing terrorists. The reward system was a recognized part of warfare, he said, and the general should not have "condemned the Mau Mau for doing what he would do himself."

While the action might result in a few surrenders, it was a demonstration of the Government's failure and lack of determination to smother the rebellion by force of arms and it would have an adverse effect on the Mau Mau.

"Such a flagrant sign of impotence" would have the effect of intensification of the rebel's activities and to formulate more specific conditions of surrender.

Going underground
 Legal Affairs regarded what has been done with the Mau Mau as a serious matter. The Mau Mau, he said, was a serious matter. The Mau Mau, he said, was a serious matter. The Mau Mau, he said, was a serious matter.

African 'horrified'
 The announcement of "General Erskine's resignation" was met with surprise and indignation by the African. Mr. Ben Ery, a temporary Officer in charge of a screening team said that when the African in charge of his team heard the news he was "horrified."

Land deputation planned
 Uganda Chamber of Commerce is to send a deputation of five members, including its president Mr. J. H. Pearce, to the Government to present the views on the Besti Resettlement Ordinance and availability of land for development.

"They look on this imposition said as a complete let-down by Government of the Mau Mau," he said, and that his view was that of the Mau Mau.

Settlers protest at Naivasha

THE Naivasha Settlers' Association has written to Mr. Lyttelton, an Government Minister, expressing its views on the "General China" issue expressed at a meeting held on Tuesday.

Copies of the letter have been addressed to the Chief Secretary, the European Elected Members' Organization, the Elected Union and Humphrey Slade, Member for Aberdare.

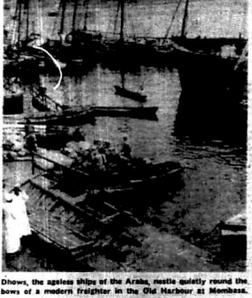

The letter says the Association has been shocked by the Government and General Erskine's handling of the Mau Mau problem without reference to the Central Emergency Committee as a government to obtain the surrender of terrorism.

Psychological effect
 These reasons are given:—Although additional surrenders may have the effect of smothering the fighting, the psychological effect on the Mau Mau is not to be underestimated.

Kampala Asians victims of armed robbery
 Two Asians were attacked by a gang of Mau Mau on the Kampala-Mombasa road, near the station, on Tuesday night. The gang, led by a Mau Mau, carried off a large quantity of goods, including a car and a lorry.

Resounding welcome
 A 674, a student dressed in a "juvenile light blue" uniform, entered the Duke with a bouquet of flowers, a pair of shoes, a watch, pen and cash valued at 600.

Another Asian was attacked by a gang of Mau Mau on the Kampala-Mombasa road, near the station, on Tuesday night. The gang, led by a Mau Mau, carried off a large quantity of goods, including a car and a lorry.

STUDENTS 'RAG' THE DUKE OF EDINBURGH

MELBOURNE University students 'ragged' the Duke of Edinburgh for more than half an hour yesterday and the Duke enjoyed every minute of it. He was touring the University with the Chancellor, Sir Charles Lowe, when the undergraduates descended.

Outside the University Institute the students' indignation was expressed in a series of protests, an admission that the Duke had been a student told the Duke he had been a student told the Duke he had been a student.

Japanese firm to build U.S. fighter planes

K.R.P. OFFICERS KANGAROO

Jury fails to reach verdict
 The jury of four men returned for more than an hour at the Supreme Court, Nairobi, on Tuesday, after a trial of a kangaroo poacher, Charles Pharaon (23), of Nairobi, with committing an offence under the Kangaroo Act, 1922, on an African squatter at Naivasha.

The jury returned to the Court six times, but was unable to reach a verdict. The jury returned to the Court six times, but was unable to reach a verdict.

HE CALCULATES RIGHT!

People like him do not bear the price alone in mind, when buying a motor-cycle, they know that a cheap machine can be an expensive one in the long run.

Choosing a CZ or JAWA machine means choosing low petrol consumption, profiting day by day by its fuel economy, for years to come.

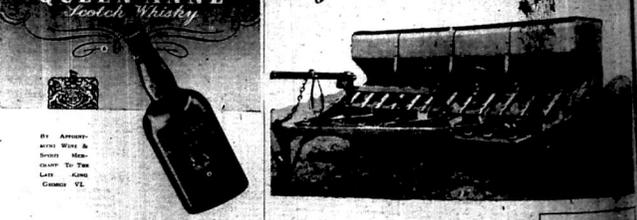

And that is not all. The famous status of JAWA and CZ machines means many years of reliability and minimum maintenance costs. This is why economy-minded motorists prefer CZ or JAWA motor-cycles.

Ferguson grain drills

Designed exclusively for operation by ONE MAN ONLY, the Ferguson Universal Seed Drill will sow with exceptional speed and accuracy a wide range of seed. Covers are raised out of work by the Ferguson Finger Tip Control Lever, operated from the tractor seat, ensuring no waste of seed or time at the head-land turnarounds. Seeding rate over the whole range is instantly adjustable by lever movement and without any great change of speed or applying the hopper is notably easy even when the machine is visible from the tractor seat. Constructed through out of heavy duty angle, and rust resistant steels, it is fitted with pneumatic tyres. From uniformity of sowing to maximum seed rate, it is fast paced and maximum road speed travel.

REPUBLICS IN SOUTH AFRICA

By Wynand van Eysen

TALKING about a republic in the Union—and one does hear of it these days—do you know that Britain a century ago had a big hand in the creation of two republics in South Africa? The centenary of one—the Orange Free State Republic—is celebrated in what is today the Province of the Orange Free State during February.

Republics in South Africa have been numerous. Many people today living in South and East Africa can remember from personal experience the Zulu (Zimbabwe) Republic in South Africa Republic in the Transvaal and the Free State Republic. They ceased to exist in 1902 at the end of the Anglo-Boer War but, before that, there were others: the republics of Natalia and Griqualand in Natal; Britain's sovereignty over the republic of Graaff-Reinet and the republic of Graaff-Reinet and Swartkops in 1795, to mention those best known.

The country was in a state of anarchy in the Cape when the British first came to the Cape in 1652. The first British settlement was at the Cape of Good Hope, but the British government was not ready to assume the responsibility of governing the Cape. The Cape was a free port and a centre of trade, and the British government was not ready to assume the responsibility of governing the Cape. The Cape was a free port and a centre of trade, and the British government was not ready to assume the responsibility of governing the Cape.

The idea

BERNARDUS was the Hollanders' hero in 1652, started while settlement of the Cape, who brought the idea of a republic to South Africa. What is today known as a Federal Republic is the line of the Cape. It was the idea of a republic that led to the creation of the Orange Free State Republic in 1804. The Orange Free State Republic was a republic that was created in 1804. It was a republic that was created in 1804. It was a republic that was created in 1804.

The Constitution

The first that had difficulty was the idea of a republic. The first that had difficulty was the idea of a republic. The first that had difficulty was the idea of a republic.

In turmoil

WHAT brought about a radical change in British foreign policy was trouble with the Boer Union. The Boer Union was a republic that was created in 1804. It was a republic that was created in 1804. It was a republic that was created in 1804.

Rice mission

WHAT is not generally known is that the Japanese farmer who is now in the Union is a man who has been in the Union for a long time. He is a man who has been in the Union for a long time. He is a man who has been in the Union for a long time.

special gathering. All were to be equal before the law, and the power of citizenship, and the Press were guaranteed.

At the head of his legislative body, the Volksraad had limited powers. The Volksraad (Constitution) to try State President and Civil Servants on charges of treason, corruption and other high crimes was required for a two-thirds majority.

At the head of the Executive Authority, elected by the Volksraad, stood the President, elected by the Volksraad. The President was elected by the Volksraad. The President was elected by the Volksraad.

The view of the Standard

It is now the all of the Provincial Councils of the Orange Free State.

'GENERAL CHINA' SEEKS TO END MAU MAU REBELLION

Governor commutes death sentence

General China, former Mau Mau leader with the authorities in an attempt to end the rebellion. Letters signed by the English-speaking Kikuyu, who was once a corporal in the Intelligence Section of a K.A.R. battalion, have been sent to Mau Mau leaders. The letters are signed by Mau Mau leaders and are personal contacts between Mau Mau leaders and the Government.

As a result it is hoped to arrange a meeting at a later date to be held in the forest. The meeting would be a personal contact between Mau Mau leaders and the Government. The meeting would be a personal contact between Mau Mau leaders and the Government.

The Governor explains

Intruder dies in farmhouse struggle with Europeans

African walked into the old Mrs. Ragna Gumbwe's farmhouse near Thika during the weekend, while the intruder and her 18-year-old daughter, Sonia, and their farm manager, Mr. Chris Blumhouse, were finishing dinner.

It was thought at first that the intruder was a man, but when the man's name was ascertained as being the intruder, it was found that he was a woman, and she was the intruder.

Because the house is surrounded on three sides by the Kikuyu Reserve, the family did not take any precautions. Mrs. Gumbwe's pistol was resting on a table on the table.

Several intruders were seen by Mrs. Gumbwe's farm manager. Mrs. Gumbwe was struck at the edge of the door when she was trying to get out.

Three of the intruders were shot by Mrs. Gumbwe and her farm manager. The intruders were shot by Mrs. Gumbwe and her farm manager.
