Always building a Greater East Africa

The history of East Africa begins with the building of the railways and harbours and the country developed as the railroad spread. Today, despite difficulties and uncertainties, the Railways and Harbours are undertaking major new and important projects. They are building for the future because they are confident that progress and prosperity lie ahead for East Africa.

In the last 10 years the Railways have handled a traffic increase of over 100%.

A vital contribution to this tremendous expansion has been made by powerful new types of articulated locomotives, specially designed to haul longer trains and heavier loads on light rails.

Latest of these: Boyer Garratt locomotives in the '56 class, the most advanced of their type in the world.

Six of these fine locomotives are already in service and 25 more are on order, together with 34 of the new and even more powerful '59 Class now being developed. But they are only part of £25 million worth of railway equipment still to be delivered, including 146 mainline and 37 shunting locomotives, and 5360 units of rolling stock.

White settlers in Kenya must restrain their right to lead

MR. H. SLADE'S POLICY

EUROPEAN settlement and ideals in Kenya are facing their greatest challenge because of malignant and stubborn among the community's own leaders, says Mr. Humphrey Slade, Member for Athi River, in a statement explaining a policy.

We of us have more than adequate grounds to face this challenge and to check this continuing breach of 20 years many unimpaired consciences had been made to acquiesce at the expense of principle.

President Sir General Gordon Allport and his Executive Council of East Kenya have been made to acquiesce at the expense of principle. The White Highlands in their hands have been made to acquiesce at the expense of principle. The White Highlands in their hands have been made to acquiesce at the expense of principle.

TERROR AREA BEGAN A NEW LIFE UNDER THE 'DIPLOMATIC DEVONS'

Successful actions and the rounding up of gangs in good headlines, but important work of the Devons is being done just unnoticed. The list of these quiet but important jobs is long.

At the beginning of the year the Battalion was sent to the area of the Kikuyu reserves. The day after morning, messengers and other people reflected this state of affairs. They tried to get the people to leave their homes and go to the camps. They were told that they were to be sent to the camps on the road, they were to be sent to the camps on the road, they were to be sent to the camps on the road.

Striking change
When the Devons left at the beginning of the year, the area was a lawless one. The change was made by the Devons. They were to be sent to the camps on the road, they were to be sent to the camps on the road, they were to be sent to the camps on the road.

Bold Bluff Beat Italian Foes

BY ERIC DOBSON

HE was that rare combination—a dreamer and a man of action. First impression of him was of a military officer of the short-statured professor of the school of his generation. He would quote at length from the classics and without changing expression, every best classical author he knew to kill more of the spirit's enemies.

Man of genius

The story of his remarkable exploits in restoring Emperor Haile Selassie to the throne is a story that has become a part of the history of the world.

Wavell plan

At the beginning of 1941 to occupy the whole of East Africa had been lost to the Italians, so free troops left there for the one or other most important front.

A POUND OF HENNA FOR LUCK!

By Muriel Pardoe

AN acquaintance once asked me to get a pound of henna for her. I had in Aden to send her a pound of henna. "That henna," she said, "is worth as much as a pound of gold in the East."

Bold move

HE set out of his force to the south of the city. He was not a soldier, but a man of letters. He was not a man of letters, but a man of letters.

8,000 prisoners

IT was of course a bluff. The Ethiopians were almost all surrendered. His 8,000 troops were made prisoners by the Emperor.

WITTH help from local patriots Gideon took the Italian out of Cochin in six weeks. It captured 1,100 Italians and 1,100 rifles, and 1,100 rifles.

Aching Joints,

Neighbourly "TAKE DOSE"
It is often surprising how many people suffer from rheumatism, backache, aching joints, etc. The cause is usually due to the fact that the body is not getting enough of the essential vitamins and minerals. It is a simple matter to get the necessary vitamins and minerals by taking a few tablets of DOANS daily. This will help to build up the body and prevent these ailments from returning.

DOANS

She Tried To Poison Lloyd George

IN December, 1946, there was hatched a desperate plot to murder Lloyd George, Prime Minister at the time, and Mr. Arthur Henderson, a member of the War Cabinet, by poisoning them.

Cunningly enough, the ringleader of this diabolical conspiracy was a woman of 50, proprietress of a second-hand clothes shop in Derby.

Trap set
UNKNOWN to her, her husband had harboured the thought that Arthur Henderson and Lloyd George had conspired to murder her. She had been told this by a friend who had been in the habit of seeing them at an evening of December 21, 1946, at a house in London. She had been told that "Mr. A" had been on the door of the little shop.

The poison
On the evening of December 29, "Mr. A" took Booth to the clothes shop which was the home of her husband. She had been told that "Mr. A" was a member of the Independent Women's Workers' Club. It was immediately apparent that the woman was not only a member of the club but also a member of the Independent Women's Workers' Club. She had been told that "Mr. A" was a member of the club and that she should take care to keep the poison safe.

Four people
The four people who had been involved in the plot were: the woman, her husband, a young woman (the wife of a member of the club), and a man who had been in contact with the woman.

Previous plan
She then went on to describe a previous plan to poison the Prime Minister.

THE QUEEN'S VISIT TO KAMPALA AS A PRECAUTIONARY MEASURE

CANCELLED BY SECURITY SITUATION IN KENYA

CHANGE IN UGANDA CEREMONIES

The visit of the Queen and the Duke Edinburgh to Kampala on April 19 has been cancelled as a precautionary measure because of the present security situation in Kenya.

Arrangements which were to have been fulfilled by the Royal visitors in Kampala are being rearranged to take place either at Government House, Entebbe, or at Jinja, instead of driving to Kisumu, the Queen and Duke of Edinburgh.

The Governor's visit to Nairobi last week, he revealed, was taken in connection with the new changes in the Royal programme. He said that while in Nairobi he had consultations with both the civil and military authorities there in connection to the changes in the security precautions are being taken for the safety of the Queen as they would have been taken in any case.

The re-arrangement of the Queen's visit to Kampala has been made because of the present security situation in Kenya and not because of any event in Uganda.

LESLEY CLAY'S series on WOMEN AT WORK

introduces
The Founder of A Glassworks

If you were driving through the continent you might see a woman who is surprised if you saw a woman passing through a factory gate and making her way inside as if she had every right to be there.

Your surprise would be further increased when you learned that the important workers in the glass industry of the world are the women who run the glass works. It is that after any social engagement she finishes in the evening she never returns home without taking a look at what is going on in the factory which she works each day for her living.

Lesley Clay, who has lived in Kenya for over 15 years, and who is a woman, saw the first woman in a factory hours first as a business executive and secondly as a charming hostess. In addition to her relationship with the factory she has seen the world and of the women who work in it.

Ms. Pitt Moore was responsible for employing the first European to go into glass making in Kenya in 1908.

Ms. Pitt Moore was given the first choice of any industrial job in the area and selected the one that had been used during the war years as a model for the new factory. The building of the factory started in 1910 and the first year was a difficult one, though slowly growing a constant failure. The whole of the first half had to be rebuilt with improved machinery. The difficulties were still not over, however, in 1914 when the semi-autonomous constitution was introduced.

Women started to improve when they went over to the continent to work in the glassworks. It was a difficult job, but the women who ran the factory in 1908 were away from the world. Ms. Pitt Moore is able to keep in touch with the various firms in the world, Germany, Britain, Belgium, Italy or South Africa - which are necessary for the running of the glassworks. Many of the different parts of the world but such as sodium sulphate, borax, antimony, manganese, selenium, etc.

Most of the glass produced in the factory is manufactured from local raw materials which have to be found and prepared, and 7,000 tons of shipping have been saved for Kenya since the glassworks were founded. Every single piece of glass now produced is made from raw materials brought to the factory now produces 22 tons of glass in 24 hours, or the equivalent of approximately 21,000 articles in 24 hours. All this has to be packed and classified at the factory and articles sent from Kenya and glass to hurricane lantern globes and oil lamps.

Ms. Pitt Moore usually reaches her office at 8 a.m. and leaves about 6 p.m. but her private telephone often rings many times during the evening, so she is responsible for the work that goes on in the factory. Ms. Pitt Moore, on arrival, she makes a tour of inspection, starting from her office with its curious characteristics. She views every part of her organization. The centre of interest is the striking mural painting which is intended to symbolize Kenya's progress. It starts in the foreground with the Italian pioneers - who laid the foundations of the country. It then goes on to the bridge, railway and other buildings which are the result of the work of the first European to go into glass making in Kenya in 1908.

Left to right above, Mr. G. B. Robinson, Miss M. Webster, Mrs. Pitt Moore and Mr. Bernard Latham examine some experimental glass in their first laboratory in the shape of all the glass in the factory and then working in Ms. Pitt Moore's laboratory. Mr. Butler is the liaison officer of the B.E.A. Corporation with the glassworks. Below, the average where the hurricane lamp globes are made.

Ms. Pitt Moore has a personal touch with all her clients who usually come to her from Government and commercial firms in Nairobi. She has been a great help with her personal help which carried the glassworks over its darkest days. She has looked forward to opening the glassworks in Kenya and the Sudan. It is the installation of an A.C.I. (Automatic Control Instrument) which will bring into the glassworks a new era of better control and the result of a new order of the day. The factory will be built for the future. It is completely independent of Europe for the raw materials presently imported.

Ms. Pitt Moore has the general picture of the glassworks of her finger-tip. Her technicians are responsible to her for the supervision of the work.

The remainder of the sports news — Ben Hur wins Duchess of Gloucester Plate

RAIN STOPS LAST RACE

FOR the first time in the memory of the majority of reader-degrees, the race was in theory at Millers on Saturday that the last race of the afternoon—the London (British) Handicap—had to be abandoned and will run on 145 this afternoon, before the sun sets.

But despite the rain the same distance between the same two horses (Kilimanjaro and Ben Hur) was the feature of the race.

Ben Hur, who had been the favourite, was again the winner, but this time he was not so far ahead of his opponent as he had been in the previous race. The race was a very close one, and the two horses were neck and neck for much of the way.

Very easy victory

The Duchess of Gloucester Handicap, over 400 yards, was won by Ben Hur, who was the favourite, in a very easy victory. He was well clear of his opponent, Kilimanjaro, for much of the way.

Ben Hur, who had been the favourite, was again the winner, but this time he was not so far ahead of his opponent as he had been in the previous race. The race was a very close one, and the two horses were neck and neck for much of the way.

KENYA MAY BE TOLD OF INCOME TAX RISE ON FRIDAY

Mr. Waweru impressed by the British way of life

KENYA will learn next Friday whether taxes in the Colony are to be increased to help to pay for the Budget. On that day the Minister for Finance, Mr. E. A. Waweru, will present the Budget for the coming year.

Generally, it is thought there will be a rise in income tax rates. Hints that this step might be taken were given by the Member when he made his last Budget speech.

During the week-end, Mr. Waweru and Treasury officials will be working together on the Budget. It is expected that the Budget will be presented on Friday.

Mr. Waweru is expected to make his last Budget speech on Friday. He will be accompanied by his wife and children. He is expected to stay in Kenya for some time after his return from the United Kingdom.

MR. WAWERU, the 44-year-old Kenya headmaster of Kambari Intermediate School, is expected to be appointed to the Executive Council, says he will be the first African to be a member of the Council.

Mr. Waweru is expected to be appointed to the Executive Council in the next few weeks. He is expected to be the first African to be a member of the Council.
