Last-minute move at Geneva

WEST STUDYING NEW INDO-CHINA PLAN

LAST-MINUTE concessions by the Communists have raised hopes among Western delegates at the Indo-China conference peace talks in Geneva that the five-week-old conference may after all, have been in vain.

The West German Foreign Office, which is watching the progress of the conference, said that the Communists would not be prepared to accept a proposal to prolong it by an amount greater than the amount which would be required to meet the needs of the Communist States.

Mr. George Bidault, the outgoing French Foreign Secretary, Mr. Robert Schuman, head of the American delegation, and Soviet and Chinese leaders. The Communists were described as "neutral" and "surprisingly amicable" and "well worth studying further."

The surprise gesture came at the 100th anniversary of the Chinese People's Republic and Mr. Chou was said to have put forward new proposals which suggested the Communists might now agree to withdraw the Vietnam "invading force" which the Communists insist are in Laos and Cambodia.

The Queen's Birthday Parade in Nairobi

MOMENTS in the impressive ceremony which took place in the grounds of Government House, Nairobi, at the official celebration of the Queen's Birthday are captured in today's picture page.

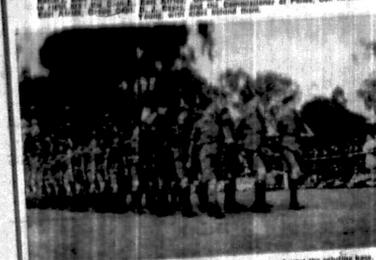

The weather was kind and by 10 a.m. on Thursday the sun shone through the light, misty haze and the beautiful green fields of Government House.

It was a colorful spectacle with the dignitaries sitting in their robes and caparotons behind the ceremonial dais on which were seated Governor Sir Frederick Crawford, the C-in-C, East Africa, General Sir George Evelyn, the C.R.A.F.O. East Africa, Group Capt. Eyles, and the Commissioner of Police, Col. Arthur Young.

Perhaps the most attracted by the pageantry were the hundreds of school children who, in many parts of the world, will be celebrating the Queen's birthday.

of being SPARK PLUG CONSCIOUS

THE FUNCTION OF A SPARK PLUG. The basic function of a spark plug is to ignite the mixture in the combustion chamber of an engine by passing a spark across the two electrodes. A spark plug to initiate combustion. Thus your engine begins to operate on your spark plug start firing.

A MISFIRING ENGINE is commonly caused by the misfiring of fouled or dirty spark plugs. Fouling results from either carbon or fuel deposits on the insulator tips which often "short out" the plug.

NOTE: Plug testers do not always give a reliable indication of the condition or quality of the spark plug.

WHEN IN DOUBT do not hesitate to ask specialists on the subject. K.R. & T. Service Station can tell you immediately whether the plug in your engine is doing the job properly.

K.L.G. PLUGS are considered in East Africa to be the ideal plugs for the best performance of any engine. Almost 100 per cent racing successes in this country have been due to using K.L.G. plugs and the racing driver is meticulous about his choice!

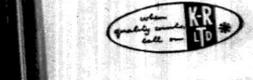

A BIG ADVANTAGE OF K.L.G. PLUGS is that they can be stripped and cleaned with an ordinary tool kit.

AN IMPORTANT ECONOMY IN FUTURE ENGINE REPAIRS will be made by taking great care of your plug and by investing a few dollars in a new set of regular intervals. It has been proved that expensive repairs will be saved.

K.L.G. plugs pass 50 tests before they are allowed on the market. It is important that the right plug is used for your engine. Whenever you order spark plugs order K.L.G. and specify the make and date of manufacture of your car.

Beware of rash promises

HANDCRAFTERS have a wonderful history, and it is a pity that many of them are being overlooked. Their work is often of high quality and great value, but it is often sold at a low price. This is due to a variety of reasons, including the fact that many handcrafters do not have the necessary marketing skills to promote their products effectively.

As Newspapers

The newspaper industry is facing many challenges, including the rise of digital media and the decline of print circulation. Despite these challenges, newspapers continue to play a vital role in society by providing news, information, and entertainment. However, the industry must adapt to these changes in order to remain relevant and profitable.

Bellringers' protest strikes a curious note

... BY LES ARMOUR

THE Central Council of Church Bellringers has been addressing itself to the problem of synthetic vicars. At first sight this may seem pure impudence. But it stems, it would seem, in a thoroughly logical way, from the problem of synthetic bellringers.

A spontaneous resolution "approved" by the general meeting of the Central Council of Church Bellringers has been adopted. It is a resolution of protest against the use of synthetic bellringers. It is a resolution of protest against the use of synthetic bellringers. It is a resolution of protest against the use of synthetic bellringers.

The Council made that such a resolution is the only one of its kind. It is a resolution of protest against the use of synthetic bellringers. It is a resolution of protest against the use of synthetic bellringers. It is a resolution of protest against the use of synthetic bellringers.

the world of the past—loyalty and devotion—rather than to the more selfish aspects of existence. He is a man of the old school. He is a man of the old school. He is a man of the old school.

ODDLY ENOUGH

... by Paul Jennings

IN the modern city, an abstract concept of a building and bases exposed on the wild coast. There are two phenomena that will strike the eye when one enters the city. One is the sight of the street and the other is the sight of the street.

There are the weather and the rain. No building is too tall to be hit by the rain. No building is too tall to be hit by the rain. No building is too tall to be hit by the rain.

FIRMS NEED TO WATCH SALESMANSHIP

British exporters' key to increasing Union trade

The chief emphasis of the United Kingdom export drive to the Union of South Africa should fall on the improved methods used by British firms with existing connections in the Union to sell their products. This is the message of a survey of economic and commercial conditions in the Union in 1963 by the U.K. Trade Commissioners in the Union.

In the survey "Union of South Africa", published by the Stationery Office, the Commissioners stress in particular the importance of choosing right and making their delivery promises.

Another point made is that the Union's economy is not as advanced as it is thought to be. It is not as rich as it is thought to be. It is not as rich as it is thought to be.

Production effort in the Union is not as high as it is thought to be. It is not as high as it is thought to be. It is not as high as it is thought to be.

Third best customer. "This is often the case now but not so long ago. It is not as high as it is thought to be. It is not as high as it is thought to be. It is not as high as it is thought to be.

South Africa was in 1963 the third best customer of Britain, the U.S. bought more from the U.K. than any other country.

Britain has long been the chief market for the Union, taking in 1962-53 per cent of total Union exports.

Delivery promises. "The most successfully the U.K. export trade to the Union is the U.K. export trade to the Union. It is not as high as it is thought to be. It is not as high as it is thought to be. It is not as high as it is thought to be.

THE stock markets were in a cheerful mood although there was a noticeable dip in gilt-edged securities recording widespread gains.

ILLNESS ENDS HOPES OF REACHING MAKALU COL

Sir Edmund Hillary, leader of the New Zealand Alpine Club's expedition to the Himalayas, writes from Dacca that he reached Makalu Col and how when one of the camps was settled down to sleep a crevasse opened up and carried away the floors of two of the tents.

THE great mass of Makalu (27,700 ft) unquestionably dominates the horizon of the Karu Valley. From the base of the mountain, the Karu Valley can be seen from the base of the mountain, but the progress is painfully slow as they struggle with the fantastic difficulties of the south ridge.

In 1952 when we entered the Karu Valley for the first time, the mountain was covered in snow. The snow was so deep that it was impossible to walk through it. The snow was so deep that it was impossible to walk through it. The snow was so deep that it was impossible to walk through it.

On May 11, Frank and I, with the three Sherpas, set out for the Makalu Col. We had a good start, but the snow was so deep that it was impossible to walk through it. The snow was so deep that it was impossible to walk through it.

The snow was so deep that it was impossible to walk through it. The snow was so deep that it was impossible to walk through it. The snow was so deep that it was impossible to walk through it.

As we walked down the steep slope there was a tremendous splash of water. The water was so hot that it was impossible to walk through it. The water was so hot that it was impossible to walk through it.
