Creamery Progress THE ANNUAL MEETING

IN SILVER SETTING The Irish "Sweep"

The Conference of the African Federation of Tourists... The annual meeting of the Kenya Co-operative Creameries Limited was held at Nakuru, Thursday.

["STANDARD" CORRESPONDENT] The annual meeting of the Kenya Co-operative Creameries Limited was held at Nakuru, Thursday.

Golden jubilee... Dublin, Wednesday... as a silver city yesterday when a glittering cavalcade proceeded through the streets of the Irish capital...

It was divided into two parts, the first dealing with affairs that affected the Associations themselves, the second with touring arrangements...

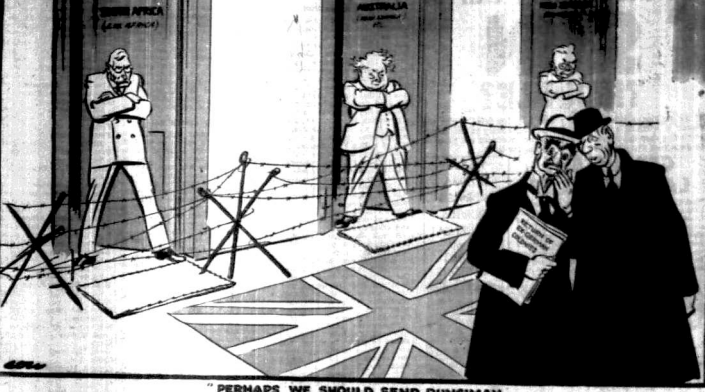

It was particularly to stress that aspect because it was felt that there has been a slight rise in the cost of manufacturing and one of the reasons given for this was the increase of roughly 10 per cent in the price of tin...

It is a thing, evident from the price we have obtained for our produce, that we have done much more than get back this additional cost, and we are able, therefore, to have a high profit.

Next Meeting The last gave rise to a good deal of discussion... It was generally agreed that it should take place in the first week of the following year...

The average pay-per-ton for all grades of tin ore... The average pay-per-ton for all grades of tin ore is about £120,000, which is a slight increase over the previous year...

"PERHAPS WE SHOULD SEND RUNCIMAN..." (Copyright in All Countries.)

Network of highways The second part chiefly centred round the question of a network of roads... It was generally agreed that it should take place in the first week of the following year...

Local Markets You have been given detailed information where we set our butter, Duffing Ltd. are the only local buyers...

Second Day The second day of the meeting of the National Council of the East African Standard was held at Nairobi on Friday...

Export Policy During the year we have had to do with the export of tin... It is in a thing, evident from the price we have obtained for our produce...

More A.R.P. Criticism The local government report on the A.R.P. Budget during the year has been criticized...

Mr. Duff Cooper by R. H. BRUCE LOCKHART

My memories of Mr. Duff Cooper go back to the immediate pre-war period...

It was true that he nearly remained in Oxford for ever. He gave a party to celebrate his success in his examination. After the party there was poker...

There was a pistol on the table. An undergraduate who had been the heaviest loser picked up the pistol, removed the magazine, and pointing the gun at the chief winner, said: "Well, Duff, you lucky devil, I'd like to shoot you."

Having survived this first encounter with Fate, Mr. Cooper came to London and took his place in the staff of the War Office...

When I remember that Mr. Cooper's military career was not without its share of incident...

Then came the Great War. Mr. Cooper was twenty-three. His thoughts went to France...

It was the Foreign Office in 1917, when Mr. Balfour's political fortunes were at a low ebb...

Being extracts from the "East African Standard" (established 1904) of twenty years ago.

A GERMAN wireless official communication states that Germany's navy is to be reduced...

Admiral the Delegate of the Inter-Parliamentary Conference in Buckingham Palace...

Butler to be trained in the Grenadier Guards. He was not successful. He could not learn to form teams and slope runs without making mistakes...

It came home a hero, and although he had been dismissed from the diplomatic service, was left to his old office of the Foreign Office...

With the gale blowing against him, Mr. Cooper was at the helm of the British Empire...

It is a man's career to be measured by the height of his achievements. Mr. Cooper's career is a record of leading the remaining years of his life...

Although positively speaking the life of Tanganyika has nothing to do with the Union, it is widely recognized...

Clearly enough, the back is the life story of the last Emperor of Ethiopia.

Perhaps it is almost well to look to Tanganyika for his next chapter in his life...

If the sea of opposition which he has had to contend with should be a hindrance to his progress...

The Influence of the Environment on Livestock

Being a talk written by Dr. A. Anderson B.S., Veterinary Surgeon, and broadcast from the Maxwell Station on Thursday morning, 1922, in the series of Talks for Farmers arranged by the Royal Agricultural and Horticultural Society, the College and Wireless L.A. and the Department of Agriculture and Veterinary Services.

Various species of wild animals under natural conditions are peculiarly adapted to the environment in which they exist and thrive, and indeed Darwin's theory of evolution is based on the natural selection of animals by their environment. The primary object of selection is to produce animals under natural conditions is to maintain the fitness and survival of the fittest rather than economic production.

Domesticated animals, on the other hand, have been bred and selected and even radically changed from primitive, indigenous types into highly developed groups. They live under conditions created by man, and they would be lost if they were not so. The primary object of selection is to produce animals under artificial conditions, and it is this that is the basis of the selection of animals by their environment.

It is only natural that the effect of climate on cattle breeding should be more marked in the temperate than in the tropics. Improvement of animals under natural conditions has been shown at in recent years by the results of dairy and beef production from temperate climates and under adequate management and control of disease the results have been almost always beyond expectation. In South Africa it has been shown that the wild seems to tolerate a wide range of climate, but the prevailing opinion is that the climate is not so good as that of the temperate zone.

In animals transferred from temperate to tropical climates it is not possible to find a natural resistance to local diseases. It is not possible to find a natural resistance to local diseases. It is not possible to find a natural resistance to local diseases. It is not possible to find a natural resistance to local diseases.

There is evidence of a significant difference in the manner in which European and Indian oxen utilize their food with varying degrees of efficiency. It has been suggested that the pro-

ABOUT FUTURE OF TANGANYIKA

The newspapers continue to give a great deal of prominence to the British opposition in Africa to any suggestion of handing back to Germany Tanganyika and South West Africa (the London correspondent of the "East African Standard").

It is reported, too, that there is the greatest sympathy with this point of view in the Dominions.

CESSION OF TANGANYIKA WOULD BE DISASTER

Convention's Earnest Plea To The Home Government

AMALGAMATION URGED

The Convention considers that the cession of Tanganyika to Germany would prove disastrous both for British East African possessions and for the British Empire, and that the position of Kenya and Uganda, considered together with German East Africa, would be seriously and most earnestly urged that Great Britain will refuse to consider the cession of Tanganyika.

The foregoing resolution was passed unanimously and with applause at Wednesday's sitting of the Convention of Association in the Memorial Hall, Nairobi.

Another resolution which also received unanimous support was one reading:

That this Association gives its whole-hearted support to the Tanganyika League as at present constituted and further hopes that the League will seek the support of South Africa and the Rhodesias.

Both resolutions were the result of a long and earnest discussion, and were forwarded by the Executive Committee, and approved by Mr. Featherstonhaugh.

At this Convention, members of the cession of Tanganyika to Germany would prove disastrous both for British East Africa and for the British Empire, and that the position of Kenya and Uganda, considered together with German East Africa, would be seriously and most earnestly urged that Great Britain will refuse to consider the cession of Tanganyika.

Mr. Featherstonhaugh presided over the Convention, and was assisted by Mr. J. H. M. Mair (Nairobi) as secretary.

Mr. A. Chadway (Langati) stated that of late time he had a feeling that the day that the cession of Tanganyika back to Germany is the day that the latter will be expelled from the whole of Africa. Due to German's own equipment policy, however, he had been forced to give up his own equipment, and the equipment should be kept and the German and other countries should be kept.

PARADISE REGAINED

It is very seldom indeed that one gets a really thoughtful picture that yet is entertaining.

It is about Atlantis, Utopia, the lost land of the imagination. With very slight alterations, approved by the author, it follows James Hilton's Hawththorn Prize story.

I hope you will make a point of seeing it. It is not really flawless, but it is a considerable picture of a fantastic conception, clad in but charming. A tremendous attempt, unlike anything done before in the cinema, which combines a naive and simple philosophy with a high degree of melodrama.

DHEBI EXPLODED

An explosion which might have had serious results occurred in the shop of Khandoo Chaudhary, proprietor of Khandoo's, at the corner of the street, who designs a small troupe at the back of the premises, was attended by the explosion and that shop was completely gutted by flames.

Apparently the explosion was caused by a mixture of chlorate of potash and powdered sulphur. Khandoo-Chaudhary is believed to have been preparing fireworks. At about 10 p.m. the fire station was informed that smoke was rising from the premises—about 10 p.m. it was found that the shop was burning. It was found that the shop was owned by a Native employee of Khandoo-Chaudhary. Several small amounts of fire with a bucket of water. Only one person and his wife were charred and there was no real danger.

The chlorate of potash and powdered sulphur were in a tin when the explosion occurred.

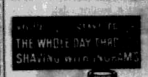

The explosion recalls a similar one which had fatal results just over ten years ago. It was also in River Road and resulted in injuries to two ladies and a child, the child subsequently dying from the injuries.

THE MACSMITHS
A Government Department has been trying in the affairs of the Scottish people. In the name of Statistics the Scot has been asked to produce a birth certificate. And though in the best regulated Scottish society like Jessie has her Jockies, war marriage certificates have not been above suspicion. Seventy-five years ago the Annual Report of the Registrar General for Scotland provided for the more curious some evidence of relative poverty of Christian names and surnames in Scotland. Though the ordinary taxpayer may have thought that seeing the same for many years the great departments of the British Government had more urgent things to do than worry about the frequency of the baptismal use of John and Maggie north of the Tweed, an illuminating commentary on the unchanging stubbornness of the unchanging tradition has been somebody's authority has spent valuable months of his life analysing the result of several conferences to which his name to be given to the Scottish baby. Of course the results have been interesting. It turns out that for nearly 80 years the conservative Scottish father and mother have seen their fondness for John and Maggie, though there are now over 600 different names for boys and more than 500 for girls, and throughout Scotland, 12,000 different surnames. It is perhaps a curious commentary on the conservatism of the English invasion of Scottish life and social order that there is today a marked decline in the use of names of Biblical origin. Among Mac-Tavish and Eckard-Macbride no longer appear in the gloss. It is still that John and James are true to that order the popular definition. There are many David have slipped down the list. There are now fewer Collins-Dugan and Lambton than there are in the past. Many of the present-day generations of parents, trying to redress the Highland balance, have imported Ian, Alastair, Corran and Dougal, which never figured at all eighty years ago. Among the girls the names of Mary and Elizabeth (neither Lizzy) have stood the test of time. Catherine has come up into fourth place and we still have the Annie, the Agnes and the Isabella. But in the early Victorian days there were the Barbara, the Jean and the Dorothy and low evidence of Irish influence than the Patricia, the Michelle and the Maureen of Scotland.

CANTON OCCUPIED; HANKOW IN IMMINENT DANGER

CZECH PREMIER

Japan's Warning Of "Relentless Air Bombardment"

General Sirovy (center) the Prime Minister, Acting President and Army Inspector General of Czechoslovakia, with some of his army staff.

CIVILIANS IN FLIGHT

WITH CANTON NOW FULLY OCCUPIED BY THE JAPANESE, ATTENTION HAS BEEN SHIFTED TO HANKOW, FROM WHICH CITY PANIC-STRIKEN CIVILIANS ARE, ACCORDING TO SOME REPORTS, TROOPS AS WELL, ARE FEELING IN THEIR MILLIONS. IT IS STATED THAT JAPANESE FORCES ARE ONLY A HILES DOWNSTREAM FROM THE CITY, AND FORECASTS THAT THE AREA HAS BEEN WARNED TO LEAVE THE HANKOW AREA WHICH WOULD BE "RELENTLESSLY BOMBED."

There are reports in Shanghai that all important officials had left Hankow, and previous rumors to the effect that General Chiang Kai-Shek and Mrs. Chiang had left some days ago were yesterday denied. Another report is that the Chinese commander of the Cantonese troops has surrendered to the Japanese.

A reference to China's willingness to discuss peace, on terms that "do not menace independence," was made by a former French Minister in Chungking.

China had left Hankow and was heading for the city yesterday. The Japanese expressed their first serious aim for several weeks. It is reported that Japanese troops have advanced in the Yangtze valley, and have captured the cities of Hankow, Ichang, and Chungking.

ENGLAND IS "SELFISH AND UNRELIABLE"

SAYS U.S. PRESS BARON

The view of the isolationist school of thought in the United States was yesterday put in a broadcast by Mr. William Randolph Hearst, the famous newspaper proprietor. The broadcast was something in the nature of a reply to that sent to America last week by Mr. Winston Churchill.

Mr. Hearst said that England was in a disturbed frame of mind and felt that the domination of the world should be in the hands of America. He said that America should take her own affairs and her own destiny in her own hands, and turning for help to the United States.

"AMERICA'S NAVAL PROGRAMME MUST GO ON"

Washington, October 23. The United States Navy Secretary yesterday issued a statement in reply to the question of the expansion of the nation's navy to the size that has been considered necessary by the House.

Shortage of Anti-Aircraft Instruments

London, Oct. 23. Speaking last night the Secretary of State for Air, Sir Kingsley Wood, said that the experience of the past few weeks had shown that the Federal Government would not be able to supply in 24 hours of the instruments required in twelve hours. He added that the instruments required in 24 hours of the instruments required in 12 hours.

Mr. Brian, Secretary of the Interior, announced that the House of Representatives would not be able to supply in 24 hours of the instruments required in 12 hours.

CZECH FOREIGN POLICY

Goebbels Speaks Frankly

"Agreement with All Neighbours" Says Premier

October 23. In a long statement on Friday night the Czech Premier, Benes, said that the Czech foreign policy is concerned with one object in view as soon as possible to achieve as soon as and completely as possible agreement with our neighbours. Our first task is to have new and definite terms and the guarantee of Europe for their independence and security. The more central our position as an neighbourly state, the more valuable and effective will be our relations with Germany, Italy, Britain and France. The Czech foreign policy is to have an agreement with all neighbours, and it is in this sense that the Czech Premier has said that the Czech foreign policy is to have an agreement with all neighbours.

UNITED SUPPORT FOR TANGANYIKA LEAGUE

Enthusiastic Meeting In Dar es Salaam

COMPLETE UNANIMITY IN SUPPORT OF THE AIMS OF THE TANGANYIKA LEAGUE, FORMED TO ASSIST IN PRESERVING THE TERRITORY PLACE WITHIN THE BRITISH EMPIRE, WAS ACHIEVED AT A MEETING LAST WEDNESDAY IN DAR ES SALAAM.

Major the Hon. Sir William Lush, stressed the common necessity in East Africa to accept responsibilities as members of the British Empire. The main work, in which the League will be doing its best, is to be done in London, stated Sir William. There will be the least which is done here, stated Sir William.

Co-operation and help of the Indian community was pledged to the League in its function of preserving the British Mandate in Tanganyika.

["STANDARD" CORRESPONDENT]

As Dar es Salaam, Oct. 23.—At a meeting on Wednesday under the auspices of the Tanganyika League, Sir William Lush presided. The League had had an interview with Sir William Lush, Secretary of State for the Colonies.

While the conversation had been of a general nature, it could scarcely be stated to give its specific character. Sir William Lush was obliged to state that the future of Tanganyika and other colonies would shortly be submitted to the House of Commons.

and in the preceding paragraphs. But the ruler of argument only to be the contrary—once more the Great Government is not the Government. The Association fully admits that the big-gig registration is not a protection, only dry and wet season work, and for this reason, if not for other, there cannot be any opposition. The reduction of Government work stipulated in the C.M.O. and the fact that there is no right to apply to it.

An explanation of the Chief Secretary's statement that we were disappointed in our application for a position in the Government was given in the following column. We are sure that we know that the Chief Secretary's statement was not only in the Government but also in the Government of the Government in connection with the application of an appointment on vacancies in the Government. It is not possible to apply to the Government of the Government to obtain the Government of the Government. It is not possible to apply to the Government of the Government to obtain the Government of the Government. It is not possible to apply to the Government of the Government to obtain the Government of the Government.

British Policy

A PROTEST AGAINST SURRENDER. To the Editor, "E.A. Standard": I read with interest the article in your issue of the 17th inst. regarding the British policy in regard to the Italian invasion of Ethiopia.

World war has been averted through the Chamberlain policy and the British Empire is safe. The German threat of war may have been a bluff, as it is now the army is not ready that there is a possibility of a further escalation that there is a possibility of a further escalation that there is a possibility of a further escalation.

Stocking up. Mr. Eden seems to be one of our new statesmen who stands firm, and the principles laid down for a League of Nations. How long this period of rest will last is not for me to say. It is the duty of the British Government to see that the world is not plunged into a new world war.

With Federation as an aim, neither have the will nor the power to make a further bargain with the Axis. The British Government should be guided by the principles of the League of Nations.

Mr. Chamberlain would neither have the will nor the power to make a further bargain with the Axis. The British Government should be guided by the principles of the League of Nations.
