

MORE LANDS TO BE BOUGHT 200,000-acre scheme will cost £5m.

AN immediate start is to be made on the valuation of 200,000 acres of land which the Government is planning to buy for the second phase of Kenya's £27,500,000 five-year settlement scheme.

Announcing this yesterday, the Minister for Land Settlement, Mr. McKenzie, said it was estimated that the cost of buying out the 250 individual and company landowners concerned, and resettling African smallholders, would be about £5,000,000.

The Minister added that the valuations for the 1962/63 phase would be completed by the end of March of which in Africa any country has the longest programme for that stage and therefore two months ahead of schedule. A start may be made in July on buying land in the 1963/64 programme and it is hoped to complete the phase early next year.

Tribute to planning

Land earmarked by the Land Development and Settlement Board for possible inclusion in the latest resettlement plan includes 60,000 acres on the North Kiangap, 21,870 acres at Ol Kalou, 21,600 at Koina, 14,000 at Mhoroni, 18,045 at Sabatia, 13,500 at Sotik East and 11,825 at Mwingi.

With the Minister as the general director will be the chairman—Bunga Land, General Geoffrey Jones, who paid high tribute to the careful planning put into the settlement scheme.

Breakdown danger in Market talks

The crucial talks on Britain's entry into the European Common Market were in danger of breaking down at night as France was believed to be trying to get them broken up.

Ministers of the six were meeting in private at France's request. According to a French official, the French Foreign Minister, Maurice Couvreur, might propose that the negotiations be adjourned. Observers believe that France was trying to reduce the chances of a "break" shattered by President Gaullier's refusal to Britain on Monday before presenting the British with "take it or leave them" terms for membership.

However, the Belgian Foreign Minister in Brussels said "I am sure any reason to postpone the talks is untenable."

"All the difficulties are surmountable and any decision at this stage is untenable."

Extra-mural studies

WITH the approach of Kenya's independence, which is all the fiercer as the form assumes an imminent factor has been taken into account and extra-mural studies are being arranged at the various universities in the country.

It is in fact, for the first time since the second world war that the East African countries have taken such a step to meet the educational needs of the people.

It is not necessary to go to Europe for extra-mural studies, but it is necessary to go to the various universities in the country.

HOMES FOR THE HOUSELESS

PUBLIC interest has been focused almost exclusively on the political aspects of the regional and national elections. The physical accommodation, not to mention the financial, of the two main contenders, the Kenya African National Union (KANU) and the Kenya African People's Party (KAPU), has been the subject of little or no attention.

The House of Representatives, in its historical role as the Chamber of Deputies, has been called upon to take up the matter. It has done so in a number of resolutions, and it is now in a position to take up the matter in a more detailed manner.

The House of Representatives, in its historical role as the Chamber of Deputies, has been called upon to take up the matter. It has done so in a number of resolutions, and it is now in a position to take up the matter in a more detailed manner.

Another line of work is to erect a special building on the grounds of the Government House, which would be used as a temporary home for the homeless. This would be done in a way that would not be a burden on the Government.

The House of Representatives, in its historical role as the Chamber of Deputies, has been called upon to take up the matter. It has done so in a number of resolutions, and it is now in a position to take up the matter in a more detailed manner.

Uncertain future for great Queen

By JOHN BLAND

THE great history of Queen Elizabeth II is a record of a life of service to her people and to the Commonwealth. Her reign has been marked by a long and successful career in public life. Her Majesty's reign has been marked by a long and successful career in public life. Her Majesty's reign has been marked by a long and successful career in public life.

NAIROBI AIRPORT GREAT HUB OF AFRICAN ROUTES

NAIROBI Airport, a natural hub of aerial routes in Africa and rated as one of the finest and most modern in the world, has considerably encouraged capital in the East African region since it was opened in 1954.

It is built on the flat grassland plains of Embakasi, some 15 miles east of Kenya's capital. The airport has expanded so rapidly and successfully that it is today the principal gateway to the whole of East Africa, used by businessmen, journalists, politicians, administrators, diplomats, tourists and others coming to or returning to the continent of African States.

Javan Chavanga

NAIROBI Airport is today well equipped to service even the largest jetliners and transport. In the field of aviation for passengers and visitors, the airport has few equals in the world. It is provided with five restaurants, rest-rooms for sick passengers, gardens, a cinema, a children's shopping arcade, a first-aid room and a bonding office at the Nairobi Royal National Park.

Kenya's Kenya Government and East African Common Services Organisation Department, East African Airways-East Africa Airlines, have already started operations of the airport, comfortable and up to date.

GO A DAY

When it was built the airport was planned to cater for the 20 movements a day at that time. It is today one of the busiest airports in the world, with over 100 movements a day. In 1961, the airport handled 15,000 civil and 4,000 military movements, an average of about 50 arrivals and 50 departures a day.

The number of passengers handled at the airport jumped from 18,000 in 1958 to 1,028,000 in 1961, and an even larger spurt was expected by 1964. A three and a half million passenger increase is expected for 1964. The amount of freight handled in 1958 was 2,700,000 kilograms, but it reached 11,700,000 kilograms in 1961.

To keep up with this expansion and to meet new and emerging requirements, the airport further installations are being made, costing $200,000.

NEW RADAR

Beside the provision of a landing system, additional radar, communication, an extension to the administrative building, the terminal building, the construction of stand-by electrical generating stations, and the bonded stores.

CAPITALS LINKED

By introducing fast and heavy jet aircraft like the Comet's jetliners (which replaced the 700, 000 and in addition the Boeing 707 and the Boeing 727 Friendship) to replace the Canberra and some Dakota services - these international airlines have linked Nairobi Airport to many capitals and drastically increased the flight times.

In addition to this, new jet aircraft introduced by the East African Airways have enhanced the comfort and speed of international travel.

Passengers from East Africa bound for Paris leave the terminal building at Nairobi Airport to board an Air-France Boeing 707.

15 international lines offer a vast network

Force used the airport as a base for operations to transport 4,000,000 lbs of food were dropped, to subsequent operations. While the East African constant operation line could terms through this period.

EXPORT ROLE

Nairobi Airport has also played an important part in furthering the export of Kenya products to all parts of the world by air freight. It is, in fact, the only airport in Kenya which has been the arrival point for such items as urgently needed spare parts, perfumes, livestock, leaving vaccines and mail.

In fact, Nairobi Airport is centrally situated on links national air routes and its climate is so good that its future in assisting the development of the whole of Africa is assured.

SIN OFFER

Mr. Billy Butler, "king" of Mr. Butler's holiday camp, has just written a £10,000 cheque to the ship he is working on to convert into a holiday camp, near the English South Coast.

The chairman of Curand, Sir John Bevilacqua, has suggested that the liner might be scuttled and then used to construct a Caribbean island resort. The island would be built with the stone to a party, and the equipment contained here equipped with a luxury waterfront. Mr. Bevilacqua said that the ship he had scuttled was the ship he had scuttled.

At a gambling session in London, the British Government was interested in buying the Queen Elizabeth II to provide the city's homeless families.

A STEP NEARER ELECTION

It is true that Kenya is suffering from a long period of election delay. This week has taken a large step towards the goal of a general election in Kenya. The recent decision by the Government to allow the formation of a new party which will mean that the former Liberal Party will be merged into the Kenya People's Party, headed by Mr. M. P. Mugo, is a significant step. This is the first time since the formation of the Kenya People's Party that the Government has allowed a party which will be allowed to compete with it to be formed.

FEVER CURE

Several studies in the past have shown that African people suffer from malaria. The recent decision by the Government to allow the formation of a new party which will mean that the former Liberal Party will be merged into the Kenya People's Party, headed by Mr. M. P. Mugo, is a significant step.

CROP ROTATION IS A MUST

FOOD is a vital necessity and all those who have the room should grow their own vegetables and fruits. It is necessary, however, to rotate the planting of crops across since their demands upon the available soil vary with the type of crop.

The green crops, for example, take nitrogen from the soil to promote growth. The root crops need phosphoric acid for root development. The remaining plant nutrients are taken up by the various crops over the year period, while the soil is left to rest.

The ground should be prepared in advance of planting for the various crops. It is necessary to rotate the planting of crops across since their demands upon the available soil vary with the type of crop.

New Aztec can use 250 E.A. landing strips

East African tourists, businessmen and game park visitors will all appreciate the merits of the £22,000 twin-engined Piper Aztec charter plane just acquired by Wilken Air Services of Nairobi.

Because it can take off and land on half built and five footers between 500 yards, the Aztec can use any of the 250 landing strips scattered across the five territories. This is a significant step towards the goal of a general election in Kenya.

Flight Sister — an airplane but exciting

ONE of the most exciting, rewarding, but heaviest responsibilities in the training profession is that of Flight Sister in the Naval Air Transport Corps.

Flight Sisters are usually first class stewardesses who have been trained at the R.A.F. Hospital in Cranwell, Lincolnshire, England, they are sent out to the various bases of the Transport Corps in the United States, Canada, and other countries. They are responsible for the general care of the patients, including the serving of meals, and for the general supervision of the cabin crew.

Trained Flight Sisters are shown here in their standard uniforms in an R.A.F. barracks awaiting their assignment to duty on a transport plane during a flight lasting several hours.

The idea of nursing as a career attracts many girls who are not usually considered as the type who would be trained to different parts of the world. One who can be guaranteed to be becoming a Flight Sister is one who has completed her nursing and aviation training at the R.A.F. Hospital in Cranwell, Lincolnshire, England.

As a member of the crew and shown over the flight, she is responsible for the general care of the patients, including the serving of meals, and for the general supervision of the cabin crew.

On arrival at the overseas hospital the Flight Sister is met by a Medical Officer who will assign her to a particular transport plane. She is then given a tour of the hospital and the amount of baggage allowed is explained to her.

Why you should invest in the first permanent

WHY YOU SHOULD INVEST IN THE FIRST PERMANENT

SAFETY says Mr. Smith when he looks for an investment, and I agree that any money I save is safe with the First Permanent Development Corporation.

SECURITY says Mr. Aiken is my guide when in investing, and the First Permanent has assets exceeding £6 million—that makes my savings secure.

INTEREST—do use keeping your money in a bank. You can get 4 1/2% on savings or 5 1/2% on deposits.

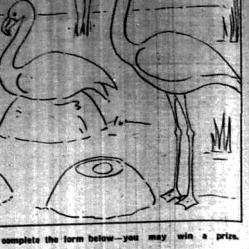

See your local First Permanent manager to find out more details. He will advise you on the type of account best suited to your individual requirements.

The idea of nursing as a career attracts many girls who are not usually considered as the type who would be trained to different parts of the world. One who can be guaranteed to be becoming a Flight Sister is one who has completed her nursing and aviation training at the R.A.F. Hospital in Cranwell, Lincolnshire, England.

As a member of the crew and shown over the flight, she is responsible for the general care of the patients, including the serving of meals, and for the general supervision of the cabin crew.

On arrival at the overseas hospital the Flight Sister is met by a Medical Officer who will assign her to a particular transport plane. She is then given a tour of the hospital and the amount of baggage allowed is explained to her.

THE WOODPECKER'S NEST

It was the time for birds to build their nests and the woodpecker was feeling worried. "I know nothing about building," she thought to herself. "I think I must try and learn to do what other birds are doing."

"You are very clever," said the woodpecker. "And your nests look very nice. I should like to see them. I should like to see them. I should like to see them."

"Oh dear," thought the woodpecker. "I don't think my nest will be safe in this sort of nest. And my nest is low by myself, not in a tree like the weaver's. She has a high nest in a tree."

The strange adventures of Bill

STRANGE how people who come to East Africa and stay a few weeks seem to run into adventures and discover that those who live here all their lives find hard to believe in. Or perhaps it is just that their experiences are all so new and vivid that they describe them more excitingly.

As you can see from the story of Bill Taylor, an Englishman who has spent some time in East Africa, his adventures are all so new and vivid that they describe them more excitingly.

Kenya comes Brewery executives take over shovels

It was not enough for Kariakoo to win the next elections, it must also be able to form a stable said yesterday, the party president, Mr. Kenyatta.

Mr. Kenyatta issued a statement commending on the report of the Constitutional Commission and discounting suggestions that this report strengthened the position of Kariakoo.

The text of his statement is as follows: "The whole question is naturally involved in the report of the Commission. We in Kenya regard it that it took so long to publish here delaying the election."

As a result of the national strike of 1963 brewery workers, management was forced to agree to a wage increase which was passed on to the consumer through the transmission in the following months.

The reconstruction of the maltings plant in the Nairobi Industrial Area was by the president of the Brewing and Bottling Employers Association, Mr. E. H. Murrer, and a director of East African Breweries Ltd., Mr. John Murrer.

A result of the national strike of 1963 brewery workers, management was forced to agree to a wage increase which was passed on to the consumer through the transmission in the following months.

WISHLIF THINKING

"Now that it is published, our immediate demand, interest, excitement and good humour of our people should not be allowed to turn into frustration because of delay and protracted electioneering."

There are people who may wish to see a delay in the election. Kariakoo's confidence of victory at the polls is now warranted despite wishful thinking on the part of our opponents and the press.

A COURTESY CAR ON THE CONTINENT FOR YOU!

The most exciting and generous overseas delivery scheme ever offered—If you are going on leave to Europe this year any new car purchased from The Motor Mart Group of Companies gives you the FREE use of a new Renault R8 Saloon for three months. Keep it longer if you like—but there is a nominal payment of £10 per month thereafter. When you return to East Africa your brand-new car will be waiting for you at the docks or airport as you choose.

How to take advantage of this scheme

Any new car purchased from The Motor Mart or Bruce Ltd, makes you eligible for this offer. There is a wide range to choose from—a car for any pocket and any purpose. Make your selection from amongst Opel, Vauxhall, Renault, Chevrolet and Pontiac. This scheme also holds good if you are trading in your old car. Call and see us at any Motor Mart or Bruce Ltd. branch, choose your new car (a new car for a member of your immediate family also makes you eligible for this scheme), arrange your trade-in if you wish—excellent value is given—and as soon as the purchase formalities are completed the courtesy Renault R8 will be automatically made ready for you. Come and see us NOW for full details of this remarkable plan.

What this scheme means to YOU!

1. VIRTUALLY TWO NEW CARS FOR THE PRICE OF ONE!
2. A LEFT-HAND-DRIVE CAR FOR USE ON THE CONTINENT.
3. TWO WARRANTY PERIODS.
4. TWO FREE SERVICE PERIODS.
5. A NEW CAR READY FOR YOU ON YOUR RETURN TO EAST AFRICA.

This scheme is an extension of the Motor Mart Group's normal overseas delivery scheme which, of course, still continues.

Kenya F.A. fails to sway Premier

POLITICS NOT OUR CONCERN

- F.I.F.A.

The Premier, Mr. J.M. Karuri, said that although he was sympathetic towards the F.A. he could not support their demands until they had first sought the approval of the Government. He said that the Government was unable to agree to the participation of Uganda in the Africa Cup football series in Kenya.

Mr. Karuri said the Government would allow politics to decide whether a team does or does not go anywhere.

Mr. Sandys refuses to give election date

Mr. Sandys, British Prime Minister, had a one-hour meeting with Mr. Macmillan in London last night.

It was brought to an end the round of talks the two East African leaders Commonwealth and Colonial Secretary, Mr. Sandys, and other British Ministers.

It is possible there will be an official statement today before Mr. Kwaana's home. Earlier there had been reports suggesting that little progress was made on the first Kenya independence demands for assurances that.

Earlier yesterday Mr. Kwaana and Mr. Chote attended a "working lunch" with Mr. Macmillan, Mr. Sandys and other officials, at which the working and finances of the East African Common Services Organisation were believed to have been discussed. Last month Mr. Kwaana and Mr. Organisation had been completely that the East African Common Services Organisation was not workable because of the arrangement whereby Kenya is represented alternately by the two Ministers of State.

Other British representatives at the lunch were the Minister of State for Commonwealth Relations, the Director of Commonwealth Relations, Mr. Tilley, and senior Civil Service officials. Mr. Chote was accompanied principally by his Minister for Finance, Mr. Sempu, and Mr. Kwaana by his Parliamentary Under-Secretary, Mr. Mumbaka.

248,000 RISE IN BRITAIN'S ROBLES

Mr. Macmillan and Mrs. Chote at a meeting yesterday studied Britain's 1961-62 Budget. The Budget was presented by the Prime Minister, Mr. Harold Macmillan, which showed a 248,000 upward jump of £1,652.

The improvement in the 1961-62 Budget was the result of the Government's policy of reducing the rate of the personal income tax from 30 to 25 per cent. This was the first time since 1945 that the rate of the personal income tax had been reduced.

The Budget also provided for a 10 per cent increase in the rate of the corporation tax from 30 to 33 per cent. This was the first time since 1945 that the rate of the corporation tax had been increased.

Trade between Britain and the Rhodesia Federation dropped in value last year, although that between Britain and South Africa same level almost the United Kingdom trade figures just issued.

The London office of the Overseas Trade Council, a London-based organization which monitors trade between Britain and other countries, has announced that the value of trade between Britain and the Rhodesia Federation dropped in value last year, although that between Britain and South Africa remained at almost the same level almost the United Kingdom trade figures just issued.

American Jupiter missiles stationed in Italy will be gradually withdrawn and replaced by Sigmar Falstaff, the Italian Prime Minister, Cabinet yesterday.

The Premier is also believed to have said that the shorter-range Corporal missiles would be gradually withdrawn and replaced by Sargent rockets as part of the weapons.

Mr. Fontana was reported by the Cabinet on his discussion with President Kennedy in Washington last week.

On Wednesday the Turkish Government announced that it was withdrawing Jupiter missiles from Turkey and that they would be replaced by Sargent rockets. This would mean that there would be no American Jupiter missiles in Turkey.

The removal of the Jupiters from Turkey has been agreed to by the two governments in a letter last year's agreement to remove 600 missiles.

Obsolete now

Western defence experts have for some time been pointing out that the so-called Jupiter missile was obsolete, especially as the time needed to prepare it for the retention of these rockets in Turkey and Italy was seen as giving the Soviet Union a considerable lead in the development of Jupiter missiles for the purpose of retaliation.

At a meeting in London yesterday the British Government was reported to have decided to withdraw the Jupiters from Turkey and Italy and to replace them by Sargent rockets, while no longer the Jupiters were in the process of a disarmament agreement between the West and the Soviet Union.

Tax cuts of £3,643m. for U.S.

President Kennedy's announcement to Congress a seven-point program to cut taxes by $10,000,000,000 (about £3,643 million) has been described by the British Government as a "very good" move.

Mr. Butler, the British Minister for Central Africa, has said that the tax cuts would be a "very good" move.

No rush to sell brewery shares in spite of strike

DESTITUTE the unemployed strike by brewery workers in Nairobi there was no rush on the part of shareholders to sell.

On the contrary, the demand for shares in East African Breweries remained steady from 9/10 to 10/11, and the price of City Brewery even rose to 8/12 s.d. while Uganda Breweries were again cheap at 4/7 1/2.

The sustained high price for shares there is largely due to the demand for shares in State Ltd which is held at 1/200 by 2,500 buyers, 2/100 sellers.

Similarly National Provident Fund shares were held at 2/100 by 1,500 buyers and 1/100 by 1,500 sellers, with houses at 7/ and 7 1/2.

Kenya Valley Coffee was held at 2/100 by 1,500 buyers and 1/100 by 1,500 sellers, with houses at 7/ and 7 1/2.

EGERTON WANTS STUDENTS FROM ALL OVER AFRICA

Story: Javan Chavanga Pictures: A. B. Kasoro

EGERTON Agricultural College, 7,400 ft. above sea-level and situated on 2,700 acres of some of the most highly developed mixed farming land in the Kenya Highlands 18 miles north of Nairobi, is steadily suited to its ambitious scheme to train students from all over Africa in rural sciences. The college has a wealth of experience and knowledge. Its students today there are British, Africans, Asians, Italians and Uganda attending courses.

These students, 152 of them in 1961, come from Kenya, Tanganyika, Uganda, Zambia, Somalia and East Africa. When a new diploma course in dairying starts this year, it is hoped that students from nearly every African country will be admitted. Keriton is open for two

It is hoped to institute a series of courses in dairying and there are also plans in hand to introduce a new diploma course in agriculture for women. A feature of the development of agriculture in this part of Africa was the tremendous efforts at the beginning of the century by the Kenya Education Department, in introducing agricultural education. This was done by the establishment of a technical school which served to stimulate the movement of the land and its settlement throughout Kenya.

CAVE LAND

It was therefore fitting that this district should be chosen when the first technical school for dairying was established in Nairobi. This was done by the Government of Kenya in 1944, when Lord Keriton died in 1944, he left a further £200,000 farm and a bequest of money to the Government of Kenya. Keriton College which was set up in Nairobi, three miles from Nairobi, was the first technical school for dairying in East Africa. It was founded to Kenya's agricultural education and was the first of its kind in the world for the establishment of Keriton College when they were still young. These students have but when Egerton was opened to all races he decided to take a diploma course in agriculture. Unlike most students at Egerton, Roshami K. Pradhan, although born in Mombasa in 1942, was educated at an English public school. Pradhan studied at Somerset, India, and then worked on farms in India. He has the advantage of study days spent on the Kenya Highlands and has been working on farms in Spain, Portugal, and elsewhere before joining an agricultural college. When news reached him that the college had been opened to students of all races, Pradhan returned to Kenya to enroll in it.

Diverse though their origins and backgrounds are, most of the new students at Egerton College all have one factor in common—a great desire to learn and understand one another.

NO WONDER

"It is an understatement to say that the English secondary education system is the best in the world," says a student of the college. "It is the best in the world." Pradhan, who is now in his second year, says he has been taught at Egerton College since he left his secondary school in Mombasa. He has been at Egerton College since he left his secondary school in Mombasa. He has been at Egerton College since he left his secondary school in Mombasa.

Sore Throat?

you need CONTINUOUS treatment until it's gone

For a sore throat you need continuous antiseptic treatment of the throat. This is why DEQUADIN LOZENGES are so much more effective than all other lozenges. First, the dequadin active in DEQUADIN kills all the germs (most that penetrate) that cause throat and mouth infections. Secondly, SCIENTIFIC tests have proved that Dequadin is not quickly washed away, so many remedies are, but stays long enough in the tissues of the mouth and throat stopping germs from breeding and spreading. Thirdly, the pleasantly flavoured Dequadin Lozenges soothe away the inflammation and bring relief when they are dissolved in the mouth. So at the first sign of a sore throat stop at once. Dequadin treatment at once and shorten the infection.

Down the Garden Path A WIDER RANGE OF VEGETABLES

by COUNTRYMAN
IN last week's plan for vegetable growing we mentioned which are rarely marketed, although they can be grown by those who are interested in cultivating.

Salads and sprouters are both most vegetables, although the second lettuce from both of them may be used for salads. Salads like a long time to grow, but are most commonly known as "vegetable sprouts". They have a milder flavour, and any good cookery book will give you their uses.

Salads should always carry a definite "crescent" shape, and a good example is the "crescent" lettuce. It is a salad vegetable, which can be harvested and the crop can be done by tying them up and covering with a large sack. They will rot in a matter of a few days, but will continue to be harvested for some time.

Salads are best grown in a container, such as an old tin, with a little soil in the bottom and placed under a sap where a little soil will keep it slow but steady growing. The soil and water should be changed together and are very rich.

The advantage goes to botanical knowledge and with tomatoes favourite to those who try it. The green pods must be used within the first few days, and when they become coarse and a little they become inedible. They should be planted in a seed box and water carefully, and after 12 inches apart. They should be staked up and regular pickings should be made. The young pods are dipped into boiling salted water and cooled until tender.

Ueafal substitute
Chicory is the most popular of all the very useful crops if used for flavouring. It should be grown early after planting out from the seed box. The transplanting should take place when the young plants are three inches high and they should be spaced out to 18 inches apart. They do not need staking, but should be planted in a shallow bed, preferably with a soil which is very rich. They are very hardy and will stand a frost which will help to keep the soil in a moist condition.

Tomatoes should always be staked up and the side shoots should be removed as they appear. The plants up to eight inches high should be staked up and the soil should be kept moist. The cauliflower type of tomato should be grown together in order to using the possibilities of both. Some prefer one area, others prefer to break a leaf over the flower, to keep it white and water with a mixture of ammonia and water in proportion of a teaspoon to a gallon.

The Chinese cabbage matures very early and is very hardy and has the advantage that the most usually associated with cooking cabbage is almost always also makes a very fine salad. The plants are planted in a seed box and are watered as they grow. The plants should be well watered and the soil should be kept moist.

Long-term plant
Asparagus is a long-term vegetable and frequently two and three-year-old crowns are available for sale. These will give the long-term grower an immediate crop. One or two plants will give a crop of asparagus for many years. It needs deep soil and should be planted to a depth of three feet, with plenty of soil well rotted manure in the bottom, as well as a good top dressing. The plants should be planted in a seed box and should be watered as they grow. It should be planted in a seed box and should be watered as they grow.

WEDDINGS

Mr. and Mrs. Reggie Ferran cutting the cake after their wedding at St. Francis Xavier's Church, Parklands.

The bridegroom is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. T. Ferran, of Nairobi, and his bride, the former Miss Revue Menzies, is the only daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Menzies, of Mombasa. They are both teachers. (Photo: Alex Fernandez.)

The wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Selva Fernandez (top right) took place in Nairobi.

The bride, formerly Miss Joany Dax, is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Dax, of Nairobi, and the bridegroom, who served in Dar es Salaam, is the eldest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Fernandez, which will be extensive of measure.

With their attendants, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Webb pose on the steps of Lovington Church, Nairobi, after their wedding.

The bride was formerly Miss Diane Mchab, eldest daughter of Mrs. K. M. Rhead, of Nairobi, she was attended by Miss Carol and Miss Patricia Webb and little Joey Kruger.

The bridegroom's brother, Mr. G. A. Webb, is also in the photograph.

His bride, formerly Miss Shona Bhojji, is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Bhojji, of Kisumu.

Army, he used to carry out, in 1870, he was granted a pension for the remainder of his life.

LUCKY TO ESCAPE

When they reached the capital, the king became the prisoner of the Revolution. He was taken to the Bastille, but was later released by the National Convention.

Later he served under Napoleon. He left the army in 1815.

TRIUMPH TO TRAGEDY

Another stamp which was issued by West Germany in March, 1948, was given postmark as a record of a small German achievement.

But within 14 months the triumph had turned to tragedy. On May 6, 1947, the Hindenburg exploded and was destroyed.

New Jersey, thirty-six lives were lost.

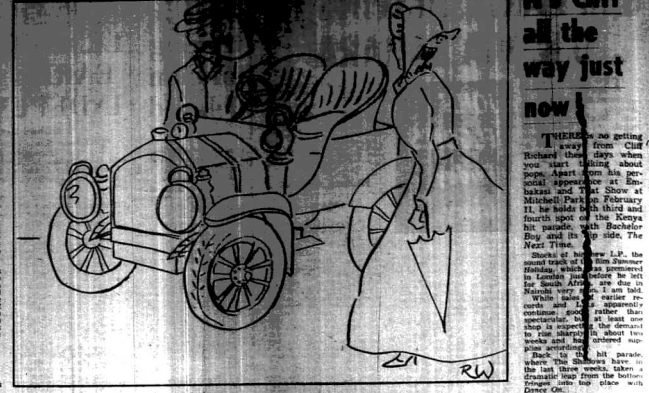

The Hindenburg disaster overshadowed the fact that he really despised, though grateful, later ship, the Graf Zeppelin, later ship, the Graf Zeppelin, later ship, the Graf Zeppelin.

But the importance that was one attached to them is shown by the surprising number of attempts to make them targets for enemy aircraft.

LONG HISTORY

The history of the airship is actually longer than ordinary aircraft. The first airship was built by a Frenchman as early as 1852.

And even the Hindenburg triumph did not deter Germany from building two stamps in 1938 to mark the centenary of Zeppelin's birth.

Grandfather Garri's big day

By ROBINA WRIGHT

GRANDFATHER GARRI was an old old car. He had been retired under a tree behind the haybarn for so long that everyone had forgotten he was there - even the children, who used to play in him had grown up and gone away.

The hens knew about it, however. Some of them made nests underneath him and hatched out baby chicks.

One day Garri was being used to mow the lawn. He was very old and slow, but he was still useful.

Garri's big day came when he was used to transport a very important parcel. It was a parcel for the doctor, and it was very valuable.

Books into load driving in Kenya

SEDS WITH SECRET PAY AGREEMENT

New steps are being taken to combat the constant criticism of Kenya's delivery standards — steps which could result in a recast of the 28,000 L-drivers who come forward every year for a licence.

Kenya's Minister for Works and Communications, Mr. Chokwa, has announced the setting up of a departmental inquiry into driving tests.

The Parliamentary Secretary in the Ministry of Works, Mr. Obondo, will be chairman of the inquiry with Mr. Obondo, Mr. Mwangi and Mr. R. G. Brayne-Nicholls as members.

Sides miss net space before vital Test

Both the English and Australian Test batsmen were unable to practise yesterday because the Adelaide nets had been watered too much.

TAME MATCH EXPECTED

England will probably be disappointed to see the Aussies Test net today's match because the Adelaide nets had been watered too much.

The England players had a good workout and some of the batsmen were able to get in a few runs before the nets were watered late in the morning, and they had not recovered fully by the time the nets were opened for the first time since they were watered late in the morning.

The temperature yesterday was in the 60s and the game is expected to take place in a pleasant condition in the afternoon.

The England players had a good workout and some of the batsmen were able to get in a few runs before the nets were watered late in the morning, and they had not recovered fully by the time the nets were opened for the first time since they were watered late in the morning.

IRISH CENTRE OUT OF DUBLIN GAME

A crisis today has barred the Irish centre from the first Test against the Aussies at Adelaide. The centre, who has been injured, will be replaced by Cecil Yemm.

SOMEBODY once said: "Fishing on the lake today is often regrettable."

To many people the Coast, with its bracing pine, silvery sands and a beautiful trout river runs that as a base of contention between "romanticists" and "rationalists."

You can spend the most absorbing holiday here, if you are either a "romanticist" or a "rationalist." You can either start your "romantic" or "rational" holiday here.

approach of the Landmark Hotel, the most charming place in the Coast. The road runs through the heart of the Coast, and the view from the car is a most beautiful one.

CHARCOAL BRINGS LIFE

On arrival at Shika, the crew of a "johari"—a small coastal dhows—offload the "kuni" which they have cut in a mangrove swamp and stack it in lots measuring 100 cubic feet. The "kuni" is then turned into charcoal for export.

Money from mangroves is the lifeblood of the coastal economy in the Lamu region, and this is why the fact that charcoal is in a virtually dormant state there they cannot afford to lose the economy of the coastal region.

The District Commissioner, Lamu, Mr. J. H. Simpson, said in a recent report for 1962 that charcoal is the lifeblood of the coastal economy, and that the industry is vital to the welfare of the coastal region.

He said that the industry is the main source of income for the coastal population, and that it is the only industry that provides employment for the coastal population.

He also said that the industry is the main source of income for the coastal population, and that it is the only industry that provides employment for the coastal population.

BOATS BEACHED

When the jehazi arrive at Shika with three loads of charcoal, they are beached on the shore and the crew of the boat are added to the mangrove industry which is the main source of income for the coastal population.

After their arrival at Shika, the crew of the boat are added to the mangrove industry which is the main source of income for the coastal population.

SUCCESS FAVOR

Commenced on the 1st of August 1962. The District Commissioner will be in the region of the coastal region.

He said that the industry is the main source of income for the coastal population, and that it is the only industry that provides employment for the coastal population.

—it's a Volkswagen world!
(Just one car, with a magic for all kinds of people)

FAMILY MAN. It takes all kinds to make a Volkswagen world — and the family man outnumber all others. He drives VW because he needs, the lively performance and safety he wants.

MANNEQUIN. She likes the quietness and comfort of the VW, the way it drops into parking spots. And for her it's easy to keep her car immaculate — VW's baked enamel rarely needs a polish.

TRAVELLER. With VW's high resale value, due to unchanging design, he can afford to trade his car regularly. And he likes VW because it thrives on stop-start city driving, cruises effortlessly on long country runs, leaves him relaxed for work.

SPORTSMAN. He loves VW! Unbeatable rear engine traction ski resorts, across loose sand for swimming, yachting and snow-boating. The VW Sunroof Sedan, illustrated, costs a little more.

HOUSEWIFE. For her, VW opens up a new life — she goes shopping and visiting, takes the children to school, goes where she likes, when she likes. — efficient fixed price VW Service keeps her VW reliable, economical as ever.

ENGINEER. VW owner surveys reveal a high proportion of engineers — they admire the beautifully engineered air-cooled engine, with automatic choke and exclusive oil-cooler, the careful finish, even in places where most people never look, and the precision of VW Service.

BE A HUNTER

By DEWEY WATKINS

The Hunter & Hunt, by T. V. BULPOT, Nelson, 25c.

WHEN George Ransby retired as Deputy Game Warden of Ontario in 1906 it marked the end of one of the most remarkable careers of adventure in Africa this century. Ransby was a hunter, a hunter in the true sense of the word, and he spent his remaining years in the bush, hunting and writing about his experiences. His book, "The Hunter & Hunt," is a collection of his most interesting stories, and it is a book that every hunter should read. It is a book that is full of life and adventure, and it is a book that is well worth the price.

There were the bright days of the hunt, the days when the hunter was in the bush, and the days when the hunter was in the bush. There were the bright days of the hunt, the days when the hunter was in the bush, and the days when the hunter was in the bush. Rediscovering America

By CHARLEY VAUGHAN

Travels with Jean; by JOHN STEINBECK, Heinemann, 21c.

WRITERS who make a name for themselves by their sympathetic and vivid treatment of the common people, the people whose lives they share in more comfortably than the temptation to move into a more sophisticated world when they become successful.

Only too often they then go on to years writing in the old world, never realizing that they have lost touch with the people they had so admirably known.

John Steinbeck, however, has not been so successful. He has not been so successful. He has not been so successful. He has not been so successful.

Heat, mud, sand or snow—where others stop, you go!

ARCTIC COLD: It never gets too cold for a Volkswagen VW's tireless 40 h.p. engine starts easier, warms up faster because it's air-cooled. Without a heavy water jacket, it reaches correct operating temperature quickly, which cuts after-start wear. Choke is automatic.

DESERT HEAT: It never gets too hot for VW... that air-cooled engine can't boil. You have no radiator, no hoses, no water pumps, no rust. Perfect engine temperature is maintained, even in a heat wave, by an ingenious blower that works faster as VW goes faster.

WINTER MUD: Mud, wet roads, sand, snow... where other cars stop you go, with VW's superior traction. Engine weight over the rear wheels gives you extra grip. Other winter aids include inbuilt heater-demister and windshield washers at no extra cost.

SUMMER DUST: VW is as impervious to dust as it is to water. Check a new VW—you'll discover you have to open a window to close doors easily. That's because careful body sealing and close fit of doors and windows make it virtually airtight.

MONSOONAL RAIN: Deluges don't disturb your VW. Vital ignition components stay dry in the protected rear engine compartment. VW's one-piece flat floor is water-proof, finished in abrasion-resistant baked enamel for long life.

TROPICAL HUMIDITY: Every part of your VW is proofed against sun, rain, rust and corrosive humidity. Outside and in, there's laboratory-proved to resist moisture, stay bright for years.

Message from the Consul-General

GREETINGS TO THE PEOPLE OF KENYA

It is a great honour to have this opportunity of offering my sincere greetings to the people of Kenya on the occasion of the Japan Industry Floating Fair about to be held in Mombasa.

It is entirely due to the kind assistance rendered generously by both the official and private concerns here that the Floating Fair—the fourth of its kind—will be held for the first time in Kenya.

Your country is already closely united with Japan by ties of economic co-operation as well as those of genuine friendship and it is my sincere hope that this visit by the Sakura Maru may serve to further strengthen and cement those ties.

I fondly hope that the people of Kenya will do so the great honour of visiting the ship, newly built and specially equipped to serve as a missionary of good will and commerce in all fields, the products of which the Japanese people admire and support as potential customers.

I think you agree for your valuable assistance and co-operation, and in closing I should like to emphasize the good will attributable to the voyage of the Sakura Maru which is proudly held up as a mirror of Japanese industry and craftsmanship.

I think you agree for your valuable assistance and co-operation, and in closing I should like to emphasize the good will attributable to the voyage of the Sakura Maru which is proudly held up as a mirror of Japanese industry and craftsmanship.

COME, see and judge for yourself, it is the purpose behind the ship, Sakura Maru. Her mission is unique in modern commerce for she is coming to show Kenya at first-hand and the proof that Japan today ranks among the world's great industrial nations.

The Sakura Maru is something new in international seafaring, owned by the Japan Industry Floating Fair Association.

Her purpose is to take to the doorstep of the world some 2000 samples of Japan's latest quality products ranging from tractors, cars to cameras and bicycles.

The Sakura Maru's maiden voyage from Tokyo to East Africa will be the first time she has visited the East African continent. From Tokyo she will call at Yokohama, Osaka, Kobe, and then to East Africa to visit, in order, Zanzibar, Mombasa, Kisumu, and Nairobi.

Up the Red Sea, through the Suez Canal, and a round tour of the Mediterranean Sea occupied two months.

She received clearance from Beirut when she put into port at Aden, Calcutta, Colombo, Singapore, Manila, Tripoli, and then to East Africa to visit, in order, Zanzibar, Mombasa, Kisumu, and Nairobi.

After five days in the Tanganyika capital, she will sail for Mombasa on Monday and will be in Mombasa on Tuesday.

Actual fair days on board the Sakura Maru in Mombasa will be the next Monday, Wednesday and Thursday. Admiring the display and reception will be the members of the Kenya Government, the Japanese Consulate, and other officials and interested parties.

More than 100 members of the Japan Industry Floating Fair Mission will be on board to demonstrate machines, products and information, and enter into discussions with interested parties.

It is also planned to visit Africa and the East coast of Africa for a period of three weeks. Most of the countries visited are rapidly emerging and pushing forward a program of industrialization.

The Sakura Maru will also visit the East African coast and will be in Mombasa on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday.

merchandise being goods and other specialties which are familiar, everyday essentials.

These goods, including household appliances, clothing, toys, stationery, and many other items, are being displayed in a most remarkable program.

Besides all these, various kinds of products which are not found in general categories will be on display.

Throughout all the halls, wide passages and a round tour of the ship, every booth will display the products of the fair.

At the end of the fair, the Sakura Maru will be in Mombasa on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday.

WHAT are the favorite televisions of Japanese children and do they watch very much of their leisure time? Answers to these questions come from a public survey carried out since 1959 by a television research institute in Japan.

According to the latest survey - carried out in 199 which in the Tokyo area and covering more than 1,000 subscribers of all ages - the most popular television programs are American Westerns.

About 45 per cent of all age subscribers watch television every day, but 21.7 per cent of the remaining 58.3 per cent watch only on special occasions. The survey also indicates that 14.5 per cent of the respondents do not watch television at all.

The top ten television programs are American Westerns, followed by American sports, American news, American musicals, American comedies, American dramas, American documentaries, American variety shows, American cartoons, American children's programs, and American news.

Japan expects more tourists from Europe

TOURISTS from Europe and the Pacific countries are expected to make a greater contribution to the rapidly growing tourist industry of Japan in the next few years.

The Japanese Transport Ministry in a White Paper on tourism predicted that Europe and Australia would become important sources of tourists for Japan as a result of their high standard of income as well as the advanced state of their communications.

The White Paper also said that visitors from Asia are expected to increase in the years to come because of the absorption capacity of their countries and their close economic relations with Japan.

17 per cent up
The number of foreign visitors to Japan in 1961 was 248,000, or 17 per cent more than in the previous year. They included Americans (32.2 per cent), Britons (6.1 per cent), Australians (6.9 per cent), Chinese (4.8 per cent), Filipinos (2.7 per cent), Canadians (2.8 per cent), and Germans (1.3 per cent).

Tourism in 1961 was sixth on the list of Japan's main foreign currency earners, providing 3.2 per cent of the total value of exports.

The amount of tourist expenditure per head, however, is expected to increase in future as tourists in large numbers grow more inclined to both money and time increases.

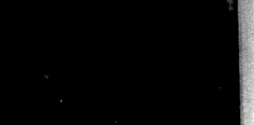

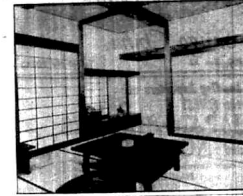

The Ministry expects the value of tourist receipts to increase to approximately $2,000 million in 1970 on a parity exchange basis, or $22,000,000 on an expenditure basis.

Main challenge
To attain this target, the Ministry said foreign visitors in 1970 would have to spend about 4,200,000.

The biggest challenge facing the tourist industry in Japan is to attract visitors from Hong Kong and Hawaii to Japan, according to the White Paper.

Some 500,000 foreigners are expected to visit Japan this year. The Ministry indicates that a further 200,000 per cent of 20 million foreign visitors will stay in Japan during the Olympic Games to be held from October 18 to 24.

To accommodate these visitors, there are at present only 200 hotel rooms in and near Tokyo and the Ministry is studying the accommodation facilities of Japanese cities. Public housing facilities, private homes, youth hostels and port facilities will also be

WOMEN ARE FINDING THAT IT PAYS TO BECOME INVENTORS

JAPANESE women of the 1930s are becoming more businesslike and more interested in applying their brains to the solution of practical problems.

They are taking their own time to study and to experiment with their own hands. They are not waiting for men to do the work for them. They are taking their own time to study and to experiment with their own hands. They are not waiting for men to do the work for them.

Beauty parlors

By YUKO NAKAMIKAWA

It is almost the staple of the Japanese woman to have her hair styled and combed. After lunch she will take a walk in a park or to a public bath. She will then return home to her family.

JAPANESE women have found that it pays to invent. More and more Japanese housewives, working their heads, are turning their minds to the problem of how to save money on household expenses.

Miss Smith

There were several parties given here in Tokyo to honor Miss Smith. She is a very popular figure in the Japanese community.

The Bogata school claims a million pupils throughout the world. Mr. Yoshikawa has traveled in North and South America and in Europe.

Great welcome

Mr. Yoshikawa, who is 62 years old, is a member of the Japanese school in the United States.

His remarks ranged from the different countries and how they can help the peace of the world. He is a very popular figure in the Japanese community.

EX-TEACHER HAS SEAT IN CABINET

Mr. Toyama Kendo was the second woman member of the Japanese Cabinet.

Although Japanese women have widely adopted the Western mode of dress for everyday occasions, the traditional leading kimono is still worn on special occasions.

Expert advice

To determine the best color for the vest of the Kanagawa Industrial Research Institute, the expert advised that the color should be chosen to match the color of the vest.

Molto facile

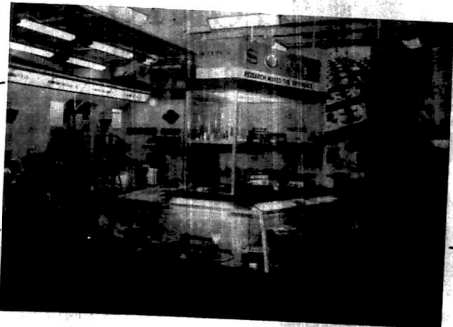

During his hour and a half lecture, he learned a few things about the Japanese people.

Some surprise

When the Prime Minister Cabinet was formed, Mr. Hayashi had expected that Mr. Yoshikawa would be appointed as the Minister of Education.

Preparations for Tokyo Olympics going smoothly

THE next Olympic Games, scheduled to open in October, 1964, do not seem too far off in the eyes of officials here. The Japanese have more than a year's job of getting every detail of the Games straightened out by this time.

Manufacturing the problem for the international sporting world is the Japan Organizing Committee, which has not yet decided whether to accept the 1964 Olympics in Tokyo. The committee is now in the process of selecting a site for the Games. It is expected that the Games will be held in Tokyo, but the committee is still undecided on the matter.

Japan's Prime Minister, Ichiro Kishi, has expressed his confidence in the Japanese people's ability to host the Games. He has also expressed his confidence in the Japanese people's ability to host the Games.

Contrasts in architecture

The ruins of Matsuo Castle (above) were built in 1611 and are typical of the castle found in the north of Japan. Below the end of the last century examples of the Western style of architecture began to appear in those towns where Europeans were found. The "Western style" (left) in Tokyo was designed in 1922.

changes have been taking place in Japanese architecture in the past few years, and, as a result of contrast, buildings are providing some of the biggest contrasts that can be seen.

The old, ornate houses and castles, the paper-slatted wooden houses of the villages and townships — places which Western eyes looked on as quaint — are giving way to soaring shapes in concrete and steel.

The photographs on this page illustrate these changes.

The father of modern Japanese architecture is Antoni Gaudí. His most recent work has been the Casa Mila Centre at Barcelona. This was completed in 1910 and the exterior is shown in the picture above. The architect's style is expressed in concrete and modernistic lines.

On the left is a typical Japanese village street, with timber-framed, low-roofed houses and shops, one or two storeys high, in an unpaved street. Above this scene is a modern building in Tokyo which was designed for Mitsubishi and built by the Japanese architect Kiyomoto over a small, man-made lake which itself is typical of an ornate Japanese garden.

WEDDINGS

Mr. and Mrs. Jacobus Johannes Hendrik Engelbrecht after their wedding at the Dutch Reformed Church, Elders. The bride, formerly Miss Anna Magdalena Roubey, is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Roubey of Platons, and the reception was held at her parents' farm. She chose a full-length gown of fine white lace and carried a bouquet of gladioli, carnations and ferns. The bridegroom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Engelbrecht, of Elders.

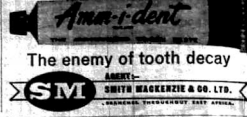

The wedding of Mr. Desmond Hamill, of the Kenya Broadcasting Corporation, and Miss Bridget Loyal took place at St. Luke's Church, Kisumu. The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. H. T. Lloyd, President of the Royal Agricultural Society of Kenya, and Mrs. Lloyd, of Kisumu. The bridegroom is the eldest son of Mr. G. Hamill, of Belfast.

For the smile that lasts a lifetime—Amni-dent

Only with sound white teeth can you and your children retain the pleasure of smiling with full and sure hearts. Now there is good news against the pains that consistently work to cause dental decay. The answer is Amni-dent toothpaste. In Amni-dent years of research have produced a formula which combats the germs of tooth decay. Many clinical tests have shown that Amni-dent reduces dental caries considerably. Yet Amni-dent is smooth, harmless to the delicate tissues of the mouth and most agreeable to taste. For the future of your family's teeth and your own, buy Amni-dent today. Your dentist or your chemist will tell you how good it is.

Now give health, strength, happiness

A new baby has a strong measure of strength drawn from its mother before birth. But as it grows, the small baby needs Vitamin A for growth and good strength, Vitamin D for strong bones and teeth, Vitamin C for firm flesh and clear skin.

Here are YOUR baby's best source of getting these vitamins.

Of course, and here all average size are available, but for the little 1 to 2 year baby and "nursery" babies in this new children's drink is HALIBORANGE, rich in vitamins. It has all the necessary vitamins A, D, and C for baby's progress. It is most delicious (tastes like ordinary orange juice), has no sugar, and is safe and babies and young children simply love it.

The first step to healthy childhood
