The directors of the British-American Tobacco Company announce an interim dividend of 10d. per 25 unit of Ordinary stock for the current year, free of United Kingdom Income-tax at 8d. in the £. The dividend is at the usual quarterly rate on the 22,328,761 of issued Ordinary stock. For the year to September 30, 1935, there was a final payment of 8d. making, with the four interim dividends, a total of 20 pence per share.

Wiggins, Teape and Co. (1919), manufacturers of high-grade papers reports estimated profits for the six months to June 30 last at £112,285, compared with £122,287 in 1935. Provision is made for a proportion of losses incurred by two subsidiary companies, provision is made for a proportion of losses incurred by two subsidiary companies, provision is made for a proportion of losses incurred by two subsidiary companies.

The directors of Odhams' Presseries declare to replace the trading £270,018 of seven per cent. First Mortgage debenture stock with a new issue bearing interest now in accordance with the interest rates now prevalent. The company has the right to reduce the stock on or after January 1, 1937, at 105 p. cent., and if the directors, proposed to be appointed, the stock will be redeemed on or after January 1, 1937, at 105 p. cent., with a 4 per cent. compensation to holders. A meeting will be held at Helmers Row, W.C.1, on the 28th September to consider the matter.

Maple and Co.

The directors of Maple and Co., furniture manufacturers of Tottenham Court-road, W., have declared an interim dividend of 25 p. cent. (actual) on the Ordinary stock, payable on October 1, next. Debenhams

An intense look in the volume of sales and profits earned by the continuous limitations is reported by Debenhams, the firm's, silk, dresses and drapery concern, for the past year. A few retrospection and consolidation was effected early this year and an actual comparison of the results is, therefore, not possible. Profits amounting to £255,000, which contrast with £244,800 shows by the operating company last year. After charging debenture interest, there comes the dividend on the 17th turnover and returns during the year to July 31 last. Net profits, after providing for interest on loans, rose by £12,000 to £20,720. The report values the profit for the first six months was substantially higher. During the second half-year the volume of business was considerably in excess of the preceding year, but the gross profit of the extra trade barely covered

Harvey Nichols

Harvey Nichols and Co., the established firm of silk merchants, drapers and carpet manufacturers of Knightsbridge, W., which was recently converted into a public company and is controlled by Debenhams, reports an increase in turnover and returns during the year to July 31 last. Net profits, after providing for interest on loans, rose by £12,000 to £20,720. The report values the profit for the first six months was substantially higher. During the second half-year the volume of business was considerably in excess of the preceding year, but the gross profit of the extra trade barely covered the additional expenses incurred in opening and running the new building extension. The directors state that sales continue to expand. From the profit of £20,720 is deducted £10,000 transferred to reserves and £5,000 for dividend on the Preference for two months to July 31 last. To the balance is added £31,114 brought in, making £26,840. An interim dividend of 1 1/2 p. cent. has been paid on the Ordinary shares amounting £15,000. The £15,000 remaining is to be carried forward. The Preference shares are divided annual 21s. 3d.

NOTES FOR WIRELESS FANS

This paper, devoted to the interests of Wireless, is conducted by "David," a licensed experimenter with a wide knowledge of East African conditions.

Bring that Licence Fee Down! . . . Sympathy for the Pirates of you in a list of quantities about the TLO S.W. transmissions. The views of the last few weeks have been set or given letters on the subject, two or three of which have a measure of satisfaction. It is somewhat long, still very somewhat vitriolic! Now, I would like to know that the licensing agents stated some time ago that they had in the course of the year, two applications which would improve matters so far as the T.L.O. was concerned. Whether this has been put into consideration as a matter for competitors I have recently heard the commission at very good strength and with good quality, in a place where that kind of thing was peculiar. The application there was for the licence, rather than the licence itself.

Now in spite of my rather gloomy view of things I can possibly be in two places at once and without for a moment suggesting that my correspondents are in any way exaggerating, I am compelled to believe the evidence as far as possible. The situation is something like this. This page is devoted to the interests of wireless and licensed and I have done this in no way to improve matters when they appear to be in a state of evidence that the transmission are generally being badly received. As the transmitter of any kind it appears that TLO have become more difficult at least for the time being, and if it were to be crystallized and in the interests of wireless, the licence given to the fact.

The Commission has nothing to recommend to do with the question of the licence fee—it is purely a matter of the quality of the transmissions. I am convinced that the power-that-is making a very great mistake, because the licence fee is either not, or not in making an immediate and substantial reduction. There is no doubt but that piracy is rife, but like their counterparts of old the wireless pirates come in for a certain amount of sympathy in view of the humanness of a regulation which is supposed to make them pay often a very large proportion of the annual running costs of their receivers in fact. This attitude would be justified if a reasonable figure were submitted and public opinion would be less likely to tolerate what might be described as "rotten-logs." It is my considered opinion that sufficient might also be considered with an inevitable increase in the number of sets in use, would amply compensate the Station and the Post Office for a professional loss in revenue and the engineer would equally benefit through Customs duty on imported instruments of sale.

Should not be Denied.
In both times of depression, as I find that the Commission are so much occupied both for the benefit and the detriment of the wireless fan, I am glad to hear that the excellent talk series, "Under Big Ben," is to be continued by Mr. Howard Marshall. They are to be simple, about people and events, great and small. In fact about everyday things, but they are likely to be interesting such as his Mr. Marshall for his attractive presentation of a subject.

Among other talks which the B.B.C. will send over in their autumn and winter programmes are a series entitled "Living Days—Presently," the speakers in which include Mr. H. O. Puring, who went with Captain Scott to the Antarctic, Mr. J. F. Milne, a deep sea diver, and Eusebius Hughes, who served in O. boats during the War.

Another very attractive series is one in which well-known writers of detective fiction will tell listeners about the specimens they have—some "Bogey" will have—W.H. Druce, A. A. W. Mason—Hansard, Austin Freeman—The Thelander, and many other authors famous throughout the British Empire (Scots and Romans Orwey) will tell us about the characters they have created.

Among some immediate attractions are the running commentary on the St. Leonis transmission 4 hourly at 12.10 p.m. I.T. presented by guest as host's Variety, in transmitted 8 it will be given at 4.25 p.m. I.T. the wavelengths in use being the 15 and 19 metres, the former being recommended as probably the best.

B.B.C. Surprises

BRIGHT IDEAS FOR THE WINTER NIGHTS

I HAVE not been able this week to pay such close attention to the wireless conditions as usual, but it appears that they gradually improved until about Friday or Saturday there was a return to the approximate normal though I am still not inclined to be over-optimistic. The 20 metres band has been fairly heavy and this band has probably proved to be the best signal. I.T.D. (Gowen) the best station. Above this wavelength there has been a rather low level of strength time to time, but New Jersey has on occasions been an extraordinary good signal, but is either so erratic that it is hardly audible, or is not adhering to the advertised schedule which shows daily transmissions from 6.30 to 10.30 p.m. local time.

I am glad to hear that the excellent talk series, "Under Big Ben," is to be continued by Mr. Howard Marshall. They are to be simple, about people and events, great and small. In fact about everyday things, but they are likely to be interesting such as his Mr. Marshall for his attractive presentation of a subject.

Marconi's Latest

STEERING SHIPS IN FOG

An interesting demonstration of the present and future possibilities of the ultra-short wave was recently given by Senator Marconi near Genoa. His famous yacht "The Aquila" has found that so many of the Marconi's inventions have been perfected was stated that he had a distance of 30 miles to two tiny boats only 20 yards apart and situated midway between them. The behaviour during this time had no other indications of his course than those provided by a dial placed in front of him and a kiosk, in turn operated from a house situated on a hill 200 yards from the boat. The house sent out two beams on a wavelength of 300 metres, one of which the vessel travelled. Tulliations of a divergence from the correct course were immediately corrected and signals from the boat or the other were received. The approval of various representatives of shipping interests and Senator Marconi's specific further to improve the apparatus on that even lines in mid-ocean will be able to do so. In its present form, the experts say, it is of the greatest value to navigation in fog.

Queries from Listeners.

A REPORT ON LOCAL AND OVERSEAS STATIONS

"Terminal" Keriho, very truly sends me a report covering the major portion of July and the last week in August. The report consists of a collection of reception from TLO S.W. and the English and covers some 18 "big" listening. It is accompanied by some interesting comments. The following is a summary of enquiries from the Empire Station:

- 11.10m good.
- Once very good 3 times fair.
- 3 times poor and once fair, latter poor.

Stadio was apparently troublesome from time to time on this transmission.

The report on TLO above shows wide variations and is therefore difficult to summarize. Reception varies from "good" or "very good" to "poor" or "hopeless", "completely disappeared" in the course of an hour or so. Failures from experiment on six occasions, but at times and often during the same transmission are noted good or very good or very poor. All ten times or more in their other transmissions are noted good or very good 12 times and had poor reception six times, again during the times when they were successful. The best period for reception of TLO occurred between the 10th and 11th July, but quite throughout was a severely successful transmission.

While away in Mombasa the writer was able to hear Nairobi "without the disturbance experienced up country."

Commenting on the question of the licence fee, he says: "I thoroughly agree with the long suffering correspondents who wish to have the receiving licence reduced. While I should be very sorry to see the fee cut 75%, we do certainly get very little for our money."

Answer: Very many thanks for your report. I understand that

FINAL SEARCH FOR MISSING SCIENTISTS

(Continued from page 5.) Marsden where a telegram was sent off asking for a Wireless message to pick me up at Marsden and to let me know where at this time I had no doubt we should find them, though probably with a delayed look of engine.

The Aerial Search

Owing to a delay to the telegrams the aeroplane did not arrive at Marsden until late in the day that day for Island Island. It was at 10.30 on the morning of August 1st that Mr. Preece, Pilot Officer, and myself left Harbort to search the island and the shore of the lake. We had few over the base camp to make sure that the missing had not returned the previous day, then straight across to the island where flying low it was possible to see the exact spot where the first aeroplane was seen to land. No remains of any kind were visible; the other suggested camping places were visited with the same result. Later, the five small adjacent islands and the whole of the coast line from the shore on the west to the north end of the lake were examined but nothing was seen.

On our return to Marsden we had received stating that a helmet had been found on the west shore near to Preece's camp. A wireless message was immediately sent to the aeroplane to be sent to search this area including Central Island.

The Last Hope

From August 19 to 22 Mr. O. Maclean and Mr. J. E. Preece, who had repaired the aeroplane to make it safe, were helped to break the camp at Harbort to make a search, which we returned to Marsden and then to the island with a boat to make a thorough search of the shore and island, but all on shore before our departure a message was received from Leikiatang, stating that two signs had been seen on the opposite (east) side of the lake. Two hours later a police patrol was sent to the island, supervised by Police Mr. Hobson, together with the three members of the expedition, but for the north. Also a third aeroplane was ordered to search this area. On the 27th we reached the spot indicated by the signs and we were very fortunate in finding the remains of the first question. It was plain that they had been on land for a long time and we turned back feeling that the last chance of finding our companions alive was gone.

Another Search

Finally, as we do that some traces may possibly be found on the island and that we shall use to be satisfied that the boat had been repaired, we are now setting off to Toriana with another boat intending to sail down the shore till opposite to the island and then to cross to it. In this project we have been greatly assisted by the Kenya and Uganda Railways and Harbours who have very kindly lent a launch and transported it from Kisumu to Kitale. Our thanks are also due to the Officers commanding the Kenya African Rifles and also the Kenyan Constabulary and the Transport Corps who have at a time most opportune themselves placed transport facilities at our disposal. We should also like to thank Mr. Preece who has lent his engine for use with the boat. Finally we would like to express our sincere and deep appreciation of the assistance rendered us by the Administration and the Police who have been at great pains to do everything possible to assist our search from the very beginning.

To-night's Films.

Empire Theatre. "Those who saw and judged 'Bunshine Blues' will be glad to see 'Kenzie Miller' again in 'The Merry Men' at the Empire Theatre. In this film she shows what a girl can do with a cross if she also is a woman."

Capital Theatre. "That every patient in the anxiety of a doctor's life is discovered by Jose Bonomi and his wife of a young surgeon in 'Doctor's Wives' the picture of the day of the wedding when he has to leave to attend a patient. This is the sort of wife who cannot pay her husband's bills for the sake of her husband's profession, and she leaves him, only to discover later that her husband is a great man. This is a story of private life, in the operating room and in the home, and the picture of 'Doctor's Wives' is a picture of interest to doctors, their wives, and the general public who see little of the results of the demands they make upon the time of a busy man. It shows that love to a woman in a hospital, but to a man it is little more than a pastime."

Princes Theatre.

Owing to the great success with which 'The Case of the Frightened Lady' was met when it was shown a few weeks ago, this film has been postponed to Princes Theatre and will be shown on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. It features Gordon Harker and Evelyn Williams.

MEDIATION BOARD ABANDON THEIR EFFORTS AT ARBITRATION

Latest reports from the United States reveal that the strikers in the textile industry are getting more and more out of hand and severe clashes with the federal forces have taken place.

It was only the arrival of artillery which saved the situation at Saylesville where strikers had a militia and police numbering between three and four hundred.

There have been many casualties on both sides, an old woman of over seventy was shot and emergency field hospitals are dealing with the casualties among the police wounded by the missiles thrown by the mob. The situation shows no signs of becoming easier.

Hundreds Injured

about during the past two weeks at Saylesville where martial law was proclaimed. A hundred and fifty Guardsmen and police are being treated in an emergency field hospital.

A PROTRACTED STRIGLE

Washington, Sept. 12. Speculation is rife as to when President Roosevelt will sign his executive order to end the strike. No further meetings have been arranged between the two sides and the Arbitration Board, which is now reporting to the President.

Preparations by Employers and Unions

Meanwhile both sides are preparing for a protracted strike. The United Textile Workers are concentrating on the provision of relief for the strikers and the Employers are preparing to enforce their factory gates.

Mr. Brown, the Governor of Rhode Island has issued a proclamation calling an emergency meeting of the State Assembly for next week. This was followed further by a meeting at Woonsocket where seven persons were injured.

It is believed that the Governor will have the Assembly for a large number of appropriations order to stop the strike before it reaches the State Police at Woonsocket has sent a message to the Governor asking it to imperative to avoid additional troops.

Barbed Wire Barriers
The crowd burst piles of granites, flower pots and rocks at the National Guards' lines at Saylesville where some people were also severely and some were injured when the National Guards fired a salvo of 5,000 live bullets, their evacuees including women and children.

The Minister of Transport has decided to increase the number of pedestrian crossings in London as a result of the measures aimed at reducing the risk of street accidents.

SENSATIONS AT GENEVA

Russia's Entry Into League

Fresh Setbacks

OUTSPOKEN SPEECH BY DE VALERA

Geneva, Sept. 12. Russia's entry to the League of Nations has received a setback. As was expected, the modified text of the proposed invitation by the Powers has not pleased M. Litvinov, the Minister for Foreign Affairs, who is somewhere in Paris.

It is reported that he is very indignant and that he has decided to insist that he be made about the position.

The matter is being examined by a special sub-committee, but it is not expected that the matter will be able to smooth the matter over.

Outspoken Criticism
An outspoken speech by Mr. De Valera, President of the Executive Council of the Irish Free State, on the subject of Russia's admission to the League has caused a sensation in the Assembly.

This vital question, he said, should be treated in public instead of in hotel bedrooms. He opposed the proposed special privileges and progressive, and any departure from the ordinary requirements or sacrifice of principles.

He favored Russia's admission, provided she guaranteed religious freedom internally and extended universally the right which she had conceded to American citizens, through the recent treaty, for the resumption of Franco-Soviet diplomatic relations.

Powers Embarrassed
Mr. De Valera's candid utterance in the Assembly has embarrassed the powers dealing with the delicate problem of the Soviet's admission to the League of Nations.

A BRITISH FORD TRIUMPH

THE 8 H. P. FORD

The average car seldom carries more than two passengers. Despite that, most owners demand comfortable accommodation for four, and until the introduction of the 8 h.p. Ford only a medium or a large car could meet the requirements.

The 8 h.p. Ford however is a new conception. It provides comfortable, roomy accommodation for four at small car initial cost and small car running cost with a performance equal to many larger cars.

Simplified design has simplified manufacture, and production by the famous Ford methods has resulted in a low priced motor car which has been accepted universally. A close examination of the car will reveal many hidden qualities which contribute towards its inherent reliability and outstanding performance.

BRAZILIAN COFFEE

Large Quantities Destroyed

Returned Stocks

PRESIDENT CROP EXPECTED TO BE SMALL

According to the National Coffee Department, the quantity of coffee in Brazil at the end of August was estimated at 18,615,000 bags...

Out of the latter quantity 70,000 bags were destroyed during July and it is stated that the remainder will be disposed of over the next two months...

From stocks, which amounted to 2,002,000 bags at the end of June, are set included in the above figures.

The statistical position, in view of available supplies and prospects of the present crop being small, appears sound.

TO FIND THE MONEY

Further Time Allowed in Wages Case

Further for the week after next start on the Monday with Mr. Wainwright's "Young England" will be followed by Mr. Drinkwater's "A Man's House" at the New and Mr. Priestley's "Eben Dine" at the West End...

Mr. H. J. Bostman, who a month ago was with Mrs. Stuart West, charged at "Eben" with withholding wages due to native servants, again appeared before the President Magistrate last week...

Mr. H. A. Nabel, Labour officer, suggested to the Magistrate that the accused should be allowed further time to obtain the £100 still due to casual labourers and to find £3,108/0/0 to meet the cost of his equipment...

The Magistrate pointed out that he had not allowed a month in which to find the £100, and the wages and to make arrangements for the care of her family if she could not pay.

SLASHING REDUCTIONS in GOODYEAR PRICES

Heavy reductions in the prices of all Goodyear Motor Car Tyres and Tubes have brought costs to the lowest level ever reached in the history of East Africa.

Never before have Kenya and Uganda motorists been able to buy tyres so cheaply. Think of it . . . the world's finest and longest wearing tyres at prices ACTUALLY LOWER THAN THOSE OF CUT RATE TYRES OF DOUBTFUL QUALITY, REGARDLESS OF MAKE AND COUNTRY OF ORIGIN.

How long these phenomenally low prices will last is uncertain but it is so obvious NOW is the time that few motorists will fail to avail themselves of the opportunity once they have secured quotations from Goodyear dealers.

PROBLEM No. 1581
By Sam Loyd.
Black Seven.

White Four.
White mates in two moves.

PROBLEM No. 1582
By Sam Loyd.
Black Four.

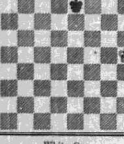

White Four.
White mates in three moves.

These early examples of Sam Loyd's work will doubtless be appreciated for their neat simplicity after the complications of the recent tournament. His three-mover is quite cunning enough for beginners in the solving art, and contains at least one red-multiple move.

Keynote to "T" (the last) Q. K. In giving details of the position below the diagram, printed during my recent absence at the Coast, they put "10" with rather a feeble "b", looking like an "11". To those familiar with the order of letters in the English Alphabet no uncertainty should have been caused, if it did not amount to a discrepancy for the diagram showed the Pawn on "11"5, confirming the printer's intention.

RESULTS OF "Q"

This queer problem, No. 1576, stood as follows—
Black One.

White One.
White has played.
The conditions were: Retract White's last move. Retract Black's last move. Let Black play again so that White can mate in one.

(By A. K. Spencer Palmer Life Member British Chess Federation, P.O. Box 76, Nairobi.)

White last played Ke5-Rh5. (Replace White K on g5 and Black R on h5).

Black's last move was Rb5-Q5. (Replace Black R on b5 and White Q on h5).

Black new Castles, and White mates by Q-7.

Composed by Dr. H. Sumner, Davidson, Spain, 4 points.

"It is a simple case of inference and deduction, my dear Watson," as the late Sherlock Holmes would say. "You need a Castle to go Castling with and just was the pawn taken by the White King. If Black Castles, but not otherwise, you can mate with White Queen. So a Queen was the piece taken by the Black Castle on h5. Now you can reconstruct the position but the whole thing is quite elementary though some of the Scottish Yard experts seem to be a little out of their depth."

"Q" is responsible for seven casualties including—three minutes one of them a top-scorer. Sant Singh, who hitherto dropped 30 points. He introduces an Imaginary Queen of 45 which he cannot account for, nor dispose of except by retracting Black's move, first. The conditions require White to make the first retraction.

Hassanali, also of Mombasa, makes the same incorrect claim, which might heretofore be cited as "The Mombasa Mistake". R. Sunde makes a little better shot, retracting White's last move to P-c7, then Black R-c7, then he inserts another White Retraction (one allowed by the conditions) K-b5-b6, and Black now goes to g8 whereupon Queen and mate from a3. Very nice, but quite another problem.

"Khan", "Dodge", A. Malli and Ranjit Singh gave it a mine. Solvers' Comments W. R. M. Fowler: First lessons in Chess. G. Farmer: Very well designed but not difficult when you once get the brain into reverse gear. K. R. Cochrane: Surely this will catch nobody. (Only seven of them!) Ch. Ed. Hassanali: I have never come across with such a problem before. It is more difficult. [It's a case of 'omnes a creper' for you this time, rather than 'omnes apes' Ch. Ed.] Sant Singh: Intricate and very searching for me. Right or wrong I have very little faith in my solution and I hope it will not bring me the laurels. The solution is much simpler than you imagine and does not depend upon any strange rule. For a novice at Chess you have put up a wonderful fight. Ch. Ed.]

"Rogic" and "F.V.V." make a graceful and modest retirement from the lists.

NAIROBI CHESS CLUB
Mrs. T. A. Wool, Kenya's strongest lady player and the only regularly attending lady member of the Club, leaves for a holiday in Europe this week having finished her games in the President's Prize Tournament in which she is the favourite for first place. R. Rubin, who has still some matches to play, appears to be the only other competitor with any chance of equaling her score. This is the Minor tournament, a "Champion ship" of players in class 3 and under; the Club Championship being open only to classes 1 and 2.

Shoot Fast and Straight

It's far easier to do this when you're using the only rifle with the most accurate sights in the world. The sights are built into the barrel and are never out of alignment. They are the only sights that are never out of alignment. They are the only sights that are never out of alignment.

Does your child refuse castor oil?

Most children detest Castor Oil, a very natural, delicate, and Castor Oil has an oily, nauseating flavor. It is difficult to digest, and it gives your children Magnesia San Phlegma. It is pleasant in taste and mild in action.

E.A.W.L. Socials

The next E.A.W.L. Social will be held on Thursday, September 20 at 6 o'clock in the Memorial Hall. It will take the form of a competition evening. All women and girls will be welcomed.

One of the most tragic Alpine accidents of the season has just occurred on the Jungfrau when two young guides, Brunner and Bischof with a Lausanne tourist named Hubler were killed on the Grouse peak (11,000 ft.). The cause of the accident is unknown.

The whole meeting was a great success. The standard of jumping was good, and it is hoped that the event will become an annual one. The meeting was held in rain, and competitors and spectators were most kindly invited to the house by Mrs. Eckstein to partake of tea.

One of the most tragic Alpine accidents of the season has just occurred on the Jungfrau when two Wengen guides, Brunner and named Bulher were killed on the Frohnsparg peak (11,000 ft.). The cause of the accident is unknown.

The vialist meeting was a great success, the standard of jumping was good, and it is hoped that after this successful inauguration that the event will become at least as normal one. The meeting closed at 5 p.m. without the last and spectators were most kindly invited to the home by Mrs. Eckstein to purchase of tea.

GYMKHANA MEETING AT SUBUKIA

Held on Maryland Farm

PROGRAMME OF ELEVEN EVENTS

["STANDARD" CORRESPONDENT.]

Subukia, Sept. 11. A most successful Gymkhana was held on Saturday, September 9, at Maryland Farm, Subukia, by kind permission of Capt. H. Eckstein. The meeting had been arranged for September 1, but owing to the heavy rain had to be postponed. However, on the week preceding the 9th, the weather improved and very little rain fell, consequently the ground was in excellent condition for the event. There were nearly 100 competitors and spectators present and 10 horses entered.

The following was the programme of events: 1. Children's Riding Competition—for children under 12 years old. 2. Dainty Throwing and Tent-pegging. 3. Bounding the Balloon. 4. Continental Jumping Competition. Ten obstacles 2 ft. high—each competitor is timed. 5. Bounding Race. 6. Ladies' Race. 7. Musical Halls. 8. Thru-the-needle Race for children under 12 years old.

The children's riding competition, for which there were four entries, was won by Miss Mary Eckstein. Miss A. Clegg was second, and Master Michael Hodgkin third. The Dainty Throwing event was won by Capt. Eckstein in 10 seconds, and the tent pegging was won by Mr. E. V. Hodgkin. Capt. Eckstein, Mr. J. W. L. Harris and Mr. J. W. J. Harris tied. Event No. 3 raised considerable amusement, and Capt. Eckstein, who was mounted on "Easing," led the competitors a pretty race. The winner of the children's last was Master Michael Hodgkin, Mrs. L. G. Bessell was the ladies' best, and Master J. Clegg the best for the men.

The Jumping competition was won by Mr. J. W. L. Harris on "Telegraph," with Mr. Clark Kirby on "Happy Days," second, and Master Geoffrey Eckstein on "Easing" third. The Bounding Race for children was won by Master Peter Bishop, with Miss A. Clegg second, and the Bounding Race for ladies was won by Miss A. Clegg with Mrs. L. G. Bessell second. In the men's event Capt. Eckstein was first, Master Geoffrey Eckstein second, and Mr. J. W. J. Harris third. The Ladies' Race was won by Miss Ashely, Mrs. L. G. Bessell and Miss Culyton were second and third respectively.

Musical Halls caused great excitement and amusement. There were three entrants, and the band was provided by Mr. Davis with his accordion. Mr. J. W. L. Harris was the winner of this event, Master Geoffrey Eckstein second, and Miss A. Clegg third. (Continued in previous column.)

"NIGHT CAPS" - TRAVELLING IN KIPPERS - NOT AVERSE - MARRIAGE - BLACK LIPSTICK - PESSIMISM.

The whacky "night cap" and "silly wigs" during the day for people who like them were derided last night by two of our famous physicians, at the British Medical Association's meeting at the Grosvenor, when Lord Horler was participating in the debate on the treatment of nervous patients. He said not only were they derided but that of sleeplessness, other causes were liver, liver, and was of the opinion that the "night cap" was a relic of the "cathartics" and "silly wigs" generally. Lord Horler filled with proposals of his own, even before his speech had been received from the press of the Irish Society. He said that he was looking for a way of being a "night cap" or "silly wig" or "silly wigs" but he had not found one. He said that he was looking for a way of being a "night cap" or "silly wig" or "silly wigs" but he had not found one.

Mental Development of Kenya's Natives

PROPOSAL FOR A SCIENTIFIC ENQUIRY

Increasingly Supported LARD DAWSON OF PENN AND OTHERS STATE THEIR VIEWS

Such an investigation, he wrote, besides promising immediate amelioration of the outlook of the individual native, would unquestionably add to our knowledge of the psychology of the native races in general, a study for which practically no data yet exist.

These proposals have now been warmly supported by a famous physician, Lord Dawson of Penn, and a noted anatomist and physiologist, Sir Grafton Elliot-Smith.

TRAFFIC IN HUMAN LIVES

The wretches were manacled by cruel natives from their native villages, along together with ropes round their necks, and were taken on the coast in long companies, many of the weaker captives dying on the way. Children were torn from their mothers' arms, mothers were manacled away from their homes, while their babies were murdered before their very eyes.

Brutal Treatment

Then there was the brutal treatment of the slaves during the voyage in the congested 'dhows' with the knives of the markets and the jurnies' end, when husbands and wives, parents and children were separated, never to meet again. Apart from the Ouders and Merhata, British opinion appeared to accept the hideous system almost without question and it was not until the latter part of the nineteenth century that any active steps were taken to reduce public feeling to a sense of the colossal iniquity of the traffic.

Prominent Abolitionists

Mr. Martineau then mentioned a few of the outstanding figures in the abolitionist movement. They included Granville Sharp, the first prominent personality who by a constant selection, circle with a slave who had been cast off by his master because he was weak, and who decided to devote his whole life to the work. Thomas Clarkson and William Wilberforce, the greatest figure in the movement. John Jay, Thomas Paine, and Thomas Fowell Buxton, who had connections with Kenya, and John Smith, a missionary of Denmark, who was sent to British Guiana to minister to the slaves—'not to make slaves, but to comfort with their lot.' He was eventually sentenced to death on the charge of sedition for preaching to slaves, and died in prison on February 1, 1794.

Agitation in England

After some agitation in England, starting in 1787 with the abolition of the slave traffic, slaves were induced in British dependencies in 1833. The American Civil War of 1861 to 1865 ended slavery in the United States of America. In 1875 the slave market in Zanzibar was closed as a result of British pressure, and during the last hundred years, several millions of slaves had been freed. Slaves to-day, contained the speech of the most vital and pressing of the social problems facing the world, and there were in existence from four to six million slaves at the present time. They had no rights of their own; they could not appeal for mercy or justice; wives and children were sold separately on the slave market, where they were often reserved for a cup their products by instruments of torture were brought into use on the ship, the chain, the branding iron.

Slaves in Abyssinia

In Abyssinia, a country off a short distance from Kenya, one-fifth of the population suffered the 'bill' of being in slavery. There was an open slave market at Mecca in Arabia, in which about a population of seven million, was estimated to have been taken from 700,000 to one million were slaves. It was known that Liberia, a country which had been established in the name of Liberty, was also the home of the thousands of slaves, where the descendants of liberated American Negroes were allowed the independence of a new nation. Slaves also existed in China in the form of the 'coolies' and in the Malay States. The League of Nations had been formed on the question of the abolition of slavery. A treaty was formulated

FRENCH NAU AND ITS ORIGIN

Early Distillation

It was not known with certainty when distillation was first practised, but according to authorities spirits were manufactured in China, India and Egypt 3000 years B.C. and it was known that alcohol was produced in India 4000 years B.C. France was credited with introducing distillation into Ireland. At any rate in 1770 when the English first invaded Ireland they found distillation in full swing and the production of 'whisky' was at that time used to-day—that it kept out the water.

'L'Bon de Vin'

In the 18th century a man named Amadeo de Villeneuve added the distillation of wine, 'le bon de vin', which was referred to distillation in 'Honno and Joliet' and 'The Merry Wives of Windsor.' Distillation became general in the 10th century. The comparison of the distillation of the various wines brought about a natural selection, thereby a slave coming smaller and smaller until the two Chartrons became recognised as the districts from which the best brandy was produced. That was the Cognac country, situated in the south west of France, extending inland from the Bay of Biscay to a distance of 300 kilometres and with a depth of 100 kilometres. The climate was a happy medium, the country was well watered, sunny and fertile, allowing the heavily distilled grapes to ripen and the grapes to be made into brandy from Cognac to the deep-water quays at La Pallice.

Culture Zones

The two political departments of the Chartrons and Charente-Inférieure were divided into culture zones, each producing a wine and consequently a brandy of distinctive character. After describing the various zones and the characteristics of wine produced in them, Roberts Kerr referred to the invasion of the vine country from 1859 for eight years by a very rancid, the phylloxera, which did damage estimated at £45,000,000. It was finally conquered by grafting French vines with American stock.

Commercial Aspect

Dealing finally with the commercial aspect of brandy, the speaker said the consumption in a drink was restricted on account of the price. In consequence brandy was often falsified or imitated in order to pass off a cheaper article to the consumer. Genuine Cognac shippers suffered from such practices, and, as a result, the French Government was led to pass protective legislation. Now only genuine Cognac brandies had a right to that title, and only the manufacturers of the genuine article were issued with the Original Cognac Certificate of authenticity of the product.

Only those brandies which were the produce of vines in the legally-defined region of Cognac, and marketed under the control of the Customs, could rightly be called Cognac.

In 1920, and signed by over 40 nations, including the United States, in which the high contracting parties pledged themselves to the ever-existing prohibition of slavery in all its forms throughout the world.

FEDERAL ELECTION IN THE COMMONWEALTH

Government Issues and Mr. Lyons

Mr. Lyons, in an interview, with Beater, and it looks as though the Government will be returned with slightly reduced numbers but we will still be overwhelmingly the largest party. Taking into consideration the enormous swing at the last election the results is a strong endorsement of the Government's policy.

The Beattie Melbourne, later

The results of the election of the House of Representatives are as follows: United Australia Party (Mr. Lyons) 35 seats. United Country Party (Mr. Page) 14 seats. Federal Labour Party (Mr. Scullin) 11 seats. Mr. Lang's 8 seats. Doubtful 5 seats.

All the 'Dough Credit' candidates were defeated.

Thirty-handed candidates were nominated for the 50 seats in the Australian Senate and the 74 in the House of Representatives. The House of Representatives immediately elected for the parliament, with a minimum of five Representatives from each State.

Property Sale

A sale of Kaituma property was held by Messrs. Maitland and Swain, Ltd., at their show rooms in Nairobi, on Saturday morning. The property was 8,000 acres in extent. It was bought in by Mr. Philip Ogo the plaintiff in a civil suit.

Mr. G. A. Grieco, who describes himself as being an 'ethnologist' from Kenya writes to the 'Daily Herald' that 'Primarily regarded by Dr. H. L. Gordon, who writes in his unpublished researches that the average intelligence of Africans was found to be 10 to 10 years, as compared with the average of 'European' 15 to 16 years.

While Dr. Gordon was making his preliminary researches, a psychological survey was carried out by a psychologist, the subjects of it being being African people in a few well-known schools in Kenya Colony. The results of this survey were distinctly favourable, showing that the average intelligence of Africans is not much inferior to that of Europeans.'

Everyone will answer "YES!"

It may be valued as a scene of old associations; it may be valued because of some collection housed therein, the fruits of years of toil, patience and endeavor; it may be valued because of all it means in comfort, repose or family happiness or it may be valued only because of what it cost in work, thrift and S-S-R.

Whatever may be the reason THE HOME DEMANDS PROTECTION

You fit doors and windows with efficient locks to protect your home from thieves and intruders. You keep the roof in good condition and attend to the paint to protect your home from the elements which threaten slow destruction.
