CREATE A PROBLEM

Storage plant lags behind grain flow

CRISIS in the marketing of surplus combine harvesters to gather the grain harvest rapidly, the National Farmers Union in Britain is concerned at the failure of drying and storage plants to keep pace with the increasing flow.

There are at present about 13,000 combine harvesters on the United Kingdom and the indications are that to increase up to about 20,000 by the close of the next year. The reason of a harvest of surplus combine harvesters is that the Government has announced that it will allow the sale of surplus combine harvesters to private individuals at a profit of 25 per cent on the purchase price.

More and more

There are at present about 13,000 combine harvesters on the United Kingdom and the indications are that to increase up to about 20,000 by the close of the next year. The reason of a harvest of surplus combine harvesters is that the Government has announced that it will allow the sale of surplus combine harvesters to private individuals at a profit of 25 per cent on the purchase price.

Another and even greater cause of the storage problem is the increasing output of surplus combine harvesters from the various parts of the world. It is estimated that in 1951 there will be about 10,000 surplus combine harvesters in the world.

Sulphur shortage

An immediate situation of 10,000 tons of sulphur has been ordered to be shipped to Britain by the United States. The reason for this is that the United States is short of sulphur because of a world shortage of sulphur and the need for sulphur in the United States. This sulphur is for all purposes, not for agricultural purposes. The sulphur in 1951 is likely to be considerably more than in any previous year. Control of wind erosion in U.S.

Rows of trees planted by farmers in the American Mid-West to combat the ravages of windstorms have proved effective in the protection of homesites.

From 1936 to 1942 more than 22,000,000 seedlings were planted on 23,000 farms in the American Mid-West. In the Spring of 1950 the winter sweeping across the greater States of America were again picking up dust.

Farmers had been doing spring ploughing and planting their corn when the trees which were protected by the little trees that were first grown up to become farm shelter belts.

A shelter belt is a belt of trees or low trees of wind-standing rows perpendicular to the prevailing wind direction which are located south of the American Mid-Western States. The first shelter belt was planted in the mid-west of Missouri and the ending stretch of rows and trees which the crop belt is made up of is the dry belt, where the wind strikes in the fall and they have shelter belts which are 50 feet in the air, the end of the belt is the low bushes.

A DAY IN THE LIFE OF A SCOTTISH HILL FARMER

His only grouse is the one he shoots on the moors

By Hugh Newnham

It is more exactly on the hills and moors than in the town that the Scottish hill farmer produces his goods and services. He is a man of few words, but his life is full of activity. He rises at 6 o'clock, milks the cows, and then goes to the moor to shoot his grouse. He returns at 11 o'clock, milks the cows again, and then goes to the farm to look after his sheep and pigs. He is a hardworking man, and his life is full of interest and excitement.

Blaise Balfour, known to all people in the Swaziland district of the Southern Highlands, has been elected to the position of Chief. He is a man of great ability and has served the community well in many capacities. He was elected by a large majority of the voters in the district.

The hill farmer's life is a hard one, but it is also a life of great satisfaction. He enjoys the quiet solitude of the hills and the sense of accomplishment that comes from a day's work. He is a man of strong character and a deep sense of duty. His life is a testament to the hardworking spirit of the Scottish people.

AN INDIAN STATE IN AFRICA?

Pros and cons of a new colonisation plan

Publicity has recently been given in the Press, including newspapers in South Africa, to a report that a plan has been put forward to provide an Over-Sea area in Africa for some of India's surplus population. The plan is to establish an entirely new State in Africa to which Indians will be encouraged to emigrate from India.

UNION'S attitude

The Union's attitude towards the proposed Indian State in Africa is one of cautious optimism. The Government is studying the proposal carefully and is taking into account the views of the Indian community in South Africa.

Opinion divided

Opinion is divided among the Indian community in South Africa regarding the proposed Indian State in Africa. Some see it as an opportunity for a better life, while others are concerned about the loss of their current status and rights.

Promised land

The concept of a 'Promised Land' has long been a source of hope and inspiration for many people. In the context of the proposed Indian State in Africa, it represents a new beginning and a chance for a better future.

The proposed Indian State in Africa is a complex issue that requires careful consideration and planning. It is a plan that has the potential to bring about significant changes in the lives of many people, but it also has its challenges and risks.

A large industrial machine, possibly a tractor or a piece of heavy machinery, in a field. The machine is complex and appears to be designed for agricultural or construction work.

How to increase productivity and cut production costs

The report of the specialist team from the British Union, which recently toured the factories of the United States, says of the work on the line:

There is a device of vast importance that it warrants detailed study by all concerned with increased productivity. You cannot afford not to know all there is to know about its possibilities.

GROWING OF COTTON IN EXPANDING RAPIDLY

Postwar years have wrought great change

PROBABLY the most interesting feature of Southern Rhodesia's agriculture during the years since World War II has been the rapid growth of cotton growing both by Europeans and Natives and the development of a substantial spinning, weaving and finishing industry based on it.

Cotton growing has been prohibited in the colony by individual farmers for many years, and in 1903 general considerable restrictions (3,000 acres were planted, cotton was exported to the United Kingdom and a number of garments were exported).

Unfortunately, stands for an insect above all general considerable restrictions (3,000 acres were planted, cotton was exported to the United Kingdom and a number of garments were exported).

First result

The Cotton Research and Industry Act of 1952 reconstituted the Board of Cotton Research and Industry and gave it powers to regulate cotton production in all respects.

Attracting price

The current price of first class lint cotton is 24/6 per cwt. This is a very attractive price for Southern Rhodesia and has been known for some time.

Are you a part-time mother?

BY MARY KENNEDY
JUST in case anyone should think that this article is done by a trained Mother who lives in luxury, let me say that I am a mother who lives in a one-room flat in a tenement house. I have a young child and I am a part-time mother. I am a mother who lives in a tenement house. I have a young child and I am a part-time mother. I am a mother who lives in a tenement house. I have a young child and I am a part-time mother.

Despite the muted midnight of her life, 70-year-old, blind Helen Keller, outstanding American, is the world's most remarkable woman. Her life is a story of triumph and heroism. She is a woman who has lived a life of poverty. To the sightless eyes of Helen Keller, there is neither dark nor light. To her, the world is a vast, uncharted sea. She is a woman who has lived a life of poverty. To the sightless eyes of Helen Keller, there is neither dark nor light. To her, the world is a vast, uncharted sea.

For the first 18 months of her life, Helen Keller, like any other baby, could be frightened by loud noises. Her mother, who was blind, was comforted by the sight of her own face. Helen Keller, however, was comforted by the touch of her mother's hand. She was a woman who lived a life of poverty. To the sightless eyes of Helen Keller, there is neither dark nor light. To her, the world is a vast, uncharted sea.

Daily routine

Whether on a vacation or not, Helen Keller carries in her life the same daily routine. She is a woman who lives in a tenement house. I have a young child and I am a part-time mother. I am a mother who lives in a tenement house. I have a young child and I am a part-time mother. I am a mother who lives in a tenement house. I have a young child and I am a part-time mother.

BRIDAL FASHIONS SWING TO ELABORATE STYLES

DECEMBER brides went all out for glitter and dash in their traditional white frocks. Miss Elizabeth Barrow was married by Mr. M. P. Fordner. Her dress was a masterpiece of lace and silk. The bride's train was a masterpiece of lace and silk. The bride's train was a masterpiece of lace and silk. The bride's train was a masterpiece of lace and silk.

Movie stars

Movie stars are also being taken in by the glamour of Hollywood. They are a woman who lives in a tenement house. I have a young child and I am a part-time mother. I am a mother who lives in a tenement house. I have a young child and I am a part-time mother. I am a mother who lives in a tenement house. I have a young child and I am a part-time mother.

Favourite poets

SKISH: THE NEW AMERICAN SPORT

COMPARATIVELY old but burgeoning sport in the new season is skish. Few had ever heard of it by the name before 1947.

Each winter has two weeks of the 20 mile or more. But perfect runs in skish are very rare.

Weather factor

Skish can be achieved only under perfect weather conditions on a winter day. The perfect weather is called "skish weather." It is the weather that makes the skisher's life so pleasant. It is the weather that makes the skisher's life so pleasant.

The object of skish is to get the most out of the winter. It is to get the most out of the winter. It is to get the most out of the winter.

Skish is a sport which is often given and just as often disregarded. But there are some that are guaranteed to make your task easier.

Matter of choice

Skish depends upon the individual. Some skishers like to go to the mountains. Some skishers like to go to the mountains.

Using a fishing rod for skish is a new idea. It is a new idea. It is a new idea.

Packing? It's a pleasure

THE holiday season is in full swing again and with it comes the perennial problem of what to take and of packing. It is a problem that is often given and just as often disregarded.

Many people are not satisfied with their packing. They are not satisfied with their packing. They are not satisfied with their packing.

Packing for children

When there are small children, the problem of packing becomes more complicated. It becomes more complicated. It becomes more complicated.

How research helps to cut fire risks

By Trevor Williams

FEW people realise the immensity of the damage done each year by natural destructive forces. The world's annual bill for three kinds of damage—fire, flood and explosion—amounts to some $10,000,000,000.

Petrol risk

PETROL is a serious fire risk which is comparatively new and the large volumes used in the home have caused a serious rise in the number of petrol fires.

Examples of war

IN Britain, research on the prevention and reduction of fire risk has always been pursued particularly actively because of the large part of the population lives in overcrowded areas.

The fire research organization has been working on the prevention and reduction of fire risk. It has been working on the prevention and reduction of fire risk.

A detailed analysis of the different types of fire that occur during the course of a year, have proved particularly instructive in suggesting where the main lines of research should be directed.

The best guide

FOR many purposes it is useful to have an estimate of the magnitude of the various types of fire that occur during the course of a year.

The fire research organization has been working on the prevention and reduction of fire risk. It has been working on the prevention and reduction of fire risk.

Did a Russian Win the Battle of Trafalgar?

It has been said that the English will stand a laughing and derisive audience at their national institutions equipped to receive the news that Nelson, the great British admiral, was defeated by the Russian fleet in the battle of Trafalgar.

In Russian text books almost every great invention or achievement is credited to a Russian. The latest claim is as empty as the rest, but long and careful research was necessary before it could be disproved, says—

The story book on this subject is a short but very interesting one. It is written by a Russian author and is published in Moscow. It is a very interesting and well-written book.

The Gabbra—they live astride the border

The Gabbra—together with their associates the Algan Boran—are considered to be the most closely related to the Galla race and their customs, speech and traditional life. From those of the Boran people who like them, they are also refugees from Abyssinia.

The Gabbra tribes, however, are not nomads, the first signposts of their life being the small huts they build on the slopes of the Boran hills in the Galla country. It may almost be said that they live astride the border, for they spend part of their lives in the Boran hills.

MERRELL DALTON, in his third article on tribes of the N.F.D., tells of a desert people into the demarcation of their environment seems to have burnt.

On the right, Gabbra women in typical dress. Below, a group at a camp site in Galla country.

...and a herd and the women look it. At this point the first signs of the Gabbra are to be seen. The women are dressed in the same style as the Boran women, but their dress is more elaborate. They wear long, flowing robes and have their hair styled in a distinctive way. The men are dressed in simple, practical clothing. The Gabbra are a nomadic people, and their life is centered around their herds. They are known for their skill in herding and their ability to survive in the harsh desert environment.

Desolate land

As a general thing the country in the area of the Boran hills, which includes the Harar, Dire Dawa and Harar, and the area of the Boran hills, is a desolate land. It is a land of sand and rocks, with very little vegetation. The only trees are acacia trees, which are scattered here and there. The climate is hot and dry, with very little rain. The Gabbra people have adapted to this harsh environment by living in small huts made of mud and brush, and by herding their animals in the open country. They are a hardy and resilient people, and their life is a constant struggle for survival.

The Gabbra people are a nomadic tribe that lives in the northern frontier of the British East Africa Protectorate. They are known for their skill in herding and their ability to survive in the harsh desert environment. They are a hardy and resilient people, and their life is a constant struggle for survival. They are a nomadic people, and their life is centered around their herds. They are known for their skill in herding and their ability to survive in the harsh desert environment.

Paper creed

The Gabbra are entirely of pagan creed and like all nomads they have no written religion. Their gods are the sun, moon, stars, and the elements of nature. They believe in a supreme being, but they do not have any written scriptures or a formal church. Their religious practices are simple and practical, and they are deeply rooted in their traditional life. They believe in the power of their herds and the land, and they have a strong sense of community and loyalty to their tribe.

THE CALL OF THE SEA BY N. Hillson

Training interested sailors in Britain has been developed from the days when the nation's young men were trained in the navy. Today, many young men are being trained in the navy, and the call of the sea is a strong one. The navy is a profession that offers a wide range of opportunities for young men. They can learn a variety of skills, from navigation and seamanship to engineering and medicine. The navy is a proud and honorable profession, and it offers a chance for young men to serve their country and to make a difference in the world.

Patience needed

The calling of a navigator after is one of the few remaining which requires a long and arduous apprenticeship. There is a long period of training which calls for patience, as well as application and grit. And the boys who undertake this life are sure to be rewarded. The calling of a navigator is a noble and honorable profession, and it offers a chance for young men to learn a variety of skills and to make a difference in the world. It is a profession that requires patience and perseverance, but it is also one that offers a great deal of satisfaction and fulfillment.

Equal chance

For the most fortunate there are the boys who are trained in the navy. They are given an equal chance of learning a variety of skills and of making a difference in the world. The navy is a proud and honorable profession, and it offers a chance for young men to serve their country and to make a difference in the world.

Inter-marriage

A Gabbra girl is due to a death of about five years, and the death is due to the fact that she has been married to a Galla man. This is a common occurrence in the Galla country, and it is a sign of the inter-marriage between the Gabbra and the Galla people. Inter-marriage is a common practice in many cultures, and it is a way of bringing different peoples together and of creating a more unified society. In the Galla country, inter-marriage is a sign of the close relationship between the Gabbra and the Galla people, and it is a way of ensuring their survival in the harsh desert environment.

'Tell me Doctor.. when there's an accident, it is best to put an antiseptic straight on the wound.

In an emergency you need an antiseptic that can be used quickly, without hesitation, and without danger or undue discomfort. You need a reliable killer of germs, but it should be non-poisonous, non-staining, gentle on the skin, and valuable in promoting clean and rapid healing. You need the modern antiseptic 'Dettol'.

TANGANYIKA GROUNDNUIT PLAN ABANDONED

Uganda Cautious Industry

FRIDAY, JANUARY 4, 1951

Uganda is a country where the industrial revolution has not yet taken root. The Government is cautious in its approach to industrial development. It is aware of the need for capital and technical assistance, but it is also aware of the need to protect the interests of the native population. The Government is therefore proceeding with caution in its industrial policy.

The Government has set up a committee to study the industrial situation in Uganda. This committee is to report to the Government on the feasibility of various industrial projects. The Government is also seeking advice from the British Government on industrial development in Uganda.

The British Government has expressed interest in Uganda's industrial development. It has offered technical assistance and capital for various industrial projects. The Government is grateful for this assistance and is working to make the best use of it.

The industrial sector in Uganda is still in its infancy. There are a few small-scale industries, but no large-scale ones. The Government is hoping to attract foreign investment to develop the industrial sector. It is also hoping to train more technical staff to run the industries.

TANGANYIKA GROUNDNUIT PLAN ABANDONED

£36,500,000 written off

SUBSTITUTE SCHEME FOR DISTRICT UNDER COLONIAL OFFICE CONTROL

FRIDAY, JANUARY 4, 1951

The Government has written off £36,500,000 of the groundnut scheme in Tanganyika because of the wide margin of error in the original estimate of the scheme's harvest. The Government has decided to substitute a new scheme for the groundnut scheme, which will be under colonial office control.

The original scheme was based on an estimated yield of 100,000 tons of groundnuts. However, the actual yield was only 20,000 tons. This means that the Government has lost £36,500,000. The Government is now looking for a new scheme that is more realistic.

The new scheme is a 10-year scheme for the production of groundnuts. It will be under colonial office control. The Government is hoping to attract foreign investment for the scheme. It is also hoping to train more technical staff to run the scheme.

Year experimental period will be about 100,000 tons without allowing for contingencies or bush planting

Pioneering venture

The scheme was regarded by the "Pioneering ventures" which was set up to "grow" the industry in East Africa

The Government has decided to abandon the groundnut scheme in Tanganyika. The original estimate of the scheme's harvest was £36,500,000. However, the actual yield was only 20,000 tons. This means that the Government has lost £36,500,000. The Government is now looking for a new scheme that is more realistic.

Staff at Nairobi

Nairobi—the training and transport centre of East Africa

The Government has decided to increase the number of staff at Nairobi. This is because Nairobi is the training and transport centre of East Africa. The Government is hoping to attract more staff to Nairobi to help with the work.

The Government is also hoping to improve the facilities at Nairobi. This includes building more houses and schools. The Government is also hoping to improve the transport system at Nairobi.

Smaller units

An important feature of the revised scheme is the increased number of smaller units

The Government has decided to increase the number of smaller units in the groundnut scheme. This is because smaller units are easier to manage and they will help to attract more investment. The Government is also hoping to improve the facilities for the smaller units.

PLANT-TISSUE WILL HELP FARMERS

U.S. scientist's development

AN AMERICAN scientist has developed a simple test for determining whether growing plants are diseased or deficient in nutrients. Using culture techniques that appear on a small piece of what is known as a plant tissue, the scientist has found a way to detect the presence of a disease or nutrient deficiency.

In three minutes

These tests can be done on the same piece of tissue. A complete test can be made in three minutes. The scientist has found a way to detect the presence of a disease or nutrient deficiency. The test is simple and can be done in three minutes.

Agricultural advice to be compiled with compulsion

The service is compulsory for all farmers in Kenya, and the Agricultural Extension Service is determined to get the most out of it.

The Anderson family outside their home. Mrs. Anderson, with her youngest son, has been over-coming her handicaps.

The story of an American farm family

GEORGE ANDERSON was standing beside the lead green field of his alfalfa pasture—keeping an eye on his two young grandsons, showing the sheep and last cutting of the season.

The best place on earth, a farmer in the western State of California calls his alfalfa farm which he built into a prosperous enterprise and a wholesome home for his family.

A long jump

It was a long jump from the relative obscurity of a small farm in California to the success of a large alfalfa farm. George Anderson is a farmer who has made a long jump from a small farm to a large alfalfa farm.

Mechanization

As the farm grew larger, mechanization became essential. The farmer used to do all the work himself, but now he uses machines to do the work.

Grass seed kill

Always willing to try anything new, the farmer found a way to kill grass seed. This was a great discovery for the farmer, as it allowed him to grow alfalfa without the interference of grass.

Another remarkable thing about WHITE ANTS

A ceremony may contain Kings, Queens, Soldiers and Warriors, but a complete organization has no rapid destruction of every part of timber. So infamously... Termites never attack wood treated with ATLAS-A. UNIVERSAL - Dry or brush for positive protection against White Ants, Beetles, Fleas and Fungus. Paste or points over treated wood. ECONOMICAL - Highly concentrated. One pint of Atlas-A goes further than 100 lbs of other treatments. PERMANENT - Causes without or without the use of the Atlas-A. Keeps the timber and wood free from termites and wood-boring insects. ATLAS-A is the only wood preservative that is both economical and permanent.

President of the Executive Council, Sir John Lushington, speaking at the opening of the 'Irish Newsletter'...

Looking back at the events of 1950

THE year 1950 opened with a calm sea in Northern Ireland and closed with an industrial crisis in the South. The intervening kaleidoscope of events was more rapid than usual and so no particular trend seemed to develop—except a more marked movement to the Left.

Transport crises

A major problem of the year was the transport crisis in the South of Ireland. The crisis was caused by a shortage of trucks and a general strike by transport workers.

Queen's visit

The Queen's visit to Northern Ireland was a landmark event. She was the first British monarch to visit Northern Ireland since the partition of the island.

SHANTUNG THEME FOR NEW SEASON

The material for the new season is shantung—in the most delicate shades. Shantung jackets, coats and dresses for spring are softly tailored, with clear lines and the minimum amount of ornamentation.

The most representative spring collection seen lately was that of Daville. There were no extremes of fashion. There were two main themes: neat suits, with or without belted jackets, and a special line on dresses and coats. The line was a simple, elegant, and feminine silhouette with a simple, elegant silhouette at the waistline.

The shantung suit looked fresh and new. It had a stand-up collar and straight skirt. The jacket was simple and elegant. The skirt was simple and elegant. The shantung suit looked fresh and new. Chinese again Illustrated is the town's elegant top-line in the collection, which consisted of a color-block, high neck, curved side fastening, and a wide range of temperamental lines in navy shantung, with elegant draped hosiery and a black. The color combination consisted of both bright and neutral shades.

Colourful There are a number of styles in shantung. The most popular is the simple, elegant, and feminine silhouette. The shantung suit looked fresh and new. It had a stand-up collar and straight skirt. The jacket was simple and elegant. The skirt was simple and elegant.

One!—and aren't we enjoying ourselves? Baby wonder what all the fuss is about on this particular day—the toys, the new truck, the cake and the lovely, lovely seeds—but what fun is it! And what a happy year it has been on the whole for everyone—particularly since we put baby on Cow & Gate. Study progress—abundant health—peace and contentment. Yes—carry on, baby, with that charming smile!

No Playtime For Russian Schoolboys

By DENNIS BARDEN

In some respects, the Soviet Union is a country that is very different from the rest of the world. One of the most interesting aspects of Soviet society is the way that the young people are educated. In the Soviet Union, school is a very important part of a child's life and it is not just a place where they go to learn. It is a place where they are taught to be disciplined and hardworking. This is why there is no playtime for Russian schoolboys. They are expected to be in school from a very young age and to spend most of their time studying. This is a very different way of life from what we are used to in the West.
