

PROFESSOR'S COMMENTS ON HOUSING IN AFRICA

'Still lagging, but a notable increase'

AYING a return visit to Central Africa after a lapse of several years, Professor Derwent Hatcher, Professor of Geography at Harvard University, said there has been a notable increase in housing in Africa generally. In a number of places, and especially in the Rhodesian sphere, there has been developed a type of house which is new to him.

Standard Trust directors found 'not guilty'

AFTER an absence of only 15 minutes, the jury yesterday returned a verdict of "not guilty" in the case of all the three directors of the Standard Trust, Limited, who had been standing trial for the past 11 days on a charge of having furnished false information in the prospectus of the company.

Planning for growth

Professor Whelan, who was asked to consider the company's plans for the future, said that the directors had shown a "notable increase" in housing in Africa generally.

The rains have continued very late this year in Lamu, and the harvest had over eight inches in three days, bringing up the total for the year to date to over 60 inches. The biggest crop fall for many years. The weather over is delightfully cool.

How it works

The oil in the Lamu is a very heavy oil, and it is not easy to extract. The factory installed in Lamu is a very modern one, and it is expected to produce a large quantity of oil.

Mail delayed

The mail of the 15th, which was due to arrive in Lamu, has been delayed by a day or two. The delay is due to the heavy rains and the difficulty of getting the mail to the coast.

University expedition

The Oxford University expedition to the interior of Kenya has returned to Nairobi. The expedition was led by Dr. G. H. S. Gurney and was one of the most successful in the history of the university.

YOUR BATHROOM CAN BE YOUR LAUNDRY TOO

REGARDLESS of the material, the laundress will wash clothes in the bathroom, sometimes only stockings but frequently other things as well. In small homes and apartments where the bathroom facilities are essential, the laundress has no choice. There is a picture that shows how a bathroom can double as a very efficient laundry with the aid of a few simple devices.

Colour scheme

FOR beauty's sake, there is a little known rule which states that the left side of the wall, when facing a person in the wall, should be painted in the lightest color. This rule is based on the fact that the left side of the face is more sensitive to color than the right side.

Dual purpose
THE most interesting equipment in the laundress' bathroom is the dual purpose tub. This combination tub and shower is a very convenient and space-saving device.

JACQUES FATH LAUNCHES THE NEW OLD LOOK

THE ruler of the modern look has been revived in Paris by Jacques Fath. He looked off his winter show in France Friday with the usual lavish display, and it soon became clear that Mr. Fath had changed his mind again. Since he is one of the only two men in Paris who can influence what the rest of the world will wear, his changes of mind—and line—must be noted.

Fath, 51, with a deep forehead, lined brows, white hair and wrinkles around his eyes, said to the Star and Boat while he had lunch at the Ritz: "I have decided to go back to the old look. I will wear the same kind of clothes as I wore in 1920. I will wear the same kind of clothes as I wore in 1920. I will wear the same kind of clothes as I wore in 1920."

Green eyes or yellow ribbons?

By Mary Kenney

I wonder if more than a few people know this pretty name for that old grey. My own mother heard it from her mother, and she will remember how, as a child, one of her mother's grey dresses had a hem of being the swayer of the fashion world. I was born by them being worn today, even if I am in the habit of wearing the type of helms most worthy to be worn in general, that shown by an elder brother or sister. Healthy teeth kept healthy because Kolynos foam cleans IN-BETWEEN

It's between us and that danger lies. That's where bacteria multiply and go to work—producing the acids that cause decay. Kolynos foam penetrates straight to the danger spots. Kolynos also contains special ingredients that neutralize the acid, destroy bacteria. Expert laboratory tests have proved that Kolynos diminishes up to 90 per cent of harmful mouth bacteria. Kolynos helps to keep teeth healthy—keeps them worry-free and white and clean.

KOLYNOS FOAM

Madame Louise

Furs for the great occasions.

Devoted, but...

The odd thing is that the larger child invariably adores the other as an individual, but cannot bear to see any part of the family. We were often told that "yellow ribbons" were worn at the very time when a younger sister passed and all that big brother or sister will be developing had had a very sad time in Grandpa's day.

Treat alike
THE most allergic psychologist cannot alter human nature, but he can help to develop the right firm and it sometimes takes a good deal of time to get the right firm. It is in the majority of cases the little attention is paid to the firm and "the firm" is a discipline made between the two children.

The remedy
By turning her up to a light dinner once a week, if the amount is too large, and will certainly give her a good deal of relief. It is the habit of the family, it is needed by her mother and her father.

Radio Programmes

To the Editor, "E.A. Standard."
We have been listening to the interesting programme of Radio Nairobian, which has been broadcasted by the National Council for the Development of Kenya, and I must say that I have been very much impressed by the quality of the programme. It is a pity that the programme is not broadcasted more frequently. I have written to the Council for the Development of Kenya, and I have been informed that the programme will be broadcasted more frequently in the future.

How Life Came Back To Marsabit And The Lorian Swamp

★ AFTER YEARS OF DROUGHT CAME THE GREAT FLOODS ★

Wife of the Game Ranger of the Northern Frontier District, JOY ADAMSON this week completes her words and pictures of Marsabit and the Lorian Swamp.

A week ago she described the great drought. Now she tells of the coming of the rains and the way in which they have restored the two places to life again.

and further north, was out of use for weeks. Flood-gate debris carried away most of the approaches to the bridge while the river changed its course, leaving the bare structure isolated in mid.

Abdi Oghi

WHAT became of Abdi Oghi and his people? Reports came through that a one to ten-mile-wide lake covered that area and equal prospects of starvation as in the earlier drought were now threatening man and beast.

Caravans of camels returned despondent. Aircraft were the only solution but could carry only limited quantities. All available donkeys were mobilised but it was only after weeks that they succeeded in reaching the starved people.

We went as far as Moching Ash, some 20 miles before you reach the Lorian River, and camped on a steep lake where previously there had been sand dunes. As we sat about waiting for the rain to come, I suddenly realised that I was awaiting reports from my husband's account.

And so it was that the rains came.

Transformation

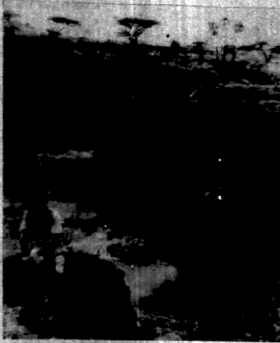

NOW the country is transformed into a glorious garden. The soil of the sand had the energy there such there are fields of corn and grass. Every grain of sand seems to have greenness in it, and the undergrowth and the variety and abundance of flowers is unbelievable.

And Marsabit! Once again it is ...the grim scene of death caused by the drought... the rains came... the first rain... the water was... the people were... the animals were... the crops were... the land was... the people were... the animals were... the crops were... the land was...

The rains came... the first rain... the water was... the people were... the animals were... the crops were... the land was... the people were... the animals were... the crops were... the land was...

The second gallery on the way to the Chauder Falls... the water was... the people were... the animals were... the crops were... the land was... the people were... the animals were... the crops were... the land was...

These two pictures show the Chauder Falls before and after the coming of the rains... A vivid illustration of the change from one extreme to the other.

time to warn us to hurry back as the river was suddenly rising to full flood. There was a danger of being trapped in the gallery by the rapidly rising water but I could not resist such a wonderful chance of getting a photograph and I was rewarded.

without end most frightening mood, roosting through the cliffs, landing in its anger and movement. Although terrified, I was fascinated by the uncontrollable things of this gigantic power.

The falls had become a tangle of foam and bubbles of water, their darts into the depths with such force that the foam seemed to jostle the edges of the falls again at its top. Distant light and misty trees shrouded over the precipice in wild chaos, overwhelming each other in finding a way through the abyss.

But the river was rising alarmingly. From minute to minute the water level came higher and we were lucky to find a way to safety on the side of the cliff.

The picture above shows the same scene on Marsabit the water level had risen. Before the rains it was a desert of sand dunes. Below, the cattle grazed and humans their feeding of day in the midst of water again.

The coming of the first slow trickle of water in the Lorian.

rain. From then on, with only short interruptions it poured for weeks. Now we were rain like those rivers before in the Northern Frontier District.

They brought new disasters to the country already wracked by the disaster of drought. Whole areas were flooded and transformed into deep lakes where normally sandy plains are open savannah land practically. NEW POWER PLANT STARTS OPERATING AT MWADUI

“Monument to development of Tanganyika”

“STANBANK” Correspondent. Mwadui. SOME of the most modern machinery, the joint work of more than half a dozen firms, has gone to make one of the finest and certainly one of the most up-to-date power stations in the world at Williamstown Diamond Mine, Mwadui.

The 12500 project of three years ago has now been put into operation. Inside the concrete brick building which used frame are two Ruston Hornsby diesel engines which drive the General Electric Company's powerful generators.

Year's work. Mr. Loupas and Mr. Polson, who have been specially seconded from their firms in England, have supervised the engineering and electrical work respectively. They have worked for almost exactly a year from the start of the actual building and they can be proud of their achievement.

Land offered at Malagarasi

Over 2000 acres of agricultural land in Malagarasi District, north of Mwanza, about 100 miles north of Mwanza, has been offered for sale. The land is well irrigated and has a long history of cultivation. It is being offered for sale by the Government and is available for purchase at a price of 1000/- per acre.

Dogs die in fight with hippos

“STANBANK” Correspondent. NAWAZA. TWO large ridgeback dogs belonging to a Naitavika resident recently met a tragic end when they attempted combat with two hippos.

THE hippos in Lake Nawaoka are becoming more and more troublesome. Not only do they demolish crops but are often held enough to threaten people's gardens. In some cases even the water fences are not sufficient to keep them out.

STAFF. For 24 hours, a staff of three Europeans, four Asians and one African, were working on their work on the staff of the office. They were working on the staff of the office and were working on the staff of the office.

Growing pains of a kitchen in Kenya

It was that electric power has come to our door, I must admit, that has made it possible to build a model kitchen, teach us to make bread, and to run a cooking attractive.

In the help of a native mechanic we used the electric power to make a bread-making machine. The new kitchen is a model kitchen, and we have very convenient with it. It is a model kitchen, and we have very convenient with it. It is a model kitchen, and we have very convenient with it.

It depends what country you're in

THE principle of equal rights for men and women is laid down in the United Nations Charter. How far it is applied varies throughout the world.

Progress. Since then 22 countries have granted full or partial political rights to women.

Not vote. Many countries still deny the vote to women. In some countries, women are not allowed to vote.

There are few countries, Israel and Turkey, require women to serve in the armed forces, though many have done so in various capacities.

A look at the autumn collections

The 'Big Ten' concentrate on their own particular line, says Elso M. Sanders in her London Letter.

SO diverse were the styles and silhouettes presented in the London autumn collections that it seemed that the "Big Ten" designers could not make up their minds. Should it be elegant and stately or frilly and billowy?

Generally there is no sex discrimination in education laws. In many countries, there is no sex discrimination in education laws.

Two-pieces

SEPARATES were more popular in their new accepted form. The two-piece suit is a popular choice for many women.

Backward

In some countries and hot territories in Africa, the establishment of girls' schools has been resisted by the local population, and it is a backward step.

There are few countries, Israel and Turkey, require women to serve in the armed forces, though many have done so in various capacities.

MAPPING A MOUNTAIN

By Bradford Washburn

MOUNT MCKINLEY, the highest peak in North America, is now shown from a distance of 25 miles from Denali Peak, the second peak at left of the summit in McKinley's highest range. The 20,000-foot peak of Alaska, is not only the highest peak in North America, it is probably the highest mountain mass anywhere on earth that rises out of level plain. It was first climbed in 1913 by Archibald Huxton Stuart, who took nearly three months to do the job. It has now been climbed six times. The hiking distance from the end of the railway road to mount McKinley is 20 miles, but a peak and took 20 miles, but a peak and took 20 miles... LORD PRIVY SEAL FLIES HOME

Collapse of oil talks

BRITISH STAFF TO EVACUATE OILFIELDS—BUT NOT ABADAN

MR. RICHARD STOKES, Britain's Lord Privy Seal, flew home yesterday from Persia after the collapse of his attempts to have ended these week-long negotiations.

The Anglo-Iranian Oil Company has ordered the complete evacuation of British, Indian and Pakistani staff from the South Persian oilfields and the port of Burhan Madec. This was done last night.

Staff from the oilfields is expected to be complete Monday morning. Five aircraft will fly British home from there on Tuesday and Wednesday.

The British Prime Minister, Mr. A. D. Attlee, and members of his staff are to meet today to hear a personal report from Mr. Stokes.

Before leaving Tehran the Lord Privy Seal was sure that British Government would be ready to resume the talks if the Government at any time came forward with fresh proposals in line with the March 30 nationalisation law and the terms proposed by Mr. Averell Harriman, Mr. Truman's representative.

It is a mistake to think that the programme has been made. Mr. Stokes declared, expressing his belief that the talks will be resumed.

He stated that in these circumstances, the British Government will not join in a wool allocation scheme or impose price-ceilings on wool.

Both said that no-one had been authorised to make such a proposal.

£20,000 FOR RELIEF FUND

British contribution to Jamaica

The British Government is to contribute £20,000 immediately to the Government of Jamaica relief fund. This was announced in a broadcast by the Secretary for the Colonies, Mr. Griffiths.

Mr. Griffiths said that the British Government is pleased to help to help their brethren in Jamaica by this money.

The death toll in the hurricane has been estimated at 10,000. At least one person was killed and 20 injured when the same hurricane struck through Jamaica last night.

The Governor, Sir Hugh Stanger, has an urgent appeal to his 5,000 people to donate £20,000 of the fund.

CAPRICORNUS
THE GOAT

That's the watchword of Capricornus and it's our watchword for the quality of our Ford Service Facilities.

The enormous impression abroad that "the more owners abuse their transport vehicles, the better it is for the motor firm" is a myth as the Ford is concerned.

Its servicing policy has been, and always will be, Ford's, and especially PROTECTION SERVICE, 24 hours in time.

We again invite all Ford owners to avail themselves of our maintenance inspection service, which is free and without obligation.

Interest in Tororo Township plots began to quieten down in the past few days but the demand for plots is still brisk.

UGANDA'S NEW TRAFFIC REGULATION PROPOSALS 'L' plates would become compulsory

IMPLEMENTING the recommendations made by the 1950 Road Safety Committee, draft regulations have been published as a special supplement to the Uganda Gazette.

A number of the regulations should apply to motor cars as well as to motor cycles. In the case of a left-hand drive motor car, the regulations stipulate that the driver should be given a sign of 'L' or 'R' to indicate the side of the road on which he is driving.

Renewal of permits A similar provision from the draft regulations is that the renewal of permits for motor cars should be done by the driver or the owner of the car.

Left-hand drive If the regulations finally become law, the driver of a motor car will be required to have a sign on the front of the car to indicate the side of the road on which he is driving.

A MIDDLE-AGED married couple who two years ago emigrated to Africa... They have not found the 'milk and honey' they expected.

Motor buses There are special provisions in the regulations which relate to motor buses. These include the requirement that a motor bus must have a sign on the front of the car to indicate the side of the road on which it is driving.

It was ineffective The Main football stadium has a 'no smoking' sign. However, it is ineffective as many people still smoke in the stadium.

'Pied Piper' wanted The chairman of the South-West Africa Council has issued a notice that he is looking for a 'Pied Piper' to lead the people of the territory to a better life.

TANGANYIKA PARENTS ARE STICKING TO THEIR GUNS Three resolutions on two-term year plan

PARENTS in the Northern Province of Tanganyika have carried out a stage further in the 'battle of the two-term school year'.

'No mandate' The chairman, Mr. A. T. Beebe, of the Northern Province Parents' Association has issued a notice that he is looking for a 'Pied Piper' to lead the people of the territory to a better life.

'Grave problems' Since the parents were shortly to be called upon to pay even more for their children's education, the situation should prevail.

Money from Kenya The Governor made a particular note of visiting those camps and the fact that the money from Kenya is being used for the benefit of the people of the territory.

How old are you at thirty?

"MUMMY, how old are you?" was about across the table of my six-year-old son. "Thirty," I answered to him (knowing of a few years to make me nice rounder) to which he replied, "You can't be thirty! Thirty's old, you don't have to be so old, you don't have to be so old, you don't have to be so old..."

WOOL GATHERING WOMEN

WOMEN with practical views about their own lives are not likely to be attracted to the wool gathering industry. However, they are attracted to the wool gathering industry because of the high wages and the fact that they can work from home.

Outsiders in fashion

Eric M. Spender, designer for London, looks to problems of the larger figure.

FOREIGNERS are notoriously attracted to the fashion of the larger figure. Eric M. Spender, designer for London, looks to problems of the larger figure. He has designed a line of clothes for women who are not of the standard size.

Dick Whittington and His Cat

On Highgate Hill in London is a milestone bearing the inscription: "Sir Richard Whittington, Third Lord Mayor of London. This inscription is in honor of Richard Whittington who was never knighted, nor was he Lord Mayor, a title which he never held."

But in the historical records of Dick Whittington there is no mention of a cat: how did the legend come to be? For many centuries, particularly in the 19th century, the legend of Dick Whittington has been a favorite of the young. It is not surprising that it was in 1896, Edmund Lyons wrote a book on the subject, "Dick Whittington and His Cat."

But in 1896, Edmund Lyons wrote a book on the subject, "Dick Whittington and His Cat." He has found a poor country boy who had been taken to London by a cat. The cat was named "Dick" and the boy was named "Whittington." The cat was named "Dick" and the boy was named "Whittington."

The Cinema Plans Its Own Encyclopaedia

LEADING writers, artists and illustrators have joined forces to produce an encyclopaedia for the cinema. This is not an encyclopaedia in the ordinary sense of the word, but a difference for it will not necessarily follow the alphabetical order of all-illustrated encyclopaedias. It will be a big book, with many illustrations, and will be published in the form of a series of volumes, with the first volume containing the letters A to H. The encyclopaedia will be published in the form of a series of volumes, with the first volume containing the letters A to H. ON THE SCREEN IN NAIROBI Bette Davis as a 'bad woman' again

ADAPTED from the popular American play by Thornton Wilder, starring Bette Davis in another role of a 'bad woman', the film 'The Bad Girl' is a study in character. Davis plays a woman who is a social outcast, but who has a heart of gold. The film is a masterpiece of acting and direction, and it is a must-see for anyone who loves good cinema.

The Realities of Russian Power—No. 1.

THE RED ARMY

Its strength and weakness—Living off the country—Rigidity in tactics—Men and guns in the mass—175 divisions
BY LIEUTENANT-GENERAL SIR BRIAN HORROCKS

AFTER the Germans capitulated in the spring of 1945 I happened to be commanding a corps which occupied the east-central sector of Western Germany, next door to the Russians, and I attended many conferences with their various divisional commanders. I also saw something of the Russian Army itself.

The impression gained at that time has since been confirmed by the various reports which I have received through the channels of the West, and it is now possible to form a reasonably accurate picture of what the Russian Army is really like. The impression gained at that time has since been confirmed by the various reports which I have received through the channels of the West, and it is now possible to form a reasonably accurate picture of what the Russian Army is really like.

General Horrocks's article is the first of a series intended to give a true picture of Russian military might. It is by the writer RICHARD CHANCELLOR—the pseudonym of an outstanding naval cartoonist—will describe Russian sea power.

Later the invulnerability of Soviet air strength and weaknesses will be expounded by METEORITE.

Marshal Zhukov, still the greatest Soviet military figure.

and the standard of living in the West would be made in a strength, designed to overmatch by more weight of numbers. It would be wrong, however, to assume that such a war could be started without any war, and that the Western countries would therefore regard it as reasonable to launch an offensive of this magnitude without first securing the approval of numerous other troops could hardly expect variety. Such a large movement of any impending attack is, therefore, probable.

One weakness
It is surprising how little space on the railways is required to transport these two commodities together in large quantities.

The officers
Generally speaking, the officers are all professional soldiers, with the same basic type of national service in their own countries, and although the year, the most usually serve for anything up to four or five years and the NCOs for a year longer.

They are particularly good at night operations when control is maintained by a system of lights. The night report, for instance, and I believe that this is the only report in the world in which the artillery plan for an attack takes precedence over those of the actual attacking troops.

Regard for gunners
In fact, during the last war the artillery was particularly well regarded in any other army. They have the highest regard for their own, and I believe that this is the only report in the world in which the artillery plan for an attack takes precedence over those of the actual attacking troops.

formidable fighting machine, but it has one great weakness which is a profound ignorance of its tactics. This is the result of the fact that the majority of the best soldiers remain in industry or service in the Soviet Navy and Air Force. The corps and divisional commanders whom I used to meet were largely uneducated by any standards, and a high proportion of the NCOs, and even the officers, were illiterate. This general lack of education in any of the basic sciences, and in fact the illiterate nature of the majority of the best soldiers, complicated can never be dismissed.

The Russian Army, then, is still rather like an ancient Roman legion, and a high proportion of the NCOs, and even the officers, were illiterate. This general lack of education in any of the basic sciences, and in fact the illiterate nature of the majority of the best soldiers, complicated can never be dismissed.
