'GREAT BOOST TO KENYA CRICKET'

Successful Stragglers' tour ends

THE Rhodesian Stragglers C.C. return to Salisbury by air today after a month's visit to Kenya during which they played eight matches winning three, drawing three and losing one. On Thursday they won their last match by beating R. Miller's XI by five wickets at Limuru.

Their visit has been a great boost to cricket in the Colony according to Mr. C. V. Strickland, secretary of the Kenya Cricketers C.C. and regulations are already in progress for a return Kenya tour by Southern Rhodesia about the time next year.

Mr. Strickland is one of the numerous members of the Kenya C.C. who are keenly interested in the development of cricket in the territory. He has been in the country for some time and has seen the game in its infancy. He has seen the game in its infancy. He has seen the game in its infancy.

 E. J. COHEN
 (Illustration O.G.)

A NOBLE addition from the ranks of the Kenyan cricketers who were known in the days of the old Kenya cricket. He has been playing in the Kenyan team since he was 15 years of age. He has played cricket when he was in South Africa and has been a member of the Kenyan team since he returned to Kenya. He has been a member of the Kenyan team since he returned to Kenya. He has been a member of the Kenyan team since he returned to Kenya.

HERBERT - SUTCLIFFE, the former Yorkshire and England cricketer, discusses

M.C.C. PARTY FOR INDIA

ALTHOUGH the absence of several leading English players, especially Len Hutton, has taken a lot of the edge off the M.C.C. party, I consider the touring team a very good one. In fact, the former Yorkshire and England cricketer, discusses the M.C.C. team and its prospects. He believes that the team will be very successful in India. He mentions the names of several players and their statistics. He also discusses the conditions in India and the challenges the team will face.

TWO TALKING POINTS
HUTTON—his absence
SPOONER—his omission

It is worth noting that each time he has appeared for the Oval team, Hutton has been a very valuable member. His absence from the M.C.C. party is a great loss. The team will miss his batting and his leadership. It is also a pity that Spooner was not included in the party. He is a very good batsman and a useful all-rounder.

Nanyuki Sports Club's clear golf victory

A PROVINCIAL Golf Tournament, Nanyuki Sports Club, was very successful in their recent match with the Nanyuki Golf Club. The Nanyuki Sports Club won the match by a large margin. The Nanyuki Golf Club was defeated by a score of 10 to 2. The Nanyuki Sports Club's victory was a great achievement. They played very well throughout the match. The Nanyuki Golf Club was very disappointed. They were not at their best. The Nanyuki Sports Club's victory was a great achievement. They played very well throughout the match.

Jumpers and vaulters are going—Higher and higher

—and here are some hints to help them
 MORE and more athletes the world over are going higher and higher where height accounts for the high jump and the pole vault. Athletes are now reaching heights of 6 ft 11 in. in 1941 and 6 ft 10 in. in 1942. The high jump is also being pushed higher. The world record is now 6 ft 10 in. The pole vault is also being pushed higher. The world record is now 16 ft 6 in. Athletes are now reaching heights of 16 ft 6 in. in 1941 and 16 ft 6 in. in 1942. The high jump is also being pushed higher. The world record is now 6 ft 10 in. The pole vault is also being pushed higher. The world record is now 16 ft 6 in.

By W. ROBERT FORDER
 who, before he starts, to East Africa, was a member of the Amateur Athletic Association. He discusses the progress of the high jump and the pole vault. He mentions the names of several athletes and their statistics. He also discusses the techniques used by these athletes. He believes that the high jump and the pole vault are becoming more and more popular. He mentions the names of several athletes and their statistics. He also discusses the techniques used by these athletes.

Centre of gravity

One of the first mistakes the high jumper makes is to place the centre of gravity too high. The centre of gravity should be as low as possible. The high jumper should keep his feet close together and his arms straight. The high jumper should keep his feet close together and his arms straight. The high jumper should keep his feet close together and his arms straight.

There are several things that the high jumper should do to improve his performance. He should keep his feet close together and his arms straight. He should keep his feet close together and his arms straight. He should keep his feet close together and his arms straight.

Wales awaits the RUGBY Springboks

COMMENTING on the prospect of representative Welsh Rugby teams against the South African team to tour Britain during the coming winter, the Western Mail said South Wales points out that since 1911, when South Africa first visited Britain to play under the late Paul Roos, they have been the 'empire' champions of the world.

Always a move ahead of the other nations in tactics, skill and speed, the Welsh have been successful in overcoming the Springboks in the past. The Welsh have been successful in overcoming the Springboks in the past. The Welsh have been successful in overcoming the Springboks in the past.

THE YOUNG COLLECTOR

By Joyce Batecher

For those devotees of the new collecting vogue our four children were given a popular small volume on Robin's cupboard.

It is a book which might be given to a young child to read and to learn the names of the various birds and animals which are found in the forest.

The next few volumes will give us more interesting information on the various birds and animals which are found in the forest.

Materials A pot of paste, brush, and water will give you the means to make your own collecting cards.

Express your personality I HAVE often heard it said: "If I were to turn up at a party in my nightgown and my hair in curlers..."

SO many times I've been told that a European woman simply cannot do her own housework in this country.

Quick drying I wash clothes every day and in this washbasket's paper I find a good way to dry them.

This season's vogue is for velvet

EACH season there is something new in the materials. It is velvet that designers appear in every collection and it is used in a conservative variety of ways.

THE WHIMSICAL POET

by Hazel May

...many times do you read a name in print and find it surprising that the person whose name is behind it is a dramatist or poet-dramatist CHRISTOPHER FRY is the first name of a number of studies of men and women who command our attention in the world of today.

In the coming weeks we will interview politicians, writers, poets, composers, dancers and the men who make us laugh by their wit.

CHRISTOPHER FRY is a dramatist, a poet, a novelist, a screenwriter, a producer, a director, a writer, a man who has done it all and more. He is a man who has been in the theatre since he was a boy and who has been in the world of letters since he was a young man. He is a man who has been in the world of letters since he was a young man. He is a man who has been in the world of letters since he was a young man.

Tanganyika's 'eternal triangle'

A "Tanganyika" Correspondent writes in a column headed "The eternal triangle" that one object of the Tanganyika party in a mixed assembly—has been to secure the support of the African (four-fifths of them Indians) should not be offered equal partnership with the black and white races—this is the whole question of what the future shape of government in East Africa is to be.

There are certain obvious objections to this proposal. The first being the possibility of other persons being the victims of the other two in any version of the eternal triangle in fact.

The right man... There is a wide field of other persons who might be selected to take over the duties of the present incumbent. It is a matter of fact that the present incumbent is a man of high standing in the community and has a wide knowledge of the country and its people.

The importance of a right choice in the appointment of a special officer to be entrusted with the duties of the present incumbent is a matter of fact that the present incumbent is a man of high standing in the community and has a wide knowledge of the country and its people.

The organization made by this Anglo-African committee have a far greater significance than the remodeling of the Legislative Council and local government.

BUTCHERS' BASKET TRADE TO UGANDA STARTS AGAIN

COMPLAINTS in Uganda Legislative Council and from the Government of Uganda—concerned in this emergency week day—about the stopping of the basket trade between Kenya and Uganda, have resulted in a reversal of policy at the Kenyan end.

The basket trade was stopped by the Kenya Meat Commission because, a spokesman said yesterday "only a very few applications were received to export meat. The quantity involved in the licences issued for was so small that it did not seem to be of any importance he explained.

Originally the question of the basket trade arose because of Government regulations required that those should be an export licence to cover the export of meat from Kenya to Uganda to be issued.

Small quantities... The Railway authorities were subsequently asked not to accept consignments not covered by the necessary licence. Some licences were issued, but the small quantities involved were not sufficient to meet the requirements of the Government.

"We have had a message from the National Park today that the trade will go on as before."

Foreign visitors find London at night a very dull place

A FEW days ago, at the dinner of the Arts Theatre Club—pleasant informal place—Donald Wolff, the Shakespearean actor, told us in an after-dinner speech that television is a menace advancing to ruin the theatre.

Of course, several have been seen on the screens like ever since the lights started twinkling about the Romans long ago.

And what did Wolff Shakespeare say about the theatre's situation?

Wolff is entitled to his opinion; but most actors and theatre managers in Britain are not afraid of television. The demand of public television is not a menace to the theatre; it is a new and exciting medium.

It is a new and exciting medium, but it is not a menace to the theatre. It is a new and exciting medium, but it is not a menace to the theatre.

After dinner, at night three o'clock, it is the quiet city of London at night. It is a very dull place.

AFRICAN DEFENCE FACILITIES TALKS END IN UNANIMITY

References to West

ALL DELEGATIONS EMPHASISE NEED FOR FURTHER JOINT EFFORTS

THE African Defence Facilities Conference which ended in London on Friday night has made its final recommendations designed to ensure the rapid payment of troops and military supplies through the Eastern and Central Africa Command.

It has also been agreed that the Governments of the Union of South Africa and the Republic of South Africa should submit the recommendations to the other participating Governments and consider if modifications are required in order to implement the proposals of the conference.

An official statement at the end of the final session pointed out that the two technical committees had during the past fortnight considered in some detail the facilities which would be required in the event of a general emergency which should govern their application.

The chairman of the conference Lord Onslow later told an Associated Press reporter that together the United Kingdom and South African Governments would eventually submit their recommendations to the other participating Governments.

Lord Onslow said that the two technical committees had during the past fortnight considered in some detail the facilities which would be required in the event of a general emergency which should govern their application.

Far from trivial

But there was more than a little in the report made by the conference of Africa's defence facilities which should not be considered as trivial.

At the conference, the French delegation, which had been invited to attend as an observer, was particularly active in the discussions.

Between The Zambezi And The Limpopo

BY BEN JONES

"Travelling by road from the Cape Peninsula to Nairobi," says the writer of this article, "the Southern Rhodesian registration plates on my car displayed considerable interest. It was often asked questions relating to the development of this Colony. This, then, is a brief pen-picture of a country which can still lay claim to being a land of opportunity."

Where The Moon Is Loved

By Margaret Malcomson

When East Africa was very young, the old and the young of the Kibiko people believed that the moon which shone over their land was a girl who had been taken away from her home by a wicked man. The moon was a girl who had been taken away from her home by a wicked man. The moon was a girl who had been taken away from her home by a wicked man.
