New tourist route through wildest East Africa

A new tourist route through East Africa is being developed which will be able to handle some of the magnificent scenery and conservation of wildlife in the area. Aaron Segal outlines the route and plans to play.

FROM THE EAST, the Nile valley is a fertile strip of land which has been the cradle of civilization. It is a route which has been traveled for centuries by caravans and pilgrims. Now it is being developed as a new tourist route through the wildest parts of East Africa.

The route offers a variety of scenery and is a new departure for tourists. It is a route which has been traveled for centuries by caravans and pilgrims. Now it is being developed as a new tourist route through the wildest parts of East Africa.

COVERAGE FULL BUT UNEVEN FOR JAMHURI

THE UNITED STATES has the most complete coverage of the Jamhuri Revolution, but the coverage is uneven in every respect, through the use of different news agencies.

TV and RADIO REVIEW BY GUY RICHARDS

It is not easy for the public to see the Jamhuri Revolution on television, though this was somewhat surprising, since it was expected to be a major event. The coverage was uneven in every respect, through the use of different news agencies.

U.N. PUTS PLAN FOR CONGO

A.R. admits aiding insurgent forces

...Arab Republic had sent and would continue to send arms to the Congo," because it did not regard Mr. Tshombe as representative, President Nasser said in Port Said.

Speaking at a mass rally marking the eighth anniversary of the day Anglo-French forces left Egypt after the Suez operation, the President compared the Stanleyville landings with the Suez fiasco and said the U.A.R. had no need to hide its regard for Mr. Tshombe as a martyr.

In the broadcast speech he asked: "What is the difference between the Anglo-French aggression in 1956 and the Belgian-American aggression in 1965?"

Government in accordance with the wishes of the American people. We do not conceal it, but we will have sent arms to the Congo and we shall send more arms to the Congo.

Three killed in Malaysia landing

Malaysian security forces yesterday killed three Indonesian commando raiders in the Pudu area of south-west Malaya, an official communique said.

The communique said the action took place yesterday morning. No further details were available. Operations against the Indonesian were continuing, the communique said.

The Indonesian, believed to consist of about 20 men, landed in the Pudu area of south-west Malaya, near Kuala Lumpur, yesterday morning. They were seen by a Malay village and were captured and taken to the Pudu police station.

Police police and troops of the 10th Malaya Brigade immediately moved to the Pudu area and surrounded the Indonesian commandos. Three were killed and two were taken alive.

A large area of rubber and coconut plantations had been cordoned off and a curfew imposed on the surrounding area.

Royal Air Force helicopters, which were used to transport the commandos, are supporting the operations.

This is the seventh Indonesian raid on South Malaya since August 1967.

In the first six operations, 20 Indonesians were known to have been arrested. Fifty-three were killed, 210 captured and five are missing, Indonesian officials said.

Right: The young girl is so excited with some whimsical ball of yarn. The books are bound for Abidjan children - a Christmas present from the children of Norwich. These portfolios for Abidjan are played in Spanish with a good chance of a White Christmas - and a double New Year.

A message from the Archbishop of East Africa, the Most Rev. L.J. Beecher

I WANT to take you on a Christmas pilgrimage from Nairobi to the Holy Sepulchre in Jerusalem. I want to take you to the Holy Sepulchre in Jerusalem.

Two Messiahs

It is a strange thing to say, but I have often thought of the two Messiahs who were to come. One was to be born of a woman, the other of a virgin. One was to be born in the flesh, the other in the spirit. One was to be born in the east, the other in the west. One was to be born in the year of the donkey, the other in the year of the ox.

Stress through

It was not until the year 1963 that the East African Community was formed. It was a step towards the realization of the dream of a united East Africa. It was a step towards the realization of the dream of a united East Africa.

Dusty road

The road to Jerusalem is a dusty road. It is a road of many miles, many days, and many hardships. It is a road of many miles, many days, and many hardships.

...the Holy Sepulchre in Jerusalem. I want to take you to the Holy Sepulchre in Jerusalem. I want to take you to the Holy Sepulchre in Jerusalem.

Mill country

It is a strange thing to say, but I have often thought of the two Messiahs who were to come. One was to be born of a woman, the other of a virgin. One was to be born in the flesh, the other in the spirit. One was to be born in the east, the other in the west. One was to be born in the year of the donkey, the other in the year of the ox.

And she brought forth her first-born son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger, because there was no room for them in the inn.

A 20-QUESTIONS QUIZ FOR THE HOLIDAY

To help to whittle away any spare moments readers may have over the Christmas holidays we present a 20-Question quiz on people who were in the news, internationally or in East Africa, during 1964.

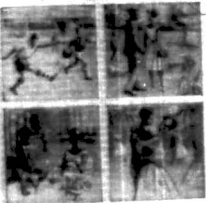

They will be three pages of 20 questions each. Entries should be addressed to the Features Department, East African Standard, P.O. Box 3025, Nairobi, and marked "Christmas Quiz". The competition is not open to employees of the "East African Standard". Answers will appear in next Friday's weekend edition.

Fairy lights were strung across the streets of London last night, and the city was lit up like a Christmas tree.

The lights were strung by the thousands, and they were of every color. There were reds, greens, blues, and yellows. They were strung in long lines, and they were strung in short lines. They were strung in every way that you could think of.

Miss Julie Lee Laidler points out one of the dolls which she has just collected since 1942 from all over the world for her Christmas tree.

THE FIRST CHRISTMAS

By Susan Carroll

After three in the wind and heavy rain, Mary would have a chance to rest.

She had the baby in a stall and gently, before Mary in a warm blanket, she lay down to rest. They were in the manger.

Mary made up and called out to Joseph, she quickly went to her stall to give her baby and covered and before long the beautiful healthy baby whom came from Joseph, they turned him warmly in their white robes and softly laid him in the manger. How happy they were.

All the time last night when there were three angels in the sky, one of them came down to rest in the manger and just when the angels were about to fly away, one of them suddenly made up and shook his head and said, "I am not an ordinary baby. He was born to save the world."

Nation's leaders send holiday messages

CHRISTMAS messages have been sent by the Vice-President and many Ministers to the people of Kenya expressing good wishes and recalling the achievements of the last year.

The Vice-President said: "This great day has come two weeks after our becoming a Republic. This day is commemorated in all parts of the world and in Kenya in all pouring festivities in celebrating the day on which the Saviour of Mankind was born."

"We would do well to examine how God wishes through His Son and all his other messengers to reduce the world to what is best."

"We as Christian workers, believe in equality and fair distribution of wealth. The way forward is through a worker, and also a great advancement, and was a friend of the poor, to see him as a teacher."

DEFINITE PURPOSE

"On this memorable day I want simply to speak to my brothers and sisters, a simple message which is their right. I want to say that the beautiful land of Kenya must have a definite purpose in life. That purpose is to create and maintain a stable society of devoted people. The way to achieve this lies only in the worker's hands."

"In a brief period of three years, our people of Kenya have worked so hard that we have altered the course of history. We can follow this by and adequately against the forces of imperialism and the neo-colonialism and uphold the principles of equality and human dignity."

Dr. Karim, Secretary of the Council of State, said: "The Government has made a great deal of progress in the last few months. We have made a great deal of progress in the last few months. We have made a great deal of progress in the last few months."

MORE TROOPS FOR MALAYSIA

'We will leave .N. threat by Indonesia

BRITAIN has announced that two battalions of troops would leave in January for the Far East in view of Indonesia's intensification of her policy of attacking Malaysia.

The British move to increase military strength in the Far East will add roughly 1,000 soldiers to the forces in Malaysia. One of the battalions is made up of paratroops.

Indonesian sources said the troops would start leaving in December, in a bloc which would extend over a period in January.

An official statement said the paratroops would remain in the Far East for a longer period than their original schedule of two months' jungle training.

Capture claim 'preposterous'

Another British-based battalion would go to Hongkong, releasing a Gurkha battalion for service in Malaysia.

The Defense Ministry said "all these moves are purely precautionary."

In Kuala Lumpur a Malaysian Foreign Ministry spokesman said that Indonesia's President Sukarno said that Malaysian infiltrators had been captured in Indonesia by their own forces.

The charge made by the Indonesian government in Kuala Lumpur, that Indonesia was a threat to the security of the United Kingdom in Malaya, was said to be "preposterous."

Brutality in questioning alleged

SOUTH African police tried to extract statements from detainees by making them stand continuously for up to 96 hours and by other means, according to a report published in the United Nations yesterday.

In a report which was presented to the United Nations Human Rights Commission, the South African government was described as "having used a variety of methods which are regarded as inhuman and degrading." The report stated that the South African government had used "methods which would be regarded as inhuman and degrading."

U.P.A. activities one part of anti-communist program, report states.

Dr. Nyerere on 'quiet revolution'

Tanzania and Africa as a whole, a quiet revolution had been going on almost unperceived within the country itself. President Nyerere said in a broadcast to the nation yesterday.

"This is a revolution in the very standard of living. It has only just started, and it will be some years before every one of you feels the effect. But we have started, and now that the wheels have begun to turn the pace can increase year by year and month by month."

In a widespread speech, the President said that the "real heroes of Tanzania" were the men and women who were working hard on the farms and in the factories, who were facing difficult conditions of weather for the sake of the better life of the country.

Referring to foreign aid, President Nyerere said that Tanzania did not need it, but that it was important to have it.

CALL FOR ZEAL IN PROGRESS

Stanford East Reporter, London.

The East was criticized by the Minister for Commerce and Industry, Dr. James Odingo, for being "aggressive" for not performing the official opening of the Central Bank's Memorandum of Understanding with Kenya.

Dr. Odingo said this was to be marked by new and bold measures, for progress not only at the development bank but also at the Kenya Industrial Development Corporation.

"Without it our development bank would be a dead letter," he said.

"Now that we have our people's freedom we must open up the way for progress. The achieving of this objective will depend on the progress of our industrial development. It is the responsibility of the East African states to ensure that the progress is not only in the industrial sector but also in the social and economic sectors.

During the third quarter of the year, the East African states had a combined trade deficit of £15 million. This was a significant improvement on the £25 million deficit of the second quarter.

INDONESIA TURNS OUT OF U.N.

Malaysia steps up defence measures

Indonesia has withdrawn from the United Nations, a member of the Indonesian U.N. delegation said on Saturday.

A United Nations spokesman, informed of the statement, said he knew nothing of any Indonesian withdrawal.

President Sukarno had said earlier that he would pull Indonesia out of the United Nations if Malaysia was not to serve on the Council last week.

Malaysia's Prime Minister, Tunku Abdul Rahman, had said that if Indonesia left the United Nations it would be "a good dividend." Commenting to reporters on President Sukarno's threat, the Tunku said: "That does not worry Malaysia."

Defence measures taken

Malaysia had taken steps to defend itself against possible threats from East African forces in view of the republic's withdrawal from the United Nations, the Federal Deputy Premier and Defence Minister, Tunku Abdul Rahman, said yesterday.

"We are certainly very not aggressive in any part of Malaysia. We have taken every precaution to make sure that we have never acted in accordance with the United Nations Charter, and we do not intend to do so in the future," he said.

WORLD OUT OF U.N.

U.S. clear victory for Pakistan President

PRESIDENT AYUB KHAN of Pakistan has been elected to a five-year term with a clear victory in the Presidential election, according to figures released by the Election Commission.

They gave the 55-year-old leader 68,207 votes in an electoral college of 50,000 in East and West Pakistan, against 12,370 for his main opponent, Yousaf Fatima Jinnah.

Results still coming in showed an increasing lead by President Ayub. The final result was expected to be delayed by returns from rural centers.

Mr. Jinnah, head of the competing Pakistan National Front, had a slight lead in the urban centers.

Unofficial figures issued by the Election Commission showed that Mr. Jinnah led Mr. Ayub in the urban centers, but that he was defeated in the rural areas.

The National Front was headed by Mr. Jinnah and Mr. F. J. Isakhan.

Mr. Jinnah said that he would continue to work for the welfare of Pakistan.

Khartoum gay for Independence Day

HUGE PARADE FOR PREMIER

From this morning, who recently went to Khartoum to survey the situation after the recent disturbances in the Sudan.

KHARTOUM was in gay mood for the celebration of the 25th anniversary of the Sudan's independence, with flags and national music lighting up the main streets — with the national colors of blue, yellow and green predominating in the scene.

It was estimated that the crowd thronging the scene in Khartoum, where the Prime Minister, Sir E. Khayr al Khayr, made his major speech, far exceeded the 100,000 coverage of previous years. Thousands of children, including schoolboys from outlying districts, had been brought into the scene during the previous week.

The Prime Minister watched on from a raised platform by the Sudanese Army, Navy and Air Force. With a demonstration of respect for students, Khayr and his entourage were in the front row.

Khayr addressed a gathering of 100,000 from the Khartoum University College auditorium. Sir E. Khayr al Khayr told the new officers that their duty was to protect the revolution which had overthrown the former military government.

He said that there had been a number of false rumors, some of the Sudan's major newspapers and in particular on the grounds of the Sudanese African National Union for a national conference as a national day.

He said that the Sudanese government would be a just state which would accept the facts, speak for truth and acknowledge the reality of the situation. He said that the Sudanese student has a special status which must be recognized in the country's administrative and constitutional arrangements.

Members of the National Council held an informal session, when they adopted a resolution given by the National Union to elect Sir E. Khayr al Khayr as the country's Prime Minister. In the background is the Sudanese flag.

The Prime Minister of Sudan, Sir E. Khayr al Khayr, greets the crowd of homes in the hotel stand at Sudan's military College.

U.S. APPEAL TO INDONESIA

Resignation not yet accepted

The President of the U.N. General Assembly, Mr. Alex Quaison-Sacko of Ghana, has appealed to Indonesia to reconsider her withdrawal from the United Nations.

A spokesman said the appeal, issued "in the name of Afro-Asian solidarity and the cause of peace," was relayed through Indonesia's U.N. mission in New York.

A U.N. spokesman, meanwhile, said that the secretariat still considered Indonesia a U.N. member despite official notification by Mr. L. N. Palu, Indonesian member representative, of his Government's decision to resign in protest over Malaysia's being seated in the Security Council.

Mr. Palu said he was returning to Djakarta to "talk over" with his Government the decision to withdraw from the U.N.

Attempt at dismission

Diplomatic sources said they believed Mr. Palu would take the opportunity to try to dissuade President Sukarno from a complete break.

Mr. Palu told reporters at a diplomatic reception that he was in process of closing down the Indonesian mission. Asked when a written communication announcing the resignation might be forthcoming, Mr. Palu put a hand to his forehead and observed that he had not observed the resignation might be forthcoming.

Djakarta has instructed him to discontinue U.N. service Jan. 30, Indonesian U.N. source said.

Mr. Palu said from Djakarta that the appeal Government was motivated by a bid to create a new spirit of cooperation and organic forces, while President Sukarno's resignation was a result of non-agreement at the Bandung conference.

President opens new Nairobi hotel

£280,000

Kenyatta yesterday officially opened the new £280,000 hotel by cutting the white with ribbon tape stretched across the main entrance of the hotel.

The opening of the hotel was witnessed by more than 500 invited guests, including Cabinet Ministers, diplomats, government officials and people from various walks of life.

WILDLIFE DEPLETION

The President said "My Government attaches great importance to the tourist industry. Three years ago when work on this hotel was begun, some 60,000 visitors spent £1,700,000 in the Kenya tourist industry.

In our current development plan, we have declared that the tourist industry will be expanded. To reach out to the tourist industry will be to attract increasing numbers of middle-income tourists, while continuing to cater for the growing numbers of low-income tourists as well. In order for this to be our policy that hunting safaris should remain a higher-priced and exclusive undertaking, whose lowering of licence fees would deplete wildlife resources."

The Kenya Government was yesterday urging the ban of the Kenya Agricultural Workers Union, which has been declared illegal by the High Court.

NEW YEAR RACES PROVIDE FRESH FACTS ON GOING

BY THE STAMBERG RACING CORRESPONDENT

THE New Year Yearling racing and adult stakes, each featuring a different group of general racing blood, have provided some interesting facts on the going.

It is generally held that the going is good for the first half of the year, but that it is likely to be better for the second half. This is because the ground is likely to be drier and firmer, and the horses are likely to be in better condition.

The going is also likely to be better for the second half of the year because the ground is likely to be drier and firmer, and the horses are likely to be in better condition.

The going is also likely to be better for the second half of the year because the ground is likely to be drier and firmer, and the horses are likely to be in better condition.

SIMILAR EFFECTS

As a result from difficulties that have been experienced in the past, it is likely that the going will be better for the second half of the year.

Trade pact with Rumania should open new market

Kenya is expected to see rapidly expanding export and commercial relations with the country, the Minister for Commerce and Industry, Dr. Kioko said in Nairobi yesterday.

"I personally regard this new trade agreement as a token of the tremendous confidence a number of overseas countries have in our leadership and in our young republic," Dr. Kioko said.

Dr. Kioko, who was speaking at a Press conference which he introduced a four-man Rumanian delegation which arrived in Kenya at the weekend, said he hoped the agreement would also cover Rumanian scientific and technical assistance to Kenya.

The delegation, which is expected to stay for about a month, was in Kenya to discuss with Kenya Government officials details of a trade agreement to be signed soon between the two countries, he said. They would also discuss scientific and technical assistance.

INVESTMENT POSSIBILITIES

While in Kenya the delegation would also survey possibilities of Rumanian investments in the agricultural and commercial enterprises in the country.

The Minister said the delegation had come as a result of a visit by the Minister for Agriculture, Mr. McKean, and the Assistant Minister to the Ministry of Economic Planning and Development, Mr. E. K. Njiru, to Rumania in October and November last year.
