Two sides prepare for war

Vietnam: Battle of Dak To

While the Turks held their street demonstration the Greeks mounted a show of military power. A long line of heavy-armed men of the Greek Army left Athens and set off northwards towards the Greek-Turkish border (above). On Cyprus itself there were rumours of impending invasion and anxious eyes were turned north towards the mainland. Below, Greek-Cypriot students demonstrated for Hellenic demands; the return to Cyprus of the former E.O.S.K.A. leader General Grivas, who was recently recalled to Greece.

...all military peace was kept between Turkey and ... in Vietnam war continued. ABOVE: ... with troops dug as an ammunition dump at ... in South Vietnam, is seized by North ... mortars. BELOW: American air cavalry ... in an assault a few miles north of Dak To.

Tension between Turkey and Greece over the Cyprus issue remained high at its outbreak despite the call to all sides by the United Nations asking them to stop doing anything which might lead to a worsening of the situation. In both countries there have been demonstrations and a bitter exchange of statements and threats.

THE WORLD

How U.S.S.R. Third World

In the course of events the capitalist countries established by the world market, for plundering resources and dominating the field of activity of the capital started to shrink.

However even today the mechanism of world economy outside the Socialist camp constantly reproduces and deepens the economic dependence of highly developed capitalism and the former colonial outposts, known today as the "Third World".

An aspect of the world Socialist movement is the Soviet Union and the Third World. Was the developing countries in a position to resist the international economic and political domination of the capitalist countries? They find a key from the "Third World" in the "Third World".

Economic cooperation between the Soviet Union and the developing countries of Asia, Africa and Latin America is an absolutely new thing.

Though Soviet assistance to foreign countries was rendered even before the war began, this was only on a small scale. The proportion of U.S.S.R. aid to the developing countries increased considerably after the war.

For instance, the industrial assistance for the establishment of the U.S.S.R. and these countries.

Active help

The Soviet Union, actually started to render active economic and technical assistance to the developing countries in the second half of the 1940s.

The U.S.S.R. made it possible to meet the requirements of the developing countries in the field of industrial and technical assistance.

Easy terms

It must be stressed that the granting by the Soviet Union of 12-year credits to the value of $200 million for the purchase of industrial machinery and equipment is an example of the U.S.S.R. of traditional trade relations.

Iron and steel

Soviet credits will make it possible to commence construction for producing 1,500,000 tons of cast iron, 600,000 tons of steel, 1,000,000 tons of pig iron, 1,000,000 tons of refined steel, 1,000,000 tons of pig iron, 1,000,000 tons of refined steel, 1,000,000 tons of pig iron, 1,000,000 tons of refined steel.

Ten Heads of State expected in Arusha

Standard Staff Report

A PUBLIC Holiday has been proclaimed throughout East Africa on a Friday, when the East African Community is to be born, according to an official statement from E.A.C.O. headquarters last night.

It is said the holiday would give all East Africans the chance to welcome the birth of the continent, the only one of its kind in Africa.

The statement declared that the birth of the Community would be marked with traditional African pomp and colour at Arusha, which is to be its permanent headquarters. Seven Heads of State, in addition to the three East African leaders, are expected to attend the opening ceremony.

Tom-toms to thunder news

Before a large number of guests in front of the National Hall at Arusha, President Nyerere of Tanzania, who will be the first chairman of the Community early on Friday morning and second East African Authority, will announce the birth of the Community early on Friday morning and traditional drums and tom-toms will thunder to spread the happy message ahead.

THE International Red Cross said in Geneva yesterday that it would only be prepared to help to pay for the salaries of the 20,000 homeless African refugees in Rwanda if the O.A.U. permitted the Red Cross to verify the willingness of the Government to return to the country all those who were ready temporarily to leave the country.

The Red Cross added that it was in no way connected with the 20,000 homeless African refugees in Rwanda. It was only a humanitarian organization and it was not a political party.

PRELIMINARY consideration of the orders for Kenya's National Assembly will itself to provisions for the election of the President, making critical changes in the Constitution.

It reports points out that Section 10 of the Constitution requires that the President be elected by the citizens, whereas the National Assembly is provided for in the Constitution. The President is made and strict scrutiny, the matter does not fall under the strict scrutiny jurisdiction because, it is explained, these would be "special situations of the kind" standing orders, which are the constitution's power of reference.

Nevertheless, the committee says it has taken some steps to recommend adoption of a new constitution without amendment. "In view of the obvious dangers inherent in leaving such an important matter outstanding too long."

The need to elect a President arises, one, where the National Assembly is dissolved, and the President goes to the country, second, where the President dies in office, and third, where the President is removed from office, and in one or two other situations, including ceasing to be an M.P. otherwise than by dissolution of the House.

Constitutionally, it is provided that after Parliament has been dissolved, the election of the President shall be held at the ensuing General Election. After presidential candidates have been nominated, every candidate in the General Election must declare, before polling day, which of the presidential candidates he supports. It follows the electorate will take into account "not only the constituency candidate's own merits, but his party affiliation and the name of the person he will support as President. In this manner, the President becomes elected from the floor of the country in a democratic manner."

The successful presidential candidate, who may be returned to the National Assembly as an elected constituency Member, will be the one who obtains the declared support of a simple majority of M.P.s, i.e., "exceeding one half of the number of constituencies into which Kenya is for the time being divided, including himself."

M.P.s function for electorate

Where the Select Committee enters the field in its proposed means to deal with two further situations. Consider what should happen where nobody appears as President at the results of the General Election. This may not seem a likely event under the laws of proposed but could conceivably happen. The Speaker is suggested, should convene a meeting of the elected M.P.s (before Specially Elected Members are returned) and proceed to conduct an election, by ballot box among them, for the presidential office.

Where the occasion for a presidential election occurs other than after the dissolution of the National Assembly, it is proposed that the Speaker should convene a meeting of all Members for the purpose of balloting. The Speaker would be authorized to declare that candidate elected President who receives the votes of more than half the total number of Members entitled to cast votes.

There can be no possible objection to these recommendations so far as the propriety of the voting procedure is concerned under the Speaker's scrutiny. What does come into question is the method envisaged where M.P.s would, in effect, take over the voting powers of the whole electorate. This shall be their President, just as they decide who shall be their constituency representatives and this privilege should not be delegated to a selected few. Linking the candidate's name in the General Election with the presidential ticket is the fairest means, as laid down in the Constitution. To meet any other situation, including a constituency candidate emerging with a clear-cut majority, a different method should be prescribed that is fair and reasonable.

It is proposed that a President can hold office through his party and that the party will be responsible for his success or failure in any election. This is a departure from the present position where the party is not the election of the President.

It is also proposed that the Vice-President should be elected by the party, candidate including whom they will be members of the Government. This is a departure from the present position where the Vice-President is elected by the constitutional office of popular choice.

TRIPS ABROAD MUST BE APPROVED BY THE MINISTRY

FOREIGN missions in Nairobi have been asked to channel all requests to the Ministry of External Affairs, M.P.A., civil servants, and other public figures. The Ministry will process the invitations and, where accepted, will nominate those who will be accompanied by the Government.

In a circular in this effect last week, the Ministry stated that it was a condition for the Government to finance the expenses of "representatives" of the Government to attend international conferences, seminars, and other such events.

Specifically, any duties and expenses of representatives have to be approved by the Ministry of External Affairs.

Kenya does not have diplomatic relations with Taiwan but does with mainland China. A New China Press Agency report has stated that the Chinese have proposed to send a trade mission to Kenya in the month of May.

The Ministry of External Affairs has also advised that the Government of Kenya has also visited Taipei on the invitation of the Nationalist Chinese Government.

Sympathy with peace-loving Britain over devaluation

It is easy to ridicule the UK and universally criticize her for the devaluation of the pound. But it is not so easy to do so. Split in West Germany's 'Grand Coalition'

WITH the 11-month-old "Grand Coalition" Government headed by Chancellor Konrad Adenauer showing its first visible cracks, West Germany are repeat operations for the men who govern their country. Though consisting of the Christian Democratic Union and the Social Democrats, which together hold nearly 90 per cent of the seats in the Bundestag (Parliament), basic differences of outlook persist.

BACKGROUND TO THE NEWS

The split appeared when the Social Democrats voted against their own proposal for the Parliamentary Foreign Committee. The Christian Democrats supported a bill, drafted by the supplementary to the program a letter in the Bundestag to provide additional revenue for the Federal Republic.

The Social Democrats objected that the proposal of social insurance should be on one. The Social Democrats, Party which is the German Minister, said that he had introduced the incident only because he was protesting that the bill is presented to the Bundestag for its vote.

Dr. Heuss said that the incident will not be presented to the Bundestag for its vote. He said that the incident will not be presented to the Bundestag for its vote. He said that the incident will not be presented to the Bundestag for its vote.

Chance discovery of a Safe Powerful insecticide

The discovery of an insecticide with remarkable properties might never have been made but for the observation of a young industrial chemist. While conducting a series of experiments with a new fast-acting for women, he unintentionally found a little of the powder in the sink and floor. Examining the residue he was puzzled to find insects have died and ground his laboratory.

Subsequent experiments revealed that the A.N.I. laboratory was producing a new fast-acting insecticide. The chemist was so pleased with the results that he immediately decided to use it for household purposes. He found that the insecticide was so powerful that it could be used in a very small quantity. PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS WILL BE PEOPLE'S CHOICE

Mr. Moi confirms Government view

Standard Staff Reporter
Kenya Government holds the confirmed view that the President should derive his authority from the people and that this authority should be administered by a general popular election of the President and the Vice-President, Mr. Moi, announced in the National Assembly yesterday.

The Vice-President was referring to a Select Committee's report on the Standing Orders which contained draft rules for the election of the President by the National Assembly in certain circumstances. The motion calling for its acceptance was expected to appear on the Order Paper yesterday.

However, there was no mention of the Order Paper and Mr. Moi rose immediately after formal business to make his statement, in which he said the Government proposed that rules for the election of a President should be excluded from the debate on Standing Orders. He was loudly cheered.

Clarifying position

The Vice-President began by saying that he had been regarding public opinion on the re-consideration of the procedure for the election of the President, and he was making a statement to clarify the position.

Section 53A of the Constitution provided for the President to be elected by the people at a General Election, but when the Government proposed that the President should be elected by the National Assembly, it was a departure from the original intention of the Constitution.

MARTIAL LAW IN MALAYA

VIRTUAL martial law was proclaimed in two Malayan States yesterday as a result of a political meeting that was held on the fifth day up to the Malay Peninsula by the Prime Minister, Tanaka.

The meeting was held in Singapore and was attended by the Prime Minister, Tanaka, and other members of the Government. It was held in the presence of the British High Commissioner, Sir Humphrey Trevelyan.

COST OF BRITISH GOODS

FULL VALUE MAY NOT BE GAINED by East African purchasing public from the refusal to devalue the three currencies alongside the British pound.

These countries stood firm when the pound was devalued by 14 per cent, in the expectation that goods imported from all three countries would be followed suit would fall accordingly; that more money would be earned by these countries, which would then be able to buy a considerable saving in services, British loans.

It seemed somewhat ironical that currencies based on the £ sterling, and much smaller in comparison with the British £, had rather exporters showed their willingness to sellings worth more — 17 to the £ plus the fact that imports from countries whose currencies remained stable would not go up in price, the cost of plant and heavy machinery from West Germany, required for development purposes, will be inflated in value, there would have been a corresponding increase in cost.

Prices began to rise in Britain immediately after devaluation, with the Government's intention in order to restrict buying, which countries which did not earn more for goods sold to countries which did not devalue, including the U.S., Canada and the European Six.

It is an open secret that the British authorities had imagined East Africa would devalue. When this did not happen, British firms hardly looked at their East African markets, realising they would earn less because of the unfavourable rates of exchange.

Some of the chief British exports, notably cars, contain a substantial proportion of material, or components, manufactured in non-devaluated countries, so these will be more costly to buy. Therefore, profits cannot be expected to drop by the full 14 per cent after devaluation.

Instead, there are ominous signs that the prices of some imports from Britain will fall only slightly or not at all. Many British goods have a high content of devaluation or non-devaluation, will not fall in price by raising prices on that account. Importers are being warned in a number of cases that increases of approximately ten per cent are being imposed as a result of "devaluation surcharge" to offset the unfavourable rate of exchange.

In addition, higher freight charges in the New Year will eat further into the prospects of lower prices.

Presidential election rules

CONSIDERATION OF THE SELECT COMMITTEE'S draft rules for the election of a President was abandoned after a statement in Kenya's National Assembly yesterday by the Vice-President, Mr. Moi.

In his communication from the C.O. committee which State drew attention to Section 28 of the Constitution which he expanded, has been in existence ever since Kenya became a republic three years ago. This is the relevant section dealing with the election of a President to the National Assembly, which in a general session has passed to result in another body to be devalued, but which is being adopted as the official document without the National Assembly being dissolved.

The committee requires the House to make rules for the method of conducting the election for consideration and recommendation to the Senate for approval. It is suggested that the House should put into effect existing provisions for the election of a President.

The House has requested a Presidential candidate to be a citizen of Kenya, and a member of the Executive Council. The Constitution also provides that the President should be elected by the people in a free and fair election. The Select Committee's recommendation is that the President should be elected by the people in a free and fair election.

E. Africa starts take over of exams in '96

Standard Staff Reporter
Kenya.
East Africa is to begin a gradual take-over of secondary education examinations in 1996, the chairman of the newly-formed East African Examinations Council, Sir James Cook, who is Vice-Chancellor of the University of East Africa, announced in Kampala yesterday.

Speaking at a Press conference in Kampala, Examinations Syndicate, which at present controls the School Certificate and Higher School Certificate examinations in East Africa, had agreed to collaborate in an expansion of progressive self-effacement.

As soon as arrangements could be made, which would mean in effect 1995 - examinations had been conducted jointly by the Syndicate and the East African Examinations Council.

An experience was gained and students trained, the new council would take an increasing share until eventually the Cambridge Syndicate had withdrawn completely. Sir James said it had not yet been decided what the new examinations would be called.

INAUGURAL MEETING
The council is held to inaugurate meeting at Makerere tomorrow morning. During the planned session on the council.

Sir James said that the objects and purposes of the council, as laid down in the Act which it is to conduct within East Africa, seem academic, technical or desirable in the public interest. This gave it way to its scope, but in the early stages of its work it would have to work out dealing with the secondary school examinations.

Skat will enter charter market with Comets

By MALCOLM PAYNE
Seychelles and Kilimanjaro Air Transport (Skat) is a relatively new airline. Always which has had no more claim to fame than to have been the first to fly between the offshore islands of Tanzania and the mainland, it is to get a boost which will turn it into a fully fledged airline.

The capable hands of Capt. James for several years, Skat has been operating a scheduled service between Seychelles and Kilimanjaro. These and other routes were the only ones which were profitable enough to enable the airline to pay for its fleet. It is now that Skat is to enter the charter market. The airline has been the fortunate recipient of a contract from the U.A.A. plan to put their fleet with the company in other parts of the world. The contract has been signed and the airline is now working under a contract with the U.A.A. plan to put their fleet with the company in other parts of the world. ISRAELI PIPELINE Plan for east of Suez oil to by-pass the canal

By ARYE WALLENSTEIN Tel Aviv

WITHIN a year or so, Israeli hopes to move through a big, new pipeline to the territory nearly coinciding of the crude oil normally shipped through the Suez Canal. Plans for the 110-mile pipeline between Ras at the head of the Gulf of Aden and Addis Ababa on the Mediterranean coast, are envisaged at an annual flow of 50,000,000 tons of crude oil compared with some 170,000,000 tons carried by tankers through the canal before it was closed after the lay-down of the pipes. Egypt had previously maintained a six-day work week on the pipeline, but it was not in the right of three new sea-lanes alternative route for the east of Suez.

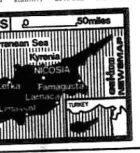

Little information has been revealed about the same project in October. The proposed pipeline was to be financed by the Israeli Cabinet. The project was to be financed by the Israeli Cabinet. The project was to be financed by the Israeli Cabinet.

3-CYPRUS BOILS AGAIN

AS certain as the coming of Christmas, just the coming of crisis in Cyprus. A month ago an officer in the island was quiet now - but in a few weeks' time there will be trouble again. It always happens just before the end of the year. It comes up for renewal. The trouble is not that it is a new problem. The trouble is that it is an old one.

Crisis certain as UN mandate comes up for renewal

CYPRUS is Greek by tradition, but it is a Turkish island. It has been a British crown colony since 1960. The island has a population of about 600,000. The island has a long history of conflict between the Greek and Turkish communities. The island has a long history of conflict between the Greek and Turkish communities.

The Greek population is the largest, followed by the Turkish population. The chart also shows the percentage of each group within the total population. The Greek population is the largest, followed by the Turkish population.

There is considerable speculation in the east regarding the project. The project is a major one. The project is a major one. The project is a major one.

opens a new office today

The Minister for Finance, the Honourable James Mwangi, M.P., will open the Kenyatta Avenue Branch of Barclays Bank. The new branch will be open for business on Monday, 14th November. Also attending the ceremony will be Mr. Charles CBE, a London Director of the Bank, who will be in Nairobi especially for the occasion. It will be the 10th office in Kenya and the 14th to be opened in Africa.

Barclays is continuing to expand not only in its commercial banking services but is increasingly involved in a wide range of services to agriculture and industry in Kenya.

Behind the new office: Mr. D. H. West — Assistant to the Manager. Mr. W. G. Boshia — Assistant to the Manager.

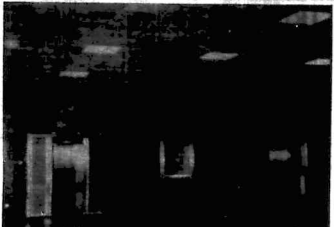

The interiors of all the branches of Barclays Bank range from the simplest in design to the most modern — and the new Kenyatta Avenue Branch is an example of the new progressive thinking in design for new branches of the Bank.

In contrast to the Barclays Bank, Kenya, Barclays staff by shortening queues in Nairobi, North-Eastern Province, with a branch to provide the Government Administration and the local customers with an up-to-date banking service. This is yet another example of Barclays service to all its customers.

The mural in the main banking hall depicts some aspects of Kenya life. It was painted by Mr. David Macdonald, the London artist who is the Bank's international artistic consultant.

One of the eye-catching features of the new Barclays Bank is the Chubb strong room installation. Heavy Chubb doors fitted with reinforced concrete walls with stainless steel lining bases give maximum protection against the latest forms of attack. Another feature in the branch are the electronically coding pinkeys made entirely in Kenya by the Booth Trading Company.

But which Bank?

Barclays of course!

Barclays are ready to advise you; to help you to plan your finances.

There's a branch of Barclays near you—just round the corner.

In fact, there are over a hundred offices throughout Kenya and Uganda, all with well-trained staff. They are friendly. Ready to discuss your needs. Barclays is personal. You'll be surprised how quickly your assets (and responsibilities) mount up. You're going to need a bank all your life. Start with the right one—

PUBLIC HOLIDAYS

NOBODY OUGHT TO UNDERESTIMATE the value of the East African community or the importance of the ceremonial ratification of the Treaty by the Heads of State at Arusha tomorrow.

But it is really necessary to declare a public holiday on the observance of the occasion. If this had throughout East Africa to mark the occasion it would be done at all, surely it could have been thought of weeks ago! Instead, the announcement was suddenly made this week and not synchronized in all three countries.

Events arranged for Friday, including many school functions at the end of term, and important business engagements, have had to be cancelled or rearranged, causing much disorganisation.

The incidence of public holidays and two-hour breaks from work for various reasons must be damaging to the national economy. Work schedules are often interrupted at shops, offices and the flow of production in commerce and industry disrupted in consequence.

Despite public holidays, commercial services, mass communications, except that staffs commencing and harder and longer hours of official engagements and celebrations. So this comment is not pure grapple and can be regarded, perhaps, as an impartial opinion.

With the addition of tomorrow to January Day and the two days for Christmas, there are going to be four public holidays in the year. The year has public holidays night upwards, the year has public holidays, Labour Day, Madaraka Day, August Bank Holiday, Christmas Day, January Day, Christmas Day and Boxing Day. In addition, there is the 10-15-Five Festival.

All work and no play certainly makes Jack a dull boy but there comes a time when a developing country affords all these holidays, financially or on account of their psychological effects.

Disagreement over Vietnam

NEWS OF MR. McNAMARA'S anticipated resignation from the office of U.S. Secretary for Defense was received with regret by American forces in Saigon. He is expected to become President of the World Bank next year, but there are signs that this move is not of much a straight elevation as the outcome of a rift with President Johnson over policy in Vietnam.

An AFP message states that sources in Saigon have shown concern over the repercussions of Mr. McNamara's resignation on morale in the American forces and in Hanoi. The possibility of a serious difference of opinion between him and the President, or the Secretary of State, Mr. Dean Rusk, or both, is being openly discussed. Only serious reasons would cause a change of status in midstream.

In Saigon military circles, a moderate outlook is attributed to Mr. McNamara by the conduct of the war and he is known to belong to those who believe in "credibly" support regarding military advances by U.S. military chiefs. This camp was founded some time ago by American newsmen who maintained the war was being waged as well as the optimistic military communications would be.

His doubts were noticeable during his last visit in France when he criticised the accomplishments of the lack of them by the C.M.C. Group. Westernland. He was also among the doubting Thomases and was not deemed to have had doubts in place of his normal reserve manner.

Naturally, some senior officers are inclined to over-look Mr. McNamara's moderate approach in contrast with Mr. Rusk's attitude and speak with respect to his resignation. Despite his long record of military experience

The names are typed on a separate sheet of paper and are placed in the front of the tour book. This allows the tour leader to quickly refer to the names of the clubs and individuals who are to be visited during the tour.

East African states ratify agreement in Arusha

NEIGHBOURS WANT TO JOIN 'THE THREE'

Ethiopia and Zambia apply

Standard Staff Reporter Arusha.

ETHIOPIA and Zambia applied formally last night for membership of the East African Community less than 18 hours after it had been inaugurated during a brief and bustling ceremony by President Nyerere.

Members had been invited to the offices of the Authority after the tea break by the father-in-law of the three East African leaders as they posed with Emperor Haile Selassie, President Kaunda and President Nyerere of Somalia. An official began to tell journalists to leave, President Nyerere called out and they were allowed to remain and listen to speeches by the visiting Heads of State.

'There will be no rejection'

President Haile Selassie was the first to apply for membership. He said that Ethiopia intended to submit a written application shortly. President Kaunda followed with a similar application to the three leaders, while President Nyerere said he hoped his country could make a similar application at the 11-member summit on December 14 in Kampala.

President Kaunda told Emperor Haile Selassie and President Kaunda: "Your applications will be carefully considered but I must assure you that there will be no rejection."

He went on to say that there was a procedure through which the applications must be processed and to this end the Authority was to set up a committee of 11 members — two each from Tanzania, Kenya, Uganda, Ethiopia and Zambia. "They will sit down to do the 'what do you say' talk — if — dirty work."

The Ministerial committee was to be set up in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, and would be headed by Emperor Haile Selassie. President Nyerere said that the committee would be set up in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, and would be headed by Emperor Haile Selassie. Coming home

He went on to say that the foundation of the Community as an example which all African States should follow by the time their own regions were in the hands of their people. He said that the Community was a very happy one and that it was a very happy one and that it was a very happy one.

G800

The new belted safety-traction tyre that fights off skids.

The G800 by Goodyear corners better than any other tyre. Gives you more control, too, at high speeds or over the roughest tarmac roads. Why? The G800 combines the cornering ability of round shoulder tread with the unmatched strength of belted construction. And that's belted construction with Goodyear's 31 tyre cord/pound for pound stronger than steel. What's more, the G800 has Tufsyn rubber, another Goodyear exclusive. Tufsyn outlasts any other rubber—it means thousands of extra skid-free miles. Best of all, the G800 costs no more. See your Goodyear dealer now.

AFRICAN UNITY

AFRICAN UNITED LIKE LOOPY Representatives from the East African Community in the past few days have been busy in the capital of Zambia, Lusaka, in preparing for the coming year.

In that historic moment, he made the point that the African unity in this part of the continent, but it is not an "Africanism" but a "Commonwealth" of African states.

It was no coincidence that the Board of State or O.A.I. attended the ceremony. The C.A.A. has announced a plan for the wider economic integration of East and Central Africa, which has developed out of the successful operation was well and truly launched.

For some time, Zambia has been looking towards Africa with a view to entering into full or community membership. President Banda has made the Community formally applied for Zambia to join the Community. Common services go along with the common market. The most satisfactory arrangement would be to have a satisfactory arrangement of the division of capital from Zambia to other countries in the Community.

Zambian minerals, particularly copper, will add inestimable value to the common market, in which the partner will work together on long-term development projects. It seems probable that the greatest difficulty might be encountered over the division of capital from Zambia to other countries in the Community.

Whitopia which has long had common ties with East Africa and especially Kenya, its partner in a mutual defence pact, has formally applied for membership to the Community. When a highway treaty between the two countries is constructed it will not only have strategic value, but greatly contribute to the increase in volume in two-way trade.

Capital of East Africa

The inauguration of the East African Community is the rebirth, and redefinition, of an old association between the three countries. The Central Legislative Assembly, which was in Parliament, has been superseded, having held its final session this week in Kampala. It is quite dead — long live the East African Assembly! — quote the words of Sir Amar Singh, who has contributed so much for so long to its success and whose re-appointment as Speaker has been advocated on all sides.

Sitting as the Authority, the three Presidents will have the support of a Minister nominated from each country to look after East African affairs. The Secretary-General of the old E.A.C.S.C. Mr. Dunstan Omari, has expertly guided the change-over of the administrative machinery to the new Community organisation which is machine to the use of the headquarters of various time goes by, will be the three States.

Amari, after the inauguration of the Amari Declaration of Independence, which was the first step towards the formation of the new Community, has been the first to be appointed as Secretary-General of the new Community. He is a man of wide experience and has been the first to be appointed as Secretary-General of the new Community.

...of a British soldier's

ARABS MAY START NEW WAR—ISRAEL

ARAB countries may decide to launch another war to throw back Israeli forces from territory taken during the June war, Israel's Defense Minister, Gen. Moshe Dayan, told a public meeting in Tel Aviv. Within a year, he said, the Arab world would have replaced all the equipment they lost in the war, he said.

Senator to stand for President

SENATOR Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota has announced he will seek the Democratic nomination for President in the primary elections in four States.

The 31-year-old Democrat's announcement, expected after a tour of several States, came after a four-day campaign in which he had no opportunity to make his views known.

McCarthy said he would like to make his formal bid to challenge the nomination of President Johnson as Democrat in candidate in party caucuses in Wisconsin, Oregon, California and New Hampshire. Two weeks from now, he said, he would like to make his formal bid to challenge the nomination of President Johnson as Democrat in candidate in party caucuses in Wisconsin, Oregon, California and New Hampshire.

Change at Pentagon 'ominous'

The forthcoming departure of the U.S. Defense Secretary, Mr. Robert McNamara, from the Pentagon, who was one of the men named by Mr. Arthur Schlesinger Jr. as one of the five top Presidential candidates, has been seen as one of the great fears for regional and national stability in the context of the U.S. election in New York.

While House demagogues that President Johnson should be replaced by McNamara, the latter opposed a new escalation in the Vietnam war.

French said yesterday that the decision of Mr. McNamara to resign in no way means a new escalation of the Vietnam war, American policy in the A.P.P.

This is an Eterna-Matic automatic calendar that tells you what time it is

The pride of Swiss ingenuity, the Eterna-Matic 2000 - Sunday - is an automatic with calendar that tells the owner the day and the date.

And it is the finest automatic watch in the world of its kind. Needless to say, all this was accomplished along with increased accuracy. The Eterna-Matic 2000 - Sunday - has the exclusive anti-collision rotor which makes it a diamond.

We faced a small problem when we tried to incorporate the "Sunday" in the Eterna-Matic - "Sunday" - no solution. It would have been tedious to change its charming and fashionable design merely to make room for the day indicator.

So the great Eterna-Matic - "Sunday" - comes only with a date calendar. Which is a masterpiece in itself.

The Eterna-Matic 2000 - Sunday - and the Eterna-Matic - "Sunday" - are two of the world's finestest watches that tell you more than just what time it is.

Besides the day and date, they tell you a lot about the owner.
