BATTERIES TO BE MADE IN KENYA

Kenya's Vice-President, Mr. Moi, said yesterday he was hopeful that the positive steps being taken to strengthen the East African Common Market industries in all three countries could form forward in a large measure which would encourage and economically justify other people to invest in Kenya.

Mr. Moi was speaking at a luncheon given by the Kenya Chamber of Commerce and Industry in Nairobi, Kenya, yesterday. He said that the Government was keenly interested in the development of the East African Common Market and that it was hoped that the positive steps being taken to strengthen the East African Common Market industries in all three countries could form forward in a large measure which would encourage and economically justify other people to invest in Kenya.

GIRL WHO GAVE HER HEART AND KIDNEYS

WILLK crossing the street on a crowded sidewalk, she caught the attention of a young man who was waiting for a taxi. She was wearing a hat and a coat, and she looked like a typical New York City girl. But she was something more than that. She was a girl who had given her heart and kidneys to a young man who was dying of a heart disease.

The girl, who is now 21 years old, is a student at the City College of New York. She is a member of the Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society. She is a member of the Alpha Phi Omega service organization. She is a member of the Delta Sigma Theta sorority. She is a member of the Phi Chi Theta fraternity. She is a member of the Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society. ## Operation 'possible for 10 years'

HEART surgeons had thought of the heart transplant operation as a possibility since the heart lung machine was introduced about ten years ago by a Johannesburg heart surgeon in a comment on the operation. But they were deterred by the difficulties of transplanting an organ from one body to another. It is relatively quite easy to transplant a kidney or a liver, but the heart is a more difficult organ to transplant. ## Kenya invite Zambia and Mauritius

ETIOPIA'S international cricket side will visit by plane from Kenya in Nairobi as part of the Nairobi celebration... A cable was received by the secretary of the Association of Kenya, Mr. J. A. Oguni, yesterday stating that the side was unable to leave the port and was expected to arrive in Kenya by air.

AUSTRALIA BITTERLY OPPOSED

A MATREXES who were concerned in an "open" Wimbledon tennis tournament were suspended from playing another tennis tournament... Mr. Edwards, president of the Lawn Tennis Association of Australia (L.T.A.), said today he was disappointed at the decision... Mr. Edwards said he believed the tennis associations of Australia, U.S.A., New Zealand, France, Britain and South Africa were united in opposing any such move.

Able to ride

"If we could get together," he told the audience, "I have a feeling that we have found our way back to the way that it should be... Mr. Edwards continued that the L.T.A. is an ally of the British and Lawn Tennis Associations... Any change in the constitution must be made by the rules... Any change which would reduce the position of the tennis player to a subordinate position is not a change which we would support."

KARATINA

OF BUILDING

SEVENTY-FIVE miles from Nairobi on the Nyero road is a town which is undergoing tremendous development, due largely to the efforts of local farmers. The town is Karatina which was founded in 1912 with only a few shops.

Karatina now has several streets and many buildings are going up, all of them being built by local farmers and traders. The Township Superintendent, Mr. Dominic Lewis, said the township owed the present boom to the fact that farmers had improved their methods of cultivation and were getting more profit from their produce.

He said the town was also built because of the fact that the area was well because of the government approval of the scheme. He said the scheme was approved at the time of the late Governor, Sir John Scott, and that it was approved at the time of the late Governor, Sir John Scott, and that it was approved at the time of the late Governor, Sir John Scott.

Many international banks such as National and Grindlays Bank and the Standard Bank are established in the town.

There are several co-operative societies, dairy co-operatives, poultry and furniture co-operatives, a bakery, a Kenya Co-operative Creamery (exporting a brand for the Kenya Co-operative Creamery) and a number of other co-operatives.

Vegetables and fruit are raised in the district and much of the produce is sent to Nairobi for sale.

Story by Joseph Ndung'u
Pictures by S.A. Azim

There is no market for it. The Maitha region grows legumes, mangoes and pineapples and all their produce needs marketing and processing facilities. The township could have a factory going if one was set up.

The chairman of the Development and Planning Committee, Mr. J. M. Mwangi, said the council was carrying on negotiations with the Government for the establishment of a vegetable and fruit processing factory.

He said that they had succeeded in attracting investment from farmers by giving them and explaining the need for housing in the town.

He said that the immediate market for Maitha had a population of more than 100,000 people. The region had dairy secondary schools and the town had technical schools for secretarial training and teacher training because the town was the collecting centre for cattle from these districts.

Literacy campaigns were very successful, and there were building projects, local industries, health centres and extension to the industrial estate.

The council was planning to build a social centre to cater for the welfare of Maitha. They were also planning to build a health centre and a social centre to cater for the welfare of Maitha.

Left, the main street of Karatina with some of the businesses and right, the new flats being built on the morning market. The ground marked out to be used in the background.

TRANSFERR TAX INEQUITIES

QUANTITATIVE RESTRICTIONS against goods manufactured by one partner State and exported to the East African Community are forbidden under the terms of the Treaty for Co-operation... Under Article 12 of the Treaty, each State undertakes to remove, at a time not later than the Treaty... into force, all the existing quotas, quantitative or other...

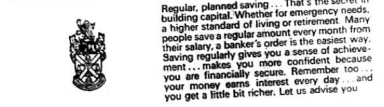

One State which is in deficit in its total trade... manufactured goods with another may impose Transfer Taxes on manufactured goods originating in the other... a value not exceeding the amount of the deficit...

Subject for Common Market Council

The volume of East African internal trade is worth more than K248,000,000. On the assumption that Transfer taxes are imposed all across the board on Kenya goods imported into Uganda and Tanzania, Kenya stands to lose probably K1,500,000 in the first year; but this is a sacrifice considered worth while in the interests of unity...

The effect of imposing especially in parallel with Transfer Tax can only be to restrict that hitherto free movement of goods... The effect of imposing especially in parallel with Transfer Tax can only be to restrict that hitherto free movement of goods...

Students to avoid 'ivory tower' atmosphere

Students in Kenya, under the supervision and the tutelage of the Government, are to avoid an "ivory tower" atmosphere which has been being touched with the every day life of the Vice-President, Mr. Moi, told students at a College press conference.

EXPORTS OF CANNED MEAT MAY BE BOOSTED

Kenya cannot meet its requirements in Britain for mutton and lamb. The Government is to increase meat from South American supplies.

The Minister for Agriculture, Mr. M. M. Kariuki, said yesterday that the Government would be increasing the supply of mutton and lamb from South America to meet the requirements of the British market.

Mr. Kariuki said that the Government was also looking for ways to increase the supply of mutton and lamb from South America to meet the requirements of the British market.

COUNCIL WELCOMES TREATY

The African Council has welcomed the signing of the Treaty of East Africa, which will bring the three East African States under a single administration.

The Council, which is made up of representatives from Kenya, Uganda and Tanzania, has expressed its support for the new arrangement.

The Council has also welcomed the signing of the Treaty of East Africa, which will bring the three East African States under a single administration.

It was necessary for students to understand the policies of the Government and political parties in power and within the framework of national planning and development. Failure to do this would render them liable to "ivory tower" isolation and their contribution to national development would be non-existent.

While there was no direct emphasis on students displaying loyalty to a political party, and while within the campus students discussed and criticized what a government was doing or saying, it was not expected that public demonstrations against the leadership or secret moves towards the Government's downfall should be made.

We expect students to understand us and we welcome them to discuss their views with us as an attempt to create that understanding," Mr. Moi said.

'OUR HIGHEST INVESTMENT'

University education was about the highest investment in any developing country and it was expected that through this trained personnel would be available to run the country to the best advantage.

Services and technology were a "must" if Africa was to be developed and controlled by Africans. Experts were needed as much in agriculture, industry and administration as in education.

As far as the particular trained personnel, the Minister said that the Government was not only providing for the training of students but also for the training of teachers and administrators to run the country.

MEMBERS of the Rift Valley Provincial Council yesterday wholeheartedly endorsed the East African Community for the role it had played in the development of Kenya and welcomed the participation of Ethiopia and Zambia in the new organization.

The members, who were attending the annual meeting of the Council at Nakuru Town, held the view that the East African Community was a step towards the realization of the African continent's unity and the development of the continent as a whole.

The Council also welcomed the signing of the Treaty of East Africa, which will bring the three East African States under a single administration.

COURT TOLD OF POLITICS IN MURDER CASE

Justice M. M. Kariuki told the High Court yesterday that the five men accused of the murder of a young girl in Uganda had been found in sacks in Adhi River.

The prosecution witness, Mr. Andrew Sentonge Mwachui, a former employee of the East African Home Department, said during the trial that he had been among a number of Ugandans who had been arrested after the girl's disappearance.

Included in those arrested was a man named Ben Lukwago, who had been taken back to Kampala. It was not clear whether a photograph had been taken.

Only a few weeks ago, it was reported that new oil fields of great promise had been discovered in Nigeria. A little earlier, similar finds were reported in Senegal, Angola. The whole of West Africa and the continental shelf outwards may yield a rich harvest one day.

Further explorations could lead to more discoveries which could make Africa rival the Middle East and other oil-producing areas of the world.

The chief petroleum producing countries in Africa are Libya, Algeria, Mauritania, Gabon, Congo, Angola and Morocco and last year together they produced 200 million tons of oil and natural gas liquids in Britain and the previous year. This is about 72 per cent of total world production.

Yet hardly ten years ago it would have been regarded as totally incredible to suggest that Africa could yield oil of any real commercial significance.

The world was far too misled by the astronomic oil prices in the Middle East to realise that the Middle East supplies the world with the oil it consumes. Only little was known to exist in Egypt and still smaller amounts in Morocco and Algeria.

However, patient exploration and improved scientific research facilities have transformed the Middle East picture in Africa. This is reflected in the recent Arab action in withdrawal of supplies to Britain and the United States.

The U.K. could go on to exploit the Middle East supplies without British domestic consumption. Last year, Nigeria supplied ten per cent of Britain's needs.

African oil is a product of conditions created by the Second World War.

The France takes credit for having the necessary faith and determination to carry out the intensive search for oil in the African continent.

The work was costly but the French struck two oil fields, one at Agadir, Morocco and the other at Hassi Messagret, near the Libyan border and the other at Hassi Moudjahid, 400 miles south-east of Algeria.

Subsequently, they also found oil in the Algerian fields in the world at Hassi Messagret, then more than 600 miles have been explored in Algeria.

NEW SPORTS BOARDS FORWARD
 The Kenya National Football Federation has announced that it will be introducing a new type of sports board for use in the various football competitions. The new board is designed to be more durable and to provide better protection for the players. It will be made of a special material and will be available to all teams in the country. The Federation is also planning to introduce a new type of football, which will be played on a smaller field and will be more suited to the conditions of the country.

UNIVERSITY TEAM FOR KAMPALA
 The University of Nairobi has announced that it will be sending a football team to Kampala for a friendly match with the University of Makerere. The match is scheduled to take place in the month of November. The University of Nairobi team consists of several players who are well-known in the local football scene. The match is expected to be a very interesting one and will provide an opportunity for the two teams to test their skills against each other.

Liverpool end 1967 season in triumph

THOUSANDS of Merseyside people turned out to witness an excellent football match between Liverpool and Dundee when they met in the Football Cup final at the Echo Stadium on Saturday. Liverpool's victory in the match was the last triumph of the club's reign of glory in the English National Football League. The team, which was led by manager Bill Shankly, had won the league for the first time in 1966. They also won the FA Cup in 1965 and the European Cup in 1967. The victory in the Football Cup final was a fitting end to a successful season for the club.

The quality of a PARKER 75 style and cost makes it an investment and good value for the giver and the recipient.

The sterling silver PARKER 75 is like no other; a masterpiece proud of for ever.

No surprise
 Dundee came more into the game in the first ten minutes of the second half and showed signs of being serious contenders.

Liverpool came back quickly and it was no surprise that they should have scored a third goal after scoring three goals in the first half. The match was a triumph for Liverpool and a defeat for Dundee.

What's new in the 1968 FASTBACK

SQUAREBACK

TRADBACK

A lot of new safety features and a lot more comfort. Inside, safety steering wheel and column, 3-point safety belt anchorage, safety window handles. Seats adaptable to 49 different positions, wider armrests and pockets on both doors, improved fresh air ventilation system.

And outside. Dual circuit brakes, external fuel tank filler, bigger type door handles, longer wiper blades. That's only some of the features. Come and have a look at the others.

There's a new model too. The Squareback van. It's got all-metal sides and is less expensive than its brother. Add all the normal Volkswagen features and you won't find better motoring anywhere.

K.N.F.L. may have two divisions

The divisions may be formed by the Kenya National Football League next year, if the recommendation is accepted. The recommendation is to split the league into two divisions, one for the urban areas and one for the rural areas. This is being done to ensure that all teams have a fair chance of competing at the highest level. The K.N.F.L. is currently a single division league and it is hoped that the new structure will make it more competitive and exciting for fans.

ORDER TO halt 'panic' among aliens

Shipping Lines Plan Ahead Via Cape

Standard Staff Reporter

Efforts to avoid "panic" among non-citizens, Kenya immigration officers have been instructed to stop requiring non-citizens to apply immediately for new entry permits, unless they are covered by a "Kenya Gazette" notice calling on them to apply.

Announcing this yesterday, the Permanent Secretary for Home Affairs, Mr. A. O. Omanga, said that immigration officers had been asking quite within the law, but the practice seemed to have caused some alarm among non-citizens and the Government was anxious to avoid this.

"We don't want people to panic," he said. "We want as smooth a change-over to the new act as we can possibly have. There was no need for any people leaving Kenya immediately to worry about getting back as long as they had a valid passport, a valid entry permit and, where necessary, a transit pass."

No building of wall

With these documents anybody could travel as freely as he wished. Nobody was building a wall round Kenya to keep people in or out. There were other means to deal with people who might wish to be let out.

Mr. Omanga, who was accompanied by the Principal Immigration Officer, Mr. Mwangi, said the East African Standard that the strict interpretation of the new immigration laws was that any non-citizen entering or re-entering Kenya had to apply for a new entry permit in accordance with the new classification within three months. But in view of reaction to the new law he had decided not to apply the law strictly in the first few months.

NO MAJOR GAP OVER RHODESIA

RHODESIA'S Prime Minister, Mr. Ian Smith, said in Salisbury yesterday there were no major points of difference between the Rhodesia and Britain on Rhodesia's new Bill of Independence.

Mr. Smith said he was wondering about the Rhodesia Bill of Independence, because it was nearly four years since the Rhodesia Government had made clear to the British Government its position on Rhodesia's independence. Mr. George Thompson, the British Minister in Salisbury, said that the Rhodesia Bill of Independence was not a major point of difference between the Rhodesia and Britain on Rhodesia's new Bill of Independence.

Syria to boycott Arab summit

It is to boycott the second Arab summit since the 1956-57 crisis, as it did the first in Khartoum last August. It was confirmed yesterday by Arab spokesmen and Syria's Foreign Minister, Riad al-Solh, said it will not attend a pre-summit conference in Cairo on Saturday, or the summit itself, scheduled for Khartoum on a date still to be fixed.

BRITAIN BACKS LAGOS

Britain's Foreign Secretary, Mr. George Brown, said yesterday that the Government would back Lagos as a free state. He said that the Government would back Lagos as a free state, and that it would support Lagos in its efforts to become a free state.

STERLING MAY HAVE TO GO DOWN AGAIN

A new VW for '68 (or the impossible achieved)

Impossible! Nothing's impossible. Who would have thought it possible to make any more improvements to a Beetle after all these years. Come and take a look at what we've done. All these changes or additions have been made for extra comfort and safety. And these have been made to the ordinary 1200 Beetle. The 1200 de Luxe model has even more, 94 in fact. And then there's the VW1500 which is like the 1200 de Luxe but has a more powerful engine and disc brakes. You should see these improvements. They are all worth looking at. Especially when they're on the best safety car in the business. And that's a Volkswagen.

Prices: VW 1200. EA Shs. 12,700 (CB85), VW 1200 de Luxe. EA Shs. 15,100 (7765), VW 1500. EA Shs. 16,900 (CB90).

... that's all they are at the coast.

Surveys among elders to record Kenya's history
We budding historians are getting increasingly alarmed at the death rate of wise African elders whose memories and lives are fast fading with shock of the death of ex-Chief James Ouko.
We were divided in our own standards and it was not until we brought this fact out in our publication that we were able to do it. WILLIAM MURRAY, Nairobi, Dec. 11, 1967.

LUO leadership
I was deeply hurt when I read that a self-styled group of misguided Luo politicians, including, I believe, Luo leaders, had formed a Luo Leadership Council to lead the Luo people to a better future. These people did not represent the Luo people as a whole. The Luo people have the Luo mantle. All we need is a Luo Council that will represent the Luo people as a whole. We need a Luo Council that will represent the Luo people as a whole. We need a Luo Council that will represent the Luo people as a whole.

Politicians criticised
THE decision that future Presidents in Kenya will be elected by secret ballot and not a small clique in Parliament is a very welcome piece of news and should be greeted with jubilation. However, it is a pity that the ruling party in Parliament is not congratulating for making this clear. Recent events in Africa have shown that some African politicians are not as enlightened as they might appear to be. We are not sure that we are not being misled by the politicians who are not as enlightened as they might appear to be. We are not sure that we are not being misled by the politicians who are not as enlightened as they might appear to be.

Britain's best tailwear

Everywhere, well-dressed men are wearing Britain's finest tailwear—made by Byford. Lansdowne is a favorite. It is finely-tailored in the best wool and it is shrewdly resistant and machine-washable. There are many more Byford styles to choose from. All made with traditional British craftsmanship and top quality yarns.

Two games against Kenya to celebrate Janhuri

ZAMBIA will meet Kenya in two international soccer matches to celebrate Janhuri (Kenya's independence) in Nairobi yesterday. A reply was received from the Football Association in Lusaka and the Zambian Football Association has agreed to award Zambian players to play in the tournament after the withdrawal of Ethiopia on Monday.

Zambia's soccer selection met hurriedly on Tuesday night to choose a team to fly to Nairobi for the two matches. It was rushed were the arrangements that Zambia were asked to regard the arrangements as a formality of selection. The FA in Kenya sent cables to Zambia and Mauritius inviting them to send teams to meet Kenya in the two-game tournament which is to take place after a week's rest following their two-match game.

Urgent in Kampala on mercenaries

Organization for African Unity Committee on Mercenaries in Kampala

held an emergency meeting in Kampala on Thursday to discuss the role of mercenaries now being sent to a refugee camp in Rwanda.

FOREIGNERS WARNED OF DANGER IN HOLY CITY

Platonic international organization, however, which has declared that it will not be responsible for any "foreign" activities and tourists in the Holy City of Jerusalem on Christmas Eve and the first day of the New Year.

An OAU announcement in Addis Ababa yesterday said the meeting called by the committee's chairman, President Nkrumah of Ghana, plus the Secretary-General, Mr. Diallo Telli, who flew to Khartoum on Thursday.

The meeting was called after an ultimatum by Rwanda's President, Kuyirinda, that the committee should complete its inquiry among the mercenaries within three days or he would take steps to rid his country of their "undesirable presence."

President Mobutu of the Congo-Kinshasa immediately declared that his Government reserved the right to take necessary measures regarding the mercenaries if any African country took unilateral action about them.

About 130 White mercenaries fled to Rwanda in October with 1,600 mutinous Katangese gendarmes; after they had been forced out of the East Congo town of Bukavu which they had held for nearly four months.

However, according to the OAU, at least 100 mercenaries are now being held in Rwanda under the supervision of the Rwandan Government.

The committee is expected to meet in Addis Ababa on Monday.

Easy victory for Cliff Drysdale

Cliff Drysdale of South Africa easily won his opening match in the Bulwer's invitation cricket tournament at the Sports Centre, beating England's Mike Sangster, overstraining the neck to win 41 runs in an innings.

The first day's play was interrupted by rain for 45 minutes on Thursday. The South African, although on a strong strike, fit after the interval. Sangster, however, was not in the opening set and had a point for 21. Cliff Drysdale, who volunteered to win the fourth game and from that stage was very much on top of the matter with his big hitting, the South African won five games in a row to reach 2-1 in the event. Bobby Wilson of Britain won the second match, 5-4, in the opening match of the tournament. The match was a very tough one, but the South African, who appeared unscathed by the best of the new (radio) surface.

The Boeing 707 jetliner returned to service after repairs to the engine.

The Republicans had split into two groups and were fighting among themselves. Unconfirmed reports of the fighting from travellers reaching Cairo from Sanaa, said the Royalists had entered some parts of the capital.

The Royalists, it was claimed, had isolated the airport, while Republican groups not allied to the Government had cut off the towns of Taiz and Hodeida.

Airport's capture denied

However, the Republican Ambassador in Beirut, Dr. al-Baidani, denied that the airport had been cut off. He said there was no information on casualties.

In Cairo, Arab Foreign Ministers were faced with the urgent question of how to stop the heavy fighting. The situation in the Yemen has deteriorated rapidly since Egyptian troops were withdrawn from the Yemen in the war on the Arabian Peninsula.

At the talks, the Sudanese Prime Minister, Mr. Ismail, issued a communique which called for a ceasefire and the withdrawal of foreign troops from the country.

A head of State, President Nasser, said he would attend the summit. He said that he would be accompanied by the Egyptian Foreign Minister, Mr. El-Faki.

East Africa transport study agreed

AN agreement providing for the study of the existing surface transport systems in Kenya, Uganda and Tanzania, with their future needs, has been signed with the World Bank and the United Nations Development Programme.

The Bank and the United Nations Development Programme had allocated about $2,000,000 for the study, to be carried out by the Economic Intelligence Unit of London. It will be under the guidance of a committee consisting of representatives of the three Governments, the East African Community, the United Nations Services Authority and the World Bank.

The study will include, besides road work, the study of existing air, rail and sea transport services, and the development of a comprehensive study of the existing and potential air, rail and sea transport services in the three countries.

Society goes into its new home

THE East African Building Society opened officially this month at its new premises, East African Building Society, Victoria Street, Nairobi.

The Society was established in 1934 for the purpose of encouraging thrift and investment. It has since then grown to become one of the largest and most successful building societies in Kenya.

The new premises are situated in a prominent position in Victoria Street, Nairobi. The building is a modern structure, well equipped with all the latest facilities for the convenience of its members.

The Society's activities are aimed at providing housing for its members and promoting the welfare of the community. It has a wide range of services, including the sale and purchase of land and buildings.

The Society's success is due to the support and cooperation of its members and the assistance of the Government. It has a strong financial base and a sound management system.

The Society's new premises are a landmark in Nairobi, and they will provide a more convenient and efficient service to its members. The Society is confident that it will continue to grow and prosper in the future.

Unrest in Africa not 'collapse of authority'

UNREST in West and East Africa with sudden national changes, such as in Tanzania, "does not necessarily indicate a general collapse of authority and faith of the majority movements towards independence and stability, as some people had predicted."

This was said by Mr. Frederick Branson, Director of Barclays Bank D.C.O., in his annual report. "Change in these areas," he said, "was inevitable and change is usually gradual. It would be foolish to imagine that it will come about easily or without some trials and tribulations before the new order is established."

Mr. Branson said that the new order in Africa was the result of a long and steady process. He said that the new order was the result of a long and steady process. He said that the new order was the result of a long and steady process.

Give apartheid a chance says Mr. Goldwater

Sen. Barry Goldwater today urged that the United States give apartheid a chance in South Africa, saying that it would be wrong to insist on abandoning it before it could prove or disprove itself.

Mr. Goldwater was speaking at a press conference before leaving for Cape Town.

Mr. Goldwater criticized because Robert Kennedy for his tour of South Africa. "I think it is unfortunate that an American politician should try to visit in New York in this way," he said and added that "I might say it was quite unpopular in the United States."

He did not believe that Mr. Kennedy would become President in 1960 or in 1972.

He said he was generally in favor of a higher price, but he would not be able to share the cost of development for agriculture and provide troops for the U.S. lacks a multi-million dollar on hand to finance the East and West.

Mr. Goldwater said that the United States has been proved to be almost 100 per cent wrong in every instance about Africa.

He said he believed that the decision of the World Court had solved the South African problem, and that the United States should not take on the burden of imposing apartheid on South Africa.

It would be wrong to set a time limit on apartheid development," he said. "You can not put time limits on history or on acts of God."

Mr. Goldwater said apartheid would not provide a solution for America's racial problems, just an African solution to solve the problem would not be in South Africa.

Mr. Goldwater was in South Africa with his wife, Mrs. Goldwater, and their daughter, Mrs. Peggy, and Foreign Minister Dr. Hilgard Munn.

Looking forward to a bright future

That's how Bata sees the development of the Kenyan republic. Achievements since independence illustrate the dramatic progress made economically and socially. Take the shoe industry. Bata has made a number of factory extensions and their greater output has enabled more people in Kenya to wear shoes than was possible four years ago. As a result, foot infections are thankfully on the decrease. This increased prosperity is an indication of the way things are going in Kenya. And Bata will continue to make an important contribution.

ONE of the most remarkable features of Kenya's development during the last year has been the steady progress of the Armed Forces.

Network of tarmac stretching far and wide

By DAWSON MWAHANGI
Minister for Works

Ministry has continued to play its part in the development of the nation with vigour and determination over the past year.

Since independence, the construction of new roads and the improvement of old ones has been a top priority in the Ministry's programme. The building of this network of roads has been a major task of the Government.

Our road development programme has been based on the following principles: first, to improve the existing road network; second, to build new roads to connect the major towns and villages; and third, to build feeder roads to serve the rural areas.

One of the most important achievements of the Ministry in the past year has been the completion of the Nairobi-Mombasa road. This road, which is now open to traffic, will greatly improve the transport of goods and passengers between the two major cities.

In addition, the Ministry has completed a number of other important roads, including the Kisumu-Nairobi road and the Malindi-Nairobi road. These roads will greatly improve the transport of goods and passengers in the coastal region.

The Ministry has also been successful in securing international loans for the construction of new roads. These loans will enable the Government to build a large number of new roads in the next few years.

It is the policy of the Government to build a network of roads which will facilitate the transport of goods and passengers throughout the country. This network will be the backbone of the Kenyan economy.

The Ministry is confident that the network of roads which it has built in the past year will greatly improve the transport of goods and passengers in Kenya.

Vital roles

Defence Forces are increasingly being called upon to play a vital role in the development of the nation. They are not only responsible for the defence of the country, but also for the maintenance of law and order.

The Ministry of Defence is committed to the improvement of the Defence Forces. This includes the provision of modern equipment and the training of personnel.

First instructor

In July, the first Kenya qualified flying instructor, Flying Officer Lawrence Lawrence, completed his course at the Royal Air Force School of Flying Training at Cranfield, England.

Officer Lawrence is now based at the Kenya Air Force Base at Nairobi. He will be responsible for the training of new pilots in Kenya.

SAVINGS SCHEMES FOR HOMES TO BE OPENED SOON

By PAUL NGB, the Minister for Housing

On this fourth anniversary of Kenya's independence I would like to say something about a new scheme for homes which will soon be opened to the very ordinary citizen.

The new scheme is in cooperation with the Commonwealth Development Corporation and the Housing Finance Corporation of Kenya.

Another new development which will be applied early in 1963 will be the appointment of a special housing board.

It is my intention to have a special housing board to be set up to coordinate the housing activities in the country.

Growing demand

As the country has grown, the demand for housing has increased.

Vigorous policy of expansion put into operation

By E. M. MWENDWA, Minister for Communications and Power

The Ministry of Power and Communications seems to be one of the departments of Government which might possibly be accused for saying that its activities are not very important.

It is not easy to do justice to the health and expansion forecast for the years to come.

The plan provides for an increase in the population and 42,700,000 on the coast.

At an additional 2,500,000 in the interior, the total population will be 45,200,000.

Direct communication is essential for the development of the country.

It is my intention to have a special housing board to be set up to coordinate the housing activities in the country.

Co-operatives

The Co-operative movement in Kenya has made significant progress since independence.

The Co-operative movement Act of 1962 which came into operation on December 21, 1962, has allowed for the formation of co-operatives in various fields.

Under the new rules, co-operatives can now be formed in any field of economic activity.

This has led to the formation of many co-operatives, particularly in the agricultural sector.

By RONALD NGALA, Minister for Co-operatives and Social Services

It is a big year for you, one which will see the co-operative movement in Kenya flourish.

The Government is committed to the development of co-operatives as a means of improving the living standards of the people.

THE CONTINUING BOOM IN EDUCATION

JEREMIAH NYAGAN, Minister for Education, writes that, with increased relations between the Government and teachers, education has made substantial advances in the past year.

It has been another excellent year in education following on the impressive growth of facilities and enrolments in the first three years of independence.

Further substantial advances have been recorded this year as can be seen from the table on the right. Indeed it would appear that the education has been going through a continuous and uninterrupted boom for the past four years since Kenya achieved freedom.

In many ways 1963 has been a more peaceful year for education than 1962, largely as a result of the marked improvement in the relationship between Government and teachers which I am sure will prove permanent.

New curriculum

The foundation for this happier relationship was of course the setting up this year of the Teachers Service Commission under the Act of Parliament.

Full course

The 17 per cent growth in all the more remarkable in the case of great importance to a seven-year course. It is noteworthy that a very high proportion of our children entering Standard I are now completing the full seven years of primary school whereas a few years ago only a third of our Standard I pupils were at that time the majority were preter the little schools in making any positive contribution to developing their abilities.

It is also encouraging that so many more girls are attending the primary schools. The total number of girls in the total population is 28 per cent compared with 18 per cent in 1962.

Our secondary education has seen massive expansion with a growth of enrolment of over 120 per cent since 1961. A great deal of the expansion has been in the Government-aided schools where enrolment has been more than doubled. So far 20,000 pupils this year are at our new secondary schools. A large development programme planned by the Government and by the International Development Association. Perhaps more remarkable still, however, has been the growth of unaided schools. At present 120 additional secondary schools have been opened in the past year.

The Government fully recognises the value of the harambee spirit and appreciates the extent of the sacrifice for Kenya's parents that this represents.

It is because we wish to bring the aided and unaided schools closer together, that we are now providing a common part of the Government-owned secondary curriculum. This will bring our unaided schools into full and complete contact with those that are practically situated in conformity with the National Development Plan for Education.

Gradual process

I must emphasize that although the Government will carry out this program with all possible speed, the takeover of Harambee Schools is likely to be a very gradual process. Special attention will also be paid to those areas which have not been able to obtain the facilities and land and the facilities will be developed in the period up to 1965. This includes the staffed schools in such places as Transvaal, East Africa, Harare and Laikipia.

Particular developments have taken place in education in relation to the Government has established we have established the new secondary teacher training colleges under the Ministry of Education and the Kenya College of Education. The Training College of newly started Government-owned secondary schools.

Technical work

The field of technical and vocational education has witnessed significant growth in the past year. The Government-owned technical schools and the introduction of three- and four-year certificate and diploma courses at the former trade schools.

Moreover, the University of Nairobi, has grown since the inception of the University of East Africa. The University of East Africa, which is a valuable strengthening of the Department of Education and the Ministry of Education in July of this year.

Following a most successful conference of the University of East Africa, Africa University, East Africa Government, and Overseas Aid agencies in October in Nairobi, at which the Kenya Government was agreed to the formation of a firm foundation for the development of the years financially stable.

An agreement was signed which the number of pupils being admitted to the university by which its growth should be helped. The Government has

Under the leadership of the Ministry of Education, the Curriculum Commission and the Kenya College of Education, the Government-owned technical schools have been established and are now in the process of being opened.

The content of education in the secondary curriculum is being prepared to give pupils a more effective preparation for their lives.

Work

The last year I was able to report that the year previous had been one of consolidation and reappraisal in the Local Government service. This year I have pleasure in reporting that there has been progress in many of the services which are provided by the local authorities.

I think that the public are entitled to feel that the Local Government is giving a wide degree of attention to the health and welfare of the community. The Government is providing a wide degree of attention to the health and welfare of the community. The Government is providing a wide degree of attention to the health and welfare of the community.

Always there

All these services are provided by the local authorities. The local authorities are providing a wide degree of attention to the health and welfare of the community. The local authorities are providing a wide degree of attention to the health and welfare of the community.

Effort in providing services appreciated

By LAWRENCE SAGIN, Minister for Local Government

The Councils did a very good job in rationalising many of the services and when the existing Councils were reformed, they started the new work.

Taking shape

This is gratifying news which shows that the Government is taking a keen interest in the development of the country. The Government is taking a keen interest in the development of the country.

Tower will strengthen TV link

Temporary grating which was erected for the purpose of providing a link between the two towers will be removed.

The Minister for Local Government, Lawrence Sagin, has announced that the Government is providing a wide degree of attention to the health and welfare of the community.

THE MANAGEMENT TRAINING AND ADVISORY CENTRE PRESENTS A SPECIAL TRAINING COURSE IN MODERN BUSINESS WRITING

At the Centre, January 2 to January 6, 1968

Modern commerce and industry rests on a foundation of the written word.

Also an effective writing is the cause of most communications breakdowns.

Some of the misunderstandings and mistakes are caused by failure to write intelligibly. Intentionally or unintentionally one may be responsible for poor ideas. Needless expenditure is caused by "things that should have been expressed differently".

The objectives of this course is to assist managers to make their memos and letter writing that is not only a matter of formal grammar or syntax, but to make a thorough understanding of the basic principles of good and convincing written presentation.

In this course these principles are covered in a step-by-step manner, with comparative practical examples and opportunities for participation.

The results in most cases are little short of spectacular.

The Course covers such topics as the feasibility of good business writing; writing clearly; the art of using writing to convey the letter writing; the report; how to convey the art of persuasion; how to improve readability.

The Course will benefit all and every member of a management team.

For applications form, please phone Nairobi 96107 or write P.O. Box 2079 For Sdn. or Certificate of participation available.
