TO THE EDITOR: "E.A. Standard"

Dear Sir—A client from whom I was ordered to purchase for government use more than £2,000, recently wrote to me:

"I had meant to put the whole amount into the Kenya Loan which was to have been raised in the future. There is no future for this loan."

It is not clear from the above whether the client had in fact made any payment towards the loan, but it is clear that the client was not satisfied with the Government's policy in regard to the loan, and that the client was not prepared to continue to support the Government's policy.

Yours faithfully,
WILLIAM S. DAVENPORT

There is a quality of decision about the announcements of Britain's Labour Government that disconcerts argument. It is as if the Government were proceeding to put into practice a policy and a programme of measures and carry it out without any further consideration of this opportunity. In England we even find the Labour Government has agreed to cooperate with the various representative employers, employees and the State, consistent with the policy of the Board of Trade as an alternative to nationalisation. The four leading industrial nations are now engaged in a struggle to maintain their standard of living. It is not surprising that the Government has announced its intention on the issue of the maintenance of the pound. It is a matter of course that the Government will be asked to maintain the pound at its present value. Y.W.C.A. BIRTHDAY APPEAL

PLAN FOR 1946-7

The East African Territories will this month have their annual opportunity of stock-taking the Budgets, prepared by the Governments on the basis of the Departmental Committee of progress, will be presented for discussion to a year ahead will be announced. As each Government has overriding powers, the Budget constitutionally can be forced through without change but in practice the machinery of the Finance Committee security will provide some margin for the operation of such public opinion and policy as the non-official representatives can usefully and successfully resolve sources of revenue.

The Budget session of the Kenya Legislative Council opens this morning. The first past was Budget is something more than a routine affair in a changing series of social and political programmes. It should make positive contribution. It cannot remain a mere rubber stamp as it is previous in the affairs of the Colony. The weight of circumstances that surround it are overwhelming and a beginning has to be made on the long road to recovery.

The condition of the Native Lands is at the root of the problem with which the Budget should deal. We have been warned that they are in no grave condition and that Government neglect and African apathy must be removed to ensure that the pressure and security of the Government are maintained. That means in terms of practical policy that ever greater areas of the Native Lands there must be reclaimed and developed rapidly and a consequent public revenue to the costs of rehabilitation or to the expenditure on other areas on the way.

Examination of the South African situation has disclosed that the native revenue from the industrial production sold outside the area is not more than a small percentage of the total at the present time. It is not more than a small percentage of the total at the present time. It is not more than a small percentage of the total at the present time.

What does that mean in terms of a Budget? It means that for several years to come the main source of revenue for the African in the Reserves is now to be earned outside, everything possible must be done to foster these external income-providing activities. It means that the attention of the Authority in considering the time for the expansion of agriculture and other activities in the Reserves is now to be turned outside, everything possible must be done to foster these external income-providing activities.

The labour of establishing the first company of Labour Corps for the reconstruction work in the Middle East has been completed. The attention of the Authority in considering the time for the expansion of agriculture and other activities in the Reserves is now to be turned outside, everything possible must be done to foster these external income-providing activities.

The latest provincial estimate for the P.W.D. regarding the rates on the work that is completed indicates that a large part of the Public Works Department is now to be turned outside, everything possible must be done to foster these external income-providing activities.

The Annual Budget is something more than a routine affair in a changing series of social and political programmes. It should make positive contribution. It cannot remain a mere rubber stamp as it is previous in the affairs of the Colony.

LAND TENURE

You Have Been Warned

By EWART S. GROGAN, D.S.O

(No. 16)

The Government has been warned that they are in no grave condition and that Government neglect and African apathy must be removed to ensure that the pressure and security of the Government are maintained.

TWO TRUMPETS OF IVORY

Nearly a hundred years ago a great craftsman first saw the possibilities of the ivory tusks. In those days Malindi was called the land of the Great Trunk. It was the seat of the Masai, and the difficulty of working across the desert to the Plains, gave the Arab shahs and traders a monopoly of the ivory trade. Central Africa was the source of the ivory.

Between the two great mountains, between the ranges of the Great Lakes and the fringes of the Taita, the ivory trade of the Masai was so big that it could not be done by hand. It was necessary to use a machine to cut the ivory into blocks. The machine was made in Malindi and was used for many years.

It was a great achievement. It was the first time that a machine was used to cut ivory. It was a great achievement. It was the first time that a machine was used to cut ivory.

TRADITION

THEIR strict codes of manufacturing methods and strict attention which characterize the Boots policy have been discussed by a deeply-qualified source of responsibility to the national health. They yield the secret of continuous and reliable service during more than half a century.

These well-known standards have even a greater significance than merely to supply reason for endurance and the successful fulfilment of past obligations... they are the necessary underlying influences in the progressive programme of 'standards' as distinct as it is in scientific research and experimental advancement. They represent respect and dependability. They are the traditions of Boots.

—FARMERS— KEEP YOUR MOWER KNIVES SHARP

This inexpensive knife grinder is designed to meet the demands for a handy, portable machine with which the farmer can sharpen his mower knives easily and quickly, and still retain the correct bevel edge and cutting angle of each section. It will grind one edge of each of the two sections at the same time. The knife is then moved along and the next two sections are ground. A spring maintains the pressure of the stone against the knife and the stone is of the proper shape to give the sections the correct bevel. The knife is held in the machine by clamps and simply turning the crank moves the stone over the edges of the sections. A hand on the frame permits holding the stone at any desired point so that nicks can be ground out.

Potatoes Must Not be of Inferior Quality

Complaints are being received from both military and civil sources regarding the quality of potatoes supplied by farmers in the East African Provinces.

- (1) Not more than four per cent of the tubers shall be diseased... (2) Not more than 10 per cent of the tubers shall be green... (3) Tubers shall be of uniform size... (4) Tubers shall be of uniform shape...

Army and Air Force personnel who are required to supply potatoes for their own use should be particularly careful to select the best quality tubers available. It is suggested that the following points should be observed when selecting potatoes for use in the East African Provinces.

You will probably be able to think of many examples of the fact for which the potato is a most valuable crop. It is a crop which can be grown in almost any soil and in almost any climate.
