ZANZIBAR FACING ITS BIGGEST PROBLEM

Clove Industry No Longer Enjoys World Monopoly

NEW INDUSTRIES PLAN

THE BRITISH RESIDENT OF ZANZIBAR DECLARED IN HIS ANNUAL REPORT THAT THE MOST SERIOUS PROBLEM FACING THE PROTECTORATE ARISES FROM THE FACT THAT AFTER GENERATIONS OF A VIRTUAL WORLD MONOPOLY THE CLOVE INDUSTRY HAS NOW TO COME INTO THE OPEN AND FACE SEVERE COMPETITION.

Mr. Gillingham commented thus "talking through the bazaar selling all whom they meet that all that ruin faces this country". These men were dangerous. Famine could be averted.

On the other hand, there has during recent weeks been a fair amount of activity in the local stock and share market, the intention being to have the Company Ltd. Road Africa Shares and Lighting Co. Ltd. and East African Corporation Ltd. all useful dividend "papers." Apart from these there appeared to be a good demand for the Stn. 375 paper in Kenya. The Company's tender statement appointment, and future prospects are distinctly promising. There has also been some interest in the Stn. 375 shares by the Standard Oil Company Ltd., which have entered up to about the 272,000 shares. The effect which alteration by the cents here, has been estimated by a recent declaration of the International Railways Committee to raise the price of their shares from 60s to 80s per cent of the nominal value. For the first time for several weeks, the price of the stock is above its nominal value, but by no means is this being sold. It was a frosty night and Father Christmas and his brother Santa Claus walked outside to stand in the city as they stood in the door of the Fairy Queen's Palace waiting to be told by the King: "All things," said Father Christmas, "I obey the Fairy Queen's commands meet. There's a woman who knows how to give a party."

North China said with a smile, "I have just heard that the Fairy Queen has a party to give for the children of the city, and I shall go to it." "I shall go to it," said Father Christmas, "I shall go to it." "I shall go to it," said Father Christmas, "I shall go to it."

THERE'S always so much going on in London that it is difficult to know what to do most interest to women living abroad. When I went to tell you about a good play I have seen, I reminded myself sadly that perhaps it will be off before the book leaves the press. When I wanted to write about winter coats, I think they can't be of much interest if you go swooning in Mombasa in your flannel frock!

The Queen took the two little Princesses to Harro's. They had their little party and I saw them particularly interested in all the "White Wares" and the "Seven Dwarfs" that were there in the most wonderful exhibition, some of the dolls being the actual work from the film. When I went to the Fair again the other day, I was particularly struck by the beautiful educational toys for very young children. Learning to count, to read and to tell the time may be rather fun in these days, and our children's books are quite excellent. For a baby, I have seen some exciting new stories.

"Well, well" said Father Christmas, "You seem to be entertaining a very large war. What's all this?" "You ought to see," said Santa Claus. "I'll write down some things that make me smile, and then you'll see the difference in the way I see it and all those—"

WHITEAWAYS - NAIROBI

On the Eve before Christmas, when nobody knew the Elephant Baby, except from his long trunk, and nobody saw him, his hobby and dog, all through the window he looked out.

When night with its shadows fell over the city the street was revealed to see him as he lay. "It is little Christmas Eve," said the Elephant Baby, "I shall go to bed now. I am so tired, my trunk is so heavy, and my dog is so sleepy."

But on the next morning he woke up to find an elephant's stocking stuffed full. As he looked on the top was written in gold: "Thanks, Elephant Baby, for putting the Sleighs."

THE DUKE OF WINSDOR

NARROWS REPORTS the possibility of a Christmas visit to England by the Duke and Duchess of Windsor. These reports are untrue. The Duke and Duchess will not sail over until late in the month of December. Their intention is to spend a private year here in the island.

MR. JOHN REITH

MR. JOHN REITH'S speech at the British Air Line Party Dinner was a masterpiece of tact that has been circulating in the law for days. It is a masterpiece which has commended itself to the public.

Miss Gregory writes nobly but it's all bosh!

Illustration of John Gregory, who wrote an introduction to Miss Gregory's book of essays.

WHILE ON GRAVEL, By John Gregory, the Author of "The Yellow Road, etc."

WHY is it that high-browers are utterly unacquainted with the hand on the wheel of Miss Gregory's book of essays? It is not a book designed to please the cheerful, happy-go-lucky crowd who never so much as know that they are reading or to that small sect of the sensitive dilettante who, over-dressed, over-worked, yet managed to retain an enviable levity through the "unconventional" power of a nutritious and delectable mind.

The Provinces Defeat The Central Government

THE first legal battle to test the "Princely Pact" Centre and the provinces has resulted in a victory for the Provinces. Last year the Central Provinces Government passed an Act to levy a tax on sales of petrol and kerosene in the Province. The Government of India objected to an invasion of a Central tax. The dispute became the first important case before the Federal Court which came into being over the year. The Federal Chief Justice, Mr. Justice Srinivasan, supported by the other two Judges, Sir Hugh Sulistram and Mr. M. R. Jayah, has held that the acceptance of the Government of India's contention would involve the Provinces from the whole of India. It is clear from the Provincial List of the Government of India Act, it is the intention of Parliament to admit that the Province has the power to levy a tax on sales of petrol and kerosene. Stray Thoughts About MOTORING

THE B.E.A.A. has been at Bracknell, on "Gannara Day" - was a district meeting and while car owners might be inclined to view it from a purely sporting point of view it is worth noting that it was an extremely interesting and well-attended affair.

It is always interesting to see an aircraft about which a few months ago there was some doubt. The Douglas D.C.3 is no exception. It is a direct descendant of the D.C.2, which, in the hands of the K.L.M. pilots, was the most successful of the biplane class in the 1934 Milan-Madrid-Moscow Parliamentary Motor Races.

Your Ideal Car FOR KENYA

PART II BY VELOCIPED

I STARTED last week in giving the motorist a few hints on how to choose a car. I have now reached the point where I can recommend a few models.

I have now reached the point where I can recommend a few models. I will now discuss the various factors that should be considered when choosing a car.

Wool and Flax Production in East Africa. ROUND THE BRIDGE TABLE by Grand Sam.

As a Paper read to the Dominion and Colonial Trade and Commerce Society of Arts, on December 10th, by Dr. W. H. Miles, O.B.E., D.Sc., Director of Research, New Zealand Industry

At first sight it may seem that there is little connection between the production of wool and the production of flax. One way of looking at the subject, one which I shall wish to undertake, will give you a very different impression. It is the fact that the development of wool and flax production in East Africa is a result of the same process, the same development of industry.

Two agricultural industries in East Africa, the production of wool and the production of flax, are connected in a very interesting way. The fact is that the development of wool and flax production in East Africa is a result of the same process, the same development of industry.

After the experience of the Dominion War, the wool industry in East Africa has been able to produce a surplus of wool. This surplus has been used for the production of flax.

It is interesting to note that the wool industry in East Africa has been able to produce a surplus of wool. This surplus has been used for the production of flax.

There are countless women who suffer from nervous troubles during the critical days of their menstrual period. This is due to the fact that the body is undergoing a great deal of change, and the nervous system is particularly sensitive to these changes.

ELASTIC AIR MAIL SCHEDULES

East Africa has become accustomed to the regularity of the airmails that the delay this week has consequently given rise to some natural irritation.

But the fact is that this is the Christmas season—and that makes a lot of difference to airmails.

For this period all schedules have been made more elastic. There is, for the moment, no such thing as the thrice-weekly service to East Africa. Machinery of every kind are clearing up the mail inwards and outwards just as quickly as possible and as often when they, and the mails, are available.

The last mail that reached East Africa on Sunday was carried by the regular service but in the afternoon a special mail from Victoria brought mail to Kisumu and Nairobi. This mail was carried by the Victoria mail from Nairobi to Kisumu and Nairobi. This mail was carried by the Victoria mail from Nairobi to Kisumu and Nairobi.

One of the real difficulties in the past has been in Britain and because of the winter, the late departure from London. There is a system of loading mails according to serial numbers on the bags. Accordingly, it is quite possible for a flying boat to be loaded with the mail from London without the serial number, including the mail from Africa, had it depended on who the management has been to fly to the British Post Office at Mount Pleasant.

All for Union This is why Imperial Airways expressed to the East African branch and protector, it happened that mail from London to East Africa was all intended for South Africa. It was added that Imperial Airways only contractors to the British Post Office. They take the mails given to them for delivery. The firm which, under ordinary circumstances, would not have been concerned in carrying mail from London to East Africa, is now in London.

ALLEGED MURDER

Farmer Arrested

Mr. F. C. Turton of Nandi has been arrested and committed to prison on a charge of murder involving the death of a native as a result of a gunshot wound.

It is probable that the proceedings will open at Kisumu next week.

Intermission When the bill is passed the Registrar-General's Department will be required to issue a new set of Legislative Council and will be met in a Special Committee of Enquiry on the subject of the Franchise of the Legislative Council of East Africa.

NATIVE MEDICAL SERVICES

Kenya committee To Investigate Finance

The Medical Department expects a lot of space in the recently issued report of the Kenya Finance Committee. The Director of Medical Services emphasized to the Committee the desirability of attracting the right type of medical officer by offering financial inducements of a nature comparable with those offered to other holders. He also laid the stress on the importance of retaining their headquarters on officer posts. The Committee is now taking their instructions from their respective officers in making the additional staff that the Director requires. It is to be noted that the staff had been reduced during the past year owing to the fact that the number of patients was greatly increased.

The Committee was satisfied that the request for more staff was not unreasonable. They called with a view to the further expansion of the service the general revenue of the Colony. The report recommends that the Government should be asked to increase the number of medical officers by 100. The report also recommends that the Government should be asked to increase the number of medical officers by 100. ## BRITAIN'S INDOOR CHRISTMAS

Temperature Up, But Snow Still Too Thick For Sport

THE WINTER WEATHER OF THE PAST FIVE DAYS IS CONTINUING, AND SNOW IS FALLING IN LONDON, THOUGH THE TEMPERATURE IS A LITTLE LOWER. THERE IS FOG ON THE THAMES, AND RIVER TRAFFIC, AS WELL AS ALL OTHER FORMS OF TRANSPORT, IS DISRUPTED. CHRISTMAS SHOPPING IS BADLY HAMPERS, AND CHRISTMAS MAILS ARE DELAYED.

That snow is falling, and in the last London is not with thick enough for skating, and is about the only snowfall. There is a thaw in the North and West of England on Thursday night, but many roads are still impassable.

Their Majesties the King and Queen drove through London towards Sandringham in a double on Thursday, but it was snowing when they reached Norfolk. The Royal house party will break up a few days after Christmas, but the King and Queen plan to spend the whole of January at Sandringham.

Berlin's Protest About Minister's Speech Rejected

Washington, Dec. 15.—A sharp new strain in German-American relations has been brought about by the United States Government's rejection of Germany's demand for an official apology for the speech of the Minister for the Interior, Mr. Harold Ickes on December 13.

Mr. Ickes announced Ickes as "warlike, if more refined, than yesterday" and an over-enthusiast for the United States, France and Britain.

The German Government must know, said the United States reply to the protest, that the originators of the recent policy in Germany had shocked public opinion in the United States more profoundly than anything which had taken place for many decades.

THE MAGICIAN AND THE FAIRY TALE

THE film of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" which begins tomorrow at the Capitol Cinema, re-creates the other films that are showing. But that to us it should be for "Snow White" is a film nobody should fail to see, whether he is a child of four or an old man of ninety or a prosperous banker of forty-five, whether she be an Indian or a grandmother.

Although I give a full and detailed account of this film in tomorrow's issue, I think it is worth mentioning that it is the most beautiful film ever made. It is a masterpiece of art, and it is a masterpiece of nature. It is a masterpiece of art, and it is a masterpiece of nature. It is a masterpiece of art, and it is a masterpiece of nature.

to life in places strange to them, the victims of war, hundreds of thousands of men, uniformed and armed, will spend the Christmas season serving guns, dragging death from the sky. Scarcely less miserable is the plight of thousands more who, because of their racial origin, are being driven from their homes into the world by regimes which openly discover the elementary principles of Christianity. All this misery, all this horror, this death and destruction, is being wrought by human hands and hands.

Never was there a time in the history of this so-called civilization when there has been a greater, a more urgently compelling need for the return to the sublime simplicity of the Christmas season. The world is overwhelmed by fear and it is difficult to maintain their faith and their belief in the reality of the Christ, in the words of the Bible, and in the mission which they and their successors have in our own century. There has been something that religion may be a comfortable personal belief and a rule of conduct in real life and that has lost any power it may have had to save the world from its self-inflicted burden of sin, to help us if we were so.

But happily it is not true. There is a God, and He is watching for truth than in the days when life was easy and unburdened with sorrow and doubt and disaster. There are signs of awakening among the peoples of the world who are still ignorant to speak and to think. Even among those whose liberty is restricted in the countries they inhabit, a strong faith is struggling courageously against oppression. Christmas is the time of a new birth and a new hope. It is the time when the wise men bring their gifts to the wise son of the world; for the wise son of the world, bringing to distracted humanity the gifts of peace, of faith, of courage, tolerance and a great humanity. Never has there been a better chance for all those whose faith has retreated and who are unable to combine their energies and all their resources and their talents in a grand effort to bring back to the first principles of life and conduct, to preach courageously and bravely against selfishness, to reveal against the primitive cruelty of hate and revenge and the lust for power, which are sweeping the world, backed by all the resources of anti-Christ.

EMPIRE THE STANDARD

to life in places strange to them, the victims of war, hundreds of thousands of men, women and armed, will spend the Christmas season serving gun, dropping death from the sky. Surely less miserable in the plight of thousands more who because of their racial origin are being driven from their homes into the world by regimes which openly disavow the elementary principles of Christian decency. All this misery, all this horror, this death and destruction, is being wrought by human hands and heads.

Never was there a time in the history of this world which has been so cruelly persecuted and so urgently compelling need for a return to the old-time values of the Christmas season. The world is overshadowed by fear-ful impending storms. People wish to maintain their faith and their beliefs. Many even find it difficult to remain to the credit of Christmas in this time of the most the darkest and their darkest days in their own countries they have quivered the virtues of Christian charity, the virtues of religion may be a comfortable personal belief and a rule of conduct in restraint of society but has lost any power it may have had to sweep the world from its terrible burden of sin. God help us!

But happily it is not true. More people are today marveling that in the days when life was easy and unburdened with sorrow and doubt, and the signs of awakening among the peoples of the world who think in terms of speak and to think. Being among those whose liberty is restricted in the cause of worldly pleasure and a struggle against oppression. Christmas is the time of a new birth and a new hope. It is the time when the wise men bring their gifts for the wise men of the world to bring to distressed humanity the gifts of peace, of faith, of courage, of liberation and of a great humanity. Never has there been a better chance for all those whose faith is broken, whose courage is combined their energies and all their resources and their talents in order to appeal to humanity to return to the first principles of life and conduct, to reach neighborly love against selfishness, to reach against the primitive creeds of hate and revenge and the lust for power which are everywhere in the world, backed by all the resources of anti-Christ.

We should be grateful that the Festival is in its beauty of meaning, in all its fine simplicity and humaneness comes upon us with its message of Peace and Goodwill like a fresh, pure and invigorating breeze in the midst of a world of selfishness and distrust in ourselves and in the inspiration which for so many generations has helped mankind forward into the light. We shall slip back into darkness if we lose faith and if we give up. Strong though the pressure may be, remember that the overwhelming character of the circumstances are if we give way to despair, to hopelessness, if we break faith with the memory of those who in our lifetimes fought the good fight that we might live in peace, we shall surely perish.

BENEFIT OF CHEAPER RAIL RATES NOT PASSED ON?

Comparisons of Mombasa And Nairobi Prices

There has never been time for the many reductions made in rail charges to have taken full effect in relation to the retail prices of commodities sold to the public, states the General Manager in his monthly bulletin. He adds that it may be of interest to examine the information set out in an accompanying table, extracts from which appear below.

The figures given are also of interest in view of comments made during the debate in Legislative Council when the question was asked if the public received the benefit of reductions in rates.

Sang As They Were Executed

(“STANDARD” CORRESPONDENT) London.
Guilty of the worst crime in the world, the war criminal who was shot, at Bielefeld, Germany. But their victims of going reduced to their deaths were a large crowd holding together and kneeling in prayer to the street.

The men planned their and together they close a hymn, “The Lord is Coming by and by.” The first, mistress of a farmer and his daughter, went to the execution chair singing and the other two in the crowd sang in chorus, a hymn of a pious officer, not only sang to hymn (and the London Standard reported) but prayed at the electric chair. Chords in the distance behind the thorns.

So they sang. The last man, slaying the hymn solo, reached the scaffold to leave.

Then an official ordered the passengers all pulled up the floor boards and began handing the landing gear by hand to the Progresser. The passengers were then ordered to stand up after the Progresser had jumped forward at the moment, in the excitement of the flight.

DOES WAKING TIRED EVERY MORNING ruin a Woman's looks?

“YES,” says well-known doctor

That drawn, tired look, that dullness in your eyes, those tiredness lines will leave you when you get rid of Night Starvation.

WAKING TIRED every morning is very often a sign of Night Starvation. It shows in your face in a dozen different ways. Even the color of your skin changes. Shadowy lines in all the wrong places, making you look drawn and old. Night Starvation shows in your body, too. Shoulder droop—your whole figure sags. Your neck joints and vitality.

No beauty treatment can hide the unattractive results of Night Starvation. You have to get rid of the cause. Do you know that you have up energy even while you sleep? Breathing alone takes 20,000 molecules of oxygen during the night. This oxygen is replaced during sleep, of course.

Women who always wake up tired have them like this.
